The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 23 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, JAN. 7, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

Capital and Surplus $25,500

TIME IS SLIPPING AWAY

YES TIME FLIES

YOU CANT OPEN A BANK ACCOUNT YESTERDAY.

TO MORROW NEVER COMES.

The president of the largest shoe house in the world saved part of his money when he clerked in a store. The man he worked for liked this and took him into partnership. About forty years he had saved Ten Thousand Dollars. Today he is worth nearly Ten Millions. Make your own moral. Start saving today wity the—

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

H. C. LAU

—DEALER IN—

Grain, Coal and Livestock.

Always a square deal.

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes | Ladies and Gents Furnishings | Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

EXECUTOR'S SALE.

The undersigned will sell at Public Sale on the Arnold farm two and one-fourth miles southeast of Klemme to the highest responsible bidder the following property belonging to the estate of Fred Arnold deceased on —Wednesday, Jan. 13, 1909—

Sale begins at 10 o'clock sharp.
Free lunch at noon.

14 horses. 45 cattle Farm machinery and other articles too numerous to mention. 20 bushels timothy seed.

F. A., E. J. and C. A. Arnold,
Estate of Fred Arnold.

Col. H T. Ellsworth, Auct.
F. A. Arnold, Clerk.

PRESIDENT HELPS ORPHANS.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the President of the Industrial and Orphan's Home at Macon, Ga. who writes: We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for stomach liver and kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth. It invigorates the vital organs purifies the blood aids digestion creates appetite. To strengthen and build up thin pale weak children or run down people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

NOTICE.

The parties who are continually committing nuisances to our building, carving and writing obscene literature on our premises, when found out will be delt with according to the dictates of the law. We have tolerated their abuses long enough and action will be taken at once if found out whom the misdemeanors are that continually annoy our property. We are not going to drop this matter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Josten.

AUCTION SALE.

At the Wellemeyer farm seven miles southwest of Garner, six miles northwest of Klemme.

The undersigned is about to remove to Deleware county, Ia, and will sell at Public Auction all his farming equipment and stock enough to run a section of land.

—Thursday, Jan. 14, 1909—

Attend the biggest sale of the season. See the good stuff sold and take part.

15 horses and mules. 73 cattle. 50 hogs. 100 chickens 50 tons hay in stack. Farm machinery and other articles too numerous to mention.

Free lunch at 11:30. Sale begins 12 o'clock.

Carl Wellemeyer, Owner.
Col. H. T. Ellsworth, Auct.
F. M Hanson, Clerk.

CAME NEAR CHOKING TO DEATH.

A little boy the son of Chris. D. Peterson a well known resident of the village of Jacksonville, Iowa had a sudden and violent attack of croup Much thick stringy phlegm came up after giving chamberlain's cough remedy. Mr. Peterson says: I think he would have choked to death had we not given him this remedy. For sale by G A Pabst & Co.

HOW long have they been in business? An answer to this question is necessary to fix the standing of any business house. Before any concern can claim rank in the business world, its stability must be proven by the test of time. And the longer it has been in business with an honorable record, the higher it is rated by public opinion.

It takes time to show whether a bank is conducted on a policy of safety and conservatism.

This bank has a history of over fifteen years of successful business and satisfactory service to Klemme people.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

A. F. HUBBARD

AUCTIONEER.

I would be pleased to cry your sales this season at reasonable terms. Livestock a specialty. Make dates with either banks at Klemme. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Address—Ventura, Iowa,
R. F. D. No. 2.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Prescriptions carefully compounded

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.

We carry a full line of
Patent Medicines
Jewelery
Stationery
Glass and China ware
Musical Instruments
Including the Edison Phonographs.
Always a large repertoire of records to select from.
Paints, Oils and Varnishes.
Brushes of all kind

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

We appear to have taken the door of China off its hinges altogether.

The camel, says an investigator, originated in America. Probably in a "dry" county.

The statistics show no evidence of any increasing demand for the divorceless marriage.

Another boy loses out in the attempt to keep up a record of 50 cigarettes a day. The coroner wins.

A local physician announces that he can transplant kidneys. Now is your time to set out your summer crop.

And now it is suspected that there is a mistletoe trust. Who cares? The girls can find something just as good to stand under.

England is not yet converting its Dreadnoughts into dirigible balloons, though Sir Hiram Maxim cannot help wondering why.

A New York preacher who might be in better business is preaching against Christmas trees. It takes all kinds of people to make a world.

The number of youth in the land who decide that the work of being president is too hard to attract them, is said to be increasing.

Ease in money is not world-wide. In Australia there is a manifest tendency toward stringency, and little money is available for fresh investment.

The Rockefeller Bible class needs more funds to carry on its work. We sincerely hope that some wealthy man will hear of this and contribute.

And now they say Paul Revere never did it. But how do they know? "Scarcely a man is now alive who remembers that famous day and year."

The new name of the new emperor of China, aged three, is Hsuen Tuig. Is it proper to advise his guardians that as the twig is bent so is the tree inclined?

A Chicago girl grabbed a foootpad who was robbing her and held him until the police came. Perfectly simple—why didn't we think of that method before?

Ethel Roosevelt, who prefers her horse and dog to society, wouldn't have to submit records from musty tin boxes to prove herself a member of that family.

Now that we are to have two-cent postage to Germany how unlucky it is for the German magazines that so few of our American authors can write in that language.

A $50,000,000 spinster has just died in New York in her nineties. There must be some heartaches over this news in noble European families who missed such a prize.

A French admiral has been relieved of his command for talking too much. The general revolutionary tendencies of the times seem to be working havoc with the talking habit in high places.

The British Columbian government has passed regulations curtailing the size of net used in salmon fishing, also enforcing the regulation that no fish should be caught from Saturday to Monday.

Those who deplore the modernity of substituting "87—Ambrose Channel—87" for Sandy Hook light may yet take comfort in the thought that the new title connotes the old historic minstrel show.

It is planned now to shorten speeches in parliament. Orators not getting full satisfaction can go home and get the remainder of their speeches out of their systems behind the wood shed.

Hens either did not approve of the election, or else they thought the new prosperity entitled them to a rest, for, contrary to our expectations, they are not putting in any eight-hour day laying eggs just now.

The Japanese governing authorities are now devoting careful attention to the improvement of their poultry. Experiments in Japan have shown that Minorcas and Andalusians are the best breeds suited to their purpose.

Patents on the processes of reducing and manufacturing aluminum, which will run out soon, are expected to make the metal much cheaper and cause a greater demand for it. As in many cases aluminum is a satisfactory substitute for copper, the reduction in its price may, it is thought, be an important factor in determining the price of copper. Incidentally, remarks the Indianapolis Sentinel, it is worth while in this connection to recall the fact that clays rich in aluminum are found in several regions in Indiana

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth.

WINS "SPOILS" SUIT.

Council Tries to Prevent Mayor from Installing own Father.

Creston.—A decision just rendered by Judge Anderson of Appanoose in the case between Mayor White of Centerville and the city council is exciting a good deal of attention over the state, as it is the first disputed case under the new law, which grants to the mayor the sole appointive power for city offices. The trouble between the mayor and the city grew out of the appointment of the mayor's father as street commissioner, and the action of the council in refusing to pay him his salary, and their attempt to let the work of the city out by contract instead of leaving it in the commissioner's hands, passing an ordinance to that effect, and obtaining an injunction restraining the mayor from interfering with the tools of the street department. The decision of Judge Anderson was a practical victory for the mayor, the injunction against him being partly dissolved, and it was further held that the council had no power to dispense with the services of the mayor's appointee or to attempt to withhold his salary.

Grinnell Expends $300,000.

Grinnell.—Over $300,000 has been expended in Grinnell during 1908 for improvements, new buildings, etc. Two new business houses have been erected at a cost of $20,000, forty residences have been erected at the cost of $150,000, miscellaneous private improvements have cost $100,000. Twenty thousand feet of sanitary sewer have been laid at a cost of $16,000. Sewers in Grinnell in 1907 cost $2,000. Thus an increase of $14,000 has been made since that time. Eighty three thousand square feet of sidewalk has been laid at a cost of almost $10,000. This is an increase of almost 10,000 square feet over the amount laid in 1907.

Car of Cattle Is Burned.

Glenwood.—One of the distressing accidents of holiday week in Mills county was the burning of a car load of cattle at Silver City. The animals were the property of George Rew, a well known feeder, and had been loaded for shipment to market. The fire is said to have caught from a spark from a docomotive. Fourteen head were smothered in the car, and six others had to be killed after they had been taken out in order to relieve them of their sufferings.

Try to Rob Melvin Bank.

Melvin.—Robbers broke into the First National bank here and put four charges into the safe, blowing off the outer door and badly wrecking the building and fixtures. The noise from the explosion awakened the citizens, who promptly responded, armed with shotguns. A. L. Blackmore exchanged shots with one of the robbers, scaring them away before they had secured any cash. The robbers escaped south on a hand car, which was found near Hartley.

Writes Apology; Kills Self.

Manson.—After writing a note apologizing to his wife for his act, C. D. H. Johnson, a wealthy German farmer living northwest of here in Pocahontas county, shot himself with both barrels of his shot gun, inflicting awful wounds in his face and head that were fatal. In his note Johnson said that he feared the awful pain from which he had suffered in his head would drive him insane. Rather than lose his mind, he chose death.

Anundson Don't Want Office.

Mason City.—Letters received here by relatives of J. H. Anundson, who was reported a candidate for the office of bank examiner for this section of Iowa, announce the fact that Mr. Anundson is not a candidate and does not want the office. This leaves the field clear, so far as this section of the state goes to E. W. Clark, clerk of the courts.

Helps Husband Carry Mail.

Sioux City.—F. L. Roddy is one of the veteran postmen in Sioux City. When the holiday mail nearly broke his back, Mrs. Roddy decided he was working too hard, so she went with him to the postoffice, took nearly half his load, and accompanied him on his rounds as his assistant.

Big Robbery at Colfax.

Colfax.—The Colfax Bargain Store of Sol Blotcky was broken into and $300 worth of merchandise stolen. Entrance was effected through the window at the rear of the building.

DEDICATE NEW ARMORY.

Eagle Grove Now Has One of the Best in the State.

Eagle Grove.—Eagle Grove's fine new armory and opera house, erected at a cost of $35,000 for the use or Company K, Fifty-third infantry, I. N. G., was dedicated with an address by Gov. Warren Garst and other speeches by Adjutant General Thrift, Col. Guy E. Logan, Col. H. A. Allen of the Fifty-third regiment, and others. The building is one of the finest of the kind in Iowa. Its dimensions are 51 x130 feet, and it is equipped with a drill hall 50x70 feet, clear of posts. It has splendid club rooms, a gymnasium, an indoor target gallery, bathrooms, officers' quarters, quartermasters' rooms, locker rooms, a first sergeant's office, etc., besides a complete stage equipment.

SAVED LIVES BY PHONE.

Tank Filled with Gasoline Instead of Kerosene.

Nora Springs.—The value of a rural telephone was never more clearly illustrated than it was here. By a mistake the big tank in one of the leading stores of this town was filled with gasoline instead of kerosent. The clerks had been selling gasoline oil for kerosene nearly all day when it was discovered. Quite a little of it had gone out in the country and for nearly an hour the proprietor kept the rural lines busy informing customers of the mistake while clerks spread the news throughout the town. Quick action prevented trouble. The mistake was made by the gentleman who delivers from the wholesale branch at Mason City.

Man Declared Legally Dead.

Iowa City.—Wayne Magness was formally dclared dead in the district court here by Judge Howell, who tried the case of Anna Magness and Frank Magness vs. the Modern Woodmen of America. The dispute in the case was as to the death of Wayne Magness, father of the plaintiffs, who held a policy in the defendant company for $2,000. Magness disappeared eight years ago, and his wife and other relatives have not since heard from him. In the trial, which was the second one had in this case, a jury was dispensed with and the trial held to the court, resulting in a verdict for the plaintiffs.

Ties 548 Marriage Knots.

Corning.—The Rev. A. Y. Cupp, who lives near Carbon, is the most popular knot tier in the country around. He has united 548 couples during his life of service. The last day of the old year he married two couples and said he would be satisfied if just two more would apply making a round 550. Mr. Cupp is 70 years of age and is hale and hearty; a genial whole souled preacher.

Oelwein Is Progressive.

Oelwein.—The new syndicate block and the Iowa Savings bank at this place, erected during the year 1908, totalled a cost of $30,000. Ten new residences cost $15,000. Miscellaneous improvements cost $15,000 and new sidewalks cost $15,000. Thus over $60,000 has been expended here durthe last twelve months on improvements.

Builds $8,000 Dairy Barn.

Shenandoah.—Mr. J. C. Guthrie, a prominent dairy man here, is building an $8,000 barn on his farm just south of the city. He is planning to have one of the finest dairy barns in the state and is now selecting a choice lot of dairy cows and is getting everything in order for a modern up to date dairy.

$25,000 for Colo Farmers.

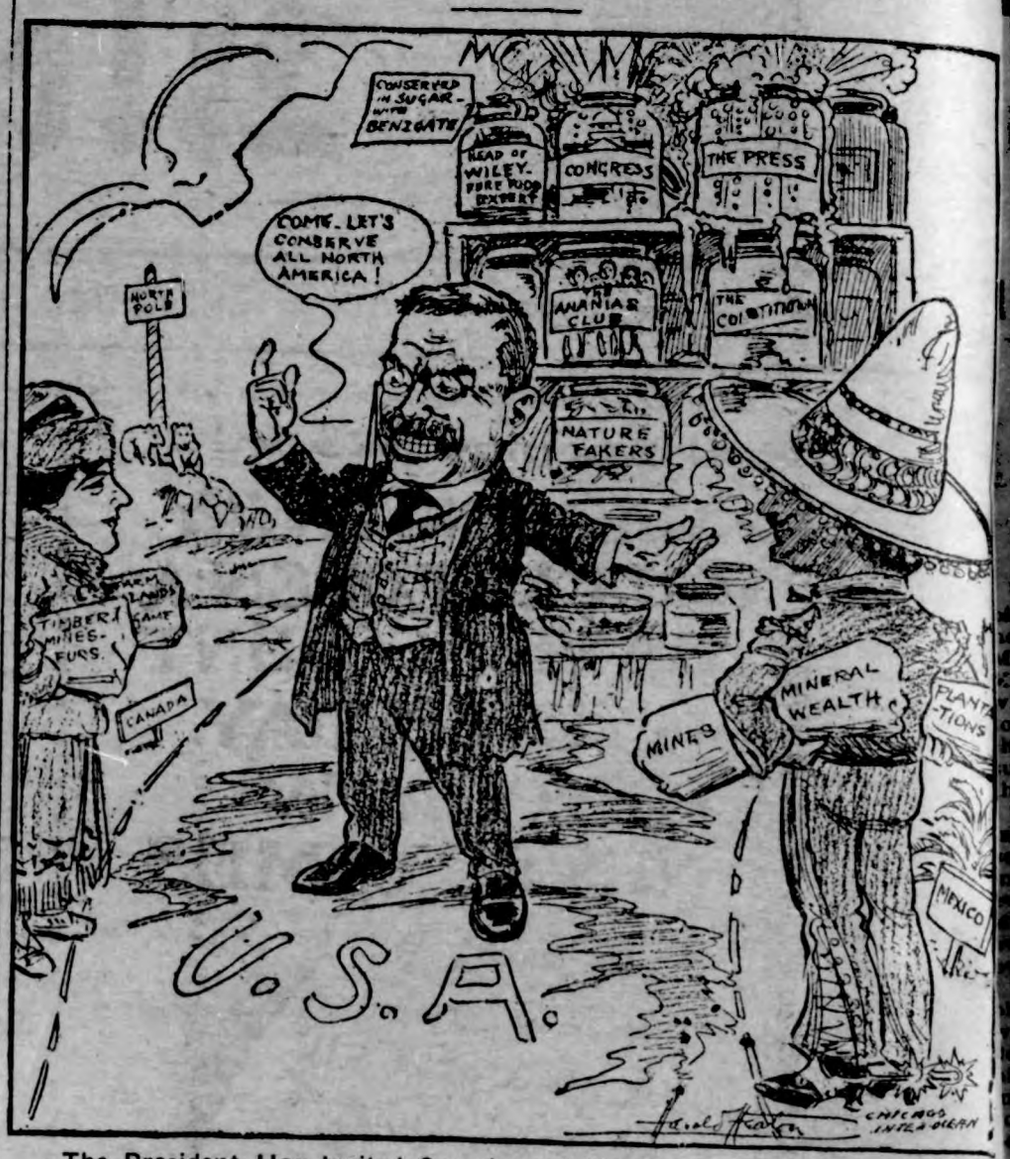
Colo.—Over $25,000 was paid out to farmers by Colo elevators during the first two weeks of December for corn. Thirty car loads were shipped to eastern markets.

Arrested for Robbery.

Creston.—Robert Cooper, who is wanted at Bristow for the robbery of the safe in a store at that point recently, was arrested in this city while stopping at the Blair hotel.

When the Congregational church at Garner was well filled with ladies some degenerate entered the lobby of the church where the ladies keep their hats and destroyed a number of them and rendered others practically valueless.

THE GREAT CONSERVATOR.



The President Has Invited Canada and Mexico to Join in a Conference on the Conservation of the Natural Resources of the North American Continent.—News Item.

DEATH SAVES FROM PRISON

FORMER TREASURER MATHUES OF PENNSYLVANIA DIES.

Illness Superinduced by Exposure of Capitol Graft and His Sentence to Penitentiary.

Media, Pa.—William L. Mathues, former state treasurer of Pennsylvania, died suddenly late Wednesday at his home here, aged 46 years. The cause of death was given by his physician as pneumonia, but it is generally believed that this illness was superinduced by Mr. Mathues' tribulations which were brought upon him by the Harrisburg capitol graft cases and his recent sentence of two years in the penitentiary for his part in the alleged conspiracy against the state.

For many years William L. Mathues was recognized as one of the political leaders of Pennsylvania and his power in Delaware county politics was supreme until the expose of the capitol frauds by his successor as state treasurer, William H. Berry, also of Delaware county. It was then that Mr. Mathues threw off the mantle of Republican county chairman and retired "temporarily," as he stated, until he could be vindicated.

In March of the present year Mathues, former Auditor-General William P. Snyder, James M. Shumaker, former superintendent of public grounds and buildings, and furniture contractor John H. Sanderson were convicted of conspiracy in defrauding the state out of $119,308 in a contract for wooden furniture.

The same defendants were placed on trial later to answer a charge of defrauding the state in a metal furniture contract. On this charge they were acquitted.

The four men above named, together with Architect Joseph M. Hueston, were to have been placed on trial on April 5 next, to answer the charge of fraud in the furnishing of desks for the new capitol. This case involves an alleged fraud of $25,577 on a bill of $61,000.

WRIGHT SMASHES AERO RECORD.

In France Aviator Stays in the Air Two Hours and Nine Minutes.

Le Mans, France. — Wilbur Wright, the American aeroplanist, beat all previous aeroplane records here yesterday afternoon with a magnificent flight that lasted for two hours and nine minutes. He covered officially a distance of 73 miles, but as a matter of fact, counting the wide curves, he made over 90 miles. Mr. Wright's feat was the more remarkable because of the intense cold.

After breaking the record Mr. Wright went aloft again with M. Barthou as a passenger.

Le Mans.—Wilbur Wright made another long flight Wednesday, remaining in the air for one hour, 52 minutes and 40 seconds and covering a distance of 60 miles. He was obliged to stop on account of the intense cold. Both he and his machine were covered with ice.

Feudists Make Truce and Disband.

Jackson, Ky.—Fearing that the governor would send troops to Breathitt county to preserve order, the Callahan and Deaton factions Friday agreed to a truce and disbanded. Both bands left Jackson.

HERMAN JUSTI IS DEAD.

Illinois Coal Operators' Commissioner Expires Suddenly.

Chicago.—Herman Justi, commissioner of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, and a well-known writer on labor problems, died suddenly Friday of internal hemorrhages at his home in Highland Park, Ill.

Mr. Justi was born in Louisville, Ky., December 18, 1852. His early life was spent in the city of his birth and in Nashville, Ky. He was first engaged in the hardware business, but upon his removal to Nashville, became the president of a bank. Later he came to Chicago to live.

For a number of years he has been the commissioner of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, and in that capacity had been instrumental in arbitrating many labor disputes between the miners and the operators. He had written a number of articles on labor problems, and was widely known as an authority on the subject.

FIFTY MINERS ARE ENTOMBED.

Disaster in a Colliery at Lick Branch, Virginia.

Ennis, W. Va., Dec. 31.—The fatalities in the Lick branch mine as a result of the explosion will probably reach 50 dead, according to estimates of the officials.

According to a mine foreman there were 30 men in the mine yesterday, with little chance of their recovery alive.

The cause of the explosion is unknown. State Mine Inspectors Phillips, Warner, Henry and Grady, who were not far away when the accident occurred, immediately came here and all night directed the work of rescue.

There is no excitement at the mine. Practically all the women and children of the victims are bearing their grief in silence at their homes on the mountain side.

All the bodies were finally recovered yesterday.

SHOOTS FORMER SWEETHEART.

Ray Reese of Kansas City, Kan., Then Kills Himself.

Kansas City, Kan.—An hour after he had wished his former sweetheart, now a bride of less than a week, a "long life and a happy one," Ray Reese returned to her home in Kansas City, Kan., late Wednesday and shot her through the breast, after which he stepped into an adjoining room and committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. The woman, Mrs. Clyde Setzer, 19 years old, is not expected to live.

Several months ago Reese was engaged to the young woman, then Miss Edna Mecum, but they quarreled and parted, and on Christmas eve, December 24, she married Setzer, and was living with him in Kansas City, Kan.

Big Fire in Skowhegan, Me.

Skowhegan, Me.—Fire destroyed two and damaged three business blocks, and burned five tenement houses on Water street in the heart of the town, early Friday. Two of the houses were dynamited to check the progress of the flames, and it was only after eight hours' work that the local department, assisted by apparatus from Waterville and Fairfield, succeeded in bringing the fire under control. The loss is estimated at about $400,000.

BIG STICK SMASHES; ROOSEVELT DEFENDS THE SECRET SERVICE

Message to House President Declares His Statements in Previous Words to Congress Were Grossly Misunderstood.

Washington. — President Roosevelt's big stick crashed down upon the heads of Representatives Tawney of Minnesota, Smith of Iowa, Sherley of Kentucky, and Fitzgerald of New York, when the executive sent a special message to the house of representatives, berating those solons for being champions of the successful move to place limitations upon the scope of the secret service.

The president also declared that the interpretation of the house of the secret service clause in his last message was misunderstood, and had there been any evidence which would point to the necessity of an investigation of members, such evidence would long ago have been turned over to the proper authorities.

The message was in answer to the resolution transmitted from the house in which the representatives asked for evidence upon which Mr. Roosevelt based his statements that the "chief argument in favor of the provision was that the congressmen did not themselves wish to be investigated by secret service men."

Message of the President and Reasons Therefor.

The message in part:

"To the House of Representatives: I have received the resolution of the house of representatives of December 17, 1908, reading as follows:

"'Whereas, there was contained in the sundry civil appropriation bill which passed congress at its last session and became a law, a provision in reference to the employment of the secret service in the treasury department; and

"'Whereas, in the last annual message of the president of the United States to the two houses of congress it was stated in reference to that provision: "It is not too much to say that this amendment has been of benefit only, and could be of benefit only, to the criminal classes," and it was further stated: "The chief argument in favor of the provision was that the congressmen did not themselves wish to be investigated by secret service men," and it was further stated: "But if this is not considered desirable a special exception could be made in the law, prohibiting the use of the secret service force in investigating members of congress. It would be far better to do this than to have what actually was done, and strive to prevent or at least to hamper effective action against criminals by the executive branch of the government;" and

"'Whereas, the plain meaning of his words is that the majority of the congressmen were in fear of being investigated by secret service men and that congress as a whole was actuated by that motive in enacting the provision in question.

Now, therefore,

"'Be it Resolved, That the president be requested to transmit to the house any evidence upon which he based his statements that the "chief argument in favor of the provision was that the congressmen did not themselves wish to be investigated by secret service men,' and also to transmit to the house any evidence connecting any member of the house of representatives of the Sixtieth congress with corrupt action in his official capacity, and to inform the house whether he has instituted proceedings for the punishment of any such individual by the courts or has reported any such alleged delinquencies to the house of representatives.'

Cannot Understand Trend of the House Resolution.

"I am wholly at a loss to understand the concluding portion of the resolution. I have made no charges of corruption against congress nor against any member of the present house. If I had proof of such corruption affecting any member of the house in any matter as to which the federal government has jurisdiction, action would at once be brought, as was done in the cases of Senators Mitchell and Burton, and Representatives Williamson, Herrmann and Driggs, at different times since I have been president. This would simply be doing my duty in the execution and enforcement of the laws without respect to persons. But I do not regard it as within the province or the duties of the president to report to the house 'alleged delinquencies' of members, or the supposed 'corrupt action' of a member 'in his official capacity.' The membership of the house is by the constitution placed within the power of the house alone. In the prosecution of crime and the enforcement of the laws the president must resort to the courts of the United States.

"In the third and fourth clauses of the preamble it is stated that the meaning of the words is that 'the majority of the congressmen are in fear of being investigated by secret service men' and that 'congress as a whole was actuated by that motive in enacting the provision in question,' and that this is an impeachment of the honor and integrity of the congress. These statements are not made in accordance with the facts.

Declares He Said Nothing to Warrant the Statement.

"A careful reading of this message will show that I said nothing to warrant the statement that 'the majority of the congressmen were in fear of being investigated by the secret service men,' or 'that congress as a whole was actuated by that motive.' I did not make any such statement in this message. Moreover I have never made any such statement about congress as a whole, nor, with a few honorable exceptions, about the members of congress, in any message or article or speech. On the contrary I have always not only deprecated but vigorously resented the practice of indiscriminate attack upon congress, and indiscriminate condemnation of all congressmen, wise and unwise, fit and unfit, good and bad alike. No one realizes more than I the importance of co-operation between the executive and congress, and no one holds in higher respect the authority and dignity of the congress of the United States in higher respect than I do. I have not the slightest sympathy with the practice of judging men, for good or for ill, not on their several merits, but in a mass, as members of one particular body or one caste. To put together all men holding or who have held a particular office, whether it be the office of president, or judge, or senator, or member of the house of representatives, and to class them all, without regard to their individual differences, as good or bad, seems to me utterly indefensible; and it is equally indefensible whether the good are fonfounded with the bad in a heated and unwarranted championship of all, or in a heated and unwarranted assault upon all.

Charge in Resolution Due to Density of the Solons.

"This allegation in the resolution, therefore, must certainly be due to an entire failure to understand my message.

"The resolution continues: 'That the president be requested to transmit to the house any evidence upon which he based his statements that the "chief argument in favor of the provision was that the congressmen did not themselves wish to be investigated by secret-service men." This statement, which was an attack upon no one, still less upon the congress, is sustained by the facts.

"If you will turn to the Congressional Record for May 1 last, pages 5553 to 5560, inclusive, you will find the debate on this subject. Mr. Tawney of Minnesota, Mr. Smith of Iowa, Mr. Sherley of Kentucky, and Mr. Fitzgerald of New York, appear in this debate as the special champions of the provision referred to. Messrs. Parsons, Bennet and Driscoll were the leaders of those who opposed the adoption of the amendment and upheld the right of the government to use the most efficient means possible in order to detect criminals and to prevent and punish crime. The amendment was carried in the committee of the whole, where no votes of the individual members are recorded, so I am unable to discriminate by mentioning the members who voted for and the members who voted against the provision, but its passage, the journal records, was greeted with applause. I am well aware, however, that in any case of this kind many members who have no particular knowledge of the point at issue, are content simply to follow the lead of the committee which had considered the matter, and I have no doubt that many members of the house simply followed the lead of Messrs. Tawney and Smith, without having had the opportunity to know very much as to the rights and wrongs of the question.

Regarding Restrictions of the Secret Service.

"There was both by implication and direct statement the assertion that it was the law, and ought to be the law, that the secret service should only be used to suppress counterfeiting; and that the law should be made more rigid than ever in this respect.

"Incidentally I may say that in my judgment there is ample legal authority for the statement that this appropriation law to which reference was made imposes no restrictions whatever upon the use of the secret service men, but relates solely to the expenditure of the money appropriated. Mr. Tawney in the debate stated that he had in his possession 'a letter from the secretary of the treasury received a few days ago' in which the secretary of the treasury 'himself admits that the provisions under which the appropriation has been made have been violated year after year for a number of years in his own department.' I append herewith as appendix A, the letter referred to. It makes no such admission as that which Mr. Tawney alleges. It contains on the contrary, as you will see by reading it, an 'emphatic protest against any such abridgment of the rights delegated to the secretary of the treasury by existing law,' and concludes by asserting that he 'is quite within his rights in thus employing the service of these agents' and that the proposed modification which Mr. Tawney succeeded in carrying through would be 'distinctly to the advantage of violators of criminal statutes of the United States.' I call attention to the fact that in this letter of Secretary Cortelyou to Mr. Tawney, as in my letter to the speaker quoted below, the explicit statement is made that the proposed change will be for the benefit of the criminals, a statement which I simply reiterated in public form in my message to the congress this year, and which is also contained in effect in the report of the secretary of the treasury to the congress.

"A careful reading of the Congressional Record will also show that practically the only arguments advanced in favor of the limitation proposed by Mr. Tawney's committee, beyond what may be supposed to be contained by implication in certain sentences as to 'abuses' which were not specified, were those contained in the repeated statements of Mr. Sherley.

Shurley's Declarations on "Pronounced Abuses."

"Mr. Sherley stated that there had been 'pronounced abuses growing out of the use of the secret service for purposes other than those intended,' putting his statement in the form of a question, and in the same form further stated that the 'private conduct' of 'members of congress, senators,' and others ought not to be investigated by the secret service, and that they should not investigate a 'member of congress' who had been accused of 'conduct unbecoming a gentleman and a member of congress.' In addition to these assertions couched as questions, he made one positive declaration, that 'This secret service at one time was used for the purpose of looking into the personal conduct of a member of congress.' This argument of Mr. Sherley, the only real argument as to the merits of the question made on behalf of the committee on appropriations, will be found in columns 1 and 2 of page 5556, and column 1 of page 5557 of the Congressional Record. In column 1 of page 5556 Mr. Sherley refers to the impropriety of permitting the secret service men to investigate men in the departments, officers of the army and navy and members of congress; in column 1, page 5557, he refers only to members of congress. His speech puts most weight on the investigation of members of congress.

"What appears in the record is filled out and explained by an article which appeared in the Chicago Inter-Ocean of January 3, 1904, under a Washington headline, and which marked the beginning of this agitation against the secret service. It was a special article of about 3,000 words, written, as I was then informed and now understand, by Mr. L. W. Busbey, at that time private secretary to the speaker of the house. It contained an utterly unwarranted attack on the secret service division of the treasury department and its chief.

"At the time of this publication the work of the secret service, which was thus assailed, included especially the investigation of great land frauds in the west, and the securing of evidence to help the department of justice in the beef-trust investigations at Chicago, which resulted in successful prosecutions.

Efforts to Kill Move Found to Be Unavailing.

"These methods proved unavailing to prevent the wrong. Messrs. Tawney and Smith, and their fellow members on the appropriations committee paid no heed to the protests; and as the obnoxious provision was incorporated in the sundry civil bill, it was impossible for me to consider or discuss it on its merits, as I should have done had it been in a separate bill. Therefore I have now taken the only method available, that of discussing it in my message to congress; and as all efforts to secure what I regard as proper treatment of the subject without recourse to plain speaking had failed, I have spoken plainly and directly, and have set forth the facts in explicit terms.

"Since 1901 the investigations covered by the secret service division—under the practice which had been for many years recognized as proper and legitimate, and which had received the sanction of the highest law officers of the government—have covered a wide range of offenses against the federal law. By far the most important of these related to the public domain, as to which there was uncovered a far-reaching and widespread system of fraudulent transactions involving both the illegal acquisition and the illegal fencing of government land; and, in connection with both these offenses, the crimes of perjury and subornation of perjury. Some of the persons involved in these violations were of great wealth and of wide political and social influence. Both their corporate associations and their political affiliations, and the lawless character of some of their employes, made the investigations not only difficult but dangerous. In Colorado one of the secret service men was assassinated.

Instances in Which Secret Service Starred.

"In connection with the Nebraska prosecution the government has by decree secured the return to the government of over a million acres of grazing land; in Colorado of more than 2,000 acres of mineral land, and suits are now pending involving 150,000 acres more.

"All these investigations in the land cases were undertaken in consequence of Mr. Hitchcock, the then secretary of the interior, becoming convinced that there were extensive frauds committed in his department; and the ramifications of the frauds were so far-reaching that he was afraid to trust his own officials to deal in thoroughgoing fashion with them. One of the secret service men accordingly resigned and was appointed in the interior department to carry on this work. The first thing he discovered was that the special agents' division or corps of detectives of the land office of the interior department was largely under the control of the land thieves; and in consequence the investigations above referred to had to be made by secret service men.

"If the present law, for which Messrs. Tawney, Smith, and the other gentlemen I have above mentioned are responsible, had then been in effect, this action would have been impossible, and most of the criminals would unquestionably have escaped. No more striking instance can be imagined of the desirability of having a central corps of skilled investigating agents who can at any time be assigned, if necessary in large numbers, to investigate some violation of the federal statutes, in no matter what branch of the public service. In this particular case most of the men investigated who were public servants were in the executive branch of the government. But in Oregon, where an enormous acreage of fraudulently alienated public land was recovered for the government, a United States senator, Mr. Mitchell, and a member of the lower house, Mr. Williamson, were convicted on evidence obtained by men transferred from the secret service, and another member of congress was indicted."

Chief Asks for Reversal of Action of Solons.

The president then gave a number of other instances, all of which tend to point out the efficiency of the secret service, and he concludes:

"In conclusion, I most earnestly ask, in the name of good government and decent administration, in the name of honesty and for the purpose of bringing to justice violators of the federal laws wherever they may be found, whether in public or private life, that the action taken by the house last year be reversed. When this action was taken, the senate committee, under the lead of the late Senator Allison, having before it a strongly-worded protest from Secretary Cortelyou like that he had sent to Mr. Tawney, accepted the secretary's views; and the senate passed the bill in the shape presented by Senator Allison. In the conference, however, the house conferees insisted on the retention of the provision they had inserted, and the senate yielded.

"The chief of the secret service is paid a salary utterly inadequate to the importance of his functions and to the admirable way in which he has performed them. I earnestly urge that it may be increased to $6,000 per annum. I also urge that the secret service be placed where it properly belongs, and made a bureau in the department of justice, as the chief of the secret service has repeatedly requested; but whether this is done or not, it should be explicitly provided that the secret service can be used to detect and punish crime wherever it is found.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

FLEET IS AT SUEZ

BATTLESHIP ARMANDA WILL ENTER THE GREAT CANAL.

TWO DAYS TO GO THROUGH

American Hospital Ships With Surgeons Aboard Rush to Devastated Italian Cities.

Suez, Jan. 4.—The United States battleship fleet, completing two days ahead of its schedule the next to the longest run of its world girdling cruse, arrived here yesterday morning from Colombo, a distance of 3,440 knots, from which place the fleet sailed on Dec. 20. The loss of a seaman from the battleship Illinois, who fell overboard and was drowned, as previously reported, was the only accident to mar the voyage from Colombo. The Illinois remained on the scene to search for the sailor and is a little behind the fleet. The news of the disaster in southern Italy was received with profound sorrow by officers and men. In reply to a message from the navy department, Rear Admiral Sperry said that he had substantial supplies available for distribution to the Italian earthquake sufferers at once. The Culgoa will distribute these provisions. There are six surgeons and a number of hospital men on board the Culgoa and Yankton, and they are taking with them supplies of cots, blankets, etc. These ships are due to arrive at Messina on Jan. 8 and 9.

OIL COMPANY PAYS FINE.

Waters-Pierce Concern Will Thus Avoid Ouster.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 4.—The Waters-Pierce Oil company evidently intends to pay the $50,000 fine imposed by the Missouri supreme court in the ouster decision. It failed to file a motion for a rehearing. The Waters-Pierce company has until Jan. 15 to show the supreme court that it has severed all connections with the Standard Oil company of Indiana, and it has until March 1 to pay the fine. Attorneys for the Standard Oil company of Indiana and the Republic Oil company have already filed motions for a rehearing. The two companies were ousted from the state and fined $50,000 each.

JAP CORPSES WERE ROBBED.

Chinese Inhabitants Also Murder Wreck Survivors.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 4.—News was brought by the steamer Monteagle, which arrived from the Orient, that some survivors of the lost Japanese steamer Ginsi Maru and the Japanese steamer Nagato Maru, which were wrecked near Chefoo, were murdered by the Chinese inhabitants of the coast village. The death list of the two disasters totaled 750, and as fast as the bodies were washed ashore they were not only stripped of their clothing and robbed of money and valuables, but even teeth were pulled out to get gold filling, and fingers were cut off for the sake of the rings.

Kills Sister's Traducer.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 4.—With the accusation that he was responsible for his sister's downfall ,and that he had abducted her from the Door of Hope, where she was sent to escape his wiles, William Mitchell, an iron-worker, shot and instantly killed Cecil Thayer, a messenger, 19 years old. Mitchell surrendered, and says that any other man would do the same thing.

Wright Beats All Records.

Lemans, France, Jan. 4.—Wilbur Wright, the aeronaut, beat all previous aeroplane records here with a magnificent flight that lasted for two hours and nine minutes. He covered officially a distance of seventy-three miles, but as a matter of fact, counting the various curves, he made over ninety miles. Mr. Wright's feat was the more admirable because of the intense cold.

Campbell for Ohio Senator.

Columbus, O., Jan. 4.—At the democratic house caucus a determination was reached to stand by former Governor Campbell for United States senator. In the event that no joint caucus of the democrats is held no name other than that of Campbell will be presented.

Negro Burned His Wife.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Accused of killing his wife by striking her over the head and then burning her body in the furnace of an apartment building, Elijah Raffty, a negro, was arrested here tonight after several days' search by the police.

Yellow Fever in Cuba.

Havana, Jan. 4.—Yellow fever has broken out in Santiago provinces. Three cases of the dreaded plague were reported. The victims are Spaniards. It is not believed, however, that an epidemic will result.

HURT IN A WRECK.

Kidneys Badly Injured and Health Seriously Impaired.

William White, R. R. man, 201 Constantine Street, Three Rivers, Mich., says: "In a railroad collision my kidneys must have been hurt, as I passed bloody urine with pain for a long time after, was weak and thin and so I could not work. Two years after I went to the —— hospital and remained almost six months, but my case seemed hopeless. The urine passed involuntarily. Two months ago I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and the improvement has been wonderful. Four boxes have done me more good than all the doctoring of seven years. I gained so much that my friends wonder at it."

Sold by all dealers. 50c a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

WHY WELLS WAS WRATHY.

All Things Considered, He Had Some Excuse for Anger.

Charles E. Wells, who has been called the groundhog senator of West Virginia, because he once introduced a bill advocating the changing of groundhog day from February 2 to July 4, was staying over night at the Grand hotel of a budding West Virginia village not long ago.

He was awakened in the morning by heavy pounding on his door, and the voice of the old man night clerk saying "Five o'clock! Better get up or you'll miss your train."

Mr. Wells didn't intend to catch a morning train and hadn't given any instructions that he should be called at the unearthly hour of five o'clock, so he paid no attention to the old man's early morning greeting and was asleep again almost immediately.

In about 15 minutes he was again awakened by the pounding on his door and heard the voice of the old man saying apologetically: "Don't get up. I rapped on the wrong door."—Lippincott's.

IN SELF DEFENSE.

"Why, professor! Why are you wearing ear muffs on the street on a hot day like this?"

"O, I forgot to take them off! Our baby makes such a noise all the time at home!"

Waiting for His Little Airship.

The birds were flying south. Presently they espied a lone robin perched on a lofty limb.

"Come on," they cried, "and join the bunch."

But the robin perked his head on one side and shook it vigorously.

"What are you waiting for?" they cried.

"I'm waiting," replied the robin, "for one of these daffy little airship chappies to blow along and then mebby I can sneak a ride."

A Long Sleeper.

Miss Louisiana Pletta of Lowell, Mass., when once she falls asleep, remains in an unconscious state for periods varying from one to three weeks. She suffers no ill effects from her lengthy somnolence, and when she awakes she is under the impression that she has slept for only a single night.

THEN AND NOW

Complete Recovery from Coffee Ills.

"About nine years ago my daughter, from coffee drinking, was on the verge of nervous prostration," writes a Louisville lady. "She was confined for the most part to her home.

"When she attempted a trip down town she was often brought home in a cab and would be prostrated for days afterwards.

"On the advice of her physician she gave up coffee and tea, drank Postum, and ate Grape-Nuts for breakfast.

"She liked Postum from the very beginning and we soon saw improvement. To-day she is in perfect health, the mother of five children, all of whom are fond of Postum.

"She has recovered, is a member of three charity organizations and a club, holding an office in each. We give Postum and Grape-Nuts the credit for her recovery."

"There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

THE

CASH STORE

Special Auction Sale!

THREE DAYS!

Thursday, Friday, Saturday, January 7-8-9, 1909.

In order to close out the balance of the Cash Store stock rapidly, we will have Three Days of Auction Sale. Auctions will be held daily by an experienced Auctioneer

EVERYTHING GOES!

This will give the people of Klemme and vicinity a chance to buy goods at their own price.

Come early and stay late. Auction hours from 10 a. m. to 9:30 p. m.

Remember the Place.

THE CASH STORE
OF KLEMME.

C. C. Suckow, Mgr.

BOSTONIA

—AT—

Opera House, Saturday Evening, Jan. 9th 1909.

Third number lecture course.

The musical excellence and exceptional variety of the program of this organization is the product of the varied talents, thorough culture, wide experience and long concerted work of its members. Violin, piano, sopranos and baritone in solos instrumental and vocal duets, trios and quartette ensemble, inimitable child impersonations, a short comedy sketch, scenes from operas and a grand finale of piano voices and violin make up a brilliant and popular program of greater variety and merit than is usually given by a larger company.

Windred Townsend is one of Chicago's most artistic violinists. After having studied with America's best teachers winning the College Gold Medal under Bernhard Listeman, Miss Townsend went abroad where she became a pupil of Geloso, the great Spanish French violinist, who praised her ability in highest terms. While in Paris Miss Townsend played with great success at the "Atelier reunions" where solo artists appear weekly and since her return to America has had most gratifying success in all her recitals and concert trous.

Admission

Adults 35c Children 15c

Reserved seats 50c

J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING

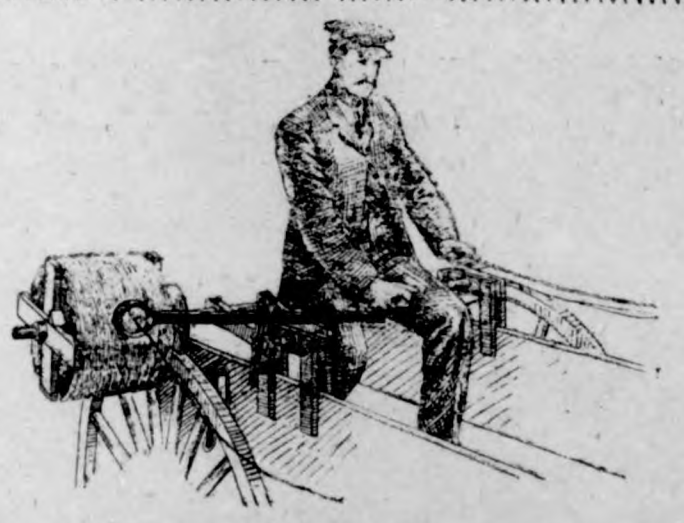
HORSE SHOEING A

SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood work in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL



Farm Machinery.

Yes Sir! We mean just what we say. "A penna saved means a penna earned" and you can do this by going to H. Lau & Son and buy you a first-class "A Grade Surrey" and top buggy and Dane mower and Dane hay loaders, buckers, stackers, 20 century Kemp manure spreaders. You can also buy cultivator plows, binders, mowers, hay rakes, Jones scales, harnesses, flynets, lap dusters, whips, oils of all kinds, tile spades, barb and smoot wires, fence stapels and other farm implements. Royal Tailors tight fit suits. They will keep style and collor, fit guaranteed.

H. Lau & Son.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.

Permitted to Whistle in Church.

Harry P. Bosson of Reading, as his friends in Worcester say, whistled in church while attending divine worship in that city recently. When asked about it Mr. Bosson said he was not asleep and explained his action by telling the following story: "The minister said just before the contribution that any one who put 50 cents or more into the contribution box was entitled and expected to whistle. As the collectors were on their way the whistling came from all parts of the room was not far from universal. When it came to me it was up to me to dig down and content myself with a whistle."

This is the latest way of raising money for churches.—Boston Herald.

Has Deserved High Position.

Dr. Elizabeth Athman of Gottheimer is the first woman to be elected teacher in a night school in the German empire. She entered upon her duties at the beginning of the present school season in Frankfort. Fraulein Athman is well known in Germany on account of her original investigations upon sociological subjects. She has written and lectured extensively upon the condition of the workingmen, especially those employed in the factories and shops of Germany. As she has lived among the women about whom she lectures and writes and knows thoroughly their condition, she is looked upon as the leading authority on the subject and especially well fitted to act as their teacher in night school.

Extravagance in Styles.

If directoire gowns really become fashionable, it is hoped that other extravagances of the same period will not also be revived. The beautiful Mme. Tallien, who led the fashions at the time of the French directory, is said to have appeared with rings on her toes. Her silk stockings were made with divisions like the fingers of gloves, and she wore sandals studded with jewels. Mme. Tallien was, however, sensible enough to discard the fashionable flaxen wig and to wear her own black hair unpowdered. Natural coiffures did not long remain simple, though. Under the empire they became so elaborate that the ladies of the court had to have their hair dressed the night before Napoleon's coronation, and were then propped upright in their chairs in order to sleep without damaging their headdresses.

An Old Friend.

The dark markings so conspicuous on the moon and known as the "Man in the Moon" are great plains, lying at a much lower level than the brighter parts. In all probability they are old sea bottoms, some of them having undergone upheavals and other changes since the water retreated from them, others presenting the appearance of being unchanged since the time when the waters dried up or were in some other way removed from them.

THE ORIGINAL LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP

KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE HONEY AND TAR

Red Clover Blossom and Honey Pee on Every Bottle

A HORRIBLE HOLD-

About ten years ago my was held up in his work h happiness by what was belie hopeless consumption writ Lipscomb of Washington, took all kinds of remedies a ment from several doctors no help till he used Dr. K Discovery and was wholly six bottles. He is a well m It's quick to relieve and t cure for weak or sore lung ages coughs and cold bron grippe asthma and all bron fections. 50c and $1.00 T free. Guaranteed by G. A. Co.

The Child's Viewpoi

Percy Alder, M. P., of Lo an amusing story of a sma a recent meeting of the Happy Evenings associati child had been sent away to try for a holiday, and ques to what in all her holiday ha her most, this little slum whose London home adjoine piece of land, replied: "S dead cats."

Birds Not Afraid of M

Among southern Africa which manifest wonderful ta the Cape wagtail, which penetrates to the living room of flies, but will pick them old Boer's veischoons as he his stoep, and perch about h

Chamberlain's Colic, Chole Diarrhoea R Never fails. Buy it now. It may s

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	45 to 50c
Oats	43 to 46c
Wheat	60 to 90c
Barley	50 to 55c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	4.50 to 5.50
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

On first page—the State Savings Bank.

Oysters direct from Baltimore at Kluckhohn's.

Read the large Bostonia ad opposite local page.

Fresh oysters always on hand at Kluckhohn's. tf.

Lloyd Spooner of Iowa Falls, is here visiting relatives.

FOR SALE—Four Shepherd pups. Enquire at this office.

School convened Monday and the youngsters are hard at work again.

Charlie and Tillie Kraus left Tuesday for Colesburg for a visit with relatives.

Wednesday morning the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gibbs was gladdened with a little son.

H. Schroeder shipped stock to Chicago Sunday morning. He returned Wednesday afternoon

Chas. Gruetzmacher of Charles City, visited New Year's day here with his mother, brothers and families.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

Arthur Wellemeyer left for Dubuque, Iowa on Wednesday evening. His mother is expected to have an operation performed in one of the hospitals there.

Tuesday and Wednesday were two of the coldest days that we have had so far this winter. Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock the thermometer registered 22 degrees below zero.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets. Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

The New Year's ball given by C. W. Wiles in the Klemme Opera House was largely attended. People were represented from all of our neighboring towns. Good order was maintained and everyone enjoyed themselves. The Garner orchestra rendered splendid music. As a whole it was a success.

Read the First National Bank ad.

Read the ad of State Savings Bank.

Harry Smith was at Garner Wednesday.

Mrs. C. W. Wiles was at Garner Monday.

About an inch of snow fell on Wednesday night.

Mrs. H. Schroeder is on the sick list this week.

M. E. Peck of Garner drilled a well for the Haes brothers.

Geo. Ell of Belmond. visited here Monday with his relatives.

John Ell of Bennet, Neb., arrived Monday for an extended visit with his many relatives.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

Read the market report. Bring your produce to Klemme and receive the highest market price.

Joe Johnson sold to Henry Schroeder 21 head of fat steers. Some of them weighed 1450

W. F. Stille sold a nice bunch of hogs to W. R Bloom which brought him the the nice sum of $421.

This office would be pleased to receive quite a few renewals on the Times the first of the year. We need the money.

Mrs. H. Freie left last week Saturday for Ft. Dodge where she is visiting with her daughter Mrs. L. A. Jenson.

LAST CALL—All those owing us book account and notes must pay at once and save costs.
H. Lau & Son.

J. D. Bachman of Goodell. transacted business at both Garner and Klemme on Monday. He also made the Times office a pleasant call.

Aug. Lau will ship one load of cattle Sunday morning and H. C. Lau one load of hogs. Aug. will go along with the stock and visit his son Ben.

Two of the largest sales so far this season are booked for Jan. 13 and 14. The Arnold sale on the 13th and the Wellemeyer sale on the 14th.

Aug. Lau bought 62 head of cattle last Saturday and sold of these 47 head to a stock buyer east of Cedar Rapids. He also bought 10 head of good steers on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Holmes and daughter of Tyndall, S. Dak. who have been visiting with Lew Lewis and family and acquaintances at Clear Lake, returned Monday.

To the Ladies of Klemme and vicinity,—Buy a sack of Scarlet King Flour; use half of it, if not pleased, we cheerfully refund your money. "Nuf sed."
J. W. Waterman

Corwith has raised another $400 for the detection and return of John Standring. This makes $1350 that will be paid for John. If they double it perhaps he will come back himself and get the reward.—Britt Tribune.

On Nov. 24, 1908 G. W. Kluckhohn had a fracture of his left arm. He carried a policy in the B. A. Y. which included an accident indemnity for which they paid him in full on Dec. 31, 1908 for the amount specified in the policy. He also carried a policy in the Bankers Accident of which he speaks very highly. He can cheerfully recommend both these companies as being fair and reliable.

Change of ad. for State Savings.

The Rock Island System has a change of ad.

Aug. Lau did business at Garner on Tuesday.

For sweet biscuit, bread or cake use Scarlet King Flour, no other take.

Horace Merrell came from Garner Monday for a few days visit with relatives and friends.

H. C. Lau shipped two car loads of hogs to Chicago Sunday morning. Aug. Lau. Jr. went along.

Emil Haes and Jim Lunn will soon leave for Minneapolis, Minnesota for a visit with their—well, friends.

German M. E. Church Items

Our balmy weather took a sudden change on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H Griewe called on Elsie Bredlow last Sunday afternoon.

Minnie Lau spent New Year's with friends in Belmond returning Monday.

Revival meetings have been in progress in the Germantown church since New Year.

Emil Sampson and Hugo Neef went to Mason City Monday to complete their business course.

Edward Weisbrod of Fenton, Iowa was a caller at the Schlei home a few days returning Monday.

Elsie Bredlow has been very poorl the last week, having frequent spells of her old trouble.

Ella Griewe, Camilla Neef and Lurena Wessel returned to Charles City on Monday to resume their studies.

W. F. Lau and family returned to their home in Wilmont, Minn. the first of the week after several weeks spent among their kin folks.

Two large auction sales will take place next week, that of the Fred Arnold estate on Wednesday Jan. 13 and Carl Wellemeyer on Thursday Jan. 14.

The Klemme "Standard Bearers" will meet Friday evening with Martha and Nellie Lau. They have an interesting study and every member should try and be present.

The Germantown Womans Missionary society was announced for Tuesday to meet with Mrs. Arnkiel and the Klemme society for Thursday to meet with Mrs. H. Griewe.

Henry Ludeke left for Iowa City last Saturday, to take treatment and possible an operation. Henry has been ailing for several years and was often seized with acute attacks. We trust he may find permanent relief. His sister Sarah went with him.

At the annual election of the Germantown Sunday school the following officers were elected:
Superintendant, Wm. Bredlow.
Vice Supt., E. G. Beier.
Asst. Sec., Franklin Bredlow.
Treasurer, Wm Krans.
Librarian, Will Riemer.
Asst. Librarian, Edw. Schlei.
Asstant Librarian, Franklin Bredlow.
Organist, Lydia Beier.
Sec. of Home Department, G. L. Schaper.
Sec. of Cradle Roll, Mrs Wm. Kraus.
Sec. of Temperance, Erick Josten.

We are glad to note that Etna Suckow is much better and able to be up part of the time.

Remember the entertainment at the Opera House, Jan. 9th. Read display ad. opposite local page.

W. J. Schmidt accompanied a sick friend to Dubuque on Tuesday, but we did not learn the name.

Elmer Schaefer and baby Mable were on the sick list last week, but are better at this writing.

A number of our Klemme young folks attended the services in Germantown last Sunday evening.

The Epworth League will give a program in Klemme Sunday evening in place of the preaching services.

Arthur Bastian of Charles City spent a few days in Klemme last week so we were informed. One of our schoolmams could give the particulars.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Schuldt gave a big New Year's dinner last Friday to which they had invited ten families of friends and relatives. If we counted correctly there were 43 present. It is needless to say that all had a good time and enjoyed the occasion. To make the day still more memorable, two grand children and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Schuldt were christened in the midst of this happy family circle. The little boy of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Schuldt was named Elden Benjamin. The little girl of Mr and Mrs. Busch was called Beatrice Ruth and the little girl of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Stille was christened Elvira Irene.

The Klemme Sunday school held their election Saturday evening. Every officer and teacher was present and gave a report save one. The following persons were elected.
Superintendant, Aug. Wenz.
Asst. Superintendant, Thos. Blank.
Secretary, Minnie Lenz
Treasurer, F. C Griewe.
Librarians, Ralph Ludeke
Librarians; Willie Ridder.
Organist, Esther Gruetzmacher.
Sec. of Home Department. Mrs. G. H. Wessel.
Sec. of Cradle Roll, Emelia Lenz.
Sec. of Temperance, Chas. Albrecht.

BRAVE FIRE LAD IES.

often receive severe burns putting out fires then use Bucklen's arnica salve and forget them. It soon drives out pain. For burns, scalds, wounds, cuts and bruises it earth's greatest healer. Quickly cures skin eruptions old sores, boils, ulcers, felons; best pile cure made. Relief is instant, 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

F. H. Ridder	Klemme
G. H. Carlson	"
W. F. Stille	"
E. H. Lenz	"
Aug. Ridder	"
F. C. Griewe	"
Herman Thrun	Goodell
Wm. F. Lau, Wilmont, Minn.
Rev. G. Haefner, Tomah, Wis.

DON'T GET A DIVORCE.

A western judge granted a divorce on account of ill-temper and bad breath. Dr King's New life pills would have prevented it. They cure consumption, causing bad breath and liver trouble the ill-temper, dispel colds, banish headaches, conquer the chills, 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

RENEW ON
THE TIMES

We wish to call our subscribers attention to the fact that we expect frequent renewals on this paper this fall, quite a few have responded for which we say thanks. We expect to present statements to those who are more than One Year in arrears. Please Remember!

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
HIDES! HIDES!!
Get our prices on Hides.
Oysters, Celery and Mince Meat.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

Land of flowers, fruit and sunshine. To make the journey worthy of its ending take the superb

Golden State Limited
VIA ROCK ISLAND LINES

Daily from Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City to Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and San Francisco.
Over the lowest-altitude and most southerly route to the Coast.
Through tourist sleeping cars via Colorado and via El Paso.
The quickest tourist service of any line to Southern California.

Full particulars, with rates of fare and illustrated California book from

Rock Island

L. O. TERGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. Elise shared her stateroom with a Mrs. Graham, also bound for Canada. The young women on a sightseeing tour met Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented by the trio for the summer. Elizabeth learned that a friend of her father's was to call. Two men called, one of them being the queer-acting stranger on the steamer. The girls were "not at home," but discovered by the cards left that one of the men was Elizabeth's father's friend. The men proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett. The party was told of the search for smugglers in the vicinity of the cottage. Elise visited Mrs. Graham to find that her life was not the happiest. She learned that the Grahams and Lady Edith were acquainted. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. During a storm the young women heard a crash in the basement of the cottage and a moment later Mary Anne, their woman servant, entered, her arm bleeding. To assure them there was no danger, Mary Anne descended to the basement alone and quieted their fears. Lady Edith told the girls of a robbery of jewels at the hotel. Fearing for the safety of her own gems, she left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his queer actions, returned the lost bag and told of mysterious doings of a year before connected with the cottage. Exploring the cellar, one of the girls found a sphinx cuff-button, the exact counterpart of which both Gordon Bennett and Lady Edith were found to possess, also. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man.

CHAPTER VIII—Continued.

There was silence for a minute, and then the man spoke again.

"I tell you there's no use talking any more. I've begun the thing, and I'm going through with it."

"But the danger, Willy, the danger!"

"I'm used to danger."

"Aye, worse luck, that you are! And me like to breake me 'eart wi' thinkin' of you o' nights."

"Then don't think."

"Ah, 'ow can I 'elp it? Me that carried you in me arms when you was a little babby!"

"Well, now, will you do what I ask, or won't you?"

"Don't ask it of me, Willy—don't now."

"I do ask it."

I forgot all honorable scruples against eavesdropping, and listened with all my ears. I can only add in self-defense that I believe any one else in my place would have done the same.

He muttered something I could not hear, however, and Mary Anne gave a stifled sob.

"Oh, you didn't use to be so 'ard!" she exclaimed. "It's she 'as changed you. It's 'er fault—with 'er soft 'ands and 'er 'ard, crool 'eart."

"Don't you say anything against Nell. I won't have it."

"Oh, it's allus Nell nowadays. And what does she care what 'appens to you, so long as she's safe 'erself? If only you'd took to the fishing trade, Willy, and lived respectable 'ow 'appy we might 'ave been, and Sarah Cushley ready to marry you if you'd said the word."

"Sarah Cushley indeed!"

"It's the books—that's what done it. Many's the time I've been sorry I ever let you go to school. Many's the time I've wished I'd listened to yer uncle when 'e wanted to take you on 'is sloop afore the mast. Fur 'e said good 'ard work, with a rope's end now and then, would make a man o' you. But you'd a look o' yer father, and you 'ad 'is fine ways—"

He interrupted her with an unpleasant laugh.

"Fine ways, indeed! That's all he ever gave his son. Don't blame me for anything, mother—look nearer home. I'm not saying it was all your fault. You thought you were married."

"God knows I did, Willy!"

"You brought me into the world, and found you were deceived, like many another fool of a girl—and serves them right, too, for thinking a gentleman would marry them."

"Oh, my boy!"

There was real tragedy in the exclamation, and I found myself wiping away a tear, but the man's voice was as cold as ever.

"So I started life under a handicap—a thoroughbred mongrel, made up of the worst of you and the worst of him. And I turned out a bad lot, didn't I? But whose fault was it?"

"Mine, Willy, mine."

"Yes, yours. Branded from the beginning with the bar sinister—different from other children. Don't I remember it all? Growing up with his aristocratic tastes and your environment; born with the instincts of his class, which make luxuries necessities, and no money to gratify them. And then the cold shoulder everywhere—contemptuous pity from his class, open ridicule from yours."

"I sent you away, Willy. I took the bit of money he gave me and sent you to the states to school, where you could be a gentleman and no questions asked. And I loved you, darlin'; I allus loved you."

"You gave me what you could, I suppose. I'm not blaming you for that. But you turned me loose with a little learning and no money—a dangerous combination, mother. So I went to the bad, preferring a short life and a merry one. Then I met Nell, and was happy, for she loved me. Don't say she didn't—she did, I tell you; she does."

"And so do I, my boy. Who could love you like your mother?"

"Then, mother, do as I tell you, without any more fuss. Come away from this place—it gets on my nerves—and give me something to drink, for I was up all night, and have more work ahead of me."

Their voices died away, and I sat for some time longer meditating upon what I had heard, and, if the truth must be told, afraid to emerge from the cellar while the man was on the premises. At last a sound in the kitchen indicated that Mary Anne had returned alone, so I went boldly up the outside steps and around to the kitchen door.

She sat on a chair near the table, her apron thrown over her head, the picture of despair, and I advanced quietly and laid my hand upon her shoulder, for my heart ached for the poor soul.

"Mary Anne," I said, very gently, "I was in the cellar just now, and heard you talking."

She stared at me with widely distended eyes and trembling lips.

"Miss Elise!" she gasped. "You here?"

"I didn't go with the others, because my head ached. You have not been honest with us, Mary Anne. We didn't know you had a son."

She rested her head in her hands and burst into tears.

"Oh, Miss Elise," she sobbed, "don't look at me that way—I'm unhappy enough without that. Yes, miss, I 'ave a son, and if you 'eard us talkin', you know all about it. He took to drink, miss, and was allus in trouble. And last year 'e got to quarreling—in Montreal it was—and e stabbed a man. And the man up and died. So they're after 'im fur it, and they'll 'ang 'im, miss, they'll 'ang my boy if they ketches 'im."

She rocked to and fro a moment in speechless misery, and then continued:

"And I give 'im money, Miss Elise, but I don't let 'im come up 'ere, except to-day 'e follered me unbeknownst, miss, and I let 'im go in the coal 'ole, God furgive me fur the liberty I took! Mostly 'e comes down the shore in 'is boat, and I meets 'im quite private. But I've give 'im all the money I 'ad, and my brother's give him money, too, and 'e's goin' back to the old country to live a decent life."

"Where were you when I heard you talking?"

"In the coal 'ole at the back o' the cellar. And I beg your parding fur the liberty I took, but don't lay it up agin me, miss, fur what else could a mother do? And, Miss Elise, darlin', you'll keep a quiet tongue in yer 'ead, won't you, and let 'im git away? Fur 'e's shipped as a sailor and sails on Sunday mornin'."

I said I would talk it over with the others, but I thought if she promised never to allow him near the house again we would say nothing, as he was really going to leave the country and reform. She quite cheered up then, and insisted on getting me a lunch, waiting on me with a humility and alacrity I found most touching. This vagrant son explained various little mysteries about Mary Anne which had puzzled me a good deal, and I felt very sorry, indeed, for the poor creature with her secret trouble.

I Forgot All Honorable Scruples Against Eavesdropping.

I had been so excited that I quite forgot my own ills, and longed for the return of the girls, that I might talk the matter over with them. They could not get home before six o'clock, however, so I went out on the veranda to wait for them and enjoy the salt breeze.

To my surprise, I found Lady Edith Campbell reclining in the hammock, reading the morning paper. She laughed as I exclaimed in astonishment, and came to meet me with a kiss of welcome.

"You did not expect me," she said, "and I certainly did not expect to be here, but I woke with such a wretched headache this morning I simply could not go."

"Why, so did I."

"I know—Gabrielle told me. They wanted to put it off again, but Wilfrid had already gone, and I knew he would be disappointed, so I persuaded them to go. About noon my head got better, and my room felt so close and stuffy I longed for your cool breeze and lovely view, so I managed to dress and walk up here, thinking we might compare symptoms. I rang, but no one came, so I appropriated the hammock, as my walk had used me up completely. I hope you don't mind very much."

I hastened to assure her I was delighted, as I had had more than enough of my own society. So we had a long, comfortable afternoon, and by and by Mary Anne brought us tea, with an appealing glance at me which I interpreted as a plea for silence, and I am glad to be able to say I kept her secret inviolate.

"I envy you your complexion," I remarked, as I admired the seashell tints of my guest's face. "Now, I am quite pale and heavy-eyed, but you look as fresh as a daisy, yet you have had just as horrid a day as I."

"It takes a great deal to make the Campbells lose their color," she replied, "or rather, to make it stay lost. I was pale enough this morning, but as soon as the pain left me the red returned. I am shockingly healthy, you know—good, sturdy old Scotch blood."

"But Lord Wilfrid often looks very pale."

"Oh, Wilfrid is an alien—we all tell him so, much to his disgust; and he is far from well, poor fellow, although I think he is improving. Have you noticed that he seems brighter and better of late?"

I made an appropriate reply, and the conversation drifted to other things. As we sat together in the hammock, swaying gently to and fro, I happened to notice that in the lace at her throat she wore the little gold key which had excited my curiosity once before.

I spoke of it, and she at once drew it out and handed it to me, while I told her the story of the cuff button and its unusual design.

"And," I concluded, "your pin surprised me, and so did Mr. Bennett's, but please tell me why you were interested in it."

Her sweet face grew very grave, and she hesitated a moment before replying, then took the pin from me and held it in her hand.

"Elise," she said, slowly, "this little pin was given me by one I loved very dearly, and whom I have lost."

"By death?"

"No, not death; there are worse things—far worse."

I thought of Mary Anne, and wondered if she would not indorse this sentiment.

"I kept the little gold key," she continued, touching it lovingly. "It was the only thing I kept, but I could not give it up. And he—but why should I burden you with my trouble? It is all past and over, and I never refer to it."

"Some day," I hazarded, "you will marry and be happy."

"I am happy now," she returned; "or, rather, I make myself believe it. But I shall not marry, for I have but one heart, and this is its key. I should like to see your button some time when it is convenient, for it was a strange coincidence. As for Mr. Bennett—"

"Well?"

"I was not looking at his pin, but at his face. He is so like—so strangely like—the other."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

RETORT WITH A STING IN IT.

Clergyman's Story of Repartee Between Grande Dames.

Rev. C. W. Gordon of Winnipeg startled his brother clergymen at a recent convention by advocating the saving of souls "right off the bat." He said that souls worked upon slowly were apt "to go bad on one's hands."

Afterward Mr. Gordon compared the honest and sincere ways of the frontier with the false and venomous ways of certain circles of society. He illuminated the comparison with a dialogue.

"I overheard this dialogue," he said, "at a reception that I once attended in Washington. The speakers were two grande dames—I believe that is the word—two powerful social leaders, one from Philadelphia, the other from New York.

"'Well,' said the first grande dame, 'I must be off. I've got to go and see my mother.'

"The second put up her lorgnette and drawled:

"'Really—ah—you don't mean to say you've got a mother living?'

"The first grande dame laughed—a high, thin laugh, with something biting, like acid, in it.

"'Oh, yes,' she said; 'my mother is still alive—and she doesn't look a day older than you do, I assure you.'"

He Changed It.

It was a red-hot day in July that the colonel was riding horseback along a highway and found a man dead beside the road. He hurried on to the nearest house and found that the owner was one of the county coroners. The man rallied four or five neighbors and proceeded to view the body, and they were not five minutes in returning a verdict of sunstroke.

"But there was no medical examination of the body," protested the colonel.

"No, but you see work is driving with us and we can't spare the time to fool around," answered the coroner.

"But I don't think he died of sunstroke."

"No? Then we'll change the verdict to froze to death and let it go at that!"

COUGHS AND COLDS.

I Took Pe-ru-na.

Peruna Drug Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—I can cheerfully recommend Peruna as an effective cure for coughs and colds.

You are authorized to use my photo with testimonial in any publication.

Mrs. Joseph Hall Chase,
804 Tenth St., Washington, D. C.

Could Not Smell Nor Hear

Mrs. A. L. Wetzel, 1023 Ohio St., Terre Haute, Ind., writes:

"When I began to take your medicine I could not smell, nor hear a church bell ring. Now I can both smell and hear.

"When I began your treatment my head was terrible. I had buzzing and chirping noises in my head.

"I followed your advice faithfully and took Peruna as you told me. Now I might say I am well.

"I want to go and visit my mother and see the doctor who said I was not long for this world. I will tell him it was Peruna that cured me."

Peruna is manufactured by The Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Ask your Druggist for a Free Peruna Almanac for 1909.

JUST DOUBLE

320 ACRES INSTEAD OF 160 ACRES

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

As further inducement to settlement of the wheat-raising lands of Western Canada, the Canadian Government has increased the area that may be taken by a homesteader to 320 acres—160 free and 160 to be purchased at $3.00 per acre. These lands are in the grain-raising area, where mixed farming is also carried on with unqualified success. A railway will shortly be built to Hudson Bay, bringing the world's markets a thousand miles nearer these wheat-fields, where schools and churches are convenient, climate excellent, railways close to all settlements, and local markets good.

"It would take time to assimilate the revelations that a visit to the great empire lying to the North of us unfolded at every turn."—Correspondence of a National Editor, who visited Western Canada in August, 1908.

Lands may also be purchased from railway and land companies at low prices and on easy terms.

For pamphlets, maps and information as to low railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

For Cold in Chest, Neuralgia, Backache A-B-C LINIMENT All Dealers

PISO'S CURE

25 cts. 25 cts.

Throat and Lungs

need just the protection against cold and disease that is obtained from Piso's Cure. If you have a cough or cold, slight or serious, begin taking Piso's Cure today and continue until you are well. Cure the cough while it is fresh, when a few doses of Piso's Cure may be all that you will need. Famous for half a century. Pleasant to taste. Free from opiates and harmful ingredients.

At all druggists', 25 cts.

EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY KILLS 100,000 PERSONS

Messina, Reggio and Many Other Cities Ruined by Shocks, Tidal Waves and Fire--Appalling Disaster Described by Eye-Witnesses--American Consul Dies.

Rome.—One hundred thousand persons are believed to have perished in the awful earthquake that devastated Calabria and the island of Sicily on Monday. The seismic shocks lasted only 23 seconds, but in that brief space of time cities, towns and villages were shattered and the lives of thousands were crushed out. The entire country is stunned by the horror of the catastrophe and the whole world mourns with Italy for her dead.

Messina, whose tragic history has been marked by tidal waves and war, and which was the center of Monday's terrestrial maelstrom, was shaken to ruins. Flames burst forth to complete the city's destruction and to burn alive untold numbers helplessly pinioned beneath fallen walls and broken timbers. The Strait of Messina was shaken and twisted by the earth's trembling, for mariners report the channel altered beyond recognition. The ports and villages on both the continental and Sicilian sides were wrecked or inundated and all lighthouses along the coasts were swallowed up. Navigation now is dangerous and in some places impossible.

Sicily and Calabria Region of Awful Earthquake Disaster.

Seaport of Reggio Wiped Out.

In the Calabrian district, which was only beginning to recover from the effects of the earthquake of 1905. Reggio was the center of the earth's upheaval. The seaport of Reggio is reported as no longer existing and the city proper is in ruins. The loss of life on both sides of the strait and in eastern Sicily was enormous.

One of the refugees from Reggio who was the first to bring the news of the city's destruction tried to make his way to Sicily in a sailboat, but was compelled to return, and finally found safety at a peninsula port. In describing his experience he said:

"The sea was strangely, mysteriously agitated, and the heavens were ablaze. Nearing Sicily, the clearing smoke revealed the mystery; Messina was in flames. In the frenzy of despair I turned my boat back to Calabria."

Terrible Scenes at Messina.

Starving, bleeding from injuries and almost insane from their terrifying experiences, Messina's survivors are fleeing in all directions. The spectacle presented by the ruined seaport is described as terrifying. Tumbling buildings both killed and mutilated, while hundreds of the injured imprisoned in the wreckage were abandoned to their fate by the fleeing populace. One man said: "The earth seemed to drop and then turn violently on its axis. The whole population, who practically were precipitated from the houses rent asunder, were spun around like tops when they ran through the streets. Many were crushed to death and others, bewildered, took refuge for breath beside the tottering walls, where they soon met the fate of their companions."

Brave Work of Rescuers.

Already British and Russian squadrons have arrived at Messina. Sailors and marines have been disembarked and they have performed courageous acts in rescuing the injured and removing the wounded. A large number of survivors have been transferred to the warships, which are transformed into great floating hospitals. It is imperative that the dead be removed

LATEST NEWS OF QUAKE

Latest estimate of dead, 100,000.
Latest death estimate in Messina, 50,000.
Mount Etna in eruption, adding to terror.
Whole southern Italy and Sicily panic stricken.
Fire in many towns killed hundreds.
Message of sympathy from President Roosevelt.
President Fallieres of France sent message of sympathy.
King and queen of Italy at work in stricken district ministering aid.
United States Red Cross sent aid and will raise fund.
Pope started fund for sufferers.
Catholic headquarters and officials in stricken district wiped out.
Scores of persons, buried under the ruins, are said to be alive, with no hope of rescuing them.
Vandals found looting and robbing the dead are being shot down by troops. Soldiers patrol the stricken towns, and what is practically martial law prevails.

from the ruins in order to avoid a pestilence. Steamers with doctors, druggists, firemen and workmen have arrived at Messina from Catania and other places.

All Nations Offer Aid.

The hands of all the nations have been extended to Italy in her affliction. From rulers have crossed messages of condolence and from the peoples spontaneous promise of that aid which brings the world closer together in times of great calamity. Great Britain, France and Russia have sent their warships quick as the flash of the telegraph could carry the orders to lend assistance to the stricken cities. Relief funds have already been started and a hundred ships and trains are on their way carrying supplies and reinforcements to the south. Rome, Milan, Florence, Naples and other cities are sending physicians, police and firemen.

King and Queen Go to Sicily.

King Victor Emmanuel and the queen, who left for the scene of the calamity, reached Naples last night and proceeded at once to Sicily. A large number of people saw their majesties depart from Rome and one among the number of deputies at the station observed to the king: "The presence of your majesty will suffice to console the stricken population."

The king turned sharply upon the speaker and said abruptly: "Don't talk nonsense."

Described by Naval Officer.

At the time of the earthquake the torpedo boat Sappho was lying in the harbor of Messian and one of the officers told of the occurrences as follows:

"At half-past five in the morning the sea suddenly became terribly agitated, seeming literally to pick up our boat and shake it. Other craft near-by were similarly treated and the ships looked like bits of cork bobbing about in a tempest. Almost immediately a tidal wave of huge proportions swept across the strait, mounting the coasts and carrying everything before it. Scores of ships were damaged and the Hungarian mail boat Andrassy parted her anchors and went crashing into other vessels. Messina bay was wiped out and the sea was soon covered with masses of wreckage, which was carried off in the arms of the receding waters."

Many prisoners from the jails made their escape and looted right and left.

American Consul and Wife Die.

Washington.—That Arthur S. Cheney, American consul at Messina, Sicily, and his wife lost their lives in the earthquake disaster which devastated that city Monday, is indicated by an official dispatch received last night by the state department from Stuart Lupton, American vice-consul at Messina.

The following dispatch came via Malta, Maltese Islands, in the Mediterranean, being received there by wireless from Messina by Consul William H. Gale, and transmitted by him to the state department:

"The Messina consulate destroyed and consul and wife supposed to be dead.—Lupton."

Arthur S. Cheney is a native of Illinois, but was appointed consul to Messina from Connecticut August 15, 1907. Stuart Lupton, who is from Tennessee, was only recently appointed vice and deputy consul at Messina.

LAME BACK PRESCRIPTION

The increased use of "Toris" for lame back and rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following formula is effective: "To one-half pint of good whiskey add one ounce of Toris Compound and one ounce Syrup Sarsaparilla Compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring."

Toris compound is a product of the laboratories of the Globe Pharmaceutical Co., Chicago, but it as well as the other ingredients can be had from any good druggist.

KNEW THE PIG'S WEAK POINT.

Youngster Was Confident of His Ability to "Stump" Him.

It is an interesting fact that the two studies of arithmetic and geography seem to be diametrically opposed to each other in the affections of school children. Pupils who are particularly proficient in one are apt to be backward in the other. A story is told of a little boy who was slow in arithmetic, and whose apparent stupidity in this field was a great source of grief to his father, who had been a mathematician.

One day, when the father and son were walking out, they passed a place where a "learned pig" was on exhibition, and the father took the boy to see this porcine prodigy.

"Just look at that," said the father. "Why, there's a pig that can count and add up numbers! Don't you wish you were as smart as he?"

"Ha!" answered the boy. "Just let me ask him a few questions in geography!"—Ideas.

HANDS RAW AND SCALY.

Itched and Burned Terribly—Could Not Move Thumbs Without Flesh Cracking—Sleep Impossible.

Cuticura Soon Cured His Eczema.

"An itching humor covered both my hands and got up over my wrists and even up to the elbows. The itching and burning were terrible. My hands got all scaly and when I scratched, the surface would be covered with blisters and then get raw. The eczema got so bad that I could not move my thumbs without deep cracks appearing. I went to my doctor, but his medicine could only stop the itching. At night I suffered so fearfully that I could not sleep. I could not bear to touch my hands with water. This went on for three months and I was fairly worn out. At last I got the Cuticura Remedies and in a month I was cured. Walter H. Cox, 16 Somerset St., Boston, Mass., Sept. 25, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Mean Insinuation.

He was a brand new milkman, and, lacking the wisdom of more experienced members of the species, knew not that on certain subjects he should at all times maintain a frigid silence. "It looks like rain this morning, mum," he said pleasantly, gazing skyward, as he poured the milk into his customer's jug. "It always does," was the curt reply. And the milkman was so dissatisfied with the remark that he strode away and savagely kicked a lamp post.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The Contrast.

The elderly bride regarded in the mirror her wreath of orange blossoms, her gown of ivory satin and of old valenciennes, her long rope of perfect pearls.

"There's only one trouble about fine clothes," she murmured. "They make one's face look so shabby."

Even and Odd.

"There! I've made my expense account come out just even with what I spent."

"Just even? That's odd."—Philadelphia Ledger.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE"

That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

You may be just as happy as you like to see anybody else.---Robert Burns.

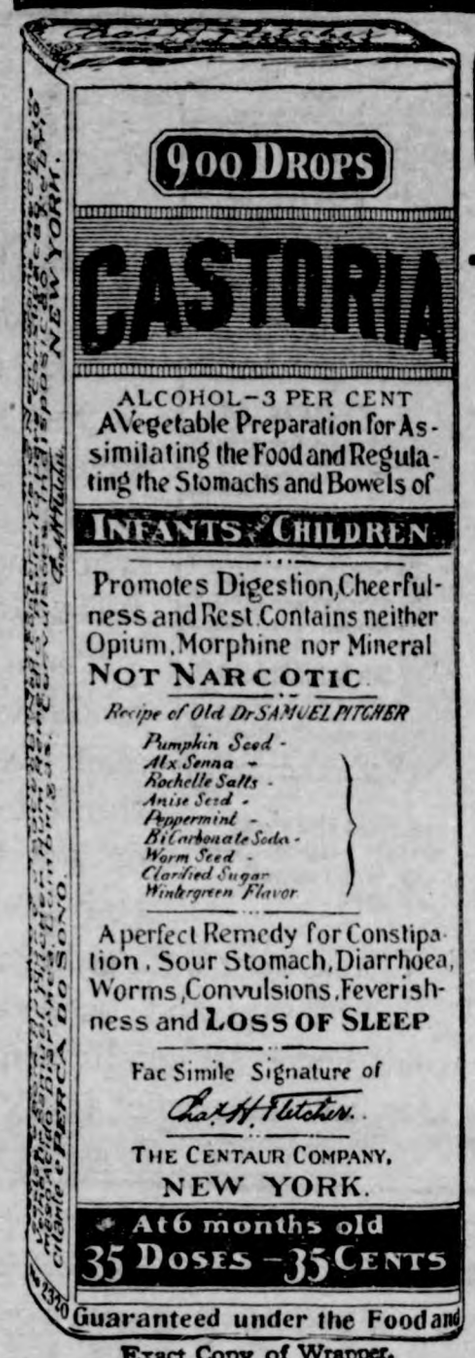
WE SELL GUNS AND TRAPS CHEAP & buy Furs & Hides. Write for catalog 105 N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

The girl who smacks of freshness gets a good many smacks.

Feet Ache—Use Allen's Foot-Ease

Over 30,000 testimonials. Refuse imitations. Send for free trial package. A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

To plead that anything is excusable is to admit that it is wrong.—Tissot.



CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Drake University

Des Moines, Iowa

A well equipped co-educational school, situated amid healthful surroundings, in the Capital City of Iowa. Over one hundred teachers in the faculty. Excellent courses in all departments. 1,846 students in attendance last year.

Colleges and Schools—Liberal Arts, Bible, Law, Medical, Dental, Education, Music, High School. Winter Term Opens January 4th, 1908.

Send for announcement of department in which you are interested. Address

DRAKE UNIVERSITY, :: :: :: DES MOINES, IOWA

THE GOLD ALASKA SENDS SEATTLE

For the eleven months ending December 1, 1908, the aggregate of Alaska's gold shipments to Seattle was $18,223,756. This is an increase of nearly $2,000,000 over last year's shipments, and it is estimated that the total for 1908 will reach $19,000,000!

Seattle has first use of all this gold.

Seattle acquires permanent ownership of much of this gold.

But Seattle herself has even a richer "gold mine" than all of Alaska's—an inexhaustible, ever-increasing "gold mine" in the ever-increasing values of her Central Business Property. Into this subject you will wish to look on your visit to the ALASKA-YUKON-PACIFIC EXPOSITION, 1909. Let me advise you as fully as possible beforehand.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY of Seattle, Wash.

A PUZZLE FOR PA.

Tommy—Papa, what did the dead sea die of?

Quick as Wink.

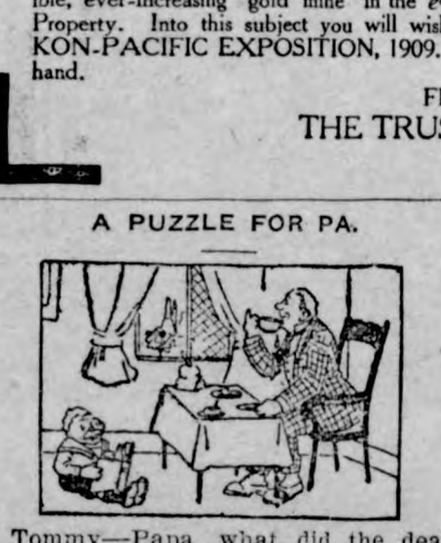
If your eyes ache with a smarting, burning sensation use PETTIT'S EYE SALVE. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

As a result of marirage a woman always loses her maiden name, but a man frequently loses his identity, too.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.

PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Many a man with wheels thinks he is the whole political machine.



OKLAHOMA AND IOWA

Oklahoma farms, some clear of encumbrance, near Oklahoma City, with cash to trade for Iowa farms. Iowa farms for land farther south. Write me. DANIEL STOOKEY, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

Kemp's Balsam

Will stop any cough that can be stopped by any medicine and cure coughs that cannot be cured by any other medicine.

It is always the best cough cure. You cannot afford to take chances on any other kind.

KEMP'S BALSAM cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, grip, asthma and consumption in first stages.

It does not contain alcohol, opium, morphine, or any other narcotic, poisonous or harmful drug.

The Reason I Make and Sell More Men's $3.00 & $3.50 Shoes Than Any Other Manufacturer is because I give the wearer the benefit of the most complete organization of trained experts and skilled shoemakers in the country.

The selection of the leathers for each part of the shoe, and every detail of the making in every department, is looked after by the best shoemakers in the shoe industry.

If I could show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make.

My Method of Tanning the Soles makes them More Flexible and Longer Wearing than any others.

Shoes for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses and Children.

For sale by shoe dealers everywhere.

CAUTION! None genuine without W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom.

Fast Color Eyelets Used Exclusively. Catalog mailed free.

W. L. DOUGLAS, 167 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS
WITH Dr. King's New Discovery
FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

433 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
437 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.
McCall's Magazine "The Queen of Fashion" has one hundred pages of the latest Parisian, London and New York styles. One pattern free in every subscriber's first McCall Pattern. Latest number 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern. Send for one today.
Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue, of 600 designs and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York.

THERE ARE OTHERS.

"I am proud to say that my grandfather made his mark in the world."

"Well, I suppose he wasn't the only man in those days who couldn't write his name!"

THE CHILDREN LIKE IT
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

BARNYARD SOCIAL AFFAIRS.

Mrs. Plymouth Rock—Glad to have you for a neighbor, Mrs. Buff; but your first step will be to get social recognition.

Mrs. Buff Cochin—That's all fixed, as I have letters to the Duck family, and I am reliably informed they are strictly in the swim.

Cheerful.

A nervous young minister, in visiting a remote village, had an unpleasant experience. The old lady at whose house he stayed, in showing him his room, said:

"It ain't anybody I'd put in this room. This here room is full of sacred associations to me," she went on. "My first husband died in that bed with his head on these pillows, and poor Mr. Jenks died sitting in that corner. Sometimes when I come into the room in the dark I think I see him sitting there still. My own father died layin' right on the lounge right under the window there. Poor pa, he was a spiritualist, and he allus said he'd appear in this room after he died, and sometimes I am foolish enough to look for him. If you should see anything of him to-night, you'd better not tell me. It'd be a sign to me that there was something in spiritualism, and I'd hate to think that. My son by my first husband fell dead of heart disease right where you stand. He was a doctor, and there's two whole skeletons in that closet there belonged to him, and half a dozen skulls in that lower drawer. If you are up early and want something to amuse yourself with before breakfast just open that cupboard there, and you will find a lot of dead men's bones. My poor boy thought a lot of them. Well, good night, and pleasant dreams."

MOST LIKELY.

"Who was the fellow who went around with a lantern looking for an honest man?"

"I don't know; but if he were to try it to-day somebody would steal his lantern!"

True Genius.

"Your daughter has genius, Mr. Straighout."

"Nonsense! She can't sing, nor she can't play!"

"No. But she knows it."

The Worst.

Young Wife (whose elderly husband is desperately ill)—Doctor, do not keep me in suspense! Tell me the worst!

Doctor—Then, madam, listen! He will get well!

How He Hunted Bear.

A New York Irishman was visiting a friend in the Adirondacks and was taken with a desire to go hunting. Borrowing a gun from his friend he set off alone in search of game. Some time after his host heard a distant report of a gun. A few minutes later he heard some one shouting. From a window he spied, in the distance, his friend, hot-footing it for home, and behind him a bear, gaining at every step. Nearly spent, the pursued reached the door just in time to cry out:

"Quick, Mike! Quick! Open the door! I'm bringing him home aloive!"

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.
Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of men the results of youthful indiscretions or excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces—loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and matured young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR
THE TIMES
$1.00 A YEAR.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 24 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, JAN. 14, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

PUT YOUR MONEY IN A SAFE PLACE !
OUR BANK IS A SAFE PLACE

ASK THOSE who have banked with us for years whether or not they like our business methods. You wish to cross the ocean in a ship that has ridden through many storms? Rather than keep your money yourself, don't you want to put your money in a bank that knows nothing but success?

Capital and Surplus $25,500.00

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

H. C. LAU

—DEALER IN—

Grain, Coal and Livestock.

Always a square deal.

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

ONE OF HANCOCK COUNTY'S POPULAR MEN.

At the Columbia, Mo. Convention of National Stock Breeders and Biological Survey.

At the request of Secretary Wilson Mr. J. W. Griggs of Goodell, Iowa, left for Columbia, Mo. last Tuesday on the 5th to deliver an essay upon the breeding and hybridizing of deer.

Mr. Griggs has for the past fifteen years been interested in the raising of deer and is practically the best posted man in the state on this subject. He has an excellent farm northeast of Goodell and southeast of Klemme part of which has been fenced off exclusively for the hardling of deer and now has an excellent herd of about 75 head.

The farm is a very picturesque and unique sight for travelers and many visitors stop to view the surroundings. It is a rare treat to see the deer ramble and is well worth any ones time and trouble to come from a distance to view.

Mr. Griggs ever since boyhood has been interested in wild animals and has acquired a rare knowledge of their traits and habits.

Mr. Griggs is a very pleasing and courteous gentleman to meet and an intereresting talker, he is a great sportsman and enjoys his outings. he is the one that introduced the "Carp Brand" of fish into our northern streams and has benefited the public considerable along this line, he has also through his untiring efforts saved East Twin Lake from corporate greed and has fought the drainage petition to a standstill and saved the beautiful little lake for the public.

We believe that Mr. Griggs has planted his name where future posterity will look with pride upon his career as one of the foremost men of our country.

Mr. Griggs is a very pleasing and courteous gentleman to meet and an interesting talker.

AUCTION SALE.

The undersigned will sell at public auction at the Bachman farm 6½ miles southeast of Klemme and 6½ miles northeast of Goodell to the highest responsible bidder the following property on

—Thursday, Jan. 21, 1909—
Sale begins at 1 p. m.

13—Head of Live Stock—13
Consisting of 5 horses and 8 cattle. Farm machinery and Plymouth Rock chickens.

John Bachman, Owner.
Col J. J. Wilson, Auct.
F. A. Arnold, Clerk.

BRAVE FIRE LADDIES.

often receive severe burns putting out fires then use Bucklen's arnica slave and forget them. It soon drives out pain. For burns, scalds, wounds, cuts and bruises it earth's greatest healer. Quickly cures skin eruptions old sores, boils, ulcers, felons; best pile cure made. Relief is instant, 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

HOW long have they been in business? An answer to this question is necessary to fix the standing of any business house. Before any concern can claim rank in the business world, its stability must be proven by the test of time. And the longer it has been in business with an honorable record, the higher it is rated by public opinion.

It takes time to show whether a bank is conducted on a policy of sefety and conservatism.

This bank has a history of over fifteen years of successful business and satisfactory service to Klemme people.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

A. F. HUBBARD

AUCTIONEER.

I would be pleased to cry your sales this season at reasonable terms. Livestock a specialty. Make dates with either banks at Klemme. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Address—Ventura, Iowa,
R. F. D. No. 2.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Prescriptions carefully compounded

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.

We carry a full line of
Patent Medicines
Jewelery
Stationery
Glass and China ware
Musical Instruments
Including the Edison Phonographs.
Always a large repertoire of records to select from.
Paints, Oils and Varnishes.
Brushes of all kinds

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

England's turbine fleet already includes 62 warships and 44 vessels of the merchant marine.

When the hens get good and ready they will show what they can do to the alleged corner in eggs.

China presents Mrs. Roosevelt with a tiger skin. Her husband will do the rest, as soon as he gets a year off.

Chicago has at last made a step toward driving its tramps out of town. Free lunch in the saloons has been abolished.

At Sholapur, British India, a factory is successfully making matches with sticks of a peculiarly stiff form of native grass.

Chauncey Depew showed up at the opening of congress with a new story and seems to think that that is all that was required.

In Munich a woman fainted under the weight of her hat. Women shouldn't wear the heavier-than-air style of merry lids.

"Some of the suffragettes," says London Punch, with more or less sarcasm, "were disguised as ladies." Oh, brother! Punch with care!

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., has been made a major on the staff of the governor of Connecticut, but not for meritorious work as a carpetmaker.

After reading the enormous estimates of the value of American crops the farmers are sure to be more curious than ever about who gets the money.

Doubts as to whether interest in athletics may not interfere with scholarship will never go so far as to tempt Prof. Hadley of Yale to root for the opposition team.

More than 30,000 workers were killed in American industries last year. Civilization may come high, but the price should be much less when reckoned in human blood.

A New York automobile speeder who flashed a $1,000 bill in a Harlem police court and got the justice all worked up was in luck that the episode did not occur in some western court or the judge might have had sufficient presence of mind to make the fine $1,000.

One of the judges of Chicago's municipal court confessed recently that it was not until he was elected to the bench that he found time to read Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." And yet it would seem that with so much crime in Chicago there would hardly be much opportunity for judicial leisure.

A woman swooned on the street in Munich, Germany, and the doctor said it was because of the weight of her Merry Widow hat. Probably her husband swooned not because of the weight of the hat but the size of the bill. Yet there are women who in the close atmosphere of a theater will keep these hats on.

The total amount of pensions paid by the United States between 1866 and 1908, inclusive, was $3,654,663,364.42, and the cost, maintenance and expenses of the organization for the payment of these pensions during the same period were $122,574,462.96, a total of $3,777,237,828.38, exceeding the amount of money in circulation in this country in 1907 by more than $1,120,000,000.

Experiments recently made by the war department in Washington may result in providing soldiers in the Philippines and other tropical countries with orange-colored underwear and hat-linings. The tests demonstrated the fact that black goods, and red, absorb the sun's rays, white, blue and green disintegrate them, and orange, although it contains some red, almost entirely prevents the passage of heat rays.

New testimony to the truth of the proverb that honesty is the best policy is furnished by the offer of a noted counterfeiter to surrender his outfit and give up his criminal calling. Incidentally the proposition attests the vigilance of the United States secret service, for the counterfeiter says he is hunted down so energetically that his business does not pay. Doubtless many another "crook" can bear the same witness.

Because Mr. Cleveland's two terms as president were not continuous, there has been some confusion in the numbering of the presidents. Properly he was the twenty-second president, Mr. Harrison was the twenty-third and Mr. McKinley the twenty-fourth. On the memorials at Columbus and Buffalo he is called the twenty-fifth. Yet surely McKinley was the twenty-fourth man to be president, and Mr. Taft will be the twenty-sixth.

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth.

MIX-UP IN THE ELECTION.

Interest Over Affair Is Widespread Throughout Mills County.

Glenwood.—There is widespread interest in Mills county over the opinion of County Attorney Starbuck to the board of supervisors which declares that there was no election of members of the board at the general election in November. This opinion was given to the board at the first meeting in January, when the board members asked the county attorney what course to pursue owing to a decision of the supreme court Nov. 23. The supreme court held in that case that the board of supervisors had the lawful power to change from the district plan to the county plan of electing supervisors after candidates for the board of supervisors had been nominated at the June primary by districts, and that such change had the effect to make such primary election inoperative. Mr. Starbuck holds that this principle having been decided by the supreme court, that the converse is true. Following the June primary the Mills county board of supervisors changed the plan of selecting supervisors from the all county plan to the district plan of election. Judge Wheeler, at the September term of court, rendered a decision that the board was wrong in changing at that time. Since the supreme court holds that the board was doing that which it had a right to do, Mr. Starbuck claims there was consequently no election of supervisors in Mills county and that the old members will consequently hold over until another election.

CURE FOR SWINE CHOLERA.

Veterinary at Elkader Meets With Great Success.

Elkader.—Dr. Clyde Beamer, local veterinary surgeon, used the Bruschettini vaccine on swine exposed to cholera with great success. In herds of swine affected he selected certain swine which he inoculated with the vaccine and they were immune to the disease while those not inoculated died. He has met with great success in the use of the vaccine and questions the statement issued by Secretary Wilson, holding that the vaccine was not properly inoculated. Many herds of swine in Cox Creek township are infected with cholera.

37,500 in Council Bluffs.

Council Bluffs.—According to the estimate of the new Council Bluffs city directory, the population of the city is 37,500. The directory contains 15,080 names, which number multiplied by 2½ to represent the names of children and married women, not included in the directory, gives the estimated population. The publishers of the directory say that the city shows a steady condition of growth, prosperity and happiness.

Frats Ousted.

Council Bluffs.—Driven to action by the death of a high school student recently as a result of an initiation into a Greek letter society, the board of education has ousted all secret societies from the schols. Such societies as are organized are ordered to disband and all students in the Council Blucs schools are ordered to discontinue membership and sever their connection with such societies before February 1.

Oelwein Is Progressive.

Oelwein.—The new syndicate block and the Iowa Savings bank at this place, erected during the year 1908, totalled a cost of $30,000. Ten new residences cost $15,000. Miscellaneous improvements cost $15,000 and new sidewalks cost $15,000. Thus over $60,000 has been expended here dur the last twelve months on improvements.

Building Boom at Shenandoah.

Shenandoah.—One of Shenandoah's finest residences has just been started by Mr. John W. Schwartz, a big public contractor here. This is the harbinger for a great many fine modern improvements, including the new Elks' club house, to cost $18,000, a new Methodist church to cost $40,000 and a new Catholic church to cost $18,000.

Stole His Sister's Ring.

Marshalltown.—Because he stole his sister's wedding ring and pawned it for whisky, George W. Hughes was sent to jail in justice court here. Mrs. Nina Meeker, Hughes' sister caused the arrest, and placed a value of $10 on the ring.

FEELY IS CHOSEN.

Waterloo Man Is Choice of Republicans for Speaker.

Des Moines.—Representative Guy A. Feely of Waterloo was chosen as the republican choice for speaker of the house of representatives during the Thirty-third general assembly on the fifth formal ballot at the republican caucus held in the main dining room of the Savery. Freely's final vote was forty, with thirty-seven votes necessary to a choice. Stillman of Greene finished second in the race with seventeen. Lee of Emmet was third with ten. The strength of Harding of Woodbury dwindled to three. Hackler of Webster received two and White of Story one. The total number of votes cast at each ballot was seventy-three, except on the informal ballot and the third formal ballot, when the total was seventy-two. Freely's nomination came as the climax of the most sensational pre-legislative fight in the history of Iowa. Not one of the nine candidates who had announced themselves had withdrawn from the contest when Representative John Sullivan of Polk county called the caucus to order. The nomination of the caucus makes it certain that Feely will be elected speaker of the house when the legislature meets to organize.

SKIN GRAFTING SUCCESSFUL.

Operation on Nun at Dubuque Is Favorable.

Dubuque.—Within the next few days there will be removed from Mercy hospital to the mother house at Mount Carmel one of the most notable cases which the institution has contained for some years. The patient is Sister Mary Carmelita and ever since she was accidentally burned at Mount St. Joseph's fifteen months ago, she has been confined to her bed in the hospital, whither she was removed immediately after the plainful injury. During the fifteen months a dozen or more nuns who were associated with Sister Mary Carmelita have submitted themselves for the process of skin grafting in order that the life of their friend and coworker might be saved. The last of the heroic sisters to give her skin yielded herself to the ordeal within the past few days and now there is every prospect that the patient will recover.

SUNDAY RECEIVED $6,637.

Ottumwa's Free Will Offering Brought Large Sum.

Ottumwa.—According to the report of Chris. Haw, chairman of the finance committee of the recent revival, Evangelist Billy Sunday only received $6,673 in his free will offering and of this amount the evangelist gave the ministerial association $500, and contributed $100 to the Children's Home Finding association. The home finding association also received $138.85 at a special collection taken up. Several other special collections were taken up during the latter part of the meeting for various members of the Sunday party ,and these collections totaled $504.58.

Wed Out of Doors.

Waterloo.—With the mercury 14 degrees below zero, Lura Ashworth and George Hunt, both of Denver, Ia., drove several miles in the country, where they were married in the moonlight by Reverend Schonebaum. The original intention was to be wed at the bride's home in Denver county, but the license was secured in Black Hawk and it was necessary to cross the border line to give legal weight to the ceremony. The groom is restauranteur at Denver.

Ottumwa Politics Boil.

Ottumwa.—As a preliminary to the coming city campaign, the Law and Order league is out for a citizens ticket for the coming spring election, and city politics will begin warming up soon as a result. The proposition of a citizen's ticket does not look good to old time republicans for Ottumwa's experience with the citizen's tickets has always been the defeat of the republican nominee for mayor and the election of a democrat.

Fee System is Eliminated.

Council Bluffs.—The evils of the fee system in the management of county affairs are to be eradicated in Pottawattamie county from this time on. The county board of supervisors at its last session adopted a system of salary compensation for all officers and their deputies.

THE ICY MIT.

NIGHT RIDERS ARE CONVICTED

SIX GUILTY OF MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

Two Escape with Twenty Years for Second Degree Murder—Death Probable for Others.

Union City, Tenn.—With a verdict of guilty in varying degree, the jury in the night rider trials reported at 8:45 p. m. Thursday night. The 12 men found Garrett Johnson, Tid Burton, Boy Ransom, Fred Pinion, Arthur Cloar and Sam Applewhite guilty of murder in the first degree with mitigating circumstances, and Bud Morris and Bob Huffman, the other defendants, guilty of murder in the second degree, and fixed their punishment at 20 years in the penitentiary.

The punishment of the six first named defendants was left to the court, and may be death or life imprisonment.

The court probably will sentence the six first named defendants to death.

The defendants took the verdict with calmness, as they had been expecting it since the closing of the arguments. Attorney Pierce turned to them when it was announced, and said: "We will tear this case to pieces in the supreme court."

The state expected a verdict of first degree murder in all eight cases, and was visibly disappointed. Bob Huffman, one of the men to escape with 20 years, is the man who, according to the confession of Frank Fehringer, fired the shot which killed Capt. Ranken as he was being drawn up by the rope.

When the jury's readiness to report was announced the military quietly surrounded the courthouse and a detail of soldiers, with revolver holsters open, was deployed around the walls of the courtroom, but there was no demonstration. The prisoners were quickly handcuffed and under military escort taken to prison. The verdict is considered a compromise one, and no trouble is feared by the authorities.

TOOK MONEY TO BUILD HOME.

Embezzling Granite City Banker Sentenced to Five Years.

Springfield, Ill—Pleading guilty to the charge of embezzlement and giving as an excuse that he took the money to build a home for himself and his bride, Wesley A. Martin, formerly a Granite City banker, Friday was sentenced to five years in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., by Judge J. Otis Humphrey in the United States district court. Martin, prior to his arrest, was a social leader of Granite City. He took $20,000 of the bank's money. The shortage was made good. His wife has stood by him, and she was at his side when he was sentenced.

Accused of Stealing Bank Funds.

Philadelphia. — Dewitt C. Hillegas, a well-known insurance broker of this city, was arrested yesterday by the United States authorities, charged upon the affidavit of Bank Examiner Folds, who accuses him with misappropriating funds of the Boyertown National bank in connivance with Morris L. Hartman, the cashier, and being responsible for the failure of the institution in June, 1907.

Big Mail Robbery in Paris.

Paris. — A mail sack containing bonds, etc., worth $200,000 was stolen from a delivery wagon in the Chaussee d'Antin in broad daylight yesterday. The police have not the slightest clew to the thieves.

MINISTER NOT THE VICTIM.

Carpenter Was Murdered and Cremated—Pastor Is Sought.

Port Huron, Mich.—By means two false teeth it was definitely established Friday afternoon that Gideon Browning of Adair village was the man who was butchered last Tuesday evening in the little "Rattle Run" Methodist church in Columbus township.

With part of the mystery which has enshrouded the brutal crime thus cleared, the supervisors of St. Clair county immediately offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of Rev. John L. Carmichael of Adair, pastor of the little church, who was at first supposed to have been killed, dismembered and then burned in the church stove.

Strenuous efforts to discover some motive for the destruction of the carpenter by the minister have been fruitless. Rumors that Carmichael had been seen crossing the St. Clair river into Canada could not be corroborated. An officer sent to St. Thomas, Ont., reported no trace of him there.

Mrs. Carmichael and Miss Carmichael, wife and daughter of the minister, were examined by the prosecuting attorney here and he stated afterward that he was convinced they knew nothing of the murder nor the man's disappearance.

"FATHER" HORTON IS DEAD.

Founder of City of San Diego, Cal., Passes Away.

San Diego, Cal.—Alonzon Erastus Horton, founder of the present San Diego and its oldest inhabitant, died Thursday, aged 85 years, as a result of infirmities incident to old age. In 1867 "Father" Horton, as he was universally known, surveyed, and purchased at auction for 26 cents an acre the 880 acres of land around the bay upon which San Diego now stands. Every flag in this city is at half-mast. Beside being the oldest local inhabitant, Horton was the second oldest Elk in America.

ROBBERY CALLED A FAKE.

Deputy Postmaster at Sault Ste. Marie Arrested as Embezzler.

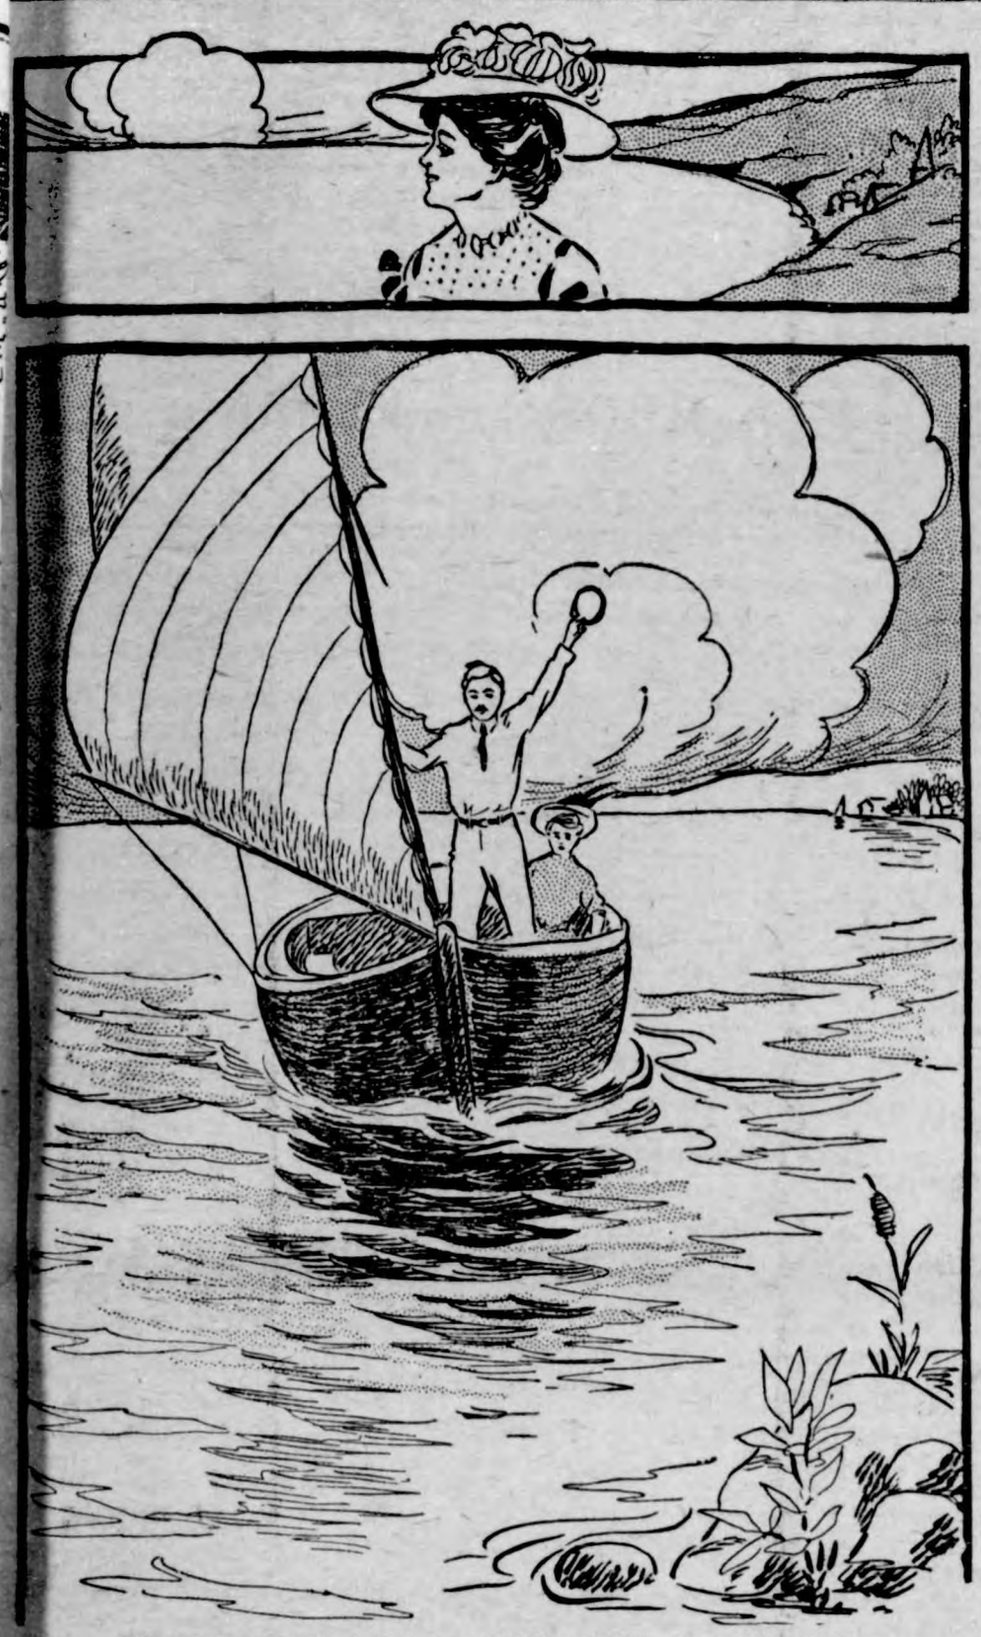
Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Deputy Postmaster Frank L. Higgins was arrested Friday on a charge of embezzlement. The arrest is the outgrowth of an alleged robbery of which Higgins reported himself the victim December 14. It was stated at that time that three foreigners assaulted the deputy postmaster with a sand bag while he was alone in the post office making out his payroll the previous evening, and that his assailants escaped with $2,500 of post office funds.

Forest Reserves Upheld.

Denver, Col.—The United States government Tuesday won its case in defense of the constitutionality of forest reserves, when Judge Lewis in the United States district court handed down a decision in favor of the complainant in the case of the United States against Fred Light et al. The case involved the right of the department of forestry to charge grazing fees and was regarded as of the utmost importance in the west.

Deputy Kills Texas Ranger.

Amarillo, Tex.—Texas Ranger "Doc" Thomas was shot through the head and killed Tuesday morning by Deputy Sheriff Keaton in the county courthouse. It is said that bad blood had existed between the two men since the smuggling from the county jail here several days ago of Arthur Binister, wanted at Hot Springs, Ark., in connection with a murder case.



The Singer Stood Erect and Waved His Hat Cheerfully.

The SMUGGLER

BY ELLA MIDDLETON TYBOUT

COPYRIGHT 1907 BY J.B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

ILLUSTRATED BY RAY WALTERS

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. Elise shared her stateroom with a Mrs. Graham, also bound for Canada. The young women on a sightseeing tour met Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented by the trio for the summer. Elizabeth learned that a friend of her father's was to call. Two men called, one of them being the queer-acting stranger on the steamer. The girls were "not at home," but discovered by the cards left that one of the men was Elizabeth's father's friend. The men proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett. The party was told of the search for smugglers in the vicinity of the cottage. Elise visited Mrs. Graham to find that her life was not the happiest. She learned that the Grahams and Lady Edith were acquainted. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. During a storm the young women heard a crash in the basement of the cottage and a moment later Mary Anne, their woman servant, entered, her arm bleeding. To assure them there was no danger, Mary Anne descended to the basement alone and quieted their fears. Lady Edith told the girls of a robbery of jewels at the hotel. Fearing for the safety of her own gems, she left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his queer actions, returned the lost bag and told of mysterious doings of a year before connected with the cottage. Exploring the cellar, one of the girls found a sphinx cuff-button, the exact counterpart of which both Gordon Bennett and Lady Edith were found to possess, also. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. The young women agreed to keep the secret. Lady Edith told a story of a lost love in connection with the sphinx key.

CHAPTER VIII.—Continued.

I could not think of anything to say, for at critical moments my vocabulary always proves inadequate, so I merely took her hand and stroked it gently.

"I don't know why I have told you this," she said, "but you have all been so good to us that we are no longer strangers, nor even mere acquaintances; and my heart is still so heavy sometimes. We all have graves in our hearts, we women. Yours has not come yet, and I hope it may be long deferred; mine is still green enough to be painful when I visit it. Forgive me, dear; you look quite sad, and, indeed, I am not worthy of so much sympathy."

"You are very brave," I said, admiringly.

"I do not show the white feather to the world, that is all. But tell me about Mr. Blake, whom I met here the other day. Who and what is he?"

I could tell her very little, for Mr. Bennett had proved uncommunicative about his friend, and beyond the fact that he would be here for an indefinite period I knew nothing.

"But do tell me," I remarked, as she rose to go, "has Mrs. Bundy heard anything about her jewels?"

"Not yet. Poor old soul, she is quite heart-broken. It is generally believed a detective is in the hotel, posing as a guest, but he does not seem to be making any progress. I feel perfectly comfortable about my few possessions, however, thanks to your goodness."

She went away then, and I sat alone in the hammock, thinking of the two secrets I had learned that afternoon, and watching the glow of the setting sun, which turned some sails pink and others pearly white, as the boatloads of merrymakers sailed home.

After a while Gabrielle and Elizabeth appeared, rather the worse for wear, and inclined to be indignant. They had not enjoyed themselves; the shops were no good whatever, Lady Edith had been unable to go, and there had been some misunderstanding, for Lord Wilfrid had not met them at the time appointed.

Altogether, the day had been a failure, and it was not until a good dinner had calmed their aggrieved spirits that I began to relate my own experiences, giving the history of Mary Anne with as much pathos as I could manage.

"Of course," remarked Elizabeth, "we ought to discharge her. It is not pleasant to think of a murderer being concealed in the house."

"Good gracious!" exclaimed Gabrielle, in an alarmed voice. "What are you thinking of? Think of her waffles."

"Oh, I was not going to do it; I only said that we ought to. She is too valuable to lose, especially if he really is going away."

So we told Mary Anne that it was all right, and we would allow her son to escape as he had planned. She was pathetically grateful, and promised never to allow him on the premises again, so we felt quite comfortable about him; and, after all, why should we interfere with a fellow-creature in his effort to preserve life, since the life he took could not be restored by his capture?

But my last thought that night was of Lady Edith and the look in her brown eyes as she held the little key.

CHAPTER IX.

"My love is like a red, red rose
That's newly blown in June;
My love is like a melody
That's sweetly played in tune."

It was a baritone voice, so clear, so strong, and yet so sweet that involuntarily we stopped talking and listened until the end of the verse.

"Where is it?" I questioned.

"I think," said Gordon Bennett, "it must come from a boat; it will round the point presently."

We were walking along the beach, and had wandered farther than we intended, almost to the point of the island, in fact, and, quite tired out, I had seated myself upon a rock to rest a while before going back.

"I wish he would sing again," I remarked; "don't you?"

"Well, no," returned my companion; "to be frank, I would rather have your undivided attention."

"Why, please?"

"I suppose it is because I was born with a selfish disposition."

"Listen!" I exclaimed, as the song began again, closer this time, with every word distinct and clear.

"So fair is she, my dearest dear,
So much in love am I,
That I would love her all my life
Till all the seas run dry;
Till all the seas run dry, my dear,
And rocks melt wi' the sun—"

The boat was quite near now, and the song ceased abruptly as the singer stood erect and waved his hat cheerfully; a white parasol in the stern also beckoned invitingly.

"Why," I said, "they are waving at us."

"It is Graham," said Gordon Bennett, briefly, "and your friend Lady Edith."

"So it is." I was genuinely pleased, for I could see they wanted us to join them, and I was more than willing to avoid the walk home.

"Get aboard," called Mr. Graham, as the bow grated against a rock. "You can do it, if you don't mind stepping from one rock to the other."

"We can do it easily," I replied, "if Mr. Bennett will give me his hand to steady me."

"Would you not rather walk home?" Mr. Bennett's voice was certainly not encouraging, but I ignored it, for I wanted the sail.

"Come, Mr. Bennett," called Lady Edith; "we have plenty of room. I have been spending the morning with Mrs. Graham, and we went out for a sail just after lunch, but she could not be persuaded to join us."

"Oh!" I said, as I took Mr. Graham's outstretched hand and stepped into the boat, which wobbled unpleasantly. "It is awfully nice—after you get in."

"It is a bully day for a sail," he returned, his face glowing with the pleasure it had given him. "I only wish you would talk a bit to Mrs. Graham and get her to come out just once. She has no idea how fine it is.

"My wife," he explained to Mr. Bennett, who had followed me into the boat, "has an unaccountable aversion to the water; and she will not trust herself on it, even with me."

"Indeed!" remarked Mr. Bennett, dryly. "She must condemn herself to a good many hours alone, for I notice you are out constantly."

"Oh, yes; we agreed that I was to go whenever I chose. She does not wish to keep me at home, and we quite understand each other on the subject."

"You were singing," I said, as the sail filled and the boat cut through the water; "won't you please go on. I had no idea you had such a lovely voice."

"Yes," said Lady Edith; "do sing again, Mr. Graham. It was quite lovely, and you must not be selfish with such a talent."

So Mr. Graham sang again, and we listened entranced, for his voice was very melodious, and he sang as the birds do, with no apparent effort or consciousness of his charm. Lady Edith in the stern kept her face in the shadow of her parasol and said but little, yet I saw her eyes grow misty, and remembered our conversation about the little gold key. Was she thinking of the man she loved? I wondered dreamily.

"I'll land you at your own dock," he remarked, as he steered for the shore. "And I'm sure I am very grateful for the nice things you say about the songs. I sing because I like to sing—just as I yield to every impulse whenever I can get any pleasure out of it. It seems the simplest thing to do."

It was rather a dangerous theory, I thought, although as I looked at Mr. Graham's ruddy face and heard his careless laugh I quite understood that he would generally live up to what he said. And I had a quick recollection, too, of the package Elizabeth had opened; was that caused by a sudden impulse, I wondered, and had he extracted his full measure of satisfaction out of it?

Lord Wilfrid was waiting on the dock when we landed, his cap pulled down over his eyes and his manner the reverse of cordial.

"I have looked everywhere for you, Edith," he said. "You did not tell me you expected to go sailing. Did you make up your party this morning?"

He looked at Gordon Bennett as he spoke, and paused for a reply.

"It was quite unpremeditated," said that gentleman. "In fact, your sister and Mr. Graham were kind enough to pick us up a good bit down the beach and give us a lift home."

"Was any one else with you?"

"I took a short sail with Mr. Graham, Wilfrid," said Lady Edith. "I am sorry if you have needed me, but I thought you intended fishing this afternoon."

She looked steadily at him, and he lowered his eyes instinctively. But his face, as he watched Mr. Graham push off and sail away, was heavy and lowering, and his fingers twitched nervously.

"Listen," I said. "Mr. Graham is singing again."

He was standing by his sail now, the light of the sun full upon him, apparently unconscious of the picture he made.

"And I will love you still, my dear,
When all the seas run dry—"

The words of the old song died away, and I turned to my companions.

"Let us go home," I said; but Lady Edith and her brother had already gone.

CHAPTER X.

If there are any who, like Mrs. Graham, dislike salt air and object to the constant intrusion of the ocean, this narrative will not interest them.

Looking back upon it now, it seems to me that everything we did that summer, indeed, almost everything we thought and said, was in some way connected with the sea. And perhaps this is not so strange after all, since we looked out upon it from every window and its murmur was never absent from our ears.

It was Gabrielle who originated the plan of a supper on the rocks. Gabrielle was great in originating, but we used to tell her she liked to watch other people carry out her ideas. She sat in the hammock and urged her project, while her hair blew about her ears and her book slipped unnoticed from her lap.

"We will ask the Campbells to join us," she said, "and Mr. Bennett and Mr. Blake of course."

"And the Grahams," I added.

"If you like;" the tone was not enthusiastic. "I must say she gets on my nerves; she is so mysterious."

Gabriella dislikes secrets unless she happens to be a party to them. She now returned to the subject with renewed vigor.

"It is full moon, you know. Think of the water dashing over the rocks, and the fire we'll make out of driftwood."

"Spoons, forks and napkins for all those people," ruminated Elizabeth, "to say nothing of things to eat. It will be a lot of trouble."

"No trouble at all. Just get Mary Anne to put some things in baskets. In fact," Gabrielle paused a moment before breaking the news, "I have already asked Mr. Bennett; I met him in the village when I went for the mail, and it suddenly occurred to me it would be nice to do this to-night."

Of course after this startling disclosure it was impossible to demur further, and Elizabeth rose to the occasion.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

UNABLE TO SEE THE FUTURE.

Short-Sighted English Statesman Denounced Penny Postage.

"Of all the wild and visionary schemes of which I have ever heard or read it is the most extraordinary." That was the official comment made by Lord Lichfield, postmaster general of England, on Rowland Hill's proposal to establish a uniform postal rate of a penny throughout the United Kingdom. And that was at a time within the memory of some men still living, only 71 years ago. Despite Lord Lichfield's condemnation of it, the scheme was within three years an established fact. And men who in their childhood might have seen and read the first letters ever sent from one part of England to another for a penny may this year see and read letters sent around the globe and practically to every part of the English-speaking world for the same small fee. The achievement will be not only a most impressive rebuke of the short-sighted and timorous administrator of two generations ago, but also an equally impressive demonstration of the constantly accelerating progress of civilization.

Ready for the Dollar.

Marjorie, aged eight, had not been having very satisfactory reports from school. Her father said: "Marjorie, for the first hundred you get I'll give you a dollar." Time went on and the reward could not be claimed. One day the child was taken violently ill. Her mother sent for the doctor. When he had gone, Marjorie said: "Mamma, am I very ill?"

"No, dear; your temperature is a little over 100, but the doctor thinks you will be all right in a day or so."

Smiles broke through Marjorie's tears.

"Now, mamma, I can have my dollar. Papa said he would give it to me if I could get 100 in anything."—Delineator.

PATIENT SUFFERING.

Many Women Think They Are Doomed to Backache.

It is not right for women to be always ailing with backache, urinary ills, headache and other symptoms of kidney disease. There is a way to end these troubles quickly. Mrs. John H. Wrght, 606 East First St., Mitchell, S. D., says: "I suffered ten years with kidney complaint and a doctor told me I would never get more than temporary relief. A dragging pain and lameness in my back almost disabled me. Dizzy spells came and went and the kidney secretions were irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of these troubles and I feel better than for years past."

Sold by all dealers. 50c a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

THOUGHT CAME IN TIME.

Or Generous Friend of Hospital Might Have Been Offended.

Lakeside hospital is probably Samuel Mather's chiefest hobby.

If there is a deficit in the hospital finances at the end of the year Mr. Mather is usually only too happy to write out a check that will more than make it up.

This has gone on from year to year until whenever anything is broken or damaged about the place the nurses and other employes look upon the loss as just that much out of Mr. Mather's generous pocket. If a nurse drops a saucer she will smile and remark: "Poor Samuel!" Among many of the nurses the remark is almost a byword whenever anything goes wrong.

Not long ago, so runs the story, Mr. Mather was at the hospital visiting a member of his family who was ill. He was unfortunate enough to lean against a vase of flowers on a table. The vase fell to the floor and broke.

Two nurses were standing by. They exchanged glances and one of them mused absent-mindedly "Poor Sa—"

And then she happened to think.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

EASY FOR THE PAINTER.

Worthy Individual Had All the Details in His Mind.

A Chicago artist relates how a wealthy individual from Kansas City, with his wife and three sons and four daughters, once called upon him.

"Here we are!" exclaimed the head of the family. "Nearly a dozen of us, Mr. Painter. How much for a painting of the whole of us, discount for cash?"

"That will depend," answered the artist, hiding a smile with his hand, "upon the dimensions, style, etc."

"Oh, that's all fixed," responded the other breezily, with the air of a man who knows exactly what he wants. "We are to be dashed off in one piece as large as life, sitting on the lawn of my place just outside of little old K. C., singing 'Hail Columbia!'"—Harper's Weekly.

VAIN THREATS.

Jimmy Juggins—If you do not consent to my marriage with your daughter, I swear I'll kill myself.

Her Pa—Ha, that's good; you'll save me the trouble.

Near Goodness.

Mother—Have you been a good girl while I've been away?

Little Girl—Not quite.—Harper's Weekly.

ROSY AND PLUMP

Good Health from Right Food.

"It's not a new food to me," remarked a Va. man, in speaking of Grape-Nuts.

"About twelve months ago my wife was in very bad health, could not keep anything on her stomach. The Doctor recommended milk half water but it was not sufficiently nourishing.

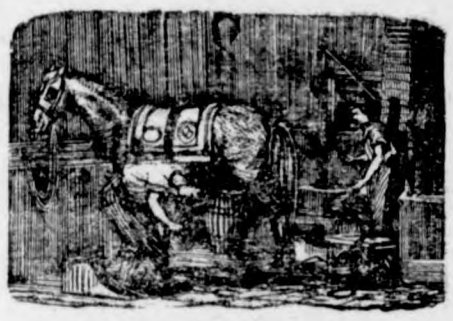
"A friend of mine told me one day to try Grape-Nuts and cream. The result was really marvelous. My wife soon regained her usual strength and to-day is as rosy and plump as when a girl of sixteen.

"These are plain facts and nothing I could say in praise of Grape-Nuts would exaggerate in the least the value of this great food."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Something doing in this space next week.



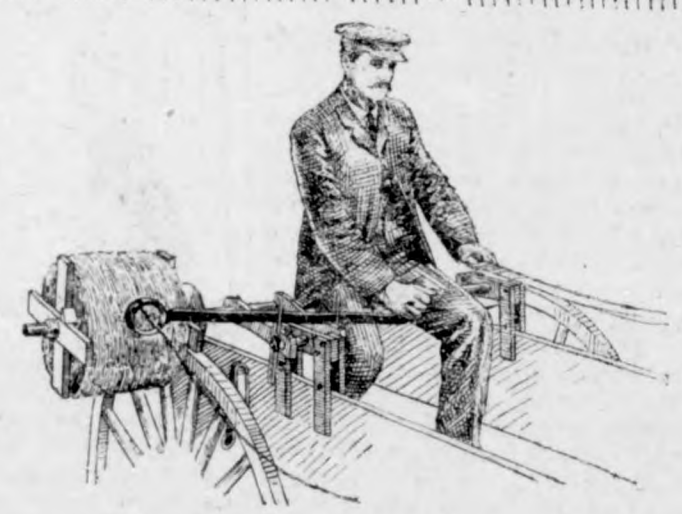
J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING
HORSE SHOEING A
SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL



Farm Machinery.

Yes Sir! We mean just what we say. "A penna saved means a penna earned" and you can do this by going to H. Lau & Son and buy you a first-class "A Grade Surrey" and top buggy and Dane mower and Dane hay loaders, buckers, stackers, 20 century Kemp manure spreaders. You can also buy cultivator plows, binders, mowers, hay rakes, Jones scales, harnesses, flynets, lap dusters, whips, oils of all kinds, tile spades, barb and smoot wires, fence stapels and other farm implements. Royal Tailors tight fit suits. They will keep style and collor, fit guaranteed.

H. Lau & Son.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.

HIS MOTIVE FOR GOING HOME.

Johnny Wanted a Personal Interview with Sammy Green.

Johnny astonished the family in the country one day by announcing that he wanted to go home.

"What's that?" demanded his father. "Want to go home?"

"Yep," maintained the boy.

"Well, that's very funny. It wasn't two days ago that you were begging us to stay up on this farm until October. Are you sick?"

"Nope."

"Got the blues?"

"Nope."

"Toothache?"

"Nope."

"Mad because your mother won't let you go swimming?"

"Nope."

"Ah! I think I understand," said his father with a chuckle. "I happen to hear you sassing that farmer's boy yesterday out back of the barn, and I also happened to see him flop you on your back. Did it hurt much?"

"N-nope."

"Well, cheer up my boy. We all have our ups and downs in this world. What good would it do you to go home?"

"If I were only home, pap," replied the boy with a longing sigh. "I could knock the stuffin' out of Sammy Green, and then I'd feel better."—Bohemian Magazine.

ONE ON THE JUNIOR PARTNER.

Office Boy's Joke That Was Appreciated by the Manager.

In a large Chicago office, where the value of system and order is appreciated, one of the rules which the manager insists must never be broken is: "Everything must be in its proper place." The clerk who has to look for an article which has a designated place receives a mark against his name, and a second offense is sure to bring him a reprimand. One day recently the boy whose duty it is to affix stamps on the outgoing mail found on his desk a hat, a pair of gloves and a broken box of cigarettes. The initials in the hat gave him a clew, and after making a red ink mark against Rule No. 6, he placed the articles and the office code on the desk of the junior partner and then told the other boys: "I'm fired!" When he received his pay envelope he found that his wages had been raised one dollar, and the manager says Rule No. 6 has never been respected as now.

Fraternal Tramps.

It is said that all tramps have a masonry of their own. I certainly believe it. They leave their signs on fence posts, stoops, sidewalks and trees. These signs are similar to those on Egyptian obelisks or Indian totem poles. Only the other day I threatened with death a veteran of the fraternity and told him to warn his craft not to annoy me, that I was a very dangerous man. The next day there were sundry chalk marks about the premises and have not seen a tramp since. And yet I have fed at least a thousand of these fellows and "watered" them, too. They are a good-natured lot. If I had more money than a mere stipend I'd hire the biggest ballroom in any New York hotel for Christmas and invite a thousand tramps to eat dinner with me and relate a few experiences.

Best Way to Be Useful.

To make oneself beloved, says an old French proverb, that is, after all, the best way to be useful. That is one of the deep sayings which children think flat, and which young men, and even young women, despise; and which a middle-aged man hears with a certain troubled surprise, and wonders if there is not something in it, after all; and which old people discover to be true, and think, with a sad regret of opportunities missed, and of years devoted, how unprofitably, to other kinds of usefulness! The truth is that most of us, who have any ambitions at all, do not start in life with the hope of being useful, but rather with an intention of being ornamental.—Arthur C. Benson, "Essay on Friendship."

Mohammedan Serenity.

A Mohammedan people enjoy one great advantage over all others—they never suffer from the anticipation of that which is to come, and, as a natural result, they can always enjoy the present, although only a few hours may separate them from disaster, or even from death. Their implicit belief in an ordained future imparts a dignified repose and outward calm to all their actions. Thus in spite of the trials and troubles which threatened the state during my stay at Fez, a smooth surface of unchangeable serenity veiled the inner thoughts of every individual, from the sultan to the negro at his gates.—Blackwood Magazine.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Io

German M. E. Church Items

Mother Kraus has been afflicted with a sore throat all last week.

Fred Sampson has gone to Beulah, Iowa to visit his sister Mrs. Klotzbach.

Mrs Ed. Schaefer suffered last week with an attack of quinsy. She is improving now.

Emma Sampson and Mrs. F. C. Griewe went to Mason City last Friday returning Saturday.

Revival meetings are still in progress in the Germantown church this week and the interest is steadily increasing.

Do you men know what the women think of the lodges? If you don't you ought to read their letters in the "Homestead" of last week, in reply to a "A bachelor."

Herbert Stille left for Kirksville, Mo. again last Thursday. The osteopath treatments are doing him good and we hope to see him permanently cured, when he returns.

W. J. Schmidt did not go to Dubuque last week as was reported to us. On account of the cold weather the trip was postponed and now the patient Fred Nuehring is improving.

Etna Suckow was seized with a severe attack of quinsy last Saturday. She was very sick on Sunday and as Dr. Zinn was taking his own medicine, they called Dr. Richter of Garner out.

Mr. Lenz's house is nearing its completion. The carpenters have nearly finished the interior work and Mr. Roswall of Algona is now graining the upper story and in another week will complete the first story which is all finished in oak.

The old saying is "No roses without thorns" And it seems one can not get up a lecture course without getting in a worthless number. The two first numbers of this years course were so exceptionly good that we all expected the third number of equal quality. But the large audience was doomed to disappointment. They evidently were amateurs on the platform and very green ones at that. The only part deserving any merit was the violinist and she was confined to one time of music. And to discount it all they ended with a sort of suffix "s) iel" which was the silliest thing we ever heard from a lecture platform Tho it may have been true to the experience of some young people, it was below all dignity and decency to present to a mixed audience as presented Saturday night. We rust the committee will reportt their disapproval to the bureau which we know the bureau will appreciate as they are anxious that every number be satisfactory.

Fred Fluhrer of Fl is spending a few days cousins—the Sampsons.

The oldest son of A. S of Oklahoma, is a gues J. Schwichtenberg home

The League will give gram Sunday evening they were to give last

Lizzie Riener is att the house duties at the home during the sickne Pulfrey.

Rev. F. H. Wellerey down from Charles City nesday to attend the sal farm today.

Henry Ludeke was on in Iowa City on afternoon. The doctors ed the operation a succ we wish him a speedy r

Mrs. W. C. A. Gast Monday from her visit former friends in Delev She was in a run-a-wa there but escaped wit bruises.

Sunday was a blustry the feeble bodied and footed were not out. Th huged around the stove said: "It was awfully but the mothers that ca miles to church with the did not seem to mind the er.

A HORRIBLE HOLD-

About ten years ago my was held up in his work by happiness by what was belie hopeless consumption writ Lipscomb of Washington, took all kinds of remedies a ment from several doctors no help till he used Dr. Ki Discovery and was wholly six bottles. He is a well m It's quick to relieve and t cure for weak or sore lung ages coughs and cold bron grippe asthma and all bron fections. 50c and $100. Tr free. Guaranteed by G. A. Co.

NOTICE.

In the District Court of H County, Iowa. Febr Term, 1909.

In the matter of the Application of George A. Pabst to buy, keep and sell intoxicating liquors for lawful purposes only.

To Whom it May Concern

Notice is hereby given that plication of George A. Pabs istered pharmacist No. 78 business under the firm George A. Pabst & Co., pray permit to buy, keep and sel cating liquors for lawful only in the first story and b of the frame building situate One (1) in Block Eleven (11 Original Town of Klemme, County, Iowa, will be on fi office of the Clerk of the Court of Hancock County, I or before the 4th day of Febr D., 1909, and that said applica come on for hearing at the term of said Court to be be held at the Court House in G said County, on the 15th day ruary, A. D., 1909.

Dated this 6th day of Jan D., 1909.

GEO. A. PA

24 3 A

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	45 to 50c
Oats	43 to 46c
Wheat	60 to 90c
Barley	50 to 55c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	4.50 to 5.50
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Do not forget to read State Savings ad.

Oysters direct from Baltimore at Kluckhohn's.

Jan. 22 Both programme and supper for 25c. The R. N. A.

R. N. A. programme and oyster supper at Opera House, Jan. 22.

J. W. Waterman and clerks are busy these days invoicing their store.

Louis Radloff of Farmersburg, Iowa. is visiting his cousins the Ihde brothers.

Frank Jurgens of near Britt, visited with the Henschen family the first of this week.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

The Arnold sale on Wednesday was largely attended and everything brought a good price Their stock was in first-class condition.

Arthur Schwartz. son of Andrew Schwartz of Jefferson, Oklahoma, is visiting with relatives here. He has a good position in a bank at Siox Falls, S. Dak

Saturday was a hummer of a business day in Klemme. Farmers were largely represented and hitching room was at a premium. Let us have more hitching room and be more accommodating to the farmers.

Val. Josten. Jr. of Twin Lake township is in the lead at present showing in weight the heaviest porkers so far this winter. He sold to H. Schroeder four that averaged 511 pounds. Who is next?

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets. Axminsters. Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

Mr. J. E. Carr of Popejoy, Iowa, was the auctioneer at the Cash Store on Jan. 7-8-9. He is a good one and can sell dry goods and notions as well as live stock. A large attendance was present during the sale days. The remainder of the stock will be moved away.

Dr. Zinn is on the sick list this week.

There's a dandy ad of the State Savings Bank.

Fresh oysters always on hand at Kluckhohn's. tf.

R. N. A. will give a programme and oyster supper at Opera House, Jan. 22nd.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

Ell Bros. have a new display ad. in this issue which we call your attention to read.

Read the market report. Bring your produce to Klemme and receive the highest market price.

Sam Kirkwood left Wednesday for Ringsted, Iowa for a few weeks visit with his brother Will.

Jcoob Weintz left for Iowa City Saturday evening where he will undergo an operation for appendicitis.

This office would be pleased to receive quite a few renewals on the Times the first of the year. We need the money.

F. A. Arnold and wife are the proud parents of a young son who came Tuesday to make his home with them for a while.

Miss Anna Cooler who has been visiting with the Busemann and Brand families (and a few others) returned to her home at Forest City Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. L. Newell and Mrs. Airsmith drove over from Kanawha Wednesday of this week Mr. and Mrs. Newell are running a sheep ranch near Greenville, Iowa and are getting along nicely We wish them prosperity.

A new hardware and grocery store which will be owned and managed by the Terhufen Bros. in the Shafer store room will be the new enterprise in Klemme. Both of the brothers are well and favorably known in this vicinty. We wish them prosperity in business.

The so-called "Bostonia" at the Opera House on Saturday evening Jan. 9th, our third lecture course number, did not come up to the numbers played previous. The only feature in the programme was the violinist but the rest of the performance possibly would pass for a 10c show.

C. W. Stiehl and wife returned last week Saturday from their visit at Hay Springs, Nebraska where they have been visiting his brother and family. His brother is one of the leading merchants of that town. Chas. says that he had to discard some of his winter clothing while there, that the weather was just fine.

Dist. No. 1 Twin Lake township school is noted for the progress made by the scholars attending it and on Friday evening gave the most successful and enjoyable program and basket sociable to a very large audience. Mr. Wm. Lau was nominated for auctioneer and filled the bill most effectively disposing of 26 baskets for $26.45. This with a balance of $10.75 gives a total of $37 20 at the disposal of the school. Dist. No. 1 is to be congratulated on the conduct of its big school for having J. D. G. Houghton as teacher. The parents of Dist. No. 1 thank Mr. Houghton very much for his hard work with their children to obtain a good education.

A new change completely for State Savings Bank.

Mrs. H. Freie and daughter Mrs. Jensen returned from Ft Dodge Wednesday.

Frank Terhufen who has been on the sick list the past few weeks is able to be about again.

W. R. Bloom shipped three car loads hogs Sunday morning and two car loads cattle Wednesday.

The passenger going north on Monday was several hours late on account of a wreck on the main line.

So far our January weather has been good and cold with occasional strong winds. The pocket book and coal bins have to suffer. We hope for a change before long.

J. G. Tanner, one of Twin Lake's prosperous farmers, sold W. R. Bloom 68 head of Duroc Jersey hogs that netted him the nice sum of $989. John knows how to raise porkers.

Mr. Alvin Haupt of Winterset, Iowa, is making his brother Fred Haupt and family a visit. He is a prosperous farmer near Winterset Land is valued there from $100 to $150 per acre.

NOTICE—I am prepared to teach tapestry painting, new Mexican pigment painting also pyrography or burnt wood at the house. Ladies please call.
24-2 Mrs. J. Josten.

There will be a program and basket social held at the Ell Center school house on Friday evening Jan. 22nd. Everybody is invited to attend. Ladies are requested to bring baskets.
Josie Carothers.
Luella Yohn.

Last Tuesday evening the M. W. A. members installed their officers for the ensuing year. Marion Elder was again re-elected as Head Consul and Lew Lewis, J. E Baumgaertner, P. M. Griesemer, Art Shoop and Ralph Elder were also all re-elected to their old stations as Clerk, Adviser, Excellent Banker, Escort and Sentry. Mr. Geo. Wessels was the only newly elected officer and takes his place as Watchman. Mr. Wm. Fuller again takes his place as Past Consul and administrated the oath to all officers. Will is a past master in administrating oaths and has this part of the business learned to perfection. Dr. Zinn also retains his position as physician of the camp. This certainly is an excellent group of officers and the M. W. A. can feel proud of their executive staff. We believe that every man ought to make it a point to join an order of this kind as the cost of insurance is nominal and that every one can afford to carry at least a $1000 policy without noticing the cost and it seems that a little income just at the time of need is the greatest God-send to any family.

PRESIDENT HELPS ORPHANS.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the President of the Industrial and Orphan's Home at Macon, Ga. who writes: We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for stomach liver and kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth. It invigorates the vital organs purifies the blood aids digestion creates appetite. To strengthen and build up thin pale weak children or run down people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

Mrs. Wm. Hockley, Washington, Penn.
C. C. Suckow Klemme
Wm. Stork, Oberlin, Ohio

DON'T GET A DIVORCE.

A western judge granted a divorce on account of ill-temper and bad breath. Dr King's New life pills would have prevented it. They cure consumption, causing bad breath and liver trouble the ill-temper, dispel colds, banish headaches, conquer the chills. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

ren
To

ced every toll-gate in the state be abolished and every road free. believes that the work of the good s commission will ultimately re- in wiping out the gates. "The toll- " says the governor, "is not of age and has no proper place in time. It is ridiculous to think of ging people money for coming to city."

sensible man is one who knows n to let go before taking hold.

SOLD
one 512

CAME NEAR CHOKING TO DEATH.

A little boy the son of Chris. D. Peterson a well known resident of the village of Jacksonville, Iowa had a sudden and violent attack of croup. Much thick stringy phlegm came up after giving chamberlain's cough remedy. Mr. Peterson says: I think he would have choked to death had we not given him this remedy. For sale by G A Pabst & Co.

Twin Lake.

J. G Tanner delivered a car load of hogs to W. R. Bloom on Saturday.

H. Pringnitz has been visiting with relatives in Missouri the past week.

M. J. Thompson and family returned last week from their Illinois visit.

Twin Lake farmers attended sales these days in spite of the cold weather.

Albert Tanner came home from Illinois where he visited with relatives during a holiday vacation.

Our popular schoolmaam of No. 2 Miss Stiehl has been making social visits among the neighbors recently

A large number were at the basket sociable last Friday night The program was good and was highly appreciated by all.

Fred Nuehring is slowly improving. They intend to take him to the hospital for an operation as soon as he is strong enough.

HAD HIS EXAMINER WITH HIM.

One Comparatively Easy Way of Obtaining a Diploma.

Representative Littlefield of Maine is very proud of the high praise he received when, as quite a young man, he passed his bar examination.

One of the examiners was an old judge whom Littlefield held in great esteem, and not a little awe. One of the questions asked involved an intricate point of law upon which the judge had once written a treatise and which young Littlefield had learned almost by heart. When he came to answer the questions he quoted, as nearly as he could remember, the judge's exact words.

Never a blush o'erspread the brow of the future statesman when the old judge called him up before the class of candidates. "Young man," he said, "I want publicly to congratulate you upon the way in which you have answered this question. I am amazed that so young a man should have so profound a knowledge of the law."—Unidentified.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

RENEW ON
THE TIMES

We wish to call our subscribers attention to the fact that we expect frequent renewals on this paper this fall, quite a few have responded for which we say thanks. We expect to present statements to those who are more than One Year in arrears. Please Remember!

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
HIDES! HIDES!!
Get our prices on Hides.
Oysters, Celery and Mince Meat.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

Land of flowers, fruit and sunshine. To make the journey worthy of its ending take the superb

Golden State Limited
VIA ROCK ISLAND LINES

Daily from Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City to Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and San Francisco.
Over the lowest-altitude and most southerly route to the Coast.
Through tourist sleeping cars via Colorado and via El Paso.
The quickest tourist service of any line to Southern California.

Full particulars, with rates of fare and illustrated California book from

Rock Island

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

ACCOMMODATING.

Doctor (to man who has fallen)—You need a strong punch of some kind.

Mr. Flynn (an old enemy)—Let me give it to him, doc!

DREADFUL DANDRUFF.

Girl's Head Encrusted—Feared I of All Her Hair—Baby Had M Crust—Missionary's Wife M

Two Perfect Cures by Cuticur

"For several years my husb was a missionary in the Southw Every one in that high and dry mosphere has more or less tro with dandruff and my daughter's s became so encrusted with it th was alarmed for fear she would all her hair. After trying various edies, in desperation I bought a of Cuticura Soap and a box of cura Ointment. They left the s beautifully clean and free from dandruff, and I am happy to say that the Cuticura Remedies were a complete success. I have also used successfully the Cuticura Remedies for so-called 'milk-crust' on baby's head. Cuticura is a blessing. Mrs. J. A. Darling, 310 Fifth St., Carthage, Ohio, Jan. 20, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston

Rapid Transit.

Mrs. Blunder had just received a telegram from India.

"What an admirable invention the telegram is!" she exclaimed, "when you come to consider that this message has come a distance of thousands of miles and the gum on the envelope isn't dry yet."—Tit-Bits.

Hon. Emil Kiang, Vienna, Aus., one of the world's greatest horsemen, has written to the manufacturers: "SPOHN'S DISTEMPER COMPOUND has become the standard remedy for distempers and throat diseases in the best stables of Europe. This medicine relieves horses of great suffering and saves much money for the owner." 50c and $1 a bottle. All druggists. SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Goshen, Ind.

A Toast.

The latest thing in toasts comes from "upstate," and was responded to by the father of 12 daughters, who claims that he ought to know.

"To the Ladies—to their sweetness we give love; to their beauty admiration, and to their hats, the whole sidewalk."—New York Times.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

What a splendid thing it would be if people who lose their tempers were unable to find them again!

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES

FOR RHEUMATISM BRIGHT'S DISEASE DIABETES BACKACHE

NUMBER 375 "Guaranteed"

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

OKLAHOMA AND IOWA

Oklahoma farms, some clear of encumbrance, near Oklahoma City, with cash to trade for Iowa farms. Iowa farms for land farther south. Write me. DANIEL STOOKEY, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

BIENNIAL MESSAGE

GOV. WARREN GARST SUBMITS THE BIENNIAL MESSAGE.

33rd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The Governor Presents Many Important Subjects for the Legislators' Consideration.

Des. Moines.—The biennial message of Gov. Warren Garst to the Thirty-third General Assembly of Iowa is a very interesting document covering a great many questions of hing doing in this space next w on ich ull- life ing art . he pts iod $7,- de- as- of the lt-

or, will be for the biennial period ending June 30, 1911, about $7,605,400. By offsetting this with the regular continuing appropriations and all appropriations made and not yet expended it is estimated that there will be available for extraordinary appropriations about $1,500,000.

The governor comments on the "principle of legal regulation of party nominations," and banishment of the political pass and direct corporation activity in politics.

"But regeneration of political methods has been only a part. There has been honest effort, with what success may well be left to the future, to improve all our laws, and especially those which touch our industrial and business life. This has led to modifying and strengthening the laws with reference to corporations, railroads, drainage, transportation, banking highways, insurance and kindred matters; preservation of the public health as by requiring pure food, safety appliances, limiting the hours of labor and regulating child labor; acceptance of a code that all experience has shown to be the best adapted to reformation of evil doers; encouragement of agricultural and industrial education and support of fairs and expositions; adapting school laws to modern needs; aid has been given the poor victims of drug and liquor habits and a retreat has been provided for consumptives; and the too long delayed publication of a roster of Iowa soldiers has been commenced."

Improvement of the approaches to the state capitol is recommended, for which an appropriation of $150,000 is mentioned. The capitol is too small to provide the proper offices for the state employes in Des Moines, "we should therefore take at least a first step looking to the erection of an agricultural, industrial and military hall. There should be ample offices for the department of agriculture, with its allied bureaus dealing with dairying, horticulture, stock breeding, veterinary, pure food and crop service; the commissioner of labor, mine inspectors and geological survey; the board of health, dental board and pharmacy board; the headquarters of the Iowa National guard and a commodious armory."

Codification and revision of our school laws is necessary. More land for the campus and a women's building is needed at the state university. New buildings are needed at the state agricultural school to properly care for the 1900 and more students there. Greater facilities for the training of teachers at the state normal school and possibly another normal school established.

The historical building should be completed and decorated. The state traveling library is commended and should be amply supported.

Laws governing the saloons and liquor traffic should be strengthened and provisions made whereby they can be more easily enforced.

The recommendation of the attorney general that the state legal department be reorganized is endorsed and special attention called to it.

The authority of the state railroad commission should be extended over telephone and telegraph lines as much as over other common carriers, and in "some measure over the public utilities of the state such as street car lines, water works, gas and electric plants; but care must be exercised so that there is left with the municipalities sufficient power for the proper police regulation of these private enterprises. Matters purely local must be left to the local communities." An attorney, giving his entire time, should represent the state in all matters in controversy concerning public service corporations.

Roads should be scientifically constructed and maintained and a special appropriation is recommended.

The department of agriculture should be encouraged to come into the most intimate relationship with the people of the state and to become the avenue through which is collected all information regarding agricultural resources and dissemination of such information where it will be most valuable. The value of the state fair, as a great summer school of agriculture and industry, cannot be overestimated. A fireproof amphitheater should be built.

The board of control is commended and its recommendations should be carefully considered. There are now more than 3,500 person cared for and more than 1,300 employes are under the direction of the board.

Some changes are needed in the primary election law, and provision made for the expense of elections and a uniformity in the printing of the bills.

In order to better facilitate the work of the state departments, a rearrangement and grouping of related departments is recommended. The state insurance department should be independent and under the management of a superintendent.

A commission should be appointed to investigate our method of taxation and report to the next general assembly. Mortgages should pay a small filing fee in lieu of all other taxes. Corporations should pay an annual fee. A direct inheritance tax is recommended. An annual license fee of $1,200 should be made against all saloons, the amount equally divided between the city, county and state. National banks in the state should be assessed and taxed the same as state or savings banks. Trust companies should be organized and adequate laws made to safeguard them.

Many pardons have been granted to convicts and fines remitted, and names of persons now asking for pardon submitted to the general assembly. The board of parole should consider cases before the convicted persons are committed.

Recommendation is made that the salaries of a number of state officials be increased.

An appropriation is needed to complete the roster of Iowa soldiers.

Laws protecting labor should be extended and strengthened.

A number of minor matters are considered in the concluding paragraphs of the message.

The governor commends the commission form of government for our cities and the right of adopting it should be given to all our first class and second class cities, without exception.

The legislature would do well to investigate and consider suggestions made in the annual report of the dairy and food commissioner, especially with regard to legislation to check the tendency to concentrate creamery business in large companies at the expense of the smaller and co-operative creameries.

"You, gentlemen of the Thirty-third general assembly, represent a great corporation, composed of two and a quarter million of the most intelligent people of the earth, they having a capital of approximately five billion dollars. You are called upon to make appropriations for the expenditures of taxes collected for public purposes, and it seems to me there should be one determining factor only; not how much is the cost, but whether that which you authorize is worth more than it costs to the corporation you represent. If the answer is in the affirmative, there would seem to be no chance for further argument.

"I would again admonish you to remember that ours is a growing and developing commonwealth, and the needs of today and tomorrow may be vastly different from those of yesterday. Conditions change with the passing years, and new duties appear with the unfolding of the grander civilization. You have accepted trusteeship for the affairs of a great state. Your predecessors performed their duty well, and with motives of highest patriotism. As trustees with full responsibility for the financial administration of the state, you owe it to your constituents and associates whose confidence you hold, that you do not permit the needless or wasteful expenditure of their money.

"It will be a part of your duty, in the limited time before you, to make provision as well as you can for a more equitable collection of taxes and the fairest disposition possible of the funds of the state. When this is done intelligently, as I know you will do it, the people will rise up and call you blessed."

In 1840 Ohio was by no means a new and sparsely populated state. It had been admitted to the Union thirty-seven years. Its population was over 1,500,000. In proportion to its area the state was then much more populous than Texas or California is today. Iowa has only about as many inhabitants, in proportion to its area as Ohio had sixty-six years ago.

His Idea.

Mrs. Crimsonbeak—I see for use on rural delivery routes a letter box has an electric attachment which gives the alarm in the house some distance away when mail matter has been deposited within by the carrier.

Mr. Crimsonbeak—Seems to me it would be more valuable if it only gave an alarm when a bill was deposited in the box.

Garfield Tea, the Herb Laxative, agreeably stimulates the liver, corrects constipation and relieves a clogged system. Write for samples. Garfield Tea Co., Brooklyn, N. Y.

I long to hand a full cup of happiness to every human being.—Dr. Payson.

WE SELL GUNS AND TRAPS CHEAP & buy Furs & Hides. Write for catalog 105 N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

Many a man thinks he is charitable because he gives advice.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS. PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Better one discreet enemy than two indiscreet friends.

Bad Taste in the Mouth, Appetite Bad, Head Heavy, Stomach Sour,

A general feeling of being tired and worn out—unfit for business or the duties or pleasures of life.

Is that the Way You Feel?

If it is, you should know that the famous tonic laxative,

Lane's Family Medicine

(called also Lane's Tea)

will give that perfect internal cleanliness and wholesomeness which produces health and the feeling of comfort that makes life enjoyable.

All druggists sell it in 25c. and 50c. packages.

RESOURCES THAT ENRICH SEATTLE

Our resources? The apple crop—just the APPLE CROP—of Washington, Oregon and Idaho, alone aggregated $25,000,000 this year!

The handling—the marketing and shipping—of this vast and rapidly increasing product of the Pacific Northwest, is managed from Central Business Property in Seattle, the rent of which, averaging at least 6% per annum, is as sure and regular as a government tax, and the value of which will at least double every ten years.

When YOU come to our "A-Y-P" Fair next summer, look into the matter of acquiring non-taxable ownership of Units of Seattle Central Business Property, the greatest fortune maker of all. For any amount, large or small, that you may be able to invest, YOU get both the rents and the ground-value increment. Let me give you the facts now.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

Drake University

Des Moines, Iowa

A well equipped co-educational school, situated amid healthful surroundings, in the Capital City of Iowa. Over one hundred teachers in the faculty. Excellent courses in all departments. 1,846 students in attendance last year.

Colleges and Schools—Liberal Arts, Bible, Law, Medical, Dental, Education, Music, High School. Winter Term Opens January 4th, 1908.

Send for announcement of department in which you are interested. Address

DRAKE UNIVERSITY, :: :: :: DES MOINES, IOWA

All shoes are made in much the same way.

Here's the difference.

Stylish White House Shoes fit. Not the ordinary binding fit. Not the fit that takes three weeks to break in. But the graceful fit that feels snug the first time. And stays snug and graceful all times.

WHITE HOUSE SHOES

FOR MEN $3.50, $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00 FOR WOMEN $3.50, $4.00 and $5.00

BUSTER BROWN BLUE RIBBON SHOES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS—ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THEM

ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF THE WHITE HOUSE FREE

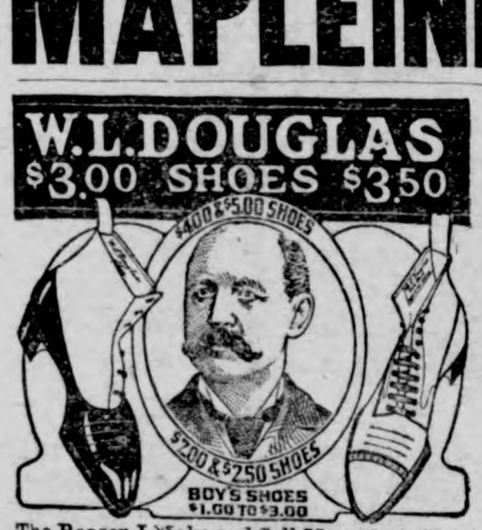
Upon receipt of 4c to cover postage, we will mail to those sending a certificate properly signed by a shoe dealer, showing the purchase of a pair of "White House" shoes, a complete set of four volumes of the "WHITE HOUSE HISTORY." Or will send for 25c, without certificate.

THE BROWN SHOE CO. MAKERS ★5★ Shoes St. Louis, Mo.

MAPLEINE

A flavoring that is used the same as lemon or vanilla. By dissolving granulated sugar in water and adding Mapleine, a delicious syrup is made and a syrup better than maple. Mapleine is sold by grocers. Send 2c stamp for sample and recipe book. Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle

W.L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOES $3.50



The Reason I Make and Sell More Men's $3.00 & $3.50 Shoes Than Any Other Manufacturer is because I give the wearer the benefit of the most complete organization of trained experts and skilled shoemakers in the country.

The selection of the leathers for each part of the shoe, and every detail of the making in every department, is looked after by the best shoemakers in the shoe industry.

If I could show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make.

My Method of Tanning the Soles makes them More Flexible and Longer Wearing than any others.

Shoes for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses and Children.

For sale by shoe dealers everywhere.

CAUTION! None genuine without W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom.

Fast Color Eyelets Used Exclusively. Catalog mailed free.

W. L. DOUGLAS, 167 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

320 Acres of Wheat Land IN WESTERN CANADA WILL MAKE YOU RICH

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Fifty bushels per acre have been grown. General average greater than in any other part of the continent. Under new regulations it is possible to secure a homestead of 160 acres free, and additional 160 acres at $3 per acre.

"The development of the country has made marvelous strides. It is a revelation, a record of conquest by settlement that is remarkable."—Extract from correspondence of a National Editor, who visited Canada in August last.

The grain crop of 1908 will net many farmers $20.00 to $25.00 per acre. Grain raising, mixed farming and dairying are the principal industries. Climate is excellent; social conditions the best; railway advantages unequalled; schools, churches and markets close at hand. Land may also be purchased from railway and land companies.

For "Last Best West" pamphlets, maps and information as to how to secure lowest railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

Virginia Farms and Homes

FREE CATALOGUE OF SPLENDID BARGAINS. R. B. CHAFFIN & CO., Inc., Richmond, Va.

PISO'S

AN UNSURPASSED REMEDY!

Piso's Cure is an unsurpassed remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, hoarseness and throat and lung affections. It goes direct to the seat of the trouble and generally restores healthy conditions. Mothers can give their children Piso's Cure with perfect confidence in its curative powers and freedom from opiates. Famous for half a century.

At all druggists', 25 cts.

25 cts. 25 cts.

CURE

Cabbage Seed 60 cts per ac

Per Salzer's catalog page 129.

The biggest money making crop in vegetables is cabbage. Then comes onions, radishes, peas, cucumbers. Big catalog free; or, send 16c in stamps and receive catalog and 10 kernels each of onions, carrots, celery, radishes, 1500 each lettuce, rutabagas, turnips, 100 parsley, 100 tomatoes, 100 melons, 120 charming flower seeds, in all 10,000 kernels, easily worth $1.00 of any man's money. Or send 20c and we add one pkg. of Earliest Peep O'Day Sweet Corn.

SALZER SEED CO., Box W. La Crosse, Wis.

For Constipation and Bladder Trouble. A-B-C TEA 25cts. All dealers. 25cts

SLAP AT PRESIDENT

HOUSE LAYS SECRET SERVICE MESSAGES ON TABLE.

DEVOTES DAY TO CENSURE

Won't Receive Any More "Disrespectful" Communications — Roosevelt Tells Alleged Facts Disclosed by Tillman Probe.

Washington.—After having made him the target all day for criticism, with here and there words of commendation, the house of representatives Friday night by a vote of 212 to 35 rebuked the president by tabling so much of his message as reflected on members of congress regarding the secret service detectives, and also declaring it to be the sense of the house that they shall decline to consider any communication from any source which is not in its own judgment respectful.

Senator Tillman.

Senator Culberson's resolution instructing the committee on the judiciary to report whether the president had authority to permit the absorption of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company by the United States Steel Corporation was adopted by the senate.

Tells About Tillman Probe.

President Roosevelt Friday night made public the details of an investigation by post office inspectors and secret service agents of Senator Tillman's connection with an alleged "land grab" in Oregon. As he presents the evidence to Senator Hale, in response to the latter's request to the heads of the various executive departments for a statement of the operations of the secret service, the president undertakes to show:

That Mr. Tillman used his influence as a senator in an effort to force the government to compel a railroad corporation to relinquish its control of land grants from the United States in order that he and his family and his secretary, J. B. Knight, might profit through the purchase of some of the land;

That the senator used his government franking privilege in numerous instances for the conduct of private business.

Comparatively few senators were favored with the opportunity of reading the president's report to Senator Hale, but those who did read the report took a serious view of it, although most of the senators refused to believe that Senator Tillman had ever done anything in violation of his oath as a senator.

Dean Howard Poisoned.

Des Moines, Ia.—Dr. Howe, special examiner appointed by Coroner Iver G. Newlen to look into the sudden and mysterious death of Dean Frederick Howard of Drake university, Thanksgiving day, reported Wednesday night that the distinguished professor was a victim of poison. Quantities of morphine were found in the intestines. The report says that there are marks pointing to asphyxiation. As to who administered the poison or whether it was self-administered, is not known.

Accused of $1,000,000 Forgeries.

Oakland, Cal. — F. B. Signor, real estate promoter and mining broker of this city, was arrested on complaint sworn to by James H. Murray, a multi-millionaire banker and mining man of Montana, Salt Lake and Seattle, but more recently of Monterey, Cal., charging Signor with forgeries aggregating nearly $1,000,000. Signor is alleged to have forged Murray's name to four notes of $100,000 each, as well as to numerous other negotiable documents.

NOT GUILTY OF ERB MURDER

MRS. ERB AND MRS. BEISEL ARE ACQUITTED BY JURY.

Defendants Scream and Fall Into Each Other's Arms When the Verdict Is Announced.

Media, Pa.—Mrs. M. Florence Erb, wife of Capt. J. Clayton Erb, who was well known in political circles all over Pennsylvania, and her sister, Mrs. Catharine Beisel, who were charged with the sensational murder of Capt. Erb on the night of October 6, 1908, walked from the Delaware county courthouse Thursday free women. After the jury had been out nearly 18 hours it brought in a verdict of not guilty in the case of each woman, both of whom had been charged separately and jointly with shooting the captain. Thus ends a trial that has held the interest of the people of the country for more than a week during which much scandalous evidence was brought out, some of which did not reach the reading public.

Judge Johnson took his seat just as the jury was escorted into the room. There was absolute silence. Then the court clerk went through the usual proceeding of asking whether the jury had agreed and the foreman announced the verdict of not guilty in each case.

There was a second's pause, a dead silence, then, with a half scream, the sisters fell in each other's arms. Everybody in the court room was on his or her feet and women wept as they looked at the pathetic scene.

Surrounded by Wild Crowd.

In an instant the women were surrounded by friends and their attorneys and overwhelmed with congratulations.

Harry Beisel threw his arms around his wife and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Erb, and tears came to their eyes. This scene lasted several minutes.

The jury was not polled, and after Judge Johnson had thanked them, Mrs. Erb hurried from her seat to Dickinson, the foreman, and wrung his hand. Mrs. Beisel did likewise, and they went down the line of the 12 men. Tears stood in the eyes of most of them and the thanks of the women were sobbed out in broken syllables.

EXILE CAUSE OF DOWNFALL?

Overthrow of Yuan Shi Kai Blamed on Ousted Reformer.

New York. — Special cable advices from Penang, Straits Settlement, says that Kang-Yu-Wei, China's exiled reformer and leader of the Chinese Empire Reform association, claims credit for the overthrow of Yuan Shi Kai.

Yuan Shi Kai, the eminent Chinese statesman, as member of the grand council.

According to the dispatch Kang-Yu-Wei charges Yuan Shi Kai with complicity in the death of the emperor. He is quoted as follows:

"We know Yuan Shi Kai paid a physician 40,000 taels (about $33,000) to poison the emperor. Yuan Shi Kai, seeing the dowager empress' death impending, feared retribution at the hands of the emperor for his betrayal a decade ago which forced my flight and resulted in the dowager empress seizing the reins of control."

Kill Montreal Ice Carnival.

Montreal, Can.—The end of the winter ice carnivals of Montreal, long a feature of the winter days of Canada, was indicated by the action of representatives of all the Canadian and many eastern roads in a meeting at Montreal. Feeling that the continuation of the carnivals and the advertising of the country mainly during the winter time does not operate to the best advantage of the country, the railroad men have decided not to grant reduced rates for the annual ice carnival or other similar events.

Object to a Larger Navy.

Boston.—A remonstrance against further increase of the United States navy was sent to congress Thursday by the board of directors of the American Peace society. It was signed on behalf of the board by Robert Treat Paine, president, and Benjamin A. Trueblood, secretary of the society.

WHY NOT OWN LAND?

ONE OF THE BEST WAYS TO MAKE MONEY IS TO INVEST IN WESTERN CANADA.

"Deep down in the nature of every properly constituted man is the desire to own some land." A writer in the Iowa State Register thus tersely expresses a well-known truth. The question is where is the best land to be had at the lowest prices, and this the same writer points out in the same article. The fact is not disguised that the writer has a personal interest in the statement of his case, and there is no hidden meaning when he refers to Western Canada as presenting greater possibilities than any other part of the American Continent, to the man who is inclined to till the soil for a livelihood and possible competence. What interests one are the arguments advanced by this writer, and when fairly analyzed the conclusion is reached that no matter what personal interest the writer may have had, his reasons appear to have the quality of great soundness. The climatic conditions of Western Canada are fully as good as those of Minnesota, the Dakotas or Iowa, the productiveness of the soil is as great, the social conditions are on a parity, the laws are as well established and as carefully observed. In addition to these the price of land is much less, easier to secure. So, with these advantages, why shouldn't this —the offer of Western Canada—be embraced. The hundreds of thousands of settlers now there, whose homes were originally in the United States, appear to be—are satisfied. Once in awhile complaints are heard, but the Canadians have never spoken of the country as an Eldorado no matter what they may have thought. The writer happened to have at hand a few letters, written by former residents of the United States, from which one or two extracts are submitted. These go to prove that the writer in the Register has a good basis of fact in support of his statements regarding the excellency of the grain growing area of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. On the 29th of April of this year W. R. Conley, of Lougheed, Alberta, wrote a friend in Detroit. He says: "The weather has been just fine ever since I came here in March, and I believe one could find if he wanted to some small bunches of snow around the edge of the lake. There is a frost nearly every morning: at sunrise it begins to fade away, then those blue flowers open and look as fresh as if there had been no frost for a week. . . . There is no reason why this country should not become a garden of Eden; the wealth is in the ground and only needs a little encouragement from the government to induce capital in here. There is everything here to build with: good clay for brick; coal underneath, plenty of water in the spring lakes, and good springs coming out of the banks."

DOMESTIC REPARTEE.

Mr. Knagg—Before you met me you said you wouldn't marry the best man in the world.

Mrs. Knagg—And you are the only one who thinks that I broke my word.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Heredity.

Knicker—Whom does the baby resemble?

Bocker—It's yell takes after its father's college.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE"

That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

Thy yesterday is thy past; thy today is thy future; thy to-morrow is a secret.—Wycliffe.

Allen's Foot-Ease, a Powder

For swollen, sweating feet. Gives instant relief. The original powder for the feet. 25c at all Druggists.

Know what thou canst work at and do it like a Hercules.—Carlyle.

BREAKS A COLD PROMPTLY

The following formula is a never failing remedy for colds:

One ounce of Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, one ounce Toris Compound and one-half pint of good whiskey, mix and shake thoroughly each time and use in doses of a tablespoonful every four hours.

This if followed up will cure an acute cold in 24 hours. The ingredients can be gotten at any drug store.

Opposed to Toll Roads.

Maryland, following the recent lead of Pennsylvania, is moving to abolish toll roads. Gov. Crothers has expressed the hope that before his term is ended every tollgate in the state will be abolished and every road free. He believes that the work of the good roads commission will ultimately result in wiping out the gates. "The tollgate," says the governor, "is not of this age and has no proper place in this time. It is ridiculous to think of charging people money for coming to your city."

A sensible man is one who knows when to let go before taking hold.

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna

Cleanses the System Effectually;
Dispels colds and Headaches due to Constipation;
Acts naturally, acts truly as a Laxative.
Best for Men, Women and Children—Young and Old.
To get it's beneficial effects, always buy the Genuine.

manufactured by the

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS

one size only, regular price 50¢ per bottle.

Answer This Question

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured numerous cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?

Here are two letters which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Red Banks, Miss. — "Words are inadequate to express what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from a female disease and weakness which the doctors said was caused by a fibroid tumor, and I commenced to think there was no help for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman after all other means had failed. My friends are all asking what has helped me so much, and I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Willie Edwards.

Hampstead, Maryland.—"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was weak and nervous, and could not be on my feet half a day without suffering. The doctors told me I never would be well without an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors, and I hope this valuable medicine may come into the hands of many more suffering women."—Mrs. Joseph H. Dandy.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful —or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

What more proof can any one ask?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

LYDIA E PINKHAM

Mayer

Martha Washington Comfort Shoes

You will never know what genuine foot comfort is until you wear Martha Washington Comfort Shoes. They relieve tired and aching feet and make walking a pleasure. They fit like a glove and feel as easy as a stocking. No bother about buttons or laces—they just slip on and off at will. The elastic at the sides "gives" with every movement of the foot, insuring free action and a perfect fit. Absolute comfort guaranteed.

Beware of imitations. Only the genuine have the name Martha Washington and Mayer Trade Mark stamped on the sole. Refuse substitutes. Your dealer will supply you; if not, write to us.

FREE—If you will send us the name of a dealer who does not handle Martha Washington Comfort Shoes, we will send you free, postpaid, a beautiful picture of Martha Washington, size 15x20.

We also make Honorbilt Shoes, Leading Lady Shoes, Yerma Cushion Shoes and Special Merit School Shoes.

F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Co.
MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN

MILWAUKEE Mayer CUSTOM MADE

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

Just Dust it on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery

FOR COUGHS COLDS — PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free

AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.

GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
435 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has ... Over 1,000,000 ... Latest ... 5 cents. ... subscribers gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or ... cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 6 odes) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York

Honors Easy.

People who were present smiled at the little passage of arms which took place between two young ladies at a luncheon recently. One of them, a bride, shaking hands in her characteristically cordial way, said to the other:

"I'm so glad to meet you! You have afforded me so very much amusement just lately."

"Amusement?" said the other.

"Oh, yes," went on the bride. "I've been through my husband's desk, and I've read all his old love letters. I found several very affectionate letters from you, and I enjoyed reading them, really, ever so much."

"I'm so glad you enjoyed them," returned the other. "But do come and see me very soon. Here is my card. I have the answers to all those letters and you might like to read them as well. Mr. X——'s letters are so much more affectionate than those I wrote to him. I know you'll enjoy reading them ever so much more than you did mine."

DeWITT'S CARBOLIZED WITCH HAZEL SALVE For Piles, Burns, Sores.

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

SHOWING THE WEDDING GIFTS.

Charming Exhibitions Made at French Bridals.

In Paris most charming conceits are devised to enhance the effect of an exhibition of wedding gifts in the bride's home Sometimes the furniture is removed from one or two rooms to give space to show cases, where is made a tasteful array of the most delicate parts of the trousseau, and numberless bivelots. The heavier articles are suspended from screens or round the walls from hanging ribbons, pictures, or even dados of crinkled papier velours in some subdued shade. One of the most telling arrangements is dispersal against the walls of small tables covered with mignonette-green silk, and on which are artistically displayed the bridal treasures, to each of which is attached with a pink ribbon the card of the giver. The contents of every table are partly veiled by vaporous tulle held up to the wall by some bracket lamp, high statuette, and draped at the sides with large choux in pink satin. The coloring depends evidently on the prevailing tones of the house decoration. Such a treatment is light, tasteful and not too expensive. A scheme which involves larger reception rooms and a greater outlay of time and money consists of a triumphal arch in bamboo at the entrance to every door, often covered with climbers, whilst through the whole suite of rooms are distributed in profusion palm trees, jardinieres, tall vases and corbeilles full of flowers, giving the impression of a bower of flowers and foliage, in which are nestled the marvels of the bride's outfit and of her friends' generosity and taste.

How He Hunted Bear.

A New York Irishman was visiting a friend in the Adirondacks and was taken with a desire to go hunting. Borrowing a gun from his friend he set off alone in search of game. Some time after his host heard a distant report of a gun. A few minutes later he heard some one shouting. From a window he spied, in the distance, his friend, hot-footing it for home, and behind him a bear, gaining at every step. Nearly spent, the pursued reached the door just in time to cry out:

"Quick, Mike! Quick! Open the door! I'm bringing him home aloive!"

NO WISE.

Mamma — When that boy threw stones at you, why didn't you come and tell me, instead of throwing them back?

Johnnie—Tell you! Why, you couldn't Hit a barn door.

Took the Wrong House.

On one of the Southern railroads there is a station building that is commonly known by travelers as the smallest railroad station in America.

It is of this station that the story is told that an old farmer was expecting a chicken house to arrive there, and he sent one of his hands, a newcomer, to fetch it.

Arriving there the man saw the house, loaded it on his wagon and started for home.

On the way he met a man in uniform with the words "Station Agent" on his cap.

"Say, hold on. What have you got on that wagon," he asked.

"My chicken house, of course," was the reply.

"Chicken house be jiggered," exploded the official. "That's the station."

A Complete Defense.

An Irish woman was accused of having stolen an iron soap kettle and cracked it, so that its usefulness was ended.

Her defense, when brought before the judge, was as follows: "Oi have witnesses here, yer honor, t' prove, first, that Oi niver had th' kittle in me possession; second, that Oi returned it t' Mrs. Casey widout a crack in it; and, third, that th' old kittle was cracked whin Oi s'hole it."

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 25 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, JAN. 21, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

PUT YOUR MONEY IN A SAFE PLACE!
OUR BANK IS A SAFE PLACE

ASK THOSE who have banked with us for years whether or not they like our business methods. You wish to cross the ocean in a ship that has ridden through many storms? Rather than keep your money yourself, don't you want to put your money in a bank that knows nothing but success?

Capital and Surplus $25,500.00

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

North Elevator

—FOR—

Pocahontas Smokeless
Wonderland White Ash Splint
Genuine Sunday Creek Hocking
Brazil block
Sutless Washed Egg Wilmington
Scranton hard coal

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries	Ladies and	Dry Goods
Boots	Gents	and
Shoes	Furnishings	Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J.W.WATERMAN

FOGS OF LONDON AND PARIS.

French Capital Bids Fair to Suffer Worse Than the English.

A certain undesired supremacy has always been granted to London in the matter of fogs, and the London pea-souper has always been considered unequaled in its way. But things have changed a good deal of late. In the first place, those of late years, notably that at the beginning of this month, have been overhead fogs, which made the noonday like night, although in the streets it was perfectly clear, and there was little or no dislocation of traffic. This is said to be owing to the fact that a few hundred feet up the air is cold enough to condense the moisture, whereas in the streets the air is warm enough to keep the moisture uncondensed. This variety of fog is certainly the least objectionable, for it enables people to go about their business without groping along the walls in utter darkness, as used to be the case. Another change that must be noted is the prevalence of fogs in Paris, notably in the present month, when in the first week the fog was much worse on the banks of the Seine than on the banks of the Thames. Some years ago, when Paris burned wood, the city had no real fogs, but now that it has taken to burning coal it has imported the "London particular." And as the Seine at Paris is not tidal, there is less chance of a breeze to carry away the fog than there is even in London.

RAISED FUNDS AND HAD JOKE.

Typical Anecdote Concerning Whistler, the Eccentric Artist.

Whistler's most recent biography has this to say of his early life in Paris: "Though frequently hard up, Whistler had an income which seemed princely to students who lived on nothing at all. If Whistler had money in his pockets, Mr. Ionires says, he spent it royally on others. If his pockets were empty he managed to refill them in a way that still amazes M. Oulevey, who, in proof of it, told us of the night when, after the cafe where they had squandered their last sous on kirsch had closed, he and Lambert and Whistler adjourned to the Halles for supper, ordered the best and ate it. Then he and Lambert stayed in the restaurant as hostages, while Whistler, at dawn, went off to find money to pay. He was back when they awoke with 300 or 400 francs in his pocket. He had been to see an American friend, he said, a painter, 'And, do you know, he had the bad manners to abuse the situation—he insisted on my looking at his pictures.'"

Diplomatic Sufferer.

It was at a well-known sanitarium. A number of frivolously disposed young convalescents were taking their ease on couches on one of the commodious sun-balconies of the establishment, and, despite the rules enjoining perfect silence upon all, were enjoying a lively conversation, mixed in with much giggling. Suddenly from the darkened depths of a room, the windows of which looked out upon their balcony, there came a plaintive voice.

"Vill you youngk latdies be goot enough to sdop dalking so loud?" it said. "I vass trying to vake up, undt your lofely woices lull me to sleep again efery time I gets mine eyes open already yet."—Harper's Weekly.

Girl Miner.

The west has a girl miner who works eight hours a day. Her name is Laura White, her age is 22 years, and she hails from San Francisco. Some time ago she located several mining claims in the dreary Funeral range, near the eastern edge of the famous Death Valley. One of the claims proved to be a rich one and she and her brother are working it alone.

The brother works at the bottom of the shaft and Miss White hoists the ore to the top. At first she wore skirts but finding that they impeded her work, she donned the miners' regulation boots and trousers, shirt and Mexican sombrero.

An Agitator.

"There goes a man who has done much to arouse the people."

"Great labor agitator, eh?"

"No. Manufacturer of alarm clocks."

HOW long have they been in business? An answer to this question is necessary to fix the standing of any business house. Before any concern can claim rank in the business world, its stability must be proven by the test of time. And the longer it has been in business with an honorable record, the higher it is rated by public opinion.

It takes time to show whether a bank is conducted on a policy of sefety and conservatism.

This bank has a history of over fifteen years of successful business and satisfactory service to Klemme people.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

A. F. HUBBARD

AUCTIONEER.

I would be pleased to cry your sales this season at reasonable terms. Livestock a specialty. Make dates with either banks at Klemme. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Address—Ventura, Iowa,
R. F. D. No. 2.

Toilet and Fancy Goods.

Toilet soaps, bath soaps, infent powders, sachet powders face powders, tooth powders, dressing and fine combs.

PAINTS and OILS

Strictly pure white lead. Colors dry and in oil Turpentine and varnishes. Window shades and trimmings.

Customers will fiud our stock complete in every respect. We are constantly adding every new novel and meritorious article that comes within our line of business. If you see a medicine advertised and want it, we will gladly get it for you if we do not have it.

Call and see us—your patronage is always appreciated, no matter how small your purchase, and you may rest assured it will be our constant aim to sell you the best that can be obtained and at reasonable prices.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

KLEMME IOWA

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & M r.

Klemme, - - Iowa

France is strongly tempted to subsidize the stork.

Connecticut hen lays two eggs a day. But we're still paying famine prices.

England's invasion by American racetrack touts is hard on the sport of kings and pikers.

A French army officer has invented eye-glasses which enable the wearer to see on all sides and the rear.

Electric waves may conquer the London fog, but we defy them to produce results on Chicago smoke.

Does Sig. Ferrero believe that Eve was all she was cracked up to be, or has he evidence to the contrary?

The nickel John D. Rockefeller gave as a tip has become almost as famous as the $29,000,000 he refused to give up

President Roosevelt has saved nothing out of his salary, but don't worry. He can get a job of some sort.

St. Louis woman leaves her husband because he could read her thoughts He'll be careful, after this, not to read 'em aloud.

Water having been discovered on Mars, we may cease pitying the thirsty inhabitants therof. It's a great load off our minds.

Pencil drawings may be rendered permanent by brushing them with a mixture of equal parts of skimmed milk and water.

Gentlemen who ride from one end of the country to the other on the rods think there is nothing much the matter with the Pullman car except the price.

Russian milionaire burns his money to save his heirs from the curse of riches. It is not said that they were particularly grateful for his thoughtfulness.

We should imagine, from some of the rambling remarks of Prof. Hugo Muensterberg, that applied sociology was a good thing until one came to apply it.

A New York man of 83 has married a pretty girl of 18. It may surprise the unsophisticated to know that the old man is very, very wealthy.—Detroit Free Press.

King Edward weighs 210 pounds, it is boasted. And we gaze at the majestic proportions of our own new ruler and smile superciliously at Britain's puny prince.

With two Connecticut chauffeurs in the penitentiary the amusement of running over people as they alight from the street cars bids fair to become less popular.

Pennsylvania husband of 71 sues neighbor of 69 for alienating the affections of his wife, aged 65. Well the poor girl probably wanted some body nearer her own age.

Just a suggestion born of love for the babies. Shouldn't that toddling little emperor of China be strapped to the throne? Very serious consequences might result from a tumble.

An ocean freighter coming into New York reported striking an iceberg with such force that a live polar bear on the ice fell from the force of the impact on the deck of the ship. The ordinary tale of ocean adventure is getting too tame for up-to-date consumption.

That story about an alligator killing an eagle in the air sounds rather difficult, until you read that it was a baby alligator, and that the eagle flew away with it. According to the story, the representative of American freedom soon had reason to regret his enterprise.

The skull of a man supposed to belong to the earliest period of the earth was lately found in France, and from the conformation of the jaw it is plain the men of that time could not have laughed. But then life in the glacial period may have been no laughing matter.

The Baltimore woman who claimed that her husband allows her only two cents a day to run the house on, shows plainly what stamp of a husband he is. There can be no doubt in the minds of the unprejudiced that he is not the two-cent male there has been such praise about.

Socialistic candidates for congress received votes in 162 districts this year; Prohibitionist candidates in 15? districts. The strength of the two parties in the north and west, for the south contributed only four candidates out of the total, two Prohibitionists and two Socialists.

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth.

EX-SENATOR HEALY IS DEAD.

Shining Legal Light of Iowa Answers Last Summons.

Fort Dodge.—Ex-Senator Thomas D. Healy died Jan. 15, after an illness of three weeks, death being due to pneumonia. He was born on a farm near Lansing, Iowa, and moved with his parents to Fort Dodge in 1883. Graduating from the University of Michigan law department he returned to Fort Dodge and was elected city attorney, that being his first public office. He soon gained fame in his chosen profession and for several years was connected with the legal department of the Chicago Great Western railroad. He was elected twice as state senator, for the counties of Webster and Calhoun. During his first term he was appointed on a special committee to investigate state institutions and report to the next session of the legislature. The present board of control grew out of the report of that committee and the bill which followed. He was a leading candidate for the position of federal judge to succeed Judge Shiras. The present judge Henry T. Reed was appointed to the position. In 1906 he was made district attorney for the Illinois Central railroad from Fort Dodge west and upon the death of James Knighte of Dubuque, recently, he was made attorney for the lines of the road west of the Mississippi, which position he held at the time of his death. The funeral will be held Monday morning at 9:30 from the Corpus Christi church.

$85 FOR TEN EARS OF CORN.

None of the Prices Reach Skyrocket Level Set At Last Year's Show.

Ames.—The highest price at the Ames short course corn sale was $85, which was paid by H. F. Patterson, business manager of the Iowa Agriculturist, for A. L. Plummer's championship ten ear sample. This is at the rate of $8.50 an ear, or nearly a cent a gernel. The championship thirty ears shown by C. R. Bishop of Altoona were purchased by the exhibitor for $65. Mr. Proudfit's championship bushel also went back to the grower at $76. The price brought by the championship single ear was something of a disappointment to those who looked for a repetition of some of the skyrocket prices of previous years. This ear was bought back by its grower, J. C. Frame, for $28. None of these prices are as spectacular as those made at the show two years ago when the record breaking price of $150 for a single ear was reached. The general average, however, was higher than it has ever been before. The entire proceeds amounted to $1,400, which was $400 more than last year's record.

SMALL POX AT RED OAK.

Public Gatherings of all Kinds Forbidden until January 18.

Red Oak.—The schools of Red Oak are closed, the corn school indefinitely postponed, the convening of the district court is postponed, the Monday club will not meet until further notice, the county spelling contest is postponed, and there will be no public gatherings until after January 18, in order to stamp out the smallpox epidemic here.

$200 For Iowa Corn Prize.

Mason City.—Owen T. Denison of this city has offered a premium of $200 for the best yield of corn raised in 1909 on ten acres in Cerro Gordo county. The premium will be awarded $100 for the best ten ears, $50 for the second best, $25 for the third best, $15 for the fourth best, and $10 for the fifth best. It is a unique plan of Mr. Denison to stimulate the farmers to more thorough cultivation of corn.

Contest Over $175,000.

Rockwell.—Unable to agree as to a division of the property which was left to them by the late Frances McMullen, who died last summer, worth $175,000, the heirs have made application to the district court to sell the entire property, eight farms, in this county. There are eighteen representatives interested in the estate.

Allison Library to People.

Dubuque.—The private library of the late Senator William B. Allison was turned over to the use of the public in the local Carnegie-Stout library institution by Mrs. Brayton, late housekeeper of Senator Allison, to whom it was left in his will. There are 5,000 volumes of well selected works.

MURDER AT UNION.

Holdup Man Killed The Proprietor of A Restaurant.

Union.—Linn Trimble was shot twice and instantly killed at his restaurant here by an unknown man, who atempted to hold up the restaurant keeper, his son and his wife, who were in the place at the time of the murder. Trimble and his family were in the restaurant about 11 o'clock when the man entered. He held the door with one hand and drew a revolver with the other, ordering the three to hold up their hands, and to give him their valuables. Thimble handed him one pocketbook and put his hand in his pocket for another. It is suposed the man thought that he intended to draw a gun for he fired instantly, shooting Trimble through the neck and the breast. Trimble died immediately. He was about 45 years of age and highly esteemed.

Suspect Caught in Alden.

Aden.—A man was arrested here whom the police believe to answer the description of the unknown slayer of Linn Trimble at Union. The man refuses to give his name or anything that might lead to his identification. He will be taken to Union for purposes of identification.

LENOX COMPLETES ITS $100,000.

Subscriptions Are Completed Three Months Ahead.

Hopkington.—Lenox college has just sprung into new prominence, not only by its success in securing $100,000 new endowment, but especially by the manner in which this feat was achieved. Active work began less than a year ago, and Jan. 1, 1909, was made the time limit, and it had all been completed and settled more than three months before that date, and the money raisers are now busy at other projects. This unusual condition has been heralded by the church papers and has given the college unexpected notoriety.

Another point which is quite unusual was that the subscriptions were of such a character that they could be at once turned into cash, and Mr. Carnegie promptly added his check for $25,000, acording to his previous promise. Other colleges have had to wait months and even years for a satisfactory adjustment with him.

LIQUOR FOES SPLIT.

Election of W. C. Barber Causes Break in Ranks.

Des Moines.—All the old animosity between the prohibition party and the anti-saloon league broke out afresh at the state convention of the constitutional amendment federation when W. C. Barber, state superintendent of the anti-saloon league was nominated for secretary. The impassioned prayers for a united and harmonious temperance body were then forgotten in a bitter war of words, and the prohibition party representatives left the hall. The representatives of the anti-saloon league, the W. C. T. U., the Intercollegiate association, and the state reform bureau were left in possession of the field and Superintendent Barber was unanimously elected secretary. The board then continued with the election of officers and formulating plans for the coming year.

Gambler's Den in Iowa Church.

Emmetsburg.—It has just leaked out that the janitor of one of the churches of this city has discovered a "den" within the sacred precincts of the church edifice. Far up among the rafters of the roof a platform had been built, making a snug little room, which had been fitted up with tables, chairs, etc., and plentifully supplied with cards, tobacco, books and magazines. The conspirators also had a private means of entrance cleverly hid among the posts and rafters, and the result was a cosy little den, secure by reason of its isolation and the solemn quiet of the church.

Dynamiter Hurt at Last.

Iowa City.—John Chesheck, dynamiter, braved the laws of chance for thirty-four years, but now he lies dangerously injured at Mercy hospital, with both eyes blown out and the side of his head crushed in. A dynamite charge struck by his bar at the E. J. C. Bealer quarries spent its force in his face. He was picked up unconscious by his two sons and by Mr. Bealer. Seven charges had been set off simultaneously by Mr. Chesheck and one failed to explode. He was trying to remove it.

CARROLL MADE IOWA GOVERNOR

FORMER AUDITOR OF STATE BECOMES CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

HOUSE GALLERIES ARE PACKED

Mrs. Carroll and Other Relatives Witness Bestowal of Iowa's Chief Office upon Kinsman.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 15.—Beryl F. Carroll took the oath of office as governor of the state of Iowa late yesterday afternoon before an audience made up of members of both houses of the Iowa general assembly, field officers of the Iowa National Guard, state officials, prominent men from every corner of the state and a large number of citizens of Des Moines. The house chamber, in which the ceremonies were held, blazed with the colors of the national flag, while the dress uniforms of the field officers of the National Guard added color to the setting.

Members of the families of Governor Carroll and Lieutenant-Governor Clarke occupied the official box, twenty people making up the party.

Before the ceremonies the Henry orchestra played in the rotunda, and later in the house itself, while the guardsmen, who acted as the guards and ushers of the occasion, seated the crowd. Following the music, the invocation by Rev. Mr. Thompson, and the administering of the oath to Governor Carroll and Lieutenant-Governor Clarke, Governor Carroll delivered his inaugural address.

Carroll, Native Iowan.

Gov. Beryl F. Carroll is a native born Iowa citizen and is 49 years old. He was born on a farm in Davis county March 15, 1860. He attended country school, then the high school at Agency, later the college at Bloomfield and finally the North Missouri Normal school at Kirksville. Here he met Miss Jennie Dodson, to whom he was married June 15, 1886. They have two sons, Paul, aged 18 years, and Jean, aged 7. Mr. Carroll taught school in his early youth, then engaged with a brother in the business of buying and selling stock, and later became editor of the Davis County Republican. In 1892 he was district elector for the Sixth congressional district. In 1895 he was elected as senator from the Third senatorial district and served in the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh general assemblies, when he resigned to become postmaster at Bloomfield, which position he held until nominated for auditor of state in 1902. He served three terms in that capacity, but retired to become a candidate for governor, to which place he was elected at the last general election by an enormous vote.

Clemency to Oil Trust.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 15.—A month's delay in winding up its connections with the Standard Oil company of New Jersey was granted to the Waters-Pierce Oil company by the supreme court of Missouri. The original decree of the court ordered the Waters-Pierce concern to furnish a statement that it had taken steps to operate independently by Jan. 15 The decree gives until Feb. 15 in which to take this action. The $50,000 fine assessed against the company must be paid by March 1, the penalty for nonobservance of these court orders being a forfeiture of the company's charter.

Tie Victim to a Trestle.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 15.—Word reached here that William A. Anderson, a conductor on the Chesapeake burg to Pikeville, had been robbed brug to Pikeville, had been robbed and murdered. His body was taken out upon a high railroad trestle and bound to the rails, where it was struck by a freight train shortly afterward and badly mangled. There is no clew to the murderers.

Turkey Decides Against War.

Constantinople, Jan. 15.—The Turkish government accepts the Austro-Hungarian offer of 2,500,000 pounds Turkish ($10,800,000) indemnity for the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, thus removing every possibility of war. The grand vizier, Kiamil Pasha, received Marquis Pallavicini the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, and notified him of the decision of the council ministers.

Sacrifices Self To Free Brother.

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Matilda Fletcher Wiseman, wife of Rev. N. A. Wiseman founder and for many years pastor of Grace church at Des Moines, died here virtually sacrificing her life in a vain attempt to secure the release of her brother, George W Felts, from Joliet penitentiary where he is serving a life term for murder

MURDER; SUICID

FORMER ILLINOIS BANK EXAMINER COMMITS CRIME.

WOMEN DROWNED IN BAT

W. R. Seeley, a Former St. Joseph Mo., Banker, Suddenly Goes Insane in Seattle, Wash.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 18—W. Seeley, an attorney and former national bank examiner for Illinois under Controller of the Currency Eckels, his wife Mrs. Kate M. Seeley a member of the National Society the Daughters of the American Revolution, and his daughter, Miss Re Seeley, a student at the Universi of Washington, and a member Delta Gamma society, were fou dead in a bathroom of their house the fashionable Capital Hill distri yesterday. The victims had be dead since the previous Thursda The women, each of whom was cl in night robes, had been murdered being struck on the head, evident with a hammer There was no ma of violence on Seeley. He is believ to have been partially chlorofo and then drowned in the bath tub. three were kneeling at the side the bath tub with their heads s merged in the water. A steam trunk was on the bodies of Seeley a his wife.

That Seeley killed his wife a daughter while insane over financ worries and then committed suici is the theory of the coroner and t police. He was clothed in his und wear, shoes and trousers. His nig gown, which was bloodstained fr the bodies of the two women, w found beneath a clean pillow in room occupied by him and his w The pillow on which Mrs. Seeley been sleeping was saturated w blood. The bodies were found by C M. Smeltzer, who was the fiance Miss Seeley, and E. R. Seibell, friend of the family. The fam could not be communicated with a 9 o'clock Thursday night, w Swelser talked over the phone w Miss Seeley. Although keeping the appearance of prosperity. See had been forced to borrow money his last month's house rent from W. Wilshire, an attorney from wh he rented desk room in the New Y Life building. No articles of jewe or anything of value was taken fr the house. Every window and d was securely locked.

FUSILLADE ON A TRAIN.

Man Fatally Wounds Stranger Ting to Free Brother.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 18.—A s cial from Fort Smith says: Enter the car of an Iron Mountain tr here in which his brother, Gra Quinn, sat handcuffed to Police ficer Burgess of this city, who w taking Quinn to Little Rock to turned over to the military auth ties as a deserter, Lee Quinn open fire on the officer, Burgess return the fire and several of the passeng came to his assistance. Quinn af emptying his pistol jumped from train and escaped. During the fu lade one of the passengers, Ir Brassfield of Mulberry, Ark., recei what is believed will prove a f wound.

SEND BUILDING MATERIAL.

Secretary Newberry Outlines Re of Sufferers.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—Sec tary of the Navy Newberry was his desk yesterday completing t general administration program for sending to Italy building mater for the construction of a large nu ber of small houses to shelter ear quake sufferers The first vessel be loaded will be the Eva. It estimated that she will hold enou material for about seven hundr houses. She will be ready to s today. Within three weeks, it is pected to have all the vessels load and on their way to Italy. In ad tion to the Eva, four or five oth vessels will be chartered as the g ernment intends to send enough m terial for from 2,500 to 3,000 hous

LIEUT. GOVERNOR QUITS.

Illinois Executive Hands in His Res nation.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 18.—On t eve of the expiration of his term lieutenant governor of Illinois, Jud Lawrence Y. Sherman sent his res nation to Governor Deneen. Jud Sherman will be unable to be pr ent at the inaugural ceremonies, b cause of an important law cas which demands his presence in Peor and this is given as his reason f resigning. In his absence Senator C. Pemberton, the retiring preside pro tem, will preside over the ear morning session of the senate a will officiate in the inaugural pr gramme.

State Capital Gossip

Many Items of Interest from Our Correspondent at Des Moines.

Great Law Force.

Des Moines.—In an address in this city, Attorney General Byers made the following statement:

We have in the state at this time about 3,000 constables, 99 sheriffs with from 125 to 150 deputies; we have 800 mayors and city marshals. Hundreds of policemen; we have 99 county attorneys with a grand jury in every county with 55 district judges; we have a supreme court, an attorney general and numerous state inspectors. What a tremendous power for the enforcement of the criminal laws of the state this great force would be if properly organized and if every man from the lowest to the highest could be made to perform his whole duty. Without opportunity to closely observe the workings of the law enforcing officers of this state the task may seem impossible; to me it is simple enough. Let the legislature make the governor or some other officer or state department, responsible for the conduct of peace officers, mayors and prosecuting attorneys by lodging with him the power to remove these officers, upon proper complaint, and after full hearing; and then establish a harmonious working relation between all of the law enforcing officers of the state with the power of supervision lodged with the head of the department of justice and the thing is accomplished, or as nearly so as it is possible with human instrumentalities.

Frame A New Tariff Law.

Governor Carroll has received applications for appointment as delegates from Iowa to the national tariff commission convention which will be held at Indianapolis, Feb. 16, 17 and 18, and he expects soon to announce his appointments in accordance with the request made recently by a number of prominent associations of manufacturers and jobbers in their formal call for the convention. Iowa is entitled to eleven delegates, one representing each of the congressional districts, to be named by the governor. The mayors of cities have also been asked to appoint delegates, as have all commercial or other organizations favorable to the plan for which the convention is called Senate Committee Clerks.

Although unlooked-for, the row that has been brewing over senate committee clerks was precipitated in the upper house by a motion of Senator Gilliland. After the Mills county senator had opposed the concurrent resolution providing for adjournment from Thursday evening until Tuesday morning unsuccessfully, he made a motion that no committee clerks be sworn in until after the senate reconvened following the recess. After a sharp debate further consideration of the motion was postponed upon motion of Senator Peterson until after the house of representatives was heard from on the concurrent resolution. Senator Saunders opposed the motion.

Ellis Presents First Bill.

Representative Ellis, of Jackson, sprung House File No. 1, the first bill introduced at the Thirty-third General Assembly. It is a measure providing that the state appropriate $1,500 to remove the remains of former Governor Ansel Briggs from Omaha to Andrew, Jackson county, and that a monument be erected. Briggs was the first governor of Iowa, serving from 1846 to 1850. He is buried in a cemetery at Omaha, where his grave is not given attention. A similar bill was introduced at the last session but did not emerge from the committee.

Larger Salaries for Many Officers.

Representative Henry H. Boettger of Davenport has begun work on bills to raise the salaries of county officers. His first bill, increasing the per diem pay of township officers from $2 to $3, is completed and will be introduced soon. Township trustees, clerks and assessors are affected by this measure. All these officers now get $2 per diem for as many days as their services are required. Mr. Boettger believes they should be paid enough to make it worth while for good men to do this work. Other bills to increase the maximum for county officers and their clerks are being worked out by Mr. Boettger.

Chairmen of Senate Committees.

Ways and Means, Smith of Mitchell; judiciary, Dowell of Polk; appropriations, Maytag; railroads, Saunders; agriculture, Bruce; schools, Allen of Pocahontas; public health, Clark; cities and towns, Gilliland; banks, Stuckslager; insurance, Whipple; telegraphs, Mattes; corporations, Sammis; suppression of intemperance, Cosson; labor, Hunter; highways, Nichols; elections, Peterson; libraries, Savage; charitable institutions, Smith of Des Moines; printing, Larrabee; mines, Fitzpatrick; constitutional amendments, Burgess; congressional and judicial districts, Van Law; senatorial and representative districts, Bennett; military, Brown; compensation public officers, Seely; pharmacy, McCullagh; commerce and retail trade, Gates; penitentiaries, Allen of Van Buren; public builders, Frudden; horticulture, Taylor; fish and game, Francis; rules, Balkema; public lands, Wilson; engrossed bills, McMannus; enrolled bills, Adams.

Report The Baby Or Pay Fine.

Fond papas must make a report of the birth of a son or daughter to the district or county registrar of births, if a bill prepared for passage by the Thirty-third general assembly is acted upon favorably. And if papa, or mamma, or some other responsible person does not make the report and pay the filing fee of 50 cents, there will be a fine of from $10 to $200 or a jail sentence of sixty days, or both, as a penalty. All these things are provided in the measure that has been written by Dr. Louis J. Thomas, secretary of the state board of health, and he will ask the passage of the bill in order that the state's vital statistics may be complete. At present the physician in attendance is expected to report all births, but Dr. Thomas says this is a very unsatisfactory plan for the reason that the doctors are not prompt and often fail altogether to make their reports.

Reservoirs at Glenwood.

In the efforts which the state board has put forth to secure a supply of pure water for the state institution for feeble minded at Glenwood one after another difficulty has been met, the latest confronting the board being the necessity for a filtration plant, the water which was finally located and diverted to the institution's use being found so full of iron as to be almost useless.

To render the water fit for all purposes two huge cisterns or reservoirs are being constructed which will be used as settling basins. They will cost about $66,000. Each cistern will have a capacity of 165,000 gallons, requiring the excavation of 3,000 cubic yards of earth. The construction is of cement, the walls being almost two feet thick. Almost a trainload of material will go into their construction, 320,000 pounds of cement and crushed rock being required.

Carroll Announces his Aides.

Announcement has been made of the appointees to be connected with the executive offices under Governor Carroll.

Private secretary—C. C. Nye of Des Moines.

Pardon clerk—Anna D. Cummins of Des Moines.

Requisition clerk—H. Wood of Sioux City.

General clerk—C. M. Snyder of Mount Pleasant.

Stenographer and clerk—Winifred P. Dobson of Des Moines.

Messenger—Thomas J. Bell of Sioux City.

First Senate Bill Introduced.

Senate file No. 1 will be known throughout the Thirty-third assembly as the insurance department bill. Senator C. C. Dowell of Polk county introduced the bill immediately after Governor Clarke had announced his appointments of committees. It went to the insurance committee. The bill carries provision for an insurance commissioner at $3,500 to be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate to have charge of the insurance supervision of the state. It is understood that the insurance companies are inclined to ask that the appointment be lodged with the executive council.

Carroll a Native Iowan.

B. F. Carroll is the first native born Iowan to be inaugurated governor of the state.

GOVERNOR CARROLL

IOWA'S NEW EXECUTIVE ADDRESSES THE ASSEMBLY.

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Calls the Attention of the Law Makers of Iowa to Needed Legislation.

Members of the Thirty-first General Assembly and Fellow Citizens of Iowa.

Conscious of the great responsibility that has been placed upon me by having been elected as your chief executive, I have taken this most solemn obligation required by our constitution and laws, and through the help of Divine Providence and by your aid and assistance I shall endeavor to fulfill it to the utmost of my ability. Fully realizing that to assume the duties of governor of our state is no light or trivial undertaking, I most solemnly implore the guidance of an over-ruling Providence and earnestly request the co-operation of all the people of our commonwealth to the end that I may succeed in giving you an administration that shall result in the greatest good to our citizens, and in promoting and advancing the many interests of our state. Notwithstanding the duties and responsibilities that must be assumed, I am, nevertheless, profoundly grateful for the high honor that has been conferred upon me.

Take no Backward Steps.

That great and substantial progress has been made in the direction of corporation regulation, I believe all will agree, but there is much yet to be done. There is, however, in all reform as in all periods of unusual prosperity, great danger of reaction. What shall we have accomplished if after all the effort that has been put forth, both by the state and the nation, to bring about reforms along the lines suggested, with all the attendant agitation and interference with business conditions necessarily resulting therefrom, we are to slacken our energy or lessen our efforts to secure better regulation and control of corporate interests.

The question of the right and duty of the state to regulate and control, not only its own corporations, but those seeking to do business within its borders, is so well established as not to need any argument in its support.

How to Amend the Laws.

We have recently had all of the laws passed since 1897 codified and printed in the form of a Supplement to the Code. This codification reveals the fact that in a number of instances amendments to the laws were attempted, which by reason of improper references, are of questionable validity I desire to submit for your consideration the inquiry as to whether it would not be wise and desirable in amending any section of the law that the section be rewritten as it would appear when amended. By this means there is, in reality, a codification of the laws brought down to date of last amendment.

Primary Election Law.

The last regular session of the General Assembly enacted a law providing that all nominations for state, congressional, legislative and county offices, except for judges of the various courts, shall be made by a vote of the people at a primary election to be held in the month of June of the year in which a general election is to be held.

There is one thing, that causes me to fear that the statute may not meet with final approval, that is, the apparent inability of the voter to acquaint himself with the candidates, especially for the minor state officers and those below the head of the ticket.

There seems to be some grounds for the belief that the candidate whose name appears first among the list of candidates does secure some advantage over others. If this be true and a reasonable means can be found whereby to obviate the difficulty it should be done, as all candidates should so far as is possible, stand upon absolutely equal footing.

Each county should meet the expense of its own primary the same as it does the expense of the general election. By such means better economy will be observed and less friction in the payment of claims will follow.

I am impressed with the idea, also, that perhaps June is not the best month in the year for holding the primary. I am inclined to believe that March would be a more satisfactory time.

Simplify the Ballot.

I believe the method of voting should be such that it can be accomplished with ease rather than with effort and that every voter should decide for himself as to whether he desires to vote a straight or a mixed ticket, and once having decided the question he should be enabled to carry out his wishes in the easiest and most expeditious manner. I know of no way to provide him such means better than to restore the circle to the ballot.

Tariff Revision.

Our people are not only in harmony with the declaration of the party platform upon the subject of tariff, but they are in accord with the President and with Congress in the enactment of the many reform measures that have found their way into the statute books of the nation in recent years, and there is a sincere desire that such additional laws be enacted as are necessary to make these statutes more effective.

Protect Our Resources.

It is possible that our people, without stopping to consider the matter, do not fully realizes the relation of our state to the very important and far reaching subject of conserving our resources and its bearing upon our future welfare. We have well nigh reached the period already at which our forests are gone. Our supply of coal, while apparently almost inexhaustable, is being mined at an enormous rate and it is apparent that in some parts of the state, at least, the soil is not being protected as it should. However, the waste of the soil itself is scarcely more subject to criticism than is the waste of the products of the soil. Frugality and the absence of it clearly mark the difference between the successful and the unsuccessful man. Especially is this true of them who reside upon the farms. The former who plows the corners, cultivates the fence rows, houses the machinery, shelters the live stock and leaves no forage or grain to waste in the fields is the man who usually has a bank account. Our people will have learned a great lesson, taken a great step in advance when they shall have reached the conclusion that it is more profitable to farm fewer acres and do it better. Landlordism is no particular advantage to our country. While there can be no objection to a man who does not reside upon a farm owning a reasonable number of acres, the owning of the farm by the man who tills it should be encouraged. The marked improvement, however, in farming and all kinds of agricultural pursuits in recent years is very gratifying and furnishes ample proof of the fact that there are still greater things in store for the future.

A Commission on Conservation of Natural Resources.

It has been suggested that a commission be created for the purpose of studying the natural resources of the state and recommending to the people such measures as may be employed to conserve those which are in danger of being exhausted and to develope those whose power and usefulness have remained latent, but which by proper effort might be brought into use. Especially is it desirable that careful consideration be given to the possibility of utilizing some of the larger streams of the state as a means of transportation and for furnishing power for the generating of electricity and the running of machinery thereby serving the double purpose of not only furnishing power and convenience in transportation, but also, indirectly protecting the coal fields and other natural resources of the state.

I believe that the commercial organizations of the various cities of the state which have already taken up the study of the conservation and development of our natural resources, would be glad to concentrate their efforts and contribute of their funds toward the maintenance of such a commission if the state will lend its moral influence and support to the proposition. It has, therefore, occurred to me that it might be profitable to consider the creation of a commission on conservation and development of natural resources, which should consist of at least five members, each of the five largest commercial clubs or business men's associations of various cities of the state naming one member, the expense of the members and of the commission to be borne by the association represented, or it might be advisable to permit each club of the state desiring membership in such commission to name one member, if the club is willing to bear its share of the expense as above provided. I would not, however, deem it wise that the membership of the commission exceed ten or fifteen at most.

A Merchant Marine.

In my judgment our nation needs to be thoroughly aroused to the necessity for the re-establishment of a merchant marine. While we have been making great and rapid progress in almost every line or branch of trade, industry or business enterprize, we have signally failed as to a merchant marine. Some obvious reason exist why this nation has not been able to compete with other nations in the matter of shipping upon the high seas.

I am not arguing for ship subsidies. I hope some other solution to the question can be found. The necessity for the establishment of this great enterprise is all that I am considering.

Domestic Commerce.

I want to commend the action of the commercial clubs, not only of our capital city, but of other cities of the state, in their efforts to learn the facts as to discriminations and to remove any existing disadvantages to our people. I trust that you, as members of the General Assembly, will interest yourselves in these matters and if you find additional legislation needed to protect our interests along the lines above suggested, such legislation should be promptly enacted.

Public Utilities Commission.

The question of the establishment of a commission to regulate and control the public utilities of the state has been discussed to a greater or less extent by some of our people and is, in my judgment, a subject worthy of your careful consideration.

This whole subject is one far reaching in its effect and of great importance to all of our people. In my judgment its consideration cannot and should not be ing deferred. I believe that it is entitled now to your most thoughtful consideration.

A Revenue Commission.

It is proposed that a commission be appointed for the purpose of making a study of the question of revenues and taxation, which commission shall report to the next session of the General Assembly a bill embodying a proposed new law upon the question of taxation. Our past experience with such a commission has not been very satisfactory, the report of one or more such commissions having been rejected by the legislature, but the magnitude and importance of an attempted revision of the revenue laws is such that in my judgment it could not, with satisfaction, be accomplished during a regular session of the legislature unless the preparation of the bill is made during a recess.

Revision of School Laws.

The Thirty-second General Assembly created a commission to consider and report to this session of the legislature, a proposed revision of the entire school laws of the state. The work has been done and the report is now before you for consideration.

The Auditor's Office.

Having recently retired from the office of Auditor of State, I trust that you will not deem it improper if I make a few observations as to the affairs of that office. It is generally recognized, not only by our own people, but by all those who are acquainted with the various interests now supervised by the Auditor, as being one of the very important offices of the state. I know from experience, that the enormous amount of work connected with the various departments makes it almost impossible for anyone to familiarize himself with all the details of the office and with the law with reference thereto, so as to know when the several departments are being properly managed and supervised.

I can say to you with assurance that I know whereof I speak, that neither time nor human endurance makes it possible for any man to personally supervise the auditing department, the revenue department, the insurance department, the banking department, the municipal accounting department and to serve as a member of the Executive Council with the enormous amount of business now connected with each of the branches of the Auditor's office and the rapid increase in the business of each and all of them. I say it is impossible for any man to do all of the above without great injustice to himself or to some of the various interests of the state entrusted to his care. I do not now care to pursue this discussion to the extent of suggesting how relief should be given to this department of our state government. That I shall leave for you to consider, but I am deeply in earnest as to the necessity for some action to be taken with reference thereto.

Fees and Ped Diem.

I have for a long time believed that in so far as it becomes possible the per diem and fee systems or compensation should be abolished. The more I observe the workings of each the more thoroughly I become convinced that they are wrong.

I believe that in almost every instance where the per diem system now prevails the scope of the work to be performed is such that it can readily be determined what would be a reasonable compensation therefor and that in all such cases a fixed salary should be provided.

Documents and Printing.

In my judgment, your committee on printing should look carefully into the question of the number of reports and documents that are now provided for in order to determine whether or not an unnecessarily large number of some of them is not now printed, also, to see if the demand for some kinds of reports and documents may not have increased so as to make it desirable that a larger number be supplied.

Law Enforcement.

Laws ought to be enforced, they should be strictly enforced. If perchance they be too drastic, let them be amended, but let them at all times be obeyed. Laxness in law enforcement leads to a disregard for the law itself and to disrespect for and distrust of public officials. In the main, I believe the people will be given just such official service as they demand.

Legislative Responsibility.

Members of the General Assembly in closing I want to assure you that I fully appreciate the important position of the legislator, as I have been privileged to occupy a seat in your honorable body. No greater responsibility rests upon any official than the responsibility resting upon the men who make the laws. The executive or administrative officer who is faithful to duty will carry into effect the laws which he finds upon the statute books. Therefore, the responsibility of determining the effect of a statute should rest with the legislature.

Our people are justly proud of our state and of its institutions and we should write it upon the tablets of our hearts and emblazon it upon our banners that in comparison with other states and with the institutions of other states there shall be none better than our own.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Camden, N.J.— "It is with pleasure that I add my testimonial to your already long list—hoping that it may induce others to avail themselves of this valuable medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from terrible headaches, pain in my back and right side, was tired and nervous, and so weak I could hardly stand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health and made me feel like a new person, and it shall always have my praise." —Mrs. W. P. VALENTINE, 902 Lincoln Avenue, Camden, N. J.

Gardiner, Me.— "I was a great sufferer from a female disease. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me in three months."— Mrs. S. A. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner Me.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

Teacher's Orders.

"Here, ma!" requested the boy, hurrying in from school before time; "hang my jacket up behind the stove."

"Is it wet?"

"No; but teacher sent me home to tell you to warm my jacket for me!"—Judge.

Wagner Fooled the Critics.

Here is a story of Wagner's visit to London in 1855: After the first Philharmonic concert the critics reproached him for conducting a Beethoven symphony without the score. At the second concert, to satisfy his audience, Wagner had a "partition" on his desk, which he frequently consulted. The critics declared the improvement was marked. The score, however, was Rossini's "Barbier de Seville."

He Wouldn't Sell.

The owner of a small country estate decided to sell his property, and consulted an estate agent in the nearest town about the matter. After visiting the place the agent wrote a description of it, and submitted it to his client for approval.

"Read that again," said the owner, closing his eyes and leaning back in his chair contentedly.

After the second reading he was silent a few moments, and then said, thoughtfully: "I don't think I'll sell. I've been looking for that kind of a place all my life, but until you read that description I didn't know I had it! No, I won't sell now."—Exchange.

HER MOTHER-IN-LAW

Proved a Wise, Good Friend.

A young woman out in Ia. found a wise, good friend in her mother-in-law, jokes notwithstanding. She writes:

"It is two years since we began using Postum in our house. I was greatly troubled with my stomach, complexion was blotchy and yellow. After meals I often suffered sharp pains and would have to lie down. My mother often told me it was the coffee I drank at meals. But when I'd quit coffee I'd have a severe headache.

"While visiting my mother-in-law I remarked that she always made such good coffee, and asked her to tell me how. She laughed and told me it was easy to make good 'coffee' when you use Postum.

"I began to use Postum as soon as I got home, and now we have the same good 'coffee' (Postum) every day, and I have no more trouble. Indigestion is a thing of the past, and my complexion has cleared up beautifully.

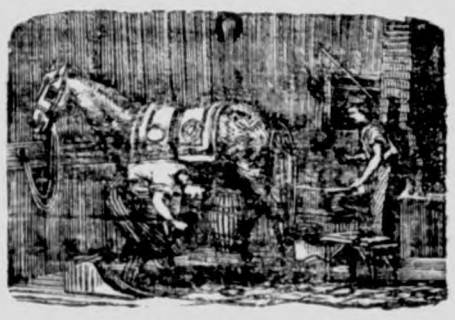
"My grandmother suffered a great deal with her stomach. Her doctor told her to leave off coffee. She then took tea but that was just as bad.

"She finally was induced to try Postum which she has used for over a year. She traveled during the winter over the greater part of Iowa, visiting, something she had not been able to do for years. She says she owes her present good health to Postum."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Something doing in this space next week.



J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING

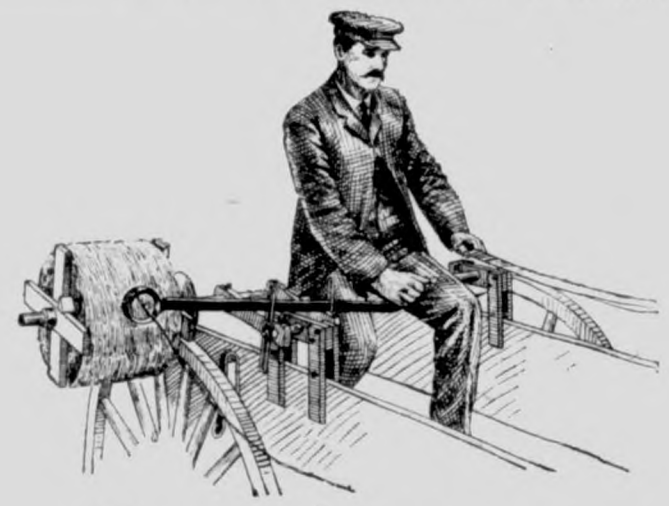
HORSE SHOEING A

SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL



Farm Machinery.

Yes Sir! We mean just what we say. "A penna saved means a penna earned" and you can do this by going to H. Lau & Son and buy you a first-class "A Grade Surrey" and top buggy and Dane mower and Dane hay loaders, buckers, stackers, 20 century Kemp manure spreaders. You can also buy cultivator plows, binders, mowers, hay rakes, Jones scales, harnesses, flynets, lap dusters, whips, oils of all kinds, tile spades, barb and smoot wires, fence stapels and other farm implements. Royal Tailors tight fit suits. They will keep style and collor, fit guaranteed.

H. Lau & Son.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.

WHAT IMPRESSED THE RUSSIAN.

American Gastronomical Delicacy Had Appealed to Him.

Recently a member of the Russian revolutionary party, who had been through all sorts of exciting vicissitudes in his native country, was on a visit to the United States.

Wishing to be polite to him and talk on those subjects nearest the Russian's heart a gentleman who met him asked all sorts of questions about the Douma, the Czar, dynamite, and everything else which he adjudged interesting to the foreigner.

Then, when he could think of nothing more about Russia, he turned the conversation in this direction:

"I suppose that you find America a striking contrast to your own country—full of liberty and respect for everybody's rights. It must seem peculiar to you to note how little the government interferes with citizens as they go about their daily work. And the absence of soldiers—that must strike you as strange after Russia. I feel sure that it must. Tell me, sir, what is it that you like best about America?"

The Russian's eyes lighted up.

"Waffles," he replied.

DINER KNEW WAITER'S TRICKS.

Had No Intention of Paying for Other's Carelessness.

When the three men sat down the leader of the trio began a minute inspection of the tablecloth. Presently he put his finger on several little scorched spots.

"See this?" he said to the waiter.

"Yes, sir."

"Well," said the man, "just bear in mind, won't you, that these holes were here when we came in, and when we get through don't tack a dollar onto our bill to pay for burned table linen."

"That's all right," said the waiter. "I'll look out for that."

The order having been given the cautious diner elucidated his remarks still further. "That is a trick those fellows have," he said. "Somebody burns the tablecloth with sparks from a cigar and gets away before the damage is discovered, and the next comer, if he happens to be a smoker, is blamed for his predecessor's sins, and is charged with the cost of the linen. I have had to pay well for other people's carelessness, so nowadays I make it a point to examine tablecloths at the beginning of a meal."

Splitting the Difference.

When jurymen in Stony Gulch disagree, there is usually some member whose influence, backed by his recognized "handiness" with a gun, carries the day. "Some thought he'd ought to get $3,000 damage, and some thought $4,000," said Bud Lewis, referring to a recent case, "but I persuaded 'em to compermise."

"Indeed!" said the stranger, with a wary eye on Mr. Lewis' gun, which he seemed to be fondling in rather a careless way. "What sort of compromise?"

"I put it to 'em, 'Why not split the difference and call it $500?' And when I'd brought my reason to bear on 'em," said Bud, with a loving gaze at his weapon of defense, "they all come round to that compermise in no time." Youths' Companion.

A Thirteenth Century Drink.

Thirteenth century tastes in food had few limitations. Besides the "fowl of Africa and the rare gadwit of Ionia" mentioned by Fitzstephen, gourmets in the time of King John used to regale themselves on herons, cranes, crows, storks, cormorants and bitterns. Some would wash their meals down with wine, but the majority drank mead or metheglin. Mead, according to Holinshed, was only the washing of the combs after the honey had been taken from them, and so poor a beverage that it had to be spiced, peppered or made palatable with sweetbriar or thyme. But metheglin contained one hundredweight of honey to 24 gallons of water, and must have been much more intoxicating than the strongest old ale of the present day.

How an Alaska Hunter Got a Bear.

Joe Kanaka, a Jap, was in pursuit of large game a few days ago in the vicinity of Knik. Instead of being armed with a thirty-thirty or any firearm he carried only a coil of rope. Seeing a black bear feeding near a prospector's trail he sprang upon the bear's back and quickly had a noose of the rope around Bruin's neck.

The Jap held to one end of the rope and succeeded in tangling the bear in its coils, but the bear tore Kanaka's clothing to shreds. When the bear was thoroughly tangled the Jap beat him into submission and led him into Knik.—Valdez Prospector.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iow

German M. E. Church Items

F. C. Griewe is filling his ice house this week.

Mother Friedow was on the sick list the first of the week.

Rev. C. A. Schuldt was canvassing nursery stock among our farmers in Germantown this week.

Horace Merten who teaches in district No. 4, attended the revival meetings one evening.

Both Sunday schools will elect delegates next Sunday to attend the convention to be held in Garner, March 1-4.

Mrs. Smoker of Vincent, a schoolmate of Anna Griewe during their college days, is visiting at the Griewe mansion.

We are glad to report that Henry Luedeke is improving nicely in the Iowa City hospital. His sister Sarah is expected home this week.

Mrs. H. Griewe suffered severe pain all of last week in her shoulders, neck and head, caused by a fall several weeks previous.

W. J. Schmidt has a little lumbering camp of his own these days. He is felling all of the poplar trees on his place. Later he will have them sawed into lumber.

Carl Wellemeyer is loading his household goods in Garner to-day. He will ship them to Greely, which is the nearest railroad point to his destination. We regret the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Wellemeyer from our midst.

The revival meetings in Germantown are still in progress. Tho' the weather has been anything but favorable and we have had all sizes of audiences, the interest has steadily been increasing. They will likely be concluded with this week.

The old saying is, if you want anything done you must get a busy person to do it. This is verified by a man in Canton, O. who is the janitor of one of the public schools. His work requires him to labor from five in the morning until nine at night five days in the week and on Saturdays he clerks in a clothing store. Yet he has found time to organize an adult Bible class of 135 members of which he is teacher.

Our Germantown Sunday school is making a special effort this year to increase the interest and attendance of the adult classes. Some of the teachers have organized their classes and elected a secretary, treasurer, field secretary and are getting down to thorough work. This is in line with the new movement all over America. Let us get away from the idea that the Sunday school is for children only. There are now more than 2300 organized adult Bible classes in the State of Iowa. Kossuth Co. leads with 124 classes.

Fred Fluhrer is visiting Germantown relatives this

Rev. C. A. Schuldt pr in the Germantown church day evening.

Miss Minnie Markham, elementary grade worker speak in Klemme in the G E. church this evening Sunday school workers the churches should atte

IDEAS FOR THE HOSTE

Some Novel and Simple Ways tertain Guests.

A Handkerchief Shower.

This affair for a prospecti was arranged in a very clever Twelve intimate friends were to luncheon with the request the gift "mouchoir" rolled up smallest package possible. B ing to the dining-room the took all the packages and disa When luncheon was announc one voice the guests exclaim pretty." Suspended from the lier there was an inverted umbrella, from each rib ther smaller umbrella and from t by ribbons there was a gilde ing can the sprinkler of whic holes with baby ribbons of colors coming out. At the en ribbon there was a tightly ro age. The effect was lovely. cards were miniature "Jap" with the cards tied to the The candle shades were or with these same tiny paras small lanetrns filled with puffed rice were at each pla mint sherbert, which was the had smilax twined around glass with another little um the top of the glass.

THE CHILDREN LI KENNEDY'S LAXA COUGH SYRU

Good Old Stock.

"Have ye anny ancisters, ly?" asked Mrs. O'Brien.

"An' what's ancisters?"

"Why, people you shprung

"Listen to me, Mrs. O'Bri Mrs. Kelly, impressively. "I the rale stock of Donah shpring from nobody. The at thim!"

NOTICE.

In the District Court of County, Iowa. Febr Term, 1909.

In the matter of the Application of George A. Pabst to buy, keep and sell intoxicating liquors for lawful purposes only.

To Whom it May Concer

Notice is hereby given th plication of George A. Pab istered pharmacist No. 7 business under the firm George A. Pabst & Co., pra permit to buy, keep and s cating liquors for lawful only in the first story and of the frame building situat One (1) in Block Eleven Original Town of Klemme County, Iowa, will be on office of the Clerk of the Court of Hancock County. or before the 4th day of Feb D., 1909, and that said appli come on for hearing at the term of said Court to be held at the Court House in said County, on the 15th da ruary, A. D., 1909.

Dated this 6th day of Ja D., 1909.

GEO. A. P

24-3

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	45 to 52c
Oats	43 to 46c
Wheat	65 to 95c
Barley	50 to 55c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	4.75 to 5.75
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Do not forget to read State Savings ad.

Oysters direct from Baltimore at Kluckhohn's.

Jan. 22 Both programme and supper for 25c. The R. N. A.

We call your attention to the G A. Pabst & Co. new ad. this week.

R. N. A. programme and oyster supper at Opera House, Jan. 22.

The weather the past few days has been warmer with a heavy fog this Thursday.

Mrs. A. B. Shafer and Mrs. Lemon and son were at Garner Tuesday visiting friends.

H. C. Lau, our north elevator man, has a change of ad in this issue which he cal's your attention to read.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

A City Marshal is an officer that this town is very much in need of. One was very much needed the other evening.

The Farmers Institute will be held at Britt, Jan. 26-27, in Garner, Jan. 28-29. All farmers and others should attend these meetings. Many good subjects will be discussed.

To have good health live long and happy, follow the advise of the greatest health specialist—take a physic once a week Do this and you won't know what a sick day is. Hollister's rocky mountain tea the safest physic. 35c. G A Pabst & Co.

Jim Carothers of Garner, has the contract for filling the F. C. Griewe ice house. John Henschen and Louis Sampson are doing the artistic work inside. The ice is 18 inches thick and is nice and clean.

Our Twin Lake correspondent has been writing regular of late and good news at that. We will be obliged to make a change with some of our correspondents if we do not hear from them within the next two weeks.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets, Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

There's a dandy ad of the State Savings Bank.

Fresh oysters always on hand at Kluckhohn's. tf.

Miss Grace McKee of Garner, visited at the J. W. Scott family over Sundav.

Wm. Bachman of Avery township, is erecting a barn. Dimensions will be 64x44

R. N. A. will give a programme and oyster supper at Opera House, Jan. 22nd.

H. Thiemann, Aug. Barz, Herman Schuldt and Fred Haupt were at Garner on Monday.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

Read the market report. Bring your produce to Klemme and receive the highest market price.

This office would be pleased to receive quite a few renewals on the Times the first of the year. We need the money.

Last Tuesday Prof. Houghton was installed Foreman of Homestead No. 1084 of Brotherhood of American Yeomen.

Friday a few inches of snow fell and Saturday the farmers took advantage of it and came to town in their bob sleighs.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Johnson, relatives of Lew Lewis and family arrived last week Saturday from Balaton, Minn. for a week's visit.

We call your attention to the Elmer Ludeke ad. at head of local page. He has what you want in the line of clothing and guarantees a fit.

Frank Kluckhohn attended Oddfellows Lodge at Goodell last week and was installed as Warden by J. L. Manuel of Britt the D. D. G. M.

The healing, soothing refreshing action of Hollister's rocky mountain tea cleanses and regulates the bowls, tones and purifies the stomach, increases nerve force. Makes you well keeps you well. Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co

Terhufen Bros. will be heard from in a space ad. in next week's issue. If their goods arrive tn time they expect to open up for business sometime next week.

There will be a Programme and Basket Social at the M. Palmby school house two miles east of Klemme on Tuesday evening Jan. 22nd. Ladies are requested to bring baskets. All are cordially invited to attend.
Gertrude Parker, Teacher.

NOTICE—I am prepared to teach tapestry painting, new Mexican pigment painting also pyrography or burnt wood at the house. Ladies please call.
24-2 Mrs. J. Josten.

There will be a Basket Social January 29, 1909 at the Newberger School four miles east of town. A good humorous program is being prepared. All come and give us a hearty support.
25-2 Laila M. Reed, Teacher.

PRESIDENT HELPS ORPHANS.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the President of the Industrial and Orphan's Home at Macon, Ga. who writes: We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for stomach liver and kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth. It invigorates the vital organs purifies the blood aids digestion creates appetite. To strengthen and build up thin pale weak children or run down people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Aug. Wenz did business at Garner on Wednesday.

F. A Arnold transacted business at Garner on Monday.

C. C Suckow and Fred Henschen were Garner visitors on Monday.

O. E. Carlson will farm the Chas. Schroeder farm the coming season.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

Mrs. C. H. Mann of Garner, visited with her son and family over Sunday.

Frank Kluckhohn visited with his—well, cousin, at Bancroft over Sunday.

Elko Buss who has been visiting at Ackley, Waterloo and Iowa Falls, returned Saturday.

W. R. Bloom shipped one car load of hogs and H. Lau one car load of hogs Sunday morning.

Pocahontas smokeless coal at the North Elevator. It's good stuff. Try it. 1w

Miss Grace Blank left Monday for Wilmont, Minn. where she will visit her brother Will and family.

J. Baumgaertner and E. G. Ell left Wednesday evening for Dows where they are taking in the poultry show.

H Schroeder shipped two car loads of cattle from Forest City to Chicago on Sunday morning Henry went along.

C. J. Kraus who has been confined to his house the past two months with rheumatism, was seen on our streets Saturday.

Makes rich, red blood, restful sleep builds strong healthy tissue—steady nerves, perfect digestion and assimilation. Keeps you well and happy. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co.

FOR SALE—My 6 H. P. gasoline engine. Will trade same for a good horse.
25 2 C. J. Kraus.

Joe Johnson shipped three car loads of cattle from Klemme Sunday morning. Joe Johnson, Aug. Arvidson and Chas. Anderson went along.

CAME NEAR CHOKING TO DEATH.

A little boy the son of Chris. D. Peterson a well known resident of the village of Jacksonville, Iowa had a sudden and violent attack of croup. Much thick stringy phlegm came up after giving chamberlain's cough remedy. Mr. Peterson says: I think he would have choked to death had we not given him this remedy. For sale by G A Pabst & Co.

Twin Lake School Dist. No. 1.

Report for month ending Jan. 15, 1909:

Number enrolled	30
Average attendance	25

The following were neither absent nor tardy:
Edwin Josten
Emil Lau
Fred Etchen
Ben Schwichtenberg
John Swalve
Vida Houghton
Elsie Josten
Clara Swalve
Lena Swaloe

Fred Haupt, J. D. G. Houghton,
Director. Teacher.

DON'T GET A DIVORCE.

A western judge granted a divorce on account of ill-temper and bad breath. Dr King's New life pills would have prevented it. They cure consumption, causing bad breath and liver trouble the ill-temper, dispel colds, banish headaches, conquer the chills. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

Chris. Hansen	Goodell
C. J. Kraus	Klemme
J. D. Bachman	Goodell

A HORRIBLE HOLD-UP.

About ten years ago my brother was held up in his work health and happiness by what was believed to be hopeless cousumption writes W. R. Lipscomb of Washington, N. C. He took all kinds of remedies and treatment from several doctors but found no help till he used Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles. He is a well man today. It's quick to relieve and the surest cure for weak or sore lung hemorrhages coughs and cold bronchitis lagrippe asthma and all bronchial affections. 50c and $100. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

Twin Lake.

Miss Hulda Stiehl visited over Sunday at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tanner were in Garner last Friday.

Ida Schwichtenberg is sewing for Mrs Wm. Nuehring this week.

Aug. Stille and family visited with Prull's and other relatives in Germantown on Sunday.

Have you noticed that John Tanner is all smiles these days? Why shouldn't he smile so long as the troubles are little ones. A new son arrived at their home on Monday. Mrs Aug. Stille and Flora Schoenwetter cared for the new comer. Those concerned are getting along nicely.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

BRAVE FIRE LADIES.

often receive severe burns putting out fires then use Bucklen's arnica salve and forget them. It soon drives out pain. For burns, scalds, wounds, cuts and bruises it earth's greatest healer. Quickly cures skin eruptions old sores, boils, ulcers, felons; best pile cure made. Relief is instant, 25c at G. A. Pabat & Co.

U.S. CREAM SEPARATOR

If you keep cows you need a U. S. Separator to make them yield the biggest profit. It will make the most money for you because it skims cleaner than any other separator. It will save you more than any other because it needs less time, labor and repairs to run it. Look a U. S. over for yourself. For sale by

ELI BROS.

The Child's Viewpoint.

Percy Alder, M. P., of London, told an amusing story of a small girl at a recent meeting of the Children's Happy Evenings association. The child had been sent away to the country for a holiday, and questioned as to what in all her holiday had pleased her most, this little slum maiden, whose London home adjoined a waste piece of land, replied: "Seeing no dead cats."

Birds Not Afraid of Man.

Among southern African birds which manifest wonderful tameness is the Cape wagtail, which not only penetrates to the living room in search of flies, but will pick them from the old Boer's velschoons as he sits on his stoep, and perch about his chair.

Let us be your Tailor

THE AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS Co, Chicago, Illinois.
Manufacturers of fine woolens and wholesale custom tailors.
We have a complete line of Spring and Summer up-to-date clothing made to order. 400 samples to select from. All I ask is to show you my samples. Satisfaction guaranteed. Represented by

ELMER LUDEKE
Klemme - - - Iowa

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Farmers wishing any butchering done, call on us.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER,
The Tonsorial Artist.
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank.
Callin.

California

Land of flowers, fruit and sunshine.
To make the journey worthy of its ending take the superb

Golden State Limited
VIA ROCK ISLAND LINES

Daily from Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City to Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and San Francisco.
Over the lowest-altitude and most southerly route to the Coast.
Through tourist sleeping cars via Colorado and via El Paso.
The quickest tourist service of any line to Southern California.

Full particulars, with rates of fare and illustrated California book from

Rock Island

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa.

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. Elise shared her stateroom with a Mrs. Graham, also bound for Canada. The young women on a sightseeing tour met Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented by the trio for the summer. Elizabeth learned that a friend of her father's was to call. Two men called, one of them being the queer-acting stranger on the steamer. The girls were "not at home," but discovered by the cards left that one of the men was Elizabeth's father's friend. The men proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett. The party was told of the search for smugglers in the vicinity of the cottage. Elise visited Mrs. Graham to find that her life was not the happiest. She learned that the Grahams and Lady Edith were acquainted. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. During a storm the young women heard a crash in the basement of the cottage and a moment later Mary Anne, their woman servant, entered, her arm bleeding. To assure them there was no danger, Mary Anne descended to the basement alone and quieted their fears. Lady Edith told the girls of a robbery of jewels at the hotel. Fearing for the safety of her own gems, she left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his queer actions, returned the lost bag and told of mysterious doings of a year before connected with the cottage. Exploring the cellar, one of the girls found a sphinx cuff-button, the exact counterpart of which both Gordon Bennett and Lady Edith were found to possess, also. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. The young women agreed to keep the secret. Lady Edith told a story of a lost love in connection with the sphinx key. Elise and Gordon Bennett discovered Lady Edith and Mr. Graham, the latter displaying a marvelous baritone voice.

CHAPTER X.—Continued.

"It is all very well for you to laugh," she remarked, "but you don't even know whether there is as much as a cracker in the house. I'll have to go to the village and see what I can find."

I really sympathized with Elizabeth and tried to show it in a practical manner.

"Suppose I do the marketing. I love poking round in those queer little shops."

"You'd buy whatever they told you," she returned, ungratefully, "and probably come home with a leg of mutton and a head of cabbage for a picnic supper. No—I'll send Mary Anne; that will be best of all."

Mary Anne, as usual, came nobly to the rescue.

"It's not the first supper I've spread on the rocks," she said, "and most likely it won't be the last. So rest easy, Miss Elizabeth, fur well I know how to purvide and there's nothin' to worrit yerself over at all. Though why folks should want to do sich things when they might set up at a table and eat like Christians, I can't fur the life of me make out."

Gabrielle repeated this speech as we sat around our fire that night and watched the waves break against the rocks, sending up little fountains of foam that sparkled in the moonlight. Her hands were clasped about her knees, and her hair glistened here and there where the spray had touched it.

"Of course," said Lord Wilfrid, "one could not expect the lower classes to understand the subtle fascination of an evening like this."

"Wilfrid knows so little of the lower classes," interposed Lady Edith; "wouldn't it be better, dear, to give them the benefit of a doubt? They may enjoy the beauties of nature in their own way, you know, although it is, of course, quite different from yours."

It was a very innocent little speech, laughingly uttered, yet Lord Wilfrid's face darkened disagreeably and he pulled his cap down over his eyes in a manner distinctly irritable. Evidently he brooked no criticism, however slight, and I wondered whether this was the effect of his illness or his natural disposition. His sister looked at him a moment, then turned to Elizabeth with a perfunctory remark about the beauty of the night. She never noticed his sulky moods, although they occurred quite often, and was always ready to respond with a smile or a cheerful word when he deigned to be pleasant again.

Elizabeth laid her hand on Lady Edith's with a caressing gesture. She said afterward that she was glad she had done it, for at the moment she quite hated Lord Wilfrid and knew from the way his sister's hand clasped hers that she needed sympathy.

They sat together upon a large flat rock with their backs against a higher boulder, while Mr. Blake and Mr. Graham sat at their feet, feeding the fire with bits of driftwood and casting appreciative glances at the picture just above them.

I thought Mr. Blake looked as though he envied Elizabeth and would have been quite willing to be sympathetic himself. I could not see Mr. Graham so distinctly, for his face was in the shadow, so I leaned forward a little that I might get a better view. As I did so I noticed that Mrs. Graham also was looking toward him and beyond him to the sea, her dark eyes widely opened and her lips slightly parted.

The fresh salt air had brought no touch of color to her face, which seemed even paler than usual in the white light as I followed the direction of her gaze, past the blazing fire, over the rocks, and out where the ocean stretched undulating into space. A broad silver path was spread directly opposite us, quivering with the incoming tide and sparkling here and there where the billows broke into little white-capped waves.

We Continued to Talk for Awhile in a Desultory Way.

"It is lovely, isn't it?" I said, thinking I understood her abstraction.

She turned toward me with a quick nervous movement.

"I beg your pardon, I'm afraid my thoughts were wandering."

I repeated my remark with the inane feeling such repetitions cause, and she replied with a repressed vehemence which the subject scarcely seemed to warrant.

"Lovely? Oh, no—not to me. Look beyond the little path of light to the interminable darkness, and think what lies beneath."

"Don't think," interposed Mr. Graham with his light laugh, "and don't look too far. There is where Mrs. Graham and I differ. She is always looking into and beyond—though she's awfully afraid of what she may discover. As for me, I prefer not to go below the surface; I'd rather float on those jolly little waves, for instance, than dive beneath them."

"And I," said Elizabeth, "would rather sit here and watch them than do either."

"I'm afraid you are not ambitious, Miss Elizabeth," said Mr. Bennett; "one must dive a bit if one considers the future."

"Who cares for the future?" interrupted Mr. Graham; "it is the present we live in, isn't it? The past is gone and not worth worrying about; the future will look out for itself; but the present—where we live and breathe, love and hate! Ah, that's the time for me, and I think I make the most of it. No one can accuse me of crying over spilt milk, or taking undue thought for the morrow, eh, Juliet?"

"No," she returned; "no, Harry."

She spoke dully and immediately lapsed into silence in a manner that provoked me. Mr. Graham frequently made such little jocular appeals to his wife, and always endeavored to include her in any merriment or general conversation that interested him. I thought she should respond, sometimes at least, and could understand what Gabrielle meant when she said she often had to resist an inclination suddenly to shake Mrs. Graham and see if she would then be roused from her usual apathetic indifference.

We continued to talk for a while in a desultory way, but as the moments passed we lapsed into silence and watched the water dash noisily over the rocks, for the surf was wonderfully fine that night. So we sat around our fire looking out upon the restless moonlit ocean and listening to the roar of the breakers as wave followed wave in quick succession, each thinking our own thoughts and no doubt carried by them beyond the distant horizon of our most cherished hopes and ambitions.

Of course I cannot answer for the others, but I know that I was at first oppressed by a sense of my own insignificance and then blissfully happy, content with the present moment and oblivious to the flight of time.

As I sat dreaming dreams so vague that they had no individuality but merged one into the other like mist into clouds, a little boat glided silently into the silver path. It came out of the darkness into the light with spread sails that glistened pearly white, and as it floated on the sparkling water it seemed to me a phantom ship upon an enchanted ocean. I watched it entranced, wishing I knew its destination and whence it came.

"It is your ship," said Gordon Bennett, "coming home to you."

I do not believe I was surprised when he spoke, for it was not the first time he had responded to my unuttered thought. He sat upon a lower boulder at my right, his cap in his hand, his hair powdered by occasional showers of spray from an especially large breaker, while Mrs. Graham at my left was wrapped in a shawl and hovering over the fire. His voice was scarcely more than a whisper as he continued:

"It is bringing you many treasures. Pearls beyond price—"

"Pearls mean tears," I interrupted.

"Not these pearls; they are gems of real joy, spotless in their purity and of great value. There are other jewels, too—rubies, emeralds, diamonds—and sapphires like your eyes."

"But I want my ship to bring me more than jewels."

"There are other things. Perfumes and spices from Araby the Blest, gold straight from the mines without alloy; and perhaps, Miss Elise, it may bring you the elixir of eternal youth. Would you like that?"

I had a quick vision of Gabrielle and Elizabeth wrinkled and palsied by age, while I was still quite young and kittenish.

"No," I said, "I do not want eternal youth."

"But I want it for you. I should like to think you would always look as you do to-night."

"Where has it been?" I chose to ignore the implied compliment.

"The ship? To the Land of Dreams, of course; and deep down in the hold beneath the jewels, I think it is bringing you—"

"What?"

"Ah, that is not for me to tell you. You must discover it yourself."

"Suppose," I remarked, "it happens to be your ship, not mine. What then?"

"It isn't my ship, Miss Elise. Mine is somewhere on the black water, but it has not reached the light as yet. I sent it out long ago, and sometimes I have thought it was lost."

"Wrecked?"

"So I feared. But just lately I have begun to believe it will come safely home. Sometimes I have even dreamed I could see it coming into port and bringing me—"

"What?"

"My heart's desire."

I wanted very much to ask him what it was, but something prevented. So I looked out over the rippling silver path and wished my ship was really coming home laden with treasures from the Land of Dreams.

I wondered, too, what I might discover hidden in the hold and whether I would be able to find it without assistance. The little boat, however, merely sailed on and I saw that it was going steadily away from me, taking with it my unknown treasures.

Gabrielle also had been watching it and presently voiced her theories.

"There goes the smuggler," she announced, as one having authority in such matters.

"He is taking Mrs. Bundy's emeralds," supplemented Elizabeth, "we ought to hope he will be wrecked."

"Do you wish it?"

"Why, no," Elizabeth hesitated; "no, Mr. Blake, I'm afraid I don't."

"Nor I," said Gabrielle; "somehow I can't help taking an interest in him. Every time I hear of a new lot of things being smuggled in I feel quite a thrill of relief. But I can't forgive the emeralds; he might have let the poor old woman alone."

"I suppose he could not resist them," said Lady Edith. "I have read somewhere that there is an irresistible impulse—"

"Could you understand such an impulse?" inquired Mr. Blake.

She considered a moment before replying.

"No, I cannot understand it. I do not wish to be intolerant, but some things are inconceivable."

"Try," he insisted; "put yourself in his place and remember the temptation. Human nature is weak, you know."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

BY THE LIGHT OF SPLINTERS.

Religious Meeting Under Peculiar Circumstances a Great Success.

Elder J. W. Cook, in his "Forty-Five Years a Minister," relates this incident: "I remember one time up in Clair county, Missouri, I arrived at my appointment just at night. It was raining, but the people turned out just the same. The schoolhouse was of logs, and inside it was dark as a dark night could make it. A brother said: 'Will someone please light the candle?' But there was no candle to light, no grease, no oil of any kind. The little cabin was crowded and the rain was pouring down. It was a good half mile to the nearest house where a candle might be procured. But a resourceful brother relieved the situation thus: 'We must have a meetin'; that's sartin. The boy's traveled 'way over here to preach for us, and he's goin' to do it. Now we'll tear off some planks from the platform and light 'em and take turn about holdin' 'em so he can see his Bible. I got matches.' That meeting under the flickering splinter light was an astonishing success."

A Side Light.

The fortune teller, whose specialty was restoring lost and stolen articles by her powers of divination and spirit help, was perturbed.

She had missed a wallet full of bills and a diamond ring from her bureau drawer.

"Maria," she cried to her assistant, "have you taken the most effective means to get those articles back?"

"Yes'm," said Maria. "I reported it right off to the police."

Knew One of the Firm.

Attendant (showing him through the structure)—This house is built on what is known as the "slow combustion" plan.

Mr. Pneuritch—Ah, yes; I think I know Slocum. I have seen him at the club; but I have never had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Bustion.

CATARRH IN HEAD.

Pe-ru-na—Pe-ru-na.

MR. WM. A. PRESSER.

MR. WILLIAM A. PRESSER, 1722 Third Ave., Moline, Ill., writes:

"I have been suffering from catarrh in the head for the past two months and tried innumerable so-called remedies without avail. No one knows how I have suffered not only from the disease itself, but from mortification when in company of friends or strangers.

"I have used two bottles of your medicine for a short time only, and it effected a complete medical cure, and what is better yet, the disease has not returned.

"I can most emphatically recommend Peruna to all sufferers from this disease."

Read This Experience

Mr. A. Thompson, Box 65, R. R. 1, Martel, Ohio, writes: "When I began your treatment my eyes were inflamed, nose was stopped up half of the time, and was sore and scabby. I could not rest at night on account of continual hawking and spitting.

"I had tried several remedies and was about to give up, but thought I would try Peruna.

"After I had taken about one-third of a bottle I noticed a difference. I am now completely cured, after suffering with catarrh for eighteen years.

"I think if those who are afflicted with catarrh would try Peruna they would never regret it."

Peruna is manufactured by the Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Ask your Druggist for a Free Peruna Almanac for 1909.

A Safe and Sure Cough Cure.

Kemp's Balsam

Does not contain Opium, Morphine, or any other narcotic or habit-forming drug.

Nothing of a poisonous or harmful character enters into its composition.

This clean and pure cough cure cures coughs that cannot be cured by any other medicine.

It has saved thousands from consumption.

It has saved thousands of lives.

A 25c. bottle contains 40 doses.

At all druggists', 25c., 50c. and $1.

Don't accept anything else.

The Most Dangerous Capital.

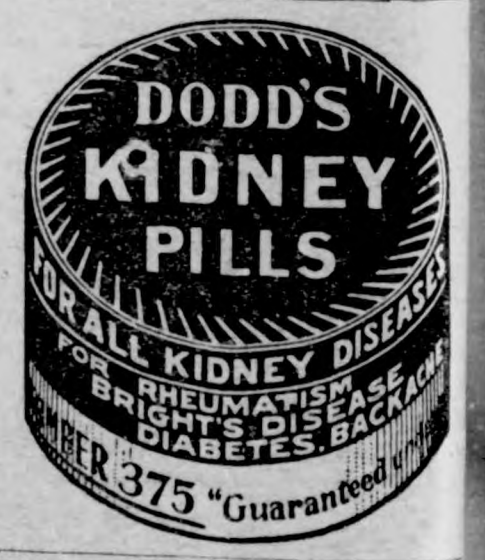
London, which used to boast of being the quietest and safest capital of the world, has become noisier than Paris and more dangerous than New York. Nearly 300 persons are now killed annually by street accidents and how many more just escape with their lives cannot be computed.—Outlook.

Importance of Knowing Positively.

Every one should know positively what causes dandruff, gray, or falling hair so that you can remedy it. Send ten cents for famous book "Hair Science and Care" by Prof. Frederic Goujon. Address Du Murier & Cie., 723 Lexington Ave., New York.

The New Way.

He—Darling, all is over between us. She—Oh, George, this is so Abruzzi.—Punch.



BILLION$ GRASS

Costs 60c—90c per acre for seed.

Most wonderful grass of the century, yielding from 5 to 10 tons of hay per acre and lots of pasture besides. It simply grows, grows, grows! Cut it today and in 4 weeks it looks for the mower again, and so on. Grows and flourishes everywhere, on every farm in America. Cheap as dirt; luxuriant as the bottom lands of Egypt. Big seed catalog free or send 10c in stamps and receive sample of this wonderful grass, also of Speltz, the cereal wonder. Barley, Oats, Clovers, Grasses, etc., etc., and catalog free. Or send 14c and we will add a sample farm seed novelty never seen by you before.

SALZER SEED CO., Box W. La Crosse, Wis.

COULD NOT SHAKE IT OFF.

Kidney Trouble Contracted by Thousands in the Civil War.

James W. Clay, 666 W. Fayette St., Baltimore, Md., says: "I was troubled with kidney complaint from the time of the Civil war. There was constant pain in the back and head and the kidney secretions were painful and showed a sediment. The first remedy to help me was Doan's Kidney Pills. Three boxes made a complete cure and during five years past I have had no return of the trouble."

Sold by all dealers. 50c a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

NO TEMPTATION.

Wag (referring to Miss Oldbird)—Um, I should think it would be more suitable if she were standing under "elderberries" instead of mistletoeberries.

TOLD TO USE CUTICURA.

After Specialist Failed to Cure Her Intense Itching Eczema—Had Been Tortured and Disfigured But

Was Soon Cured of Dread Humor.

"I contracted eczema and suffered intensely for about ten months. At times I thought I would scratch myself to pieces. My face and arms were covered with large red patches, so that I was ashamed to go out. I was advised to go to a doctor who was a specialist in skin diseases, but I received very little relief. I tried every known remedy, with the same results. I thought I would never get better until a friend of mine told me to try the Cuticura Remedies. So I tried them, and after four or five applications of Cuticura Ointment I was relieved of my unbearable itching. I used two sets of the Cuticura Remedies, and I am completely cured. Miss Barbara Kral, Highlandtown, Md., Jan. 9, '08."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Advice to Mothers.

Be positive with the children. Lay down the law. It is remarkable how soon they discover when you are in earnest. Do not go to the breakfast table in a flurry, but stop long enough to count 100 slowly, and then enter with a calm manner determining that there will be no squabbling. It is natural for the young animal to scrap, and while not criminal, still it must be checked to self-control.

MIX FOR RHEUMATISM

The following is a never failing remedy for rheumatism, and if followed up it will effect a complete cure of the very worst cases: "Mix one-half pint of good whiskey with one ounce of Toris Compound and add one ounce Syrup Sarsaparilla Compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and at bedtime." The ingredients can be procured at any drug store and easily mixed at home.

Inconsistency.

"Isn't that Jones over there—the man who writes the bitter articles about abolishing the tipping nuisance?"

"Yes, that's Jones."

"What's he talking about?"

"He is raising a sarcastic howl over the fact that a noted millionaire is alleged to have given a waiter a nickel tip."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Good Judge of Human Nature.

"Jones says he can usually tell men's occupations from their appearance."

"Yes, Jones can. He can spot a collector as far as he can see him."—Detroit Free Press.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

A man's wife never thinks his illness is serious until he quits using language that wouldn't look well in print.

T. J. HAINS SET FREE

FOUND NOT GUILTY OF MURDER IN KILLING OF ANNIS.

CROWD CHEERS VERDICT

Defendant, Overjoyed, Carries News to His Brother in Jail, Who Probably Never Will Be Tried.

Flushing, N. Y.—After reviewing the evidence for 22 hours and taking 15 ballots before all were agreed, the jury in the trial of Thornton Jenkins Hains Friday afternoon found the prisoner not guilty as a principal with his brother, Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., in the killing of William E. Annis.

For the second time in his life Thornton Hains has been found not guilty of the charge of murder, he having been acquitted of murder in shooting a companion named Edward W. Hannigan in an open boat in Hampton roads 17 years ago.

Thornton Hains had an affecting greeting with Capt. Hains in the Long Island jail, where he hurried in a motor car after the verdict to bring his brother the news. Old Gen. Hains and his wife, who had been anxiously waiting to learn the verdict in the Hotel Astor, in Manhattan, since the jury went out at five o'clock Thursday night, heard the news from their son Thornton J. Hains.

Thornton, who telephoned his parents as soon as he left the courtroom. Mrs. Hains nearly fainted from joy at the news.

Rarely in any court of law has such a demonstration been witnessed as that which occurred when the jury made known its verdict, which came like a thunderbolt. The packed courtroom of spectators rose as one man and cheered and applauded with such mighty vigor that the gavel falls of Justice Crane on his desk could not be heard.

Officials of the district attorney's office in Queens county are quoted as saying that the verdict in this case probably means that Capt. Hains will never be brought to trial and that he will be surrendered into the care of his family or the federal government.

"Under this verdict it is perfectly safe for any person who is ingenious enough to frame up a defense to go out and kill. Private vengeance seems to have taken precedence over the people's law," was the only comment that Prosecutor Darrin had to make.

HORROR IN HUNGARIAN MINE.

Scores of Men Killed by an Explosion and Fire.

Veszprim, Hungary.—In an explosion of fire-damp in the Auka coal mine here Thursday, which was followed by a dust explosion and fire, 240 men were entombed.

Sixteen living miners and the bodies of 45 dead persons thus far have been brought out of the pit.

The fire has been held to one locality and it is hoped that the remainder of the entombed miners will be rescued alive.

The town of Veszprim lies 60 miles southeast of Buda Pest and has a population of some 15,000, composed mostly of Magyars.

Shively Is Indiana Senator.

Indianapolis, Ind.—B. F. Shively was chosen on the twentieth ballot for United States senator in the caucus of the Democratic members of the legislature after many weary hours of balloting.

John Worth Kern, recent candidate for vice-president on the Democratic ticket, made a gallant fight and led in the early balloting. Once he gave the field a scare, when on the third ballot he jumped to 32 votes.

Portuguese Mob Fights Troops.

Oporto.—The distress in the port wine growing regions arising from a crisis in the wine trade culminated Friday in rioting. At Regoa the troops that were preserving order were fired on by an infuriated mob and replied with a bayonet charge.

WESTERN CANADA'S 1908 CROP

WILL GIVE TO THE FARMERS OF WEST A SPLENDID RETURN.

The following interesting bit of information appeared in a Montreal paper:

"Last December, in reviewing the year 1907, we had to record a wheat harvest considerably smaller in volume than in the previous year. Against ninety millions in 1906 the wheat crop of the West in 1907 only totaled some seventy-one million bushels, and much of this of inferior quality. But the price averaged high, and the total result to the farmers was not unprofitable. This year we have to record by far the largest wheat crop in the country's history. Estimates vary as to the exact figure, but it is certainly not less than one hundred million bushels, and in all probability it reaches one hundred and ten million bushels. The quality, moreover, is good, and the price obtained very high, so that in all respects the Western harvest of 1908 has been a memorable one. The result upon the commerce and finance of the country is already apparent. The railways are again reporting increases in traffic, the general trade of the community has become active after twelve months' quiet, and the banks are loosening their purse strings to meet the demand for money. The prospects for 1909 are excellent. The credit of the country never stood as high. The immigrants of 1907 and 1908 have now been absorbed into the industrial and agricultural community, and wise regulations are in force to prevent too great an influx next year. Large tracts of new country will be opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific both in East and West. If the seasons are favorable the Western wheat crop should reach one hundred and twenty million bushels. The prospects for next year seem very fair." An interesting letter is received from Cardston, Alberta (Western Canada), written to an agent of the Canadian Government, any of whom will be pleased to advise correspondents of the low rates that may be allowed intending settlers.

"Cardston, December 21st, 1908.

"Dear Sir: Now that my threshing is done, and the question 'What Will the Harvest Be,' has become a certainty, I wish to report to you the results thereof, believing it will be of interest to you. You know I am only a novice in the agricultural line, and do not wish you to think I am boasting because of my success, for some of my neighbors have done much better than I have, and I expect to do much better next year myself. My winter wheat went 53 bushels per acre—and graded No. 1. My spring wheat went 48⅜ bushels per acre, and graded No. 1, My oats went 97 bushels per acre, and are fine as any oats I ever saw. My stock is all nice and fat, and are out in the field picking their own three square meals a day. The weather is nice and warm, no snow—and very little frost. This, in short, is an ideal country for farmers and stockmen. The stock requires no shelter or winter feeding, and cattle fatten on this grass and make the finest kind of beef, better than corn fed cattle in Ills. Southwestern Alberta will soon be known as the farmers' paradise; and I am only sorry I did not come here five years ago. Should a famine ever strike North America, I will be among the last to starve—and you can count on that.

"I thank you for the personal assistance you rendered me while coming in here, and I assure you I shall not soon forget your kind offices."

If every man was compelled to act as his own fool-killer there would be an epidemic of suicides.

Pettit's Eye Salve for Over 100 Years has been used for congested and inflamed eyes, removes film or scum over the eyes. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

Many a man has lost his good name by having it engraved on the handle of his umbrella.

The Best Laxative—Garfield Tea! Composed of Herbs, it exerts a beneficial effect upon the entire system, regulating liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels.

The average woman is fond of pets, but her husband is not in that class.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE"

That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

Even a fast man may not make a rapid recovery when he's ill.

If Your Feet Ache or Burn get a 25c package of Allen's Foot-Ease. It gives quick relief. Two million packages sold yearly.

Smiles make a better salve for trouble than do frowns.

WE SELL GUNS AND TRAPS CHEAP & buy Furs & Hides. Write for catalog 105 N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

It is not what we intend, but what we do makes us useful.—More.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.

PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

All sorrow is an enemy, but it carries a friend's message within it, too.

Habitual Constipation

May be permanently overcome by proper personal efforts with the assistance of the one truly beneficial laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs & Elixir of Senna, which enables one to form regular habits daily so that assistance to nature may be gradually dispensed with when no longer needed, as the best of remedies when required are to assist nature, and not to supplant the natural functions, which must depend ultimately upon proper nourishment, proper efforts, and right living generally.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS

ONE SIZE ONLY—REGULAR PRICE 50¢ PER BOTTLE

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

Cold on chest? Never mind—A-B-C LINIMENT will promptly cure it. Try it.

45 to 50 Bu. of Wheat Per Acre

have been grown on farm lands in

WESTERN CANADA

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Much less would be satisfactory. The general average is above twenty bushels.

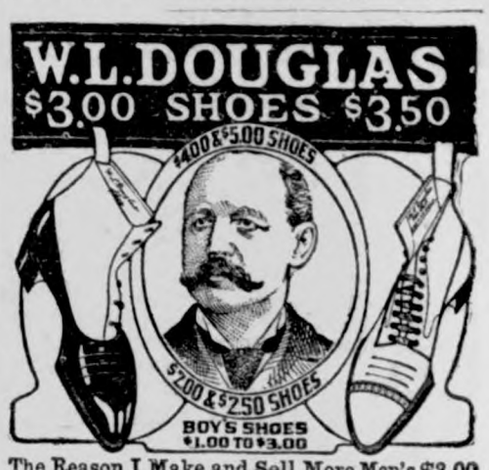
"All are loud in their praises of the great crops and that wonderful country."—Extract from correspondence National Editorial Association of August, 1908.

It is now possible to secure a homestead of 160 acres free and another 160 acres at $3.00 per acre. Hundreds have paid the cost of their farms (if purchased) and then had a balance of from $10.00 to $12.00 per acre from one crop. Wheat, barley, oats, flax—all do well. Mixed farming is a great success and dairying is highly profitable. Excellent climate, splendid schools and churches, railways bring most every district within easy reach of market. Railway and land companies have lands for sale at low prices and on easy terms.

"Last Best West" pamphlets and maps sent free. For these and information as to how to secure lowest railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

C. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOES $3.50



The Reason I Make and Sell More Men's $3.00 & $3.50 Shoes Than Any Other Manufacturer

is because I give the wearer the benefit of the most complete organization of trained experts and skilled shoemakers in the country.

The selection of the leathers for each part of the shoe, and every detail of the making in every department, is looked after by the best shoemakers in the shoe industry.

If I could show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make.

My Method of Tanning the Soles makes them More Flexible and Longer Wearing than any others.

Shoes for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses and Children.

For sale by shoe dealers everywhere.

CAUTION! None genuine without W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom.

Fast Color Eyelets Used Exclusively. Catalog mailed free.

W. L. DOUGLAS, 167 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

RUPTURE CURED WHILE YOU WORK SAMPLE FREE TO ADVERTISE, SURE HOLD CO. WESTBROOK ME B 224

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

AN APPLE "KLONDIKE" — FOR SEATTLE

You all remember that the world "went wild" when the Klondike yielded up its first treasure of $750,000. The production of gold by Alaska and British Yukon since then—a full decade has amounted to $175,000,000. Now President Hill, of the Great Northern R'y, declares that within 25 years the apple crop of the Pacific Northwest will exceed in value the present output of wheat, ore and timber of the Pacific Northwest, which aggregates about $250,000,000 a year! Now stop and think what the effect of all these prodigious resources will have upon that inexhaustible "gold mine" of Seattle's – her Central Business Property! When you come to our "A-Y-P" Fair next summer, you will want to look into the matter of securing ownership of some of this Central Business Property, which is the greatest fortune maker of all. Meantime, let me send you some of the astonishing facts. Send me your address now.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

For Lameness in Horses

Much of the chronic lameness in horses is due to neglect. See that your horse is not allowed to go lame. Keep Sloan's Liniment on hand and apply at the first signs of stiffness. It's wonderfully penetrating—goes right to the spot—relieves the soreness — limbers up the joints and makes the muscles elastic and pliant.

Sloan's Liniment

will kill a spavin, curb or splint, reduce wind puffs and swollen joints, and is a sure and speedy remedy for fistula, sweeney, founder and thrush. Price, 50c. and $1.00.

Dr. Earl S. Sloan, - - Boston, Mass.

Sloan's book on horses, cattle, sheep and poultry sent free.

St. Paul and Des Moines Railroad Co.

Des Moines Short Line

Daily Parlor Car Service between Des Moines and Twin Cities. Connecting with trains for all points north and west. Train leaves Des Moines 8:45 a. m.

PISO'S

25 cts. 25 cts.

BAD COLDS

are the forerunners of dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. If you have a cough, you can stop it with Piso's Cure. If you suffer from hoarseness, sore throat, bronchitis or pains in the lungs, Piso's Cure will soon restore the irritated throat and lungs to normal, healthy condition. An ideal remedy for children. Free from opiates and dangerous ingredients. For half a century the sovereign remedy in thousands of homes. Even chronic forms of lung diseases

RESPOND TO PISO'S CURE

CURE

Just Dust it on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS
WITH Dr. King's New Discovery
FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
435 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other pattern. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.
McCall's Magazine. The Queen of Fashion) has ... Latest ... 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a Pattern free. Subscribe today.
Lady Agents Wanted. Liberal premiums ... Terms, Commission ... Catalogue (showing 400 premiums and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York

Honors Easy.

People who were present smiled at the little passage of arms which took place between two young ladies at a luncheon recently. One of them, a bride, shaking hands in her characteristically cordial way, said to the other:

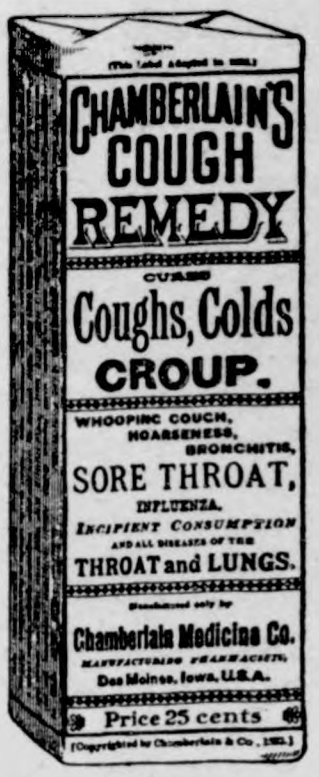
"I'm so glad to meet you! You have afforded me so very much amusement just lately."

"Amusement?" said the other.

"Oh, yes," went on the bride. "I've been through my husband's desk, and I've read all his old love letters. I found several very affectionate letters from you, and I enjoyed reading them really, ever so much."

"I'm so glad you enjoyed them," purred the other. "But do come and see me very soon. Here is my card. I have the answers to all those letters and you might like to read them as well. Mr. X——'s letters are so much more affectionate than those I wrote to him. I know you'll enjoy reading them ever so much more than you did mine."

DEWITT'S CARBOLIZED WITCH HAZEL SALVE For Piles, Burns, Sores



See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

SHOWING THE WEDDING GIFTS.

Charming Exhibitions Made at French Bridals.

In Paris most charming conceits are devised to enhance the effect of an exhibition of wedding gifts in the bride's home. Sometimes the furniture is removed from one or two rooms to give space to show cases, where is made a tasteful array of the most delicate parts of the trousseau, and numberless bivelots. The heavier articles are suspended from screens or round the walls from hanging ribbons, pictures, or even dados of crinkled papier velours in some subdued shade. One of the most telling arrangements is dispersal against the walls of small tables covered with mignonette-green silk, and on which are artistically displayed the bridal treasures, to each of which is attached with a pink ribbon the card of the giver. The contents of every table are partly veiled by vaporous tulle held up to the wall by some bracket lamp, high statuette, and draped at the sides with large choux in pink satin. The coloring depends evidently on the prevailing tones of the house decoration. Such a treatment is light, tasteful and not too expensive. A scheme which involves larger reception rooms and a greater outlay of time and money consists of a triumphal arch in bamboo at the entrance to every door, often covered with climbers, whilst through the whole suite of rooms are distributed in profusion palm trees, jardinieres, tall vases and corbeilles full of flowers, giving the impression of a bower of flowers and foliage, in which are nestled the marvels of the bride's outfit and of her friends' generosity and taste.

How He Hunted Bear.

A New York Irishman was visiting a friend in the Adirondacks and was taken with a desire to go hunting. Borrowing a gun from his friend he set off alone in search of game. Some time after his host heard a distant report of a gun. A few minutes later he heard some one shouting. From a window he spied, in the distance, his friend, hot-footing it for home, and behind him a bear, gaining at every step. Nearly spent, the pursued reached the door just in time to cry out:

"Quick, Mike! Quick! Open the door! I'm bringing him home aloive!"

NO WISE.

Mamma — When that boy threw stones at you, why didn't you come and tell me, instead of throwing them back?

Johnnie—Tell you! Why, you couldn't Hit a barn door.

Took the Wrong House.

On one of the Southern railroads there is a station building that is commonly known by travelers as the smallest railroad station in America.

It is of this station that the story is told that an old farmer was expecting a chicken house to arrive there, and he sent one of his hands, a newcomer, to fetch it.

Arriving there the man saw the house, loaded it on his wagon and started for home.

On the way he met a man in uniform with the words "Station Agent" on his cap.

"Say, hold on. What have you got on that wagon," he asked.

"My chicken house, of course," was the reply.

"Chicken house be jiggered," exploded the omcial. "That's the station."

A Complete Defense.

An Irish woman was accused of having stolen an iron soap kettle and cracked it, so that its usefulness was ended.

Her defense, when brought before the judge, was as follows: "Oi have witnesses here, yer honor, t' prove, first, that Oi niver had th' kittle in me possession; second, that Oi returned it t' Mrs. Casey widout a crack in it; and, third, that th' old kittle was cracked whin Oi s'hole it."

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.

Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 26 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, JAN. 28, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

THE THIEF
ROBS THE HOUSE IN THE CASH IS HIDDEN

YOUR MONEY WORKS for you too when it is in our bank. When your money works more for you, you will need to work less.

We offer you a secure place to keep your money. We will pay you a liberal rate of interest for it.

Capital and Surplus $25,500.00

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

North Elevator

—FOR—

Pocahontas Smokeless
Wonderland White Ash Splint
Genuine Sunday Creek Hocking
Brazil block
Sutless Washed Egg Wilmington
Scranton hard coal

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J.W.WATERMAN

The Royal Neighbors of America

The R. N. A. of Klemme held a programme and supper in the Klemme Opera House, Friday evening, Jan. 22, 1909.

The programme was a good one, such as the R. N. A. ladies are capable of getting up. The ones who took part did most excellently. Following we give the names of those who took part:

1—Piano solo Daisy Schuldt.
2—Recitation Geneva Schuldt.
3—Song by Hazel and Edna Hartfelder.
4—Recitation by Gail Bloom.
5—Song by Esther Bloom.
6—Song by Miss Gilbert of Garner.
7—Recitation by Minnie Fuller.
8—Piano duette by Anna and Daisy Schuldt.
9—Recitation by Mrs. Haskell.
10—Piano duette by Misses Schuldt and Gilbert.
11—Dialogue by Elmer Fuller and Verner Lewis.
12—Recitation by Hazel Hartfelder
14—Recitation by Holley Lewis
15—Song by Esther Bloom.

After the programme a swell supper was served, fit enough for a King. Oysters, cakes, coffee and other eatables were in abundance. Every one who attended said that they received more than their moneys worth.

After the supper the floor was cleared and the younger people enjoyed themselves the rest of the evening in tripping the light fantastic Music was furnished by Miss Gilbert of Garner and our "Deutscher orchestra" Mr. Keeper.

The weather was not very favorable and the attendance was not as large as would have been otherwise.

Climate Sharpens Appetite.

Probably the Eskimo banquets last longer than any others, and the quantity of food swallowed is also proportionately greater. Ross records that seven of his party of natives once ate continuously for 33 hours, during which time they consumed 200 pounds of seal meat. Europeans, exposed to the same climatic conditions, act in much the same way. Capt. Scott of the Discovery, on his return from his long sledge journey over the inland ice of the Antarctic continent, did nothing but eat and sleep for the space of three days and nights, and even then he was still hungry.

Wonderful Bamboo Organ.

In the old church of Los Pinas, near Manila, is a wonderful bamboo organ built by the Recoletos parish priest of that town, Father Diego Cera, in the year 1793. The upright bamboo pipes do not look unlike the metal pipes in a modern church organ, but a second set of pipes rest horizontally on a rack just above the keyboard. The organ is in use to this day and the bamboo is well preserved, Father Cera having a secret process of preserving the wood which he never divulged.

An Aeronautic Stunt.

"Money can't do everything."

"No, but it can do some things better than man."

"For instance?"

"Well, I was thinking of its ability to fly."

DON'T GET A DIVORCE.

A western judge granted a divorce on account of ill-temper and bad breath. Dr King's New life pills would have prevented it. They cure consumption, causing bad breath and liver trouble the ill-temper, dispel colds, banish headaches, conquer the chills. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

HOW long have they been in business? An answer to this question is necessary to fix the standing of any business house. Before any concern can claim rank in the business world, its stability must be proven by the test of time. And the longer it has been in business with an honorable record, the higher it is rated by public opinion.

It takes time to show whether a bank is conducted on a policy of safety and conservatism.

This bank has a history of over fifteen years of successful business and satisfactory service to Klemme people.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

A. F. HUBBARD

AUCTIONEER.

I would be pleased to cry your sales this season at reasonable terms. Livestock a specialty. Make dates with either banks at Klemme. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Address—Ventura, Iowa,
R. F. D. No. 2.

Toilet and Fancy Goods.

Toilet soaps, bath soaps, infent powders, sachet powders face powders, tooth powders. dressing and fine combs.

PAINTS and OILS

Strictly pure white lead. Colors dry and in oil Turpentine and varnishes. Window shades and trimmings.

Customers will find our stock complete in every respect. We are constantly adding every new novel and meritorious article that comes within our line of business. If you see a medicine advertised and want it, we will gladly get it for you if we do not have it.

Call and see us—your patronage is always appreciated, no matter how small your purchase, and you may rest assured it will be our constant aim to sell you the best that can be obtained and at reasonable prices.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

KLEMME IOWA

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

It seems reasonably clear that Castro saw the psychological moment coming and ducked.

Chicago isn't exactly going "dry," but it is trying to give up impure milk, and that's a hopeful sign.

It is proposed to double the president's salary. If that is done, there'll be 14 candidates instead of seven, next time.

Connecticut's champion eel skinner has retired from business. Here's a good job for some ambitious young athlete.

One thing certain is that the Emmanuel movement cannot stop the pervading disposition of man to put up an argument.

A new kind of flea has been discovered in California. It has six teeth and is a high jumper. Maybe it is designed to pounce on airships.

An exchange tells us that the kaiser's favorite maxim is "Forget it." All right. Von Buelow isn't going to be the one to jog his memory.

Senator Elkins has long had an eye to the best investments. Since the country thought that he was figuring on a duke, he has bought a bank.

Whiting's chief of police was held up and robbed of his star, revolvers, money and billy. We hope the highwaymen left him with at least a clew.

A Colorado man gave his grandson, aged one month, $1,000,000 as a Christmas present. Think of the toys that youngster can buy with all that money.

The telephone girls at Rockford, Ill., struck because they were not permitted to talk. As well tell the birds not to sing and the flowers not to throw off their fragrance.

A Pittsburg artist succeeded in getting a flashlight photograph of a member of the city council in the act of receiving a bribe. It may properly be referred to as a moving picture.

Specializing in farming will be carried too far if scientific farmers produce cobless corn. Several thousand acres then would have to be devoted to raising a variety that grew only cob pipes.

Both Paris and London are discussing the commercial future of the flying machine. It is a safe prophecy that the sporting fraternity will get into aeroplaning some time in advance of commerce.

Castro of Venezuela, who "revoluted" himself into the presidency and has held on like grim death ever since, must have hearty contempt for one who is so "easy" as the late President Alexis of Hayti.

A New York judge has decided that a man whose salary is not more than six dollars a week need not pay alimony. This may cause some men to quit exaggerating when they refer to the salaries they draw.

Since this country set up in business as an independent nation its gold mines have yielded more than three billion dollars. It takes the American hen about six years to furnish eggs and chickens worth that much.

Going barefoot seems to be growing less popular in the West Indies than it used to be. During the last fiscal year the United States exported more than two and a half million pairs of shoes to these islands, one-third as many as the exports to the whole world.

Early in the new year another battleship will be added to the navy. It will be called the Delaware in honor of Maryland's little neighbor on the east. No doubt it will be a fine ship, and will add more strength to about the strongest naval fighting force in the whole world.

The children of the late Charles E. Perkins of Boston have given to the city of Colorado Springs "The Garden of the Gods," one of the scenic wonders of America. The park has long been open to the public, and the formal transfer is in accordance with Mr. Perkins' wish. This gift is similar in spirit to Mr. Kent's gift of Muir Park, California, to the nation, and to a bequest recently received by the city of Boston of a large sum of money to maintain the city parks.

In the light of revelations from Hayti it is not at all surprising that revolutions succeed there. It is announced in official dispatches that the government troops are so disaffected that they have to be tied together in couples to prevent them from deserting. This suggests a modification of an old "pome:"

The soldiers they stand two by two
The sergeant and the corporal too.
If not tied they'd surely flee,
Leaving the gov'ment up a tree.

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth.

THE "INTENT GOVERNS".

State Wide Dispute Given Judicial Adjudication.

Keosauqua.—Judge D. M. Anderson in district court here decided the contested election case of Morris vs. Meek, in favor of the incumbent, Meek. This was a contest over the office of county treasurer. On the face of the election returns Meek had a majority of 18. When tried before the contest court it was found that Morris had a majority of 5. As finally counted Meek has a majority of 1 in a vote of 3,840.

The contest grew out of the fact that in a few precincts the election officers threw out ballots having crosses before the names of president and vice president, holding that they were identifying marks. The court holds that they are not identifying marks and counts such ballots.

The court threw out one ballot where the word "yes" was written before Senator Allen's name, holding that it was an identifying mark. The court threw out eight ballots where the voters had put a single straight line in the square in front of one or the other of the candidates, and one ballot where the voters had attempted to vote by putting a circle in the square before every name on one of the tickets. All other ballots were counted as marked.

This is the first decision of a court with respect to a contention which has arisen everywhere in the state and may have wide significance. Thousands of voters marked ballots by drawing a square in front of Taft's or Bryan's name and putting a cross in it, thinking the square had been left off by mistake, and so, not voting for electors, at all. Judge Anderson decides they should be counted.

Several legislative seats depend on the ruling made as to this matter, it is thought. It is not unlikely the contest committees may take cognizance of Judge Anderson's view.

The same point arises in the Hepburn-Jamieson congressional contest.

WRECK SAFE AT DAWSON.

Citizens Close in on Robbers and Frighten Them Away.

Dawson.—Robbers blew open the safe of the Bank of Dawson, but before they could secure the large amount of money in the shattered vault, were frightened away by armed citizens and escaped on a handcar ,going toward Perry. For several days three suspicious characters have been hanging about the place and are thought to have committed the robbery. The citizens were awakened by the crash of the explosion which blew open the outer door of the safe, shattered the windows in the bank and adjoining buldings and wrecked the interior of the bank. A second explosion quickly followed when the inner door of the vault was broken open. By this time the citizens armed with rifles and shotguns had rallied and started for the bank. The robbers were in the act of getting the money from the inner vault when they were frightened away.

HEIRS PLAN FIGHT.

Depositions Are Taken for Introduction at Trial.

Des Moines.—The legal battle to determine whether the $50,000 estate of Daniel Francis shall go to his natural heirs or to the Preachers' Aid Society of the Methodist churches to be used in building a home for superannuated ministers, will start in the district court Jan. 26. Francis was 82 years old. He died last May. Just prior to his death he attempted to convey all of his property to the Preachers' Aid society. The heirs brought suit in the district court to recover their share, charging undue influence had been exerted by certain ministers who knew Francis' mind was weak.

Business Houses Close Early.

Pella.—In compliance with a request made by the Baptist brotherhood to the Commercial club, forty of the principal business houses in Pella have agreed to close their stores and shops at 6:30 p. m. from Nov. 1 to April 1, except Saturdays and holidays. The rest of the year they agree to close at 7 p. m.

Fog Concealed the Fire.

Nora Springs.—A dense fog shielded from the neighbors the home of A. C. Jackson, near here, and they did not know it was on fire till it was in ruins. The loss is about $3,000.

CONFESSED AN OLD MURDER.

Philip Martin Says He Killed W. G. Reed in 1905.

Montezuma,—County Attorney H. E. Boyd has returned from Anamosa, where he secured a confession from Philip Martin that he and a companion murdered Thomas W. Reed near here in January, 1905. Martin implicates Jesse Finley as an accomplice. The men were charged with the crime originally, but were discharged by the magistrate. An indictment recently was returned against them, however. Finley is in jail here and Martin is under a thirty-five-year sentence for crimes of which he was convicted in November and is at Anamosa reformatory. He will be brought back in March and told the county attorney he would plead guilty to murder in the first degree. He was 18 years old at the time of the crime and claims to have been drunk. Finley also will be tried at the March term. He denies guilt.

County Attorney Boyd and Sheriff Binegar have been working on the case for more than a year, being satisfied that Martin knew of the crime. At one time they went to Seattle for him, but he had disappeared. He was found in Brooklyn when arrested for the crimes for which he is now serving thirty-five years. The thirty-five years are the maximum length of the penalties. The prosecution for murder and penalty thereof, if conviction is secured, will take precedence over the sentences for the other crimes.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

The Published Picture of Dead Mother Restored Helen Coffey.

Waterloo.—Helen Coffey, a pretty 17-year-old girl of Marshalltown, has been identified as the granddaughter of Mr .and Mrs. Eugene Smith of this city. Her mother, Anna G. Smith, ran away from home twenty years ago, when 17 years of age. She married Edmond Coffey, her sweetheart, in Council Bluffs and the couple made their home in Marshalltown. Six years ago she died. A picture of the mother published at the time of the Haskin-Coffey secret wedding at Christmas time, gave the girl the the clue which has lead to the establishment of her identity as the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith. A feature of the case is the fact that the young girl has been frequently in Waterloo and at one time for a period of three months worked in a local department store.

200 ILLEGALLY MARRIED.

Police Judge Has no Power as Uniter of Lives.

Des Moines.—Nearly 200 people married by Mayor A. J. Mathis during his term as police judge are not legally man and wife.

The knots were illegally tied according to Police Judge A. J. Stewart. He was asked recently to perform a marriage ceremony and replied that a police judge under the statute had no right. The Iowa code states specifically that only judges of district, superior or supreme courts and justices of the peace and mayors can perform wedding ceremonies. If Judge Stewart's interpretation of the law is correct there are scores of men and women in Iowa who were not married according to the statutes and who will have to have the knot tied over again.

BATTLES OFF MASKED MAN.

Osceola Girl Forced to Walk Four Blocks With Gun at Breast.

Osceola.—Miss Anna Barnard, the daughter of W. S. Barnard, prominent citizen of this town, was forced to walk four blocks at midnight, Jan. 17, with the cold muzzle of a revolver, in the hands of a black masked man, pressed against her breast, battled with her assailant, freed herself and fled to the home of her affianced, Will Kimball, two blocks distant, where she rang the door bell and fell in a faint. She was picked up by Kimball and his sister, taken into the house and revived.

Shoots His Uncle.

Shenandoah.—Sam Jarvis shot his uncle three times, one shot taking effect in his cheek, which may prove fatal. The wounded man was taken to the Wabash railroad hospital at Moberly, Mo. Jarvis was interpreter for a gang of Greeks working for the Wabash and living in a car side tracked at Imogene, where the shooting occurred.

State Capital Gossip

Many Items of Interest from Our Correspondent at Des Moines.

Opposed to Insurance Bill.

Des Moines.—Declaring that the state of Iowa needs no insurance department and that the business of the department is better handled in the office of the auditor of state than it could be in any other way, Senator Quigley of Clayton is devoting much time to arguing against the Dowell bill for the establishment of a separate department.

The Clayton county senator has figured it out, from reports in the auditor's office, that the insurance business handled by that office is decreasing from year to year instead of increasing, and he has prepared a table showing that in 1906 the taxes paid into the Iowa treasurer's office and credited to the life and fire insurance companies their business in Iowa amounted to $321,699.36. In 1907 the total was $307,499.57, and Senator Quigley says this in itself is an indication that the business is becoming smaller than greater.

"There was a time," said Senator Quigley, "when this plan, no doubt, would have been feasible. This was before the insurance business was taken in hand by Governor Carroll, then state auditor. He made it one of the principal parts of his department and he systematized it so well that there is now, I believe, no reason for changing the present plan, even if there were not additional reasons against such a change."

He favors, instead of relieving the auditor of the insurance work, the removing of the banking department to the treasurer's office and that of city accounting to the office of the secretary of state. This division, he thinks, would be a wise one and would be the more economical one.

Economy is the keynote of Senator Quigley's opposition to the Dowell measure; and he has gone to the trouble to secure information regarding the cost of handling separate insurance departments in states where such departments exists.

First Bill to Be Signed.

Governor Carroll has affixed his signature to the bill providing for the official celebration of Lincoln's birthday as a legal holiday in Iowa. It is probable that he will also issue a proclamation calling upon the people of the state to observe the centennial of the birth of the martyred president. Special significance will attach to the signing of this bill, as it will be the first to be approved by the new executive. It was adopted by both houses on Jan. 22, after its introduction by Senator Stuckslager of Linn, and it will take effect at once after having been signed by the governor and published officially.

The celebration of Lincoln's birthday by both houses of the legislature will be an elaborate affair. The committee consisting of Senator Maytag and Representatives Moore of Linn and Holmes of Kossuth, appointed Saturday to arrange the programme, will within a short time announce the speakers for the day.

Re-elect Senator Cummins.

Albert B. Cummins, junior United States senator from Iowa, was declared re-elected at a joint session of the two branches of the general assembly in the chamber of the house of representatives, which convened at noon Jan. 20. The vote was: Cummins, 115; Porter, 40. The chamber was crowded with members and visitors, the board of regents of the state university going from their meeting rooms in the state house in a body to witness the proceedings.

Anxiety Prevades Liquor Ranks.

The usual anxiety over liquor legislation is making itself apparent in Iowa this year. Members of the legislature are receiving appeals from their constituents of more stringent laws on the subject, and now that the plan for taking from the druggists the right to sell liquors is about to be proposed to the legislators the liquor dealers are becoming frightened.

New Years and Lincoln Win

The bill by Senator Stuckslager and Representative Moore to make February 12 a legal holiday passed both houses. An effort was made in the senate by DeArmand to cut out New Year's day as a holiday, but this got only six votes. The Lincoln day bill was approved unanimously in the senate and only one vote against in the house.

Reports Cost More Than the Goods.

According to the report of the executive council the state of Iowa spent for printing and binding during the two years from July, 1906, to July 1908, the sum of $136,428.62. The sum for the stock used in the printing and binding brings the total for the two years up to $166,859.17. Of the first named sum, $88,378.90, was paid for printing and $51,049.72 for the binding. The report itself emphasizes the need of printing reform. Items are recorded in the report, whose cost was not so large as the cost of the printing of the item in the report. This occurs time and again in the lists of expenses of traveling representatives of the different state departments and while they are demanded by law, and department heads large printing charges have brought the matter to the authorities, and it is likely that some measure will be asked in the next few weeks which will change the laws upon the subject of printing reports.

Important Liquor Case.

Final arguments were made before the supreme court in the case that will decide the right of the state to prohibit the soliciting of orders for whisky and other liquors by agents of liquor dealers. Attorney General Byers made a short oral argument for the state and written briefs were submitted by the appellants. County Attorney C. A. Dewey of Washington county sought to enjoin agents of liquor salesmen from taking orders from consumers. Judge Preston ruled for the state, and the defendants appealed. The United States supreme court has ruled that states may prohibit such soliciting, even by agents of liquor dealers in other states.

Tax State Banks Same as National.

Representative Grier has a bill on bank assessments to meet the complaint of discrimination as between the banks organized under the federal laws and those under state laws. Mr. Grier would have the assessment of the stock of state banks made as now upon reports from the bank and the assessment to be at the bank, so that taxes are paid in the township where the bank is located, but he would have the assessment to run against the owners of the bank stock and be paid by them. This would come near to placing state banks on a par with national banks as to taxes. In the meantime it is proposed to memorialize congress to have the national bank act amended so that national banks will be assessabe the same as state banks in each state.

Blow to Liquor Interests.

In the senate was introduced a bill affecting seriously the liquor interests, although the proposed enactment is short. It was introduced by Senator Van Law and places public libraries and dwelling houses occupied by families in the same class with churches and public schools in relation to the location of places where intoxicating liquors are sold.

Good Balances Shown.

The report of the state board of control which has just been filed with Clerk Rush Benedict in the house of representatives shows balances in the various institution funds which total $483,452.31. The Cherokee and Independence hospital show the largest balances, with $125,333.41 at Cherokee and $123,137.72 at Independence.

Smallest Senatorial District

Senator Lyman B. Parshall of Jackson county represents the smallest senatorial district in the state, measured by population. Jasper, Clayton and Jackson counties are the only three without cities of considerable size within their borders that are made to compose a senatorial district and of these Jackson county has the least population.

To Honor Burns.

One of the most remarkable resolutions ever offered in an American legislative body was adopted by the lower house of the Iowa legislature providing for a special programme to celebrate the birthday anniversary of Robert Burns.

Junkets as Usual.

By a viva voce vote, the lower house applied the steam roller to opposition to visiting committees for each of the state institutions and decided to adjourn for five days, to give these committees a chance to make personal investigation of the institutions under the board of control.

"My Ring! It Is Gone—My Ruby Ring."

The SMUGGLER

BY ELLA MIDDLETON TYBOUT

COPYRIGHT 1907 BY J.B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

ILLUSTRATED BY RAY WALTERS

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. Elise shared her stateroom with a Mrs. Graham, also bound for Canada. The young women on a sightseeing tour met Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented by the trio for the summer. Elizabeth learned that a friend of her father's was to call. Two men called, one of them being the queer-acting stranger on the steamer. The girls were "not at home," but discovered by the cards left that one of the men was Elizabeth's father's friend. The men proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. Lady Edith told the girls of a robbery of jewels at the hotel. Fearing for the safety of her own gems, she left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his queer actions, returned the lost bag and told of mysterious doings of a year before connected with the cottage. Exploring the cellar, one of the girls found a sphinx cuff-button, the exact counterpart of which both Gordon Bennett and Lady Edith were found to possess, also. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. The young women agreed to keep the secret. Lady Edith told a story of a lost love in connection with the sphinx key. Elise and Gordon Bennett discovered Lady Edith and Mr. Graham, the latter displaying a marvelous baritone voice.

CHAPTER X.—Continued

Lady Edith rested her chin on her hand and thought a while. Mr. Blake and Mr. Graham gazed at the lovely face grown suddenly serious as she pondered the question, and I knew that Gordon Bennett forgot my very existence as he leaned forward awaiting her reply.

"It is hard for me to realize," she said slowly, "never having been tempted."

"How can any one know what he would do until the time comes?" interrupted Mr. Graham, "as to yielding to an impulse—well, why are we given impulses if not to obey them?"

"Isn't that rather a dangerous theory?"

Lady Edith laughed as she spoke, but there was a note of anxiety in her voice, and she glanced involuntarily at her brother, who still maintained his sulky silence.

"A very dangerous theory," remarked Mr. Bennett; "but to return to our discussion. Smuggling is a hazardous business, Lady Edith, and it requires some courage, too, for one practically takes his life in his hands, especially stormy nights when the sea runs high."

"Yes," ejaculated Mrs. Graham; "yes!"

"Oh, I don't know," said her husband, "it has its compensations. One lives, you know—lives. Think of a night, out there, with the waves mountains high—a stiff wind, and raining, perhaps. Black sky, black water, black everything, and the uncertainty about landing your cargo safely. Then the sail back again triumphant and exulting—you and the elements alone together. Can't you taste the salt spray? Can't you feel the boat cut through the water? Can't you—"

"Harry!"

He paused abruptly and turned to his wife.

"I beg your pardon, Juliet," he said very gently, "I quite forgot your aversion to the water or I wouldn't have let myself go."

As Elizabeth often insisted, there were nice things about Mr. Graham after all. His patience with his wife's vagaries were certainly most commendable, yet I found myself reaching out after her hand as though I understood and sympathized with her strange attitude—which I certainly did not.

Meanwhile the little boat sailed on, and whether it carried a smuggler with his ill-gotten spoils or my treasures from the Land of Dreams we never knew, for it slipped away into the darkness as quietly as it had emerged. I felt as though I had lost something very valuable as I looked out over the empty water and the ensuing silence brought me no vaguely blissful dreams, but rather a sense of uneasiness and impending danger.

Our fire had burned itself away into a bed of embers, where charred bits of wood occasionally sent forth feeble flames as the night wind brought them renewed life. The moon climbed high in the heavens as we sat listening to the waves wash over the rocks, while the embers glowed and paled and glowed again in indignant protest against their relegation to the ashes of the past.

Presently Lady Edith turned to Graham. "Sing," she said.

And Harry Graham obeyed without self-conscious demur. Looking up at the rock where she sat with Elizabeth, he smiled and removed his cap.

"If it will give you pleasure," he said, quite simply.

She made a gesture of assent and after a moment's silence he began to sing, softly at first, then his voice gradually attained its full compass. I have never heard a voice just like Harry Graham's—so strong and yet so sweet. It had a wonderful depth of tenderness about it, too, and we listened entranced, unwilling to lose a note or a word of his song, which was quite unfamiliar to me at least.

Out of the purple distance,
Over the surging sea,
Borne on the winds of heaven
Cometh a Voice to me;
See how the white gull resteth
Low o'er the tossing spray,
Pausing awhile to listen
Before it is up and away!

O'er the trackless waste of waters
Where nameless thousands sleep,
From the realm of endless silence,
Cometh the Voice of the Deep;
Hark, to the whispering water
Bringing a message to me,
"Child of the restless ocean,
Thy destiny waits for thee."

Where the far-away dim horizon
Touches the mist-bound sea,
There lieth an Unknown Kingdom
With its gates ajar for me;
And, so, like the gull, I'm resting
At peace o'er the tossing foam,
Just waiting, listening, longing,
For the Voice to call me home.

"Don't! Oh, Harry, don't."

Mrs. Graham had risen and was gazing at her husband with widely dilated eyes and arms extended. It was a cry of irrepressible suffering, apparently wrung from her against her will.

I reached her first, being nearest, and as I slipped my arm through hers I found that she was trembling and very cold.

Mr. Graham had reached his wife almost as soon as I had and his voice was filled with genuine solicitude.

"Why, you're cold," he continued, "awfully cold, your lips are quite blue and trembling. This night air has been too much for you, as you feared. I'm sorry I urged you to come, but I thought you would enjoy it."

She clung to him, oblivious of our presence.

"Take me home. I must go home."

"And so you shall."

He spoke gently, as one calms a frightened child, and still retaining her hand turned to Elizabeth.

"I'm really very sorry, but we must go home. It has been an awfully jolly evening. Mrs. Graham is a bit unstrung, she's not strong, you know; I shouldn't have allowed her to stay out so long in the night air. And of course I shouldn't have sung."

We murmured polite, if slightly incoherent, regrets and tried to look as though nothing surprising had happened, but I think we were all relieved when the Grahams finally departed. As we watched their retreating figures gradually grow smaller in the distance, Gabrielle voiced the question that trembled on my lips.

"Why shouldn't he sing?"

Nobody was ready with an appropriate reply, for it really did seem as though one endowed with so enviable a gift should be permitted to use it at will.

I shivered a little, for the embers no longer sent out any heat, and the wind from the ocean had suddenly grown damp and chill. Lady Edith also shivered and drew her cloak closely about her.

"I think we, too, must go," she said; "I am sorry the evening has ended. It has been very delightful, and I shall always remember it."

"I should suppose Mrs. Graham would remember it also," remarked Gabrielle, "but I don't believe she thought it delightful."

We were gathering up our wraps preparatory to going home as she spoke, and Mr. Blake had just taken possession of the shawl spread upon the rock where Elizabeth had been sitting when she uttered an exclamation.

"My ring! It is gone—my ruby ring."

This ring was Elizabeth's dearest possession and the pride of her heart. It was a marquise, formed of seven rubies surrounded by diamonds, and as all of the stones were unusually good it was really very valuable. We were aghast at the catastrophe and hastened to help her look for it.

"It can't be gone," exclaimed Gabrielle, turning over sticks and stones suspiciously; "it must be here."

"It was too loose; I should not have worn it. I must have rolled into the water and I shall never see it again."

Elizabeth spoke in the hushed tone in which one refers to those recently removed by death.

"Don't feel that way about it," said Lord Wilfrid, roused at last; "I am quite sure we will find it. Let's see—you sat here with Edith, and Graham and Mr. Blake just below. It might have caught in the fringe of the shawl. Perhaps Mr. Blake will kindly shake it."

Mr. Blake complied without result. Useless also was the ensuing search of the rocks, although they were gone over inch by inch, the men lighting matches to examine dark crevices while we scrutinized the most improbable places and tried to peer into the rapidly rising water.

At last we gave it up and prepared to go home, each in turn assuring Elizabeth that when morning came she would surely find her ring, but nevertheless secretly convinced that it was irrevocably gone.

"I've had a good time, barring the last half hour," said Gordon Bennett, as he took my shawl; "have you?"

"I don't know what Elizabeth will ever do without her ring," was my evasive reply.

"Give her another. The jewels your ship is bringing you are far more valuable—"

"Nonsense," I interrupted. "Can't you see that she is unhappy and we are all worried?"

"Please don't worry," he said; "tomorrow morning bright and early I'll have another look at the rocks. I'm rather a good prophet and something tells me she will get it again. If I can't find it I'll get a diver and see what he can do. But I don't think we will need him, for when daylight comes it will probably be discovered exactly where she dropped it. Anyway, there is no use giving up a thing as lost until every possible means of finding it is exhausted. You won't worry, will you?"

These practical suggestions were very cheering and I turned to repeat them to Elizabeth. She was saying good-night to the Campbells, who had decided to return to the hotel along the shore. To my surprise I heard Lady Edith also suggesting the services of a diver.

"They are quite wonderful, you know," she was saying, "and all sorts of things have been recovered from the ocean."

"Yes," added Lord Wilfrid, "we will all have another look to-morrow, and if it is not to be found by daylight I know of an expert diver. However, I'm sure when the tide goes out it will be left among the rocks."

So by degrees our guests departed and we returned to the cottage, rather depressed and inclined to consider the evening a failure.

Mary Anne met us, holding the door hospitably open and smiling expansively.

"Well," she remarked, "and did you 'ave a good time? And didn't I 'ave a good supper?"

We told her about Elizabeth's loss and she listened in silence. But her ruddy face grew serious and her jaw dropped, as we described our search among the rocks and our theory that the ring had dropped into the sea.

"Lost, is it?" she said at last; "don't you fret, Miss Elizabeth, dear. I know them rocks inch by inch, and I'll 'ave a look meself, so I will. Jest go to sleep and rest easy now."

We were glad to follow this sensible advice, but I think we all were some time in getting to sleep. I found myself thinking of Mrs. Graham, rather than the lost ring, and wondering vaguely why she did not like to hear her husband sing. The puzzle was too much for me, and I was just slipping into a blissful state of unconsciousness when I thought I heard a step under my window.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

LONG WARS DUE TO WHISKERS.

Trivial Incident Led to Three Hundred Years of Fighting.

For ages beards were the delight of ancient beauties. The sight of a shaved chin excited sentiments of horror and aversion. To obey the injunctions of his bishops, Louis VII. of France cropped his hair a la pompadour aud shaved off his luxuriant whiskers. Eleanor of Aquitaine, his consort, found him with this uncommon appearance very ridiculous and very contemptible. She revenged herself by becoming something more than a coquette. The king obtained a divorce. She then married the count of Anjou, who shortly afterward ascended the French throne, and gave him as her marriage dower the rich provinces of Poitou and Guienne; and this was the origin of those wars which for 300 years ravaged France and which cost the French nation 3,000,000 men. All of which, probably, had never taken place if Louis VII. had not been so rash as to shave off his whiskers, by which he made himself so disgusting to the fair Eleanor.

Doctor Not Needed.

"I got an awfully funny note once from Gen. ——, an Irish-American on the staff of Gov. ——," said Dr. Shackelforth. "His wife was taken with a sudden indisposition, he summoned his servant and bade him get the buggy ready to come for me. By the time the horse was hitched up and the general had written me a note his wife recovered. But he sent the note anyway, with a postscrip.

"'My Dear Doctor: I wish you would hurry around this way as fast as you can. My wife is desperately ill. Jump into my buggy and come along. Don't let anything stop you.

"'P. S.—My wife having recovered, you need not come.'"

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna acts gently yet promptly on the bowels; cleanses the system effectually; assists one in overcoming habitual constipation permanently. To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine.

MANUFACTURED BY THE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY LEADING DRUGGISTS 50¢ A BOTTLE

Same Effect.

"Cyril," said his mother, as they sat down to the breakfast table, "did you wash your face this morning?"

"Well, no—mamma," said he, slowly, evidently casting in his mind for an excuse, "but," he added, reassuringly, "I cried a little before I came downstairs!"—Delineator.

Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes Relieved by Murine Eye Remedy. Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Conforms to Pure Food and Drug Laws. Murine Doesn't Smart; Soothes Eye Pain. Try Murine in Your Eyes. At Druggists.

A woman no sooner forgives an injury than she proceeds to forget about having forgiven it.

Strong drug cathartics simply aggravate the condition—the true remedy for constipation and liver trouble is found in Garfield Tea, the mild Herb laxative.

Water from the River Styx should be fine for preparing mucilage.

Western Canada the Pennant Winner

"The Last Best West"

The government of Canada now gives to every actual settler 160 acres of wheat-growing land free and an additional 160 acres at $3.00 an acre. The 300,000 contented American settlers making their homes in Western Canada is the best evidence of the superiority of that country. They are becoming rich, growing from 25 to 50 bushels wheat to the acre; 60 to 110 bushels oats and 45 to 60 bushels barley, besides having splendid herds of cattle raised on the prairie grass. Dairying is an important industry.

The crop of 1908 still keeps Western Canada in the lead. The world will soon look to it as its food-producer.

"The thing which most impressed us was the magnitude of the country that is available for agricultural purposes."—National Editorial Correspondence, Bos.

Low railway rates, good schools and churches, markets convenient, prices the highest, climate perfect.

Lands are for sale by Railway and Land Companies. Descriptive pamphlets and maps sent free. For railway rates and other information apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

LANDS. LANDS.
MERCED, CALIFORNIA.

The gateway to Yosemite, and the garden spot of California. In the center of the great San Joaquin Valley, cheap lands, on easy terms, under the best irrigation systems in the West.

Churches of all denominations and splendid schools. All fruits, alfalfa, grain and vegetables grow in great abundance. We lead the West in the production of peaches, figs, sweet potatoes, alfalfa, dairying and hog raising. No winters here; mild and healthy climate. Land of quick returns to the farmer; in many cases the first year's crop pays for the land. Four railroad lines.

Write Merced Chamber of Commerce for illustrated folder and full information.

F. A. CHAMBERLAIN, Secy., Merced, Cal.

SEED BARLEY 60 cts. a bu.

Per Salzer's catalog page 129.

Largest growers of seed barley, oats, wheat, speltz, corn, potatoes, grasses, clovers and farm seeds in the world. Big catalog free; or, send 10c in stamps and receive samples of barley yielding 173 bu. per acre. Billion Dollar Grass, Oats, Speltz, etc., etc., easily worth $10.00 to get a start with. Or, send 14c and we add a sample farm seed novelty never seen by you before.

SALZER SEED CO., Box W, La Crosse, Wis.

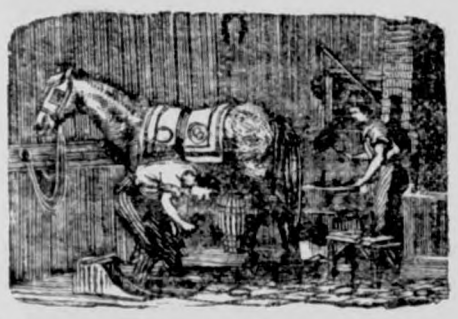
Attend the

Masquerade Ball

At the

OPERA HOUSE,

JANUARY 29, 1909.



J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING

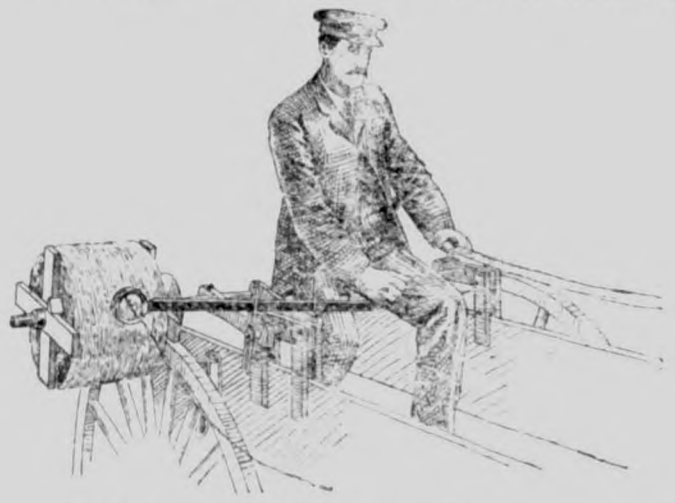
HORSE SHOEING A

SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL



Farm Machinery.

Yes Sir! We mean just what we say. "A penna saved means a penna earned" and you can do this by going to H. Lau & Son and buy you a first-class "A Grade Surrey" and top buggy and Dane mower and Dane hay loaders, buckers, stackers, 20 century Kemp manure spreaders. You can also buy cultivator plows, binders, mowers, hay rakes, Jones scales, harnesses, flynets, lap dusters, whips, oils of all kinds, tile spades, barb and smoot wires, fence stapels and other farm implements. Royal Tailors tight fit suits. They will keep style and collor, fit guaranteed.

H. Lau & Son.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.

South Germantow.

Miss Edna Suckow who was sick for nearly a month is convalescent at this writing.

On account of the rough roads Mr. Sweeley started for Goodell horse-back last Monday morning. We hope he enjoyed it.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the fine weather the forepart of this week after the three days of London fog we had last week.

Because the teacher Miss Wellemeyer was taking examinations on Wednesday and on Thursday there was no school in Dist. No. 8 from Wednesday to Friday of this week.

G. I. Schaper has recovered a severe cold which lasted about three weeks and took the forms of sore throat, cough, catarrh and neuralgia and effected all parts of his body except his feet. He hopes the next attack will effect only his soles, (of his shoes).

That Short-horn cattle are good for beef is a well established fact and that they are also good for the dairy has been fully demonstrated by G. I. Schaper. His cream check after deducting for hauling and manufacturing for December from five cows, amounted to $43.75 or about $8.50 per cow per month. Adding to this 50c per cow for the cream and butter used in the house-hold will make it $9.00. The cows were in the corn stalks during the day, were fed on wild hay at night and given a feed of ground corn and bran every morning and evening He will try to raise it to $10 during February and March by feeding clover hay.

SURE REMEDY FOR HICCOUGHS.

Science at Last Has Devised Cure for Troublesome Complaint.

Did you ever take nine swallows of water to cure the hiccoughs? Do you remember the time some one scared the hiccoughs away by telling you of a whipping due for some meanness?

Well, science has been studying hiccoughs and caught the hiccoughs by the "nape of the neck." The nine swallows of water had a little science in it, and so did the scare cure. The scientific hiccough cure consists in pressing down to numbness the nerve that connects the stomach, heart, lungs and brain, the pneumogastric nerve. The pressure partially and locally paralyzes this nerve and of necessity the hiccoughing must cease.

Have the hiccoughing patient sit down and be at ease, with the muscles of the neck relaxed as much as possible. Grasp both sides of the neck somewhat toward the back part and press down steadily and as hard as the subject may permit for about one minute, having the patient work the head from side to side. Within about one minute the nerve will be numbed and rested and the spasmodic motion will cease. It may require longer pressure is some cases, but the result is sure if patience is maintained.

COULD INTRODUCE THEM ALL.

One Guest, at Least, at Dinner Party Who Knew the Host.

In a volume lately published in London, "Piccadilly to Pall Mall," there is this queer anecdote of the vagaries of social life in the capital: Some years ago an eminent personage accepted, or suggested, a dinner with a certain millionaire, at that time comparatively unknown. The first guest to arrive, having explained to the butler that being unacquainted with his host he would wait till some one else came who could introduce him, lingered in the hall. The second was in the same predicament, as were the third, fourth, fifth, and other guests up to the ninth, who chanced to be "the eminent personage" himself. Upon the dilemma being explained to him, he cheerfully said: "Oh, come along with me. I will introduce you all—I know him."

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

German M. E. Church Items

Sarah Ludeke returned Monday from Iowa City.

Jacob Goeller left Tuesday morning for a visit to Clayton county.

Esther Schuldt of Garner, spent Sunday with her uncle E. H. Schuldt and family.

Emil Sampson and Hugo Neef came from Mason City Saturday returning Monday evening.

Nellie Lau left for Charles City Monday evening to spend a few days with our Klemme girls.

John Griewe went to Charles City Monday to visit his sister, see the college and take in the sights.

Bertha Bettin went to Fenton Monday to spend a few weeks with her brother Arthur and family.

While on his way to church with his family last week, one of Aug. Stille's horses dopped dead before the wagon.

Adolf Ridder came down from Germania Saturday evening where he is installing a furnace. He spent Sunday with his relatives.

Mrs. H. Brockmeyer from Colesburg arrived Friday to visit her mother and attend the "silver wedding" of her brother and wife.

Mrs. W. F. Lau and children are back from Minn. W. F. has been transferred to the Garner section and they will move their goods to that place.

The quarantine was raised from the H. L. Suckow home last Saturday and they are free to mingle with others and the fearful ones can lay aside all fear.

Those who heard Miss Markham last week Thursday were delighted with her address She gave some very practical plans and methods on elementary work in the Sunday school.

Elsie Bredlow had another severe sick spell last week. She had more than 30 spasams in less than 48 hours. Her case is certainly a sad one and the family deserves the sympathy of the community.

Elmer Ludeke went to Charles City the first of the week to bring home his trunk and belongings. On account of his brother Henry's illness he is compelled to give up his school work.

The Klemme "Standard Bearer" society will give a box social at the Arnold home on the evening of "Ground-hog Day," to which they invite all of their friends and those interested. Whether the ground hog sees his shadow or not, they assure all a good time.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. John Schwichtenberg had been planning for some time to celebrate the 25th wedding anniversary of their parents They invited all the relatives and prepared for the occasion without the least intimation leaking out. As the date fell on Sunday they decided to celebrate on Saturday Mr. S. had agreed to haul his hogs to town that day and the children had to use all kinds of tactics to keep him home. When the guests arrived he had his hogs loaded and was all but ready for a festival day. But he soon joined with his guests to make the day a real wedding anniversary. A dozen families were present during the day and in the evening some 30 young people arrived leaving behind many well-wishes and tokens of rememberances often receive severe burns putting out fires then use Bucklen's arnica salve and forget them. It soon drives out pain. For burns, scalds, wounds, cuts and bruises it earth's greatest healer Quickly cures skin eruptions of sores, boils, ulcers, felons; best piles cure made. Relief is instant, 25c at G. A. Pabat & Co.

BRAVE FIRE LADIES.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

Frank Roths	Klemme
G. A. Kahler	Britt

A HORRIBLE HOLD-UP.

About ten years ago my brother was held up in his work health and happiness by what was believed to be hopeless consumption writes W. H. Lipscomb of Washington, N. C. He took all kinds of remedies and treatment from several doctors but found no help till he used Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles. He is a well man today It's quick to relieve and the surest cure for weak or sore lung hemorrhages coughs and cold bronchitis la grippe asthma and all bronchial affections. 50c and $100. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

NOTICE.

In the District Court of Hancock County, Iowa. February Term, 1909.

In the matter of the Application of George A. Pabst to buy, keep and sell intoxicating liquors for lawful purposes only.

To Whom it May Concern:

Notice is hereby given that the application of George A. Pabst, a Registered pharmacist No. 7894, doing business under the firm name of George A. Pabst & Co., praying for permit to buy, keep and sell intoxicating liquors for lawful purposes only in the first story and basement of the frame building situated on Lot One (1) in Block Eleven (11) of the Original Town of Klemme, Hancock County, Iowa, will be on file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of Hancock County, Iowa, on or before the 4th day of February, A. D., 1909, and that said application will come on for hearing at the February term of said Court to be begun and held at the Court House in Garner, in said County, on the 15th day of February, A. D., 1909.

Dated this 6th day of January, A. D., 1909.

Geo. A. Pabst,
Applicant.

24-3

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

ubscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

ntered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

ocals 5 cents per line each insertion.
Display advertising 10 cents per inch.
Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

dvertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

orn	48 to 50c
ats	43 to 46c
Wheat	75 to 95c
arley	50 to 55c
ay	3 00 to 6.00
ogs	5.00 to 5.75
attle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

A new ad State Bank.

Oysters direct from Baltimore Kluckhohn's.

Nice line of Valentines at G. . Kluckhohn's.

Geo. Ell of Belmond visited latives here the first of this ek.

W. L. Newell and family of eenville, Iowa are new Times bscribers.

I have just added to my stock nice line of Lace Curtains at up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. huler's. tf

ANTED—Man with team to cans in country. $150 per month. Pleas work. The Big Four Mfg. Co., lar Falls, Iowa.

Several from Klemme attend the programme and basket tial east of town Tuesday ening.

acob Bock and John Wacker Tuesday for Thief River lls, Minn. where they will k after their land interests. ey expect to return in about eek.

We wish to congratulate some our correspondents for being rd of in the columns this ek. We hope that the reinder will do likewise.

o have good health live long and py, follow the advise of the great- health specialist—take a physic e a week. Do this and you won't w what a sick day is. Hollister's y mountain tea the safest physic. G A Pabst & Co.

ast week we had our January w and the roads were terribly ddy. The sun was not visi- for several days until Satur- . From Saturday to Thurs- it was regular spring weath- and today Thursday it is rain .

y an oversight we omitted to ntion the masquerade ball at Klemme opera house on Jan. h this Friday evening. The iesemer & Shipley orchestra l furnish the music. Don't ss it, you will have the time your life.

f you think of buying a rug ill pay you to look over my ck which consists of Wilton vets, Axminsters, Saxony minsters, Colonial Velvets Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. urs for rugs G. F. Schuler.

Do not forget State Bank ad.

J. G. Tanner and son were at the hub Tuesday.

Fresh oysters always on hand at Kluckhohn's. tf.

Joe Johnson shipped from Thornton Sunday one car load of cattle.

Mrs. F. H. Ridder and Mrs. F. Musfeld were Garner visitors Wednesday.

The prettiest and up-to date valentines can be procured at G. W. Kluckhohn's.

Mrs. Geo. Fuller of Iowa Falls visited with her son Wm. Fuller and family 1 st week.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

Read the market report. Bring your produce to Klemme and receive the highest market price.

This office would be pleased to receive quite a few renewals on the Times the first of the year. We need the money.

Joe Miller had his camera out Saturday taking pictures of our sky-scrapers. Joe is getting to be an expert in this line.

FOR SALE—My 6 H. P. gasoline engine. Will trade same for a good horse.
25 2 C. J. Kraus.

Mrs. A. B. Shafer left Saturday evening for Iowa Falls where she is visiting her daughter Mrs. Dr. Spooner and family.

Geo. Schroeder and his son Charles purchased the Pete Becker meat market at Garner and will take possession on Mar. 1st.

FOR SALE—Six milch cows, 1 registered Short-horn bull, 13 head of horses and all kinds of farm machinery at my farm 4 miles east and 1 mi. north of Klemme. J. Wacker. 26-3*

Makes rich, red blood, restful sleep builds strong healthy tissue—steady nerves, perfect digestion and assimilation. Keeps you well and happy. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co.

The healing, soothing refreshing action of Hollister's rocky mountain tea cleanses and regulates the bowls. tones and purifies the stomach, increases nerve force. Makes you well keeps you well. Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co

M. H. Thompson and family and L. Reed and family left last week for Wyoming, Iowa. Len and Mart will work with a cement gang on the Milwaukee R. R They will return in the Spring.

A brand new boy appeared at the G. I. Schaper home on Thursday noon of this week. Comparing his voice with his weight (8¼ lbs) he should be a good tenor singer some day.

The 'Customers Bargain Sale' at the Wellemeyer store is being largely attended these days. The coffee which the ladies served from a patent coffee pot was good "hot stuff" and quite a number indulged in drinking coffee.

Wm. F. Lau and family moved last week from Wilmont, Minn. to Garner. Wm. will now have charge of the section from Garner to Miller. His wife and children visited here with her parents and family over Sunday and left Monday for Garner.

There will be a Basket Social January 29, 1909 at the Newberger School four miles east of town. A good humorous program is being prepared. All come and give us a hearty support.
25-2 Laila M. Reed, Teacher.

Change of ad State Bank.

F. A. Arnold transacted business at the hub on Monday.

Since our January thaw the roads have been very muddy.

Mrs. F. W. Tanner was at Garner between trains Tuesday.

Wm. Baack was a Garner sight-seer the first of this week.

Mrs. Geo. Schroeder was at Garner between trains Monday.

Mrs. Phillip Ell visited old acquaintances at Garner on Monday.

Valentines, valentine post cards and comic cards at Kluckhohn's.

Rev. Wessel transacted business at Charles City the first of this week.

The Terhufen Bros. store will be open to the public for business next week Monday, Feb. 1.

Ade Ridder visited over Sunday with his brothers and families returning Monday to Fenton.

Misses Ethel and Katie Hamilton left for Garner Monday for a few days visit among friends.

John Griewe left Monday for a few days visit with his sister and other friends at Charles City.

Nellie Lau left Monday for Charles City where she will visit with Lurena Wessel and Fleanor Griewe.

Emil Sampson and Hugo Neef who are attending school at Mason City, visited over Sunday at home returning Monday.

Elmer Ludeke left for Charles City Monday for a few days visit with friends. We presume there are other attractions for him there also.

Robert Crambell of Minden, Neb., visited with his old time friend Wm. Fuller and family last week. He is also visiting friends at Buffalo Center.

H. L. Suckow was seen on our streets Monday for the first time in one month. As his family were under quarantine they were unable to get out any sooner. Those who were sick are all well again.

Mrs. Reep and Mrs. Frye of Wichita, Kansas, arrived Monday for a visit with their sister Mrs. G. A. Kahler and family. They have not seen each other for the past 18 years. This will be a happy reunion.

OAME NEAR CHOKING TO DEATH.

A little boy the son of Chris. D. Peterson a well known resident of the village of Jacksonville, Iowa had a sudden and violent attack of croup Much thick stringy phlegm came up after giving chamberlain's cough remedy. Mr. Peterson says: I think he would have choked to death had we not given him this remedy. For sale by G A Pabst & Co.

Postmaster Short Over $1,200

The postoffice at Woden is said to be shy over $1200 and Postmaster Sage is in charge of the Federal authorities. The four bondsmen have put up the amount having divided it equally among themselves. It seems Sage issued money orders but forgot to place the proper amount in Uncle Sam's till. The penalty for an offence of this kind is from three to ten years. The shortage first appeared last May it seems and were then nearly $100. Since then they have constantly increased. Money orders amounting to $100 were issued this year.—Garner Signal.

Ell Center.

Roy Kimbal of Clear Lake spent Sunday here with friends.

Will Glanville and family of Avery took in the basket social Friday evening.

Mrs. Bateman returned to Dubuque on Saturday after spending two weeks with her daughters Mrs. Hod and Charley Lawhorn.

The basket social at the school house was well attended last Friday evening. A good programme was given and $16.10 was taken in.

Pyrography or Burnt Wood.

We have a fine assortment of patterns in burnt wood, pretty handkerchief, glove, photo, collar and card boxes also photo holders and other useful articles. Please call at the house.
Mrs. J. Josten.

PRESIDENT HELPS ORPHANS.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the President of the Industrial and Orphan's Home at Macon, Ga. who writes: We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for stomach liver and kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth. It invigorates the vital organs purifies the blood aids digestion creates appetite. To strengthen and build up thin pale weak children or run down people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Hancock County Boy Wins

In the Northern Iowa Short Course Spelling Contest held at Mason City, Friday evening Jan. 22nd.

Four counties Cerro Gordo, Floyd, Hancock and Worth were represented in this contest.

About 75 pupils below high school grade participated. The contest was conducted by Prof Holden of Ames.

Ora Haxton of the 8th grade Britt public school won 1st place and received $20 from the Short Course Association and $5 offered by the Farmers National Bank of Garner to the best speller from Hancock county.

Marth Hawley of the Hayfield school stood next highest from Hancock county and of the twenty best in the contest. Miss Hawley received $1 from the Association and $3 offered by the Interstate Drainage & Investment Co. of Britt. Alice Perrigo of Madison No. 1 was among the twenty best and received $1 from the Association.

Hancock county has reason to be proud of the honors won by her contestants. Twenty pupils represented the following schools:

Ora Haxton, Britt (Independent).

Martha Hawley, Hayfield.

Alice Perrigo, Madison No. 1.

Clarrissa Peterson, Miller.

Dulcie Hughes, Goodell.

Howard Schaper, Britt twp. Dickirson school.

Marie Esch, Britt twp. Krough school.

Mabel Lutjen, Britt township, Ward school.

Gilmore Johnson, Orthel twp, No. 1.

Sylvia Johnson, Amsterdam township No. 6.

Fred Brower, Amsterdam, tp. No. 4.

Clara Schlichting, Ellington township No. 8.

Let us be your Tailor

THE AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS Co, Chicago, Illinois.
Manufacturers of fine woolens and wholesale custom tailors.
We have a complete line of Spring and Summer up-to-date clothing made to order. 400 samples to select from. All I ask is to show you my samples. Satisfaction guaranteed. Represented by
ELMER LUDEKE
Klemme - - - Iowa

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Farmers wishing any butchering done, call on us.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER,
The Tonsorial Artist,
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in.

Land of flowers, fruit and sunshine.
To make the journey worthy of its ending take the superb
Golden State Limited
VIA ROCK ISLAND LINES
Daily from Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City to Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and San Francisco.
Over the lowest-altitude and most southerly route to the Coast.
Through tourist sleeping cars via Colorado and via El Paso.
The quickest tourist service of any line to Southern California.
Full particulars, with rates of fare and illustrated California book from Rock Island
L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman.

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOHN G. MOLDAN, 2115 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

"A Little Cold is a Dangerous Thing"

and often leads to hasty disease and death when neglected. There are many ways to treat a cold, but there is only one right way—use the right remedy.

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

is the surest and safest remedy known, for Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Pleurisy. It cures when other remedies fail.

Do something for your cold in time, you know what delay means, you know the remedy, too—Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant.

Bottles in three sizes, $1, 50c, 25c

When your Watch Stops

You cannot make it go by shaking it.

When the bowels are constipated you can disturb them with cathartics but, like the watch, they will not be able to do their allotted work until they are put into proper condition to do it.

One cannot mend a delicate piece of mechanism by violent methods, and no machine made by man is as fine as the human body.

The use of pills, salts, castor-oil and strong cathartic medicines is the violent method. The use of the herb tonic laxative, is the method adopted by intelligent people.

Lane's Family Medicine

Headache, backache, indigestion, constipation, skin diseases—all are benefited immediately by the use of this medicine.

Druggists sell it at 25c. and 50c.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

PISO'S CURE

CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS

Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.

PRESIDENT SENDS STRONG MESSAGE

ACCOMPANYING REPORTS OF THE CONSERVATION CONGRESS

URGES NEEDED LEGISLATION

Document in a Measure Is a Defense of the Retiring Administration—Duty of the Present Generation to Its Descendants Pointed Out—Obligations of Citizenship—Urgent Need for the Development of the Country's Water Power.

Washington.—With the transmission of the report of the national conservation commission and accompanying papers, President Roosevelt also sent a message to congress. The following is a comprehensive synopsis of the document:

The president declares his entire concurrence with the statements and conclusions of the report and proceeds:

"It is one of the most fundamentally important documents ever laid before the American people. It contains the first inventory of its natural resources ever made by any nation. In condensed form it presents a statement of our available capital in material resources, which are the means of progress, and calls attention to the essential conditions upon which the perpetuity, safety and welfare of this nation now rest and must always continue to rest.

"The facts set forth in this report constitute an imperative call to action. The situation they disclose demands that we, neglecting for a time, if need be, smaller and less vital questions, shall concentrate an effective part of our attention upon the great material foundations of national existence, progress, and prosperity.

"The first of all considerations is the permanent welfare of our people; and true moral welfare, the highest form of welfare, can not permanently exist save on a firm and lasting foundation of material well-being. In this respect our situation is far from satisfactory. After every possible allowance has been made, and when every hopeful indication has been given its full weight, the facts still give reason for grave concern. It would be unworthy of our history and our intelligence, and disastrous to our future, to shut our eyes to these facts or attempt to laugh them out of court. The people should and will rightly demand that the great fundamental questions shall be given attention by their representatives. I do not advise hasty or ill-considered action on disputed points, but I do urge, where the facts are known, where the public interest is clear, that neither indifference and inertia, nor adverse private interests, shall be allowed to stand in the way of the public good.

"The great basic facts are already well known. We know that our population is now adding about one-fifth to its numbers in ten years, and that by the middle of the present century perhaps 150,000,000 Americans, and by its end very many millions more, must be fed and clothed from the products of our soil.

"We know now that our rivers can and should be made to serve our people effectively in transportation, but that the vast expenditures for our waterways have not resulted in maintaining, much less in promoting, inland navigation. Therefore, let us take immediate steps to ascertain the reasons and to prepare and adopt a comprehensive plan for inland-waterway navigation that will result in giving the people the benefits for which they have paid but which they have not yet received. We know now that our forests are fast disappearing, that less than one-fifth of them are being conserved, and that no good purpose can be met by failing to provide the relatively small sums needed for the protection, use, and improvement of all forests still owned by the government, and to enact laws to check the wasteful destruction of the forests in private hands.

"We know now that our mineral resources once exhausted are gone forever, and that the needless waste of them costs us hundreds of human lives and nearly $200,000,000 a year. Therefore, let us undertake without delay the investigations necessary before our people will be in position, through state action or otherwise, to put an end to this huge loss and waste, and conserve both our mineral resources and the lives of the men who take them from the earth.

"This administration has achieved some things; it has sought, but has not been able, to achieve, others; it has doubtless made mistakes; but all it has done or attempted has been in the single, consistent effort to secure and enlarge the rights and opportunities of the men and women of the United States. We are trying to conserve what is good in our social system, and we are striving toward this end when we endeavor to do away with what is bad. Success may be made too hard for some if it is made too easy for others. The rewards of common industry and thrift may be too small if the rewards for others, and on the whole less valuable, qualities, are made too large, and especially if the rewards for qualities which are really, from the public standpoint, undesirable, are permitted to become too large. Our aim is so far as possible to provide such conditions that there shall be equality of opportunity where there is equality of energy, fidelity and intelligence; when there is a reasonable equality of opportunity the distribution of rewards will take care of itself.

"The unchecked existence of monopoly is incompatible with equality of opportunity. The reason for the exercise of government control over great monopolies is to equalize opportunity. We are fighting against privilege. It was made unlawful for corporations to contribute money for election expenses in order to abridge the power of special privilege at the polls. Railroad rate control is an attempt to secure an equality of opportunity for all men affected by rail transportation; and that means all of us. The great anthracite coal strike was settled, and the pressing danger of a coal famine averted, because we recognized that the control of a public necessity involves a duty to the people, and that public intervention in the affairs of a public service corporation is neither to be resented as usurpation nor permitted as a privilege by the corporations, but on the contrary to be accepted as a duty and exercised as a right by the government in the interest of all the people. The efficiency of the army and the navy has been increased so that our people may follow in peace the great work of making this country a better place for Americans to live in, and our navy was sent round the world for the same ultimate purpose. All the acts taken by the government during the last seven years, and all the policies now being pursued by the Government, fit in as parts of a consistent whole.

"The enactment of a pure food law was a recognition of the fact that the public welfare outweighs the right to private gain, and that no man may poison the people for his private profit. The employers' liability bill recognized the controlling fact that while the employer usually has at stake no more than his profit, the stake of the employe is a living for himself and his family.

"We are building the Panama canal; and this means that we are engaged in the giant engineering feat of all time. We are striving to add in all ways to the habitability and beauty of our country. We are striving to hold in the public lands the remaining supply of unappropriated coal, for the protection and benefit of all the people. We have taken the first steps toward the conservation of our natural resources, and the betterment of country life, and the improvement of our waterways. We stand for the right of every child to a childhood free from grinding toil, and to an education; for the civic responsibility and decency of every citizen; for prudent foresight in public matters, and for fair play in every relation of our national and economic life. In international matters we apply a system of diplomacy which puts the obligations of international morality on a level with those that govern the actions of an honest gentleman in dealing with his fellow-men. Within our own border we stand for truth and honesty in public and in private life; and we war sternly against wrongdoers of every grade. All these efforts are integral parts of the same attempt, the attempt to enthrone justice and righteousness, to secure freedom of opportunity to all of our citizens, now and hereafter, and to set the ultimate interest of all of us above the temporary interest of any individual, class, or group.

"The nation, its government, and its resources exist, first of all, for the American citizen, whatever his creed, race, or birthplace, whether he be rich or poor, educated or ignorant, provided only that he is a good citizen, recognizing his obligations to the nation for the rights and opportunities which he owes to the nation.

"The obligations, and not the rights, of citizenship increase in proportion to the increase of a man's wealth or power. The time is coming when a man will be judged, not by what he has succeeded in getting for himself from the common store, but by how well he has done his duty as a citizen, and by what the ordinary citizen has gained in freedom of opportunity because of his service for the common good. The highest value we know is that of the individual citizen, and the highest justice is to give him fair play in the effort to realize the best there is in him.

"The tasks this nation has to do are great tasks. They can only be done at all by our citizens acting together, and they can be done best of all by the direct and simple application of homely common sense. The application of common sense to common problems for the common good, under the guidance of the principles upon which this republic was based, and by virtue of which it exists, spells perpetuity for the nation, civil and industrial liberty for its citizens, and freedom of opportunity in the pursuit of happiness for the plain American, for whom this nation was founded, by whom it was preserved, and through whom alone it can be perpetuated. Upon this platform—larger than any party differences, higher than class prejudice, broader than any question of profit and loss—there is room for every American who realizes that the common good stands first."

Accompanying the message are explanations and recommendations of work to be done for the future good of the country. The president says: "It is especially important that the development of water power should be guarded with the utmost care both by the national government and by the states in order to protect the people against the upgrowth of monopoly and to insure to them a fair share in the benefits which will follow the development of this great asset which belongs to the people and should be controlled by them.

"I urge that provision be made for both protection and more rapid development of the national forests. Otherwise, either the increasing use of these forests by the people must be checked or their protection against fire must be dangerously weakened. If we compare the actual fire damage on similar areas on private and national forest lands during the past year, the government fire patrol saved commercial timber worth as much as the total cost of caring for all national forests at the present rate for about ten years.

"I especially commend to congress the facts presented by the commission as to the relation between forests and stream flow in its bearing upon the importance of the forest lands in national ownership. Without an understanding of this ultimate relation the conservation of both these natural resources must largely fail.

"The time has fully arrived for recognizing in the law the responsibility to the community, the state, and the nation which rests upon the private ownership of private lands. The ownership of forest land is a public trust. The man who would handle his forest as to cause erosion and to injure stream flow must be not only educated, but he must be controlled."

In conclusion the president urges upon congress the desirability of maintaining a national commission on the conservation of the resources of the country. He adds: "I would also advise that an appropriation of at least $50,000 be made to cover the expenses of the national conservation commission for necessary rent, assistance and traveling expenses. This is a very small sum. I know of no other way in which the appropriation of so small a sum would result in so large a benefit to the whole nation."

THE WONDERBERRY.

Mr. Luther Burbank, the plant Wizard of California, has originated a wonderful new plant which grows anywhere, in any soil or climate, and bears great quantities of luscious berries all the season. Plants are grown from seed, and it takes only three months to get them in bearing, and they may be grown and fruited all summer in the garden, or in pots during the winter. It is unquestionably the greatest Fruit Novelty ever known, and Mr. Burbank has made Mr. John Lewis Childs, of Floral Park, N. Y., the introducer. He says that Mr. Childs is one of the largest, best-known, fairest and most reliable Seedsman in America. Mr. Childs is advertising seed of the Wonderberry all over the world, and offering great inducements to Agents for taking orders for it. This berry is so fine and valuable, and so easily grown anywhere, that everybody should get it at once.

KIND HEARTED JANE.

Mistress—Have you made the chicken broth, Jane?

Jane—Yes, mum; and fed the chickens with it, ages ago!

SKIN ERUPTION CURED.

Was So Sore, Irritating and Painful That Little Sufferer Could Not Sleep—Scratched Constantly.

Cuticura's Efficacy Clearly Proven.

"When about two and a half years old my daughter broke out on her hips and the upper parts of her legs with a very irritating and painful eruption. It began in October; the first I noticed was a little red surface and a constant desire on her part to scratch her limbs. She could not sleep and the eruptions got sore, and yellow water came out of them. I had two doctors treat her, but she grew worse under their treatment. Then I bought the Cuticura Remedies and only used them two weeks when she was entirely well. This was in February. She has never had another rough place on her skin, and she is now fourteen years old. Mrs. R. R. Whitaker, Winchester, Tenn., Sept. 22, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

A Slight Misunderstanding.

Little Helen Bentley of Los Angeles, aged five, dearly loves her grandma, who has been living with her and her parents. Recently grandma went to Seattle for a visit, and caught cold on the way. When she arrived there, she wrote back to Helen's parents that she had reached Seattle, but had had a hard fight with the grip. Helen wanted to hear what grandma had to say, and the letter was read to her. Soon afterward she saw one of her neighbors, and exclaimed: "Oh, Mrs. Smith, we've had a letter from grandma. She got to Seattle all right, but she had a terrible fight with her valise."

Professor Munyon has just issued a most beautiful, useful and complete Almanac; it contains not only all the scientific information concerning the moon's phases, in all the latitudes, but has illustrated articles on how to read character by phrenology, palmistry and birth month. It also tells all about card reading, birth stones and their meaning, and gives the interpretation of dreams. It teaches beauty culture, manicuring, gives weights and measures, and antidotes for poison. In fact, it is a Magazine Almanac, that not only gives valuable information, but will afford much amusement for every member of the family, especially for parties and evening entertainments. Farmers and people in the rural districts will find this Almanac almost invaluable.

It will be sent to anyone absolutely free on application to the MUNYON REMEDY COMPANY, PHILADELPHIA.

Took It Out on the Boy.

"What, you want a dollar for spending money?" exclaimed Mr. Tytes. "Look here, young man, when I was a boy my father never gave me a dollar to spend foolishly. I was taught to consider myself lucky if I got a nickel."

"Well," protested Bobby, "you don't need to jump on me about it. Tell your troubles to grandpa."

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE will cure any possible case of DISTEMPER, PINK EYE, and the like among horses of all ages, and prevents all others in the same stable from having the disease. Also cures chicken cholera, and dog distemper. Any good druggist can supply you, or send to mfrs. 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle. Agents wanted. Free book. Spohn Medical Co., Spec. Contagious Diseases, Goshen, Ind.

Oxpropylendlisoamylamine is the name of a new heart stimulant. The dose is one syllable three times a day after meals.

EVERYTHING WAS FAVORABLE

SORRY HE DIDN'T MOVE TO WESTERN CANADA BEFORE.

Mr. Austin was a man who had never had any previous experience in farming, but Western Canada had allurements, and he profited. He got a low-rate certificate from a Canadian Government agent, and then moved. What he says is interesting:

"Ranfurly, Alberta, May 10-'08.

"J. N. Grieve, Esqr., Spokane, Washington.—Dear Sir: After a dozen more years of unsuccessful effort in the mercantile business in Western Washington, in August, 1903, decided to come to Alberta with a gentleman who was shipping two cars live stock to Edmonton. I assisted this man with the stock over one hundred miles out in the Birch Lake Country East of Edmonton. Indeed, how surprised, how favorably everything compared with my dream of what I wanted to see in a new country.

"Had never had any experience in farming, but I was immediately converted into a farmer. And from that moment I have prospered. Selected a homestead near Birch Lake, I returned for wife and three small children and freighted out from Edmonton in March following year we shoveled a spot clear of snow and pitched our tent and commenced operations, for that time we had no neighbors. Four years have passed, the locality is well settled, two miles from railway station, with churches and schools, telephone and good road accommodation.

"We are enjoying the privileges granted to any rural district in Washington. The Birch Lake Country is no exception, this great transformation is rapidly going on in every district in Western Canada.

"I estimate that every quarter section in every direction is capable of producing a comfortable living for a family of ten forever. After paying for two horses and a cow, had about $10.00 to go on. Did my first ploughing in my life. I was very awkward at my work, but nature was glad and I was abundantly paid for my efforts. My cattle has increased to about 100 head, which was very profitable on account of the abundance of forage. My farm was compelled to buy about two hundred dollars' worth of farm machinery on time, and the payments were due last fall, and you may wonder how I expected to pay for them when I had such a bad year. 'Twas a bad year bad for Western Canada or for a Saskatchewanian. But is not 35 or 40 bushels oats a pretty good yield per acre in many States? Then the price of grain went out of sight, so when I had sold my crop I found I was able to make my payments nicely, besides having had lots of feed. No one has any business raising cattle without growing grain, or vice versa. As to the winter, I did not feed my cattle, excepting the calves, a fork of hay until in March. Have found the winters much more pleasant than we did in Western Washington. This is strange and hard to explain, but 'tis true, nevertheless. At 40 degrees below zero we have more comfort than you would at 20 degrees above, so still and dry—with bright sunny days. My wife says that her only regret she has is that we did not come here ten years ago, as we would now certainly have been in a position to retire from hard work. Most men soon become satisfied as neighbors begin to come round them. Have 98 acres in crop this year, besides two acres potatoes, which have always brought me a good price. We find a ready market for everything we produce. To the Poor Man—Here is a chance to establish yourself. To the Rich Man—Here is a chance to buy land for $10.00 to $15.00 per acre which will produce more money than a half dozen acres of your land at $50.00 to $75.00 per acre land. And if I am very much mistaken, this year will prove an eye opener to those who are a little sceptical. The trouble with me is that I have so much to say favorable to Alberta 'tis hard to be brief. Respectfully,

(Signed) "P. S. AUSTIN."

A Difference in Degree.

"I just love cake," said Johnnie, lovingly. "It's awful nice."

"You should not say 'love' of cake," corrected his mother. "You should say 'like.' And do not say 'awful.' Say 'very.' And say 'good' instead of 'nice.' Now see if you can repeat the sentence correctly."

"I like cake," repeated Johnnie, "it's very good."

"That's better."

"I know, ma," complained Johnnie, "but it sounds just as if I was talking 'bout bread."—Everybody.

WE SELL GUNS AND TRAPS cheap & buy Furs & Hides. Write for catalog. N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis.

The man of intellect is the man of hearted man withal, the true, just mane and valiant man.—Carlyle.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE" That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

A light heart lives long.—Shakespeare.

LAKE FIRE HORROR

ABOUT SEVENTY MEN PERISH IN CHICAGO DISASTER.

CRIB IS A BLAZING TRAP

Workmen Burned to Death or Drowned in the Icy Waters—Many Rescued by a Tug.

Chicago.—Death in frightful form a choice between incineration or drowning in the ice-clogged lake—descended on probably 70 men at eight o'clock Wednesday morning when fire attacked the temporary crib of the new southwest land and water tunnel a mile and a half off Seventy-third street.

As nearly as can be learned, 120 men, mostly employes of George W. Jackson (Inc.), were in the crib at the time. Of these 47 are known to have been burned to death, as that number of bodies, so charred and mutilated as to make identification practically impossible, were recovered.

Others Perish in Lake.

Still others—number unknown and probably never to be revealed—lost their lives while battling with the icy waters which surrounded the blazing crib, having cast themselves into the lake in the vain hope that they might survive till help should arrive.

With the exception of the Iroquois disaster, which stands high in the list of world horrors, it was the most ruthless slaughter Chicago ever has ever known.

The cause of the fire and responsibility for the disaster remain undetermined. A rigid inquiry has been begun by Coroner Hoffman and the police.

Tug Prompt in Rescue.

Had it not been for the arrival of the tug T. T. Morford within ten minutes of the beginning of the fire every man on the crib probably would have perished. Some of the men sprang naked into the water, with portions of their bodies burned to a crisp, and battled their way to ice floes. Here they dragged themselves up, only to freeze to the floes and to leave strips of flesh upon the icy surface when they were removed by the crew of the Morford.

Others of the men endeavored to hold themselves suspended by ropes at an angle from the burning structure, only to be roasted piecemeal or to have the ropes budn through, plunging them to death in the water.

Many of these men were of those who could not swim and who knew that to jump into the water was only to leap to death.

Death by Slow Burning.

They, therefore, made pitiable attempts to elude the flames and met a harrowing death by slow burning. Even those men who could swim and who were not burned suffered terribly from the cold of the water and from freezing on the ice floes. Some of those who could swim failed to reach a bit of ice whereon they could drag themselves and died from drowning.

Still others of the unfortunates, and these were more lucky than their fellows, inasmuch as they met only death and not agony, were caught in their bunks asleep and died almost instantly in the raging hell of the crib.

The fire broke out shortly after the night shift had gone off watch. Some of the men had gone to bed or were preparing to go, and thus were caught without even clothing. Many of the men rescued from the floes by the Morford were naked or nearly so. Some of these, however, had been fully dressed when the fire broke out, but had their clothes burned off them.

Anguished Women Shriek.

Nor was the agony at the crib by any means the total of all the anguish of the time. Eight thousand feet distant, on the shore, helpless, shrieking, hysterical or dumb with horror, were grouped women and children and men—the relatives of those who were dead or dying.

The news of the catastrophe spread as rapidly as the flames themselves, and in a short time the shore between Seventy-fifth street and Sixty-eighth street was lined with human beings whose mental anguish was as frightful as the physical anguish out in the fog-covered lake.

The smoke and the flames could be seen from the shore, despite the gray fog bank. Every eye was on the flames, and each impotent onlooker realized that those flames meant death or indescribable suffering to father, brother, husband.

The inferno at the crib was increased in horror about fifteen minutes after the beginning of the fire by the explosion of dynamite which was used in blasting. Nearly three hundred pounds of dynamite were at the crib and part of this exploded.

There is a conflict of opinion as to what caused the fire. One theory is that one of the workmen threw a lighted match on a small portion of the dynamite and that it burned slowly. Others declare that the fire was due to crossed electric wires.

OFTEN THE CASE.

Women Struggle Hopelessly Along, Suffering Backache, Dizzy Spells, Languor, Etc.

Women have so much to go through in life that it's a pity there is so much suffering from backache and other common curable kidney ills. If you suffer so, profit by this woman's example: Mrs. Martin Douglass, 52 Cedar St., Kingston, N. Y., says: "I had a lame, aching back, dizzy spells, headaches, and a feeling of languor. Part of the time I could not attend to my work and irregularity of the kidney secretions was annoying. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me prompt relief."

Sold by all dealers. 50c a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

ONE THING AT A TIME.

"Have you noticed that the baroness never talks about other women?"

"How could she? She is all the time talking about herself."

At His Own Risk.

Caller (on crutches and with a bandage over one eye)—I have come, sir, to make application for the amount due on my accident insurance policy. I fell down a long flight of stairs the other evening and sustained damages that will disable me for a month to come.

Manager of Company—Young man, I have taken the trouble to investigate your case, and I find you are not entitled to anything. It could not be called an accident. You certainly knew the young lady's father was at home.—Stray Stories.

Anger Shrinks Vitality.

Dr. Maurice de Fleury, a distinguished Frenchman, advances the theory that every time one becomes angry his vitality shrinks. After even the most artfully suppressed signs of bad temper the vitality becomes smaller and smaller, until finally nothing is left. Anger is a certain kind of cerebral excitement, explains Dr. de Fleury. The hyperasthenic subject is always on its verge, while the neurasthenic becomes infuriated only by a sudden bound of reaction excited from without. But at that moment when they are let loose the two are alike, save that the strong man is a blinder brute, while the weak man is somewhat of an actor and seems to aim at effect.

Too Much for His Mind.

"My first impulses," wailed the Sad-Eyed Individual, "are invariably good. In fact, I think that I may venture, without fear of undue exaggeration, to say that they are very good. But I never act on them! I always act on second thoughts. This trait in my character has ruined my career, because my second thoughts are always bad! In fact, I think I may say, without fear of misrepresentation, that they're punk."

"Well," suggested he who was listening, "why don't you wait until third thoughts, and act on them?"

Mournfully, despondently, the Sad-Eyed Individual shook his head.

"My dear sir," he groaned, "I never had three successive thoughts about anything in my life!"

JOY WORK

And the Other Kind.

Did you ever stand on a prominent corner at an early morning hour and watch the throngs of people on their way to work? Noting the number who were forcing themselves along because it meant their daily bread, and the others cheerfully and eagerly pursuing their way because of love of their work.

It is a fact that one's food has much to do with it. As an example:

If an engine has poor oil, or a boiler is fired with poor coal, a bad result is certain, isn't it?

Treating your stomach right is the keystone that sustains the arch of health's temple and you will find "Grape-Nuts" as a daily food is the most nourishing and beneficial you can use.

We have thousands of testimonials, real genuine little heart throbs, from people who simply tried Grape-Nuts out of curiosity—as a last resort—with the result that prompted the testimonial.

If you have never tried Grape-Nuts it's worth while to give it a fair impartial trial. Remember there are millions eating Grape-Nuts every day—they know, and we know if you will use Grape-Nuts every morning your work is more likely to be joy-work, because you can keep well, and with the brain well nourished work is a joy. Read the "Road to Wellville" in every package—"There's a Reason."

RHEUMATISM PRESCRIPTION

The increased use of "Toris" for rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following formula is effective: "To one-half pint of good whiskey add one ounce of Toris Compound and one ounce of Syrup Sarsaparilla Compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring."

Toris compound is a product of the laboratories of the Globe Pharmaceutical Co., Chicago, but it as well as the other ingredients can be had from any good druggist.

Uncertainty in Pittsburg.

It was Christmas eve in Pittsburg. The snow sparkled in the tin roofs. Far away could be seen the rubicund glow of the coke ovens.

All was quiet in the home of the Pittsburg official.

Suddenly a low tap resounded on the outer door.

"Hark, George!" said the official's wife. "Did you hear that? It may be Santa Claus."

"It may be Santa Claus," said the official, gloomily, "but I'll bet $4 it's a deputy sheriff!"

And he arose and put on his shoes.

The Use of a Fat Man.

"I don't know whether I'll like Jack or not when I see him again," said she. "He wrote me he was getting fat. I hate a fat man."

"A fat man's all right," said the boy who was playing cards on the floor, "when a burglar gets in. A fat man will scare a burglar."

"But," she demurred, "I'm not marrying a man just because he's good to scare burglars with, am I?"

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Wouldn't Take Him Seriously.

He—But I need you in order to be happy.

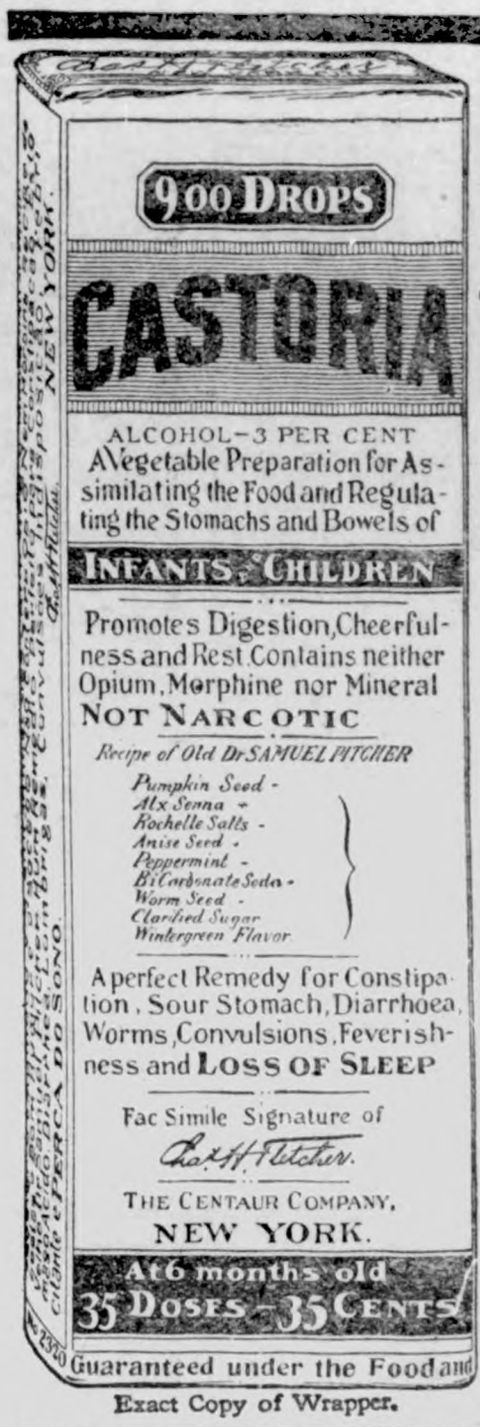
She—I couldn't think of marrying a needy person.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Silver is of less value than gold; gold, than virtue.—Horace.

It Cures While You Walk
Allen's Foot-Ease for corns and bunions, hot, sweaty callous aching feet. 25c all Druggists.

And the pretty girl usually has plain sailing.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

WE'D LIKE YOUR HELP — IN SEATTLE

The Pacific Northwest not merely is the "Land of Promise;" it is the land of fulfillment. While it needs money now to develop its untold resources, which, thus far, have only been "scratched," it will pay back a thousand fold, all that is put in it now. Not only will it pay you well, but if you place your investments right, it will keep on paying your children and your children's children in ever-increasing volume.

As your guaranty, take ownership of non-taxable Units of Central Business Property in Seattle. My Company provides the way to do this, and assures you business management of your property, and at least 6% per annum and the growth in value—which is the greatest sure fortune maker of all. You can look into this when you come to our "A-Y-P" Fair next year, but let me send you some facts to think about before you leave home.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

MAPLEINE
A flavoring that is used the same as lemon or vanilla. By dissolving granulated sugar in water and adding Mapleine, a delicious syrup is made and a syrup better than maple. Mapleine is sold by grocers. Send 2c stamp for sample and recipe book. Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle.

WANTED Young Man or Young Lady as apprentice to learn Jewelry Engraving also Jewelry Business.
CHICAGO JEWELRY ENGRAVING CO.
Boyce Building, Chicago.

Virginia Farms and Homes
FREE CATALOGUE OF SPLENDID BARGAINS.
R. B. CHAFFIN & CO., Inc., Richmond, Va.

For Indigestion and Heartburn A-B-C TEA
25cts. All Dealers. 25cts.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

WONDERBERRY PLANT,
THREE MONTHS FROM SEED.

THE WONDERBERRY

Luther Burbank's Greatest Creation. A Luscious Berry Ripening in Three Months from Seed. Seed 20 Cts. Per Pkt., 3 Pkts. for 50 Cts., Postpaid

Fruit blue-black like an enormous rich blueberry in looks and taste. Unsurpassed for eating raw, cooked, canned or preserved in any form. The greatest garden fruit ever introduced and equally valuable in hot, dry, cold or wet climates. Easiest plant in the world to grow, succeeding anywhere and yielding great masses of rich fruit all summer and fall—and all winter in pots—(As a pot plant it is both ornamental and useful). The greatest boon to the family garden ever known. Everybody can and will grow it.

Luther Burbank, of California, the world famous hybridizer, originated this new fruit and turned it over to me to introduce. He says of it: "This absolutely new berry plant is of great interest and value as it bears the most delicious, wholesome and healthful berries in utmost profusion and always comes true from seed."

I AM THE SOLE INTRODUCER AND GENUINE SEED CAN BE HAD NOWHERE ELSE.

FOR 20 CTS. (Silver or Stamps) I will send 1 pkt. Wonderberry seed, (3 pkts. for 50 cts.) and my GREAT CATALOGUE which tells all about it and my BIG CASH PRIZES to agents. AGENTS WANTED.

MY GREAT CATALOGUE of Flowers and Vegetable Seed, Bulbs, Plants and Rare and New Fruits FREE to all who apply. 140 pages, 500 illustrations and colored plates. I have been in business 34 years and have half a million customers all over the country. Complete satisfaction guaranteed to everyone. Do not fail to see the many great Novelties I am offering this year of which the WONDERBERRY is the greatest ever known.

Address JOHN LEWIS CHILDS, Floral Park, N. Y.

P. S.—This offer will not appear again. Write for Wonderberry seed, and Catalogue at once. Do not neglect or delay. You can be the first to grow it in your town and make big money selling both berries and seed. I raised 550 quarts from a few plants.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

Just Dust it on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
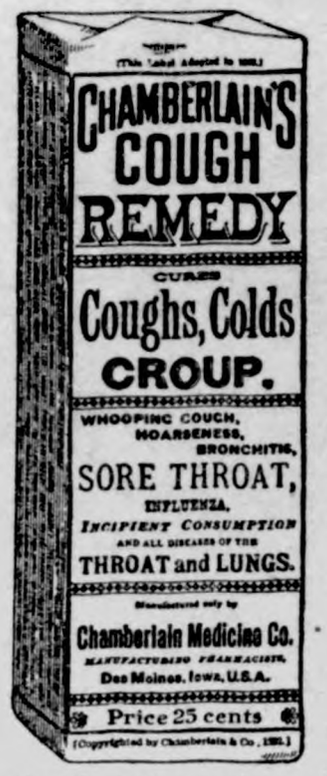
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.

GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE



See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

KILL THE COUGH
AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery

FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free

AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.

GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

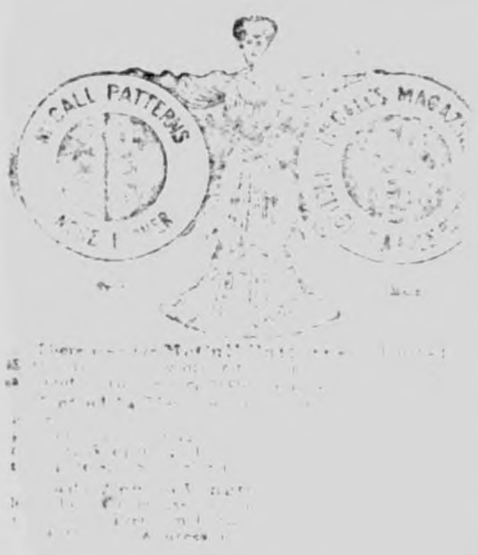
136 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
437 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent



U.S. CREAM SEPARATOR

If you keep cows you need a U. S. Separator to make them yield the biggest profit. It will make the most money for you because it skims cleaner than any other separator. It will save you more than any other because it needs less time, labor and repairs to run it. Look a U. S. over for yourself. For sale by

ELL BROS.

BARNYARD SOCIAL AFFAIRS.

Mrs. Plymouth Rock—Glad to have you for a neighbor, Mrs. Buff; but your first step will be to get social recognition.

Mrs. Buff Cochin—That's all fixed, as I have letters to the Duck family, and I am reliably informed they are strictly in the swim.

Cheerful.

A nervous young minister, in visiting a remote village, had an unpleasant experience. The old lady at whose house he stayed, in showing him his room, said:

"It ain't anybody I'd put in this room. This here room is full of sacred associations to me," she went on. "My first husband died in that bed with his head on these pillows, and poor Mr. Jenks died sitting in that corner. Sometimes when I come into the room in the dark I think I see him sitting there still. My own father died layin' right on the lounge right under the window there. Poor pa, he was a spiritualist, and he allus said he'd appear in this room after he died, and sometimes I am foolish enough to look for him. If you should see anything of him to-night, you'd better not tell me. It'd be a sign to me that there was something in spiritualism, and I'd hate to think that. My son by my first husband fell dead of heart disease right where you stand. He was a doctor, and there's two whole skeletons in that closet there belonged to him, and half a dozen skulls in that lower drawer. If you are up early and want something to amuse yourself with before breakfast just open that cupboard there, and you will find a lot of dead men's bones. My poor husband thought a lot of them. Well, good night, and pleasant dreams."

MOST LIKELY.

"Who was the fellow who went around with a lantern looking for an honest man?"

"I don't know; but if he were to try it to-day somebody would steal his lantern!"

True Genius.

"Your daughter has genius, Mr Straightout."

"Nonsense! She can't sing, nor she can't play!"

"No. But she knows it."

The Worst.

Young Wife (whose elderly husband is desperately ill)—Doctor, do not keep me in suspense! Tell me the worst!

Doctor—Then, madam, listen! He will get well!

DeWITT'S CARBOLIZED WITCH HAZEL SALVE For Piles, Burns, Sores.

How He Hunted Bear.

A New York Irishman was visiting a friend in the Adirondacks and was taken with a desire to go hunting. Borrowing a gun from his friend he set off alone in search of game. Some time after his host heard a distant report of a gun. A few minutes later he heard some one shouting. From a window he spied, in the distance, his friend, hot-footing it for home, and behind him a bear, gaining at every step. Nearly spent, the pursued reached the door just in time to cry out:

"Quick, Mike! Quick! Open the door! I'm bringing him home alive!"

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book full explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 27 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, FEB. 4, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

The biggest shoe manufacturer of Boston was a shoemaker at the bench in Golden, Colorado less than forty years ago. HE SAVED the little 25c pieces he got for patching shoes and put them in the bank. He has spent millions of dollars just for advertising and is worth millions today. Deposit your money with us and receive a liberal rate of intesest.

Capital and Surplus $25,500.00

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

North Elevator

—FOR—

Pocahontas Smokeless
Wonderland White Ash Splint
Genuine Sunday Creek Hocking
Brazil block
Sutless Washed Egg Wilmington
Scranton hard coal

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J.W.WATERMAN

Mental Suggestion for Health.

Suggestible as is the conscious mind, the subconscious is still more so. Now we know that at least twice a day we all have brief periods during wihch the subconscious is in evidence and during which therefore, we are especially suggestible. These two periods are those immediately preceding and immediately succeeding sleep. We are then in a half-waking and half-sleeping condition, and any suggestion offered to the mind in that state is in some inexplicable way, taken up by the brain mechanism and realized. Let the worrier, then, use well these few minutes at night and in the morning, by saturating his brain with suggestions that make against worry and that make for peace, poise and nervous balance.—Rev. S. S. McComb, in Harper's Bazar.

Opposed All Education.

The Abecedarians were the followers of one Nikolaus Storch, a clothmaker of Wittenberg, who flourished in 1522. He proclaimed fanatical views that are commonly called Anabaptist, and soon gathered a considerable following.

The foundation of their faith was that it was best not to know how to read, since the Holy Spirit would convey knowledge of the Scriptures directly to the understanding. They contended, therefore, that as education might be a hindrance to salvation it must be avoided as a pest. They encouraged pupils to desert the schools and universities and take up humble trades.

The Skylark's Song.

The skylark of England does not sing in winter, but in the early days of spring the great flocks of these birds break up, and they go in pairs to hunt for places to build their nests and rear their young. It is then that the song of the bird is heard in all its sweetness. While the mother-bird is sitting on her nest, her mate often rises in the air, and with quivering wing mounts straight upwards so far that he looks like a mere speck in the sky. And all the time he pours forth his rich and beautiful song, ceasing only as he descends again to the nest.

His Favorite Game-Bird.

At a dinner one day, says a writer in the Philadelphia Public Ledger, some men were discussing the merits of different kinds of game-birds. One preferred canvasback duck, another, woodcock, and still another thought a quail the most delicious article of food. The discussion and the dinner ended at about the same time.

"Now, Frank," said one of the men to the waiter at his elbow, "what kind of game do you like best?"

"Well, suh, to tell the truf, almost any kind of game suits me, but what I like bes' is an American eagle served on a silber dollar."—Youth's Companion.

The Irony of Fate.

An old Jewish woman on the East side of New York was bewailing the plight of her daughter, who had just been left a widow with a large family, with no one to depend upon for support but her own parents.

"Oi, oi, oi!" bewailed the old woman. "That my daughter's husband should die and leafe her with seven girls, and their granfader in the boys' cloding pisuness!"

Keep Windows Open at Night.

To sleep without plenty of fresh air is to take just so much poison into your system. It means that you breathe the same air over and over again, and then you wonder why you feel so heavy and languid in the morning. No matter how cold the night, open your window as far as it will go. If you wrap yourself up properly you will not feel the cold. Wear a flannel gown and something over your head. The last thing before going to bed, fill a bottle with hot water, cork it tightly and place it in the bed. If you have plenty of bed coverings you will be as warm as possible all night.

Ready for the Call.

"The best man in Georgia," said the old farmer to his son, "came from the plow." "That's what I want to come from," said the youth, "an' mighty quick, too."—Atlanta Constitution.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

HOW long have they been in business? An answer to this question is necessary to fix the standing of any business house. Before any concern can claim rank in the business world, its stability must be proven by the test of time. And the longer it has been in business with an honorable record, the higher it is rated by public opinion.

It takes time to show whether a bank is conducted on a policy of sefety and conservatism.

This bank has a history of over fifteen years of successful business and satisfactory service to Klemme people.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

A. F. HUBBARD

AUCTIONEER.

I would be pleased to cry your sales this season at reasonable terms. Livestock a specialty. Make dates with either banks at Klemme. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Address—Ventura, Iowa,
R. F. D. No. 2.

Toilet and Fancy Goods.

Toilet soaps, bath soaps, infent powders, sachet powders face powders, tooth powders, dressing and fine combs.

PAINTS and OILS

Strictly pure white lead. Colors dry and in oil Turpentine and varnishes. Window shades and trimmings.

Customers will find our stock complete in every respect. We are constantly adding every new novel and meritorious article that comes within our line of business. If you see a medicine advertised and want it, we will gladly get it for you if we do not have it.

Call and see us—your patronage is always appreciated, no matter how small your purchase, and you may rest assured it will be our constant aim to sell you the best that can be obtained and at reasonable prices.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

KLEMME IOWA

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

France is strongly tempted to subsidize the stork.

The average height of the Laplander is less than five feet.

In sleety days the good citizen is known by the kind of pavement he keeps.

England's turbine fleet already includes 62 warships and 44 vessels of the merchant marine.

Pittsburg girl eloped to Ohio and took her mother along. Thereby showing two varieties of good judgment.

With an annual saving fund of a billion France ought to be very comfortable on the proverbial rainy day.

Anyhow, Mark Twain has made sure that his patent on Huckleberry Finn shall not expire for a long, long time.

Thirty gallons of oysters were used at a church sociable at Hutchinson, Kan. Who says prosperity hasn't returned?

A philanthropic but misguided fish doctor in New York city has succeeded in saving the life of a German carp. Cui bono?

Orville Wright manages to get about on crutches, which is some progress toward his practice of ignoring terra firma altogether.

A Milwaukee doctor has married his cook. But the scheme doesn't work. Just as soon as you marry them, they quit being cooks.

A Parisian journal asks the question: "Should actresses marry?" We should say the answer is: "Not so often as they do."

We should imagine, from some of the rambling remarks of Prof. Hugo Muensterberg, that applied sociology was a good thing until one came to apply it.

Gold, silver and lead mines are, it is said, to be worked extensively in the bleak district of Innishowen, County of Donegal, Ireland, overlooking the Atlantic.

"Forget it" is said to be the favorite maxim of the German emperor. Our guess is that he has recently been compelled to work his favorite maxim overtime.

One of the doctors says cocktails superinduce pneumonia. He must be trying to allay the fears that certain people have had concerning pneumonia.

Those countries now adopting old-age pensions may not know the trouble they are bringing on themselves, since the professor is about to show us all how to live to be young at 150.

When it comes to doing damage, men are puny things, after all. The six months' bombardment of Port Arthur by land and sea did far less damage to that city than the earthquake did to Reggio.

President Roosevelt is expected to capture alive in Africa for the Washington Zoological park an oryx, a kleene-boc and a kahau. Probably he will be successful. He has captured even queerer game in the United States.

Record-breaking work continues in the Panama canal zone. The total excavations during December were 3,261,673 cubic yards, against 2,920,404 yards in November and 2,201,734 yards in December, 1907. And with like progress in other directions the finish is steadily and rapidly drawing near.

A man in New York was arrested and sent to prison for begging for a cup of coffee with which to sustain his feeble strength while looking for work to feed his starving family. And from the fact that so many great crimes go "unwhipped of justice," this treatment of poverty as a crime is one of the worst travesties upon our modern civilization.

Here is proof that the courts are not respecters of persons and do not draw the color line. By a decision of the United States district court in Oklahoma "Zeke" Moore, a colored man, is awarded royalty on oil lands which will make him the richest negro in the state. "Zeke" is also an ex convict, but his good fortune should help him to mend his ways.

The fact that the new president of the New York Central railroad says in the next 15 years the railroads must spend billions, calls attention to what an immense difference it would make if everybody was content to stay in one place. It also emphasizes the fact, declares the Baltimore American that persons who have passed their whole lives in one home or even in one town, or who have never been on a railroad journey in their lives, are written up in the daily papers as human curiosities.

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth.

LATE NEWS OF THE BLIZZARD.

Thousands of Dollars' of Damage at Creston.

Creston.—Although definite estimate is impossible at this time, thousands of dollars' worth of property was destroyed in Creston's business section by the wind storm which accompanied the blizzard of Jan. 29. The county courthouse tower and cupola were thrown through Sheriff Masons' front porch. One thousand dollars will not replace the tower. The Christian church tower was wrecked to the extent of $300, and the Second Catholic church nearly $100. The heavy slate roofing of the large machine shops here was torn away and the machinery buried in ice and snow, necessitating abandonment of all work. Sections of the roundhouse were blown away and engines exposed to the elements.

Webster City Isolated.

Webster City.—Not in twenty-five years has Webster City and north central Iowa been worse storm bound. Not a telegraph wire was running out of the city—not even a railroad wire. In three school buildings no school was held because window lights were blown in and the buildings could not be heated. Big signs all over the business district are down and store fronts were blown in or broken in by flying signs. The municipal heating plant, too, was put out of commission. The big chimney was blown over and the business district, in consequence, was without heat. Rural and city mail deliveries were abandoned. This condition maintained all over this section of the state.

Chicasaw Is Swept.

Nashua.—One of the worst blizzards experienced in this section in years occurred Jan. 29, and as a result of the storm hundreds of dollars' worth of damage was done. On one of the country roads running east of the Corn Belt Telephone companys' lines for a distance of nearly a mile, almost every pole is down, many of them being snapped off like matches Stock also suffered severely, especially where unprotected and there will undoubtedly be considerable loss to farmers. About a foot of snow fell. All business was at a standstill.

Sioux City Lost $10,000.

Sioux City.—Storm damage over northwestern Iowa was confined to unroofed buildings in the country and broken glass fronts of stores in towns. The damage in Sioux City will reach $10,000. Four railroads were without service during the storm. Eleven ice houses of the Consumers' Ice company were overturned, corn cribs were capsized, windmills toppled over and much damage of a smaller nature done.

No Water or Light.

Guthrie Center.—The smokestack on the plant of the Guthrie Center water and electric plant went down in the storm, leaving the city without water or light. One of the big plate glass windows in the First National bank was blown in and many other windows were smashed in downtown sections.

FARM RENTER HAS PROFITS.

Farmer Near Mason City Proves Rented Farm Can Pay.

Swaledale.—The talk that there are no profits resulting to the renter on Iowa farms has been refuted by Ulysses Brough, of this vicinity who, on an ordinary 160 acre farm which he tilled last year, has sold a total of $6,400 worth of grain and stock. Of that amount $2,400 was corn, $1,100 was oats, and $2,400 were steers. He still has on the farm seventy-five head of cattle, a couple hundred head of hogs, 1,200 bushels of corn and 1,500 bushels of oats. He began a few years ago a poor man and has made good headway, but this last year has made his fortune. He holds the record for profitable farming in this part of the state for the renter class.

Canned Goods Are Seized.

Cedar Rapids.—Government officials made a visit to Cedar Rapids armed with a warrant for seizure of a large amount of canned goods alleged to be improperly branded. The goods comprised about 165 cases of canned California peaches, plums, apricots and pears. The allegation of the government is that the cans do not contain two and one-half pounds of fruit, as stated on the package.

THE EXPECTED HAPPENED.

Witness Contradicts Testimony Given by Pastor.

Des Moines.—The expected happened in the Francis will case when the attorneys for the widow and the heirs of Daniel Francis put on a witness who absolutely contradicted the evidence of Rev. T. E. Thuresson. The witness was H. R. Proudfoot. He asserted that the Rev. Mr. Thuresson did make the statement that "someone will have to get busy on old man Francis and line up his property or he will die and we will not lose it." The preacher during his examination the day before denied that he had made such a statement. This contradiction of the pastor's word occurred during the short rebuttal of the widow and the heirs. Mrs. Proudfoot and Rev. O. W. Fifer of Grace M. E. Church, Des Moines, the other two persons whom the attorneys claim heard the Rev. Mr. Thuresson make the same statement, were not called to testify. The introduction of this testimony, or, rather, the announcement that it would come, was one of the surprises of the trial. The Rev. Mr. Thuresson was pastor of the Asbury M. E. church, to which congregation Daniel Francis belonged, and was also an agent of the Preachers' Aid Society. The evidence in the case brought out the fact that he had the first dealings with Daniel Francis concerning the transfer of his property.

ELEVEN BARRELS NABBED.

Sheriff Had Enough Whisky to Start Wholesale House.

Onawa.—Three thousand dollars' worth of "contraband" whisky was seized in Whiting, Iowa, by Sheriff Rawlings, and hauled to Onawa, the county seat and stored in the county jail. The sheriff gained his search warrant by an information filed by John F. Joseph, of Sioux City, who is an attorney for the Anti-Saloon league of that city. This is the property of Pat Wise of Whiting, whose saloon was closed in July by order of the town council. The seizure consisted of eleven barrels and over fifty cases of the finest Bourbon whisky. Although Wise claims he just had it stored in his saloon building, the temperance people say he was bootlegging it out. The haul amounted to four wagon loads which completely filled the county jail. If the charge is sustained it will all be dumped into the gutter.

COUNTY FARM PROFITABLE.

Cerro Gordo Farm Makes More Than Pays for Its Expenses.

Mason City.—Among the few counties in Iowa that have a self supporting county farm this county is one. The fat cattle which have been feeding were marketed at 5c per pound, netting $2,481.50 which came into the hands of the county. The result of this and other farm products has more than kept the fifty inmates. In contrast to the products of this farm is that of Henry county, the report from which shows that a deficit of $35,000 has resulted in the care of the farm and its inmates, of which there are twenty-eight, making a total per capita of $200. At this rate the inmates could be cared for cheaper at the state infirmary.

RACE WAR AT MASON CITY.

Whites and Blacks in Fierce Contest at That Place.

Mason City.—Mason City was given a taste of an incipient race war when a riot between white and colored men terminated in smashing two big plate glass windows for the Armstrong barber shop and the beating up of a couple of negroes. The shop was attacked with stones by unknown parties during the night, and the plate glass windows, 8x10 feet each, were shivered to pieces. Feeling has been running high between certain elements of whites and blacks. Several fights ensued in which a couple of colored men were waylaid in an alley and roughly handled. This was followed by the breaking of the windows.

Nearly Million for Quake Aid.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Nearly $900,000 has been distributed by the Red Cross society of America to the earthquake sufferers. A statement issued by the organization shows the funds distributed to the Italian Red Cross society $300,000 and the remainder to Ambassador Griscom.

CUBANS TAKE REINS

GEN. GOMEZ IS INAUGURATED AS ISLAND'S PRESIDENT.

GOV. MAGOON STEPS OUT

Ceremonies Preceded by Brilliant Illumination and Farewell Ball for American Officials — Tars Decorate Old Maine.

Havana.—Cuba formally passed back into the hands of the Cubans at noon Thursday, when the new government, headed by President Gomez and Vice-President Zayas was inaugurated.

The ceremonies were simple. Gen. Gomez took the oath from the chief justice of the supreme court and made a brief address to the populace from the balcony of the palace. Afterward in the reception room of the palace Gov. Magoon read the order of President Roosevelt restoring the island and its affairs to the newly elected government.

City in Carnival Scene.

The coming of this new day of Cuban liberty was signaled by a general display of fireworks, the velvet blackness of the tropical midnight being set aflame by screeching rockets and bombs which sent down showers of golden rain and gleaming, varicolored lights. The streets of the city, which were brilliantly illuminated and garlanded with chains of incandescent bulbs, were thronged and a carnival spirit everywhere prevailed. Thousands of people gathered around the Clerks' club throughout the night, where inaugural and farewell balls were held jointly in honor of President Gomez and Vice-President Zayas and Gov. Magoon, all three of whom were quickly recognized on entering the building and leaving it, and loudly applauded. The balls constituted one of the most brilliant functions held here since the days of the Spanish occupation.

Illumination and Ball.

The festivities really opened Wednesday night with a brilliant illumination of the city and a farewell ball tendered by the mayor and council of Havana in honor of Gov. Magoon, President-elect Gomez, Vice-President-elect Zayas and the American officers who served as provisional authorities.

The illuminations probably were the most elaborate ever seen here. The money provided for the purpose was subscribed unstintedly, and the parks and the principal thoroughfares of the city were transformed into a veritable fairyland. In Central park, stretching down the Prado to the sea, thousands of vari-colored bulbs gleamed among cocoanut palms and laurel trees.

Ball a Brilliant Affair.

The ball was a brilliant function. It was attended by the American officials, the new island authorities, members of the diplomatic corps, special ambassadors and leaders of society. It was held in the large and beautiful ballroom of the Circle Dependientes, or Clerks' club, which is a unique organization with the enormous membership of 34,000. The club building, which faces an entire block, is a palace. The ball was held last night rather than this evening, after the inauguration, because of the determination of the American officials to leave for home immediately following President Gomez's induction into office.

President Sees Success.

Washington. — A message expressing hope for Cuba's success was sent by President Roosevelt to the president and congress of the republic of Cuba Thursday. It follows:

"Gov. Magoon will, by direction, turn over to you, on the 28th of this month, the control and government of the island of Cuba, and he will thereupon declare the provisional administration of the affairs of the island by the United States to be at an end. Upon the occasion of this final act, I desire to reiterate to you the sincere friendship and good wishes of the United States, and our most earnest hopes for the stability and success of your government. Our fondest hope is that you may enjoy the blessings of peace, justice, prosperity and orderly liberty, and that the friendship which has existed between the republic of the United States and the republic of Cuba may continue for all time to come."

JUDGE TAFT ON ISTHMU

MAKES HIS EIGHTH TRIP ACRO THE CANAL ROUTE.

Lands at Colon, Spends Night at Cu bra and Then Pays Visit to the Site of Gatun Dam.

Panama.—President-elect Taft Frid made his eighth trip across the is mus and everywhere was greeted w marked demonstrations of good will

With his party Mr. Taft landed the morning at Colon and proceed by special train to Culebra, where night he was quartered at the re dence of Lieut. Col. Goethals, cha man of the Panama canal commissi His reception by the Panama offici both at Colan and Culebra was m cordial. Saturday Mr. Taft visited t site of Gatun dam.

The United States cruiser Nor Carolina, on which Mr. Taft sail from Charleston, and the convoy cru er Montana arrived at Colon at t o'clock Friday morning after a v age that was marked by splend weather conditions. All the membe of the party were in good health.

Col. Goethals, Joseph Blackbu governor of the canal zone; Col. W liam C. Gorgas, chief sanitary offic of the zone, and other prominent p sons, immediately boarded the Nor Carolina from the tug Cristobal a welcomed the president-elect, w landed at dock No. 2, adjoining t Panama railroad office.

The first person to shake the ha of Mr. and Mrs. Taft when they la ed was Gov. Porfiro Menendez Colon, who introduced to them May Benigno Andrion, Chief of Pol Arango and other Panama officials.

Mr. Taft and his party immediat boarded a train which was wait and left at noon for Culebra. Arriv there the president-elect was recei ceremoniously by the members President Obaldia's cabinet. Dur the afternoon Mr. Taft had a conf ence with the engineers engaged the construction of the canal and visit to the Gatun dam was planned

The president-elect and his pa will sail from Colon for New Orle Friday, February 5.

BODIES OF THE CHENEYS ARRI

American Victims of Quake Brou Home for Burial.

New York.—The bodies of the American victims of the convulsion nature at Messina, Italy, a mo ago, United States Consul Arthur Cheney and Mrs. Cheney, arrived the harbor Thursday night. T were on board the Fabre liner, Ve zia, which arrived after dark and mained anchored at the quaran station until morning.

When the Venezia docked Fr the bodies were escorted by reg troops to the Grand Central sta and there embarked for New Ha Conn., the home of the Chen where interment will take place.

Count Messiglia, the Italian co general at New York, was one of th to receive the bodies at the steam dock. He laid wreaths on the co a graceful tribute paid at the requ of Signor Mayor des Planches, Italian ambassador at Washington.

JEROME IN CANAL LIBEL CA

Ready to Act if Robinson Will Ma Complaint.

New York.—The possibility of federal authorities having to st aside to permit the state and cou of New York to proceed against publishers of the New York World the alleged libel in connection w the Panama purchase, was made parent Tuesday in a letter written District Attorney Jerome to Uni States District Attorney Henry Stimson.

Provided Douglas Robinson, broth in-law of the president, is willing appear as a complainant witness, Jerome is ready, the letter states, begin action at once in the st courts. It would be useless for him do so, however, he explains, if his quiry is not given precedence over t begun before the federal grand ju as acquittal or conviction in one co would act as sufficient defense in other.

Delay Anti-Jap Measure.

Sacramento, Cal.—The question anti-Japanese legislation was t porarily put aside by the legislat Wednesday as a result of an agr ment between President Roosev Gov. Gillett and the leaders of b houses. Assemblyman A. M. Dr agreed, after a conference with t governor, to amend his anti-alien b Grove L. Johnson was not willing postpone action upon his anti-Jap ese bills, but a motion to put all measures over for a week prevail with little opposition.

Oklahoma Paper Burned Out.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—The plant the Daily Oklahoman, and the adjo ing building, occupied by the loc branch of the J. I. Case Plow Co pany, were destroyed by fire.

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. Elise shared her stateroom with a Mrs. Graham, also bound for Canada. The young women on a sightseeing tour met Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented by the trio for the summer. Elizabeth learned that a friend of her father's was to call. Two men called, one of them being the queer-acting stranger on the steamer. The girls were "not at home," but discovered by the cards left that one of the men was Elizabeth's father's friend. The men proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. Lady Edith told the girls of a robbery of jewels at the hotel. Fearing for the safety of her own gems, she left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his queer actions, returned the lost bag and told of mysterious doings of a year before connected with the cottage. Exploring the cellar, one of the girls found a sphinx cuff-button, the exact counterpart of which both Gordon Bennett and Lady Edith were found to possess, also. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. The young women agreed to keep the secret. Lady Edith told a story of a lost love in connection with the sphinx key. Elise and Gordon Bennett discovered Lady Edith and Mr. Graham, the latter displaying a marvelous baritone voice. At a supper which was held on the rocks Elizabeth rather mysteriously lost her ring, causing a search by the entire party.

CHAPTER X.—Continued

After a moment's indecision I crept across the room and looked out from behind the drawn curtain. There was nothing in sight. In the clear moonlight I could see quite as distinctly as by day, and the white stillness was wonderfully comforting. It was rather awesome, too, and while I felt the fascination of the night I was also conscious of the rather creepy sensation one experiences when the world sleeps, leaving one wakeful and alone with nature.

Out before me stretched the path leading to the village and my eyes followed it unconsciously until it turned sharply and disappeared. As I looked two shadows fell across it, seeming very black against the surrounding whiteness. One was short, fat, and shapeless; the other long, thin, and somewhat like an elongated pair of tongs—a very specter of a shadow. They moved, merged themselves into an indiscriminate mass, separated and came together again, a black streak marking their progress around the corner.

I clung to the window frame, deriving some comfort from contact with the solid wood. A pricking sensation ran up and down my spine and I was incapable of moving or uttering a sound.

In a second I was glad I had not spoken, for the shadows again detached themselves. I heard the crunching of gravel, and a familiar figure appeared around the turn of the path. It was Mary Anne, a red shawl held over her head, and no words can express the relief and comfort at seeing her ample figure prosaically proceeding toward the kitchen door. I was rather indignant, too, and went down to ask her what she meant by such nocturnal rambles.

I found her collapsed upon a kitchen chair, breathing heavily. Upon seeing my white-clad form close beside her she uttered a stifled scream, then immediately stole my thunder by reproaching me for prowling around the house in the dead of night and frightening people out of their wits.

In fact, she became so eloquent that instead of the dignified rebuke I had intended to administer I found myself apologizing for my presence and promising to be more considerate in the future.

"But, Mary Anne," I ventured to remark, "where have you been? I was frightened to death."

Mary Anne at once became propitiatory and sympathetic.

"Pore child," she exclaimed, "of course you was upset! It was Miss Elizabeth's ring—I got to thinkin' about the best way to find it. So I went to my brother Dan, 'im as lives in the little 'ouse jest below the bluff [illegible] you know is gospel truth, miss. And I begged 'im to take 'is boat and go round them rocks early, miss, and see what 'e could find. Fur I wanted to give it to 'er fust thing when she wakes—"

Mary Anne paused for breath and I felt a thrill of compunction, for, after all, she had been out on our account and solely to do us a service.

"And that was your brother with you, I suppose," I remarked. "Does he think he can find the ring?"

She looked at me a moment without replying, then walked to the door and bolted it.

"Yes, miss," she said; "Dan 'as 'opes. Not that they're very 'igh 'opes, fur Dan ain't much at lookin' at the bright side. But 'e'll do 'is dooty, miss, and I think Miss Elizabeth may find her ring, though of course I can't be sure—no more can Dan. Now you'd better go to bed, Miss Elise, fur you need your sleep and I need mine."

I was very willing to follow this advice, and felt hopeful that morning would bring good news to Elizabeth, for Mary Anne's brother had inspired me with a feeling of confidence Gordon Bennett's diver had not produced. As I lay thinking dreamily of him and wondering whether he would get his boat out early and go to work a sudden recollection of his appearance overpowered me.

We were all familiar with Mary Anne's brother. He was a short, stockily built man, with very broad shoulders and short bowed legs. It seemed improbable that he could cast a shadow like a pair of tongs, but then as every one knows shadows are not to be depended upon.

A Familiar Figure Appeared.

CHAPTER XI.

"I don't like suppers on the rocks, do you?"

"No, I think they're beastly."

It was the next afternoon and Gabrielle and I were sitting on the veranda. I was pretending to read, while she was frankly doing nothing.

The day had dragged heavily. My confidence in Mary Anne's brother had been misplaced, for he had not appeared in triumph with the ring and we felt rather aggrieved in consequence.

Of course we had all visited the rocks many times, separately and collectively, but had returned empty-handed and rather cross. Even the Canadian sun is hot at midday in summer, and continued ineffectual stooping among rocks and loose stones would have its effect upon the most angelic disposition. Then, too, Gordon Bennett had not appeared with his diver, nor had we heard further from Lord Wilfrid on the subject, so our faith in mankind had suffered accordingly. I also wished something pleasant would happen and agreed with Gabrielle that the afternoon was endless.

A diversion was here created by the appearance of Mr. Graham, who carried a bunch of long-stemmed white roses that certainly were never the product of the island. Mrs. Graham had sent them with her love and apologies for her hysterical outburst of the night before, which, he was careful to explain, was solely the result of her physical condition. He hoped we had not allowed their departure to break up the party.

We told him about the lost ring and he listened with interest. I thought his expressions of regret and offers of assistance were unnecessarily effusive, but then, as Gabrielle said afterward, Mr. Graham always went a little too far in everything.

After a while he took his departure, saying he did not like to leave Mrs. Graham long alone in her present nervous condition. Gabrielle lifted the roses and laid their heavy perfumed heads against her face.

"They are beautiful," she said; "but what shall we do with them?"

"Do with them?" I echoed.

"Yes, that's what I said. You know if Elizabeth ever gets one sniff she'll have hay fever, and I'm sure I don't want to add that to her afflictions, poor dear."

After a little consideration we decided to transfer the roses to Lady Edith, and Gabrielle volunteered to take them to her at once.

"For they must not go into the house," she said, "and if we keep them out here any longer some enterprising germ might drift through the window and up Elizabeth's nose. Will you go with me?"

I declined, saying I was going back to the rocks to have one more look before dark.

We strolled along together to the point where our paths diverged and Gabrielle became silent and preoccupied.

"Elise," she said, speaking very solemnly, "I am going to ask you a question and I want a truthful answer, absolutely your honest opinion, you know."

"Well?"

"Do you think I care more for Elizabeth than she does for me? Or does Elizabeth care more for me than I do for her?"

I laughed, and she continued half laughing also, yet wholly in earnest.

"Well, I really want to know."

"What do you think yourself?"

The question had often been propounded to me, and I knew that a definite answer would be merely ground for argument.

"I think you are horrid. But then," she paused reflectively, "perhaps you'd better not answer after all. I would hate to think Elizabeth did not care as much for me as I do for her, yet it doesn't seem to me she can. You may laugh, but of course you don't understand how we feel about it."

Our paths separated here. Gabrielle, with her arms full of roses, went on to the village while I picked my way carefully along the shore to the rocks.

It was useless to look again, as I well knew, yet I searched conscientiously for some time, then sat down to rest beside the ashes of our last night's fire. I really do not know of anything more depressing than ashes when one is rather tired and inclined to be introspective. They seem to typify so remorselessly the inevitable outcome of human desires and ambitions.

So I sat watching the glow of the sunset, and thinking of many things in a disconnected sort of way. I thought of Gabrielle and Elizabeth, and of their friendship which seemed so wonderfully satisfying; I also remembered the shadows of the previous night and my unnecessary agitation over them. Then I recalled Gabrielle's parting words with something akin to a sigh. Perhaps, as she said, I did not understand, but I thought I did and envied them heartily.

I confess to being foolishly blue as I sat on the rocks listening to the wash of the waves, for I was sure no one was speculating whether they loved me more than I did them, and I felt very lonely in consequence. The tide was low and the ocean calm and uninteresting, so I turned my back to it, preferring to watch the sun reluctantly surrender the world to the moon, which would soon come up out of the water just as it had done last night.

Therefore I did not see two figures walking along the shore and not until I heard my name in Mr. Blake's even voice was I aware that I was no longer alone, but that he and Gordon Bennett were standing beside me, both looking rather amused.

"A penny for your thoughts," said Mr. Blake, producing it.

"Nonsense," interrupted Mr. Bennett; "they are worth more than that. What will you take for them?"

"They are not even worth a penny. I really don't believe I was thinking of anything."

"Has the ring been found?"

I replied that it had not and that we feared it must be in the ocean, after all. Here I paused significantly, for I did not like to ask outright what had become of the promised diver, yet considered a hint permissible under the circumstances.

I thought he looked ill at ease as he somewhat formally expressed his regret for the accident. His manner was certainly very different from yesterday and I decided that the incident had begun to bore him. Mr. Blake wandered down to the water's edge, but Mr. Bennett seated himself beside me.

"The world is out of joint," he remarked; "what's the matter?"

"The cross," I admitted, "and awfully blue. Please don't ask me why, for I don't know myself."

He was wise enough not to pursue the subject, but began to talk upon impersonal matters, and after a while I became quite cheerful and even wondered secretly what I had found to be melancholy about, for it was certainly a very nice world after all.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

FOR THE USERS OF TOBACCO.

Assertion That Plant Was Certainly Placed Here for Good Purpose.

It is passing strange that, with all the experience at command, the physiologists are never in agreement as to the effects of the smoking habit. Even where lay opinion has been fairly well established by the apparently well digested views of the scientists with respect to certain phases of the whole problem, they are wholly liable to upsetting by the latest opinion. For example, two considerations have long been thought to be determined—that moderate indulgence in tobacco need not be denied, and that the lad not out of his 'teens would better abjure tobacco altogether. It may be asserted that man is not a smoker by nature; and certain effects of tobacco seem to indicate, without especial argument, that the longer the acquirement of the habit is postponed the better for the human system. At the same time the remote antiquity of the tobacco plant suggests that it is one of nature's unassisted growths; and, if it were not designed for man to enjoy in security, neither is it at all clear that it is to be classed with nature's productions.—Providence Journal.

Knew Meat from Carrion.

Tennessee bred two great orators in the olden days—Andrew Johnson, a Democrat, once president of the United States, and Gustavus A. Henry, a Whig, known as the "eagle orator of the South."

They ran against each other for governor and when a long series of joint debates had reached its close Johnson addressed the Whigs in the audience: "I have spoken with the boasted eagle orator from the Mississippi river to the Unaka mountains, and as yet I see no flesh in his talons or blood on his beak."

Quick as a flash Henry was on his feet, saying: "The American eagle is a proud bird and feeds not on carrion."—Nashville Banner.

PE-RU-NA TONIC FOR COUGHS, COLDS, CATARRH.

JOSEPH HALL CHASE

Peruna Drug Co., Columbus, Ohio.
Gentlemen: I have used Peruna and find that it cannot be equaled as a tonic, as well as a cure for coughs, colds and catarrh.
You are authorized to use my photo with testimonial in any publication.
Joseph H. Chase,
804 Tenth St., Washington, D. C.

Cold and La Grippe

Mr. C. Happy, Hardin, Ray Co., Mo., writes: "I can safely recommend Peruna as a remedy that will cure all catarrhal troubles.
"It was of great benefit to me, as it cured me of catarrh of the throat, and I took a very bad cold and had la grippe last February. It settled in my throat and lungs. I took three bottles of Peruna and it cured me.
"I highly recommend it to all who are sick, and I am glad to add my endorsement to that of others."

Pe-ru-na for Colds

Mr. L. Clifford Pigg, Jr., 2929 East Marshall St., Richmond, Va., writes that when he gets a cold he takes Peruna, and it soon drives it out of his system. For several years he was not entirely well, but Peruna completely cured him.
People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets.
For a free illustrated booklet entitled "The Truth About Peruna," address The Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio. Mailed postpaid.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature
Brent Good
REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

Do You Love Your Child?

Then protect it from the dangers of croup to which every child is subject. Keep in your home all the time, then you're ready for the sudden attacks of croup and colds. Neglect may cost you the life of your child. It's safest to be on your guard.

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant is the best remedy known for croup; it gives quickest relief.

Sold everywhere in three size bottles

$1.00, 50c, 25c

Billion $ Grass

The greatest grass of the century.
Same grows everywhere and yields from 12 to 15 tons of hay, and lots of pasture besides per acre.

Clovers

Largest growers of Clovers, Alfalfa, Timothy & Grass Seed in America.

Salzer's Catalog

It's the most original seed book published, and is gladly mailed to intending purchasers free; or remit 10c and get lots of remarkable farm seed samples, including Billion $ Grass, worth a little farm to get a start with.

John A. Salzer Seed Co. LaCROSSE, WISCONSIN

DEFIANCE STARCH easiest to work with and starches clothes nicest.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of

HARDWARE

—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING

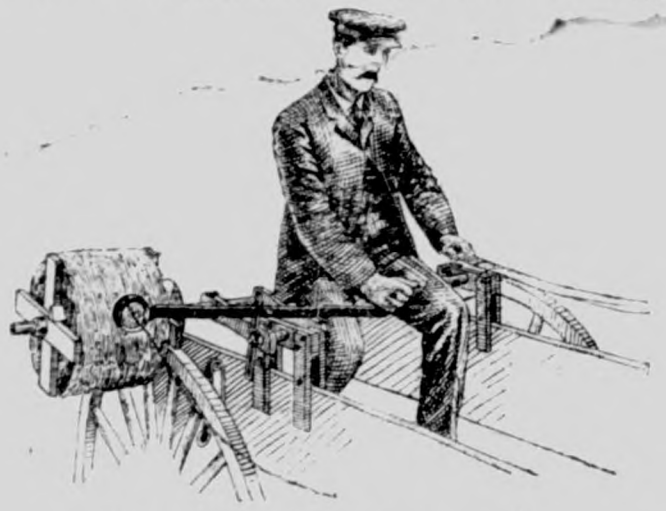
HORSE SHOEING A

SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL



Farm Machinery.

Yes Sir! We mean just what we say. "A penna saved means a penna earned" and you can do this by going to H. Lau & Son and buy you a first-class "A Grade Surrey" and top buggy and Dane mower and Dane hay loaders, buckers, stackers, 20 century Kemp manure spreaders. You can also buy cultivator plows, binders, mowers, hay rakes, Jones scales, harnesses, flynets, lap dusters, whips, oils of all kinds, tile spades, barb and smoot wires, fence stapels and other farm implements. Royal Tailors tight fit suits. They will keep style and collor, fit guaranteed.

H. Lau & Son.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.

NEEDED TO HAVE RICH FATHER.

Youth's Living Expenses on a Rather Extravagant Scale.

David Belasco, the great manager and playwright, complained bitterly the other day of a man who had duped him—a man who, pretending to be a millionaire, had promised to invest $250,000 in the erection of a "model" theater.

"He took me in," Mr. Belasco frankly admitted. "I have, I suppose, too sanguine a nature. I expect, I suppose—in the way of success, fortune, happiness—the impossible. At any rate, taken in I was.

"In my exorbitant demands on life," said Mr. Belasco, "I resemble a young friend of mine, a banker's son. This lad is very amiable, but very extravagant. His load of debt is always, like the load of Atlas, unspeakably huge.

"His father said to him last New Year's day:

"'Now, Sam, I want you to turn over a new leaf. No debts in 1909. Eh, is it agreed?'

"'Yes, sir,' said Sam heartily.

"His father took out his check book.

"'How much a year do you need, Sam,' he said, 'in order to live as you want to and at the same time keep entirely out of debt?'

"Sam, after musing, answered with a bright smile:

"'About $15,000 a year—and all my expenses paid.'"

UTILIZING HIS SPARE MOMENTS.

Congenial Occupation for Hubby Just Before the Opera.

Husband (who is going to the opera with his wife)—There! I took time by the forelock, to-night. Here I am, an hour beforehand, with my evening clothes all on and everything ready. Now I'll go down stairs and have a quiet smoke while you get ready.

Wife—Oh! darling, can you ever forgive me?

"What's the matter now?"

"Why, the cook tells me the furnace fire went out this afternoon, as the furnace man failed to come. The baby has a cold, you know. Would you mind going down in the cellar and making it over? You've just got time, love."

Good for the Liver.

When the liver is bad life is jaundiced. Nothing will be right and woes will flock—in imagination. Therefore, keep in good trim. If you think your liver is torpid take it in time. Change your diet; go in hard for systematic and outdoor exercise, special calisthenics to act on the liver and deep breathing. Avoid rich food, especially in hot weather. Eat plenty of fresh vegetables, fruit, graham or whole-wheat bread and not too much meat. If milk makes you bilious, it is better not to drink it. As soon as you begin to feel bilious and your eyeballs look yellow, drink lemon and water. Not lemonade, for the acid of the sugar and lemon is injurious, but the juice of half a lemon squeezed into a glass of water. This can be taken hot at bedtime and cold, but not iced, in the morning.

Singing as Evidence.

Apropos the prodigiously long orations of the Maoris, writes a correspondent, it may amuse your readers to know that only a little over twenty years ago my uncle, a judge in New Zealand, was obliged to issue an order to the effect that "in future singing would not be taken as evidence" in his court. It was the constant habit of the Maoris when pleading a cause to sing long and quite poetic sagas. As these generally began with legends of their remote ancestors, sometimes many hours, even days, would be spent before the point (possibly a trivial one) was reached. There is something Gilbertian in this idea, but any old New Zealander could vouch for the facts.

The Walrus' Defenses.

A full-grown walrus will weigh as much as 2,000 pounds, a mountainous mass of muscle and blubber. He is armed with tusks of ivory, sometimes two feet in length, and when from his upreared bulk these formidable weapons are plunged downward upon an enemy they are as resistless as the drop of a guillotine. Such a thick layer of blubber lies under the skin that he is practically clad in an armor impervious to teeth and claws alike. So, unless the bear is greatly favored by luck, he has little chance to overthrow his antagonist.—From St. Nicholas.

REVOLTS AT COLD STEEL

Your only hope said three doctors to Mrs. M. E. Fisher, Detroit, Mich. suffering from severe rectal trouble. lies in an operation, then I used Dr. King's New Life Pills she writes till wholly cured. They prevent Appendicitis, cure Constipation, Headache. 25c at G. A. Priest & Co.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

German M. E. Church Items

Arthur Wellemeyer went to Burlington Wednesday on a business trip

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schoenwetter were in Mason City last week shopping.

Clara Ludeke is spending a few days with her sister in Germantown this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Griewe were snow bound in Germantown several days last week.

Hulda and Esther Gruetzmacher were guests at the Arnold home last Sunday.

Lizzie Riemer has had the unpleasant experience lately of a fellon on one of her fingers.

Mrs. H. Brockmeyer returned to her home in Colesburg Thursday after a two week's visit.

The Klemme "Standard Bearers" will meet with Aggie and Grace Blank Friday evening.

Clarence Arnold and Aug. Oellermann walked down from Garner in the storm last Friday.

William Sampson returned last Saturday from his visit in Delaware, Clayton and Floyd counties.

The Germantown W. F. M. S. met with Mrs. Ed. Schaefer Tuesday and the Klemme society with Mrs. Josten on Thursday.

Nellie Lau reports having had a pleasant visit in Charles City. On her return she stopped off with an uncle near Garner and was snow bound several days.

As far as we know Anna Griewe was the heroine among the teachers last Friday, being the only one who taught school all day in this part of the county.

G. A. Kahler accompanied his sister-in-law to Morning Sun, Iowa last week, she being called home on account of sickness in the family. Mr. Kahler returned Monday.

Albert Koerner our telephone man no doubt, suffered the most by last week's storm. A number of poles were broken down and the wires twisted and down on many places.

John Schwichtenberg took his son Ernest to Kirksville, Mo. last Wednesday where he is to take Osteopath treatments. The boy has never been strong and about a year ago his condition became quite critical. We hope he may be much benefitted.

Rev. F. W. Merten walked down from Garner, Sunday morning to conduct communion services at the Eng M. E. church, but he met a very cold reception on entering the church The storm having blown in two of the large windows the enterior of the church was covered with snow. He came over to the German church in time to take part in the Sunday school. He took dinner and spent the afternoon with the writer and wended his way back on a tie pass toward evening.

Our worthy editor must h been "rubbering" last w week when he printed in Times two hours after a li boy was born four miles out the country, that he had a v like a tenor singer.

The "Standard Bearer" so Tuesday evening at the Arn home was more of a succ than its members had ever h ed for. The crowd was not la but it was a select class of yo people. The exercises ope with several instrumental du by Amanda Arnold and D Schuldt. A. C. Schuldt g an interesting reading in mother tongue and C. A. Ar favored the crowd with s fine phonographic selecti The crowd was then divide three rooms and each give list of 40 questions. The win succeeded in answering 2 them correctly. Next, the b were sold. E. H. Bettin a as auctioneer. He is an old at this end of the game and ways gets good prices. there were one-third mor kets than buyers. They well. This society is supp ing a bible woman in China, sides their regular dues. realized almost enough Tues evening for this special offer They also succeeded in get ten new members that even TERRIBLE STORM.

Last week Thursday it ra but when the people op their eyes the next morning realized an old time blizzard the thermometer was below Over 30 wind mill in this nity were blown down. Se al window lights were blow it was a terror.

Masquerade Ba

—AT—

KLEMME OPERA HOUSE

—ON—

Friday Evenin Feb. 12, '09.

Everybody Come. Jurgasen's Orches will play.

When Men Become Free.

There is a time to come when ernments will spring from the h of the people, and will be governm for the people. In that day all all civil usages, all customs, wi spect the interests of the comm and will not obstruct them. W men have perfect liberty, individ and collectively; when they are only equal but free—free in the est sense of the term "freedom"— society itself will become a nu mother.—Henry Ward Beecher.

A Scientific Salary.

"I got a big raise in my salary "Big was it?"

"I should say so. It was a raise."—Baltimore American.

Chamberlain's Cough Rem

Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cou

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	48 to 50c
Oats	43 to 46c
Wheat	75 to 95c
Barley	50 to 55c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.75
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Change of ad for State Bank.

Oysters direct from Baltimore at Kluckhohn's.

W. R. Bloom returned from Iowa Falls on Sunday.

Monvay was a rush day in Klemme, our farmers were largely represented.

Albert Bock who is attending school at Plymouth, Wis., is a new Times subscriber.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

John Bock, Wm. Baack, Aug. Barz and H. Thiemann were transacting business at the court house Wednesday.

Sam Kirkwood returned Monday evening from Ringsted, Ia. where he has been visiting with his uncle and brother Will.

R. M. Day returned Tuesday from Lehigh, Iowa where he has been visiting with his daughter Mrs Hans Nissen and family.

Mrs. A. F. Stockdale and daughters arrived from Dows Monday for a visit with her sister Mrs. C. F. Rolston and family.

Gus Baack left Wednesday evening for Iowa City where he will attend school at the State University. The Times will keep him posted on the happenings here.

C. C. Schaefer marketed a nice bunch of porkers to W. R. Bloom on Tuesday. It being "Ground Hog" day the hogs seen their shadow all the way to Klemme, never-the less they brought him the nice sum of $427.80.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets, Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

Avery Center was largely represented here on Tuesday. Over a dozen of Wm. Bachman's farmer neighbors assisted him in hauling lumber for his large barn which will soon be under way of construction. When completed Wm. will have one of the largest and best arranged barns in that locality.

The Bee ad for the Saving bank—read it.

Fresh oysters always on hand at Kluckhohn's. tf.

Mrs. J. Gruetzmacher visited relatives at Garner on Wednesday.

Valentines, valentine post cards and comic cards at Kluckhohn's.

Surveyor Fisk of Albert Lea, Minn. was surveying Drainrge Dist. No. 9.

The prettiest and up-to date valentines can be procured at G. W. Kluckhohn's.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

Read the market report. Bring your produce to Klemme and receive the highest market price.

This office would be pleased to receive quite a few renewals on the Times the first of the year. We need the money.

The Baack & Bock Threshing Machine Co. dissolved partnership. The new company will now be Baack Bros.

FOR SALE—Six milch cows, 1 registered Short-horn bull, 13 head of horses and all kinds of farm machinery at my farm 4 miles east and 1 mi. north of Klemme. J. Wacker. 26-3*

Dr. Zinn, M. Palmby, Henry Wille and Geo. Alberts were at the court house Wednesday in the interests of Drainage Dist. No. 9.

Social functions of winter midnight lunches, loss of sleep tell on the health. HOLLISTER'S ROCKY MOUNTAIN TEA clears the blood, aida digestion, relieves fatigue, makes and retains your health. &reatest tonic. Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co.

Elmer Ludeke calls your attention to his change of ad. on local page. Besides his spring and summer lines he can also furnish you with fall and winter clothing which are hard to equal for the price.

Terhufen Bros. come out this week in the columns of the Times with a new ad. They carry a complete stock of hardware and groceries and everything is new. They solicit a share of your patronage. We wish them success.

Any young person who wants to grow seed corn in order to get funds to attend school, or any one who should like to grow show corn from seed which has taken premiums in 1908 at Ames during the short course at the Agricultural College, address postal card to E. B. Howard, College P. O., Ames, Iowa.

H. Schroeder returned from Chicago Sunday. He had all kinds of experience in getting here. Between Holland and Wellsburgh he was snow bound 26 hours. When he reached nearer home he walked part of the way and from Belmond to Klemme he drove. He has a good position as salesman for the firm of Thuet Bros., Live Stock Comm. Merchants at the Union Stock Yards. "Butch" will make good, we wish him success.

THE SECRET OF LONG LIFE

A French scientist has discovered one secret of long life. His method deals with the blood. But long ago millions of Americans had proved Electric Bitters prolongs life and makes it worth living. It purifies enriches and vitalizes the blood rebuilds wasted nervecells, imparts life and tone to the entire system. Its a godsend to weak sick and debilitatep people. Kidney trouble had blighted my life for months, writes W M Sherman of Cushing, Me. but Electric Bitters cured me entirely. Only 50c at G A Pabst & Co.

Save your money—ad State Saving Bank

Nice line of Valentines at G. W. Kluckhohn's.

Rev Muehlmeier was at Garner between trains Monday.

Mrs. Thompson and family moved into the rooms over Ell Bros. Store.

We received a postal from Gus Legner stating to change the address of the Times from Tea, S. Dak. to Artesian, S. Dak.

In the Schroeder Sale Bills we mentioned that the sale would begin at 1 o'clock which should have been at 10 o'clock a. m.

C. C. Suckow left last week for Unionville, Iowa where he will visit a few weeks with his brother and family and other relatives.

The long winter months—heavy foods—lack of exercise decrease your vitality, make you feel mean. Hollister's rocky mountain tea gives you vitality—clears the blood—builds up flesh. Makes you strong and robust. Great spring medicine. Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co.

Jacob Weintz returned from Iowa City last week where he had an operation performed for appendicitis. He is getting along nicely.

No more divorces.
'Hubby' will stay a lover true,
Every wife his only sweetheart, too,
Perpetual matrimonial bliss 'twill be,
If both take Hollister's rocky mountain tea. G. A. Pabst & Co.

A programme and basket social was held at the J. Newberger school of which Miss Reed is teacher four miles east of Klemme on Tuesday evening last. The attendance was large, the programme was pronounced excellent and the baskets which were sold by their famous auctioneer G. A. Goll brought them the nice sum of $25.15

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

S. B. Day,	Everson, Wash.
M. Elder	Klemme
Chris. Schaefer	Garner
Julius Priebe	Goodell
Mart Bachman	Klemme
G. A. Goll	Klemme
Gus. Baack,	Plymouth, Wis.

SOLDIER BALKS DEATH PLOT.

It soems to J A Stone a civil war veteran of Kemp, Texas that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. I contracted a stubborn cold he writes that developed a cough that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 povnds. Then I began to use Dr. King's new discovery which restored my health completely. I now whigh 178 pounds. For severe colds, obstinate coughs, hemorrhages, asthma and to prevent pneumonia it's unrivaled. 50c and $1.09. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G A Pabst & Co.

PUBLIC SALE.

The undersigned will sell at public sale on his farm 4½ miles northwest of Klemme, 7 miles southwest of Garner, ½ mile north of the German township M. E. church on Tuesday, Feb 16, 1909. Sale beging at 10 o'clock a. m. Free lunch at noon.

11 head of horses, 27 head of cattle, 14 Poland China hogs, 100 Plymouth Rock chickens, 15 tons of tame hay in barn, 11 hives of bees, 10 busheis of tested seed corn and farm machinery. Uusal terms.

Chas. Schroeder, Owner.
Col. J. A. Young, Auct.
F. A. Arnold, Clerk.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Most Popular Because it is the Best.

I have sold Chamberlain's cough remedy for the past eight years and find it to be one of the best selling medicinet on the market. For babies and youug children there is nothing better in the line of cough sorup says Paul Allen, Plain Dealing, La. This remedy not only curesthe coughs, colds and croup so common among young children but is pleasant and safe for them to take. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a baby as confidently as to an adult. For sale by G A Pabst & Co

Twin Lake.

Most of the Twin Lake rurual schools had a vacation on Friday.

Ida Schwichtenberg is helping Mrs. Aug. Lau with her sewing this week.

The storm Friday did more or less damage to many of the windmills in this locality.

Some of the Twin Lake ladies took advantage of the nice weather and attended the Ladies Aid in Germantown Tuesday.

Our rural carrier, Clark of Route 2 Goodell. is doing well, having missed only one day during the siege of rain and snow.

Miss Hulda Stiehl teacher of Dist. 2 Twin Lake, writes all to attend the basket social and entertainment to be given by her school Friday, Feb. 12th.

Wm. Neuhring and wife celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last Monday the 25th. Quite a number of friends and relatives were present during the day and a large crowd of young folks helped to make their home lively in the evening. Among the guests were a brother of Mrs. Neuhring and his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Neuhring took them to August Neuhrings on Thursday and of course were snowbound on Friday so did not return till Sunday.

WASHINGTON ONCE GAVE UP.

To three doctors, was kept in bed five weeks: Blood poison from a spidere's bite caused large deep sores to cover his leg. The doctors failed, then Bucklen's arnica salve completely cured me, writes John Washington of Bosqueville, Tex. For eczema, boils, burns and piles its supreme 25c at G A Pabst & Co.

NOTICE.

In the District Court of Hancock County, Iowa. February Term, 1909.

In the matter of the Application of George A. Pabst to buy, keep and sell intoxicating liquors for lawful purposes only.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Notice is hereby given that the application of George A. Pabst, a Registered pharmacist No. 7894, doing business under the firm name of George A. Pabst & Co., praying for a permit to buy, keep and sell intoxicating liquors for lawful purposes only in the first story and basement of the frame building situated on Lot One (1) in Block Eleven (11) of the Original Town of Klemme, Hancock County, Iowa, will be on file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of Hancock County, Iowa, on or before the 4th day of February, A. D., 1909, and that said application will come on for hearing at the February term of said Court to be begun and held at the Court House in Garner, in said County, on the 15th day of February, A. D., 1909.

Dated this 6th day of January, A. D., 1909.

GEO. A. PABST,
Applicant.

24-4

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

Let us be your Tailor
THE AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS Co., Chicago, Illinois.
Manufacturers of fine woolens and wholesale custom tailors.
Save while buying a suit of gents spring and summer made to order clothing of standard merit, seldom equaled, never excelled. I want to show you a beautiful line of samples. A fit, a beauty and a long wearing suit Your profit, my pleasure.
ELMER LUDEKE
Klemme - - - Iowa

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats, Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

California

Land of flowers, fruit and sunshine.
To make the journey worthy of its ending take the superb
Golden State Limited
VIA ROCK ISLAND LINES
Daily from Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City to Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and San Francisco.
Over the lowest-altitude and most southerly route to the Coast.
Through tourist sleeping cars via Colorado and via El Paso.
The quickest tourist service of any line to Southern California.
Full particulars, with rates of fare and illustrated California book from Rock Island
L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, I.

AND THEY'VE GOT IT!

"How do you like the new styles in neckwear, dear?"

"A little ruff around the neck, love."

ITCHED FOR TWELVE YEARS.

Eczema Made Hands and Feet Swell, Peel and Get Raw—Arms Affected, Too—Gave Up All Hope of Cure.

Quickly Cured by Cuticura.

"I suffered from eczema on my hands, arms and feet for about twelve years, my hands and feet would swell, sweat and itch, then would become callous and get very dry, then peel off and get raw. I tried most every kind of salve and ointment without success. I tried several doctors, but at last gave up thinking there was a cure for eczema. A friend of mine insisted on my trying the Cuticura Remedies, but I did not give them a trial until I got so bad that I had to do something. I secured a set and by the time they were used I could see a vast improvement and my hands and feet were healed up in no time. I have had no trouble since. Charles T. Bauer, Volant, Pa., Mar. 11, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston

Extent of His Knowledge.

Singleton—What do they use to extract gold from quartz?

Wedderly—I don't know; but women use tears to extract it from men's pockets.

MIX FOR COLDS

To one-half pint good whiskey, add one ounce syrup sarsaparilla and one ounce Toris compound, which can be procured of any druggist. Take in teaspoonful doses before each meal and before retiring. This relieves in 24 hours, and cures any cold that is curable.

A Great Care.

Celia—Her hair turned perfectly white in one night from trouble.

Delia—Really? What was the nature of the trouble?

Celia—Chemical.—Judge.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Stuck.

"My wife is always sticking me for money."

"That must be pin money."—Exchange.

Prof. Munyon says: Cure a cold and you prevent Consumption. His opinion is now shared by the leading physicians of the country, and the wonderful cures that are being made by Munyon's Cold Remedy have attracted the attention of the whole medical fraternity. These little sugar pellets break up a cold in a few hours, and almost universally prevent Bronchitis and Pneumonia.

Exactly.

"His wife's beauty and grace keeps him hypnotized."

"Then he's one of those fellows who lead a charmed life."—Exchange.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Many a man has lost his life in trying to collect the living he thought the world owed him.

Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes
Relieved by Murine Eye Remedy. Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Murine Doesn't Smart; Soothes Eye Pain. Write Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago, for illustrated Eye Book. At Druggists.

Of course we all believe that it is better to give than to receive—until some one passes around the hat.

Do not neglect constipation, for this condition poisons the blood and leads to chronic ill health. Garfield Tea, the mild herb laxative, corrects constipation, keeps the blood pure, and the health good.

A man never realizes how silly his love letters are until he hears some of them read in court.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE"
That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

A happy medium ought to make good at a spiritual seance.

There is no Safer Remedy for a Cough, or throat trouble than "Brown's Bronchial Troches." 25 cents a box. Sample free. John I. Brown & Son, Boston, Mass.

The more a girl smiles the less she means it.

State Capital Gossip

Many Items of Interest from Our Correspondent at Des Moines.

Opposed to Insurance Bill.

Des Moines.—Declaring that the state of Iowa needs no insurance department and that the business of the department is better handled in the office of the auditor of state than it could be in any other way, Senator Quigley of Clayton is devoting much time to arguing against the Dowell bill for the establishment of a separate department.

The Clayton county senator has figured it out, from reports in the auditor's office, that the insurance business handled by that office is decreasing from year to year instead of increasing, and he has prepared a table showing that in 1906 the taxes paid into the Iowa treasurer's office and credited to the life and fire insurance companies their business in Iowa amounted to $321,699.36. In 1907 the total was $307,499.57, and Senator Quigley says this in itself is an indication that the business is becoming smaller than greater.

"There was a time," said Senator Quigley, "when this plan, no doubt, would have been feasible. This was before the insurance business was taken in hand by Governor Carroll, then state auditor. He made it one of the principal parts of his department and he systematized it so well that there is now, I believe, no reason for changing the present plan, even if there were not additional reasons against such a change."

He favors, instead of relieving the auditor of the insurance work, the removing of the banking department to the treasurer's office and that of city accounting to the office of the secretary of state. This division, he thinks, would be a wise one and would be the more economical one.

Economy is the keynote of Senator Quigley's opposition to the Dowell measure; and he has gone to the trouble to secure information regarding the cost of handling separate insurance departments in states where such departments exists.

Six Bills Pass the House.

The Arney bill, to allow certain officers of the soldiers home to get their ice supply from the home, the Hiskenlooper bill providing for investigation of the bonds of executives and the Fulton bill providing for an allowance of $50 for the burial of indigent soldiers and sailors, all passed.

The Moon bill, repealing an act of two years ago, allowing the city of Ottumwa to sell part of an abandoned river bed and the Proudfoot bill, giving the judges of the district court power to order the appraisement of an estate, were passed.

The bill to limit the time of appeals in criminal cases to six months passed the senate.

Important Liquor Case.

Final arguments were made before the supreme court in the case that will decide the right of the state to prohibit the soliciting of orders for whisky and other liquors by agents of liquor dealers. Attorney General Byers made a short oral argument for the state and written briefs were submitted by the appellants. County Attorney C. A. Dewey of Washington county sought to enjoin agents of liquor salesmen from taking orders from consumers. Judge Preston ruled for the state, and the defendants appealed. The United States supreme court has ruled that states may prohibit such soliciting, even by agents of liquor dealers in other states.

Various Bills.

Harding introduced a bill providing that cities may oil their streets and charge the same to abutting property owners, a law that the people of Sioux City are demanding.

Arney introduced Gilliland's traction engine bill into the house—a measure providing that owners of traction engines must exercise all manner of care to avoid frightening horses.

O'Connor introduced a bill providing that dealers who had paint on hand before the pure paint bill was enacted may dispose of it even though it does not come under the pure paint bill.

Democrats to Banquet.

The democrats in the legislature are preparing to hold a banquet before the session ends. Senator Jamieson in the senate and Charlie Miller in the house are in charge of the arrangements.

Jury Bill Presented.

A new jury bill which will be put up against the jury commission bill prepared by Judge McHenry was sprung in the house by Representative Hickenlooper of Monroe county. The Hickenlooper bill is not a radical measure, but is intended to strengthen the provisions of the present law in permitting members of the board of supervisors to select the names for the jury lists. The bill provides that the supervisors shall select jurors from the poll books in numbers from each precinct apportioned by the county auditor. The time of selection shall be when ordered by the courts. Friends of the McHenry bill claim that the latter measure applies only to cities of over 50,000, and hence would not affect the counties, which Hickenlooper hopes to affect.

Tax State Banks Same as National.

Representative Grier has a bill on bank assessments to meet the complaint of discrimination as between the banks organized under the federal laws and those under state laws. Mr. Grier would have the assessment of the stock of state banks made as now upon reports from the bank and the assessment to be at the bank, so that taxes are paid in the township where the bank is located, but he would have the assessment to run against the owners of the bank stock and be paid by them. This would come near to placing state banks on a par with national banks as to taxes. In the meantime it is proposed to memorialize congress to have the national bank act amended so that national bank will be assessabe the same as state banks in each state.

Assembly Honors Burns.

The Iowa legislature paid homage to the Scottish poet, Bobby Burns, upon the 150th anniversary of his birth in the house chamber. Not only did the legislature turn out enmasse, but friends of the legislators and admirers of Burns filled the chamber to overflowing. Rev. Father J. F. Nugent was the principal speaker, and in a most eloquent manner did he speak of the traits, good and bad, of the Scotch writer. Speaker Feely relinquished the chair to Miller of Bremer, who proposed the Burns celebration. Later, Speaker Feely introduced a resolution thanking those who took part in the program, which the house adopted unanimously.

First Bill to Be Signed.

Governor Carroll has affixed his signature to the bill providing for the official celebration of Lincoln's birthday as a legal holiday in Iowa. It is probable that he will also issue a proclamation calling upon the people of the state to observe the centennial of the birth of the martyred president. Special significance will attach to the signing of this bill, as it will be the first to be approved by the new executive. It was adopted by both houses on Jan. 22, after its introduction by Senator Stuckslager of Linn, and it will take effect at once after having been signed by the governor and published officially.

Divorce Bill Meets Death.

The Findlayson bill met an early death at the hands of judiciary committee. The bill provided that if divorced persons married outside the state before the year fixed by the law expired, that their marriage should be declared null and void if they returned. The difficulty of operation of the law led to the painless death at the hands of the committee, the first house bill to meet this fate.

Anxiety Prevades Liquor Ranks.

The usual anxiety over liquor legislation is making itself apparent in Iowa this year. Members of the legislature are receiving appeals from their constituents of more stringent laws on the subject, and now that the plan for taking from the druggists the right to sell liquors is about to be proposed to the legislators the liquor dealers are becoming frightened.

Raise for Auditor.

Doetiger of Davenport introduced his eighth bill in the house affecting the compensation of county officials. This fixes salaries for county auditors and provides for a scale rising from $1,400 for the smallest county to $3,000 for those over 60,000 in population.

All Who Would Enjoy

good health, with its blessings, must understand, quite clearly, that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best, each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to living aright. Then the use of medicines may be dispensed with to advantage, but under ordinary conditions in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time and the California Fig Syrup Co. holds that it is alike important to present the subject truthfully and to supply the one perfect laxative to those desiring it.

Consequently, the Company's Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna gives general satisfaction. To get its beneficial effects buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

If You Want the
BEST COUGH CURE
you will ask for Kemp's Balsam

and if you get it you will have a remedy for coughs that will be satisfactory in every respect. If you accept something else we do not know what you will get, but it will not be the Best Cough Cure.

At all druggists', 25c., 50c. and $1.

Don't accept anything else.

ONION SEED 60 cts. a lb.

Per Salzer's catalog page 129.

Largest growers of onion and vegetable seeds in the world. Big catalog free; or, send 16c in stamps and receive catalog and 1000 kernels each of onions, carrots, celery, radishes, 1500 each lettuce, rutabaga, turnips, 100 parsley, 100 tomatoes, 100 melons, 1200 charming flower seeds, in all 10,000 kernels, easily worth $1.00 of any man's money. Or, send 20c and we will add one pkg. of Earliest Peep O'Day Sweet Corn.

SALZER SEED CO., Box W, La Crosse, Wis.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

Western Canada

MORE BIG CROPS IN 1908

Another 60,000 settlers from the United States. New districts opened for settlement. 320 acres of land to each settler,—160 free homestead and 160 at $3.00 per acre.

"A vast rich country and a contented prosperous people."—Extract from correspondence of a National Editor, whose visit to Western Canada, in August, 1908, was an inspiration.

Many have paid the entire cost of their farms and had a balance of from $10.00 to $20.00 per acre as a result of one crop.

Spring wheat, winter wheat, oats, barley, flax and peas are the principal crops, while the wild grasses bring to perfection the best cattle that have ever been sold on the Chicago market.

Splendid climate, schools and churches in all localities. Railways touch most of the settled districts, and prices for products are always good. Lands may also be purchased from railway and land companies.

For pamphlets, maps and information regarding low railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agents:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

COLDS

CURED IN ONE DAY

Munyon's Cold Remedy Relieves the head, throat and lungs almost immediately. Checks Fevers, stops Discharges of the nose, takes away all aches and pains caused by colds. It cures Grip and obstinate Coughs and prevents Pneumonia. Price 25c.

Have you stiff or swollen joints, no matter how chronic? Ask your druggist for Munyon's Rheumatism Remedy and see how quickly you will be cured.

If you have any kidney or bladder trouble get Munyon's Kidney Remedy.

Munyon's Vitalizer makes weak men strong and restores lost powers.

5% MONTHLY INCOME

We pay you 5% per annum on any amount of money placed with us. Your money is secured by mortgages on New York City real estate. No speculation; our methods are old fashioned, safe and conservative. Twenty years' successful experience in handling real estate. Interest checks are mailed you on the first day of each month. This is the best and safest investment on the market. Communications strictly private.

A SURE MONTHLY INCOME IS ONE OF THE BEST THINGS IN THE WORLD. Write

Liberty Financial & Security Co.
CITY INVESTING BUILDING, NEW YORK CITY

5%, 6%, and 7% on First Mortgage net to you. Write today. LAND TITLE SAVINGS BANK, Spokane, Wash.

For Sprains

Sloan's Liniment is the best remedy for sprains and bruises.

It quiets the pain at once, and can be applied to the tenderest part without hurting because it doesn't need to be rubbed—all you have to do is to lay it on lightly. It is a powerful preparation and penetrates instantly—relieves any inflammation and congestion, and reduces the swelling.

Sloan's Liniment

is an excellent antiseptic and germ killer—heals cuts, burns, wounds and contusions, and will draw the poison from sting of poisonous insects.

Price, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass., U.S.A.

Sloan's book on horses, cattle, sheep and poultry sent free.

AWFUL GRAVEL ATTACKS

Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills After Years of Suffering.

F. A. Rippy, Depot Ave., Gallatin, Tenn., says: "Fifteen years ago kidney disease attacked me. The pain in my back was so agonizing I finally had to give up work. Then came terrible attacks of gravel with acute pain and passages of blood. In all I passed 25 stones, some as large as a bean. Nine years of this ran me down to a state of continual weakness, and I thought I never would be better until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The improvement was rapid, and since using four boxes I am cured and have never had any return of the trouble."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The rule in a prohibition state seems to be "bar none."

Those Tired, Aching Feet of Yours need Allen's Foot-Ease. 25c at your Druggist's. Write A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y., for sample.

There is in man a higher than love of happiness; he can do without happiness, and instead thereof find blessedness.—Carlyle.

THE PERUNA ALMANAC.

The druggists have already been supplied with the Peruna almanac for 1909. In addition to the regular astronomical matter usually furnished in almanacs, the articles on astrology are very attractive to most people. The mental characteristics of each sign are given with faithful accuracy. A list of lucky and unlucky days will be furnished to those who have our almanacs, free of charge. Address The Peruna Co., Columbus, O.

A Fatal Breath.

Brookton (with statistical bent)—Do you know, old man, I've just been reading up a lot of statistics on present-day mortality, and I have learned some remarkable things. Why, every time I breathe a man dies!

Brockton (comprehendingly)—By the great autofumes! Then why in the name of the census don't you chew cloves?

Football vs. Prayer.

Willie, aged five, was taken by his father to his first football game. The feature that caught his chief approval, however, did not become evident till he said his prayers that night. To the horror of his parents, Willie prayed with true football snap:

God bless papa,
God bless mamma,
God bless Willie;
Boom! Rah! Rah!
—Success Magazine.

Cause for Complaint.

Jones, the dairyman, loved his little bouts occasionally, and at such times celebrated riotously. He was prevailed upon to sign the pledge, and this piece of news was given wide publicity. But in a few weeks Jones turned upon his temperance friends and again sought old-time friends and acquaintances.

"The idea!" grieved Jones, as he told the waiter to duplicate an order. "Me driving a milk wagon, and those fellows advertising that I am on the water wagon!"—Judge.

DIDN'T KNOW

Coffee Was the Cause.

Many daily habits, particularly of eating and drinking, are formed by following our elders.

In this way ill health is often fastened upon children. A Ga. lady says:

"I had been allowed to drink coffee ever since I could remember, but even as a child I had a weak stomach, which frequently refused to retain food.

"The taste of coffee was in my mouth all the time and was, as I found out later, the cause of the stomach rebelling against food.

"I now see that it was only from following the example of my elders that I formed and continued the miserable habit of drinking coffee. My digestion remained poor, nerves unstrung, frequent headache, and yet I did not suspect the true cause.

"Another trouble was a bad, muddy complexion for which I spent time and money for creams, massaging, etc., without any results.

"After I was married I was asked to try Postum, and would you believe it, I, an old coffee toper, took to Postum from the very first. We made it right—according to directions on the pkg., and it had a most delicate flavor, and I at once quit coffee, with the happiest results.

"I now have a perfectly clear, smooth skin, fine digestion and haven't had a headache in over two years."

"There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

BARCELONA IS SAFE

RUMORS OF CATASTROPHE IN SOUTHERN SPAIN UNTRUE.

SLIGHT QUAKE WAS FELT

Inhabitants of Villages Flee Expecting Repetition of the Italian Disaster.

Madrid, Feb. 1.—All communication with southern Spain and with the city of Barcelona is uninterrupted and normal, and the reports from England relative to the disastrous earthquake and tidal wave are untrue. There was a slight earthquake at Totata, in the province of Murcia, but no serious damage was done. The walls of only a few houses were cracked. Slight shocks were also felt in the neighborhood village of Olias. At both Totana and Olias the inhabitants fled panic-stricken to the suburbs, fearing that a disaster was upon them such as devasted Sicily and southern Italy. It is reported that the moment the quake occurred the sun was hidden by a dense gray cloud which, however, disappeared immediately while a shower of hailstones as large as walnuts covered the ground to a depth of several centimetres.

LIQUOR BILL IN CONGRESS.

Leaders Determined to Pass Measure Regulating Shipments.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—A series of conferences were held by those leaders to determine on some method of getting the house to agree to legislation to regulate the shipment of liquor from state to state. Representative Watson of Indiana, republican whip, whose defeat for governor is charged to his anti-liquor platform, is leading the fight for the proposed legislation. The programme finally decided upon probably will be to tack the liquor legislation onto the bill for the codification of the penal laws of the United States which has a privileged place on the house calendar. As a bill for this propose already passed the senate it is believed that both houses can be brought to an agreement to enact liquor legislation more quickly than by voting on a separate bill. This course also would avoid the disagreeable action of ignoring the failure of the committee on judiciary to report the bill.

TROLLEY DISASTER IN OHIO.

Car Dashes Down Hill and Rolls Down Embankment.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 1.—The snowstorm and consequent slippery tracks is given as the cause of an accident here that may cost at least two lives while several other persons were injured. A College Hill main line car with thirty-seven passengers jumped the rails on Clifton avenue and tumbled down a steep embankment, landing at the bottom of a ravine, with a mass of shrieking, fighting men and women caught under it or hurled from the platform or through windows. More than a score of passengers were injured, some very seriously. That some were not instantly killed is considered remarkable.

Bank Will Have Home.

Davenport.—The Union Savings bank of this city will be the first of Davenport's banks to build a home of its own. The plans provide for a stone building in the style of the renaissance, to be erected at Third and Brady streets, on one of the principal business corners of the city. The building will be as tall as the ordinary three story building and the move of the bank to have a home of its own is in line with the tendency of banks throughout the country. The construction will be heavy enough to carry several stories of offices, if in the future it is desired to extend the building up into the air.

Hat Shops to Be "Open".

South Norwalk, Conn., Feb. 1.—Positive information was given out by the heads of hat making concerns that all the shops which were recently struck by the Union Hatters of North America will be started up on Tuesday, Feb. 9, as "open shops." The order of the Associated Hat Manufacturers is that no union labels shall be put in hats hereafter. The strikers here are greatly surprised at the action.

Town Wiped Out by Flames.

Coffeyville, Kas., Feb. 1.—The town of Nowata, across the line from here in Oklahoma, was almost wiped off the map Saturday by a fire that destroyed thirteen business houses, two banks and the county court house, which latter held all the records of that section of Oklahoma. The loss is estimated at $200,000. The intense cold made it difficult to fight the flames.

EXTRAORDINARY INCREASE IN FARM LANDS,

"SOUTHERN ALBERTA IS A MIGHTY GOOD COUNTRY."

No stronger or better evidence can be given of the merits of a country than that which comes from the testimony of the settler who has determined to succeed. This is why we reproduce the following letter, which speaks for itself. These people were induced to go to Western Canada through the solicitation of a Canadian Government agent, who secured for them the low railway rates.

"Carmangay, Alta., Canada, 12-15-'08.

"Mr. C. J. Broughton, Canadian Government Agency, 135 Adams Street, Chicago: We had audacity enough to tackle the proposition of buying four sections of land in Southern Alberta, thirty miles east of Clairsholm and heading up on the Little Bow, and our two boys each got a homestead adjoining. We fenced three sections and the two homesteads, and built a house, barn, corrals and granary, and have since enlarged some of these buildings. We have broken 200 acres of land, which has been sowed to oats and wheat. During the severe winter of two years ago the winter wheat killed out somewhat, and our crop yielded only ten bushels to the acre, but the spring wheat went 24 bushels to the acre. In this country we must be prepared for storms and cold, at times 20 to 30 below zero, yet on the whole the winters are mild; and while there are exceptional crops, it is fair to say that the average farmer can depend on having a yield in average years of from 20 to 25 bushels to the acre for spring wheat; and winter wheat in our immediate neighborhood yields from 25 to 30 bushels to the acre on the average.

We have now quite a bunch of horses, over 50 in all, about 350 sheep, after having sold 140 for mutton this fall. We have 20 head of pure bred registered Shropshire, which are worth $20 each. The average price received for mutton sheep was $5.00 and a little over. Pork brings 5 and 6 cents a pound. We have about 30 head of cattle on our ranch now, and last winter they picked their entire living from our pasture, running to the straw stacks for shelter at night.

"The increase of land values has been extraordinary. Our land four years ago cost us a little less than $6.00 an acre. We have sold one section for $15.00, but we would not sell any more for less than $25.00 per acre, as we expect the railroad within four miles of our ranch within the next 18 months. Southern Alberta of Western Canada is a mighty good country for any man or woman who loves outdoor life, and who wants to get good returns for their labor and investment.

"We have been pleased with our treatment from the Canadian Government, and can heartily commend Southern Alberta as a splendid country in which to locate.

"Yours very truly,
(Signed)
"JAMES S. AINSLIE AND SONS."

You might say of a legal wedding, "Certainly knot."

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Less than a pint of whisky may make a peck of trouble.

WHY suffer with eye troubles, quick relief by using PETTIT'S EYE SALVE, 25c. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

Marriage is the hurdle between romance and reality.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

The words coined in the mint do not increase our vocabulary.

PISO'S
25 cts. 25 cts.
Beware of the Cough
that hangs on persistently, breaking your night's rest and exhausting you with the violence of the paroxysms. A few doses of Piso's Cure will relieve wonderfully any cough, no matter how far advanced or serious. It soothes and heals the irritated surfaces, clears the clogged air passages and the cough disappears.
At all druggists', 25 cts.
CURES

Ask Her This Question

"Do you know of any woman who ever received any benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

If any woman who is suffering with any ailment peculiar to her sex will ask her neighbors this question, she will be surprised at the result. There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.

During the past 30 years we have published thousands of letters from these grateful women who have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in all that time have we published a testimonial without the writer's special permission. Never have we knowingly published a testimonial that was not truthful and genuine. Here is one just received a few days ago. If anyone doubts that this is a true and honest statement of a woman's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound write and ask her.

Houston, Texas.—"When I first began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had been sick for three years with female troubles, chronic dyspepsia, and a liver trouble. I had tried several doctor's medicines, but nothing did me any good.

"For three years I lived on medicines and thought I would never get well, when I read an advertisment of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and was advised to try it.

"My husband got me one bottle of the Compound, and it did me so much good I continued its use. I am now a well woman and enjoy the best of health.

"I advise all women suffering from such troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. They won't regret it, for it will surely cure you."—Mrs. Bessie L. Hicks, 819 Cleveland St., Houston.

Any woman who is sick and suffering is foolish surely not to give such a medicine as this a trial. Why should it not do her as much good as it did Mrs. Hicks.

STOP—At Seattle

Jacob Gould Schurman, President of Cornell University, recently was in Seattle, and said: "I have traveled some thousands of miles and visited a good many cities, and now I have touched the climax. 'Eureka, I have found it.' I have endeavored to keep abreast of the development of your city, and have taken it upon myself on many occasions to advise young men with some capital to settle in the State of Washington and in the city of Seattle, for I have long felt that you enjoyed unique advantages in your location and in the variety and magnitude of the resources behind you, in your connection with Alaska and the possibilities of great and expanding trade with the countries of the Orient, and I have said on many occasions that, if I were a young fellow starting in life, I should travel West till I reached Seattle and stop there." Seattle also enjoys unique advantages for the investment of money, especially in that greatest fortune maker of all,—CENTRAL BUSINESS PROPERTY. Let me tell you something about this before you come to our A.-Y.-P. Fair next summer.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

Mayer

"SPECIAL MERIT"
SEAMLESS
SCHOOL SHOES

SCHOOL SHOES without seams—think of it—seamless school shoes! They are strong and sturdy, have seamless uppers, tough soles and double leather toes. By far the most durable and lasting shoes obtainable.

"Special Merit" Seamless School Shoes "wear like iron." They wear just twice as long as ordinary shoes with seams.

Made in all styles and sizes, for every day and Sunday wear—for boys and girls. Your dealer will supply you; if not, write to us. Look for the Mayer Trade Mark on the sole.

FREE—If you will send us the name of a dealer who does not handle Special Merit School Shoes, we will send you free, postpaid, a beautiful picture of George or Martha Washington, size 15x20. State which picture you want.

We also make Leading Lady Shoes, Honorbilt Shoes, Martha Washington Comfort Shoes and Yerma Cushion Shoes.

F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Co.
MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN

COLT DISTEMPER

Can be handled very easily. The sick are cured, and all others in same stable, no matter how "exposed," kept from having the disease, by using SPOHN'S LIQUID DISTEMPER CURE. Give on the tongue, or in feed. Acts on the blood and expels germs of all forms of distemper. Best remedy ever known for mares in foal. One bottle guaranteed to cure one case. 50c and $1 a bottle; $5 and $10 dozen of druggists and harness dealers, or sent express paid by manufacturers. Cut shows how to poultice throats. Our free Booklet gives everything. Local agents wanted. Largest selling horse remedy in existence—twelve years.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists, Goshen, Ind., U. S. A.

EAT PURITY CHOCOLATES

M'f'd by Windsor-Purity Candy Co., Des Moines. For sale by all first-class dealers.

For Man or Beast the Best A-B-C LINIMENT "It's a Pain Stopper"

DR. McINTOSH celebrated
NATURAL UTERINE SUPPORTER
gives immediate relief. Sold by all surgical instrument dealers and leading druggists in United States & Canada. Catalog & price list sent on application. THE HASTINGS & McINTOSH TRUSS CO., 913 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa., manufacturers of trusses and sole makers of the genuine stamped "McINTOSH" Supporter.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS
WITH Dr. King's New Discovery
FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
437 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

U.S. CREAM SEPARATOR

If you keep cows you need a U. S. Separator to make them yield the biggest profit. It will make the most money for you because it skims cleaner than any other separator. It will save you more than any other because it needs less time, labor and repairs to run it. Look a U. S. over for yourself. For sale by

ELL BROS.

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

BARNYARD SOCIAL AFFAIRS.

Mrs. Plymouth Rock—Glad to have you for a neighbor, Mrs. Buff; but your first step will be to get social recognition.

Mrs. Buff Cochin—That's all fixed, as I have letters to the Duck family, and I am reliably informed they are strictly in the swim.

Cheerful.

A nervous young minister, in visiting a remote village, had an unpleasant experience. The old lady at whose house he stayed, in showing him his room, said:

"It ain't anybody I'd put in this room. This here room is full of sacred associations to me," she went on. "My first husband died in that bed with his head on these pillows, and poor Mr. Jenks died sitting in that corner. Sometimes when I come into the room in the dark I think I see him sitting there still. My own father died layin' right on the lounge right under the window there. Poor pa, he was a spiritualist, and he allus said he'd appear in this room after he died, and sometimes I am foolish enough to look for him. If you should see anything of him to-night, you'd better not tell me. It'd be a sign to me that there was something in spiritualism, and I'd hate to think that. My son by my first husband fell dead of heart disease right where you stand. He was a doctor, and there's two whole skeletons in that closet there belonged to him, and half a dozen skulls in that lower drawer. If you are up early and want something to amuse yourself with before breakfast just open that cupboard there, and you will find a lot of dead men's bones. My poor boy thought a lot of them. Well, good night, and pleasant dreams."

MOST LIKELY.

"Who was the fellow who went around with a lantern looking for an honest man?"

"I don't know; but if he were to try it to-day somebody would steal his lantern!"

True Genius.

"Your daughter has genius, Mr Straighout."

"Nonsense! She can't sing, nor she can't play!"

"No. But she knows it."

The Worst.

Young Wife (whose elderly husband is desperately ill)—Doctor, do not keep me in suspense! Tell me the worst!

Doctor—Then, madam, listen! He will get well!

DeWITT'S CARBOLIZED WITCH HAZEL SALVE For Piles, Burns, Sores.

How He Hunted Bear.

A New York Irishman was visiting a friend in the Adirondacks and was taken with a desire to go hunting. Borrowing a gun from his friend he set off alone in search of game. Some time after his host heard a distant report of a gun. A few minutes later he heard some one shouting. From a window he spied, in the distance, his friend, hot-footing it for home, and behind him a bear, gaining at every step. Nearly spent, the pursued reached the door just in time to cry out:

"Quick, Mike! Quick! Open the door! I'm bringing him home alive!"

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.

Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men. The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PRIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

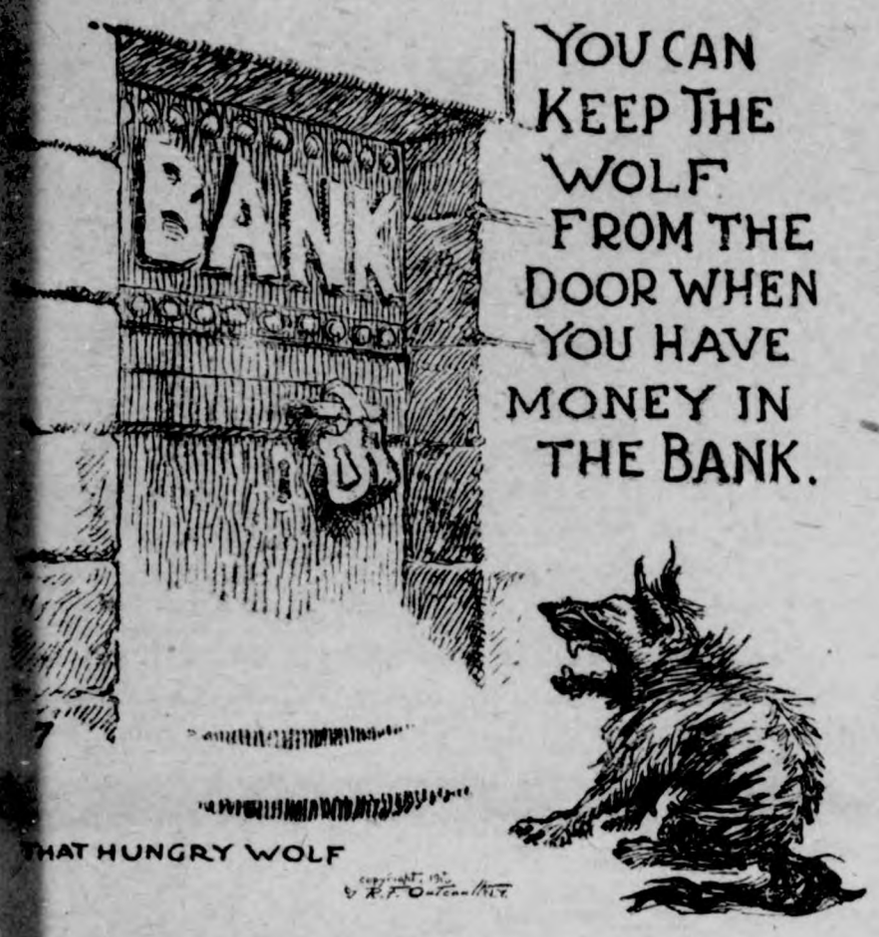
BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR
THE TIMES
$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 28 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, FEB. 11, 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE



SICKNESS may come to you, but if you have money in the bank you'll be sure to be taken care of; because you can then take care of yourself.

Deposit your money with us we will pay you a liberal rate of interest for it.

Capital and Surplus $25,500.00

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

North Elevator

—FOR—

Pocahontas Smokeless
Wonderland White Ash Splint
Genuine Sunday Creek Hocking
Brazil block
Sutless Washed Egg Wilmington
Scranton hard coal

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J.W.WATERMAN

PERSEVERANCE HARD TO BEAT.

Minister Draws Moral from Act of English Cricketer.

Dr. Aked, John D. Rockefeller's pastor, was praising the perseverance of the suffragettes, who, he said, "stood ready to undergo imprisonment and to sacrifice their lives to right what they decided an intolerable wrong."

Then, with a smile, Dr. Aked resumed:

"It is amazing what perseverance will achieve. Even misdirected perseverance has achieved marvels. There is the case of Robson, the great Notts cricketer.

"Robson, during his Australian tour, was determined, one scorching afternoon, that his side shouldn't do the hard work of fielding.

"Well, when the Australian captain spun the coin, Robson shouted:

"'Woman!'

"Then, seeing that heads lay uppermost instead of acknowledging defeat Robson said, with perseverance and nonchalance:

"'Well, we'll go in.'

"'But—er—I thought,' said the puzzled Australian—'you see, I don't quite know the English meaning of "woman."'

"'Then,' said Robson gallantly, 'we'll toss again.'

"The Australian made a second toss, Robson called heads, and tails came up. The ordinary man would at this point have surrendered in despair, but not so Robson.

"'Honors are now easy,' said he, with a pleasant smile. 'On with the rubber.'

"The Australian a third time flipped the coin, and having at last called the toss correctly, the persevering Robson led his side to the shady benches."

CALCULATING PRICE OF HEAT.

Cost Has Been Determined by Eminent French Authority.

The price of heat per thousand calories has been calculated by a French authority, M. Le Chatelier, from various sources. A calorie is the metric unit of heat, and consists of an amount of it sufficient to raise a gramme of water one centigrade degree. With coal (allowing 12 per cent. for ash) the cost a thousand calories is four-hundredths of a cent at the mine, eight-hundredths in the industries and sixteen-hundredths in domestic heating. With electricity it is four-tenths of a cent with a water power plant, one and two-tenth cents in large industries and 11 cents at ordinary city rates. With gas it is seven-tenths of a cent in Paris. Thus for ordinary domestic heating purposes gas is over four times as expensive as coal and electricity is over sixty-eight times as costly.

Tally-Ho.

Strange as it may seem, the word "tally-ho" in a manner connects the hunting field with the coach. Tallis hors, pronounced tally-ho—Norman French for "out of the thicket"—was the proper cry when the fox broke cover. The huntsman and the master of the fox hounds answered the cry wtih long blasts of the horn.

Then, when public coaches began to run, their horns blew the tally-ho blasts; further as luxury progressed, finer coaches often took to the meet and the throwing off, fine people who did not intend to follow the hounds, but to see them spectacularly.

Between use and luxury, the coach with seats on top crystallized as the tally-ho. The tally-ho it is likely to remain unless all the world should go automobile mad.

Fine Finish.

The man who writes thrilling melodramas rushed into the manager's office in a state of great excitement.

"I've got it!" he shouted, triumphantly. "I've got it!"

"Got what!" asked the surprised manager.

"Why, the sensation of the year. In the third act of my new play there is a mill scene. Harold Headlight, the hero, casts the villain down into the yawning jaws of two great emery wheels."

The manager grinned.

"Emery wheels!" he chuckled. "Then, I suppose, he has a fine finish?"

"Yes, very fine. In fact, he comes out a polished villain."

HOW long have they been in business? An answer to this question is necessary to fix the standing of any business house. Before any concern can claim rank in the business world, its stability must be proven by the test of time. And the longer it has been in business with an honorable record, the higher it is rated by public opinion.

It takes time to show whether a bank is conducted on a policy of sefety and conservatism.

This bank has a history of over fifteen years of successful business and satisfactory service to Klemme people.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

A. F. HUBBARD

AUCTIONEER.

I would be pleased to cry your sales this season at reasonable terms. Livestock a specialty. Make dates with either banks at Klemme. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Address—Ventura, Iowa,
R. F. D. No. 2.

Toilet and Fancy Goods.

Toilet soaps, bath soaps, infent powders, sachet powders face powders, tooth powders, dressing and fine combs.

PAINTS and OILS

Strictly pure white lead. Colors dry and in oil Turpentine and varnishes. Window shades and trimmings.

Customers will find our stock complete in every respect. We are constantly adding every new novel and meritorious article that comes within our line of business. If you see a medicine advertised and want it, we will gladly get it for you if we do not have it.

Call and see us—your patronage is always appreciated, no matter how small your purchase, and you may rest assured it will be our constant aim to sell you the best that can be obtained and at reasonable prices.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

KLEMME IOWA

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

Good beet root yields an average of 12 per cent. of sugar.

Goosebone prophets who foretold a long, cold winter are getting anxiouser and anxiouser about their reputations.

As a health restorative a French medical expert recommends a ten to fifteen days' diet of fruit alone, twice a year.

Abruzzi may still be a great man in his own country, but over here he has dropped entirely out of the prominent citizen class.

It is reported that a German professor has concussion of the brain. Probably caused by a collision between two trains of thought.

It is noticeable that the German papers have made no outcry over the fact that King Edward has personally written to Andrew Carnegie.

There is a bank clerk in Elyria, O., who never has any difficulty in striking a balance. His father was a slack-rope walker, and his mother was a trick bicycle rider.

Were the Mrs. Gilman brand of sociology to come into vogue there would soon be no society for sociology to operate upon and the exuders of guff would be among the unemployed.

Miss Ross Becker has been appointed a claim agent and United States pension attorney at Missouri. She has been known for years as one of the most successful women in St. Louis, being a notary public and an insurance agent.

Massachusetts has a law to prevent recklessness and speeding in automobiles, which law may be rendered ridiculous by its wrong punctuation, as it forbids driving over roads "laid out under the authority of the law recklessly or while under the influence of liquor." Boston, in consequence, is in rhetorical spasms.

The secretary of the Colorado state bureau of child protection believes that a bad child gets its start from an ill-ordered home or from parents who possess evil traits of character, and wants a law passed making parents responsible for the misdoings of their minor children. But as bad traits of character are often inherited, what would the secretary do in case of an adopted child?

In a fire panic in a New York cheap theater, a so-called exit was found to be a veritable trap, barring in the fleeing crowd instead of letting them find a way to safety. One would naturally suppose that the holocaust in Chicago would have prevented this dangerous practice for all time; but the lessons of catastrophes are quickly lost, especially when they are followed by no retributory measures.

There will naturally be much feminine sympathy for the New Jersey woman who has appeared in court to complain about her husband's cruel treatment, relates the Washington Star, and who says: "I am a graduate of a cooking school. I make biscuits, pies, cake and all sorts of dainties to please him, and he calls it all 'indigestion fodder!'" The judge adivsed the woman to cook corned beef and cabbage occasionally, and she said she would.

A Minneapolis woman is suing the Western Union Telegraph Company for damages because when she telegraphed to her brother that "Pat," her husband, was drinking, and "to come at once," the message was made to read "Pat is dying," and a horde of relatives, notified by her brother, came from far and near to attend the wake, and she had the expenses to pay. If Pat had had anything to say in the matter he would probably have permitted them to pay their own expenses.

Said an anxious mother to the family doctor: "What shall I do with my daughter Mary? She is simply candy crazy and, of course, eating nothing substantial makes her pale, if not downright yellow." Said the wise physician to the anxious mother: "Put Mary into a sweet shop, and she'll soon abhor the stuff! It is heroic treatment, but it will cure her appetite for candy." Poor Mary! says the Indianapolis Star, how much pleasure she is going to lose for lack of a little self-denial.

An extraordinary demand has arisen in the eastern counties of England for second-hand Bibles—the older and dirtier the better. Copies which formerly realized four pence are now readily bought for half a crown. They are being used to manufacture evidence of age in the case of old-age pensions. A woman who produced a Bible to prove her age as 76 from an entry on the flyleaf had, unfortunately, omitted to tear out the title page, which showed that the Bible was printed in 1895.

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth.

FIANCEE'S SKILL IN VAIN.

Dr. O. W. Woodard of Nashua Dies of Typhoid.

Nashua.—Dr. O. W. Woodard, a prominent young physician of this city, passed away at the home of Dr. P. E. Stuart after an eight weeks' seige of tpyhoid fever. Dr. Woodard came to Nasnua about a year ago from Grinnell and began the practice of medicine. He was taken down with typhoid fever Thanksgiving day and was removed to the home of Dr. Stuart, where he was cared for during his sickness by his financee, Miss Lillian Riggles, a trained nurse, who was summoned here from Idaho to care for him.

Child Dies in A Puddle.

Leon.—Sunday the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Kopecky, of near Cainsville, fell into a small puddle of water and mud near the family home and when found by the mother a few moments later, was dead. The child had been playing about the house and yard unnoticed by the mother and when she did miss the child and started a search for him she found the little body lying face down in a puddle back of the house.

Unknown Man Killed.

Osceola.—Freight train No. 70 killed an unknown man at the Great Western crossing. The man was about 25 years old, well dressed and carried a grip, and had just got off passenger No. 9. He was walking west on the north track and stepped over to let the freight pass and came in front of the eastbound train. The body was mangled beyond recognition.

Dubuque to Exempt Firm.

Dubuque.—The city council has voted to vacate certain streets and to give tax exemption concessions required by the United Fruit company, which proposes to build a $100,000 warehouse here employing sixty-five men. Dubuque will then be the distributing point for the concern for the northwest. The annual payroll of the company will be $65,000.

Big Land Transfer At Auction.

Marshalltown.—A big land transfer was made here by F. L. Meeker, as referee, sold at auction 239.41 acres of land lying near St. Anthony for $30,288. The property was the estate of James Dunn, Jr., of St, Anthony, and the sale settles a lawsuit that was threatened between the widow and other heirs.

Robberies At Oelwein.

Oelwein.—Two grocery stores in Oelwein were entered and each lost all the money on hand in the cash drawers. Sachtleben and Gremmels lost about $20 in cash, and the burglars obtained a $15 haul in cash from J. F. Ridler. The robbers entered by means of skelton keys, as the doors were found open in the morning.

Good Roads in Iowa.

Murray.—The problem of good roads making is a live topic in this vicinity, and the good roads convention held in Murray resulted in the further agitation of the subject, which is of vital interest to all. D. Ward King of Missouri, the originator of the King road drag, addressed the convention.

Fire At Marshalltown.

Marshalltown.—Fire threatened destruction of the big Iowa Central shops, when the blaze was discovered under the roof of the boiler department. Prompt work confined the flames to the boiler shops, with but little damage. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Marshall County Veterans.

Gilman.—This town will entertain the Marshall County Veteran's association at the next annual reunion to be held June 29 and 30. The dates were fixed at the public meeting of citizens. J. A. Ward was made chairman of the general committee on arrangements.

New Hotel for Ames.

Ames.—The Commercial club has been instrumental in organizing a $50,000 stock company which will erect a high class modern hotel next spring.

New Buildings At Dougherty.

Dougherty.—New buildings will be erected on the site of the ones destroyed by fire recently when the hotel and several other buildings were destroyed.

FARMERS' GRAIN MEN MEET.

Elect Officers at Sioux City—About 2,000 Gather.

Sioux City.—Fifteen hundred members of the Farmers' Grain Dealers association of Iowa at their annual convention elected officers as follows: President—J. H. Brown of Rockwell City. First vice president—B. Hathaway of Pierson. Second vice president—J. W. Hagans of Barnum. Secretary—C. C. Messerole of Gowrie. Treasurer—F. H. Gorman of Dougherty. Directors—John Ruthven of Ruthven, J. W. Hagans of Barnum, Hans Moeller of Sioux Center, W. S. Foley of Melvin, Thomas McManus of Dougherty, J. E. Mereness of Glidden, B. Hathaway of Pierson. Action was taken toward forming a co-operative insurance company to protect the elevators of the association. Federal inspection of grain and reciprocal demurrage is favored. Much opposition developed against the proposed centralization of schools.

Fair Managers Unite.

Mason City.—The Interstate Association of Fair Managers has been organized here with T. H. Wadsworth of Algona, president and W. B. Clark of Marshalltown, vice-president and C. H. Barber, Mason City, secretary and treasurer. The object of the formation of the organization is to foster better fairs and prevent conflict in dates, or to arrange dates that will be satisfactory to all and for the further purpose of securing a better line of attractions for this section of the state. Among the cities represented were Marshalltown, Eldora, Algona, Mason City, Osage, Charles City, Hampton, Austin and Albert Lea and Nashua.

Fort Dodge Gets Theater.

Fort Dodge.—In case the Des Moines Life Insurance company does not rebuild the recently destroyed Midland theater building, a $50,000 theater will be erected in the spring by John Schaupp, a Fort Dodge capitalist. Mr. Schaupp made a statement that he would start operations by March should he learn definitely that the destroyed building would not be rebuilt into a theater, giving Fort Dodge a playhouse that would be a credit.

Two Bluffs Men Drown.

Council Bluffs.—Lake Manawa may have collected a part of its annual toll of human life. Tom Kendall and J. W. Mergen, two local business men, went hunting on the lake and up to the present time, have not been seen. A black hat worn by Mergen was found floating in the water not far from a capsized boat. Searching parties are engaged in dragging the lake near the scene of the supposed drowning.

Attacked by Masked Man.

Osceola.—Pearl Robbins, 17 years old, was attacked by two masked men while on his way home from the opera house. One man used a club and the other seized him by the collar. Pearl broke away and ran home, where he became hysterical and was in convulsions for twenty-four hours and doctors thought his recovery doubtful. It is a case of literally being scared almost to death.

Mother Beats Pullet.

Belle Plaine.—The first annual exhibition of the Progressive Poultry Breeders' association has just closed here. The exhibition was very good, there being about 300 birds entered, and many of them very fine ones, among them being a daughter of "Peggy", the famous $10,000 prize hen, which scored 98. The pullet scored 96.

Young Man Not Slain.

Burlington.—After examining a score of witnesses the jury in the inquest to inquire into the death of Maurice Dowling, failed to find any grounds for the belief that the young man was foully dealt with.

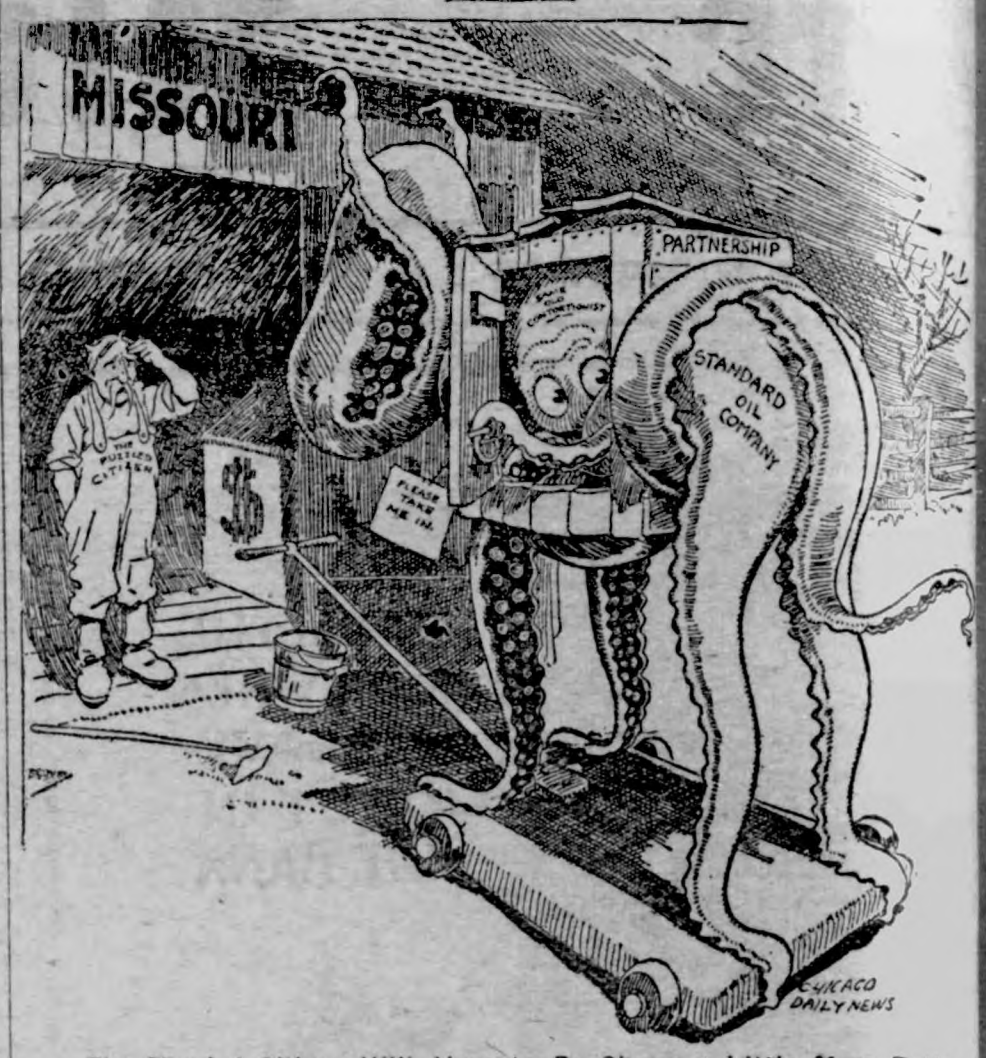
Revival Planned At Mason City.

Mason City.—Union revival meetings are in progress in the Congregational church with Rev. C. C. Smith of Chicago, a well known evangelist, in charge. He is assisted by Rev. Mr. Loper, who has charge of the singing.

Attorney Byers at Charles City.

Charles City.—Attorney General Byers, of Des Moines, will speak here Washington's birthday under the auspices of the Men's union of the Congregational church.

BEFORE THE TROJAN HORSE IS ADMITTED



The Puzzled Citizen Will Have to Be Shown a Little More Fully.

OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR INDICTED

CHARLES N. HASKELL AND SIX OTHERS ACCUSED OF FRAUD.

Defendants Charged with Conspiracy Against Government in Muskogee Town Lot Cases.

Muskogee, Okla.—As a result of the investigation by the grand jury of the alleged frauds in connection with the scheduling of town lots in this city seven indictments were returned Wednesday night. The charge against the defendants is conspiracy to defraud the government. Those indicted are:

Gov. Charles N. Haskell, F. B. Severs, A. Z. English, C. W. Turner, W. T. Hutchings, Jesse W. Hill and Walter R. Eaton.

Attorney Thomas H. Owen of Muskogee, representing Gov. Haskell, made arrangements for the governor Friday morning to enter his appearance and give bond in the sum of $5,000 for appearance for trial.

The writs issued are returnable forthwith.

Gov. Haskell is at Guthrie, the state capital. There is but one indictment against him charging him with conspiring with Walter R. Eaton and Clarence W. Turner to defraud the government. There are two indictments against Turner and one each against the others.

Turner was first to give bond in the sum of $10,000. Hutchings and Eaton gave bond in the sum of $5,000 each. All probably will be arraigned before Judge Campbell Friday morning. English is in Los Angeles, Cal.

In a statement issued at Guthrie, Gov. Haskell said:

"I have just heard of the indictment for conspiracy coupled with seven or eight of the oldest and highest-charactered citizens of Muskogee, men who developed and built up that country by their unselfish effort. From now on, the proceedings will be open to both sides.

"I am satisfied the interior department has been misled by false statements. I am confident there has not been a dishonest act done by any of the indicted parties and that good citizens in general, regardless of politics, feel the same way."

LEWIS RE-ELECTED BY MINERS.

Ohio Man Chosen for President by Majority of 16,000.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Thomas L. Lewis of Bridgeport, O., Wednesday was re-elected president of the United Mine Workers of the United States and Canada by a majority of more than 16,000 votes over his opponent, John H. Walker, district president of Illinois.

The report of the tellers of the ballots cast in the election of last December that as none of the candidates for vice-president or secretary-treasurer had received a majority of the votes cast, it would be necessary for the delegates assembled in the convention to decide the contest. Ballots then were distributed.

Attack Forest Service.

Washington.—The forest service got its usual annual drubbing Thursday, the criticisms against it coming principally from Mr. Smith (Cal.), Mr. Cook (Col.) and Mr. Mondell (Wyo.), all of whom charged extravagance in administration and the extortion of money from miners, farmers and even the owners of bee hives. Mr. Cook attributed to Mr. Pinchot, the chief forester, the ulterior motive of scheming for Secretary Wilson's seat in the cabinet.

STOPS THE JAP LEGISLATION.

Speaker's Appeal and Governor's Message Postpone California's Action.

Sacramento, Cal.—Speaker Phil A. Stanton took the floor Friday and secured, by a strong personal appeal unanimous consent of the assembly to postpone further action on the Japanese school segregation bill until next Wednesday.

He declared he had information which he could not reveal, that proved the assembly was treading upon dangerous ground in passing the anti-Japanese bill.

At the conclusion of the speaker's address, Grove L. Johnson, author of the measure, asked that the matter of reconsideration of Thursday's vote be put over until Wednesday, and his motion carried without dissent.

Gov. Gillett sent a special message to the house raising the point of the bill's constitutionality, and this was the subject of a long debate, during which it was suggested by leaders on both sides that the measure be referred to the committee on judiciary and submitted to the attorney general for an opinion as to its legality.

Senator A. C. Minetti introduced the Japanese school bill in the senate.

DEFENDS USE OF SLEUTHS.

President Says Secret Service Is Necessary to Punish Criminals.

Washington.—Declaring that "if the government is to act with full efficiency against criminals, it must have some force of secret service agents who can act against criminals anywhere," President Roosevelt in a statement made public from the White House emphatically reiterated his opposition to restricting the field of usefulness of the secret service.

"The position of the administration is," said the president, "that it is against sound public policy to discriminate in favor of criminals by discriminating against the use of the secret service to detect and punish them."

The statement was called forth by "misleading statements appearing in some of the afternoon papers" to the effect that the work of the secret service has not been hampered and that the investigation of cases outside the detection of counterfeiters and the protection of the president has not been circumscribed by restrictive legislation at the last session of congress.

Wants Premium for Mothers.

Des Moines, Ia.—One dollar to the mother of every baby born in Iowa. Representative Fulliam Friday introduced such a bill as a substitute to the tax on babies measure. It provides that the mother of a new born baby shall be paid one dollar by the county treasurer upon receipt of a certificate signed by the mother and the attending physician.

Relief Fund Is Now $3,641,000.

Washington.—Funds raised by the relief organizations for the earthquake victims in Italy have reached a total of $3,641,000, this sum representing the contributions which poured in from all quarters through the three leading organizations—the American National Red Cross, the Italian government committee and the Italian Red Cross.

Carrie Nation Is Fined.

London.—Carrie Nation became acquainted with the London police court Thursday afternoon, when she was fined $7.50 for thrusting her umbrella through a window of a car in the underground railway upon which a cigarette advertisement was pasted.

Ground It Under His Heel.

The SMUGGLER

BY ELLA MIDDLETON TYBOUT

COPYRIGHT 1907 BY J.B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

ILLUSTRATED BY RAY WALTERS

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. Elise shared her stateroom with a Mrs. Graham, also bound for Canada. The young women on a sightseeing tour met Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented by the trio for the summer. Elizabeth learned that a friend of her father's was to call. Two men called, one of them being the queer-acting stranger on the steamer. The girls were "not at home," but discovered by the cards left that one of the men was Elizabeth's father's friend. The men proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. Lady Edith told the girls of a robbery of jewels at the hotel. Fearing for the safety of her own gems, she left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his queer actions, returned the lost bag and told of mysterious doings of a year before connected with the cottage. Exploring the cellar, one of the girls found a sphinx cuff-button, the exact counterpart of which both Gordon Bennett and Lady Edith were found to possess, also. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. The young women agreed to keep the secret. Lady Edith told a story of a lost love in connection with the sphinx key. Elise and Gordon Bennett discovered Lady Edith and Mr. Graham, the latter displaying a marvelous baritone voice. At a supper which was held on the rocks Elizabeth rather mysteriously lost her ring, causing a search by the entire party.

CHAPTER XI.—Continued.

It was a very beautiful world, too, as the sun sank slowly out of sight, leaving the heavens tinted with scarlet and gold, fading here and there to amber and palest pink, and we instinctively grew silent while watching it.

Finally Mr. Bennett touched me on the shoulder.

"Look," he said.

I turned in the direction he indicated and saw a little skiff under full sail, heading for the open sea. The white canvas gleamed rosily pink in the sunset glow, and we could see the figure of a man silhouetted against the sky. A fresh breeze had sprung up and the boat cut through the waves, now careening to one side until the sails seemed to dip in the water, now righting itself and darting forward as though exulting in its dangerous freedom. Steadily onward it went, and as I watched it Mr. Graham's song returned to me. Almost unconsciously I repeated a few lines:

"Where the far-away dim horizon
Touches the mist-bound sea,
There lieth an Unknown Kingdom
With its gates ajar for me."

"Yes," said Gordon Bennett, adding after a moment, "it is Graham, you know."

I contradicted him at once, secure in my superior knowledge.

"Oh, no! Mr. Graham is at home. I saw him this afternoon and he said Mrs. Graham was far from well. He is with her, of course."

I rose as I spoke, for it was time to go home, and Mr. Bennett rose also. He looked at me in a puzzled, incredulous sort of way and once or twice seemed about to speak, but thought better of it. As we walked toward Mr Blake I remembered the shadows and my fright of the previous night. I began to tell him about it, but a gleam of gold caught my eye and I saw he was wearing the scarf-pin with the Sphinx's head. For some reason the sight of this pin checked the words on my lips and a feeling of distrust arose in my heart, totally unjustifiable.

Mr. Blake joined us and we walked slowly home in silence, interrupted only by occasional perfunctory remarks. I was conscious of a return of my former depression, also of an inclination to be very disagreeable indeed should any one give me the slightest provocation.

Perhaps my companions realized this, for at the turn of the path they said good-by and went on to the village, leaving me to return to the cottage alone. Far in the distance I saw a woman's figure I thought might be Gabrielle coming home along the shore, and I decided to wait for her.

So I went around to our little slip, intending to sit upon the ledge until she arrived. Much to my surprise, I found it already occupied, for Mrs. Graham sat, or rather crouched, upon the ledge muffled in a thick shawl. Her thin hands were clasped so tightly together that the veins stood out like cords and the knuckles were blue and prominent. Although it was evident from her absorption that she had not heard me approach she displayed no surprise when I sat down beside her and when I spoke she answered as though I had been there all the time.

The sun had quite set now and the sky was gray and leaden. The wind blew sharply from the east, bringing with it a penetrating chill which made me shiver in spite of myself.

"Had you not better go home?" I suggested. "Surely it is not wise for you to sit here."

In reply she raised her hand and pointed toward the ocean.

"He is out there."

"Mr. Graham?"

"Yes."

Gordon Bennett had been right, and this was the way Mr. Graham looked after his invalid wife. I tried not to show the indignation I felt as I thanked her for the roses, and again suggested she would be better at home.

"Roses?" she repeated. "Oh, yes. It was Harry's idea; he is always so thoughtful. I hope you liked them."

"I do not consider it very thoughtful to leave you like this."

The words sprang to my lips and I regretted them as soon as they were uttered.

"I told him to go." She was at once on the defensive. "He would have stayed with me if I had asked him. I wanted him to go. But, oh—"

She collapsed again and shivered convulsively.

"The skiff is so little and the ocean is so big."

"He goes so often I should think you would be accustomed to it."

I fear my voice was not very sympathetic, but, as Gabrielle said, there were times when Mrs. Graham jarred one's nervous system. She was looking straight at me now with an expression of terror in her large dark eyes.

"Often," she whispered; "often? Ah, you don't know! Day or night when the fancy takes possession of him he has to go; he says he cannot help it. Last night—and to-night."

"Last night!" I ejaculated. "You don't mean to say he left you last night?"

She immediately stiffened, resenting the implied criticism.

"There was no reason he should not. I was all right as soon as I got to bed. He was restless and wakeful and I did not need attention. It was best he should go. I was quite comfortable at home."

Quite comfortable! I could imagine the thin white face upon the pillow, with frightened eyes staring into the darkness hour after hour throughout the long night, and it was not my idea of comfort. I uttered an impulsive ejaculation of sympathy, but she checked me with some dignity and remarked that she thought she would take my advice and go home.

"I shall be all the better for a cup of tea," she said. "Isn't it curious how depressed one gets when one is cold and tired."

I watched her frail figure walk languidly in the direction of her house and knew that the tea, even if she drank it, would bring her no comfort. Several times she stopped and looked behind her and looked out over the expanse of water toward the far horizon. I knew she was looking for the little skiff I had seen bounding so joyously over the waves, and when she resumed her walk, her thin shoulders drooping and her head bent upon her breast, I felt the contempt for Harry Graham which something in his personality prevented me from feeling when he was actually present.

I was very glad when Gabrielle joined me and my thoughts could be diverted into another channel. I saw at once that her afternoon had not been a success and she was anxious to tell me about it.

"Well," she began, slipping her hand through my arm, "I've had the funniest experience. I'm glad my brother is not recovering from an illness that left him with a crook in his temper."

It seemed she had gone to Lady Edith's sitting room at the hotel (for the Campbells had taken a suite), and finding her alone had presented the roses and had a cozy little chat, as well as a cup of tea, which she found very cheering.

"And then," continued Gabrielle, "just as I was about to come home I heard some one go into Lady Edith's bedroom and slam the door. She got up quickly and then sat down again and I saw she looked worried. Then I heard a smash of china and somebody swore—yes, and swore hard, too. I didn't know whether to get up or sit still and, of course, I did the wrong thing; I sat still and I ought to have gone out; I knew that later."

"Well, what happened?"

"In a minute the door between the rooms was flung open and Lord Wilfrid marched in, so angry he never saw me. And, oh, Elise, his arms were full of roses."

"Roses!"

"Yes, red roses. Dozens of them. They were more than he could carry and fell on the floor all round him, and whenever he saw one on the carpet he stepped on it."

"What?"

"Yes, he did, and ground it under his heel. He began to say something, too, in a blustering sort of way when Lady Edith interrupted him. She stood in front of him, very tall and straight, and looked directly at him. She said: 'Wilfrid, we are not alone.' Her head was very high in the air, and I never saw her look so lovely; I felt awfully sorry for her, too, for I think her pride must have suffered."

"What happened then?"

"Well, then he saw me—and I certainly wished I was not there to be seen—and muttered something. And then he dumped those glorious roses on the floor and rang the bell. I tried to talk pleasantly while we were waiting for the boy to come, but honestly the whole room seemed full of red roses, I never saw such flowers in my life, and I couldn't think of a thing to say. When the boy came Lord Wilfrid said: 'Take that trash and throw it out,' and he gathered them up and went off.

"Lord Wilfrid went off, too. He said something civil to me about having sailed about in the sun until he had a horrid headache and the scent of the roses was intolerable. But you know he didn't have to smell them, for he could have stayed in his own room. He scowled at his sister as he left the room and I think she is dreadfully worried about him. She is going to get a doctor from the city, for she doesn't think this air agrees with him."

"I wonder what can be the matter with him," I speculated. "Perhaps he is threatened with brain trouble. She seems to be so careful of him, and the least things excite him."

"I couldn't help wondering where so many exquisite roses came from," said Gabrielle, "for flowers are hard to get here, you know. Lady Edith said her brother had never been able to endure the odor of roses, but I noticed that the white ones we sent did not seem to excite him at all. In fact, I don't think he saw them. What sort of a time did you have?"

I told her about my afternoon as we mounted the steps leading to the cottage, and we agreed that we were very glad our own families were merely commonplace and possessed no highly wrought invalids to be watched and guarded.

The cottage was brightly lighted, and Elizabeth stood in the door to welcome us. A metamorphosed Elizabeth, absolutely radiating happiness and arrayed in her red dress, which she only wears when she feels especially cheerful.

"Where have you been?" she exclaimed. "I thought you would never come home."

She seized our hands and dragged us into the living room.

"Look!" she cried, her third finger extended.

And there was the marquise ring, its seven rubies shining in the bright light, and its diamonds twinkling ecstatically.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

HOLLAND BULB TRADE IMMENSE.

Over 10,000 Acres Devoted to Raising Tulips and Hyacinths.

An industry characteristic of the Netherlands is the raising of tulip and hyacinth bulbs. Attempts have been made in several parts of the world to grow these, but nowhere can the experiment be said to have been successful, as the proper kind of soil for propagation of perfect bulbs seems only to exist in the small space of territory between the cities of Leyden and Haarlem.

This stretch of country is in reality the bottom of the old Haarlem sea, which was laid dry about the year 1852, and this sea-bottom dirt, a combination of sand and decomposed vegetables and plants, appears to be the only soil capable of producing the flower bulbs mentioned.

These bulbs are exported to all parts of the world; the demand is constantly increasing, and an increased area is from year to year set apart to the cultivation of bulbs. The statistics for 1906, the latest available, give this area as 4,058 hectares, equal to 10,027 acres.

How the Cow Helped Australia.

"Corn is king in America and the cow is queen in Australia," remarked R. J. Guthrie, agricultural editor of the Sydney Mail. "The cow has redeemed the country, and hundreds of farmers who lost nearly all they had by the drought of 1902 are now better off than they ever were, and it is all due to the cow. Australian butter ranks well up with the best butter in the world.

"Our butter making is all done by the co-operative creamery system. It has been years since the farmer made butter on the farm. We have little use for a dual purpose cow in Australia. That is, the dairy farmer wants a cow that will give milk ten months in the year, and he uses it for no other purpose, while those who raise cattle for beef have no thought of milk production."

But Not Literally.

It is related of a local preacher in a western town, who was to be absent from his pulpit a fortnight, that he recently announced after the sermon: "The preacher for next Sunday will be Mr. Blank, and the one for the Sunday after you'll find hanging up behind the door on the other side of the vestry."—Youth's Companion.

THEY KNEW HOW TO WORK

BUT DON'T NEED TO WORK NOW SO HARD.

The experience of the Bisser Bros. in Western Canada is similar to that reported to every agent of the Canadian Government, whose advertisement appears elsewhere:

"Wheatwyn, Sask., Nov. 6th, 1908.

"To the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba.—Dear Sir: I, in company with my brother and other relations, arrived in this country in the spring of 1893. At the time we got off the train at Wolseley, Sask., we had only a few dollars, not enough to start farming on our own account, so we were compelled to work out for a considerable time in order to make sufficient money to enable us to establish ourselves. When we thought we had enough money to start with, I and my brother took up one quarter-section (160 acres) land each in the Loon Creek district. In 1900 we moved on our homesteads with one team of horses and one walking plow. While I was engaged with the work in the field, my brother built a shack and barn of logs, which we have hauled during the time we were not able to work in the field. We were certainly working very hard, but I am glad to say that we made our fortune in this country. To-day we do not need to work so hard as we used to, as we have three men hired steady for whom we pay $30.00 to $40.00 a month, besides board and lodging during the summer time! I am also glad to tell you that to-day we are owners of a section and three-quarters of the best land, with first class buildings thereon, besides having all the necessary machinery. We always do our own threshing, for we have a 22 horse-power threshing outfit.

"Our success in farming in this country also enabled us to get rid of a number of horses of less value, and instead we bought 10 pure-bred mares, representing a value in the neighborhood of $5,000.

"Regarding raising grain, which is the main factor in our district, I am proud to say that we have always had good success. We have raised wheat as high as 35 bushels to the acre; and this year, although we suffered from lack of sufficient rain, our wheat went 27 bushels to the acre, and we had 900 acres in crop. We have broken this year about 100 acres new land, and by next year we will have about 1,110 acres in crop. For one carload of wheat which we have shipped a few weeks ago we got a price of 97 cents per bushel, and it graded as No. 2 Northern, although we have a quantity of wheat which will surely go as No. 1 Northern. During the six years we have been farming for ourselves we have never had one frost around here, so that we always had a good crop.

"I, for myself, feel compelled to say that our Great West is the land where a person who is willing to work and trun his hands to anything, can make a fortune, and a comfortable living. Our country is a thoroughly free country, and we have a good Government; and, as long as we have good crops, and a good Government, we are satisfied, and I think that is all we want.

"Yours very truly,
"LORENS BISSER,
"P. O. Wheatwyn, Sask.."

FROM A RECENT NOVEL.

"Whereupon he instantly drew his sword."

CHILD HAD SIXTY BOILS,

And Suffered Annually with a Red Scald-Like Humor on Her Head.

Troubles Cured by Cuticura.

"When my little Vivian was about six months old her head broke out in boils. She had about sixty in all and I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which cured her entirely. Some time later a humor broke out behind her ears and spread up on to her head until it was nearly half covered. The humor looked like a scald, very red with a sticky, clear fluid coming from it. This occurred every spring. I always used Cuticura Soap and Ointment which never failed to heal it up. The last time it broke out it became so bad that I was discouraged. But I continued the use of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent until she was well and has never been troubled in the last two years. Mrs. M. A. Schwerin, 674 Spring Wells Ave., Detroit, Mich., Feb. 24, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

What a friendly old world this would be if we all loved our neighbors as we love ourselves!

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of

HARDWARE

—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING

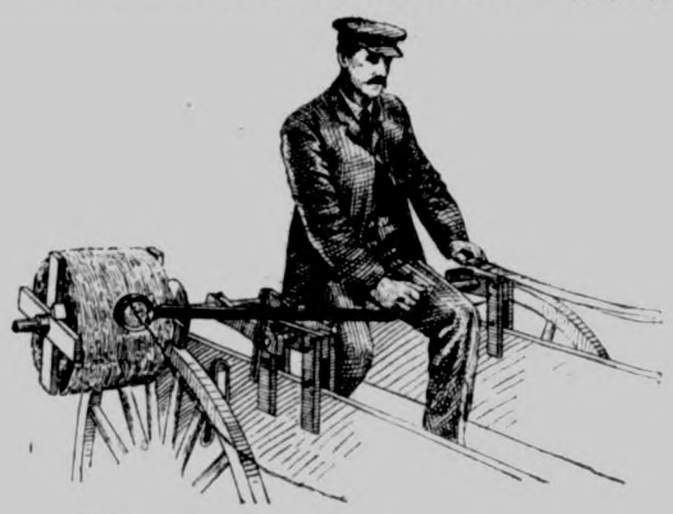
HORSE SHOEING A

SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL



Farm Machinery.

Yes Sir! We mean just what we say. "A penna saved means a penna earned" and you can do this by going to H. Lau & Son and buy you a first-class "A Grade Surrey" and top buggy and Dane mower and Dane hay loaders, buckers, stackers, 20 century Kemp manure spreaders. You can also buy cultivator plows, binders, mowers, hay rakes, Jones scales, harnesses, flynets, lap dusters, whips, oils of all kinds, tile spades, barb and smoot wires, fence stapels and other farm implements. Royal Tailors tight fit suits. They will keep style and collor, fit guaranteed.

H. Lau & Son.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.

CIRCUS MAN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Exposure Only Averted Through Two Fortunate Circumstances.

An old circus man tells this incident as one of the narrow escapes he had in the show business. He had trained lions, zebras, leopards, rhino—you know—and all sorts of beasts of prey, but this, he says, was his narrowest escape.

It was when he was running a dime museum in Milwaukee.

One day a mild-mannered Russian came out of the railway station up at the town that was made famous, with a valise in his hand. He was a heavily bearded man and with shaggy hands and arms like George Esau. He hunted up a cabman and inquired modestly: "Where is the dime museum?"

The cabman told him and then asked: "Want to ride up?"

"Yes," the bearded stranger told him quietly, almost bashfully, "I'm to be employed up there. I'm the wild man."

"The narrow escape," says the ex-circus man, "lay in the fact that no newspaper men heard the man's remark, and that the cabman was an Englishman, with no sense of humor, who never thought to repeat it."

MISTAKES OF MENTAL WORKERS.

Few Endeavor to Keep Themselves in Proper Physical Trim.

Neglect of physical development is responsible for many of the ills to which the vast army of men workers is heir. Men and women who labor in offices are even forgetting how to use their legs, so convenient is it to resort to street cars, though the distance to be covered may be but a few blocks.

The best mental work is performed by those who keep in good physical trim. Generally, the incentive for this is lacking. It is perfectly possible for every mental worker to take daily, systematic exercise, though it may be only a brisk walk in the open air or a few free-hand movements on rising in the morning or retiring at night. Few, however, gain sufficient exhilaration in these diversions. Most people are more strongly attracted by games, competitions or the forms of exercise entered into by a considerable body of persons in unison. More than that, most people would prefer to watch others in these pastimes than to enter into them in person.

Rules for Good Health.

To keep in good health it is necessary to have regular hours for eating and sleeping. Meals should be arranged to be served at the same time each day and there should be no hurrying. Go to bed at a set hour and rise regularly. A cold bath is a very great aid toward maintaining health and beauty, but if it is too great a shock to the system then a tepid bath will do. Do not, however, neglect the morning bath. It is a great deal easier, of course, to start taking a cold bath in summer than in winter—any way to contract the habit. Do not eat between meals—it is injurious to the complexion and to the general health. Even afternoon tea is not at all good for the average woman or man.

Dog Ghosts.

The phantom dog specter was one of the hardiest of old English superstitions. Almost every county had its black dog which haunted its lonely spots and was the dread of every native. Most of them were regarded as devils, but some were held to be the spirits of human beings, transformed thus as a punishment. Lady Howard, a Devon notable of the days of James I., for instance, was said to be compelled to haunt Okehampton in the form of a dog as a punishment for her cruelty to her daughter.

Puzzle Made Plain.

Readers of "Gulliver's Travels" are naturally brought up sharp when first confronted by the word Houyhnhnm, the name given to the half horse half man creature, whose reasoning power Dean Swift makes so acute. The word is obviously an attempt to spell out the sound given by a horse's neigh—what the philologists call nomatopoeia—but one hesitates to pronounce it. An eminent English authority—no less than Prof. Saintsbury—approves its pronanciation to rhyme with minim, and it has been so used in English verse.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

REVOLTS AT COLD STEEL

Your only hope said three doctors to Mrs. M. E Fisher, Detroit, Mich. suffering from severe rectal trouble. lies in an operation, then I used Dr. King's New Life Pills she writes till wholly cured. They prevent Appendicitis, cure Constipation, Headache. 25c at G. A. Pebst & Co.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

German M. E. Church Items

Anna and Sadie Boevers of Fenton Iowa were visitors at the Ed. Griffen home several days last week.

E. H Lenz and family moved into their new home last Saturday and Henry Griffen pulled into the Lenz home the same day.

Mrs. Blank and her three youngest children and mother Reuter, visited with W. F. Lau and family in Garner between trains Monday.

Henry Ludeke returned home last Wednesday from the hospital in Iowa City. The operation reduced his weight a considerable, but he is gaining nicely.

E. J. Schaefer returned to Kirksville, Mo. last Saturday where he will take another months treatment. He intended to spend Sunday with his brother-in law the Rev. W. J. Suckow in Grinnell.

Lurena Wessel and her cousin Gilbert Meyer, both students in the Charles City College, spent Sunday in Klemme, returning Monday evening. The latter will complete the business course in a few weeks and then return to his home near McGregor, Iowa.

On Thursday evening of last week occured the marriage of Maggie Hammon to Albert Lange at the home of the bride's parents. In spite of the bad roads, some 50 guests were present. After March 1 they will make their home on the young man's farm in German township.

A minister friend recently had an exciting experience in his home which he related to the writer a few days ago.

The family had retired one night and were sound asleep, when suddenly they were awakened by a terrific sound like an explosion. In their sleepy mood they thought they felt the house lifted from its foundation. The wife screamed, the children cried and the preacher man bounced out of bed in his excitement, but the wife caught him by his night gown and would not let him go away, fearing something terrible had happened. After he had quieted her and found that the children were all alive, he took a light to explore the house. He went into his study, then into the parlor, the dining room and kitchen but found every thing in order. What could it have been? Next he must investigate the cellar, but how horror stricken he was, when he opened the door and found the steps bespattered with blood. He quickly stepped back and closed the door. By this time his oldest son had come down and getting an old pistol and the preacher man weaponing himself with a ball club they started for the cellar. "Who is there," they shouted, but there was no sound nor answer. Do the cellar they started to quor or be conquored. But had only gone a few steps they noticed broken pieces glass lying around which plained it all. A bottle of munion wine had been placed the cellar a short time ago, had begun to ferment and exploded. It is best always keep cool and not "loose head." How often small happings are turned into "terrible thing" by not being considerate and cool.

The Ox's Affections.

Oxen usually die in pairs. yoke fellow seldom survives the Working and resting side by through many long years these animals develop so strong, so and abiding an affection for one other that separation means death.

When a pair of oxen are yoked gether in youth they fight. Their tual hatred is as great as would that of two men yoked together, with the years' passage they cease kick and butt. They become friends. And this friendship ripens at last an overmastering affection which may be, consoles the mild, laborious creatures in some measure for the long cruelties heaped on them by man.

A Surprise for the Thief.

Herr Hager, a rich and influential banker, frequently had watches pilfered from his pocket. At first he had recourse to all kinds of safety chains, then one morning he took no precaution whatever, and quietly allowed himself to be robbed. At night, on returning from his business, he took the evening paper; he uttered an exclamation of delight. A watch had exploded in a man's hands. The victim's hands were shattered and his left eye destroyed. The crafty banker had filled the watch case with dynamite, which exploded in the operation of winding.

School That Turns Out Heroes.

Wednesday was a high day at Eton, perhaps it might be called a sad day, too. Has ever before one school sent 1,400 of its sons to fight for their country in one war? Has any school had 120 of them killed in the same war? Eton is unique. There are other great schools, but Eton stands on its own plane. Criticise Eton as you may; show all its faults it is Eton still. Eton may reflect some of the proverbial shortcomings of Englishmen; certainly it represents particularly their traditional virtues.—Saturday Review.

Too Busy.

"What we want," said the reformer, "is a leader who is wholly unselfish, a man absolutely above all mercenary considerations."

"Yes," answered the man with chilly eyes; "and when you find that kind of a man, he's generally busy and compelled to work hard for a living instead of studying economic theories."

Masquerade Ball

—AT—

KLEMME OPERA HOUSE

—ON—

Friday Evening Feb. 12, '09.

Everybody Come

Jurgasen's Orchestra will play.

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Rates 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	48 to 50c
Oats	43 to 46c
Wheat	75 to 95c
Barley	50 to 55c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.75
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Change of ad for State Bank.

Prof. Washburn drove to Garner Saturday.

Oysters direct from Baltimore at Kluckhohn's.

Pure rendered lard at the F. A. Griewe meat market.

Since the freeze-up the raods have been terribly rough.

The prettiest and up-to date valentines can be procured at G. W. Kluckhohn's.

There will be a dime social at the residence of Wm. Fuller on Monday evening Feb. 15th.

Read the market report. Bring your produce to Klemme and receive the highest market price.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 5c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

Jake Wenz left last week Saturday for Britt where he will visit his sister Mrs. Wright and family for about a week.

Aug. Schuidt is busy these days assessing the Germantown farmers. Better tell him the truth as he can read your thoughts if you don't.

Social functions of winter midnight lunches, loss of sleep tell on the health. Hollister's rocky mountain tea clears the blood, aida digestion, relieves fatigue, makes and retains your health. &reatest tonic. Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co.

There will be a Market Day Sale on Saturday, Feb. 27th. Any one having live stock, farm mechinery or household goods that they wish to sell on that day may list same in the Times office before Feb. 16.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets, Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

On account of the inclemency of the weather on Jan. 29th, the Masquerade dance was postponed but will now be given on Friday evening. Feb. 12, 1909. Music will be furnished by the Jefferson Harp Orchestra. Get busy, get your suits ready and enjoy yourselves. Supper will be served by the Royal Neighbors in the rooms formerly occupied by Dr. Spooner.

The Wolf ad for the Saving bank—read it.

Fresh oysters always on hand at Kluckhohn's. tf.

F. A. Arnold was at Garner between trains this Thursday.

Miss Anna Coobs arrived from Forest City Wednesday evening.

Valentines, valentine post cards and comic cards at Kluckhohn's.

C. C. Suckow returned Wednesday from his visit at Unionville, Iowa.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

Old Plantation Quartet and Jubilee Singers at Opera House on Wednesday evening, Feb. 24.

R. M. Day left Monday for Buell county, S. Dak. where he will will look after the interests of his farm.

Edw. J. Schaefer left last week Friday evening for Kirksville. Mo. where he will take treatment in a hospital.

FOR SALE—Six milch cows, 1 registered Short-horn bull, 13 head of horses and all kinds of farm machinery at my farm 4 miles east and 1 mi. north of Klemme. J. Wacker. 26-3*

Mr. Coobs and family moved from Forest City this week. They have rented the Arnold farm which was occupied by Wm. Brandt.

No more divorces.
'Hubby' will stay a lover true,
Every wife his only sweetheart, too,
Perpetual matrimonial bliss 'twill be,
If both take Hollister's rocky mountain tea.G. A. Pabst & Co.

John Waterman has the latest improved Victor talking machine. With this machine he received several new records and we all appreciated when he gave us free concerts. Several new records were disposed of.

Our town is getting to be quite musical in the way of Victor and Edison phonographs. At G. A Pabst & Co. you can hear the very choicest of music on their latest improved Edison phonograph, at Waterman's the latest improved Victor machine, at Terhufen Bros another Victor and still another at the home of this scribe. There is always music in the air.

Mr. E. S. Thomas, the great basso, sometimes known as the "Jubilee Father," formerly associated with the eminent success of the "Tennesseeans" and other celebrated jubilee organizations, is at the head of this versatile quartet company as director and manager. Mr. Thomas is a musician of rare culture and christian education. Including him, we have assembled a quarted of genuine jubilee artists in an interesting, versatile and attractive program of old time jubilee songs. negro melodies, etc. They faithfully portray the old time negro in his native element. At Opera House Wednesday evening Feb. 24th.

SOLDIER BALKS DEATH PLOT.

It soems to J A Stone a civil war veteran of Kemp, Texas that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. I contracted a stubborn cold he writes that developed a cough that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 povnds. Then I began to use Dr. King's new discovery which restored my health completely. I now whigh 178 pounds. For severe colds, obstinate coughs, hemorrhages, asthma and to prevent pneumonia it's unrivaled. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G A Pabst & Co.

Save your money—ad State Saving Bank.

Nice line of Valentines at G. W. Kluckhohn's.

Wm. Brandt moved onto the Louis Sampson farm which he will farm the coming season.

C. L. Yahnke and Louis Katterheury who have been on a business trip to Fairfax, Iowa returned Wednesday.

AGENT WANTED—Man with team to canvass Hancock county for the best selling article on the market. Liberal commissions. Address H. E. Smith. Iowa Falls, Iowa. 28-3

The long winter months—heavy foods—lack of exercise decrease your vitality, make you feel mean. Hollister's rocky mountain tea gives you vitality—clears the blood—builds up flesh. Makes you strong and robust. Great spring medicine. Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co.

E. H. Lenz and family moved Saturday from their farm into their new residence in Klemme and will now be numbered with us. H. Griffen and family who have rented their farm the coming season also moved onto his farm the same day.

A programme and basket social will be held on Friday evening Feb. 19th. at the school house in district No. 9. The proceeds to go for an organ. All are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Ethyle Whiting,
Teacher.

THE SECRET OF LONG LIFE

A French scientist has discovered one secret of long life. His method deals with the blood. But long ago millions of Americans had proved Electric Bitters prolongs life and makes it worth living. It purifies enriches and vitalizes the blood rebuilds wasted nervecells, imparts life and tone to the entire system. Its a godsend to weak sick and debilitatep people. Kidney trouble had blighted my life for months, writes W M Sherman of Cushing, Me. but Electric Bitters cured me entirely. Only 50c at G A Pabst & Co.

PUBLIC SALE.

The undersigned will sell at public sale on his farm 4½ miles northwest of Klemme, 7 miles southwest of Garner, ½ mile north of the German township M. E. church on Tuesday, Feb 16, 1909. Sale beging at 10 o'clock a. m. Free lunch at noon.

11 head of horses, 27 head of cattle, 14 Poland China hogs, 100 Plymouth Rock chickens, 15 tons of tame hay in barn, 11 hives of bees, 10 busheis of tested seed corn and farm machinery. Uusal terms.

Chas. Schroeder. Owner.
Col. J. A. Young, Auct.
F. A. Arnold, Clerk.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

Henry Griewe,	Klemme
H C. Beier,	Britt
Wm. Bredlow,	Garner
Fred Alberts,	Belmond
Wm. Nuehring,	Kanawha

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Most Popular Because it is the Best.

I have sold Chamberlain's cough remedy for the past eight years and find it to be one of the best selling medicinet on the market. For babies and young children there is nothing better in the line of cough soruo says Paul Allen, Plain Dealing, La. This remedy not only curesthe coughs, colds and croup so common among young children but is pleasant and safe for them to take. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a baby as confidently as to an adult. For sale by G A Pabst & Co

Snow Storm and Blizzard.

Again this vicinity was visited with a snow storm and blizzard. On Monday night a few inches of snow fell and on Tuesday and Wednesdsy we had our old-time blizzard. Everything was blockaded. Farmers were obliged to stay at home and our passenger was abandoned Tuesday but made its appearance on Wednesday. The storm was not as severe as the former storm, however it was bad enough.

WASHINGTON ONCE GAVE UP.

To three doctors, was kept in bed five weeks. Blood poison from a spidere's bite caused large deep sores to cover his leg. The doctors failed, then Bucklen's arnica salve completely cured me, writes John Washington of Bosqueville, Tex. For eczema, boils, burns and piles its supreme 25c at G A Pabst & Co.

THE ORIGINAL LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE HONEY AND TAR
Red Clover Blossom and Honey Fee on Every Bottle.

North Germantow.

(Too late for last week)

Mrs. G. Haes is visiting relatives at Clarion these days.

Ground hog seen his shadow and that means six weeks more winter.

J. T. Brown and wife left last week for California to spend the rest of the winter.

Thursday. Feb. 4th. occured the marriage of Miss Maggie Hammond to Mr. Albert Lang.

Anton Hejlik is moving on his farm which he purchased of J. T. Brown last spring near Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Manuel are rejoicing over the arrival of a little daughter last week Thursday, Jan. 28.

The storm took a number of wind mills last Friday among them were Henry Griewe's and Frank Rayhouns.

Found Present in Piano.

A couple who recently got married in Glasgow have among their goods an old-fashioned square piano bearing the date of 1789. It was purchased merely as a piece of furniture. They called in a piano tuner to see if he could better the tone of the instrument. While handling it he came on a piece of paper, and, pulling it out, handed it to the owner, who on reading it found the faded handwriting to run thus: "Lucky one whoe'er you be, this little store is all for thee; If many mouths you've got to feed, 'twill help you in your time of need." On closer examination a small canvas bag with £15 in notes was found. The piano cost them 40 shillings, a bargain in itself—with this marriage present thrown in.

THE CHILDREN LIKE IT
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP

AT

THE KLEMME OPERA HOUSE

—ON—

FEBRUARY 24TH

Old Plantation Quartet

—AND—

Jubilee Singers.

Admission 50, 35, 25c

Let us be your Tailor
THE AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS Co., Chicago, Illinois.
Manufacturers of fine woolens and wholesale custom tailors.
Save while buying a suit of gents spring and summer made to order clothing of standard merit, seldom equaled, never excelled. I want to show you a beautiful line of samples. A fit, a beauty and a long wearing suit. Your profit, my pleasure.
ELMER LUDEKE
Klemme - - - Iowa

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician.
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

Land of flowers, fruit and sunshine. To make the journey worthy of its ending take the superb

Golden State Limited
VIA ROCK ISLAND LINES

Daily from Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City to Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and San Francisco.
Over the lowest-altitude and most southerly route to the Coast.
Through tourist sleeping cars via Colorado and via El Paso.
The quickest tourist service of any line to Southern California.

Full particulars, with rates of fare and illustrated California book from

Rock Island

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

ONE KIDNEY GONE

But Cured After Doctors Said There Was No Hope.

Sylvanus O. Verrill, Milford, Me., says: "Five years ago a bad injury paralyzed me and affected my kidneys. My back hurt me terribly, and the urine was badly disordered. Doctors said my right kidney was practically dead. They said I could never walk again. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. One box made me stronger and freer from pain. I kept on using them and in three months was able to get out on crutches, and the kidneys were acting better. I improved rapidly, discarded the crutches and to the wonder of my friends was soon completely cured."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Boston Profanity.

Katy, aged five, and a resident of America's seat of culture, ran to her father one morning, exclaiming:

"Father, brother George swore."

"Swore, did he?" inquired the parent, grimly, reaching for the slipper. "What did he say?"

"He said 'ain't,'" responded Katy, solmenly.—Success Magazine.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Original Wedding Cake.

It is said to be a curious fact that the wedding cake, that elaborate, indigestible compound so indispensable at the modern marriage ceremony, is the direct descendant of a cake made of water, flour and salt, of which, at the Roman high-class weddings, the married couple and the witnesses partook at the time of the signing of the contract.—Housekeeping.

Enforced Economy.

A friend of Pat's was caught in a shower near his cottage and asked shelter from the elements. Pat opened the door. One of the first things the friend saw was rain coming steadily through a hole in the roof.

"Pat, boy," said he, "for why don't ye fix th' hole in th' roof?"

"The hole in the roof, is it?" asked Pat, spearing for an excuse. "Oh, yis. I would, ye know, but whin th' rain is comin' in I can't fix it, an' whin it don't rain it don't need fixin'."

Criminality of Waste.

If I wanted to train a child to be thrifty I should teach him to abhor waste. I do not mean waste of money; that cures itself, because very soon there is no money to waste—but waste of material, waste of something that is useful but that you cannot represent in money value to the waster. There is waste of water, waste of gas and things of that kind. If you would wish your children to be thrifty I would beg to impress upon them the criminality of waste.—Lord Rosebery, in an Edinburgh Address.

NO MEDICINE

But a Change of Food Gave Relief.

Many persons are learning that drugs are not the thing to rebuild worn out nerves, but proper food is required.

There is a certain element in the cereals, wheat, barley, etc., which is grown there by nature for food to brain and nerve tissue. This is the phosphate of potash, of which Grape-Nuts food contains a large proportion.

In making this food all the food elements in the two cereals, wheat and barley, are retained. That is why so many heretofore nervous and run down people find in Grape-Nuts a true nerve and brain food.

"I can say that Grape-Nuts food has done much for me as a nerve renewer," writes a Wis. bride.

"A few years ago, before my marriage, I was a bookkeeper in a large firm. I became so nervous toward the end of each week that it seemed I must give up my position, which I could not afford to do.

"Mother purchased some Grape-Nuts and we found it not only delicious but I noticed from day to day that I was improving until I finally realized I was not nervous any more.

"I have recommended it to friends as a brain and nerve food, never having found its equal. I owe much to Grape-Nuts as it saved me from a nervous collapse, and enabled me to retain my position."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

State Capital Gossip

Many Items of Interest from Our Correspondent at Des Moines.

R. R. Commission Misunderstood.

Des Moines, Ia.—"If there was ever a misunderstood public service corporation that faithfully served the people of a state, it is the present railroad commission of Iowa."

Goaded by a question from Representative Swift of Shelby county as to whether the commission did not invariably consult the railroads before making an order, James C. Davis, general counsel in Iowa for the Northwestern road, made this statement in an emphatic defense of the commission at a hearing before the railroad committee of the house.

"Isn't it a fact," inquired Mr. Swift after an argument against the bill fixing a penalty for failure to obey orders of the commission by Mr. Davis, "isn't it a fact that the commission always consults you gentlemen before making an order and that if you are opposed to the granting of a petition it is practically impossible to get action within the life time of any man here?"

Mr. Davis showed some heat in his reply. "The commission never consults us or refers to us," said he. "They never come to us and ask whether we want such an order made. The fact is that they have made some outrageous orders, and if you will look at the records you will find that their orders are all against us."

The Swift bill was recommended for passage by unanimous vote. It provides a penalty of $50 a day for failure by any road to comply with an order of the commission within a fixed number of days after its issue. In opposing the bill Mr. Davis read the present statute authorizing a penalty of $1,000 a day for failure to obey orders after action in court to compel obedience has been decided against the road.

Auto Tax Bill Goes In.

Representative Fred Hunter of Polk county has introduced the bill urged by the state highway commission providing that automobile owners be taxed for the purpose of providing funds for good roadmaking, in the house of representatives. The bill provides that commencing with the year 1910 every motor car owner whose machine is thirty horsepower or less shall pay a yearly tax of $5 to the secretary of state. If the motor car is greater than thirty horsepower the tax shall be $10 yearly. This amount goes into the county road fund, to be used under the direction of the state highway commission in building good roads and in offering rewards for good road making.

Hog Cholera Fight Planned.

An organized fight on hog cholera and tuberculosis in cattle is planned in a bill introduced in the house of representatives by Representative Wilson, son of "Tama Jim." Representative Wilson asks for $10,000 with which to establish at Ames a laboratory for the manufacture of hog cholera serum and cattle tuberculin. These are to be furnished free of charge to farmers or stock men who ask it.

More Salary for Members.

Members of the lower house are canvassing that body on the question of an increase in salaries of representatives from $550 to $1,000 and as a result a bill was presented to the committee on compensation of public officers. As yet no member has been found who is willing to attach his name to such a measure. That such a bill would pass without opposition is the prediction of those who are working for the increase.

Another Insurance Measure.

John Sullivan has put another insurance measure before the senate. It is a bill providing that suits on health or accident policies must be started before the year has elapsed.

The second bill of the session has passed the legislature. It is that exempting dentist from jury service. It has gone to the governor for his signature.

Will Re-Codify Laws.

To a subcommittee consisting of Senator Larrabee and Representative Moore of Linn has been assigned by the joint military committee of the house and senate the task of recodifying the laws of the state with regard to the Iowa national guard and making them conform to the laws under which the guard is conducted as a reserve for the United States army.

Ream Holds Seat.

Senator John F. Ream (democrat) of Mahaska county, which constitutes the Fourteenth senatorial district, will retain his seat in the senate. A report from the special committee recommending the dismissal of the proceedings brought by former Senator A. F. N. Hambleton to secure the seat has been adopted by the senate. The contestant asked for a recount on the ground that many ballots bearing marks opposite the names of the candidates for president had been thrown out, the contention being that these should have been counted. The committee's opinion was that it would be in line with the holdings of the supreme court to hold that these marks were deliberately made and therefore came under the rule of marks of identification. Upon this theory the recommendation was made, which results in a dismissal without a recount.

Park Lines Wiped Out.

Des Moines' park department will no longer be required to spend the money at its disposal on the parks of East and West Des Moines according to where the money was raised, if the house and senate concur in the action of the house committee on municipal corporations. The committee voted to recommend Representative Hunter's bill, which repeals an old statute limiting the expenditure of park money in cities with more than one park to the township in which the money was raised. The committee also recommended for passage a bill permitting the city of Emmetsburg to acquire jurisdiction over Medium lake, which it is proposed to convert into part of a public system.

Oppose Storms' Pardon.

Members of the legislature from Burlington are united in opposition to a pardon for Abe Storms, who was sent to Fort Madison to serve a life sentence for the murder of a woman and her daughter at Burlington. Storms' friends are preparing to go before the legislative committees on pardons in an effort to secure his freedom, following an action to the same and before the board of parole. Members of the Burlington degelation said that all three representatives from Burlington are opposed to a pardon and that Des Moines county wants to see Storms remain in prison.

Vacation on Full Pay.

Two weeks' vacation on full pay for each of the 1,000 and more employes of the state institutions who have served two years or more is provided in a bill recommended for passage by the house committee on the compensation of public officers. The bill gives one week's vacation on pay to employes of a year's standing and will affect a large majority of the 1,333 employes on the pay roll of institutions under the board of control. It was introduced by Representative W. P. Dawson and was indorsed by the committee with only two dissenting votes.

Bear Poison Label.

Inebriates who have a fondness for alcohol in its undiluted form will be saved from drinking the denatured product by mistake if the legislature passes a bill introduced by Representative Tilton. It requires that every bottle of denatured alcohol shall bear a poison label.

Compulsory Education.

The senate committee on schools will probably recommend the Whipple compulsory education bill for passage within a few days. This measure provides that blind or deaf children shall be educated in the state schools for the blind and deaf, or in private institutions.

Baseball Bill Favored.

May 30 will not longer be a red letter day in the baseball calendar if the legislature stands by the house committee on military, which will recommend for passage a bill prohibiting ball games, horse racing and sports at any and all hours on Memorial day.

Committee Appointed.

The house committee on military will report a resolution which undoubtedly will be adopted, appointing Representative Arney, Alfred and Blackmore to wait upon Admiral Evans and invite him to speak in the house chamber on the afternoon of his visit.

MIX FOR RHEUMATISM

The following is a never failing recipe for rheumatism. To one-half pint of good whiskey add one ounce syrup sarsaparilla and one ounce Toris compound, which can be procured of any druggist. Take in teaspoonful doses before each meal and before retiring.

Been There Before.

A new constable was on duty at one of the London police courts, and was conducting a prisoner to the cells.

"Mind the step," he said, as they came to a dark corner.

"All right," muttered the prisoner; "I knew that step before you were born."

Pardonable Crime.

"If I were to kiss you now, would you have me arrested?"

"What would be the use? Any jury would acquit you."

Try Murine Eye Remedy

For Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes. Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law. Murine Doesn't Smart. Soothes Eye Pain. Try Murine for Your Eyes.

The first time a girl is engaged she imagines that she is as important as the heroine in a novel.

A good honest remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Sore Throat is Hamlins Wizard Oil. Nothing will so quickly drive out all pain and inflammation.

Even a wise man occasionally has time for the silly chatter of a pretty girl.

The Herb laxative, Garfield Tea, aids Nature in maintaining the general well-being of the body; it corrects constipation, purifies the blood, brings health.

One poor turn deserves another—from the organ grinder's viewpoint.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

"Easy money" is the kind that always comes to the other fellow.

For Coughs, Asthma and Lung Troubles, use "Brown's Bronchial Troches." 25 cents a box. Samples sent free by John I. Brown & Son, Boston, Mass.

The finger of fate is one that is in almost every pie.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE"

That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

Even a girl has no use for the other side of a mirror.

Use Allen's Foot-Ease

Cures tired, aching, sweating feet. 25c. Trial package free. A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

The highwayman has a low way of doing things.

You Are In Danger

if you let that cold run on. Neglected colds cause incurable diseases. Don't risk your health. Keep a bottle of

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

in your home. It's the safest, surest and quickest remedy for colds ever compounded. For Coughs, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Inflammation of the Lungs, in fact, all diseases caused by neglected colds. It has no equal.

Recommended and sold by druggists everywhere.

Three size bottles, $1.00, 50c, 25c

Headache, Backache, Sideache, A Worn-out Feeling.

These are especially women's afflictions.

They are caused by irregular working of some of the functions of the body.

It is of the utmost importance to every woman to know that there is no medicine so valuable for her, so helpful, so strengthening, as

Lane's Family Medicine

(called also Lane's Tea)

This tonic-laxative is a great blood medicine and is the favorite regulating medicine of old and young.

All druggists sell it in 50c. and 25c. packages.

Advice and Information Furnished

INVENTORS

as to the best method of protecting and perfecting incomplete inventions or disposing of completed inventions whether patented or not. My services are strictly professional and I will write you fully regarding my methods of assisting inventors if you will enclose a stamp for reply.

F. W. WEEKS, Counsellor to Inventors
130 West 57th St., New York City

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compound

Louisville, Ky.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a world of good. I cannot praise it enough. I suffered from irregularities, dizziness, nervousness, and a severe female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored me to perfect health and kept me from the operating table. I will never be without it in the house."—Mrs. SALLIE LEE, 3523 Fourth St., Louisville, Ky.

Another Operation Avoided.

Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from female troubles, and the doctor said an operation was my only chance, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me without an operation."—LENA HENRY, R. F. D. 3.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for the distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTE

COLDS

CURED IN ONE DAY

Munyon's Cold Remedy Relieves head, throat and lungs almost immediately. Checks Fevers, stops Discharge from the nose, takes away all aches and pains caused by colds. It cures Grip and obstinate Coughs and prevents Pneumonia. Price 25c.

Have you stiff or swollen joints, no matter how chronic? Ask your druggist for Munyon's Rheumatism Remedy and see how quickly you will be cured.

If you have any kidney or bladder trouble get Munyon's Kidney Remedy.

Munyon's Vitalizer makes weak men strong and restores lost powers.

Prof. Munyon has just issued a Magazine Almanac, which will be sent free to any person who addresses

The Munyon Company, Philadelphia

Murder

One gets it by highway men—hundreds of thousands by Bad Bowels—No difference. Constipation and dead bowels make the whole system sick—Everybody knows it—CASCARETS regulate and cure Bowel and Liver troubles by simply doing nature's work until you get well. Millions use CASCARETS, Life Savers.

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment, all druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month.

CLOVER SEED

Absolutely Pure, No Weeds

Ex. Gov. Hoard of Wisconsin, from 30 acres sown to Salzer's 20th Century Alfalfa, harvested within 24 weeks after seeding $250 worth of magnificent hay, or at the rate of over $80.00 per acre. Big seed catalog free; or send 10c in stamps for sample of this Alfalfa also Billion Dollar Grass, Oats, Wheat, Barley, etc., easily worth $10 00 of any man's money to get a start with. Or, send 14c and we add a sample farm seed novelty never seen before by you.

SALZER SEED CO., Box W, La Crosse, Wis.

DEFIANCE STARCH—16 ounces for the price of other starches only 12 ounces—same price.

"DEFIANCE" IS SUPERIOR QUALITY

...TH IN TORNADO

...ES IN DIXIE LAND SWEPT BY FIERCE WINDS.

... REACHES MILLIONS

...sas, Tennessee, Texas and Alabama in Path of Cyclone—Telegraph Communication Is Cut Off.

...isville, Ky.—Death for nearly ...re of people, losses of hun... of thousands of dollars in prop... and the crippling of many tele... wires resulted between noon ...usk Friday from a series of cyclones and tornadoes which ... Dixie from the Tennessee line ... Texas panhandle. The storms ... accompanied in most cases by ... darkness and terrific lightning ... and sheets of rain.

...t of the towns where the losses ... occurred are off the beaten ... so that news from them has ... coming in but slowly. Known ... thus far, however, are:

...ttgart, Ark.—Mrs. Garfield and a ... of Will Story, while Mrs. Story ... reported fatally injured.

...phur Springs, Tex.—Mrs. James ... and Mrs. C. Caldwell.

...th, Miss.—Six unidentified per...

...ing Fork, Miss.—Four unidenti... ...ersons.

...man, Ala.—Seven unidentified ...ons.

...vicinity of Montgomery, Ala.—Two ...ntified persons.

From other towns, such as Ennis and ...axahachie, Tex., and Boscoe, La., ...any dwellings were said to have ...een demolished by the force of the ...ind.

Rice Fields Destroyed.

...Arkansas and upper Louisiana rice ...elds were injured to the extent of ...any thousands of dollars, while the ...arger cities had rains and darkness ...luminated by lightning bolts that ...ade the atmosphere quiver.

About dusk Chattanooga was lost on ...e wire running south from Louisville ...d Nashville and has to be picked up ...om Memphis. The local operators ...eard the faint words: "Terrific storm ...ere—black as night—hail falling," ...nd then the sounders ceased to ...ecord. Knoxville was lost similarly ...ortly after that, but later both ...ires were looped in when conditions ...ere ceased in violence.

In Louisville the entire day was ...ark and rainy, but there was no inti...ation of cyclone or of heavy wind.

More Deaths Reported.

Birmingham, Ala.—Reports received ...riday night state that several persons ...ere killed by a cyclone at Cullman, ...la., in the afternoon.

Texas Feels Storm.

Fort Worth, Tex.—A heavy rain ...d wind storm of tornado pro...portions, which swept over north ...exas and southern Oklahoma Fri...y, resulted in considerable damage ... several localities. At Ennis, Tex., ... dozen residences were blown down ...o loss of life has been reported. Wax...achie was also damaged by the tor...ado.

At Sulphur Springs the storm ...recked eight dwellings, and Mrs ...mes Ardis was seriously injured by ...ing glass. The total damage from ...e storm in northern Texas will bt ...out $100,000.

Wrecks Many Buildings.

Monroe, La.—A small cyclone at ...oscoe, 16 miles south of Monroe, ...recked the public school building ...ew down a house and wrecked heavy ...mage in other ways. At Monroe the ...in was torrential and the wind vio...nt.

DRAWN TO SCENE OF CRIME.

...orgian Who Killed Man in 1899 Surrenders to Sheriff.

Dublin, Ga.—Drawn by some irresis...ble impulse to return to the scene ...ere he killed a man when he was ... years of age, Manly B. Tripp, after ...aming a good portion of the world ... ten years, Thursday surrendered ... the sheriff of Laurens county. ...r some days he has been here and ...s an interested spectator in the ...urthouse during a trial. He was ...t recognized until he voluntarily ...rendered. He shot James Hood ...n on the street in 1899. He es... and efforts to capture him ...

...ccuse Discharged Official.

...Louis.—Clarence N. Jones, presi...t of the Commonwealth Feed Com...y and a brother of Police Commis...r George P. Jones, was shot and ... in a quarrel in his mill at Sec...d and De Soto streets here Wednes...y. Herman A. Kretschmar, a dis...rged official of the company, was ...rested and charged with the shoot...g. He asserts that he shot in self-...fense. Jones died in the city hos...al a few minutes after the shooting.

LAUDS GOVERNOR

SCORES PERKINS WHO ADVISES POLIOY OF INSULT.

WIRES SPEAKER OF HOUSE

Senator Newlands Says "Let Our Courtry Be Open Only to White People."

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 8.—Anti-Japanese legislation will be to the fore this week in both branches of the legislature. Two resolutions, drawn by Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento, and aimed at the island emperor's subjects, will be the subject of discussion in the senate tomorrow—one already passed in the assembly, segregating the Japanese in the public schools of the state, and the other, which was refused passage, empowering municipalities to segregate in residential districts all undesirable aliens.

It is the school bill that most deeply concerns President Roosevelt, and between this time and Wednesday, for which day it has been made a special order of business, to determine whether or not the vote by which it passed shall be reconsidered, it is expected that the national authorities will throw additional light upon the subject. This is supposed to be of an extremely important nature, showing the true state of diplomatic negotiations now pending between Japan and the United States, and revealing to the legislature the reason for Mr. Roosevelt's numerous telegrams to the governor, urging postponement of further action on anti-Japanese legislation. The situation is considered grave by the administration supporters.

Wires Speaker.

Governor Gillett said yesterday in San Francisco that he understood Speaker Stanton had received a message from President Roosevelt that he was at liberty to make public if he so desired. A telegram was received today at the governor's office from Washington stating that the Roosevelt message might be given out, and Assemblyman J. P. Transue, one of Stanton's lieutenants from Los Angeles, issued the following copy:

"Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Hon. Philip A. Stanton, Speaker of the Assembly, Sacramento, Cal:

"Please accept the expression of profound obligation on behalf of the American people as a whole for the high and patriotic services you are rendering. I have unlimited confidence in the sane good sense and right mindedness of the people of the state of California.

"I know they appreciate that the national government is at this moment engaged in doing everything it can to achieve the ends that California has in view while at the same time preserving unbroken the terms of respect and good will with a great and friendly nation, and therefore I am sure the people of California will support you in taking the position you have taken, which is so eminently in the interests not only of the American people as a whole, but especially of the state of California.

"Theodore Roosevelt."

MINE WORKERS ADJOURN.

They Again Select Indianapolis as Meeting Place.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 8.—After selecting Indianapolis as the place of holding the convention next year, the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, which has been in session in this city for the past three weeks, adjourned Saturday evening.

The scale committee, which had under consideration the situation in the anthracite district of Pennsylvania, made its report at the evening's session. Various demands are made in the report, among them being an eight-hour day with no reduction in pay and the complete recognition of the miner's union. A 5 and 10 per cent increase in wages is also asked for.

Hawley Rumors Again.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 8.—It is rumored in railroad circles that a consolidation had been effected between the Chicago & Alton, the Chicago Great Western, Iowa Central, Minneapolis & St. Louis, Chesapeake & Ohio, and possibly the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroads. Edwin Hawley who, with his associates' disposed of the Colorado Southern property to the Burlington a short time ago, is said to be slated for the presidency of the new combination.

Germans Are Delighted.

Berlin, Feb. 8.—Discussing the speech recently made in New York by Count Johann Heinrich von Berstorff, the German ambassador, the semi-official Nord Deutsche Allegmeine Zeitung, sees with the greatest satisfaction the development and strengthening of the ties between Germany and the United States.

NOT AFFECTED BY DEPRESSION

One Big Industry That Makes Its Business Grow and Expand During Year of Business Depression.

When a manufacturing establishment reaches out in a year of depression and increases and expands its business, while others in the same line diminish their outputs or stand still, it is because there must be some unusually good reason for it. In this instance a splendid reputation and a more-than-ordinary meritorious product were responsible for the showing made.

The Mayer Boot & Shoe Company, Milwaukee, the largest shoe establishment in the Northwest, has just closed its fiscal year, and reports an increase in sales over the corresponding period of last year. This exceptional showing speaks volumes for the genuine merit of Mayer shoes, and is directly attributed to their high standard, and because of the fact that Mayer shoes have become universally and popularly known as "shoes of quality."

The leading brands are "Honorbilt" fine shoes for men. "Leading Lady" fine shoes for women. "Yerma" Cushion shoes for both men and women (these are exceptionally fine shoes for people troubled with tender feet); the popular "Martha Washington" Comfort shoes, which have the largest sale of any shoes of this kind in the world, and the "Special Merit" School shoes (a strong and sturdy line of seamless school shoes that wear like iron).

A Black Eye for Home.

It is a coming fashion to hire a hall to entertain your friends, to give dinner parties in a hotel, to be married in a church, to be taken to a hospital when you are sick and to an undertaker's as soon as you die, and left there until the funeral. The tendency is to conduct all public occasions away from home. The home is getting a black eye.—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

Prof. Munyon has generously placed his Cold Cure with druggists throughout the United States and has authorized them to sell it for the small sum of 25 cts. a bottle. He says these pellets contain no opium, morphine, cocaine or other harmful drugs, and he guarantees that they will relieve the head, throat and lungs almost immediately. He gives this guarantee with each bottle of his medicine: "If you buy my Cold Cure and it does not give perfect satisfaction, I will refund your money." Prof. Munyon has just issued a Magazine-Almanac, which will be sent free to any person who addresses The Munyon Company, Philadelphia.

In Book Form.

"He is going to put his play into book form."

"What does that mean?"

"Means he'll write 100,000 words, divide 'em into chapters and print 'em between covers."

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

The recording angel probably doesn't pay any attention to the lies a man tells when he is in love.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

You can not learn to be a dramatic critic by reading the Acts.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
FOR RHEUMATISM
FOR BRIGHT'S DISEASE
FOR BACKACHE
FOR DIABETES.
NUMBER 375 "Guaranteed"

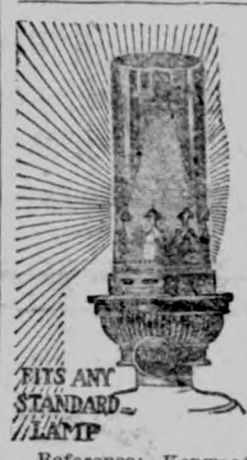
PISO'S
Coughing Spells
are promptly relieved by a single dose of Piso's Cure. The regular use of this famous remedy will relieve the worst form of coughs, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, asthma and diseases of the throat and lungs. Absolutely free from harmful drugs and opiates. For half a century the household remedy in millions of homes.
At all druggists', 25 cts.
25 cts. 25 cts.
CURE

To Enjoy

the full confidence of the Well-Informed of the World and the Commendation of the most eminent physicians it was essential that the component parts of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna should be known to and approved by them; therefore, the California Fig Syrup Co. publishes a full statement with every package. The perfect purity and uniformity of product, which they demand in a laxative remedy of an ethical character, are assured by the Company's original method of manufacture known to the Company only.

The figs of California are used in the production of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna to promote the pleasant taste, but the medicinal principles are obtained from plants known to act most beneficially.

To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists.



INCANDESCENT KEROSENE OIL LAMP BURNER
The Wonderful Saxonia
Produces a beautiful 80 candle white light. Burns 1-3 oil of ordinary lamp. Gives three times the light. Produces gas off top of wick. Costs 1-5 of gas, 1-10 of electricity. Price for burner, imported marble and chimney, $3.00. Price for polished brass lamp with burner, marble and chimney complete, $4.50, express prepaid. Write for booklet. Agents wanted in every Iowa town.
U. S. Lighting Co.
262 Madison St., Chicago.
Reference: Kenwood Trust & Savings Bank.

5%
MONTHLY INCOME
We pay you 5% per annum on any amount of money placed with us. Your money is secured by mortgages on New York City real estate. No speculation; our methods are old fashioned, sound and conservative. Twenty years' successful experience in handling real estate. Interest checks are mailed you on the first day of each month. This is the best and safest investment on the market. Communications strictly private.
A SURE MONTHLY INCOME IS ONE OF THE BEST THINGS IN THE WORLD. Write
Liberty Financial & Security Co.,
CITY INVESTING BUILDING, NEW YORK CITY

Virginia Farms and Homes
FREE CATALOGUE OF SPLENDID BARGAINS.
R. B. CHAFFIN & CO., Inc., Richmond, Va.

DEFIANCE Cold Water Starch
makes laundry work a pleasure. 16 oz. pkg. 10c.

JUST DOUBLE
320 ACRES INSTEAD OF 160 ACRES

As further inducement to settlement of the wheat-raising lands of Western Canada, the Canadian Government has increased the area that may be taken by a homesteader to 320 acres—160 free and 160 to be purchased at $3.00 per acre. These lands are in the grain-raising area, where mixed farming is also carried on with unqualified success. A railway will shortly be built to Hudson Bay, bringing the world's markets a thousand miles nearer these wheat-fields, where schools and churches are convenient, climate excellent, railways close to all settlements, and local markets good.

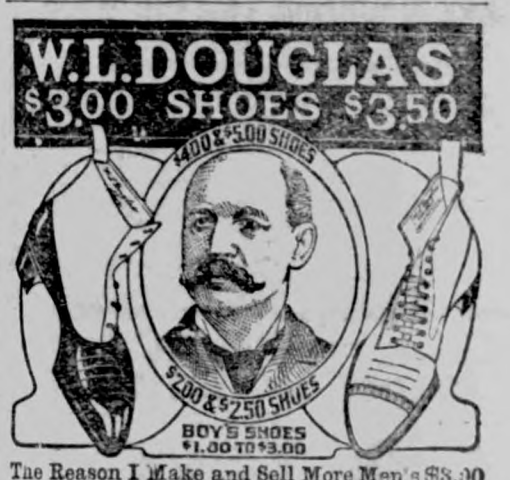
"It would take time to assimilate the revelations that a visit to the great empire lying to the North of us unfolded at every turn."—Correspondence of a National Editor, who visited Western Canada in August, 1908.

Lands may also be purchased from railway and land companies at low prices and on easy terms.

For pamphlets, maps and information as to low railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

W. L. DOUGLAS
$3.00 SHOES $3.50



The Reason I Make and Sell More Men's $3.00 & $3.50 Shoes Than Any Other Manufacturer is because I give the wearer the benefit of the most complete organization of trained experts and skilled shoemakers in the country.
The selection of the leathers for each part of the shoe, and every detail of the making in every department, is looked after by the best shoemakers in the shoe industry.
If I could show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make.
My Method of Tanning the Soles makes them More Flexible and Longer Wearing than any others.
Shoes for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses and Children.
For sale by shoe dealers everywhere.
CAUTION! None genuine without W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom.
Fast Color Eyelets Used Exclusively. Catalog mailed free.
W. L. DOUGLAS, 167 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

For Nursing Mothers and the Baby A-B-C TEA
25cts. All dealers. 25cts.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

GREAT IS PUGET SOUND—And Seattle

Seattle simply cannot help being a great city. One—of a thousand—reasons lies in the immense possibilities of agriculture on Puget Sound.

Take one section—Skagit County—as an illustration. That district's production of Cabbage Seed aggregates about 100,000 pounds a year, a good sized fortune in itself. The Oat Crop ranges from 100 to 176 bushels per acre. Hay returns from 4 to 6 tons to the acre. There are no crop failures, and fertilizers are never used. The farmers own the best stock and ride in automobiles. The climate is ideal.

Every resource, every development within this Empire of the Pacific Northwest, unavoidably increases the forces of the greatest fortune-maker of all—Seattle Central Business Property. Let me send you some astonishing facts which you can readily verify when you come to our A.-Y.-P. Fair. Please write to me now.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
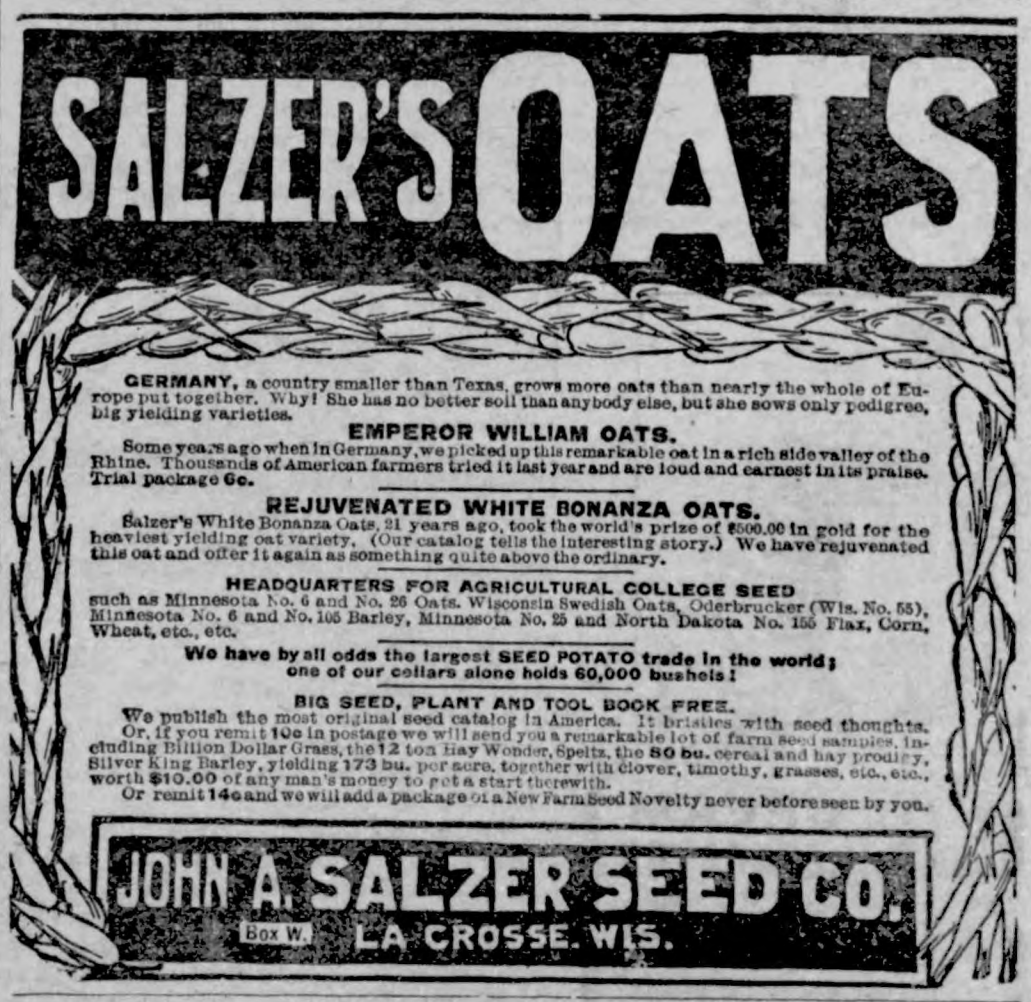
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

MAPLEINE
A flavoring that is used the same as lemon or vanilla. By dissolving granulated sugar in water and adding Mapleine, a delicious syrup is made and a syrup better than maple. Mapleine is sold by grocers. If not send 35c for 2 oz. bot. and recipe book. Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle.

SALZER'S OATS



GERMANY, a country smaller than Texas, grows more oats than nearly the whole of Europe put together. Why? She has no better soil than anybody else, but she sows only pedigree, big yielding varieties.

EMPEROR WILLIAM OATS.
Some years ago when in Germany, we picked up this remarkable oat in a rich side valley of the Rhine. Thousands of American farmers tried it last year and are loud and earnest in its praise. Trial package 6c.

REJUVENATED WHITE BONANZA OATS.
Salzer's White Bonanza Oats, 21 years ago, took the world's prize of $500.00 in gold for the heaviest yielding oat variety. (Our catalog tells the interesting story.) We have rejuvenated this oat and offer it again as something quite above the ordinary.

HEADQUARTERS FOR AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE SEED
such as Minnesota No. 6 and No. 26 Oats, Wisconsin Swedish Oats, Oderbrucker (Wis. No. 55), Minnesota No. 6 and No. 105 Barley, Minnesota No. 25 and North Dakota No. 155 Flax, Corn, Wheat, etc., etc.

We have by all odds the largest SEED POTATO trade in the world; one of our cellars alone holds 60,000 bushels!

BIG SEED, PLANT AND TOOL BOOK FREE.
We publish the most original seed catalog in America. It bristles with seed thoughts. Or, if you remit 10c in postage we will send you a remarkable lot of farm seed samples, including Billion Dollar Grass, the 12 ton Hay Wonder, Spelts, the 80 bu. cereal and hay prodigy, Silver King Barley, yielding 173 bu. per acre, together with clover, timothy, grasses, etc., etc., worth $10.00 of any man's money to get a start therewith.
Or remit 14c and we will add a package of a New Farm Seed Novelty never before seen by you.

JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO.
Box W. LA CROSSE, WIS.

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fever
Sure cure and positive preventive, no matter how horses at any age are infected or "exposed." Liquid, given on the tongue; acts on the Blood and Glands; expels the poisonous germs from the body. Cures Distemper in Dogs and Sheep and Cholera in Poultry. Largest selling live stock remedy. Cures La Grippe among human beings and is a fine Kidney remedy. 50c and $1 a bottle, $5 and $10 a dozen. Cut this out. Keep it. Show to your druggists, who will get it for you. Free Booklet, "Distemper, Causes and Cures." Special agents wanted.
SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES
Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery

FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
433 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York

U.S. CREAM SEPARATOR

If you keep cows you need a U. S. Separator to make them yield the biggest profit. It will make the most money for you because it skims cleaner than any other separator. It will save you more than any other because it needs less time, labor and repairs to run it. Look a U. S. over for yourself. For sale by

ELL BROS.

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED, My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

IDEAS FOR THE HOSTESS.

Some Novel and Simple Ways to Entertain Guests.

A Handkerchief Shower.

This affair for a prospective bride was arranged in a very clever manner. Twelve intimate friends were invited to luncheon with the request to bring the gift "mouchoir" rolled up into the smallest package possible. Before going to the dining-room the hostess took all the packages and disapepared. When luncheon was announced, with one voice the guests exclaimed "how pretty." Suspended from the chandalier there was an inverted Japanese umbrella, from each rib there was a smaller umbrella and from this hung by ribbons there was a gilded watering can the sprinkler of which had 12 holes with baby ribbons of different colors coming out. At the end of each ribbon there was a tightly rolled package. The effect was lovely. The place cards were miniature "Jap" parasols with the cards tied to the handles. The candle shades were ornamented with these same tiny parasols and small lanetrns filled with candied puffed rice were at each place. The mint sherbert, which was the dessert, had smilax twined around the tall glass with another little umbrella in the top of the glass.

Honors Easy.

People who were present smiled at the little passage of arms which took place between two young ladies at a luncheon recently. One of them, a bride, shaking hands in her characteristically cordial way, said to the other:

"I'm so glad to meet you! You have afforded me so very much amusement just lately."

"Amusement?" said the other.

"Oh, yes," went on the bride. "I've been through my husband's desk, and I've read all his old love letters. I found several very affectionate letters from you, and I enjoyed reading them, really, ever so much."

"I'm so glad you enjoyed them," purred the other. "But do come and see me very soon. Here is my card. I have the answers to all those letters and you might like to read them as well. Mr. X——'s letters are so much more affectionate than those I wrote to him. I know you'll enjoy reading them ever so much more than you did mine."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

MOST LIKELY.

"Who was the fellow who went around with a lantern looking for an honest man?"

"I don't know; but if he were to try it to-day somebody would steal his lantern!"

True Genius.

"Your daughter has genius, Mr Straighout."

"Nonsense! She can't sing, nor she can't play!"

"No. But she knows it."

The Worst.

Young Wife (whose elderly husband is desperately ill)—Doctor, do not keep me in suspense! Tell me the worst!

Doctor—Then, madam, listen! He will get well!

DeWITT'S CARBOLIZED WITCH HAZEL SALVE For Piles, Burns, Sores.

How He Hunted Bear.

A New York Irishman was visiting a friend in the Adirondacks and was taken with a desire to go hunting. Borrowing a gun from his friend he set off alone in search of game. Some time after his host heard a distant report of a gun. A few minutes later he heard some one shouting. From a window he spied, in the distance, his friend, hot-footing it for home, and behind him a bear, gaining at every step. Nearly spent, the pursued reached the door just in time to cry out:

"Quick, Mike! Quick! Open the door! I'm bringing him home alive!"

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.
Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from case or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

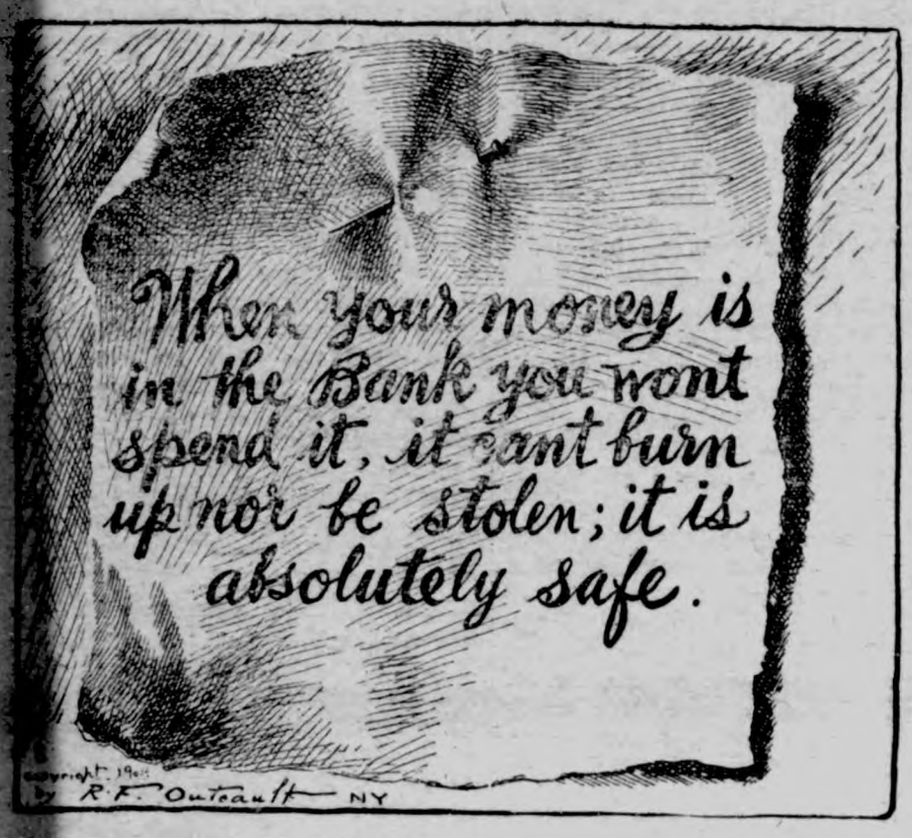
BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, their effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR
THE TIMES
$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 29 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, FEB. 18, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE



REGRETS don't bring money back to you when it has burned up or when you have folled it away. It takes WORK to do this. Put your money in our bank and it can't burn up and you won't fool it away.

We will pay you a liberal rate of interest for your money. Deposit today.

Capital and Surplus $25,500.00

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

North Elevator

—FOR—

Pocahontas Smokeless
Wonderland White Ash Splint
Genuine Sunday Creek Hocking
Brazil block
Sutless Washed Egg Wilmington
Scranton hard coal

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

DESPISE CUCKOO AS MARAUDER.

Birds Drive Australian Glutton from the Bush.

Prof. Drummond, the well known New Zealand naturalist, has been compiling some further notes with regard to the voracious habits of the long-talked cuckoo of Maoriland. He has recently received a photograph, taken by G. Buddle of Auckland, of a long-tailed cuckoo that had half swallowed a fairly large lizard, and had been nearly choked by its effort. The lizard went down head first, but its fore limbs prevented the bird from taking in the whole body, and the reptile stuck in the cuckoo's bill until it was rescued. Mr. Buddle took a photograph of the bird with the lizard in its bill, and another one after the lizard had been removed, and in the latter picture the look of rage and disappointment is very strongly marked. A. Burrows of West Oxford, North Canterbury, tells the professor that in the crop of a long-tailed cuckoo he found two young goldfinches, two large lizards and several beetles. The goldfinches were fledged and had been swallowed whole. These bad habits of the cuckoo, says Mr. Drummond, are strongly reprobated by more decent birds, the tuis and others chasing the marauder out of the bush whenever they get a chance.

LIKE THE LION AND THE LAMB.

Fierce Animal Fraternized with Man Who Fed Cubs.

A man living in Morocco went out one day to shoot lions. He went deep into the forest looking for wild beasts, when he saw two lion cubs that came right up to him to be caressed. The hunter, who knew no fear, sat down to fondle the cubs, and while waiting for the big lion to come along he opened his lunch box and shared its contents with the animals. Quite unperceived, the "king of the forest" came upon the scene, and watched the trio lunching. He silently crept away, and after awhile returned with a sheep, which he laid at the huntsman's feet. The Moor skinned the sheep, gave the entrails to the cubs, and, lighting some wood, roasted the sheep for his lunch. All the while the lion showed no signs of ferocity, for he respected the man who fed his young. The four seemed a happy family there in the heart of the forest, and when the man came to take his leave he stroked the cubs an affectionate good-by, while the big lion accompanied him until he was safely out of the woods.—Exchange.

He Liked Chicken, But—

It was in a crowded subway train, says the New York Press. The Saturday afternoon matinee-goers filled the cars, and as a small tidal wave of femininity swept along, one was borne on its crest who was attired as Solomon never was. If her costume was striking, however, her headgear was appalling with its burden of plumes and ribbon. A meek, mouse-like man read a paper beside her, and as she turned her head from side to side her long plumes tickled his ear and brushed his mouth. He stood it as long as he could, but when a sudden toss of her head drew an exasperating feathery fringe sharply across his lips he folded up his paper in disgust.

"Madam," he said, witheringly, "I like chicken, but not the feathers!"

Poor Man!

The captain had been tortured with a million questions about everything between heaven and earth. He bore it all heroically and patiently. The names of towns they passed, the number of passengers on board; the size of his family; how much his salary; dangers, storms, etc.

One of the Ladies—How long have you been in charge here, captain?

Captain—Not so very long, madam; only two years.

Lady—Indeed? And why did the former captain leave?

Captain—He died, madam.

Lady—How sad; and what did he die of?

Captain—He was talked to death by the ladies.—Judge.

THE ORIGINAL LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE HONEY AND TAR
Red Clover Blossom and Honey Bee on Every Bottle.

HOW long have they been in business? An answer to this question is necessary to fix the standing of any business house. Before any concern can claim rank in the business world, its stability must be proven by the test of time. And the longer it has been in business with an honorable record, the higher it is rated by public opinion.

It takes time to show whether a bank is conducted on a policy of sefety and conservatism.

This bank has a history of over fifteen years of successful business and satisfactory service to Klemme people.

The First National Bank
CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.
of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

A. F. HUBBARD
AUCTIONEER.

I would be pleased to cry your sales this season at reasonable terms. Livestock a specialty. Make dates with either banks at Klemme. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Address—Ventura, Iowa,
R. F. D. No. 2.

Toilet and Fancy Goods.

Toilet soaps, bath soaps, infent powders, sachet powders face powders, tooth powders, dressing and fine combs.

PAINTS and OILS

Strictly pure white lead. Colors dry and in oil. Turpentine and varnishes. Window shades and trimmings.

Customers will fiud our stock complete in every respec.. We are constantly adding every new novel and meritorious article that comes within our line of business. If you see a medicine advertised and want it, we will gladly get it for you if we do not have it.

Call and see us—your patronage is always appreciated, no matter how small your purchase, and you may rest assured it will be our constant aim to sell you the best that can be obtained and at reasonable prices.

G. A. PABST & CO.
DRUGGISTS

KLEMME IOWA

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

OVER A VALENTINE

GIRL MARRIED HUSBAND OF HER MOTHER.

LIVED TOGETHER FOR YEARS

St. Joseph Entanglement Is the Strangest That Has Come to Light in Years.

St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 15.—In the shooting which is expected to result fatally, of William Smith, a carpenter here there came to light one ff the strangest entanglements three persons ever lived under.

A girl 22 years old, who shot Smith, avers to the police that she married him knowing that her mother was already his legal wife. The three have lived for years together, the man as the husband of both.

The shooting occurred over the sending of a comic valentine. The girl, who styles herself Mrs. Cora Smith, while her mother is known by the name of Mrs. William Smith, sent the carpenter a comic valentine. Smith grew angry when he received it and after packing up his clothes started to leave the house. Thinking he was going to desert her, the girl shot him. The girl's mother says she married Smith in 1902. Her daughter was by a former husband. She says she found that her husband had improper relations with her daughter. She made him marry the girl, she says, without first securing a divorce. The girl and husband bear out the story.

BLIZZARD HITS HARD.

Telegraph Lines and Bridge Towers Blown Down.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 15.—Delayed and interrupted telegraph dispatches received here tell of a heavy sleet storm north and west of St. Louis. The storm first started with a rain and was followed by sleet which carried many telegraph wires and poles to the ground. At Keokuk, Ia., a hurricane blew down the towers on the bridge across the Mississippi river and all wires east and west were broken . The same condition prevailed at Fort Madison. West of Sedalia, Mo., it is reported that fully 7,000 poles are down. Trees and telegraph and telephone wires were also broken in southern Illinois.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 15.—The worst blizzard of the winter raged in the mountains of Colorado and as a result railway lines that have been tied up nearly a week and which the officials believed were about to be opened, will be blocked for several days more.

Learned, Miss., Feb. 15.—A storm struck this place from the northwest with terrific force, blowing down a negro church, killing Mrs. Richard Harris and Mrs. Maggie Bennett's child and burying several. Seventy-five were in the building at the time.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 15.—Zero weather and the worst sleet and snow storm of the winter prevails in the southwest. All over Kansas the fall of sleet has been heavy, causing delayed traffic and bad wire communication. In Oklahoma, the storm began Saturday night with a rain followed by a sudden drop of 48 degrees in temperature.

Landslides Stall Trains.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Feb. 15.—The entire passenger equipment of the Southern Pacific coast line was stalled at Santa Barbara and more than 800 passengers were cared for at the hotels at the expense of the company. Early in the day, however, the tracks were cleared of landslides and all washouts were repaired.

Crazy Negro Runs Amuck.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 15.—Running amuck, attacking men, women and children, and throwing the neighborhood into a panic, a crazy negro was finally shot and killed by W. B. Clement, one of a hundred pursuers. The dead negro was Henry Tate, believed to have gone crazy on the subject of religion.

Million and A Quarter Failure.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 15.—Receiver Bushnell has stated that in his opinion the liabilities of Lamprech Bros. would reach approximately $1,250,000 The assets will fall far below this amount, and as a result the customers of the house will doubtless suffer heavy loss.

Warrant is Out for Gorky.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 15.—The police have issued a warrant for the arrest of Maxim Gorky, the well known Russian novelist. In the document Gorky is described as "A Nisbni-Novgorod house painter."

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth.

MANIAC COMMITS SUICIDE.

During the Absence of His Jailor Martin Oberman Kills Himself.

Des Moines.—Martin Oberman, the Russian miner, who went violently insane on a Great Western train near Bondurant and stabbed three fellow passengers, hanged himself in the county jail.

His body was found suspended from one of the bars of his cell by a piece of rope. The rope was a piece of the one with which he was tied after being overpowered on the train. He had broken off a piece about ten inches long and secreted it in the hospital ward where he was confined.

He asked that a priest be sent to him and Rev. F. O. Reilly was summoned. He talked to the man for some time and after he departed Oberman ceased his ravings for the first time. Thinking that he was improving, the jailor left the cell for about ten minutes.

While he was away Oberman secured the rope and unraveling it tied one end around his neck and the other around one of the upper bars of his cell and strangled himself to death. He was dead when the jailer returned to the cell.

Oberman was on his way to Kansas City when he became violent. He had just been released from an insane asylum in Chicago as cured.

$10,000 Chariton Bank Suit.

Chariton.—Many lawsuits here have come up owing to the failure of the First National bank. Recently the receiver, J. H. Jamison, began an action against S. L. Auxier for something over $10,000. Auxier sets up claim that he paid the amount in full, but did not receive notes, but offers several recipes in evidence. The plaintiff's attorneys hold that the receipts are bogus, and this promises to be a hard-fought legal battle.

Drug Habit Caused Insanity.

Des Moines.—Excessive use of powerful drugs may have caused the insanity of Martin Oberman, the Austrian, who, after stabbing two fellow passengers in maniacal frenzy on a Great Western train, committed suicide in the cell in which he had been confined. A bottle containing a liquid composed chiefly of a powerful drug was found among the effects of the man by the coroner.

Held Nails in Mouth—Dies.

Clarksville.—Death from poison, resulting from holding shingle nails in his mouth ensued to Pierce Wamsley of this place. He was on the way to the house at the noon hour when he was taken with severe pains in his stomach followed by vomiting. He died after a few hours of horrible agony.

Medal for Service in Army.

Dyersville.—Former City Marshal Frank Augustine of this city is in receipt of a bronze medal from the quartermaster of the war department at Washington. Corporal Augustine was a member of the First South Dakota regiment and rendered signal services in the supression of the Filipino insurrection.

Ice Harvest Completed.

Clear Lake.—Ten thousand tons of ice have been stored here for use here and at Mason City the coming season. Cars are being loaded and the ice will be shipped to the store houses on the Northwestern lines throughout Iowa.

Mad Dog Bites Three.

Burlington.—Frothing at the mouth and snapping rght and left a mad dog ran through te business district and three men were bitten. The animal was killed in a livery stable by a policeman.

Tried to Kill Son-in-law.

Waterloo.—Louise Kelley is on trial here for attempting to kill her son-in-law. She said he abused his wife and fired four bullets at him. Her attorneys will attempt to prove her insane.

Measles In Milford School.

Milford.—On account of one of the pupils coming down in school with the measles, the pupils of the grammar room are enjoying a vacation, not shared by the other rooms.

Bangor Man Takes Own Life.

Marshalltown.—While despondent, owing to ill health, Alonzo MacDantel, aged 25, of Bangor, shot himself through the head, dying instantly.

To Marry Rich Girls.

Titonka.—According to reports the young men of this town have banded together for mutual protection. According to articles of agreement already drawn up they are to help each other in matrimonial adventures. The club has been formed with twenty charter members and the purpose is to see that each one of the members shall marry girls with wealthy parents. Those in the club who marry first are to use every effort to secure for the unmarried, girls with money behind them. It costs a $5 bill to become a "jiner" of this new club. They say nothing regarding their fitness to become husbands of such young ladies.

Chase Every Clue.

Ottumwa.—Although they admit that they have no clue that gives hope of leading them to the slayer, the Ottumwa police have not given up their search for the murderer of pretty Clara Rosen, the choir singer, whose dead and mutilated body was found last Saturday morning. Circulars have been sent broadcast, bearing the announcement of a reward of $900 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer and descriptions of the diamond ring, bracelet, and gold chain removed from the girl's body.

Kills Wife and Himself.

Waterloo.—Hidden behind a tree in the yard of H. K. Lambert's residence at Waverly, Frank Thompson of that place shot and killed his wife as she stepped from the house. Thompson fired twice, both bullets taking effect. He then committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. A year ago Thompson married his wife and took her to Colorado. There he endeavored to have her lead a life of shame. She rebelled, and, aided by her relatives, was taken away from Thompson.

Tabernacle Site Chosen.

Marshalltown.—The location of the "Billy" Sunday tabernacle has been definitely decided upon, the evangelistic committee having closed a lease for the new property acquired by the Central Church of Christ. The location is central with churches in easy access for overflow meetings. A residence on the lot will be wrecked in order to erect the tabernacle to seat 5,000 people.

Boy is Crushed by a Dray.

Council Bluffs.—Virgil Fulmer, 9 years old, the son of Mrs. C. J. Fulmer, was run over and almost instantly killed by a heavy dray. The boy, with others, was hanging on the wagon when his foot slipped from the brake and the rear wheel passed over his chest. The driver knew nothing of it until after the wagon passed over the boy. The boy died within a few minutes.

Coultier Wants a Charter.

Mason City.—The town of Coultier in Franklin county, just south of here, is taking the necessary steps to incorporate. The question is now up in the courts, and if the showing is sufficient an election will be called and the proposition will be voted upon.

Indictments Quashed.

Council Bluffs.—Six indictments have been quashed by Judge Thornell because the grand jury was improperly drawn. Judge Towner at Osceola has also dismissed the grand jury because it was not properly made up.

Called a Thief; Sues.

Iowa City.—Charles Bell, a colored pugilist, sued John Brant, a leading farmer, in the district court, alleging that Brant called him a "nigger" and a thief, and he demands $1,000 damages accordingly.

Arrested for Wife Desertion.

Waterloo.—George Ross was arrested at Waverly on a charge of wife desertion, filed by the authorities at Oskaloosa. It is alleged that a wife and six small children were left to shift for themselves.

Phone Lineman Fell 15 Feet.

Prairie City.—Charles Beck, a lineman of the Four Cities Telephone company, fell fifteen feet from a pole to the frozen ground and was injured internally. He is in a serious condition.

Diphtheria in Jail.

Cedar Falls.—Several prisoners in the county jail have diphtheria in a mild form and the institution is under quarantine.

State Capital Gossip

Many Items of Interest from Our Correspondent at Des Moines.

More Bank Examiners.

Des Moines—Rep. Fred Hunter of Polk county has prepared a bill for introduction in the house of representatives of the Iowa legislature increasing the number of state bank examiners from three to twelve. This is along the line recommended by Governor Carroll in his inaugural message. The bill also provides for a most exhaustive bank inspection and gives examiners power to make certain investigations now denied them. The cost of bank inspectors is now paid by the banks. who pay on their capital stock from $10 to $30 per year. The bill provides that these amounts be increased to defray the additional cost of the examiners.

Oppose Storms' Pardon.

Members of the legislature from Burlington are united in opposition to a pardon for Abe Storms, who was sent to Fort Madison to serve a life sentence for the murder of a woman and her daughter at Burlington. Storms' friends are preparing to go before the legislative committees on pardons in an effort to secure his freedom, following an action to the same and before the board of parole. Members of the Burlington degelation said that all three representatives from Burlington are opposed to a pardon and that Des Moines county wants to see Storms remain in prison.

Must Keep Clean.

A regular daily bath for men, the implements and the factory itself is provided in the bill which applies to all hotel and restaurant kitchens, bakeries, confectionary stores and every canning or other food producing establishment. And if dirt, dust or "unreasonable" amount of foreign substance is found in the food handled it will be considered proof that the place was dirty and the penalties will then apply.

First Cousins Cannot Marry.

First cousins cannot marry each other under the Iowa statutes if the legislature enacts a bill which Representative Fulliam of Muscatine county has drawn ready for introduction. The bill makes weddings between first cousins illegal, thus placing Iowa on an equal footing with Kansas, Missouri and other sister states.

Wage Exemption Up.

Senator Balkema, on behalf of the merchants, has introduced the wage exemption bill. This time the bill exempts 90 per cent of the wages of the head of a family for ninety days only, leaving 10 per cent subject to attachment at any time. Representative Klay introduced the same bill in the house.

Committee Appointed.

The house committee on military will report a resolution which undoubtedly will be adopted, appointing Representative Arney, Alfred and Blackmore to wait upon Admiral Evans and invite him to speak in the house chamber on the afternoon of his visit.

Marshalltown Wants Dam.

Marshalltown has asked the legislature to give $4,000 toward the construction of a dam in the Iowa river, promising in return that inmates of the soldiers' home will be able to enjoy fishing and boating and that the institution will be allowed to cut ice from the mill pond.

Baseball Bill Favored.

May 30 will not longer be a red letter day in the baseball calendar if the legislature stands by the house committee on military. which will recommend for passage a bill prohibiting ball games, horse racing and sports at any and all hours on Memorial day.

Express Companies Busy.

Attorneys for the big express companies will appear before the house committee on telegraph and express to oppose the bill requiring express companies to maintain offices near the business center of all towns with a population of 300 or more.

Good Road Bills.

Several of the good road bills in the house will be rewritten into one bill by the roads committee, the provisions of the new bill being that the townships, receiving aid from the state shall be able to get $50 from the state and that certain automobile fees be turned over to the road fund.

Auto Tax Bill Goes In.

Representative Fred Hunter of Polk county has introduced the bill urged by the state highway commission providing that automobile owners be taxed for the purpose of providing funds for good roadmaking in the house of representatives. The bill provides that commencing with the year 1910 every motor car owner whose machine is thirty horsepower or less shall pay a yearly tax of $5 to the secretary of state. If the motor car is greater than thirty horsepower the tax shall be $10 yearly. This amount goes into the county road fund, to be used under the direction of the state highway commission in building good roads and in offering rewards for good road making.

Suffrage Bill in Soon.

The joint resolution providing for the submission of the women's suffrage constitutional amendment, which will be introduced at this session of the general assembly. has been placed in the custody of Senator Jamison in the senate and Representative Hunter in the house, and will probably be offered in both bodies at an early date. The prosposed bill strikes out the word "male" from the construction in the section relating to franchise, and the resolution provides that if the bill is passed by this assembly it shall be submitted to the thirty-third general assembly and if passed be voted upon by the people at the general election of 1910.

Sees Great Waste.

Convinced that at least $50,000 of the state's money is being wasted every two years in the publication of reports and pamphlets which no one reads, Representative William H. Cooper, of Jasper county, at his earliest opportunity, will introduce a resolution calling for the appointment of a legislative committee to investigate state publications and report to the general assembly how much of the expenditures is actually justified.

Long and Short Haul.

An important bill has been introduced in the house of representatives by Darrah of Lucas, a long and short haul bill. It authorizes the railroad commission upon application of a common carrier to authorize the latter to charge less for longer than for short distances for the transportation of passengers or property in special cases after investigation by the railroad commissioners.

University Asks Half Million.

Over half a million dollars is asked for the state university of Iowa in a bill introduced in the senate of the Iowa legislature by Senator Wilson. It provides for the erection of the proposed woman's building to cost $150,000, and for numerous other improvements. The total asked is $625,000, $125,000 for maintenance, and $348,600 for improvements.

Would Close Saloons Early.

Iowa saloons will open at 7 in the morning and close at 8 in the evening if the Iowa legislature adopts a bill introduced in the house of representatives by Bonwell of Audubon. The bill provides that instead of opening at 5 and closing at 10, as at present, thirst parlors shall open two hours later in the morning and close two hours earlier in the evening.

Committee Against Passes.

Representative Sullivan's attempt to amend the anti-pass law to prevent railroads and street car companies from give passes to mail carriers, sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, constables and police officers, resulted in failure when on a vote of ten to seven the railroad committe of the house voted for the indefinite postponement of his bill.

To Honor Allison.

William Boyd Allison, Iowa's greatest statesman, the dean of the United States senate, will be properly honored by the Iowa legislature. An appropriation of $10,000 for the erection of a statue to be erected on the capitol grounds by the people of Iowa was passed by the senate without a dissenting voice.

Bear Poison Label.

Inebriates who have a fondness for alcohol in its undiluted form will be saved from drinking the denatured product by mistake if the legislature passes a bill introduced by Representative Tilton. It requires that every bottle of denatured alcohol shall have a poison label.

The SMUGGLER

BY ELLA MIDDLETON TYBOUT

COPYRIGHT 1907 BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

ILLUSTRATED BY RAY WALTERS

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. Elise shared her stateroom with a Mrs. Graham, also bound for Canada. The young women on a sightseeing tour met Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented by the trio for the summer. Elizabeth learned that a friend of her father's was to call. Two men called, one of them being the queer-acting stranger on the steamer. The girls were "not at home," but discovered by the cards left that one of the men was Elizabeth's father's friend. The men proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. Lady Edith told the girls of a robbery of jewels at the hotel. Fearing for the safety of her own gems, she left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his queer actions, returned the lost bag and told of mysterious doings of a year before connected with the cottage. Exploring the cellar, one of the girls found a sphinx cuff-button, the exact counterpart of which both Gordon Bennett and Lady Edith were found to possess, also. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. The young women agreed to keep the secret. Lady Edith told a story of a lost love in connection with the sphinx key. Elise and Gordon Bennett discovered Lady Edith and Mr. Graham, the latter displaying a marvelous baritone voice. At a supper which was held on the rocks Elizabeth rather mysteriously lost her ring, causing a search by the entire party. Mrs. Graham told Elise of her husband's mania for sailing at all hours of the day and night. Gabrielle witnessed a stormy scene between Lady Edith and Lord Wilfrid, red roses being the cause of the latter's anger. Mary Anne brought back Elizabeth's ring.

CHAPTER XI.—Continued.

"It was Mary Anne," she said, in answer to our questions. "Isn't she the dearest old thing? To think of her simply rooting round among the rocks until she found it! And she wouldn't take a penny of reward. I think I really hurt her feelings when I tried to insist on it. I never was so glad to get anything in my life, for you know how I valued that ring."

"When did she find it?" I inquired. "I have just come back from the rocks."

But Elizabeth was above mere details.

"It doesn't matter when she found it so long as it is here," she said, "and dinner is ready. I feel hungry enough to eat the tablecloth."

So we went to dinner and were served by Mary Anne, whom we each congratulated in turn, and I insisted upon her describing the very spot where she found the ring.

"Sure, Miss Elise," she said, "it was down on them rocks where I spread her supper last night. Between two stones it was, and like as not you walked over it time and again. Be thankful now that it's 'ere and don't worrit yerself 'ow I 'appened to pick up them particular stones."

"That's true philosophy," agreed Gabrielle, "and anyhow let's talk about something else. I want to tell Elizabeth about Lord Wilfrid and the roses."

CHAPTER XII.

"Of course," said Gordon Bennett, "you know your own affairs best."

"I am glad you have come to such a sensible conclusion," I replied, leaning over the edge of the boat and trailing my hand in the water, although I knew such an act is always irritating to the one who manipulates the sail.

"And no doubt you think I'm a very fresh sort of a chap."

I preserved an ostentatious silence.

"I am answered," he said, with a vexed laugh; "found guilty on my own indictment. But I hoped you would not agree so unreservedly."

I wiped my hand on my handkerchief, spreading the latter to dry in the sun, and looking out to sea with apparent absorption in the horizon.

"One ear and one side of your face are very red. Is it sunburn or wrath?"

"The sun is hot," I replied, with alacrity. "Perhaps we had better go home. Will you steer for the shore?"

"Not on your life! I've got you out here now, and I intend to keep you. You are powerless, mademoiselle."

I knew I was and raged inwardly. We had been spending the morning on the water, a not infrequent occurrence of late, and until the introduction of a certain unfortunate topic I had enjoyed myself immensely; for the day was perfection, and my companion thoroughly understood the management of his boat, as well as the art of being agreeable.

The conversation had somehow drifted to the robbery at the hotel, and I had thoughtlessly mentioned the safe in our dining room and Lady Edith's jewels reposing therein for protection. He had protested against our assuming such a responsibility, and urged their immediate return to their owner, which proposition I declined to consider, and the argument waxed hot, ending with an emphatic assertion on his part that we should not be allowed to leave home again without a guardian. This had been the last straw, and I had replied with an asperity which called for the remark at the beginning of this chapter.

"Look here," he resumed, firmly. "I'm not going to back down on one word I have said, but I'm sorry if you are angry about it. I think you don't quite understand my motive."

"Let us talk of something else, Mr. Bennett."

"But listen, Miss Elise. By your own admission, you really know nothing whatever about these people."

"You forget that they are older friends than yourself, after all."

"The general asked me to call; otherwise I should not have ventured to intrude."

His manner was decidedly stiff, and he jerked the tiller resentfully; as we changed our course in swift response, a smothered exclamation escaped

"We Must Go Home," I Said Slowly.

against my will, for the boat careened alarmingly.

"Don't be frightened," he said, forgetting his irritation. "I won't upset you."

"I'm not frightened."

"And don't quarrel with me any more. I won't have my morning spoiled by any confounded Englishman."

"It was a woman," I murmured, "not a man."

We both laughed, and by common consent let the matter drop for the time being, for I was quite willing to resume the lazy, delightful, camaraderie into which we had drifted, and to banish unpleasant subjects which might interfere with it.

So we talked or were silent as the spirit moved, while the white-capped waves lapped against the boat, and the water danced in the sunlight, with cool green shadows here and there, deep and unfathomable, as shadows should be when the ocean lies beneath them.

"Do you know," he said, at last, "that I have in my possession something belonging to you?"

"Oh," I said, with what I flattered myself was fine indifference, "I think you must be mistaken. I have not lost anything."

I was bareheaded, for I liked to feel the wind blow through my hair, and as it curled naturally I was comfortably certain that my personal appearance would not be endangered by so doing. I wished, however, that my hat was firmly pinned upon my head as he leaned forward and looked at me, his blue eyes laughing, and a dimple in his cheek very apparent. I always thought dimples so out of place on a man—perhaps because I have none myself and always wanted them.

"Why aren't your side-combs mates?" he inquired.

"Because I like them best this way;" I tried to speak carelessly, but his laugh was so spontaneous and merry that I gave up all effort at pretense and joined in heartily.

"When are you going to give it back to me?" I asked.

"Not yet," he said, suddenly serious. "I must return it in my own way, and —I do not think the time has come, do you?"

But I did not answer, for I felt my face grow suddenly hot, and sometimes one has nothing to say when one most desires to speak.

"We must go home," I said, slowly. "The morning has quite gone. Take me in, please."

This time he made no objection, but headed for the shore, and as we approached the little slip he turned with an evident effort and addressed me soberly.

"Miss Elise," he said, "at the risk of offending you again, I must say something more."

"Don't," I entreated; "it's not worth while—don't spoil the morning. You know you said you did not want to do that."

"Give back that box to her—Lady Edith. If you do not, you will certainly regret it. But if you won't, in spite of what I tell you, for heaven's sake don't mention it to any one as you did to me this morning—to the Grahams, for instance, or any one at all."

"I am not likely to say anything," I returned, stiffly. "I very much regret having mentioned it to you. By the way," I continued, "I quite forgot something important. At least, it is important to me, because I am curious. Where did you get your scarf-pin?"

"My scarf-pin?"

His hand involuntarily sought his throat, but he was wearing a negligee shirt and soft silk tie.

"Oh, I don't mean to-day. The Sphinx's head, you know, in dull gold. Where did it come from?"

It was a simple enough question, and one easily answered, but Gordon Bennett flushed deep red beneath his tan and brought the boat up beside the slip in silence.

"Well?"

In retaliation for his persistence in the matter of the jewels, I was determined to press the question, now that I saw he wished to avoid a reply.

"My pin? Oh, yes, I remember. I'm glad you liked it."

"I'm not sure I liked it; it interests me."

"Why?"

"Oh, because it did. I would like to know where you got it."

"Well—I found it."

"Where?"

Again a pause, and again the blood mounted to his face.

"Where did you find it? I would really like to know."

"In the streets of New York."

His eyes refused to meet mine, and I knew intuitively that he lied; also that he realized I knew it.

I said no more, but stepped out on the slip with an unpleasant tightening of the muscles of my throat and a curious sensation that everything was slipping away from me.

"Good-by," I said, dully, as I reached the steps, and he raised his cap in silence.

At the top I paused and looked back, for I thought I heard my name. He sat bareheaded in the stern of his boat, gazing after me, but made no effort to attract my attention nor to follow me ashore, so I decided I was mistaken and he had not called me. I wished he had. I wanted to go back and ask him to explain, but pride forbade, and I resumed my walk to the house with my head high.

Elizabeth called to me as I passed the door of her room, where she was reposing luxuriously on her couch, book in hand.

"Did you have a good time?" she inquired, with interest.

"No," I returned, briefly; "horrid."

"That's too bad. And oh, look at your nose! How did you ever get so burned?"

Elizabeth has a straight little nose which is my envy as well as my admiration, and she is always very careful to guard it from too intimate an acquaintance with the sun, so I knew her exclamation was occasioned by genuine sympathy.

"Did Mr. Bennett say anything about to-night?" she asked, as she seated herself on the foot of the bed.

"No; why should he?"

"You don't mean to say you have forgotten?"

"Forgotten what?"

"Elise, sometimes I think you must be in love—or, rather, I should think so were it any other girl. Don't you know that we give a dinner to-night? Our very first formal effort, to celebrate Lady Edith's birthday?"

I turned, brush in hand, and stared at her. I had indeed forgotten, although our menu for the occasion had been discussed and our toilets decided upon that morning at breakfast.

"And that's why I was concerned about your nose," continued Elizabeth cheerfully, "and your neck, too, for that matter, for of course you must wear an evening gown, and we all want to look well. You had really better try the cold cream and other stuff."

This time I did not refuse, for I had a mental vision of my face, as the glass reported it, rising from the delicate lace of my white frock, and the picture did not please me. So I spent the afternoon in anointing my unfortunate countenance, and reflecting upon the frailties of man—thinking of him as a species rather than as a personality, and determining to let him severely alone in the abstract, even while meditating upon a proper course of discipline for the individual.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

BROKEN REST.

A Back That Aches All Day Disturbs Sleep at Night.

Thomas N. McCullough, 321 So. Weber St., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "Attacks of backache and kidney trouble began to come on me, lasting often for three weeks at a time, and I would be unable to turn in bed. The urine was much disordered, containing sediment, and my rest was broken at night. Relief from these troubles came soon after I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and continued treatment entirely freed me from kidney trouble. The cure has been permanent."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

UNPROFITABLE CUSTOMER.

Caterpillar—How much a shave, barber?

Barber—Ten cents, but it will cost you a dollar, the price of ten shaves, if you want to be shaved all over.

IN AGONY WITH ECZEMA.

Whole Body a Mass of Raw, Bleeding, Torturing Humor — Hoped Death Would End Fearful Suffering.

In Despair; Cured by Cuticura.

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head to foot. I looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus oozed from the great sore on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so crusted and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. My family doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. My condition was awful. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to come and end my frightful sufferings.

"In this condition my mother-in-law begged me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me the first real sleep I had had in weeks. It was as grateful as ice to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely. I also took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. In a short time the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, and I knew I was to get well again. Then the hair on my head began to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. I wish I could tell everybody who has eczema to use Cuticura. Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Sept. 28, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

CAUSED BY LACK OF THOUGHT.

Cruelty Most Frequently Inflicted in Carelessness.

Most of the cruelty of the world is thoughtless cruelty. Very few people would intentionally add to another's load or make his burden in life heavier or his path rougher. Most of the great heart-wounds are inflicted in a moment of anger, when, perhaps, we were too proud to apologize or to try to heal the grievous wounds we had made. Can anything be more cruel than to discourage a soul who is struggling to do the best he can, to throw stumbling blocks in the path of those who are trying to get on in the world against great odds? No life is just the same after you have once touched it. Will you leave a ray of hope or one of despair, a flash of light or a somber cloud across some dark life each day? Will you by thoughtless cruelty deepen the shadow which hangs over the life, or will you by kindness dispel it altogether? No matter how you feel or what is disturbing your peace of mind, never allow yourself to send out a discouraging, a cruel, or an unkind word or thought.—Success Magazine.

Her Fate.

Tess—You'll be all right if you can only cook. You know, they say the best way to reach a man's heart, is through his stomach.

Jess (pessimistically)—Yes, it will just be my luck to reach it with heartburn or some other phase of dyspepsia.

The Secret of Poverty.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson of New York unlocked the secret of general poverty in an address at the American Museum of Natural History in New York early this month, when he said: "What is killing the people of this city may be stated as overwork, underfeeding and overcrowding; and two of these may be included under the one word 'underpaid.' The message of the church and of medicine to-day to the community is not 'Give to the poor,' but 'Don't take so much away from them.'—The Public.

There are four advantages in taking Munyon's Homeopathic Remedies. First, they are positively harmless. Second, they are pleasant to take. Third, they relieve quickly. Fourth, they cost nothing unless they give satisfaction.

Prof. Munyon has just issued a Magazine-Almanac, which will be sent free to any person who addresses

The Munyon Company, Philadelphia.

His Choice.

The Landlady—What part of the chicken will you have, Mr. Newcomer?

Mr. Newcomer—A little of the outside, please.—Puck.

A Domestic Eye Remedy

Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Conforms to Pure Food and Drugs Laws. Wins Friends Wherever Used. Ask Druggists for Murine Eye Remedy. Try Murine in Your Eyes. You Will Like Murine.

The man who ruined the Roman people was he who first gave them treats and gratuities.—Plutarch.

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of

HARDWARE

—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. SCOTT

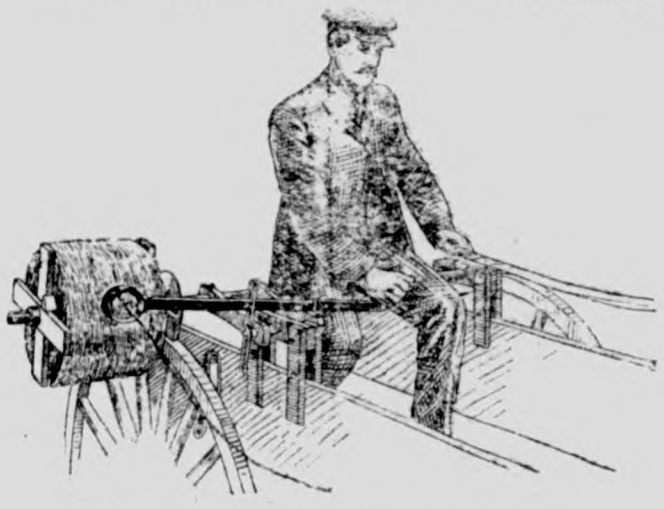
GENERAL BLACKSMITHING
HORSE SHOEING A

SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL



Farm Machinery.

Yes Sir! We mean just what we say. "A penna saved means a penna earned" and you can do this by going to H. Lau & Son and buy you a first-class "A Grade Surrey" and top buggy and Dane mower and Dane hay loaders, buckers, stackers, 20 century Kemp manure spreaders. You can also buy cultivator plows, binders, mowers, hay rakes, Jones scales, harnesses, flynets, lap dusters, whips, oils of all kinds, tile spades, barb and smoot wires, fence stapels and other farm implements. Royal Tailors tight fit suits. They will keep style and collor, fit guaranteed.

H. Lau & Son.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.

OBITUARY.

Like the fading away of the last flower of summer, the death of Mrs. Henry Gruetzmacher has taken away the last member of a once happy family. Tho' her friends had little hope for her recovery, she seemingly was gaining in the balmy sunshine of Texas But this was only like the last flicker of a lamp, then death came quick and fast as she peacefully passed away

"By the light that never fadeth,
Underneath eternal skies,
When the dawn of resurrection,
Breaks o'er deathless Paradise."

The deceased was born May 11, 1865 and was the second oldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. Kaste.

Twenty one years ago this month, she was united in marriage to Henry Gruetzmacher and they were among the first settlers in Klemme, where they built up a palatial home. A little girl came to gladden their fireside, but only too soon was this sunshine to be dimmed by the shadow of death. Later Mr. Gruetzmacher started in business in Waterloo, where after a few years he was taken away after a short illness. Tho' physically strong and naturally buoyant and of a cheerful disposition this was more than Mrs. Gruetzmacher could bear. For her life's brightest hours had faded away, earth seemed a strange land and contained no spot that was homelike to her. As often as she visited Klemme she would always bring a wreath of flowers and tenderly place it on the graves of her loved ones. then slowly and sadly return from that silent spot. Gradually her grieved and broken heart gave away, her vitality succomed to its strain and she died in St. Antonia Texas Feb. 11, 1909. The remains were sent to Charles City where they arrived Sunday noon. A short service was held in the home of her parents Monday morning and then the cortege came to Klemme, where a service was held Tuesday morning in the home of Geo. Gruetzmacher and interment in the Klemme cemetery. The floral tribute was without doubt the finest ever witnessed in this town. Beautiful designs came from saddened friends, from north south, east and west.

Those attending from a distance were Rev. Kaste, Mr. and Mrs. Chas Gruetzmacher and Mrs. Fred Pfeifer of Charles City, Jno Kaste of Cleveland, O. Louis Kaste of Hallock, Minn, Benj. Kaste of Denver Col Mrs. Groh and Estella Gruetzmacher of Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Mertz of Hayfield. Mrs. Brocker and Mrs. W. Schaper of Garner.

A SURPRISE.

On last week Sunday evening a surprise was given to Mr. J. Ell at the home of G. W. Kluckhohn and family. Over 40 relatives were present and a few invited guests to help celebrate the occasion. The evening was passed in instrumental music and singing. Rev. A. C. Lillie gave an appropriate address after which Mr. Ell responded in touching words of appreciation. Light refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Kluckhohn and family have a large roomy residence for an occasion of this kind and would have had room for more. As host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Kluckhohn are hard to equel. Mr. Ell expects to leave this week for his home at Panama, Neb.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

The Iowa Legislature.

Is the attraction of the entire state just now. All the people of the state are interested in their law-makers.

A picture 18x20 inches of members of the Thirty-third General Assembly of Ia, will be sent to you postpaid on receipt of 25 cents.

This handsome picture is suitable for framing. Nothing like it ever before offered the people of Iowa. Send today for this remarkable group picture of prominent Iowans, some of them from your own vicinity.

IOWA PHOTO CO.

DES MOINES IOWA

MARRIED.

Wednesday, February 10th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wille occured the marriage of Mr. Ernst Palmby to Miss Addie Hartbeck. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of relatives and friends and took place at 6:30 p. m. Rev. Muehlmeier speaking the simple but impressive words pronouncing them husband and wife. After the marriage ceremony all were invited to the dining room where every one did ample justice to the most excellent supper prepared by Mrs. Wille and friends. The evening was spent in pleasant conversation. The older people grouping together and the young folks indulging in play. Mr and Palmby, the young married couple were the recipients of many and most valuable presents given by well wishing relatives and friends. The Hartbeck Brothers from Colesburg, Iowa and Mr. J. C. Janssen and family from Meservey, Iowa attended the wedding from afar. All the guests parted at a late hour, wishing the young couple a happy and blessed married life. Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Palmby will be at home to their many friends after March 1st. on the old Yahnke farm south east of Klemme

REVOLTS AT COLD STEEL

Your only hope said three doctors to Mrs. M. E. Fisher, Detroit, Mich. suffering from severe rectal trouble. lies in an operation, then I used Dr. King's New Life Pills she writes till wholly cured. They prevent Appendicitis, cure Constipation, Headache. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Twin Lake.

Our news items here like others have been pretty well snowed in for the past week.

Adolph and Fred Schlichting left Monday for a trip thru' Kansas and Texas, where they will look at land, with the intention of buying.

John Schwichtenberg returned from Kirksville, Mo. last Wednesday. Mr. S. walked up from Belmond. He reports Ernest gaining which all are to hear.

The sales this week pretty well attended by Lakers. This is a good tunity for the roads to be as they are pretty fierce in places.

The Social in Dist. No. a success in spite of the Wm. Prull of German tow was elected auctioneer. neat sum of $10 being tak for nine baskets.

Report of the Condition of THE FIRST NATIONAL B

At Klemme, in the State of Io the close of business Feb. 5, 19

RESOURCES

Loans and discounts	$106
Overdrafts secured and unsecured	2
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation	25
Premiums on U. S. bonds	1
Banking house furniture and fixtures	2
Other real estate owned
Due from National banks	13
Due from approved reserve agents	18
Checks and other cash items
Notes of other National banks
Fractional paper currency nickels and cents
Lawful money reserve in bank:
Specie $ 7,896 65
Legal tender notes 50 00	7
Redempion fund with U. S. treasurer	1
Total	180

LIABILITIES

Capital stock paid in	25
Surplus fund
Undivided profits less expenses and taxes paid	1
National bank notes outstanding	25
Individual deposits subject to check	22
Demand certificates of deposit	104
Time certificates of deposit
Total	180

STATE OF IOWA, Hancock County, } ss.

I, F. A. Arnold, Cashier of above-named bank, do solemny s that the above statement is tr the best of my knowledge and b

F. A. ARNOLD, Cas

Subscribed and sworn to before this 11th day of Feb., 1909.

FRANK M. HAN Notary P

[SEAL]

Correct—Attest:

C H WIEGMANN
AUG. LAU
AUG. BARZ
} Dire

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	48 to 50c
Oats	43 to 46c
Wheat	75 to 95c
Barley	50 to 55c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.75
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Change of ad for State Bank.

Oysters direct from Baltimore at Kluckhohn's.

Read the Rock Island new ad. It will interest you.

C C. Suckow painted a very neat sign for the Terhufen Bros.

O. E. Carlson moved onto the C. Schroeder farm this Thursday.

Saturday was a rush business day in Klemme. Everybody realized a nice business.

The First National Bank has a bank statement in this issue which shows up a nice business.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

Geo. W. Waterman and W. R Bloom are having the creamery ice house filled with ice. "Bobbie Carr" is superintending the work

Wm. Lau shipped 76 head of nice fat porkers to Chicago Monday evening. His farmer neighbors assisted him in hauling them to Klemme Saturday. Wm went along.

Social functions of winter midnight lunches, loss of sleep tell on the health. Hollister's rocky mountain tea clears the blood, aida digestion, relieves fatigue, makes and retains your health. &reatest tonic. Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co.

Mrs. H. Schroeder and son Albert left for Chicago last week Saturday where they will make their home. Mr. Schroeder has a good position there as commission man. We are sorry to see them leave this community.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets. Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

The masquerade dance on last week Friday evening was largely attended. The music was good and several nice costumes were in evidence. Good order was had throughout the evening. Miss Luella Yohn received a prize as being the prettiest gowned dancer and Cloyd Lawhorn as the homeliest.

The regrets ad for the Saving bank—read it.

Fresh oysters always on hand at Kluckhohn's. tf.

Geo. and Frank Gruetzmacher were at Garner Monday.

There will be a Market Day Sale on Saturday, Feb. 27th.

Joe Johnson sold 75 head of stock cattle to a firm east of Cedar Rapids.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

Ered and Adolf Schlichting and Chas. Albright left Monday evening for Brownsville, Texas.

Ed. Haskin and wife of Garner. visited their son M. Haskin and family last week Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs H. Ihde left last week Saturday for Iowa City where Mrs. Ihde will undergo an operatian.

H. Lau & Son are receiving new windmills every day and are kept busy doing repair work in the country.

AGENT WANTED—Man with team to canvass Hancock county for the best selling article on the market. Liberal commissions. Address H. E. Smith. Iowa Falls, Iowa. 28-3

Mrs. Jennie Jenson after visiting here a few weeks with her parents H. Ereie and family. left for her home at Et. Dodge last week Saturdry.

No more divorces.
'Hubby' will stay a lover true,
Every wife his only sweetheart, too,
Perpetual matrimonial bliss 'twill be,
If both take Hollister's rocky mountain tea.G. A. Pabst & Co.

The ones who attened the masquerade dance here last week Friday evening from Garner were: R. Nesbit, Elmer Abbey, C. Hunt, J. Ryan, D. Taylor and "Smiles" Schmaile.

The long winter months—heavy foods—lack of exercise decrease your vitality, make you feel mean. Hollister's rocky mountain tea gives you vitality—clears the blood—builds up flesh. Makes you strong nd robust. Great spring medicine. Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co.

There will be a basket sociable on Monday evening Feb 22 at the residence of H. L. Schuldt for the benefit of the English M. E. church. Ladies are requested to bring baskets and the gentleman are requested to buy them. All are cordially invited.

County Superintendent A. M. Deyoe and Miss Hattie Raw of Duluth, Minn., were united in marriage at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. J. Clack northeast of Hutchins, Friday evening. Prof. Barsalou of the Memorial University of Mason City, performed the ceremony. Both of the contracting parties are well and favorably known through the county. Miss Raw was the first primary teacher at Britt a number of years ago she accepted a position in the Duluth schools. Their many friends extend heartfelt congratulations —Mason City Times-Herald.

SOLDIER BALKS DEATH PLOT.

It soems to J A Stone a civil war veteran of Kemp, Texas that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. I contracted a stubborn cold he writes that developed a cough that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 povnds. Then I began to use Dr. King's new discovery which restored my health completely. I now whigh 178 pounds. For severe colds, obstinate coughs, hemorrhages, asthma and to prevent pneumonia it's unrivaled. 50c and $1.09. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G A Pabst & Co.

H. S. Schwartz was at Garner Wednesday.

Save your money—ad State Saving Bank

Chas. Schroeder moved to Garner this week.

The past few days the weather has been very agreeable.

Al Koerner and F. H Ridder were at Garner on Monday.

Harry Behringer transacted business at Garner Monday.

G. A. Pabst transacted business at Garner Wednesday.

Wm. Nelson of Belmond, was a Klemme visitor Wednesday.

Esther Lau visited with her brother Wm. and family Wednesday at Garner.

The dime social at the residence of Wm. Fuller on Monday evening was largely attended.

Our section foreman T. Blank had an extra force on his section Friday last week shoveling snow

Three loads of stock cattle were shipped from here Monday evening to east of Cedar Rapids.

Old Plantation Quartet and Jubilee Singers at Opera House on Wednesday evening, Feb. 24.

Rudalph and Wm. Baack were at Woden last week where they visited with their uncle H. Baack and family.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at the residence of Phillip Ell on next week Thursday afternoon, Feb. 25th.

Chas. Kraus returned last week Saturday from Colfax, Iowa where he has been for medical treatment. He also visited with his aunt and cousin at Belleplaine, Iowa.

Bills are out announcing a Market Day Sale at Klemme on Saturday, Feb. 27th. Anyone wishing to list livestock or machinery for this sale may list same with F. A. Arnold at First National Bank.

THE SECRET OF LONG LIFE

A French scientist has discovered one secret of long life. His method deals with the blood. But long ago millions of Americans had proved Electric Bitters prolongs life and makes it worth living. It purifies enriches and vitalizes the blood rebuilds wasted nervecells, imparts life and tone to the entire system. Its a godsend to weak sick and debilitatep people. Kidney trouble had blighted my life for months, writes W M Sherman of Cushing, Me. but Electric Bitters cured me entirely. Only 50c at G A Pabst & Co.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

G. P. Merten	Garner
Asa Gibbs	Klemme
Wm. Beier, Sr.	Garner
Wm. Kulper,	Waterloo, Ia.
H E. Kath,	Lowell, Wis.
Aug. Lau, Sr.	Klemme
Benj. Lau,	Chicago, Ill
B. Swalve	Goodell

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Most Popular Because it is the Best.

I have sold Chamberlain's cough remedy for the past eight years and find it to be one of the best selling medicinet on the market. For babies and youug children there is nothing better in the line of cough soruo says Paul Allen, Plain Dealing, La. This remedy not only curesthe coughs, colds and croup so common among young children but is pleasant and safe for them to take. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a baby as confidently as to an adult. For sale by G A Pabst & Co.

THE CHILDREN LIKE IT
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP

German M. E. Church Items

The Klemme League will give a "Lincoln" programme Sunday evening to which all are heartily invited.

W. H. Miller of Burt, Iowa, came down Tuesday evening and is calling at the parsonage and his relatives in this community.

Our second quarterly meeting will be held in the Germantown church Feb. 27-28 and there will be no services in the Klemme church on Sunday morning.

The weather has been anything but agreeable of late. Last Sunday was a stormy day and the meetings were small but the faithful ones braved the storm and were out.

John Schwichtenberg returned from Kirksville, Mo. last week Wednesday. He left little Ernest down there in care of Ed. Schaefer and Herbert Stille. The parents are very hopeful that the treatments will do him good.

A quiet little wedding took place Tuesday evening at the home of A. F. Hubbard when W. M. Kirkwood of Ringsted, Iowa, and Myrtle Campbell of Estherville were joined in marriage. The groom is well known in this community and is now in charge of an elevator in Ringsted where he and his young bride will settle down to house keeping after a short visit among his relatives.

The Klemme Epworth League will give a banquet next week Friday evening in the hall over Gruetzmacher's store to which they invite all the older members of the church and others who may wish to attend. They will serve a five course supper for which they will charge 25c. This is in no wise to be a money making affair as the supper will be worth much more than the price charged, but as the members of the League will donate much of the eatables, there is expected to be a small proceed which will be used toward new furnishings in the church. There will be toasts and a short programme in connection. Tickets are on sale at the post office and must be purchased no later than the 25th as the committee must know how many plates to cover.

WASHINGTON ONCE GAVE UP.

To three doctors, was kept in bed five weeks. Blood poison from a spidere's bite caused large deep sores to cover his leg. The doctors failed, then Bucklen's arnica salve completely cured me, writes John Washington of Bosqueville, Tex. For eczema, boils, burns and piles its supreme 25c at G A Pabst & Co.

AT THE KLEMME OPERA HOUSE
—ON—
FEBRUARY 24TH
Old Plantation Quartet
—AND—
Jubilee Singers.
Admission 50, 35, 25c

Let us be your Tailor
THE AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS Co, Chicago, Illinois.
Manufacturers of fine woolens and wholesale custom tailors.
Save while buying a suit of gents spring and summer made to order clothing of standard merit, seldom equaled, never excelled. I want to show you a beautiful line of samples. A fit, a beauty and a long wearing suit Your profit, my pleasure.
ELMER LUDEKE
Klemme - - - Iowa

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

$13,440 Cash from 28 Acres of Onions in the Texas Gulf Coast

W. A. McNeil planted twenty-eight acres in onions at Santa Maria, Tex., in the Gulf Coast Country. The yield averaged 400 crates per acre, for which he received $1.20 per crate, $480 an acre. His total receipts from the twenty-eight acres was $13,440. Pretty good results from four months' work.

Mr. McNeil is no exception. Profits of from $300 to $1,000 an acre are of common occurrence in the Gulf Coast Country.

Are you doing as well? Why shouldn't you? Raising fruit and vegetables in the Gulf Coast Country is simple—anyone can do it. A few acres will be all you need. You can buy it on easy terms and the first crop, if properly cared for, should more than pay for the land.

The Gulf Coast Country is a delightful place in which to live. Mild, sunny winters; gulf-breeze-cooled summers.

Investigate this proposition while the land is within your reach—next year it will cost more.

On excursion days tourist sleepers run through from Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, St. Louis and Kansas City to Brownsville, Tex.

Let me send you some further information about the big profits growers are making in the Gulf Coast Country. We have prepared this in attractive, printed form. Write for a free copy to-day.

JOHN SEBASTIAN
Passenger Traffic Mgr.
2005 La Salle Station
Chicago

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa.

The Exceptional Equipment

of the California Fig Syrup Co. and the scientific attainments of its chemists have rendered possible the production of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, in all of its excellence, by obtaining the pure medicinal principles of plants known to act most beneficially and combining them most skillfully, in the right proportions, with its wholesome and refreshing Syrup of California Figs.

As there is only one genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna and as the genuine is manufactured by an original method known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only, it is always necessary to buy the genuine to get its beneficial effects.

A knowledge of the above facts enables one to decline imitations or to return them if, upon viewing the package, the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. is not found printed on the front thereof.

Placing Him.

"Papa," inquired little May, after Sunday school, "was George Washington an Israelite?"

Before her father could answer this somewhat unexpected question May's six-year-old brother broke in.

"Why, May, I'm 'shamed of your ign'ance! George Washington is in the New Testament, not the Old."—Woman's Home Companion.

STATE OF OHIO CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D., 1886.

{ SEAL }

A. W. GLEASON,
NOTARY PUBLIC.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Sufficient Reason.

"Don't you admire the old-time melodies?"

"No; I'm a fresh-air fiend."—Dramatic Telegram.

Sore throat leads to Tonsilitis, Quinsy and Diphtheria. Hamlins Wizard Oil used as a gargle upon the first symptoms of a sore throat will invariably prevent all three of these dread diseases.

Some people spend so much time handing out advice that they have no time to accomplish anything.

Great Home Eye Remedy, for all diseases of the eye, quick relief from using PETTIT'S EYE SALVE. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

It is a difficult task to speak to the stomach because it hath no ears.—Cato.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Women wouldn't be so talkative if they only spoke their minds.

To restore a normal action to liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels, take Garfield Tea, the mild herb laxative.

Diamonds come highest when sold at cut rates.

Foot Ache—Use Allen's Foot-Ease
Over 30,000 testimonials. Refuse imitations. Send for free trial package. A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

The things you really stand for are revealed to those you run after.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Wise men make proverbs that fools may misquote them.

INCANDESCENT KEROSENE OIL LAMP BURNER

The Wonderful Saxonia

Produces a beautiful 80 candle white light. Burns 1-3 oil of ordinary lamp. Gives three times the light. Produces gas off top of wick. Costs 1-5 of gas, 1-10 of electricity. Price for burner, imported mantle and chimney, $3.00. Price for polished brass lamp with burner, mantle and chimney complete, $4.50, express prepaid. Write for booklet. Agents wanted in every Iowa town.

U. S. Lighting Co.
263 Madison St., Chicago.

Reference: Kenwood Trust & Savings Bank.

LIFE AND WORKS ACCORDED PRAISE

NATION'S MEN OF WORTH IN TRIBUTE TO ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS

Qualities and Deeds of the Great President Set Forth by the Chief Executive in Impressive Speech—Immense Concourse Gathered to Witness Exercises in Connection with Laying of Corner Stone of Memorial Hall.

Hodgenville, Ky.—The corner stone of the splendid memorial to be erected to the memory of Abraham Lincoln was laid by President Roosevelt. The exercises were participated in by many of the nation's leading men, Cardinal Gibbons and ex-Gov. Folk of Missouri being among those who made addresses.

From all points, by train and over roads not particularly smooth at this season of the year, the people gathered to the exercises. A building four times the size of the tent provided could not have accommodated the crowd.

The corner stone of the Memorial hall was laid by President Roosevelt. In an impressive address the chief executive eulogized the life and work of the great statesman. He spoke as follows:

"We have met here to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of one of the two greatest Americans; of one of the two or three greatest men of the nineteenth century; of one of the greatest men in the world's history. This rail splitter, this boy who passed his ungainly youth in the dire poverty of the poorest of the frontier folk, whose rise was by weary and painful labor, lived to lead his people through the burning flames of a struggle from which the nation emerged, purified as by fire, born anew to a loftier life. After long years of iron effort, and of failure that came more often than victory, he at last rose to the leadership of the republic at the moment when that leadership had become the stupendous world-task of the time. He grew to know greatness, but never ease. Success came to him, but never happiness, save that which springs from doing well a painful and a vital task. Power was his, but not pleasure. The furrows deepened on his brow, but his eyes were undimmed by either hate or fear. His gaunt shoulders were bowed, but his steel thews never faltered as he bore for a burden the destinies of his people. His great and tender heart shrank from giving pain; and the task allotted him was to pour out like water the life-blood of the young men, and to feel in his every fiber the sorrow of the women. Disaster saddened but never dismayed him. As the red years of war went by they found him ever doing his duty in the present, even facing the future with fearless front, high of heart, and dauntless of soul. Unbroken by hatred, unshaken by scorn, he worked and suffered for the people. Triumph was his at the last; and barely had he tasted it before murder found him, and the kindly, patient, fearless eyes were closed forever.

Washington and Lincoln.

"As a people we are indeed beyond measure fortunate in the characters of the two greatest of our public men, Washington and Lincoln. Widely though they differed in externals, the Virginia landed gentleman and the Kentucky backwoodsman, they were alike in essentials, they were alike in the great qualities which rendered each able to render service to his nation and to all mankind such as no other man of his generation could or did render. Each had lofty ideals, but each in striving to attain these lofty ideals was guided by the soundest common sense. Each possessed inflexible courage in adversity, and a soul wholly unspoiled by prosperity. Each possessed all the gentler virtues commonly exhibited by good men who lack rugged strength of character. Each possessed also all the strong qualities commonly exhibited by those towering masters of mankind who have too often shown themselves devoid of so much as the understanding of the words by which we signify the qualities of duty, of mercy, of devotion to the right, of lofty distinterestedness in battling for the good of others. There have been other men as great and other men as good; but in all the history of mankind there are no other two great men as good as these, no other two good men as great. Widely though the problems of to-day differ from the problems set for solution to Washington when he founded this nation, to Lincoln when he saved it and freed the slave, yet the qualities they showed in meeting these problems are exactly the same as those we should show in doing our work to-day.

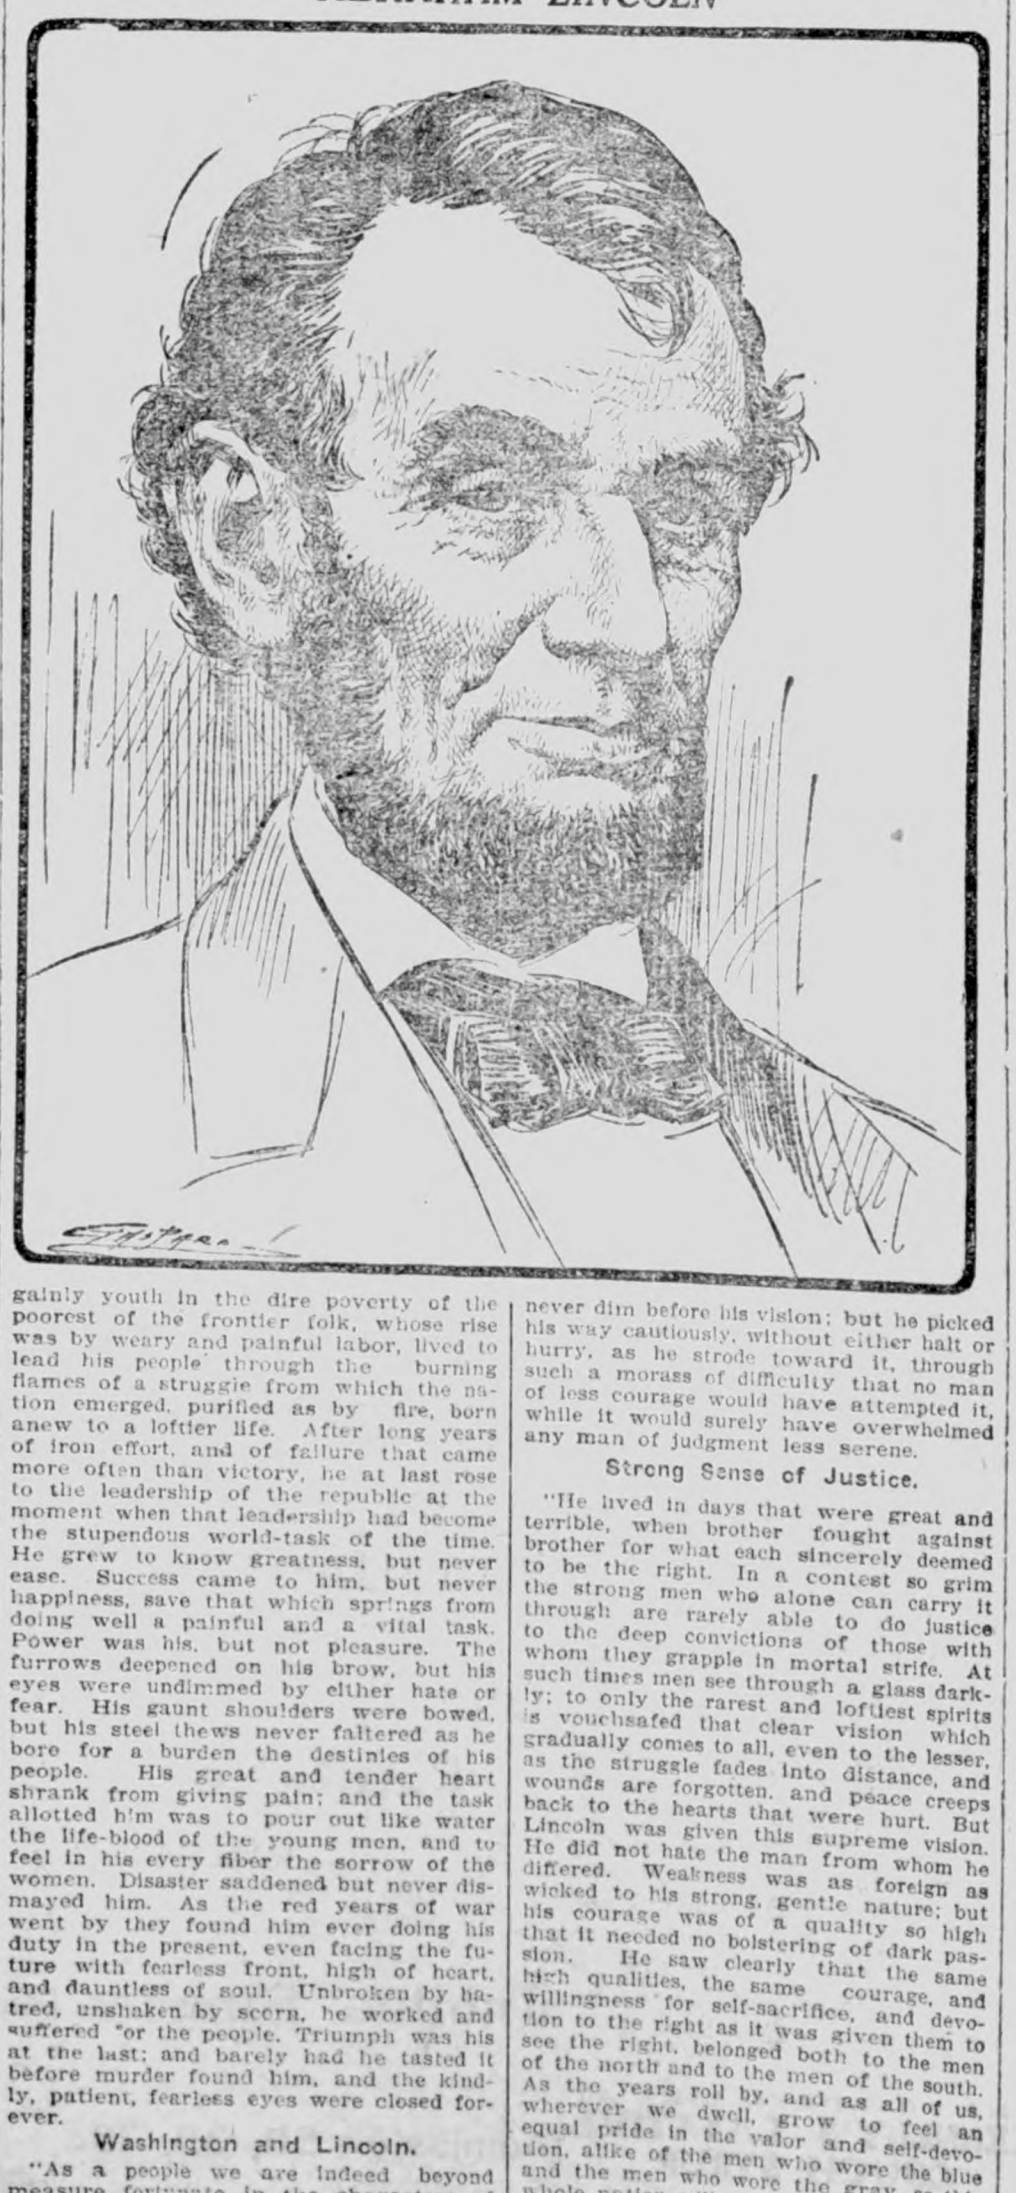
Lessons from Lincoln's Life.

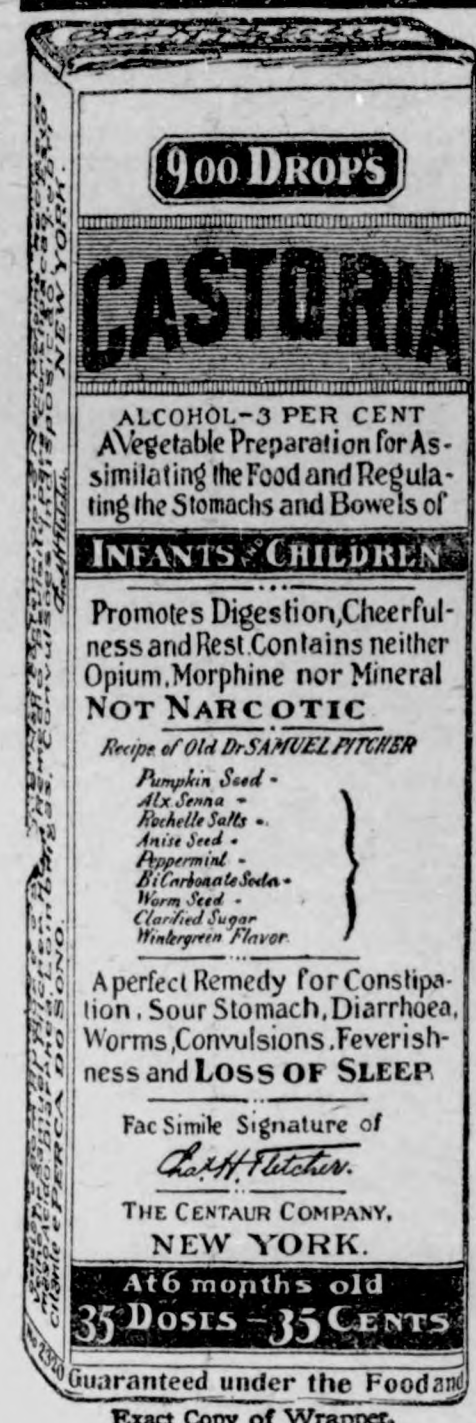
"We of this day must try to solve many social and industrial problems, requiring to an especial degree the combination of indomitable resolution with cool-headed sanity. We can profit by the way in which Lincoln used both these traits as he strove for reform. We can learn much of value from the very attacks which following that course brought upon his head, attacks alike by the extremists of revolution and by the extremists of reaction. He never wavered in devotion to his principles, in his love for the union, and in his abhorrence of slavery. Timid and lukewarm people were always denouncing him because he was extreme; but as a matter of fact he never went to extremes, he worked step by step; and because of this the extremists hated and denounced him with a fervor which now seems to us fantastic in its deification of the unreal and the impossible. At the very time when one side was holding him up as the apostle of social revolution because he was against slavery, the leading abolitionist denounced him as the "slave hound of Illinois." When he was the second time candidate for president, the majority of his opponents attacked him because of what they termed his extreme radicalism, while a minority threatened to bolt his nomination because he was not radical enough. He had continually to check those who wished to go forward too fast, at the very time that he overrode the opposition of those who wished not to go forward at all. The goal was never dim before his vision; but he picked his way cautiously, without either halt or hurry, as he strode toward it, through such a morass of difficulty that no man of less courage would have attempted it, while it would surely have overwhelmed any man of judgment less serene.

Strong Sense of Justice.

"He lived in days that were great and terrible, when brother fought against brother for what each sincerely deemed to be the right. In a contest so grim the strong men who alone can carry it through are rarely able to do justice to the deep convictions of those with whom they grapple in mortal strife. At such times men see through a glass darkly; to only the rarest and loftiest spirits is vouchsafed that clear vision which gradually comes to all, even to the lesser, as the struggle fades into distance, and wounds are forgotten, and peace creeps back to the hearts that were hurt. But Lincoln was given this supreme vision. He did not hate the man from whom he differed. Weakness was as foreign as wicked to his strong, gentle nature; but his courage was of a quality so high that it needed no bolstering of dark passion. He saw clearly that the same high qualities, the same courage, and willingness for self-sacrifice, and devotion to the right as it was given them to see the right, belonged both to the men of the north and to the men of the south. As the years roll by, and as all of us, wherever we dwell, grow to feel an equal pride in the valor and self-devotion, alike of the men who wore the blue and the men who wore the gray, so this whole nation will grow to feel a peculiar sense of pride in the mightiest of the mighty men who mastered the mighty days; the lover of his country and of all mankind; the man whose blood was shed for the union of his people, and for the freedom of a race, Abraham Lincoln."

ABRAHAM LINCOLN





CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

For Croup Tonsilitis and Asthma

A quick and powerful remedy is needed to break up an attack of croup. Sloan's Liniment has cured many cases of croup. It acts instantly — when applied both inside and outside of the throat it breaks up the phlegm, reduces the inflammation, and relieves the difficulty of breathing.

Sloan's Liniment

gives quick relief in all cases of asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, tonsilitis, and pains in the chest. Price, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass.

Mayer Leading Lady

THE CORRECT SHOE FOR STYLE, EASE AND GOOD WEAR

You could never hope to buy a more stylish or serviceable shoe than the "Leading Lady." It is right up-to-date in appearance and fits the foot perfectly from the very first. Besides being stylish and comfortable, the wears much longer than most shoes. It is so well made that it lasts twice as long as the average shoe, and will retain its shape to the end.

Leading Lady

Why buy inferior shoes when, with the same money, you can get the "Leading Lady?" Your dealer will supply you; if not, write to us.

Look for the Mayer Trade Mark on the sole.

FREE—If you will send us the name of a dealer who does not handle Leading Lady Shoes, we will send you free, postpaid, a beautiful picture of Martha Washington, size 15x20.

We also make Honorbilt Shoes, Martha Washington Comfort Shoes, Yerma Cushion Shoes and Special Merit School Shoes.

MILWAUKEE Mayer CUSTOM MADE

F. MAYER BOOT & SHOE CO.
MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN

For Croup or Bronchitis A-B-C LINIMENT
All Dealers.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

PISO'S CURE

CURE THE CHILDREN'S COUGH

before the constant hacking tears the delicate membrane of throat and lungs, exposing them to the ravages of deadly disease. Piso's Cure goes straight to the seat of the trouble, stops the cough, strengthens the lungs, and quickly relieves unhealthy conditions. Because of its pleasant taste and freedom from dangerous ingredients it is the ideal remedy for children. At the first symptoms of a cough or cold in the little ones you will save sorrow and suffering if you

GIVE THEM PISO'S CURE

25 cts. 25 cts.

Cream Pie.

Beat two eggs well, add one cup of sugar and one tablespoonful of melted butter, and beat again. Add half a cup of milk, mix two tablespoonfuls of baking powder with one and a half cups of flour, and stir it into the egg mixture. Flavor with one teaspoonful of lemon extract. Beat it well and bake in a round, shallow pan. When cool split it with a long, sharp knife, and fill it with a cream that is made while the cake is baking. Boil one cup of milk, wet one tablespoonful of cornstarch in a little cold milk, stir it into the boiling milk, and cook over hot water ten minutes, stirring often. Beat one egg light, add two tablespoonfuls sugar and a pinch of salt, and stir into the thickened milk. Cook one minute, stir in one teaspoonful of butter and one of vanilla, and set away to cool.

Steamed Brown Bread.

Mix together one cup Indian meal, one cupful rye meal, one-half cup white flour, a half teaspoonful salt, the same amount soda, a half cup molasses and a cup and a half sweet milk.

Beat well and turn into greased molds, filling about two-thirds full. Boil 15 minutes in the cooker vessel with the water coming nearly to the top of the molds. Lift carefully into the cooker, cover and cook four hours. Take the cans out, turn out the loaves, brush over with melted butter and brown lightly in the oven.

NOT FOR HIM.

"Now, boy, this is important! It's an invitation to dinner!"

"Thanks, boss. But I can't accept. Me dress suit's in hock!"

MIX FOR LAME BACK

To one-half pint good whiskey, add one ounce syrup sarsaparilla, and one ounce Toris compound, which can be procured from any druggist. Take in teaspoonful doses before each meal and before retiring. This recipe is never-failing. Leading specialists prescribe it.

The best part of all fortitude is patience, which lies at the root of all pleasures as well as all powers. Hope herself ceases to be happiness when impatience accompanies her.—Ruskin.

For Hoarseness and Coughs "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are wonderfully effective. 25 cents a box. Samples sent free by John I. Brown & Son, Boston, Mass.

It isn't the knocker who gains admission to our confidence.

GRIP IS PREVALENT AGAIN. A prompt remedy is what every one is looking for. The efficiency of Peruna is so well known that its value as a grip remedy need not be questioned. The grip yields more quickly if taken in hand promptly. If you feel grippy get a bottle of Peruna at once. Delay is almost certain to aggravate your case.

For a free illustrated booklet entitled "The Truth About Peruna," address The Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio. Mailed postpaid.

Death Lurks In Every Breeze especially these cold winter breezes, when you're so subject to coughs and colds. A little cold neglected now will cause serious trouble later. There's but one safeguard—

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

Keep it in your home all the time—then you'll be ready for the battle.

Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant removes the cause of colds, coughs, bronchitis, asthma, inflammation of lungs and chest, that's why it is the safest and surest remedy known.

It's sold everywhere in three size bottles

$1.00, 50c, 25c

SILENT ON CABINET

TAFT DECLINES TO DISCUSS HIS APPOINTMENTS.

TALKS WITH HITCHCOCK

Wants Congress to Remove the Bar Against Senator Knox Being Secretary of State—Leaves New Orleans for Cincinnati.

New Orleans.—President-elect Taft left New Orleans Saturday after two days of entertainment here. He goes to Cincinnati tnd then to Washington, returning to Cincinnati next week.

Friday night Mr. Taft and members of the party which accompanied him to Panama were guests of honor at a Creole banquet. He talked of his desire as the chief executive to represent the whole nation, of his intention to make the representatives of the administration in the south represent the best element of the communities in which they lived, of his recent visit to the isthmus of Panama, with a repetition of his hope for the completion of the canal within his administration.

Although conferences during the day were had between Mr. Taft and Mr. Hitchcock, his postmaster general, and Treasurer Upham of the national committee, nothing definite was obtainable regarding the undecided places in the cabinet. Mr. Hitchcock furnished certain information desired by Mr. Taft,

Mr. Taft has telegraphed to Senator Hale urging congress to remove all doubt of Senator Knox's eligibility to the office of secretary of state, and saying that the loss of Mr. Knox from the cabinet premiership would be a public misfortune.

The telegram follows:

"New Orleans.—Hon. Eugene Hale, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.—I sincerely hope that congress will pass a bill to remove any doubt of Knox's eligibility. I have no doubt that a bill to repeal the bill increasing the salary of the secretary of state will effect this purpose, and I sincerely hope that it will pass. I should regard the loss of Senator Knox from the first place in my cabinet as a public misfortune. (Signed)

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

Senator Knox wired Judge Taft as follows:

"A bill has been introduced in the senate to remove the constitutional bar to my eligibility to the cabinet by repealing the act providing for an increase in salary for the secretary of state. I am in no way promoting or having anything to do with the measure.

"It is a matter for you as the appointive power to first determine whether the proposed action is desirable or would be effective. Our minds should be free from all doubt concerning the legality and propriety of the proposed plan before acquiescing in it. If you have any reason for not approving what is being done, it should be announced, otherwise an injustice may be done, whoever may be appointed.

(Signed) "P. C. KNOX."

In his speech to the negroes who greeted him by thousands at the ball park Friday, Mr. Taft reiterated his heretofore well-defined principles regarding the development of the negro race and the settlement of the race question.

In his speech on the steps of the city hall here Thursday Mr. Taft made what he said was his summing of his recent trip.

"I am here on my way from a great constructive work," he said, after paying his compliments to his audience. "The greatest entered upon by any nation during the present two centuries, and I am glad to say to you, who perhaps are more interested in that work than any other part of the people of the United States, that the work is going on as you would have it go.

"That on the first of January, 1915, at least, if not before—and I am very much interested in having it within the next four years—that canal will be completed. And when that time comes you will see loading down this river your great commerce bound through those straits to the west coast of America, to the west coast of South America, to the Orient and to Australia."

TWO NEW BISHOPS ELECTED.

Episcopal Convention Fails to Act on "Open Pulpit" Canon.

New York.—The house of bishops of the Protestant Episcopal general convention, in session here Thursday, elected Rev. Dr. Nathaniel Seymour Thomas of Philadelphia bishop of Wyoming and Rev. Benjamin Brewster of Salt Lake City bishop of western Colorado.

The amendment of the "open pulpit" canon was neither repealed nor interpreted and will stand in its present form until the general convention of the house of bishops and the house of lay and clerical delegates meet in October, 1910.

MONEY MADE IN LIVE STOCK IN CENTRAL CANADA.

W. J. Henderson, visiting Seattle, writes the Canadian Government Agent at Spokane, Wash., and says:

"I have neighbors in Central Canada raising wheat, barley and oats for the past 20 years, and are now getting from the same land 20 to 30 bushels of wheat per acre, 40 to 60 bushels of oats.

"It was the first week of May when I got my tent pitched, but the farmers all around had finished putting in their crops, so I only got fifteen acres broke and seeded. They advised me as it was late not to put in much wheat, so I put in five acres of wheat and ten acres oats, one-half acre potatoes and vegetables. All kinds of vegetables grow well up there, sweet corn, tomatoes, onions, carrots, peas, beans, cabbage. My wheat yielded about 20 bushels per acre, for which I got 76 cents, others got 80 cents; oats threshed 35 bushels per acre, for which I got 35 cents per bushel. You see I was three weeks late in getting them in, still I was satisfied.

"From my observation, there is more money made in stock, such as cattle, horses and sheep, as prices are high for such, and it costs nothing to raise them, as horses live the year around out on the grass. In fact, farmers turn their work horses out for the winter, and they come in fresh and fat in the spring. Cattle live out seven or eight months. They mow the prairie grass and stack it for winter and give oat straw. My neighbors sold steers at $40 each, and any kind of a horse that can plow, from $150.00 up. I raised 60 chickens and 5 pigs, as pork, chickens, butter and eggs pay well and always a good market for anything a man raises, so I have every reason to be thankful, besides, at the end of three years I get my patent for homestead. I heard of no homestead selling for less than $2,000, so where under the sun could an old man or young man do better?"

When a woman's husband is the subject of conversation, she isn't in a position to say what she really thinks.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE"
That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

Comfort Still.

A little fellow of five years fell and cut his upper lip so badly that a doctor had to be summoned to sew up the wound. In her distress the mother could not refrain from saying: "Oh, doctor, I fear it will leave a disfiguring scar."

Tommy looked up into her tearful face, and said: "Never mind, mamma, my mustache will cover it."—Harper's Weekly.

Her Extreme Goodness.

The husband of a beloved deceased wife came to see her bust.

"Look at it well," said the sculptor, "and as it is only in clay I can alter it if necessary."

The widower looked at it carefully with the most tender interest. "It is her very self," he said. "Her large nose—the sign of goodness!" Then, bursting into tears, he added: "She was so good! Make the nose a little larger!"—Lippincott's.

The Prince of Grumblers.

When Mr. Beeton asked if he did not find many unreasonable people among his summer boarders, Farmer Joy quickly assented.

"Lots an' lots are never satisfied anyway," he said. "No matter what's done for 'em, there'll always be something wrong somewheres.

"Now last summer," he went on, with a gleaming eye, "we had a man here that was so fond of grumblin' that one day he actually called for a toothpick after he'd had a glass of milk."—Youth's Companion.

GOOD CHANGE
Coffee to Postum.

The large army of persons who have found relief from many chronic ailments by changing from coffee to Postum as a daily beverage, is growing each day.

It is only a simple question of trying it for oneself in order to know the joy of returning health as realized by an Ills. young lady. She writes:

"I had been a coffee drinker nearly all my life and it affected my stomach—caused insomnia and I was seldom without a headache. I had heard about Postum and how beneficial it was, so concluded to quit coffee and try it.

"I was delighted with the change. I can now sleep well and seldom ever have headache. My stomach has gotten strong and I can eat without suffering afterwards. I think my whole system greatly benefited by Postum.

"My brother also suffered from stomach trouble while he drank coffee, but now, since using Postum he feels so much better he would not go back to coffee for anything."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

AFTER FOUR YEARS OF MISERY

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md. — "For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, terrible dragging sensations, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Then I felt as though new life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends."—Mrs. W. S. FORD, 1938 Lansdowne St., Baltimore, Md.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and to-day is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed.

If you are suffering from any of these ailments, don't give up hope until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has guided thousands to health, free of charge.

Kemp's Balsam

Will stop any cough that can be stopped by any medicine and cure coughs that cannot be cured by any other medicine.

It is always the best cough cure. You cannot afford to take chances on any other kind.

KEMP'S BALSAM cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, grip, asthma and consumption in first stages.

It does not contain alcohol, opium, morphine, or any other narcotic, poisonous or harmful drug.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

SEED OATS 60 cts. a bu.

Per Salzer's catalog page 129.

Largest growers of seed oats, wheat, barley, speltz, corn, potatoes, grasses and clovers and farm seeds in the world. Big catalog free: or, send 10c in stamps and receive sample of Billion Dollar Grass, yielding 10 tons of hay per acre, oats, speltz, barley, etc., easily worth $10.00 of any man's money to get a start with, and catalog free. Or, send 14c and we add a sample farm seed novelty never seen before by you. SALZER SEED CO., Box W, La Crosse, Wis.

320 Acres of Wheat Land IN WESTERN CANADA WILL MAKE YOU RICH

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Fifty bushels per acre have been grown. General average greater than in any other part of the continent. Under new regulations it is possible to secure a homestead of 160 acres free, and additional 160 acres at $3 per acre.

"The development of the country has made marvelous strides. It is a revelation, a record of conquest by settlement that is remarkable."—Extract from correspondence of a National Editor, who visited Canada in August last.

The grain crop of 1908 will net many farmers $20.00 to $25.00 per acre. Grain-raising, mixed farming and dairying are the principal industries. Climate is excellent; social conditions the best; railway advantages unequalled; schools, churches and markets close at hand. Land may also be purchased from railway and land companies.

For "Last Best West" pamphlets, maps and information as to how to secure lowest railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

SALZER'S SEED BARGAINS

A Big Garden for 16c

Everybody loves earliest vegetables and brilliant flowers. Therefore to gain you as a customer we offer:

1000	kernels	Fine Onion Seed.
1000	"	Rich Carrot Seed.
1000	"	Celery, 100 Parsley.
1000	"	Juicy Radish Seed.
1500	"	Buttery Lettuce Seed.
1500	"	Tender Turnip Seed.
1500	"	Sweet Rutabaga Seed.
100	"	Melons, 100 Tomato.
1200		Brilliant Flowering Annuals.

In all 10,000 kernels of warranted northern grown seeds, well worth $1.00 of any man's money (including Big Catalog) all post paid for but 16c in stamps. Above seeds will easily produce $60.00 worth of rich vegetables and beautiful flowers. And if you send 20c we add a package of Earliest Peep O'Day Sweet Corn.

SALZER'S SEED AND PLANT CATALOG
Most original seed book ever published. Brim full of bristling seed thoughts. Gladly mailed to all intending buyers free; write today.

John A. Salzer Seed Co.
Box W. La Crosse, Wis.

COLDS

CURED IN ONE DAY

Munyon's Cold Remedy Relieves the head, throat and lungs almost immediately. Checks Fevers, stops Discharges of the nose, takes away all aches and pains caused by colds. It cures Grip and obstinate Coughs and prevents Pneumonia. Price 25c.

Have you stiff or swollen joints, no matter how chronic? Ask your druggist for Munyon's Rheumatism Remedy and see how quickly you will be cured.

If you have any kidney or bladder trouble get Munyon's Kidney Remedy.

Munyon's Vitalizer makes weak men strong and restores lost powers.

Prof. Munyon has just issued a Magazine-Almanac, which will be sent free to any person who addresses

The Munyon Company, Philadelphia.

6% QUARTERLY

We pay interest every three months at the rate of six per cent. yearly. Our investments are all in mortgages on New York City real estate. Twenty years' experience in New York real estate. Principal and interest guaranteed. Communications confidential. Write:

Liberty Financial & Security Co.,
CITY INVESTING BUILDING, NEW YORK CITY

Burlington Seeds ARE THE BEST

WE MEAN IT

Our seeds are always new and always grow. No matter whether you want flower or vegetable seeds, insist on getting Burlington seeds. Ask your dealer. If he doesn't keep them write us and we will send you full list and one package of seeds free.

N. J. BURT & COMPANY, Burlington, Iowa

VAST WEALTH OF FISH—Through Seattle

Of all the varied resources that enrich Seattle, not the least is the yield of fish. Just take the salmon pack of Puget Sound and Alaska for 1908. This totals 2,934,932 cases, of which 82,031 cases were lost at sea, leaving a net available supply of 2,852,901 cases, representing a value of $12,060,2031

But Fish, and Apples, and Gold, and Battleships, and Multiplying Population, all merge their forces into the greatest fortune-maker of all—Seattle's CENTRAL BUSINESS PROPERTY, which my company has made it so easily possible for all—for you—to own, whether your means be large or small, and no matter where you live. Let me send you some of the astonishing facts to verify when you come to our "A.-Y.-P." Fair next summer. Write to me now.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

SPOHN'S LIQUID DISTEMPER CURE

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fever

Sure cure and positive preventive, no matter how horses at any age are infected or "exposed." Liquid, given on the tongue; acts on the Blood and Glands; expels the poisonous germs from the body. Cures Distemper in Dogs and Sheep and Cholera in Poultry. Largest selling live stock remedy. Cures La Grippe among human beings and is a fine Kidney remedy. 50c and $1 a bottle, $5 and $10 a dozen. Cut this out. Keep it. Show to your druggist, who will get it for you. Free Booklet, "Distemper, Causes and Cures." Special agents wanted.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.

Just Dust it on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.

GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery

FOR COUGHS COLDS — PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free

AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.

GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
435 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York

U.S. CREAM SEPARATOR

If you keep cows you need a U. S. Separator to make them yield the biggest profit. It will make the most money for you because it skims cleaner than any other separator. It will save you more than any other because it needs less time, labor and repairs to run it. Look a U. S. over for yourself. For sale by

ELL BROS.

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

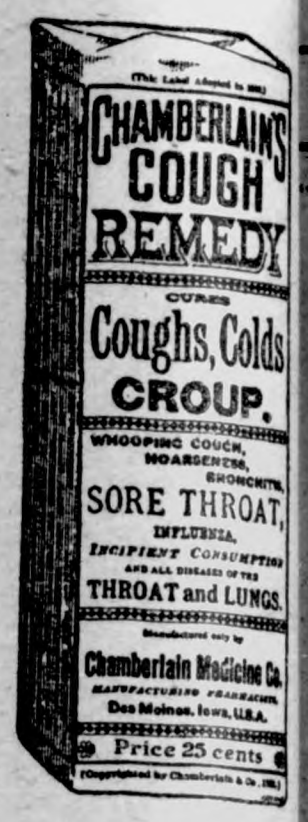
There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.



Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

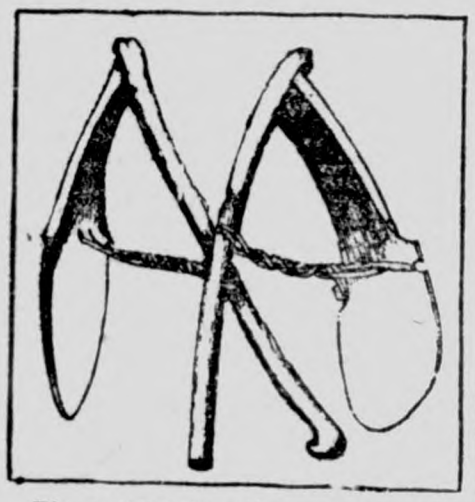
A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

HOES MADE OF WOOD.



The ancient Egyptians used wooden hoes. The blades and handles were simply inserted the one into the other and bound together with a twisted rope.

Small Channel Island.

Jethou island is by far the smallest of the channel islands, and boasts the distinction of being the smallest inhabited island in Europe, having, indeed, only one dwelling house upon it. It has a population of seven souls. It has no road or pathway or post. At the last census more than half the population of the island was absent, having gone into Guernsey market with the butter and cream from the Jethou cows. The weather being bad, the visitors had to stay at Guernsey during the census time.

Secured Veteran Catfish.

Nearly asleep reading about a bear coming up a bank after a hunter, Howard Davidheiser was almost pulled into the water by a sudden pull ing at his rod while fishing at Sanaoga Lake, Pa. The rod did finally break, but Davidheiser managed to land his prize, an ancient catfish over inches long. He was badly stung the thumb, however, and his hand swelled to alarming proportions. Half dozen hooks were found inside the fish, an indication of how crafty he had been in escaping from the anglers.

Good Old Stock.

"Have ye anny ancisters, Mrs. Kelly?" asked Mrs. O'Brien.

"An' what's ancisters?"

"Why, people you shprung from."

"Listen to me, Mrs. O'Brien," said Mrs. Kelly, impressively. "I come from the rale stock of Donahues, thot shpring from nobody. They shpring from him!"

THERE ARE OTHERS.

"I am proud to say that my grandfather made his mark in the world."

"Well, I suppose he wasn't the only man in those days who couldn't write his name!"

How He Hunted Bear.

A New York Irishman was visiting a friend in the Adirondacks and was taken with a desire to go hunting. Borrowing a gun from his friend he set off alone in search of game. Some time after his host heard a distant report of a gun. A few minutes later he heard some one shouting. From a window he spied, in the distance, his friend, hot-footing it for home, and behind him a bear, gaining at every step. Nearly spent, the pursued reached the door just in time to cry out:

"Quick, Mike! Quick! Open the door! I'm bringing him home aloive!"

A Complete Defense.

An Irish woman was accused of having stolen an iron soap kettle and cracked it, so that its usefulness was ended.

Her defense, when brought before the judge, was as follows: "Oi have witnesses here, yer honor, t' prove, first, that Oi niver had th' kittle in me possession; second, that Oi returned it t' Mrs. Casey widout a crack in it; and, third, that th' old kittle was cracked whin Oi s'hole it."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 30 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, FEB. 25, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

SAVE PART of the money you make and put it in the bank. Put just five dollars a week in our bank and in twenty-five years this sum and the interes on it will be a snug fortune.

We will pay you a liberal rate of interest on your money.

Remember we are here for your convenience and want your banking business.

Capital and Surplus $25,500.00

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

North Elevator

—FOR—

Seeds! Seeds! Seeds!

Medium Red Clover
Mammoth Red Clover
Alsike Clover
Timothy—extra fancy

My seeds comply with the Iowa Pure Seed Laws.

☞ Place your orders now—my prices are right.

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J.W.WATERMAN

ALL IN TWAIN'S IMAGINATION.

Mark's Story of Petrified Indian Good Joke on Town.

The days when "Sam" Clemens "stuck type" on the Hannabal Union are recalled by this anecdote: One morning "Sam" came into the office very thoughtful, hung up his coat and went to the frame. He worked diligently for several hours without any copy on his small-cap case in front of him. He was setting up the story of a wonderful find he and some of his comrades found in McDougal's cave the Sunday before. The narration was to the effect that a crowd of boys, while exploring the great cave on Sunday afternoon, ran across a petrified Indian. The citizens were greatly worked up over the story, and they hired a scientist from Quincy to look the dead Indian in the face and report. The man who came to perform this task wore gray mutton-chop whiskers, a thoughtful brow, and spectacles, of course. He was an unemotional chap, and he looked learned and the committee was satisfied of his ability. By the terms of his contract he was to write a complete report, detailing every possible feature of the discovery for historical preservation. The investigator returned at nightfall, covered with clay, with clothing torn and skin barked in countless places by falls of rocks. He sought out the chairman of the committee that employed him and silently delivered to him this statement: "Mileage in looking for dead Indian, $20; reading story about dead Indian, $5; bruised shins on the way to dead Indian, $10. Report: There was no dead Indian."—Macon (Mo.) Republican.

SCRAPBOOK OF MUCH INTEREST.

Newspaper Criticism Treasured by German Crown Prince.

Among the German crown prince's most treasured possessions is a scrapbook containing over 1,000 pages of adverse criticism. The first 500 pages are inscribed with a gold lettered heading: "I hope I am not like this!" Some of the most outspoken comments, says the Gentlewoman, are accompanied by marginal notes in the prince's own handwriting—such as "the enemy's voice is no less interesting than the friend's."

The second and third parts of the book deal respectively with the crown princess, her children and the Grand Duchess Anastasia, the princess' mother. This volume is considered of too private a nature to be available to all and sundry, so it is sealed by a massive lock, keys of which are possessed only by the crown prince and his wife.

Not the Yellow Kind.

William Allen White is wedded to Emporia, Kan., and the newspaper editorial desk which he there adorns. But about twice a year Mr. White, out of a hard sense of duty, wrenches up stakes and comes east.

"Why, Mr. White," exclaimed one woman whom he met at luncheon, "aren't you a little stouter than when I saw you last?"

"Probably," said White, "quite probably. I usually am."

The same afternoon Mr. White sat in a box at a matinee and looked out over the audience with no small degree of interest. "It's much darker than the last time I was here," he murmured.

"Darker?" repeated his host.

"Yes. How fashions in hair change! Now only a few years ago this would have been like looking over a box of lemons."—Philadelphia Record.

Contest Doomed to Failure.

In a club composed of young people in New York, which was originally organized for bridge purposes, the chafing dish has become the prime feature, and prizes are sought for by the creators of "new dishes, nicely prepared and moderate in cost." One member, who would never have joined except for his fondness for the game, said: "It's all very interesting for the people who like those things, and I would enjoy the cooking bees myself if it were not for the fact that one must eat the creations to be polite. I have been a close observer since the contest began, and am sure that every woman thinks that the dishes suggested by others are horrid. And I agree with them, and am sure that a row will come in at the finish."

HOW long have they been in business? An answer to this question is necessary to fix the standing of any business house. Before any concern can claim rank in the business world, its stability must be proven by the test of time. And the longer it has been in business with an honorable record, the higher it is rated by public opinion.

It takes time to show whether a bank is conducted on a policy of safety and conservatism.

This bank has a history of over fifteen years of successful business and satisfactory service to Klemme people.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

A. F. HUBBARD

AUCTIONEER.

I would be pleased to cry your sales this season at reasonable terms. Livestock a specialty. Make dates with either banks at Klemme. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Address—Ventura, Iowa,
R. F. D. No. 2.

Toilet and Fancy Goods.

Toilet soaps, bath soaps, infent powders, sachet powders face powders, tooth powders, dressing and fine combs.

PAINTS and OILS

Strictly pure white lead. Colors dry and in oil Turpentine and varnishes. Window shades and trimmings.

Customers will fiud our stock complete in every respect. We are constantly adding every new novel and meritorious article that comes within our line of business. If you see a medicine advertised and want it, we will gladly get it for you if we do not have it.

Call and see us—your patronage is always appreciated, no matter how small your purchase, and you may rest assured it will be our constant aim to sell you the best that can be obtained and at reasonable prices.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

KLEMME IOWA

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

INDICTMENTS FOR EDITORS

GRAND JURY ACTS IN CANAL LIBEL CASE.

New York World and Indianapolis News Chiefs Charged with Vilifying President and Others.

Washington.—Bench warrants were issued Wednesday for the arrest of Joseph Pulitzer, Caleb M. Van Hamm and Robert H. Lyman of New York, proprietor and editors of the New York World, and for Delevan Smith and Charles R. Williams, owners of the Indianapolis News, for criminal libel in connection with the publication in those newspapers of charges of irregularities in the purchase by the United States government of the Panama canal property from the French owners.

The indictments on which the warrants were based were returned by the United States grand jury sitting in this city and the warrants were issued later by the clerk of criminal court No. 1. The warrants are directed against all five of the natural defendants of the two newspapers. The summons requires the corporate defendant (the Press Publishing Company) of New York to appear in court forthwith to answer to indictment.

Theodore Roosevelt, William H. Taft, Elihu Root, J. Pierpont Morgan, Charles P. Taft, Douglas Robinson and William Nelson Cromwell are named in the indictments as the persons alleged to have been villified by the stories appearing in the two newspapers.

Copies of the summons and of the indictment were served Wednesday evening upon the Press Publishing Company by services on Otto Carmichael, its agent in this jurisdiction. The certified copies will be filed with United States Commissioner John R. Shields, in New York, who will issue warrants for the arrest of the natural defendants of the New York World who will be brought before him to show cause why they should not be extradicted to this jurisdiction for trial.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Delavin Smith, Charles R. Williams, owners of the Indianapolis News, who were indicted by the federal grand jury in Washington Wednesday, announced that they will contest extradition to the District of Columbia for trial on the ground that it was committed in Indianapolis, the place of the publication of the News.

BOMB TERRORIST NABBED.

Plot to Abduct Kansas City Merchant Is Foiled.

Kansas City, Mo. — Held at bay by a revolver and a dynamite bomb in the hands of a determined stranger who obtained entrance to his home Tuesday, Lawrence M. Jones, president of the Jones Bros. Dry Goods Company, and one of the wealthiest merchants in the city, was given the alternative of death upon failure to hand over $7,000. He overpowered the man in a desperate struggle after his wife and son had also been brought to face death at the hands of the blackmailer.

In the arrest of the man, who gave his name as C. H. Garnett of Omaha, the police believe a well laid plot to extort money from several wealthy men has been bared. Following the confession of the prisoner, a house in a lonely spot in Independence was explored and found to have been prepared as a prison for the man's intended victims. Secret closets were found in which heavy chains, fastened to rings in the walls, were found, along with strong padlocks and bars. Garnett said that the house had been rented and the prison like features installed so that his victims might be held until he had obtained what money possible and made his escape.

MURDERER OF GIRL CONFESSES.

William Gagle Tells of Luring Child from Home and Slaying Her.

Chicago. — William Gagle arrested on charges of having attacked two South Chicago girls, confessed to the police Tuesday that he killed little Lizzie Schrader of Gary, Ind., more than a year ago, while she was carrying lunch to her father.

The confession was made to Capt. Halpin of the South Chicago police station, Chief of Police Rimbach of Hammond and Chief of Police Martin of Gary, Ind. The theory that Gagle was the murderer of the little girl whose dismembered body was found in the woods near Tolleston, Ind., was suggested by Gagle himself, who, while being examined in regard to the attack on his two latest victims, jumped from his chair and shouted:

"I attacked those girls, but I never killed Lizzie Schrader."

The death of the Schrader girl had not been mentioned.

One of Them Knelt Before the Door, Evidently Trying to Unlock It.

The SMUGGLER

BY ELLA MIDDLETON TYBOUT

COPYRIGHT 1907 BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO

ILLUSTRATED BY RAY WALTERS

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls -- Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. Elise shared her stateroom with a Mrs. Graham, also bound for Canada. The young women on a sightseeing tour met Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented. Two men called. They proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett, one a friend of Elizabeth's father. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. Fearing for the safety of some gems, Lady Edith left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his actions on board ship and returned the lost bag. Exploring the cellar, one of the girls found a sphinx cuff-buton, the exact counterpart of which both Gordon Bennett and Lady Edith were found to possess, also. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. Lady Edith told a story of a lost love in connection with the sphinx key. At a supper, which was held on the rocks, Elizabeth rather mysteriously lost her ring, causing a search by the entire party. Gabrielle witnessed a stormy scene between Lady Edith and Lord Wilfrid, red roses being the cause of the latter's anger. Mary Anne brought back Elizabeth's ring. Elise went sailing with Gordon Bennett. He tried to persuade her to return the jewels left in the girl's care by Lady Edith. He told her he found the sphinx scarf pin, the counterpart of which Lady Edith owned.

CHAPTER XIII.

"How well Lady Edith looks in evening dress!" remarked Elizabeth, as we discussed the events of the evening after the departure of our guests.

"Mr. Blake evidently thought so," returned Gabrielle. "He had eyes for no one else.

"And Lord Wilfrid looked awfully distinguished," continued Elizabeth. "His quiet, reserved manner is very impressive, don't you think so? The Americans simply were not in it with the English."

"Blood will tell," said Gabrielle, who poses as being very democratic, but is at heart a thorough aristocrat.

"And Mary Anne's entrees were perfection," resumed Elizabeth, with great satisfaction. "She is a treasure. To think of cooking and serving that dinner all herself! What does it matter to such a genius if she has a dozen worthless sons?"

"What indeed?" I acquiesced, yawning, and proposed bed, but the others objected, saying that it was not late and they were very wide awake.

"Let's have a prowl," suggested Gabrielle, who loved to wander about the cottage and look at the ocean from all points of the compass the last thing before retiring, as though she expected it to vanish during the night and must make the most of her time.

"Not in thin slippers," I protested, "and good clothes."

"There is no grass up here," she replied, "and we can hold up our skirts. Do come, Elizabeth, just for a little while."

I was sorry I had not gone also as soon as they turned the corner, and, picking up my long skirt carefully, started in pursuit. I saw, however, that they were deep in one of the heart to heart conversations in which they sometimes indulged, and decided not to interrupt them, but to wait until they came back to earth and remembered my existence. So, after a moment's hesitation, I sat down on the steps leading to the slip, knowing they would certainly visit it before they went in, as it was Gabrielle's favorite view. Even to-night, when there was no moon and the outlook was therefore limited, I was sure she would not desert it.

Resting my chin in my hand, I reviewed the evening, which, from my own private and particular standpoint, had been a failure. Elizabeth had mentioned Lord Wilfrid's reserved manner, but to me he had seemed distinctly sulky, and I had more than once seen his sister look at him appealingly, and at last with an indignant sparkle in her brown eyes, after which he roused himself and conversed in a perfunctory manner with his neighbor—who happened to be my unfortunate self.

Now, I had fully intended to impress Gordon Bennett with the fact that he was still under the ban of my displeasure, and in the privacy of my own room had rehearsed a dignified bearing and certain imaginary speeches I thought would be very effective. It was therefore somewhat disconcerting to be politely ignored by the gentleman in question, who, beyond a civil bow and smile, had appeared unaware of my existence and had devoted himself exclusively to Elizabeth, who looked especially pretty in her pale blue princess gown, and whose nose, being entirely guiltless of sunburn, did not shine.

The air of jollity which had distinguished our little impromptu feasts seemed to me lacking on this more formal occasion. It was as though our guests had put on another personality with their evening clothes, and I found it unfamiliar and hard to tolerate.

Lady Edith, to be sure, was a joy to behold, and talked with unusual brilliancy. Her white shoulders and golden hair were strikingly accentuated by her low-cut black gown, and the color came and went in her cheeks like the fitful spark of an opal.

Mr. Blake, the quiet, the self-contained, beside whom she was placed, let his soup grow cold as he looked at her, and had evidently forgotten the presence of any one else long before the appearance of the salad. By the time coffee arrived I decided he was hopelessly lost, and felt a sincere sympathy for him, for in the lace of her bodice gleamed the little gold key, and I knew it locked all men but one out of her heart.

I felt very sorry for them both, in the light of my recently acquired information. There were shadows beneath her eyes, and a repressed restlessness of manner which I attributed to overtaxed nerves, for I knew she felt it incumbent upon her to make a special effort to be agreeable, since the dinner was given in her honor. Perhaps, I reflected, the anniversary brought with it painful memories of other days, and for her sake as well as my own, I wished it were over.

Well, it was over, and our guests had been gone for an hour, though it was now but 11 o'clock. I imagined Gordon Bennett and his friend arriving at their island and discussing us over their cigars, with doubtless a cooling and stimulating beverage to refresh them after their exertions, and I would have liked to hear what they said.

Gabrielle often remarks that she never hears ice clink in a glass and smells a good cigar that she does not wish she were a man, and secretly I sympathize with her, although I always make a point of disagreeing in a slightly superior manner, as though such things were beneath contempt.

I was thinking of this now in a dreamy, half-conscious way, when I suddenly became aware that I actually smelled a cigar—and a very good one. Moreover, the odor came from beneath, and as the steps led directly to the slip the conclusion was forced upon me that some one was down there. Curiously enough, I was not frightened, but decidedly indignant. Some one was taking a great liberty with private property, I thought, and I wished I were brave enough to go down and order him—or them—away, forthwith.

There was, as I said, no moon, and I could not positively distinguish anything as I peered down into the darkness, but thought I saw a point of light like the end of a cigar, and certainly heard a subdued murmur of voices.

In another instant the slip and everything upon it stood out against the darkness with the clearness and accuracy of a picture thrown upon a screen, its every detail distinct and visible. After an incredulous moment, I understood, for I recognized the broad beam of white light which fell across the water with dazzling brilliancy. Our friend the searchlight had paid us many visits since that first night upon the slip, and we had come to regard it with an amused tolerance, and to watch for it, especially on dark nights or in bad weather. We seldom watched in vain, for it was a persistent and hard-working light and explored the island, or at least our end of it, with painstaking thoroughness and regularity.

So I sat in the sheltering darkness on the top of the steps and looked down upon the illuminated slip, while my heart thumped audibly and I wished most ardently I had never ventured out.

For there were two men upon it, and an unlighted steam launch waited beside it. One of them knelt before the door of the boathouse, evidently trying to unlock it, while the other watched with interest, and finally produced a bunch of keys from his own pocket and selected one as he handed them to his companion, with apparent directions how to apply it. And I saw plainly that the man who supplied the keys was Gordon Bennett, who, with his friend Mr. Blake, was trying to force an entrance into our boathouse.

Another instant, and I sprang to my feet and fled incontinently, my fingers in my ears and my progress sadly hampered by the long trailing skirt over which I tripped and stumbled, and which, I will remark in passing, was irrevocably ruined.

I do not know why I ran, nor why I stopped up my ears, since I had not heard a word of any kind, and was certainly in no personal danger; but I rushed wildly on and finally cast myself breathless upon my bed, my pulses throbbing painfully and my whole being quivering with a sense of shame. For I had so nearly loved him. I knew it now, even as I knew his unworthiness. Had he not lied to me that afternoon? Lied about so simple a matter that I should then understood he had something to ceal—something of which to ashamed. And now he was tryi force an entrance to the boat But why? Was he a common thi

"Oh, no," I cried, aloud; "no, that!"

Then I sat suddenly upright, remembered the safe in the d room, with the jewels locked i the pearls which belonged to Edith's mother—and I remem also my indiscreet disclosures garding it, and the questions he asked even while professing his proval—keen, searching questio to the exact location of the safe the form of lock upon it. And told him everything he wanted to willingly.

"Oh!" I cried again. "I'm a and he knew it, and used me tool."

Therein lay the chief sting. He used me as a tool, and my wo vanity was wounded to the quic

Going into the next room, I l out of the open window, lookin ward the ocean and watching something, I was not sure what. searchlight was at work again, a its light I saw a little dark boat away from our slip and make its toward the point of the island. I see two figures in its stern, so I the key had not been successful our boathouse was still closed. I posed also that the presence of searchlight had frightened them and felt grateful for it.

I heard the voices of the girls returned to my own room, hastily moving my dress and slipping bed. To-morrow I would tell them not to-night—I could not talk to I could not even think.

"She's sound asleep," whispered brielle, after an inquiring peep the bed. "It must be later than thought."

"It's awful the way we forget flight of time when we get to talk returned Elizabeth remorsefully, they lowered their light and softly, in order not to disturb me.

But I lay with widely opened staring into the darkness, long their quiet breathing told me had gone peacefully to sleep. How the pillow was! I turned it restl hoping the other side might con soporific influence and I could away from the tormenting, ever ring question, what did he wa there? So far as we knew, the was empty; why, then, should man want to force an entrance?

Perhaps, after all, it was no that could not be explained. I write him in the morning and tell quite frankly what I had seen, and for an explanation. And he, of co would answer promptly. Then membered the scarf-pin of the Sp head, and knew that any explan no matter how plausible, would ways be accompanied by a doub my own mind.

I remembered something else Mrs. Bundy's emeralds, and the position that the one who took had departed without waiting breakfast. Had he not by his showing left the hotel very early deed the morning after the storm

I tried to put this thought from me, but it returned again again with hideous pertinacity, after a long time, my senses be dulled and I fell into an uneasy where I heard Lady Edith dema her mother's pearls of Gordon nett, while he insisted he was h them set into side-combs for me could not, therefore, comply with request.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

A Noiseless Room.

For many physical researches a fectly noiseless room is a desider If such could be devised it would out new possibilities of research the Univesity of Utrecht the pro has been apparently success solved by the room designed Zwaardemaker. The walls and ing of the room are 11 inches t and are formed of six separate la The first consists of a feltlike rial of horsehair, known as t piese, this is followed by a laye porous stone isolated from the by sheet lead. An air space of an inch is followed by wood, then a course of ground cork sand. The final layer is of spec prepared ground cork, known korkstein.

South American Inns.

A traveler who recently returne Philadelphia was narrating some his experiences in South America a banquet of globe trotters. He skirted the entire coast of So America and had found the inns hotels in most sections very poor. bad were they in Peru, he said, one American who had been thr into jail pending some dispute his papers and after his release sought the hotel of the town, retur the next day to the jail and beg that he might be taken in.

The most curious sign he had was in the window of a restaurant Buenos Ayres, which read: "Ameri cafe—champagne and fried potato —Philadelphia Record.

IS BALDNESS DOOMED?

Baltimore Specialist Says It Is Unnecessary, and Proves It.

Baltimore, Feb. 21.—The intense interest in the wonderful work that is being accomplished in Baltimore and other cities by Wm. Chas. Keene, president of the Lorrimer Institute, continues unabated. Many cases of baldness and faded hair of years' standing have been remedied by the remarkable preparation being distributed from Mr. Keene's laboratory, and its fame is spreading far and wide and thousands of persons are using this remarkable hair food with gratifying results.

What makes this treatment more popular is the fact that free trial outfits are sent by mail prepaid. Those who wish to try it are strongly advised to write to Mr. Keene at the Lorrimer Institute, Branch 209, Baltimore, Md. They will receive the full trial outfit free of charge and much useful information about the hair which will put them on the road to a rapid and certain improvement.

THE BUGVILLE BASEBALL GAME.

Jim Ant—Run, fellows run!
Bill Beetle—What's up?
Jim Ant—Why, here comes the fly cop!

Professor Munyon has just issued a most beautiful, useful and complete Almanac; it contains not only all the scientific information concerning the moon's phases, in all the latitudes, but has illustrated articles on how to read character by phrenology, palmistry and birth month. It also tells all about card reading, birth stones and their meaning, and gives the interpretation of dreams. It teaches beauty culture, manicuring, gives weights and measures, and antidotes for poison. In fact, it is a Magazine Almanac, that not only gives valuable information, but will afford much amusement for every member of the family, especially for parties and evening entertainments. Farmers and people in the rural districts will find this Almanac almost invaluable.

It will be sent to anyone absolutely free on application to the MUNYON REMEDY COMPANY, PHILADELPHIA.

Poor Pat.

The surgeon of a large hospital was paying a visit to the patients when he come to a cot whereon lay an Irishman who was not bearing his pain very bravely, for he was groaning loudly.

"Oh, come, my poor fellow," remonstrated the surgeon, "try and bear your pain like a man. It's no use kicking against Fate."

"Shure, you're roight, sorr," groaned the Irishman, who had been severely kicked by a mule, "'specially whin they're the fate of a mule!"—Exchange.

No Heed Paid to Begging Letters.

As nearly as can be ascertained, the wealthy persons of New York city receive 35,000 begging letters a day from strangers, and the writers stand a better chance of finding money than in getting from them, for even the most liberal of philanthropists do not dispense their charity excepting according to careful plans and after investigation.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

The churches in the Hawaiian islands number 101, and the membership is 6,903, but the accessions last year were only 595—less than nine per cent.

Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes Relieved by Murine Eye Remedy. Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Conforms to Pure Food and Drug Laws. Murine Doesn't Smart; Soothes Eye Pain. Try Murine in Your Eyes. At Druggists.

If a woman had any other excuse than "because" for falling in love with a man she probably wouldn't do it.

Stiff neck! Doesn't amount to much, but mighty disagreeable. You've no idea how quickly a little Hamlins Wizard Oil will lubricate the cords and make you comfortable again.

When a man's heart is broken by a woman he employs some other woman to mend it.

No harmful drugs in Garfield Tea, Nature's laxative—it is composed wholly of clean, sweet, health-giving Herbs! For constipation, liver and kidney troubles.

What you call temper in your wife you call temperament in yourself.

IN DRASTIC FORM

CLARKSON BILL REPEALS PRESENT REQUIREMENT.

PASSED BY A VOTE OF 37 TO 8

Clarkson, the "Coal Miner" Senator, Led the Fight on the Floor.

Des Moines.—An employers' liability law more drastic than even the federal statute, passed by the senate after a spirited fight led by Clarkson, the "coal miner" senator, author of the bill, and Senator Gilliland, whose amendment was voted down. In its present form the Clarkson bill, S. F. 81, which is a substitute for the present law and far broader, provides that an employe may recover damages for injury even though guilty of contributory negligence; that no notice of dangerous conditions need be given by the employe; that heirs and assigns as well as dependent relatives shall have the right of recovery; and that the amount of damages in case of contributory negligence on the part of the employe shall be graded. In the federal statute, heretofore considered broad, recovery is limited to the injured person and dependent relatives. In the present Iowa law, written notice of needed repairs and unsafe conditions is required of the employe.

Fathers Black Plaque Bill.

Representative Eli Perkins of Delaware county has consented to father the famous W. C. T. U. and Mothers' Congress bill providing for regulation of those afflicted with the dread "black plague." It provides that a commission of three physicians be named in each city or town. To them every doctor must report every case of black plague. The party infected is then put under bond. If he or she acts in a manner that in any way tends to spread the disease, the commission goes into court and sues the party on the bond. Then the name of the party is made public and he or she must stand for the ignominy thereto attached. If the party under treatment behaves himself or herself, the name is not made public, and on the other hand is destroyed as soon as the period of infection is passed.

Anti-Trust Bill.

To stamp out trusts and combinations which he declares control the price of necessities in Iowa, Representative Charles W. Miller of Bremer county will introduce a bill which, if passed, would give this state the most comprehensive and sweeping anti-trust law on the statute books of any state in the union. A comprehensive definition of what constitutes a trust or monopoly is contained in the first two sections of the bill, and according to its author these definitions hit every form of combine which he believes should be stamped out, including the doctors' trust, the grocers' trust, combinations of ice dealers and coal men.

Crozier's Win Ends Fight.

George W. Crozier, democrat, will retain his seat in the house of representatives from Marion county. On the face of the returns as made by the election judges of the county, Mr. Crozier had a majority of twenty-six, and the recount has added to this number but slightly. This concludes the house seat contests, Baxter, Ida county, being the only man returned by county boards who lost on a recount.

May Wear Beaux Frat Pins.

The house of representatives refused to go on record prohibiting a girl from wearing her sweetheart's frat pin or the wife of a lodge man from wearing her husband's lodge emblems. Because the Harding bill prohibiting the wearing of lodge emblems by non-lodge members did not contain procisions excepting women under such circumstances, it was sent back to the committee chamber.

Darrah Has Road Bill.

Representative Darrah from Lucas county has presented an important good roads bill in the house of representatives. It permits counties to issue bonds for good roads making, bridge building, drainage ditching and similar projects. The supervisors are also authorized to name a county engineer to have charge of all such work.

To Aid of Landladies.

Rooming house keepers will be permitted to take possession of trunks and other baggage of roomers who do not pay, if the Sullivan bill passes, as it doubtless will. Under the present law hotel keepers are given this privilege, but the proprietress of a rooming house has no effectual means of preventing a roomer from leaving town without paying his rent.

Work May Be In Vain.

Charles Miller, and his fight on the physicians' trust of the state, seems to be flourishing in the house, but there are definite indications that the senate is only waiting for some of the house bills to come before them, to apply a delicate, but decided frost. Miller seems to have a large part of house with him, and the radical legislation he is fathering has had the best of support, but these same measures will get little sympathy in the senate, and there are many indications that the quarantine laws of the state will remain as they are. Within a few days, bills will be introduced into the state, which are much more favorable to the board of health than would be possible to get past the house. In case the two bodies come to loggerheads on the proposition, the present laws will remain in force and Mr. Miller will have his work to do over again.

Strict Primary Law Proposed.

Scratching of primary ballots is eliminated in a bill introduced in the house of representatives by Balluff of Scott county. His bill provides that instead of voting for all party candidates on one blanket primary ballot, each party shall have a separate ticket and all shall be fastened together. The voter votes the ticket he wishes, hands it to the judge and the other unused tickets are destroyed. The bill makes it impossible for a voter to vote for some of the candidates on one ticket and some on another unless he writes the name on the ticket he votes of a candidate on another ticket. The bill provides that counties shall pay the expenses of primaries. Koontz of Iowa county introduced an amendment to the primary law making it possible for voters to vote a primary ballot on voting machines.

Powers of Cities Increased.

The municipal bill drawn up by Robert O. Brennan, has been introduced in the senate by Senator Dowell of Polk county. In order to acquire public utilities, a city is allowed under the bill the right to borrow money, issuing negotiable bonds for it. The city is given the further right to levy upon all property within the corporate limits, in addition to all other taxes now provided by law, a special tax not exceeding in any one year five mills on the dollar, for not to exceed twenty years. The city is also given a right to grant to any firm or corporation not to exceed twenty-five-year franchises and privileges to use the streets for the construction of gas or water works, electric light or power plants, heating plants, telephone or telegraph systems, interurban or street railways or other public service utilities.

White Slave Bill.

The white slave traffic will be prevented in Iowa if the bill introduced by Senator Saunders is enacted. It is modeled upon the Illinois law, which has been most successful in Chicago, Springfield and other cities of that state. It fixes a sentence of from one to ten years as the punishment for violation of the law, and provides that it shall be unlawful to detain any female for immoral purposes against her will. The bill was recommended some months ago by Assistant State's Attorney Clifford G. Roe of Chicago when he came to Des Moines at the time of the closing of the "red light district." Mr. Roe helped to frame the Illinois law.

Ask for Absolute Prohibition.

Again the fight for prohibition is on in Iowa. Senator George B. Cosson, chairman of the senate committee on suppression of intemperance, has received three petitions, each bearing several hundred names of men and women, and each asking the legislature to re-submit to the people of the state the constitutional amendmen providing for absolute prohibition.

To Raise Jurors' Pay.

Jurors' pay was voted increased by the senate when it passed the judiciary committee bill, H. F. 179, raising the per diem of jurors in courts of record from $2 to $2.50, and giving them 10 cents per mile. No milcage, however, is to be paid jurors in justice courts. The raise in pay, if made a law will apply also to the veniremen.

Passes Many Bills.

The senate has passed the bill to permit second-class cities to levy a 3-mill tax for fire purposes and in case of cities of ten thousands and five mills tax; bill to authorize schools and churches to vote tax and for hospitals and libraries; bill to admit dependent fathers to soldiers' home; bill increasing aid to county fairs and several legalizing acts.

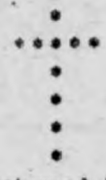
Ills New Auto Register.

Members of the house killed the Meredith act, asking that the secretary of state be empowered to print lists of the automobilists and hold them for sale at a price fixed by the executive council. Members expressed the belief that the lists were needed and desired only by the manufacturers of motor cars.

HERE'S A NEAT LITTLE PUZZLE.

Seems Simple, But Will Occupy You for a Few Minutes.

The Paris Temps publishes this story: "While in the Orient a Frenchman bought a diamond studded cross, which he sent to his wife in Paris. To guard against possible theft he notified her that counting from the bottom to the top there were seven diamonds, and counting from the bottom to the end of each branch there were also seven diamonds, thus:



"When he returned home he found that two diamonds had been stolen from the cross, but that from top to bottom the number was still seven, and that counting from the bottom up to either branch there were still seven diamonds, as designated by him in his letter of warning. Figure it out, it's a nice little puzzle."

THE BOY AS WE KNOW HIM.

All in This Particular Capacity Are Labor Savers.

Mrs. Belle De Rivera, whose special knowledge of public-school life has made her famous, narrated at a recent dinner a number of public-school episodes.

One concerned the small boy's winter hatred of cold water. "His teacher," began Mrs. De Rivera, "said one morning to a little boy:

"Jimmy, I'm ashamed of you. Your cheek is all black and sticky. Go to the hydrant and wash it.'

"Jimmy went out to the hydrant, moistened his wash rag, and rubbed soap over it. Then, rag in hand, he returned to the schoolroom.

"'Which cheek did you say?' he inquired."

HOME TONIC FOR OLD PEOPLE

Wonderful results, eventually restoring full physical vigor, are obtained from the following: To one-half pint good whiskey, add one ounce syrup sarsparilla and one ounce Toris compound, which can be procured from any druggist. Take in teaspoonful doses before each meal and before retiring.

THE VERY LAST.

"I'm so delighted to see you, major. I thought you had died."

"Died, madam? That's the last thing I'd do, madam."

Sounded Funny.

"The young man is smitten with you, Jeanette. He says you radiate happiness."

"Gracious!"

"And he also said you radiate beauty."

"My!"

"And wisdom."

"Dear me, how funny."

"What's funny, dear?"

"Why, he must think I am a radiator."

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Divorces in New York and Chicago.

New York city has its average number of divorces as compared with the cities of the United States. Chicago is the only city that is proportionately ahead of it. In New York there are two persons divorced to every 26 married.

30,000 ACRES WILD LAND. MORTON Co. No. Dak. Farms in Minnesota & Wisconsin. National Land Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

It's a good thing to have opinions—and it's a better thing to keep the lid on them sometimes.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS. PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Some men have no excuse for being sober when the lid is off.

Allen's Foot-Ease, a Powder For swollen, sweating feet. Gives instant relief. The original powder for the feet. 25c at all Druggists

A woman probably feels blue when she is green with envy.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Call a spade a spade, and you may get it in the neck.

Why doesn't some enterprising attorney write a book of unwritten laws?

A Cough, if neglected, often affects the Lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give relief. 25 cents a box. Samples sent free by John I. Brown & Son, Boston, Mass.

A man is never so utterly unoriginal as when he is lovemaking or praying.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE" That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

The common people believe without proof.—Tacitus.

Are You Protected

against pneumonia, which so often comes with a sudden chill, or congestion of the lungs—the results of neglected colds? If not you should have a safe and sure remedy at hand all the time.

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

has proved to be the most effective remedy known for colds, coughs, pneumonia, bronchitis, inflammation of chest and lungs. It relieves and cures the disease by removing the cause. Get it today and you'll be ready for tomorrow.

Sold everywhere in three size bottles, $1 00, 50c, 25c.

Tired Women

can get back the strength they used to have if they will take a treatment of the famous tonic-laxative herb tea,

Lane's Family Medicine

(called also Lane's Tea)

Its cost is only 25 cents a package and a package will last a month.

It cures backache, sideache, bearing-down pains, indigestion and constipation.

All druggists sell it, 25c.

45 to 50 Bu. of Wheat Per Acre

have been grown on farm lands in

WESTERN CANADA

Much less would be satisfactory. The general average is above twenty bushels.

"All are loud in their praises of the great crops and that wonderful country."—Extract from correspondence National Editorial Association of August, 1908.

It is now possible to secure a homestead of 160 acres free and another 160 acres at $3.00 per acre. Hundreds have paid the cost of their farms (if purchased) and then had a balance of from $10.00 to $12.00 per acre from one crop. Wheat, barley, oats, flax—all do well. Mixed farming is a great success and dairying is highly profitable. Excellent climate, splendid schools and churches, railways bring most every district within easy reach of market. Railway and land companies have lands for sale at low prices and on easy terms.

"Last Best West" pamphlets and maps sent free. For these and information as to how to secure lowest railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

P. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

BILLION $ GRASS

Costs 60c—90c per acre for seed.

Most wonderful grass of the century, yielding from 5 to 10 tons of hay per acre and lots of pasture besides. It simply grows, grows, grows! Cut it today and in 4 weeks it looks for the mower again, and so on. Grows and flourishes everywhere, on every farm in America. Cheap as dirt; luxuriant as the bottom lands of Egypt. Big seed catalog free or send 10c in stamps and receive sample of this wonderful grass, also of Speltz, the cereal wonder, Barley, Oats, Clovers, Grasses, etc., etc., and catalog free. Or send 14c and we will add a sample farm seed novelty never seen by you before.

SALZER SEED CO., Box W. La Crosse, Wis.

Virginia Farms and Homes

FREE CATALOGUE OF SPLENDID BARGAINS.
R. B. CHAFFIN & CO., Inc., Richmond, Va.

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of

HARDWARE

—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. SCOTT

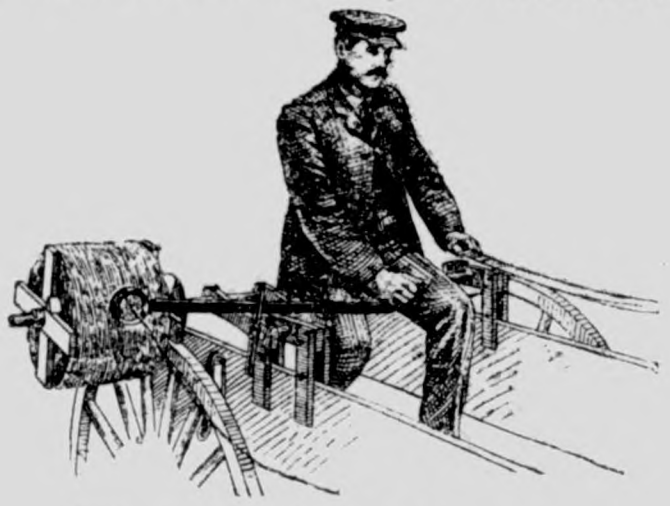
GENERAL BLACKSMITHING HORSE SHOEING A

SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL



Farm Machinery.

Yes Sir! We mean just what we say. "A penna saved means a penna earned" and you can do this by going to H. Lau & Son and buy you a first-class "A Grade Surrey" and top buggy and Dane mower and Dane hay loaders, buckers, stackers, 20 century Kemp manure spreaders. You can also buy cultivator plows, binders, mowers, hay rakes, Jones scales, harnesses, flynets, lap dusters, whips, oils of all kinds, tile spades, barb and smoot wires, fence stapels and other farm implements. Royal Tailors tight fit suits. They will keep style and collor, fit guaranteed.

H. Lau & Son.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.

TIMOTHY WAS READY FOR HIM.

Driver's Glib Explanation that Disarmed the Inspector.

John D. Rockefeller, at the end of a day's testimony in the government suit against the Standard Oil Company, talked to a group of reporters. The subject of quick-wittedness came up, and Mr. Rockefeller said:

"As quick-witted a man as I ever knew was one of our drivers—Timothy—back in the business' early days.

"We liked to keep our teams looking nice, and so we instituted an annual prize for the man who could show the best-groomed horses, the cleanest stalls, the brightest harness and so forth.

"Timothy seemed certain of this prize, and when midyear inspection time came sure enough his splendid work left nothing to be desired.

"But as the inspector took one last look round, just as he had made up his mind to give the prize to Timothy, he frowned, for his eye had fallen on a cobweb in a corner of the gray mare's stall.

"Timothy say the inspector's face change, and saw the cause of the change, and he spoke up briskly:

"'I keep that there web there, boss,' he said, 'to catch the flies. The way they torment the mare is sumpin' fierce."

LEFT BEHIND BY THE GUESTS.

Razor Strop Most Frequent Article Forgotten at Hotels.

"Of the thousand and eight things left at hotels from time to time," remarked the hotel clerk, "razor strops have the other commodities pushed across the border in point of numbers. About ten per cent. of the people who have razor strops in their grips leave them behind. Of course, the reason is that the strop is hanging up on a nail out of sight somewhere when the man packs up, and he doesn't think about it. His comb and brush are right on the dresser before him, and that's easy.

"Next to razor strops, though not hustling the strops for position, come the nighties of both genders. A good many send back after them, but a lot more people who leave them behind just abandon them. After so long we give them to charitable institutions. Then there are tooth brushes, slippers, combs, curling irons, soap boxes, clothes brushes and a list of other things left behind longer than an expense account every month. People are just that forgetful."

Odd Incident of New Year's Eve.

You never can tell what is in a man's heart. On New Year's eve a rollicking party went to a cafe which overlooks the Hudson. They were primed for noise. They created so much of it that their company was not desirable and they were informed politely that the table at which they sat had been engaged previously. They took the hint and got out. As they were leaving they purchased all the flowers they could and hurried their car along the drive until they reached a solitary grave about which so much has been written. They laid the flowers on the grave of "An Amiable Child" and returned to their car. Then they resumed their shouting and made the atmosphere resound with song and shout.—New York Press.

Sworn Off.

Upon the stars my eyes I fix, at this, the threshold of the year, I've cut out all the foolish tricks that used to mar my bright career. I've sold my big steam yacht—the one in which I loafed on many seas; and I shall find some other fun than dancing through the ocean breeze. My racing stables I have sold, my cellars of imported wine, my treasured plate of heavy gold—the simple life for me and mine! I fired the butler yesterday, the footmen have a fortnight's grace; the coachman also gets his pay, and goes to hunt another place. A trifling sum in ready cash will well supply my humble needs; for meals, some beans and corned beef hash, my couch a burrow in the weeds.—Emporia Gazette.

Fillmore's Papers.

President Millard Fillmore's voluminous papers, covering the period immediately preceding the civil war, have been given to the Buffalo Historical society, says a Buffalo dispatch.

In the will of the late Millard Powers Fillmore, son of the president, was the following specification:

"At the earliest practicable moment burn or otherwise destroy effectively all correspondence of letters to or from my father, mother, sister or me."

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iow

The Iowa Legislature.

Is the attraction of the entire state just now. All the people of the state are interested in their law-makers.

A picture 18x20 inches of members of the Thirty-third General Assembly of Iowa will be sent to you postpaid on receipt of 25 cents.

This handsome picture is suitable for framing. Nothing like it ever before offered the people of Iowa. Send today for this remarkable group picture of prominent Iowans, some of them from your own vicinity.

IOWA PHOTO CO.

DES MOINES IOWA

German M. E. Church Items

Etna Suckow is sewing for Mrs. Fred Ridder this week.

Hugo Neff came down from Mason City Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Groh and Estella Gruetzmacher left for their home in Chicago on Tuesday

Bertha Bettin left for Charles City last Friday where she will spend several weeks with her mother.

Mrs. Strade of Garner, spent a few days of last week at the E. H. Lenz home, before moving to Idaho.

Quarterly meeting in Germantown Saturday and Sunday. No services in Klemme in the morning, but there will be services in the evening.

Emil Sampson returned from Mason City last Saturday. He completed his business course and will now rusticate on the farm this summer.

Mrs. John Josten is in St. Paul, purchasing her spring millinery goods. During her absence John and little Earl have taken to the country and are stopping with his parents.

The H. F. Ludeke family took dinner last Sunday with their old neighbors in the Lehz home. Ralph, not feeling well remained at home and had all kinds of company which he entertained and prepared dinner for.

W. V. Schlung of Dubuque, will be in Klemme in the near future to tune pianos and repair organs. Anyone having instruments that need looking after can leave orders with the writer, or at the Times office. He guarantees his work.

Emma Sampson treated her Sunday school class to a sleigh-ride one evening last week and it goes without saying that they all enjoyed it, tho' we could not urge all the teachers to do the same thing. We can not too strongly urge every teacher, in some way, to interest his class outside of the school.

Albert Riemer and W. Gast are serving on the during this term of coun former is on the grand ju the latter on the petit jury

The Upper Iowa distri day school and Epworth convention will convene ner next week beginni day evening and closing day noon. We urge as as can to attend as much sible. Don't fail to hear C. Barber of Des Moi Tuesday evening in the Church.

E. G Beier has nam class "The Log Chain They are adopting new ment methods. Each wears a class pin, wh only advertises the class reminds each wearer responsibility, claims his strengthens him with the edge that he is not wor lone, but is one of a body

REVOLTS AT COLD ST

Your only hope said three to Mrs. M. E. Fisher, Detroit suffering from severe rectal lies in an operation, then I King's New Life Pills she w wholly cured. They prevent dicitis, cure Constipation, H 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

DeWITT'S CARBOLIZED WITCH SALVE For Piles, Burns

How Fast We Can Co

Mile Record on Land.

Electric locomotive, 27 seco

Automobile, 28¼ seconds, 19

Steam locomotive, 32 secon

Motor paced cycle 1 minute onds, 1904.

Bicycle unpaced, 1 minute 4 onds, 1904.

Running horse, 1 minute onds, 1890.

Pacing horse, 1 minute 55

Trotting horse, 1 minute onds, 1905.

Man skating, 2 minutes 35 1896.

Man running, 4 minutes 12 1887.

Man walking, 6 minutes 23 1890.

Chamberlain's Cough Re

Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	50 to 54c
Oats	45 to 49c
Wheat	90 to 100
Barley	55 to60 c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.90
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Oysters direct from Baltimore at Kluckhohn's.

Read the State Savings Bank new change of ad.

There will be a Market Day Sale on Saturday, Feb. 27th.

Elmer Ludeke call your attention to his change of ad. on local page.

Wm. F. Lau and family of Garner, visited with T. Blank and family over Sunday.

Mrs. J. Josten is at the Twin Cities these days purchasing her spring stock of millinery goods.

C. Rolston of Jamestown, N. Dak., is here visiting with his brother C. F. Rolston and family.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

FOR SALE—The J. Bock, Sr. old farm 3 mi. northeast of Klemme. 30-2

OATS—Early Champion seed oats for sale at Wm. Lau. 30-3

Social functions of winter midnight lunches, loss of sleep tell on the health. Hollister's rocky mountain tea clears the blood, aida digestion, relieves fatigue, makes and retains your health. &reatest tonic. Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co.

Monday we had a heavy wet snow and Tuesday a thaw while Wednesday it was rather cold. Freight trains from the north have been abandoned the first of this week and no grain or livestock has been shipped from here since Sunday morning.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets. Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 8, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

SOLDIER BALKS DEATH PLOT.

It soems to J A Stone a civil war veteran of Kemp, Texas that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. I contracted a stubborn cold he writes that developed a cough that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 136 povnds. Then I began to use Dr. King's new discovery which restored my health completely. I now whigh 178 pounds. For severe colds, obstinate coughs, hemorrhages, asthma and to prevent pneumonia it's unrivaled. 50c and $1.09. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G A Pabst & Co.

Louis Sampson was a Garner visitor Monday.

Fresh oysters always on hand at Kluckhohn's. tf.

The Baack Bros. are shelling corn for Wes. J. Schuldt.

Common Cents ad. for the State Savings this week.

H C. Lau calls your attention to his change of ad. in this issue.

C. L. Yahnke transacted business at Forest City last week Saturday.

Do not forget the new change of ad. for the State Savings Bank—this issue.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

G. G. Washburn and family visited over Sunday at Garner with Ed. Kluckhohn and family.

Ben Lau of Chicago, visited with his parents and many friends over Sunday returning Monday evening.

Remember the programme and basket social at the Opera House on Friday evening Mar. 5th. Everybody is invited.

AGENT WANTED—Man with team to canvass Hancock county for the best selling article on the market. Liberal commissions. Address H. E. Smith. Iowa Falls, Iowa. 28-3

Some of our farmers are doing away with the wind mills and are using gasoline engines in stead We think that this move is far the better advantages all around.

No more divorces.
'Hubby' will stay a lover true,
Every wife his only sweetheart, too,
Perpetual matrimonial bliss 'twill be,
If both take Hollister's rocky mountain tea.G. A. Pabst & Co.

Mrs. Groh and Estella Gruetzmacher left for their home in Chicago, Tuesday. Mrs. John Gruetzmacher and daughters accompanied them as far as Garner.

The Plantation Quartet and Jubilee Singers at the Opera House on Wednesday evening was well worth the price of admission. They sang to a packed house. There will be one more number which will conclude the lecture course.

The long winter months—heavy foods—lack of exercise decrease your vitality, make you feel mean. Hollister's rocky mountain tea gives you vitality—clears the blood—builds up flesh. Makes you strong and robust. Great spring medicine. Tea or tablets 35c. G A Pabst & Co.

The Iowa house has passed a bill which increases the pay of jurors from $2.00 to $2.50 a day. The senate should concurr in the measure. A juryman's pay was not enough. They had to pay $1.00 a day for board and as it takes some of our best men who leave their various lines of business and sometimes in the busy season the pay is not adequate. The sacrifice is greater than the public should ask of them.—Signal.

The programme and basket social which was held in German township on Friday evening Feb. 19 in district No 9, was largely attended. The programme was pronounced excellent which is a credit to Miss Whitney as teacher of this school. Miss Whitney is highly spoken of in that vicinity as an instructor. The 20 baskets which were auctioneered off by Louis Greffin, brought the school the nice sum of $31.30. This was the first entertainment that this school had and we are pleased to hear of its prosperity.

M. I Parker and G. A. Pabst were at Garner Monday.

Basket social at Opera House on Friday evening Mar. 5th

G. W. Kluckhohn transacted business at Garner on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. F. Groh of Chicago, Ill., is a new Times subscriber

Quite a number of Klemmeites were Garner visitors last week Saturday.

Wm. Fuller and wife ieft for Buffalo Center on Tuesday where they will visit with relatives.

J. F. Hartfelder shipped four loads of cattle and hogs to Chicago from Meservey Sunday morning.

Mr. Albert Fuls and his son John Fuls of German Valley, Ill., arrived today and will visit with their relatives B. Swalve and family.

There will be a basket social at the Avery Center school house in Dist No. 5 on Friday evening, Mar. 5th. Plan to attend. Laura L. Meyer, Teacher.

Bills are out announcing a Market Day Sale at Klemme on Saturday, Feb. 27th. Anyone wishing to list livestock or machinery for this sale may list same with F. A. Arnold at First National Bank.

WASHINGTON ONCE GAVE UP.

To three doctors, was kept in bed five weeks. Blood poison from a spidere's bite caused large deep sores to cover his leg. The doctors failed, then Bucklen's arnica salve completely cured me, writes John Washington of Bosqueville, Tex. For eczema, boils, burns and piles its supreme 25c at G A Pabst & Co.

School Caucus.

There will be a school caucus of the Independent District of Klemme at the City Hall on Monday, Mar. 1, 1909 for the purpose of nominating three directors, two for the term of 3 years and 1 for the term of 1 year to fill vacancy.

By order of School Board.

THE SECRET OF LONG LIFE

A French scientist has discovered one secret of long life. His method deals with the blood. But long ago millions of Americans had proved Electric Bitters prolongs life and makes it worth living. It purifies enriches and vitalizes the blood rebuilds wasted nervecells, imparts life and tone to the entire system. Its a godsend to weak sick and debilitatep people. Kidney trouble had blighted my life for months, writes W M Sherman of Cushing, Me. but Electric Bitters cured me entirely. Only 50c at G A Pabst & Co.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

W. M. Kirkwood	Ringsted
Wm. Fuller	Klemme
H. Freie	"
Wm. Lau	"
Herman Barz	"
Wm. Wenz	Goodell

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Most Popular Because it is the Best.

I have sold Chamberlain's cough remedy for the past eight years and find it to be one of the best selling medicinet on the market. For babies and youug children there is nothing better in the line of cough sorup says Paul Allen, Plain Dealing, La. This remedy not only curesthe coughs, colds and croup so common among young children but is pleasant and safe for them to take. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a baby as confidently as to an adult. For sale by G A Pabst & Co

THE CHILDREN LIKE IT
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE
COUGH SYRUP

WORLD'S BILL AGAINST RATS.

It Is $160,000,000 a Year in This Country Alone.

The bill of damages which civilizatoin holds against the rodents foots up into tremendous figures. According to the experts of the bureau of biographical survey of the department of agriculture, Uncle Sam alone has to pay $160,000,000 every year on account of property damages inflicted by the pests. John Bull and the kaiser between them fork over $150,000,000.

The rat bills of the world would reach into the billions, says Success. Sir James Crichton-Browne, president of a recently formed international union of scientific organizations working together for the extermination of arts, declared that every rat in the United States costs the citizens at least two cents a day for its keep.

In England a rat costs from one-half to five cents daily. The British India rat is the most expensive rodent of them all, for there each of the innumerable swarming millions of the pests consume on an average of three cents daily.

If you add to the cost of the board and lodging of rats the expense of maintaining and of fighting the diseases spread by them, the average specimen of the rodent tribe preying on civilized nations may be said to cost us from seven to ten cents a day.

FINE PEAT BOG IS IN MAINE.

Substance of Wealth Discovered by Mere Accident.

An analysis of the strange mixture which spurted ten feet in the air when Henry Hagan was digging a trench on the Alonzo Davis place at Norridgewock a few weeks ago shows that it is the finest peat.

So finely separated are the particles that the substance after the water evaporates from it is nearly all carbon. It hardens quickly, and when in this state burns readily. Hagan was digging a trench through a piece of low ground when he struck the vein. It spurted into the air with a rush that drove the men from the trench. The substance was so fine that the men thought it contained oil, but the analysis showed this conclusion to be erroneous. About ten tons are in sight, and it is believed that there is still a larger deposit under the surface. These suppositions are borne out by the fact that the stuff spouted out like an oil well for a while, indicating that somewhere it is under great pressure from a clay or other deposit.—Kennebec Journal.

This Versifying Age.

The body of tolerably acceptable contemporary verse is enormous. It shows a wide range of thought, and a commendable technique. In one department, at least, it has manifested a notable progress during the last 500 years; namely, in the poetic drama. Hundreds of men and women are now writing plays in verse. They are giving a new vitality, new imaginative possibilities to the American stage. Our lyric poets are beyond counting. Mr. Stedman gathered the work of 600 of them into his anthology many years ago. But this number does not represent a tithe of the persons who habitually or intermittently produce verse.

Yet how rarely, in the mass of lyric verse, does one catch the national note! More sonnets are written about John Keats than about the United States of America.—Bliss Perry, in Atlantic.

Trick Flies.

In a lecture on flies before the Royal Photographic society of London, F. P. Smith said that with a little patience flies could be trained, and he showed some cinematograph records of flies lying on their backs twirling miniature dumb-bells, balancing weights bigger than themselves, climbing revolving wheels and acting as nursemaids. Accurately balanced little machines were used for training the flies, and the only discomfort to the insect, said the lecturer, was involved in its being imprisoned for a day or so. On being released, although its wings were uninjured, it had no desire to fly, but showed tractableness and readiness to perform these extraordinary gyrations instead.

Market Day Sale, Saturday, February 27, 1909.

Sale begins at 1 p. m.

Let us be your Tailor
THE AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS Co, Chicago, Illinois.
Manufacturers of fine woolens and wholesale custom tailors.
As Eastern Decoration Day is near at hand, I will give special bargains on suits that are purchased of us before that time.
I will be please to show you a beautiful line of samples. A fit, a beauty and a long wearing suit Your profit, my pleasure.
ELMER LUDEKE
Klemme - - - Iowa

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either bank of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

$13,440 Cash from 28 Acres of Onions in the Texas Gulf Coast

W. A. McNeil planted twenty-eight acres in onions at Santa Maria, Tex., in the Gulf Coast Country. The yield averaged 400 crates per acre, for which he received $1.20 per crate, $480 an acre. His total receipts from the twenty-eight acres was $13,440. Pretty good results from four months' work.

Mr. McNeil is no exception. Profits of from $300 to $1,000 an acre are of common occurrence in the Gulf Coast Country.

Are you doing as well? Why shouldn't you? Raising fruit and vegetables in the Gulf Coast Country is simple—anyone can do it. A few acres will be all you need. You can buy it on easy terms and the first crop, if properly cared for, should more than pay for the land.

The Gulf Coast Country is a delightful place in which to live. Mild, sunny winters; gulf-breeze-cooled summers.

Investigate this proposition while the land is within your reach—next year it will cost more.

On excursion days tourist sleepers run through from Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, St. Louis and Kansas City to Brownsville, Tex.

Let me send you some further information about the big profits growers are making in the Gulf Coast Country. We have prepared this in attractive, printed form. Write for a free copy to-day.

The Winter Vegetable Garden of America

JOHN SEBASTIAN
Passenger Traffic Mgr.
2005 La Salle Station
Chicago

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines
Klemme, Iowa

WELL PLEASED WITH WESTERN CANADA.

GOOD CROPS, SPLENDID CLIMATE AND WELL ENFORCED LAWS.

Mr. George E. Hunter is a Maidstone, Saskatchewan (Central Canada), farmer, who writes to a Canadian Government Agent as follows:

"It was the first week in November, 1907, when we arrived here. There was very little snow or cold weather until after the holidays, then the snow and cold increased, but to no great extent. I think the coldest I heard of was 30 degrees below zero, but that degree of cold would not be felt here any more than 10 degrees below zero would be back home in Michigan, owing to the beautiful dry atmosphere of this country. There came a good thaw every month that settled the snow, the fields soon became bare, and on the 12th of April I commenced ploughing. The snow was then all gone and summer at hand. This last season was something more than an average year around here, with fine crops gathered from a large acreage. In parts the crops were less than average, but generally speaking they were above it. The price of wheat was quite good. Some fine yields sold at $1.10 per bushel, while some were marketed at much less, but hardly any went below about 60 cents a bushel.

"Oats started on the market at 35 cents a bushel, barley about 50 cents, and flax from 90 cents to $1.00 a bushel.

"As this was my first year in this country, it was a hard year for my horses, owing to their being eastern horses, and not used to the western climate, but they will soon get climatized.

"The soil on my farm is a black loam, about one foot in thickness, below that we find about six feet of clay, and below that again gravel and sand, with an abundance of excellent water. This was the condition of the ground as I found it when I dug a well. I can say that the water is as sweet and as free from alkali and impurities as I ever saw.

"My opinion is that the man who comes here with a little means can do no better than invest $500 or $1,000 in cattle, after locating a homestead adjoining or near some hilly part of the country where it will not be taken up as soon. There is plenty of grass and hay to be found in the hilly country and small lakes and sloughs will afford sufficient water for any amount of cattle. The bluffs with a few hay or straw sheds will make sufficient shelter for them. There is no need to worry about the market for cattle, as there is already a great call for stock of all kinds to satisfy the continued demands of the large packing house at Edmonton, established by Swift and Company.

"The dairy business should by no means be forgotten. It is one of the paying enterprises of this great west. The price of butter seldom goes below 25 cents and reaches as high as 40 cents a pound. Also the new creameries that are fast being erected along the lines of railroad are calling on the farmers for their cream.

"These creameries are greatly welcomed in all communities, because selling cream is better than making butter, even at an average price of 25 cents a pound. For a new country the railroad transportation facilities are good; not yet, of course, what they are in older countries, but the new lines are swiftly gaining as the country gets more settled and supplies them with produce to ship. It is hard to say too much in favor of this country. All one needs is a little money with grit and ambition. I have seen homesteads that were filed on a little over three years ago that the owners have refused $3,000 for.

"There is much more that can be said in favor of Western Canada, but I think my letter has been long enough."

A Republican Reliance.

Three-year-old Norris is fond of the Twenty-third Psalm, sometimes repeating it instead of his regular evening prayer. Last autumn the name of the successful presidential candidate was often heard at the dinner table, and Norris unconsciously fell into the habit of rendering one passage of the Psalm in this reassuring fashion: "Thy rod and thy Taft they comfort me."—Lippincott's.

GOVERNMENT LAND OPENING UNDER CAREY ACT.

May 6, the State Land Commissioner of Wyoming will distribute 7,000 acres irrigated land at Cooper Lake, near Laramie and Denver, on main line of Union Pacific; 50 cents per acre. Oldest Reservoir and Direct Water Rights; $5 an acre cash and $3 an acre annually for ten years. Free trip and two town lots to all who apply before May 1. Write for application and circulars. Tallmadge-Buntin Land Co., Agents, 2nd floor, Railway Exchange, Chicago. Agents wanted.

Even when the gates of prayer are shut the gates of tears are open.—Hebrew proverb.

GREAT FLEET IN HOME PORT AGAIN

AMERICAN SHIPS DROP THEIR ANCHORS AT HAMPTON ROADS.

VESSELS IN FINE CONDITION

Long Voyage Has Demonstrated the Marvelous Efficiency of the American Navy—Foreign Countries Impressed as Never Before—Desertions Reported as Surprisingly Few—President Roosevelt Reviews Armada from the Mayflower.

Hampton Roads, Va., Feb. 22.—The most stupendous task of naval history was completed when President Roosevelt reviewed the fleet of 16 battleships as they filed into Hampton Roads to drop anchor at the port from which they sailed one year and two months before.

The homecoming was much the same as the departure. The ships were the same, with the exception of the Nebraska and Wisconsin, which took the place of the Maine and Alabama. The flag of Rear-Admiral Sperry flew from the Connecticut, Rear-Admiral Evans, Rear-Admiral Emory and Rear-Admiral Thomas, who were successively in command, having been placed on the retired list.

Crowding the piers the same wives and sweethearts gathered to welcome those to whom they waved their farewells from the same spot over a year ago. And with the rattle of chains and the splash of anchors, as the great ships wheeled into their berths, the journey of 42,227 miles—not including the side trips in the Mediterranean and other waters—from zone to zone, over the world's oceans and through foreign seas, was at an end.

Marks Epoch in History.

The event marks an epoch in the naval and diplomatic history of the United States. As a mere physical achievement it is a thing of enormous proportions. As a test of naval efficiency it has shown the sailing value of the fleet and demonstrated to many peoples the power of the United States and its equipment for war. It has been a sort of gymnastic exercise with the big stick. It has given the navy department the results of an experience that will be invaluable in the upbuilding of future fleets and brought out defects that must be overcome. As a diplomatic messenger it has dissipated international misunderstandings and brought closer in friendly relations the United States and many of the world's countries.

The successful completion of the cruise without noteworthy accident or untoward incident, from either a naval or political point of view, is regarded by all nations as history making from several points of view. Never before has any battle command made such a long, continuous voyage. Never before has any battle command circumnavigated the globe, whether in one or separate voyages. Never before has any fleet or armada of any of the countries of the world visited so many ports, so many countries, under so many flags. And never was any naval command received with such wide and universal acclaim and enthusiasm of friendly feeling and spirit of welcome as marked the progress of the American battle fleet at every one of its twoscore or more stops on the cruise around the world.

Few Desertions Reported.

A remarkable feature of the cruise has been the excellent discipline. While there have been a few desertions, the number has been far less in proportion than it usually is in home ports. The extent of the drinking on the part of the men and officers at receptions and while on liberty in strange and peculiarly interesting places has been far less than was expected.

Many Countries Visited.

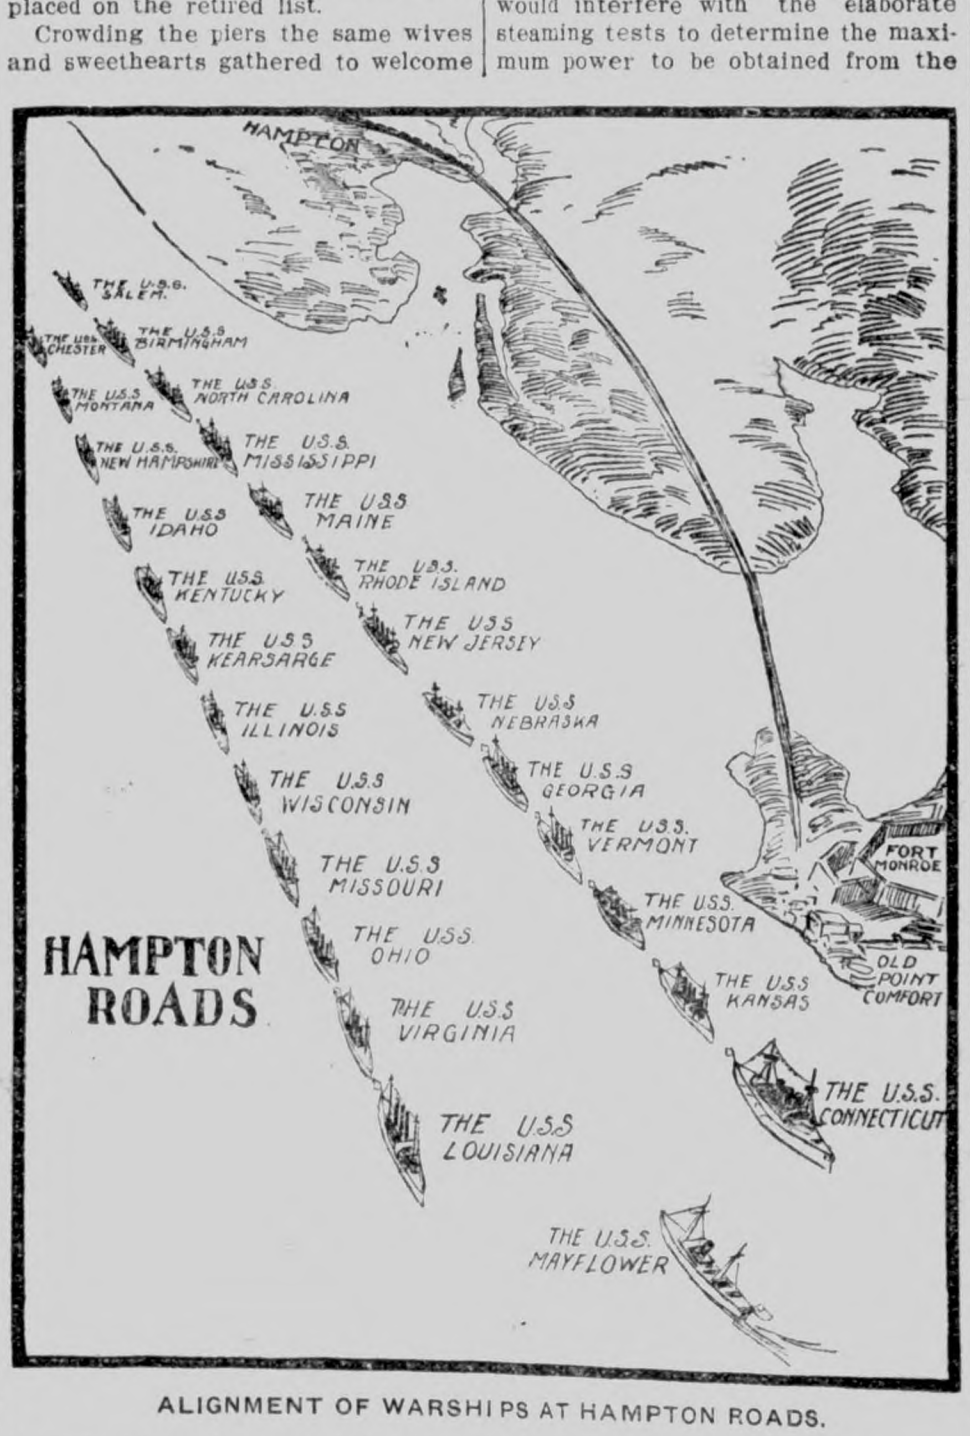
The fleet visited 20 countries and anchored in 26 foreign ports. The 16 ships passed through the Straits of Magellan, made the journey through the Suez canal without mishap and coaled at Port Said in record time to be off to help the Italian earthquake sufferers, all without mishap. Two passed through the Dardanelles, the first foreign warships to do so without grave conferences between the vigilant powers, to pick up the young Turkish officers who were to come to the United States. Two saluted the new sultan of Morocco. One division dropped anchor at Amoy to do honor to China. The whole fleet flew their colors in the ports of Japan. The flags of nearly all the world were unfurled in welcome to them.

To drive the ships 410,000 tons of coal were used. Practically all of this came from America, in order that there be no variations in quality which would interfere with the elaborate steaming tests to determine the maximum power to be obtained from the quantity of fuel consumed. In this respect alone the experience gained is invaluable. Nearly 100,000 gallons of oil were consumed in lubricating the engines and machinery.

All Nations Impressed.

It is as a naval test that the cruise of the fleet takes rank as the most interesting and greatest achievement of modern times. Naval experts of foreign nations waited with cynical patience for the fleet to arrive in Magdalena bay, battered and disabled after the first leg of the rigorous journey. When the ships went through target practice without any preparation they hastened to report to their governments. Later, when the same ships continued on their way around the world and did the same thing at Manila bay, the fighting efficiency of the American navy was unquestioned.

But there were some things, some very simple things, brought out by the fleet's voyage which seem to have escaped the critics of the navy. If naval operations are to be carried by the United States at long range, and that will probably be the case, so far as the Pacific is concerned, there must be colliers to fill the bunkers of the battleships, supply ships to fill the store rooms, and ammunition ships to fill the magazines. In their last reports the chief of the bureau of ordnance said that a navy without ammunition was helpless, the chief of the bureau of supplies and accounts said that a navy without food for the men was helpless. The colliers are being built now and it is only a matter of time before each of the bureau chiefs will get what he wants.



ALIGNMENT OF WARSHIPS AT HAMPTON ROADS.

Facts For Sick Women

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or secured so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every woman you meet has either been benefited by it, or knows some one who has.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made exclusively from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials such as the following prove the efficiency of this simple remedy:

Minneapolis, Minn.:—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women, I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. Within three months I was a perfectly well woman.

"I want this letter made public to show the benefits to be derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. John G. Moldan, 2115 Second St. North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

No Ashes to Sift

It is not pleasant in the early winter mornings to get up and build new fires in the heater and kitchen stove—to clean out fire-boxes—shake down and sift ashes with the thermometer down to zero!

It is also unnecessary—lay in a supply of Milwaukee Solvay Coke—the fuel that lasts all night—that will heat the house thoroughly in a few minutes' time after the drafts are open.

There are no ashes to sift.

MILWAUKEE Solvay Coke

A ton of this ideal fuel goes as far as a ton of hard coal or two tons of soft coal and is equal to two cords of good body wood.

There are no clinkers to clog the grates—no smoke nor soot—no noxious gases.

You obtain complete combustion and a clean, healthy, quick fire.

Milwaukee Solvay Coke is being used by one hundred thousand families at a less cost and with far more satisfaction than is given by the best hard coal.

And the housecleaning work is child's play, for it is the cleanest fuel ever burned. Practically pure carbon—nothing to make dirt.

2,000 dealers in the Northwest sell Milwaukee Solvay Coke—all sizes—ask your dealer, and write for interesting booklet of coke information to

PICKANDS, BROWN & COMPANY
Colby-Abbott Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

GREAT TREAT IN STORE FOR YOU—At Seattle

Rare opportunity for a liberal education will be the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle this summer. Nothing short of a visit to the great lumbering fields of the Northwest will ever give appreciation of the magnitude of the industries here, both in operations and timber growth. Many of the "wonders of Alaska" will be displayed. The Government will send the Pacific fleet to Seattle during the Fair, which in itself will be a notable exhibition, and Congress has appropriated $600,000 to give practical demonstrations in forestry, irrigation, dry-land farming and improved agricultural methods, and in fisheries and everything connected with the deep sea.

Best of all, you can study the effects of the Unit System of Ownership upon the greatest fortune maker of all—Seattle CENTRAL BUSINESS PROPERTY. Send me your address now; I'll give you some facts beforehand.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

PISO'S CURE 25 cts. CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. 25 cts.

Readers of this paper desiring to buy anything advertised in its columns should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing substitutes or imitations.

WATERWAYS' MONEY

EMERGENCY BILL APPROPRIATES $9,971,625 FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

AIDS WESTERN STREAMS

Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Michigan Rivers to Be Surveyed—House Slaps at Roosevelt by Continuing Limitations on Secret Service.

Washington.—Chairman Burton of the house committee on rivers and harbors Friday introduced the emergency and maintenance bill for waterways improvements which carries a total appropriation of $9,971,625.

It provides for a large number of surveys, for the maintenance of improvements previously authorized, and for continuing the operation of government dredges and other works.

The president is requested to open negotiations with Great Britain for a treaty for securing the maintenance of ample water levels for the uses of navigation in the great lakes by the construction of such controlling and remedial works in the connecting rivers and channels of the lakes as may be agreed upon.

The secretary of war is also authorized to fix a just and reasonable compensation to be paid for the use of water and water power now or hereafter owned in the St. Mary's river by the United States.

Six hundred thousand dollars is appropriated for examinations and surveys, contingencies and incidental repairs for rivers and harbors for which there is no special appropriation. Among the most important waterways for which preliminary surveys and examinations are provided, aside from the inland intracoastal waterway along the Atlantic and gulf coasts are:

The Chicago and Rock rivers, Illinois; the harbors and rivers at or near Chicago, including Chicago harbor, the Chicago river, Calumet harbor, the Grand and the Little Calumet rivers, Lake Calumet and the Lake Shore from the mouth of the Chicago river to the city of Gary, Ind., for the purpose of reporting a plan for a complete systematic and broad improvement of the harbor facilities for Chicago and adjacent territory.

Other surveys are: The Wabash river, Illinois; the Des Moines, Cedar and Iowa rivers, Iowa; the Marquette and Muskegon harbors; the Pigeon river and the Livingstone channel of the Detroit river, Michigan; the Mississippi river between St. Paul and Minneapolis; and reservoirs at the headwaters of the river, the Minnesota river and reservoirs at its headwaters, the Rainy river and the Duluth (Minn.) and Superior (Wis.) harbors; Ashtabula and Lorain harbors, the Maumee river at and above Toledo, and a survey of the Ohio river with a view to the selection of sites for the additional locks and dams between locks No. 8 and No. 25 and for the preparation of plans.

No single channel or improvement is to be allotted more than $50,000 out of the appropriation for emergencies. The bill repeals the act that authorizes the Mount Carmel Development Company to draw water from the Wabash river in Wabash county, Ill., and authorizes the secretary of war to grant lesases for the use of the water created by the government dam at Mount Carmel.

Two more disputes between the president and congress were revived when the house committee on appropriations reported the sundry civil appropriation bill.

One was in regard to the limitation of the use of the secret service of the treasury department. The other was the appropriation for the examination of accounts of railroads, under section 20 of the Hepburn rate law.

The house, despite the president's special message, decided to keep up the limitation of the use of the secret service. Mr. Roosevelt declared such action an aid to criminals.

SAYS INDIANA IS BANKRUPT.

Governor in Message to Legislature Points to $400,000 Deficit.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Gov. Marshall sent a special message to the legislature late Friday afternoon informing that body that the state treasury is bankrupt and there is not enough money in the treasury to pay the state expenses longer than March. No more money is coming in until June 1, when the county treasurers will make their semi-annual settlements. The deficit will be about $400,000. The governor asks the legislature to pass a law to require the county treasurers to pay in the state's share of the taxes before that, to meet the state's expenses. The governor says unless the money is forthcoming the state institutions will have to close or the state must borrow money to pay expenses. It is said the money for use during the present six months was anticipated and used in the preceding six months, and that this action accounts for the deficit.

NEW STRENGTH FOR WOMEN'S BACKS.

How to Make a Bad Back Better.

Women who suffer with backache, bearing down pain, dizzy spells, and that constant feeling of dullness and tiredness, will find hope in the advice of Mrs. Mary Hinson of 21 Strother St., Mt. Sterling, Ky. "Had I not used Doan's Kidney Pills I believe I would not be living to-day," says Mrs. Hinson. "My eyesight was poor, I suffered with nervous, splitting headaches, spots would dance before my eyes, and at times I would be so dizzy I would have to grasp something for support. My back was so weak and painful I could hardly bend over to button my shoes and could not get around without suffering severely. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me from the first, and I continued until practically well again."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Musical Note.—Signor Harmonetti is at Present Engaged in Composing a New Heir.

Early Morning Poems.

"Why, Hiram," began Mrs. Dusenbery, glancing up from her favorite newspaper at her husband on the opposite side of the table, "did you ever hear of such a thing? Here is a piece about a man who writes four magazine poems every morning before breakfast. Must be quite a strain on him to do all that writing on an empty stomach. Don't you think so, Hiram?"

"Well, I dunno about that," responded Hiram dryly. "I reckon a man wouldn't have such a terrible strain on him writin' the sort of magazine pomes we run across now'days with his stomach an' head both empty!"

Distinction Without Difference.

While holding a term of court at Augusta once, Judge Walton sentenced a man to seven years in prison for a grave crime. The respondent's counsel asked for a mitigation of the sentence on the ground that the prisoner's health was very poor. "Your honor," said he, "I am satisfied that my client cannot live out half that term, and I beg of you to change the sentence." "Well, under those circumstances," said the judge, "I will change the sentence. I will make it for life instead of seven years."

Got the Letters Mixed.

A young American, who is particular about his washing, the other day wrote a note to his laundress and one to his sweetheart, and, by a strange fatality, put the wrong address on each envelope and sent them off. The washwoman was delighted at an invitation to take a ride the next day, but when the young lady read, "If you tumble up my shirt bosom any more as you did the last time, I will go somewhere else," she cried all the evening and declared she would never speak to him again.

PRIZE FOOD

Palatable, Economical, Nourishing.

A Nebr. woman has outlined the prize food in a few words, and that from personal experience. She writes:

"After our long experience with Grape-Nuts, I cannot say enough in its favor. We have used this food almost continually for seven years.

"We sometimes tried other advertised breakfast foods but we invariably returned to Grape-Nuts as the most palatable, economical and nourishing of all.

"When I quit tea and coffee and began to use Postum and Grape-Nuts I was a nervous wreck. I was so irritable I could not sleep nights, had no interest in life.

"After using Grape-Nuts a short time I began to improve and all these ailments have disappeared and now I am a well woman. My two children have been almost raised on Grape-Nuts, which they eat three times a day.

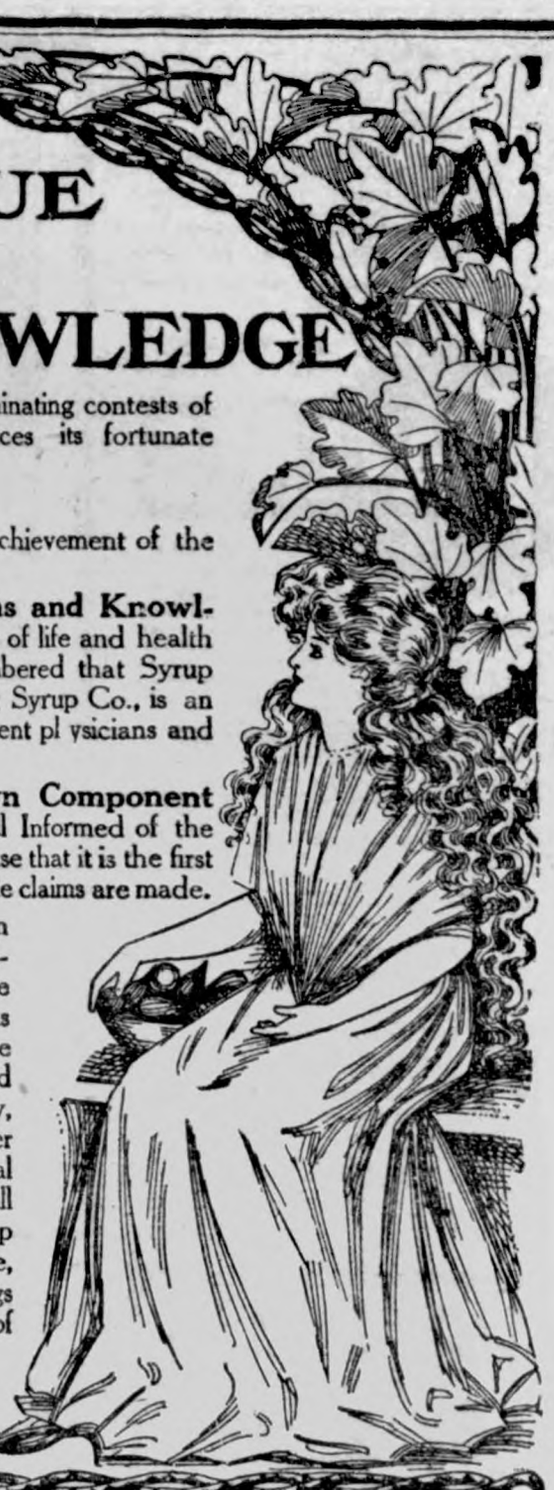
"They are pictures of health and have never had the least symptom of stomach trouble, even through the most severe siege of whooping cough they could retain Grape-Nuts when all else failed.

"Grape-Nuts food has saved doctor bills, and has been, therefore, a most economical food for us."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE



Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

M. L. R.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

ADDRESSES LOUISVILLE, KY. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., U.S.A. LONDON, ENGLAND. INCORPORATED NEW YORK, N.Y.

MAPLEINE A flavoring that is used the same as lemon or vanilla. By dissolving granulated sugar in water and adding Mapleine, a delicious syrup is made and a syrup better than maple. Mapleine is sold by grocers. If not send 35c for 2 oz. bot. and recipe book. Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle.

For 16c.

Everybody loves earliest vegetables and brilliant flowers. Therefore, to gain you as a customer we offer:

1000 kernels Fine Onion Seed.
1000 " Rich Carrot Seed.
1000 " Celery, 100 Parsley.
1000 " Juicy Radish Seed.
1500 " Buttery Lettuce Seed.
1500 " Tender Turnip Seed.
1500 " Sweet Rutabaga S'd.
100 " Melons, 100 Tomato.
1200 " Brilliant Flowering Annuals

In all 10,000 kernels of warranted northern grown seeds, well worth $1.00 of any man's money (including Big Catalog) all postpaid for but 16c in stamps.

And if you send 20c we add a package of Earliest Peep O'Day Sweet Corn. Big Plant, Tool and Seed Catalog free to intending buyers. Write for same today.

THE JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO. LaCROSSE, WIS. W

Paxtine
TOILET ANTISEPTIC
—NOTHING LIKE IT FOR—

THE TEETH Paxtine excels any dentifrice in cleansing, whitening and removing tartar from the teeth, besides destroying all germs of decay and disease which ordinary tooth preparations cannot do.

THE MOUTH Paxtine used as a mouth-wash disinfects the mouth and throat, purifies the breath, and kills the germs which collect in the mouth, causing sore throat, bad teeth, bad breath, grippe, and much sickness.

THE EYES when inflamed, tired, ache and burn, may be instantly relieved and strengthened by Paxtine.

CATARRH Paxtine will destroy the germs that cause catarrh, heal the inflammation and stop the discharge. It is a sure remedy for uterine catarrh.

Paxtine is a harmless yet powerful germicide, disinfectant and deodorizer. Used in bathing it destroys odors and leaves the body antiseptically clean.

FOR SALE AT DRUG STORES, 50c. OR POSTPAID BY MAIL.
LARGE SAMPLE FREE!
THE PAXTON TOILET CO., BOSTON, MASS.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

6% QUARTERLY

We pay interest every three months at the rate of six per cent. yearly. Our investments are all in mortgages on New York City real estate. Twenty years' experience in New York real estate. Principal and interest guaranteed. Communications confidential. Write:

Liberty Financial & Security Co.,
CITY INVESTING BUILDING. NEW YORK CITY

Advice and Information Furnished
INVENTORS
as to the best method of protecting and perfecting incomplete inventions or disposing of completed inventions whether patented or not. My services are strictly professional and I will write you fully regarding my methods of assisting inventors if you will enclose a stamp for reply.

F. W. WEEKS, Counsellor to Inventors
130 West 57th St., New York City

For Sprained Ankle or Chilblains A-B-C LINIMENT All Dealers.

COLDS
CURED IN ONE DAY

Munyon's Cold Remedy Relieves the head, throat and lungs almost immediately. Checks Fevers, stops Discharges of the nose, takes away all aches and pains caused by colds. It cures Grip and obstinate Coughs and prevents Pneumonia. Price 25c.

Have you stiff or swollen joints, no matter how chronic? Ask your druggist for Munyon's Rheumatism Remedy and see how quickly you will be cured.

If you have any kidney or bladder trouble get Munyon's Kidney Remedy.

Prof. Munyon has just issued a Magazine-Almanac, which will be sent free to any person who addresses

The Munyon Company, Philadelphia.

TEXAS STATE LAND

Millions of acres of school land to be sold by the State, $1.00 to $6.00 per acre; only one-fortieth cash and 40 years time on balance; three per cent interest; only $12.00 cash for 160 acres at $8.00 per acre. Greatest opportunity; good agricultural land; send 50 cents for Book of Instructions and New State Law. J. J. Snyder, Schoo Lan Locator, 190 9 h St., Austin, Tex. Reference, Austin National Bank.

CUTICURA COMFORT

FOR LITTLE FAT FOLKS

Most grateful and comforting is a warm bath with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura. This pure, sweet, economical treatment brings immediate relief and refreshing sleep to skin-tortured and disfigured little ones and rest to tired, fretted mothers. For eczemas, rashes, itchings, irritations and chafings, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are worth their weight in gold.

Sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27, Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5, Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney; India, B. K. Paul, Calcutta; China, Hong Kong Drug Co.; Japan, Maruya, Ltd., Tokio; Russia, Ferrein, Moscow; So. Africa, Lennon, Ltd., Cape Town, etc.; U.S.A., Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fever

Sure cure and positive preventive, no matter how horses at any age are infected or "exposed." Liquid, given on the tongue; acts on the Blood and Glands; expels the poisonous germs from the body. Cures Distemper in Dogs and Sheep and Cholera in Poultry. Largest selling live stock remedy. Cures La Grippe among human beings and is a fine Kidney remedy. 50c and $1 a bottle, $5 and $10 a dozen. Cut this out. Keep it. Show to your druggist, who will get it for you. Free Booklet, "Distemper, Causes and Cures." Special agents wanted.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.
A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Sleeplessness. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS
WITH Dr. King's New Discovery
FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
485 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York

U.S. CREAM SEPARATOR

If you keep cows you need a U. S. Separator to make them yield the biggest profit. It will make the most money for you because it skims cleaner than any other separator. It will save you more than any other because it needs less time, labor and repairs to run it. Look a U. S. over for yourself. For sale by

ELL BROS.

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c. Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

SHOWING THE WEDDING GIFTS.

Charming Exhibitions Made at French Bridals.

In Paris most charming conceits are devised to enhance the effect of an exhibition of wedding gifts in the bride's home. Sometimes the furniture is removed from one or two rooms to give space to show cases, where is made a tasteful array of the most delicate parts of the trousseau, and numberless bivelots. The heavier articles are suspended from screens or round the walls from hanging ribbons, pictures, or even dados of crinkled papier velours in some subdued shade. One of the most telling arrangements is dispersal against the walls of small tables covered with mignonette-green silk, and on which are artistically displayed the bridal treasures, to each of which is attached with a pink ribbon the card of the giver. The contents of every table are partly veiled by vaporous tulle held up to the wall by some bracket lamp, high statuette, and draped at the sides with large choux in pink satin. The coloring depends evidently on the prevailing tones of the house decoration. Such a treatment is light, tasteful and not too expensive. A scheme which involves larger reception rooms and a greater outlay of time and money consists of a triumphal arch in bamboo at the entrance to every door, often covered with climbers, whilst through the whole suite of rooms are distributed in profusion palm trees, jardinieres, tall vases and corbeilles full of flowers, giving the impression of a bower of flowers and foliage, in which are nestled the marvels of the bride's outfit and of her friends' generosity and taste.

The Child's Viewpoint.

Percy Alder, M. P., of London, told an amusing story of a small girl at a recent meeting of the Children's Happy Evenings association. The child had been sent away to the country for a holiday, and questioned as to what in all her holiday had pleased her most, this little slum maiden, whose London home adjoined a waste piece of land, replied: "Seeing no dead cats."

Birds Not Afraid of Man.

Among southern African birds which manifest wonderful tameness is the Cape wagtail, which not only penetrates to the living room in search of flies, but will pick them from the old Boer's veischoons as he sits on his stoep, and perch about his chair.

IDEAS FOR THE HOSTESS.

Some Novel and Simple Ways to Entertain Guests.

A Handkerchief Shower.

This affair for a prospective bride was arranged in a very clever manner. Twelve intimate friends were invited to luncheon with the request to bring the gift "mouchoir" rolled up into the smallest package possible. Before going to the dining-room the hostess took all the packages and disapepared. When luncheon was announced, with one voice the guests exclaimed "how pretty." Suspended from the chandalier there was an inverted Japanese umbrella, from each rib there was a smaller umbrella and from this hung by ribbons there was a gilded watering can the sprinkler of which had 12 holes with baby ribbons of different colors coming out. At the end of each ribbon there was a tightly rolled package. The effect was lovely. The place cards were miniature "Jap" parasols with the cards tied to the handles. The candle shades were ornamented with these same tiny parasols and small lanetrns filled with candied puffed rice were at each place. The mint sherbert, which was the dessert, had smilax twined around the tall glass with another little umbrella in the top of the glass.

Honors Easy.

People who were present smiled at the little passage of arms which took place between two young ladies at a luncheon recently. One of them, a bride, shaking hands in her characteristically cordial way, said to the other:

"I'm so glad to meet you! You have afforded me so very much amusement just lately."

"Amusement?" said the other.

"Oh, yes," went on the bride. "I've been through my husband's desk, and I've read all his old love letters. I found several very affectionate letters from you, and I enjoyed reading them, really, ever so much."

"I'm so glad you enjoyed them," purred the other. "But do come and see me very soon. Here is my card. I have the answers to all those letters and you might like to read them as well. Mr. X——'s letters are so much more affectionate than those I wrote to him. I know you'll enjoy reading them ever so much more than you did mine."

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

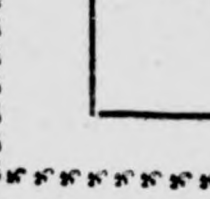
Gruetzmacher Bros.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS



OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Syphilis, Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, their effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 31 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, MAR. 4, 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

YES, I SAVED MY MONEY. PUT IT IN THE BANK. WHERE IT WAS SAFE.

A TRUE STORY

MEN who own automobiles begin putting their money in the bank when they were boys and kept at it. You are never too young to begin a good habit.

We will pay you a liberal rate of interest for your savings.

Capital and Surplus $25,500.00

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

STATEMENT of the condition of the

State Savings Bank

organized under he laws of Iowa, located at Klemme, in the county of Hancock, at the close of business on the 20th day of Feb., A. D., 1909, made to the Auditor of State as required by law.

ASSETS

Amount of Bills, Bonds and other evidences of debt discounted or purchased actually owned by the Bank (carried out)		$106,112 75
Amount of cash on hand described as follows:
Gold coin,	475 00
Silver coin and bullion	381 30
Legal tender and national bank notes and subsidary coin	1845 00
Drafts and checks on other solvent banks and other cash items not dishonored on hand and belonging to the bank	865 66	2,710 66
		$3,566 96
Amount subject to be drawn a sight on deposit with solvent banks or bankers (specifying names and locations of the banks):
Continental Nat'l Bk. Chicago, Ill.	598 19
Merchants Nat'l Bk. Cedar Rapids, Iowa	3,328 86
Drovers Deposit National B Chicago, Ill	776 71
Farmers Nat'l Bk. Garner, Iowa	3,414 24
Century Savings Bk. Des Moines, Iowa	2,030 03	10,148 03
Overdrafs secured	3,315 90
Expense account	325 88	3,641 78
Value of real property (owned by the Bank)	9,949 34
Value of personal property [owned by the bank]	1,784 92	11,734 26
Total Assets		135,203 78

LIABILITIES

Amount of capial stock actually paid up in cash		15.000 00
Total amount due depositors, as follows:
Amount sight deposits	27,650.21
Amount deman deposits	7,215.00
Amount time deposits	72,338.57	107,203.78
Indebtedness of every kind, due banks, bankers, or persons other than regular depositors:
Bills payable	2,500 00	2,500 00
Surplus fund	10,500 00
Other profits on hand (after deducting taxes and expenses)		10,500 00
Total Liabilities		135.203 78
Amount of all liabilities to the Bank on par of its directors:
As borrowers	6,819 26
As endorsers	3,632 82	10,452 08

STATE OF IOWA } ss.
HANCOCK COUNTY. }

We, W. R. Bloom, President and P. M. Griesemer, Cashier, of the Bank above named, do solemnly swear that the foregoing statement is full, true and correct, to the best of our knowledge and belief, that the assets therein set forth are bona fide the propery of said Bank in its corporate capacity and that no part of the same has been loaned or advanced to said Bank for the purpose of being exhibited as a portion of its assets.

W. R. BLOOM, President.
P. M. GRIESEMER, Cashier.

SEAL

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence by W. R. Bloom and P. M. Griesemer, this 4th day of Mar., A. D. 1909.

MATIE R. POLLOCK,
Notary Public

Attested by:

Joseph E. Johnson }
J. F. Hartfelder } Directors.

HOW long have they been in business? An answer to this question is necessary to fix the standing of any business house. Before any concern can claim rank in the business world, its stability must be proven by the test of time. And the longer it has been in business with an honorable record, the higher it is rated by public opinion.

It takes time to show whether a bank is conducted on a policy of sefety and conservatism.

This bank has a history of over fifteen years of successful business and satisfactory service to Klemme people.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

A. F. HUBBARD

AUCTIONEER.

I would be pleased to cry your sales this season at reasonable terms. Livestock a specialty. Make dates with either banks at Klemme. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Address—Ventura, Iowa,
R. F. D. No. 2.

North Elevator

—FOR—

Seeds! Seeds! Seeds!

Medium Red Clover
Mammoth Red Clover
Alsike Clover
Timothy—extra fancy

My seeds comply with the Iowa Pure Seed Laws.

☞ Place your orders now—my prices are right.

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

Toilet and Fancy Goods.

Toilet soaps, bath soaps, infent powders, sachet powders face powders, tooth powders. dressing and fine combs.

PAINTS and OILS

Strictly pure white lead. Colors dry and in oil Turpentine and varnishes. Window shades and trimmings.

Customers will find our stock complete in every respect. We are constantly adding every new novel and meritorious article that comes within our line of business. If you see a medicine advertised and want it, we will gladly get it for you if we do not have it.

Call and see us—your patronage is always appreciated, no matter how small your purchase, and you may rest assured it will be our constant aim to sell you the best that can be obtained and at reasonable prices.

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries Boots Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

KLEMME IOWA

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & M ,r.

Klemme, - - Iowa

FALLS TO DEATH

MADE MISSTEP AS HE STARTED TO DESCEND MINE.

DROPPED 70 FEET DOWN SHAFT

Head Strikes Obstruction and Top of Head Was Severed and Death Was Instantaneous.

Perry.—Frank McEllhenney, 16 years of age, fell 70 feet down the shaft of his father's mine at Angus, Iowa, and was instantly killed. On the way down the shaft his head struck some obstruction and the entire top of the head was cut off. His death was instantaneous.

Albert McEllhenney, father of the boy, is widely known. The family is well-to-do. The young man has been popu'ar and well liked. He went to the mine in the morning at 8 o'clock, intending to go down. Through some means he made a misstep as he started to enter the cage. He plunged head first, and shot toward the bottom with lightning-like rapidity.

Part way down his head struck an obstruction on the side of the mine and the body turned a complete somersault in the air. When picked up at the bottom, life was extinct and it is probable that he was killed instantly when he struck the side of the shaft.

The young man is survived by his parents and two other brothers.

Leland Won a New Factory.

Mason City.—In a contest over the location of the Mount alley Grain Separator company the little village of Leland, a town of 250, won out over Forest City and Lake Mills, receiving twenty-four votes to Forest City's nine and Lake Mills' one. The new company is capitalized at $40,000, but promises to raise it to $200,000.

Woodmen to Build.

Nora Springs.—The Modern Woodmen of America located at this place are making arrangements to build a brick or cement store building with a camp room above. They propose to make the building 26x103 feet for the main part with an el 26x47. They are selling stock at $25 per share and are finding no difficulty in getting subscribers.

Dubuque Grocers Fight.

Dubuque.—The Dubuque Retail Grocers association caused the arrest of three solicitors for a Chicago grocery house on a charge of selling goods without a license. Defense will be made that the goods were not delivered when sold, hence the law does not apply. The grocers propose to fight this form of competition to a finish.

Oelwein Shop Yards Burn.

Oelwein.—A $5,000 fire swept the shop yards of the Chicago, Great Western here. The dry kiln building, which was filled with dry lumber, in some manner unaccounted for caught fire and in less than an hour the building and most of its contents was burned. Some of the lumber was saved, but it was in a damaged condition.

Washington Lid Down.

Washington.—At a recent meeting of the town council, licenses were refused to the billiard halls and they have been closed. A petition is being circulated for signatures to put the question of billiard hall licenses up to the people. This proposition will make the approaching election a lively contest.

Means New Cement Plant.

Mason City.—The ruling of the supreme court in the case of Breene vs. Mayne means the erection of a 5,000 barrel per day cement plant here by the Lehigh company of Lehigh, Pa. Word was sent here that if the decision of the court was favorable the company would begin building at once.

Woman Tries Suicide.

Keokuk.—Mrs. Benjamin Gordon, the wife of a bartender, attempted to commit suicide by taking carbolic acid. She had quarreled with her husband, who knocked the bottle from her hand. She is in a critica' condition and is receiving treatment at a hospital.

Masquerades as a Girl.

Iowa City.—A group of well known Iowa City coeds who were entertaine by Miss Ida Barrow at a masquerad party, are trying to recollect all the did and said at that function, for a the close of the masking they disco ered that one of the guests was no a girl at all, but a man.

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. Elise shared her stateroom with a Mrs. Graham, also bound for Canada. The young women on a sightseeing tour met Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented. Two men called. They proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett, one a friend of Elizabeth's father. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. Fearing for the safety of some gems, Lady Edith left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his actions on board ship and returned the lost bag. Exploring the cellar, one of the girls found a sphinx cuff-buton, the exact counterpart of which both Gordon Bennett and Lady Edith were found to possess, also. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. Lady Edith told a story of a lost love in connection with the sphinx key. At a supper, which was held on the rocks, Elizabeth rather mysteriously lost her ring, causing a search by the entire party. Gabrielle witnessed a stormy scene between Lady Edith and Lord Wilfrid, red roses being the cause of the latter's anger. Mary Anne brought back Elizabeth's ring. Elise went sailing with Gordon Bennett. He tried to persuade her to return the jewels left in the girl's care by Lady Edith. He told her he found the sphinx scarf pin, the counterpart of which Lady Edith owned. The girls gave a supper. At midnight Elise saw two men—one of them Gordon Bennett—attempting to force an entrance into their boathouse. She admitted to herself that she had nearly loved him and believed herself used as a tool by a thief.

CHAPTER XIV.

"If you please, miss, could you come to Mrs. Graham?"

This unwelcome summons forced itself upon me as I lay luxuriously reading upon the couch in the living room the day following our dinner party.

"Did she send for me?"

"No, miss."

Mrs Graham's servant, a half-grown girl with a face of surprising stupidity, stood stolidly before me, the ends of a small shawl held under her chin, and a frightened expression in her small eyes.

"Then, why did you come?"

To my surprise, the girl put her face in her hands and began to cry with a sniffling persistency very annoying to hear.

"I'm scared of her," she sobbed; "she's that queer, miss. She's went all blue and stiff-like, and Mr. Graham ain't there, nor nobody but me. And, seeing as how you come to the house sometimes, miss, I thought as maybe you might help me, fur I'm scared to stay alone, so I am."

I rose reluctantly, for I knew but little of illness, and was also "scared" of the prospect; but go I must, in common decency, and alone at that, for Mary Anne and Elizabeth were out, and Gabrielle was shut up in her room with a bad cold, the result of too much wandering about with thin slippers the night before.

A chill east wind was blowing, and I shivered as we hastened down the path and up the narrow steps.

Mrs. Graham lay rigid upon the couch, her eyes shut and her lips blue and pinched. I put my hand over her heart, and its faint flutter was a great relief, as I had thought her dead.

"It is only a faint," I exclaimed, and directed the bewildered girl to assist me in my efforts to revive her. At last we were rewarded by a long-drawn sigh, and the lids slowly lifted from the dark eyes.

The servant had found some brandy, and I held a little to her lips, motioning her not to speak, but she pushed the glass aside and sat upright.

"It is a bad dream," she said—"only a dream! Say it—only a dream!"

"Only a dream," I repeated, soothingly—"a bad dream."

She swallowed a little of the brandy and lay back exhausted on the couch, while I followed the servant into the kitchen.

"Where is Mr. Graham?" I demanded, sharply.

"I don't know, miss."

"When will he be home?"

"I don't know, miss."

"Has Mrs. Graham been ill long?"

"I don't know, miss."

"Is there anything you do know?" I inquired, my patience worn threadbare.

"No, miss; I don't know nothing."

This statement was so evidently true that I left her aimlessly poking the fire and returned to my patient.

She lay quite still, with closed eyes, so I merely drew a chair near the couch and sat down to wait further developments. I waited a long time. The minutes slipped past, and the room grew dim, for twilight was approaching—the long summer twilight which I usually loved, but whose arrival I dreaded to-day.

At last she stirred, moved restlessly once or twice, then raised her head and looked around the room.

"Where is he?" she said. "Where is he?"

"He has not come home yet, Mrs. Graham," I replied. "No doubt he will be here soon."

She fell back upon her pillows, and instinctively I sprang to her side, but she waved me away and turned her face to the wall.

"It was not a dream," she moaned; "it is true, quite true."

I heard the little servant close the window and light her lamp, and envied her the warmth and brightness of her kitchen, for the room was chilly and fast growing dark.

Finally Mrs. Graham raised herself by a great effort and beckoned to me.

"On the table in my room," she said, speaking with difficulty, "you will find some medicine. Drop it in water—the bottle tells how—and bring it to me. But be quick!"

I ran to the little room above and brought the medicine, dropping it with shaking hand, and holding it to her lips that she might swallow it. In a few minutes her breathing grew less labored, and she even smiled faintly.

"Don't be frightened," she whispered. "I am better now. It is all over—I know these attacks."

Little by little her face grew more natural, until at last she ceased to breathe with the short, painful gasp, and even sat upright among the pillows; but it was evident she was still suffering from some shock or distress of mind, for she drew me down beside her, holding my hand with a vise-like grip, as though she feared I might snatch it away from her.

"Stay with me," she begged. "Don't leave me. I—I cannot stay alone tonight."

So I agreed to stay, and dispatched the maid to the cottage with a note for Gabrielle, saying simply that Mrs. Graham was alone and not well, and wanted me to spend the night with her.

Shall I ever forget that night? Her first spasmodic attempts at ordinary conversation, her long silences, always followed by wandering to the window and gazing out over the ocean with the hopeless yet expectant air of one who knows it is useless to watch, yet nevertheless continues to do so; and the final moment when, casting all reserve aside, she flung herself upon her knees beside the couch and prayed that death might come soon and spare her further suffering.

"Oh, Harry," she mourned, "how could you? And I loved you so!"

It was infinitely pitiful, and after a while, when she grew calmer, she told me her story, speaking tenderly of the first few years of her married life and of her husband's great love for her and for the child, and the happiness he brought her.

"Then," she continued, "there came a change. He went away, and for weeks I did not hear from him. I thought he was dead, and nearly died also, they tell me. At last he came back to me—so loving, so patient with my invalid ways, and so self-reproachful at his own thoughtlessness. He had been yachting, he said; an invitation came at the last moment, and the letter he sent telling me of his plans must have miscarried. Could I ever forgive him?

"Well, I was only too glad to get him back, and I believed him absolutely. For a while, almost a year, we were very happy again, and I was beginning to forget, when he disappeared again. This time he stayed only two weeks, but when he returned he made no apologies. The water called him, he said, and he must go. He never told me where he went, nor what he did, but he gave up his other business, and yet we seemed to have more money than ever. He went away often and stayed for long periods after that, and for months I would not know where he was. When he came back to me he was always kind, always thoughtful for my comfort, always ready to talk on any subject except the one nearest my heart. But he grew to hate the boy."

"His own child?" I interrupted. "How unnatural!"

"He said I loved the child better than I loved my husband," she said, "but God knows whether that is true or not. At last I became ill again, during one of his absences, and when he returned it was a question whether or not I would live. He was dreadfully shocked and grieved, and on his knees beside my bed he begged me to live for his sake. For his sake—the words sounded wonderfully sweet to my ears, and when he held my hand in both his own and whispered that he would never leave me again, I began to feel a desire to get well.

"He kept his word, too, but this summer he came to me and told me that the sea was calling him, and he must go. He suggested that I come with him up here, where he could have his boat and come home to me a[s] but he would not bring the boy[.] broke my heart to leave h[im] you know why I hate the oc[ean] enemy."

"I understand," I said, and I [did] I did realize a little how distr[essing] must be to her to be so near h[im]

"Yes," she said; "I came be[cause] ly, because he asked it, alt[hough] hate the air and the very sight [of] ocean. But to-day I found s[ome] else. I was mending his coat [in] to keep myself occupied and n[ot] too much, for he went out da[y] yesterday and I have not s[een] since."

"Yes?" I said, for she pa[used] certainly.

"It is not the ocean," she sa[id] enly. "That was but an excu[se] a woman."

She thrust her hand into the [fold] of her dress, and instinctively [I] she would bring forth a small [box] wrapped in white tissue pap[er] opened it, and I saw the blu[e] and the little soft curl with a [faint] sense of familiarity. She put [it] ger under the lock of hair, [as] beth had done, and looked at [me] speechless misery.

"Perhaps," I suggested, "[there] some mistake."

"It is pretty, is it not?" [she] "A little, soft ring of yello[w] Yet when I saw it and—reali[zed] heart stopped beating, and I re[al] nothing more until I saw you."

She was talking calmly [and] calmly, I thought, as I looked [at] feverishly bright eyes. The [one] which touched mine occasion[ally] hot and dry, and a round red [spot] either cheek glowed and pal[ed] mittently.

"I am glad I didn't know," [she] tinued; "there are some thi[ngs] cannot forgive, and I might [have] spoken bitterly. Now I can al[ways] member that I never said a [cross] word to him, even when I w[as] sorely tried. I'm glad of th[at], glad."

She spoke in the tone of qu[iet] iniscence in which one revie[ws] past attitude to the dead, a[fter] first poignancy of grief is ov[er].

"But he will come back," [I] "Think how many times he [has] you before."

"He will not come back."

The finality of her voice [put] a reply, and after a long [pause] suggested that she lie down [and] to sleep, and I would do likewi[se]. agreed docilely enough, and [I] myself upon the bed beside h[er] in a few moments was sound [asleep] I slept heavily, for I was ver[y] but it seemed scarcely a mom[ent] I heard her call me.

"Yes," I cried, alarmed; "[what] is it?"

Mrs. Graham, fully dress[ed] with a lighted candle in he[r hand] stood beside the bed, a shawl [over] her shoulders and another [on] arm.

"I am going out," she said.

"Going out?" I repeated, p[artly] being still dazed with sleep.

"Going down to the edge of [the] ter to meet him. It is calling [me] last the ocean calls me, and I'[ll go] Will you come?"

"Wait until morning; we [can] nothing in the dark."

"It is dawn," she replied, rai[sing] shade. "At last the night has [gone]

Off at the edge of the horiz[on] a broad streak of pale gray, and [while] the stars still shone, they were [very] fast.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

The Minutes Slipped Past, and the Room Grew Dim.

YOUTHFUL FISHERS IN A[LASKA]

Boys' Boat Towed by a Big H[alibut] How the Dogs Help.

About the mouths of the [streams] on which salmon camps are [built] the Indian dogs and children [amuse] themselves catching the fish. [Some] of the youngsters are so sm[all] after they have succeeded in c[atching] a fish the combined efforts [of the] party are often required to dis[entangle] and carry it to camp. I have [seen] dogs running about in a rift [with] at the salmon and apparently [enjoying] the time of their lives.

One of the most amusing sig[hts] I saw during my stay in Alas[ka] two Indian boys being towed [out] the harbor at Kadiak by a hu[ge] but they had just hooked. [They] unable to land the fish, th[ey] fastened the line to the stern [of the] boat, and while they pulled [with] their might, each one at an o[ar] rallied each other for not e[xerting] more strength and shouted lou[dly for] help. Finally an Indian put [out in a] boat and the fish was landed.—[Forest] and Stream.

Met Their Fate.

As the echo of the clanging b[ell died] away, the man in somber gar[b rose] to his feet.

"Are you ready?" he asked.

"I am," answered his compa[nion] a firm tone, as he, too, stood up.

"Then come. The worst will be over."

Closing the door behind them, they descended the stairs and entered the dining-room of their boarding

INAUGURATION OF TAFT AND SHERMAN

PRESIDENT TAFT

BY EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington, Mar. 4.—Standing on the east portico of the capitol, just after noon, William Howard Taft took the oath of office as president of the United States, an immense throng of his fellow citizens witnessing the impressive ceremony. James Schoolcraft Sherman already had been sworn in as vice-president, in the senate chamber, and the people acclaimed the new chief executives of the nation.

Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Taft has been in civil pursuits all his life, the military display which accompanied his induction into office was greater than that which marked the inauguration of the militant rough rider president, Theodore Roosevelt, four years ago. Washington was filled with civilians and soldiers and sailors. From the earliest daylight hour the streets were crowded with people. Pennsylvania avenue, the center of all things in Washington, was packed with the crowds, every man and woman in which sought, by an early arrival, to obtain a place of vantage from which the great procession, which for hours passed through the broad thoroughfare, could be seen

Meet at Executive Mansion.

Early in the day the president-elect met the out-going president in the White House. About an hour before noon, the congressional committee of arrangements, consisting of Senators Knox, Lodge and Bacon, and Representatives Burke, Young and Gaines, arrived at the executive mansion and informed the president and the president-elect that congress was in readiness for the ceremonies of the actual inauguration. At half-past eleven President Roosevelt and President-to-be Taft entered a carriage, Mr. Taft sitting at the left of Mr. Roosevelt. In the carriages immediately following were the members of the congressional committee of arrangements. A body of veterans of the civil and Spanish wars acted as an escort for the outgoing and incoming chiefs of state.

Escorted to Senate Wing.

The president and the president-elect were escorted by the congressional committee into the senate wing of the capitol through the historic doorway of bronze on the east side of the building. They went directly to the president's room where they remained until the committee of arrangements came to them and announced that the senate was in readiness to receive them. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft then walked to the senate chamber, taking the seats reserved for them in the first row directly in front of the vice-president's desk.

Vice-President Fairbanks and Vice-President-elect Sherman drove to the capitol together and went directly to the room of the vice-president. In turn they were escorted to the senate chamber as the two chief figures of the occasion had been escorted before them. Mr. Fairbanks went at once to his place as presiding officer of the senate and Mr. Sherman took a seat at the left of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft, just across the center aisle of the chamber.

Edward Everett Hale, the veteran chaplain of the senate and one of the most picturesque figures in the United States, offered prayer. Immediately following the prayer, the oath of office was administered to Mr. Sherman by the outgoing vice-president, Mr. Fairbanks. The new vice president next delivered his inaugural address, and then at once, as the first duty of his new office, he administered the oath to the newly elected senators of the United States.

March to East Portico.

As soon as the senators-elect had been sworn into office, a procession was formed to march from the senate chamber through the rotunda of the capitol to the platform on the center portico of the east side of the building. The sergeant-at-arms of the senate and his fellow officials of the house of representatives led the way.

The platform upon which President Taft took the oath of office extended well out from the portico until it overhung the broad plaza to the east, where directly to the front were gathered the cadets from the military and naval academies, to the rear of whom were the other military bodies. Beyond the cadets, extending to the right and left as far as the open ground reached, were gathered the thousands upon thousands of civilians.

Taft Takes Oath of Office.

The white-haired chief justice of the United States, Melville W. Fuller, administered the oath of office of Mr. Taft, who, when he had taken it, bent and kissed the Bible held in the hand of his country's chief jurist. Immediately following the taking of the oath, President Taft delivered his inaugural address.

The president's speech frequently was interrupted by applause and at its close the great assembly broke into cheers. The president was congratulated by those who were close to him, including the retiring president and the other chief officials. President Taft then entered a carriage which was at once surrounded by the members of the Black Horse troop of Cleveland, O., which formed the special guard of honor. The president's carriage was driven north and then down the hill by the senate wing of the capitol until Pennsylvania avenue was reached. From that point the president drove slowly to the White House along the thoroughfare filled, save for its center, with crowds of his cheering fellow citizens.

Make-Up of Parade.

The guard of honor attending President Taft was followed immediately by a mounted police guard and a full military band. Then came Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell, chief of the general staff of the United States army, who was the parade's grand marshal, and his staff. The military division had the right of way after the president's escort. At its head were the West Point cadets in their gray uniforms, marching with the perfect alignment for which the military students are famed. Behind the stripling soldiers came the stripling sailors, the midshipmen from the naval academy at Annapolis. Immediately behind the future officers of army and navy came the regulars of the military service, veterans most of them, who had seen service in Cuba and in the Philippines, and, many of them, upon the plains in the days before the Indians had left the war path for the ways of peace. In the line were the 2,600 men who had formed the Cuban army of pacification.

Atlantic Fleet Sends Men.

In the waters of Hampton roads for ten days the fleet which had made its record breaking journey around the world had been assembled. The battleships, the cruisers, the destroyers and the torpedo boats were drawn upon for "jackies" to give the sea service an adequate representation in the inaugural ceremonies. There were 3,000 sailors from the Connecticut, the Illinois and the other ships of Sperry's fleet in the parade. The marines followed the sailors.

Vice-President Sherman.

The regulars of the government service led the way, their conceded right. Behind them came the men who, in time of war, form first the reserve force, and later when brought into real soldiers' shape, the backbone force of the government's army—the National Guardsmen of the states of the union.

Many Civic Organizations.

In the rear of the military division came the civic organizations. There were in line more than 100 clubs and political associations from all parts of the country, nearly all of them wearing some unique and distinguishing uniform. The American club of Pittsburg acted as personal escort to Thomas P. Morgan, the chief of the civic organizations' committee.

Among the organizations which had a place in the parade were several from President Taft's state—Ohio. Among these were the Citizens' Taft club and the Stamina Republican club of Cincinnati, Uniform Rank Knights of Maccabees, Cleveland; the Republican Glee club and the Buckeye Republican club of Columbus.

Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Kentucky, Minnesota and other states of the middle west and of the south were represented by associations of citizens, political clubs, and by prominent state, county and municipal officials. Many veterans of the civil war who served in the ranks of the union or in the ranks of the confederacy were present in the parade. There were more former confederates in line than were present at any previous inauguration of a Republican president.

Luncheon at White House.

As soon as President Taft reached the White House he entered and was greeted by the members of a specially invited presidential party, including the governors of several states, prominent federal officials, personal friends of the president and the members of the presidential family to a remote degree of relationship. A light luncheon was served in the great state dining-room, and as soon as it was over the president walked across the grounds of the White House to the presidential reviewing stand built on the south side of the avenue directly in front of the main entrance to the White House and facing Lafayette square. The president took his place on the reviewing stand, and with him were the members of the presidential party. Vice-President Sherman stood on the immediate right of the chief executive. Across Pennsylvania avenue directly in front of the president was a huge stand for spectators occupying the entire length of one side of Lafayette square.

Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell.

President Reviews Parade.

As soon as the president appeared on the reviewing stand the leading band of the procession, which had been halted to await the appearance of Mr. Taft, began to play "Hail to the Chief." Gen. Bell gave the order to pass in review, and the great procession, having its head at the White House, moved forward to pass before the chief magistrate. As body after body of soldiers, sailors and civilians passed, they saluted and the president saluted in turn.

It took the procession three hours to pass the reviewing stand. It was a great sight, full of interest and color. Under the direction of the trained military chieftains who had given their time to the perfection of details, the parade passed quickly and in perfect form. When in front of the reviewing stand some of the civil marching clubs showed their proficiency in drill by performing evolutions. The regulars and National Guardsmen, however, swept by in perfect military precision. The parade was worthy of the occasion that called it into being.

Inaugural Ball in Evening.

When the last of the parading bodies had passed the president returned to the White House for a short rest before preparing to go to the great inaugural ball, which was given in the Pension building. The ball was the brilliant affair that it always is. It was attended by a tremendous throng. In the center of the great hall which occupies the lower floor of the structure a space was roped off. The visitors stood outside the open place waiting the arrival of President and Mrs. Taft and Vice-President and Mrs. Sherman. They came finally and stayed on the main floor for some time, and then retired to the president's box in the gallery above, where they watched the proceedings below.

On the great mall on the Potomac side of the White House in the evening there was a brilliant display of fireworks, a display that was coincident with the continuance of the inaugural ball.

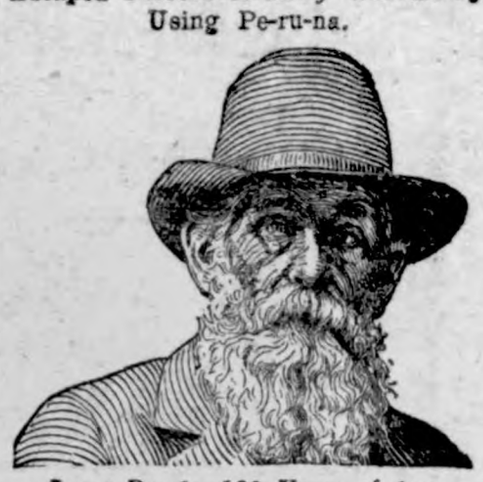
The day, with all its attending ceremonies, was one that was worthy of the event which made it a time of celebration.

Photograph copyright by Clinedinst, Washington, D. C.

BLACK HORSE TROOP OF CLEVELAND, O.

OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Escaped Terrors of Many Winters by Using Pe-ru-na.



Isaac Brock, 120 Years of Age.

Mr. Isaac Brock, of McLennan county, Tex., is an ardent friend to Peruna and speaks of it in the following terms:

"Dr. Hartman's remedy, Peruna, I have found to be the best, if not the only reliable remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, CATARRH and diarrhea.

"Peruna has been my stand-by for many years, and I attribute my good health and my extreme age to this remedy. It exactly meets all my requirements.

"I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine. I believe it to be especially valuable to old people."

Isaac Brock.

LIVE AND LEARN.

Farmer Meddergrass—Waal, by clover! I knew them Chinese lived on t'other side o' th' airth but hang me if I knew they had a through route!

Meant the Other Way.

Rear Admiral Sperry, commander-in-chief of the fleet returned from its triumphant sail around the world, sometimes has serious spells of absent mindedness. Several years ago he was talking with a group of fellow officers at the Naval War college at Newport, when one of them remarked that he had been ordered for duty on the Asiatic station.

"Are you going to take your wife with you?" Admiral Sperry inquired.

"No," the officer replied.

"I think you are making a serious mistake," the admiral continued in positive terms. "I was out there in 1876 when an epidemic of cholera broke out, and hundreds of people died."—Sunday Magazine.

Argument That Won.

Susie had been promised a pair of new slippers for Sunday. Anxious to have them at once she had tried in every way to persuade her mother to buy them for her and let her wear them to a children's party that was to be given on Wednesday, but without success. Finally when both she and her mother had become tired of the teasing the little girl said: "Well, mamma, you needn't get them now; but maybe I'll be dead by Sunday and if I am you'll be sorry for disappointing me." Susie wore the slippers Wednesday.

NEW IDEA
Helped Wis. Couple.

It doesn't pay to stick too closely to old notions of things. New ideas often lead to better health, success and happiness.

A Wis. couple examined an idea new to them and stepped up several rounds on the health ladder. The husband writes:

"Several years ago we suffered from coffee drinking, were sleepless, nervous, sallow, weak and irritable. My wife and I both loved coffee and thought it was a bracer." (delusion.)

"Finally, after years of suffering, we read of Postum and the harmfulness of coffee, and believing that to grow we should give some attention to new ideas, we decided to test Postum.

"When we made it right we liked it and were relieved of ills caused by coffee. Our friends noticed the change—fresher skin, steadier nerves, better temper, etc.

"These changes were not sudden, but relief increased as we continued to drink and enjoy Postum, and we lost the desire for coffee.

"Many of our friends did not like Postum at first, because they did not make it right. But when they boiled Postum according to directions on pkg., until it was dark and rich, they liked it better than coffee and were benefited by the change." "There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of

HARDWARE

—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

We have just received

A Car Load of Furnitur

Our Furniture business has grown so that we now must buy—car lots. This means a big saving to us. Not only the price we pay for the goods but also freight and breakage. This enables us to offer a BIG ASSORTMENT to pick from and also UNUSUAL VALUES.

Here are a few big values

An Oak Dresser	at only	$ 8.50
An Oak Chamber Suit	at only	27.00
A Strong Iron Bed	at only	3.50

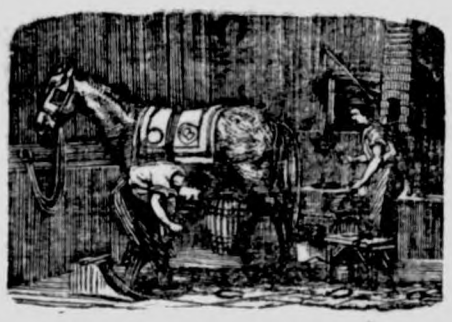
Come and see for yourself, we invite you.



J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING
HORSE SHOEING A
SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL

New Wall Paper for 1909

How about it? Hadn't you better hang that wall paper now before Spring work begins? The kitchen needs it for sure and maybe some the other rooms to.

Our own patent device

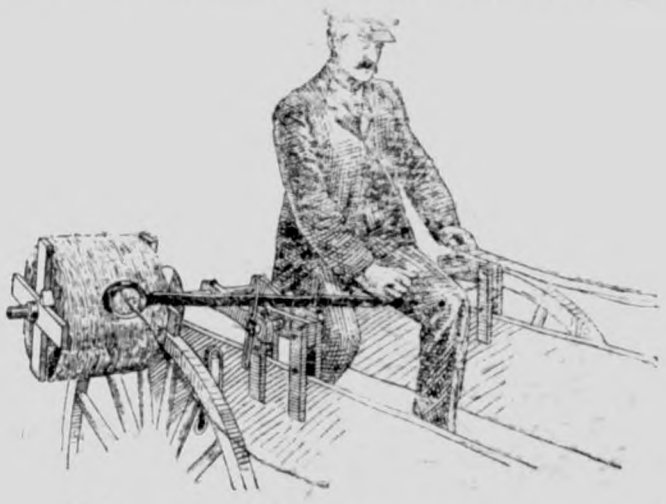
For showing wall paper is now filled with the new colors and de for 1909. It's so handy, we can show you 75 kinds of wall paper minutes.

New paper 6c per double roll and up.

It's no trouble to show wall pap

HAVE A LOOK

LINOLEUM A clean and durable floor covering for the kitchen or room. Price from 35c to $1.45 per square yard We have it on hand in full rolls, either 2 yds wide or wide. These are new goods.



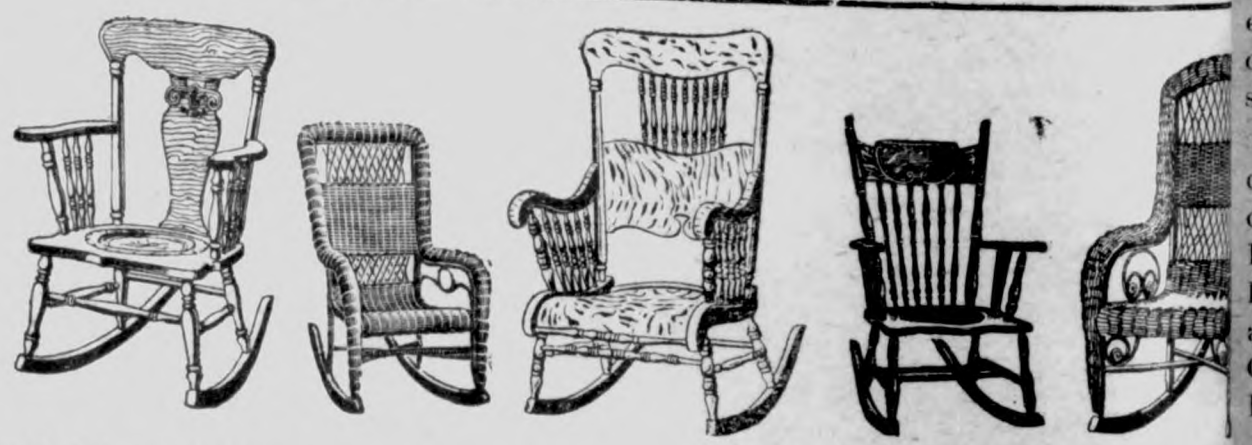
Farm Machinery.

Yes Sir! We mean just what we say. "A penna saved means a penna earned" and you can do this by going to H. Lau & Son and buy you a first-class "A Grade Surrey" and top buggy and Dane mower and Dane hay loaders, buckers, stackers, 20 century Kemp manure spreaders. You can also buy cultivator plows, binders, mowers, hay rakes, Jones scales, harnesses, flynets, lap dusters, whips, oils of all kinds, tile spades, barb and smoot wires, fence stapels and other farm implements. Royal Tailors tight fit suits. They will keep style and collor, fit guaranteed.

H. Lau & Son.

Arthur Wellemeyer

WE SELL PETERS SHOES



The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

NEAR DEATH IN BIG POND

It was a thrilling experience to Mrs. Ida Soper to face death. "For years a severe lung trouble gave me intense suffering" she writes, and several times nearly caused my death. All remedies failed and doctors said I was incurable. Then Dr. King's new discovery brought quick relief and a cure so permanent that I have not been troubled in twelve years. Mrs. Soper lives in Big Pond, Pa. It works wonders in coughs and colds, sore lungs, hemorrhages, lagrippe, asthma croup, whooping cough and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G A Pabst & Co.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

Subscribers who are more
One Year in arrears to the T
are requested to pay up at O

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	50 to 54c
Oats	45 to 49c
Wheat	90 to 100
Barley	55 to60 c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.90
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Linoleum 4 yds. wide at Wellemeyer's.

Read the State Savings Bank automobile ad.

Oysters direct from Baltimore at Kluckhohn's.

H. C. Lau shipped one car of hogs Wednesday morning.

OATS—Early Champion seed oats for sale at Wm. Lau. 30-3

Fred Rolston was at Garner between trains Wednesday.

FOR SALE—The J. Bock, Sr. old farm 3 mi. northeast of Klemme. 30-2

J. F. Hartfelder and P. M. Griesemer rturned from Chicago Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Shoop of Clear Lake visited over Sunday with thier son Arthur and family.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

If you'd be dubbed a handsome girl
And win a handsome Knight,
The secret here I do impart,
Take Rocky Mountain Tea at night
G A Pabst & Co.

Chas. Lewis and Henry Ihde are going into the sheep business and expect to run a sheep ranch this summer. They have one sheep to start with. We expect that they will do a land office business. We wish them success in this enterprise.

The new "Wonder Lamp" incandescent 100 candle power, cannot explode, 6 hours for 1c. Burns common kerosene. THE lamp for churches, schools, halls and homes. Write or see J. D. G. Houghton, Agent, Goodell, Iowa or Klemme. 31-3

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets, Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

Word comes to us that the Avery Center Dancing Association has elected new officers which are as follows: J. F. Griggs, President, Joe Hamilton, Vice Pres., Wm. Shafer, Prompter, Antony Shafer, 1st violinist, G. W. Griggs, 2nd violinist., J. T. Griggs, pianist. This association is right in the coming and in the way of being up-to-date in style and grace of dancing they are hard to equal.

Read State S. Bank change of ad.

Linoleum 2 yds wide at Wellemeyer's.

Geo. Gruetzmacher was at Garner Wednesday.

Fresh oysters always on hand at Kluckhohn's. tf.

Basket social at Opera House on Friday evening Mar. 5th

Ladies Suit Sale Monday March 8 th. J. C. Grobaty, Garner, Iowa.

Don't fail to read Wellemeyers large display ad. He is telling you facts.

Miss Becker of Garner visited over Sunday with her parents east of Klemme.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

Geo. Schroeder and family were at Garner on Monday. They expect to move up there soon.

The weather the past few days has been very agreeable. It reminds one of Spring. We hope it will continue.

Aug. Wenz attended the Upper Iowa district Sunday school snd Epworth League convention at Garner Monday.

Mrs. A. L. Spooner, son and daughter arrived from Iowa Falls last week Friday and visited with relatives and friends.

Remember the programme and basket social at the Opera House on Friday evening Mar. 5th. Everybody is invited.

A spring tonic that makes rich, red blood. Brings strength, health and happiness to the whole family. Nothing equals Hollister's rocky mountain tea as a spring regulator. 36c. G A Pabst & Co.

Asa Gibbs and son are the possessors of a thoroughbred Short-horn bull which they had shipped from Vinton, Iowa this week.

H. Keeper and family moved into the rooms formerly occupied by H. Schroeder and family next to the meat market.

H. C. Lau shipped one car of hogs and Aug. Lau shipped one car of cattle to Chicago Sunday morning. Aug. went along and returned Tuesday.

Val. Josten. Jr. was elected director of Twin Lake No. 1 by an overwhelming majority. The continued efficiency of this school is consequently assured.

A. Kirkwood and family will move to Klemme this week. They have bought the Bloom and Griesemer store building and will run a restaurant.

Wm. Lau is the possessor of a new Gates air cooler three H. P. engine The engine is capable of doing 5 H. P. work, The engine is on trucks and is very handy to manipulate. Noting is too good for the "Big Chief."

The Arnold brothers marketed a number of porkers and some cattle to H. C. and Aug. Lau last week Saturday and they received a check for same amounting to $1970.93. This is going some.

IT SAVED HIS LEG.

All though I'd lose my leg writes J. A. Swenson. Watertown Wis., Ten years of eczema that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it sound and well." Infallible for skin eruptions, eczema, salt rheum. boils, fever sores, burns, scalds, cuts and piles. 25c at. G. A. Pabst & Co.

Wall paper at Wellemeyer's.

A car load of furniture at wellemeyer's

Otto Baack was at Garner Tuesday.

Nettie Haskin visited at Garner Tuesday.

Dance at Opera House Friday night Mar 12th.

The way to save your money—State Savings ad.

Music by the Griesemer and Shipley orchestra.

Chas. Ax and family moved to Klemme last week.

H. Griewe did business at Garner last week Friday.

The Market Day sale on Saturday was largely attended

Harry Behringer was a Garner visitor last week Friday.

Remember the dance at Opera House. Friday night Mar. 12th.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Swalve left Monday evening for Iowa Falls.

Louis Sampson and H. Griewe were Garner visitors on Tuesday.

DeWITT'S CARBOLIZED WITCH HAZEL SALVE For Piles, Burns, Sores.

You ought to see our new goods. J. C. Grobaty, Garner, Iowa.

Parker lost his home, he is now an orphan, couldn't someone adopt him?

Mrs. J. Josten and son Earl are visiting her mother and relatives at Monona, Iowa.

J. J. Wilson drove over from Meservey Saturday. We acknowledged a pleasant call.

Aug. Lau bought a nice car load of steers of the Arnold brothers last week Saturday.

Mrs. Geo. Holmes of Tyndall, S. Dak., is visiting with her relatives Lew Lewis and family.

Dr. Missman of Garner, visited with Dr. Zinn and other acquaintances the first of this week.

I make Covered Buttons in 3 sizes, 18 and 20c a doz. Send me your oders. J. C. Grobaty, Garner, Iowa.

WANTED—Dress making done at my residenc. Rates reasonable and work guaranteed. Call at my residence. Mrs. Langmann.

We call your attention to the State Savings Bank statement on first page. The statement mskes a very nice showing.

Miss Tillie Lau left last week Friday for Woden where she visited with her sister. She returned the first of this week.

Don't wait until your blood is impoverished and you are sick and ailing but take Hollister's rocky mountain tea now. It will positively drive out all winter impurities. 35c, tea or tablets. G. A. Pabst & Co.

A large number from here attended Upper Iowa district Sunday school and Epworth League convention at Garner this week.

Miss Carrie Johnson who is attending the Memorial University at Mason City, visited at home over Sunday returning Monday.

AN IDEAL COUGH MEDICINE.

As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's cough remedy in a class by itself, says Dr. R A Wiltshire of Gwynneville, Ind. I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's cough medicine. In fact I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children As it contains no opium, chloroform or morphine it certainly makes a most safe pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended. For sale by G. A. Pabst & Co.

Bloom keeps all kinds of good seed oats, barley, buckwheet, clover, timothy, rape and milet. Yours for business at the South Elevator. tf

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Church and family and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Church and Miss Wheaton of Goodell were guests at the Prof. Houghton home on Sunday.

MARRIED

The marriage of Mr. Geo. A. Pabst, our genial and popular pharmacist to Mrs. Carrie R. Brooks, from Belmond, Iowa. took place at the German Reformed parsonage, Tuesday afternoon, March 2nd. Rev. A. Muehlmeier officiating. That Mr. Pabst so suddenly was convinced of the truth: "It is not good that the man should be alone" undoubtedly was a great surprise to his many friends, yet all join in wishing him and his esteemed wife a happy and blessed married life.

They at once took to house keeping at the old cosy drug store residence where they will be "at home" for their numerous friends.

KILLS WOULD BE SLAYER.

A merciless murderer is appendicitis with many victims. But Dr. King's New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis, curing constipation, biliousness, chills, malaria, headache and indigestion 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

School Coucus.

At the school caucus on Monday evening Mar. 1st the following proceedings took place:

Meeting called to order.

G. G. Washburn was elected chairman.

A. C. Gibbs was elected secretary.

Motion was made and carried that the following be nominated as school directors:

J. W. Waterman for a term of 3 yeas.

John Terhufen for a term of 3 years.

Wm. Fuller for a term of 1 year.

THE LURID GLOW OF DOOM

was seen in the red face, hands and body of the little son of H M Adams of Henriette. Pa. His awful plight from eczeme had for five years defied al remedies and baffled the best doctors who said the poisoned blood had affected his lungs and nothing could save him. But. writs his mother. seven bottlei of electric bitters completely cured him. For eruptios, eczema, salt rheum, sores and all blood e'so d eas and rheumatism Electric Bitters is supreme. Only 50c. Guaranteed by G A Pabst & Co.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

L. W. Wendel Belmond
H. E. Schwartz Albany, N. Y
G. Henderson, Garner

How He Hunted Bear.

A New York Irishman was visiting a friend in the Adirondacks and was taken with a desire to go hunting Borrowing a gun from his friend he set off alone in search of game. Some time after his host heard a distant report of a gun. A few minutes later he heard some one shouting. From a window he spied, in the distance, his friend, hot-footing it for home, and behind him a bear, gaining at every step. Nearly spent, the pursued reached the door just in time to cry out:

"Quick, Mike! Quick! Open the door! I'm bringing him home aloive!"

Let us be your Tailor
THE AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS Co, Chicago, Illinois.
Manufacturers of fine woolens and wholesale custom tailors.
As Eastern Decoration Day is near at hand, I will give special bargains on suits that are purchased of us before that time.
I will be please to show you a beautiful line of samples. A fit, a beauty and a long wearing suit Your profit, my pleasure.
ELMER LUDEKE
Klemme - - - Iowa

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats, Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician.
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

$13,440 Cash from 28 Acres of Onions in the Texas Gulf Coast

¶ W. A. McNeil planted twenty-eight acres in onions at Santa Maria, Tex., in the Gulf Coast Country. The yield averaged 400 crates per acre, for which he received $1.20 per crate, $480 an acre. His total receipts from the twenty-eight acres was $13,440. Pretty good results from four months' work.

¶ Mr. McNeil is no exception. Profits of from $300 to $1,000 an acre are of common occurrence in the Gulf Coast Country.

¶ Are you doing as well? Why shouldn't you? Raising fruit and vegetables in the Gulf Coast Country is simple—anyone can do it. A few acres will be all you need. You can buy it on easy terms and the first crop, if properly cared for, should more than pay for the land.

¶ The Gulf Coast Country is a delightful place in which to live. Mild, sunny winters; gulf-breeze-cooled summers.

¶ Investigate this proposition while the land is within your reach—next year it will cost more.

¶ On excursion days tourist sleepers run through from Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, St. Louis and Kansas City to Brownsville, Tex.

Let me send you some further information about the big profits growers are making in the Gulf Coast Country. We have prepared this in attractive, printed form. Write for a free copy to-day.

JOHN SEBASTIAN
Passenger Traffic Mgr.
2005 La Salle Station
Chicago

The Winter Vegetable Garden of America

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

WESTERN CANADA'S SPLENDID CROP YIELD FOR 1908.

AMERICANS PROFITED LARGELY AND SEND BACK SATISFACTORY REPORTS.

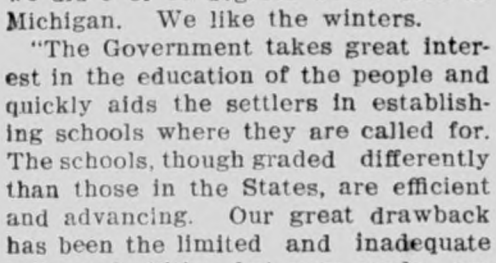
The census branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Canada, has completed its returns of the showing of Western Canada's grain yield for 1908, and the reports make very interesting reading. In the three provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, which comprise what may be known as Central Canada, there was a total wheat yield of about 107,000,000 bushels, worth to the farmer about $85,000,000; in addition to this the oat, barley and flax crops were worth another $35,000,000. Letters have been received from many of the settlers from the United States. From these, that of Rev. Oscar L. King has been selected. He lives in the vicinity of Edmonton, Alberta, and what he says will be of interest to those who contemplate moving to Central Canada. Every line of the letter is interesting. Those who wish for the particulars as to how to secure homesteads and preemptions should write any Canadian Government agent. Mr. King says:

"Mr. M. V. McInnnes, Detroit, Michigan: I am well satisfied with Alberta. This country offers excellent opportunities for anyone to make a good home for himself and family if he is willing to put up with a few hard knocks for the first two or three years. But it is worth a few hard knocks to get a 160-acre farm of rich, productive land with no mortgage on it. This province is well fitted for grains, stock raising and dairying. We have found the climate generally healthful, more healthful than Michigan, and although the thermometer sometimes drops to 40 degrees below zero in winter, yet we do not seem to feel that temperature any more than we did 5 or 10 degrees below zero in Michigan. We like the winters.

"The Government takes great interest in the education of the people and quickly aids the settlers in establishing schools where they are called for. The schools, though graded differently than those in the States, are efficient and advancing. Our great drawback has been the limited and inadequate railway facilities, but new roads are being rapidly built and many more are projected through various parts of the province. The new policy of the Alberta government to construct a great many branch lines throughout the province will greatly help all parts of the country. If those new settlers who have to go back a considerable distance from existing railroads and towns to find free homesteads will but locate along the line of a projected railroad they will in two or three years be near both town and railroad. When I first came to this country three and a half years ago the homestead I took was 75 miles from a railroad town; now there is a railroad 25 miles north, another 25 miles south, and a third is being built through my neighborhood.

"I think the prairie country or country that is partly prairie offers much better opportunities than the hilly portions."

ROUGH STUFFING.



The Tiger—It was bad enough to be put off in my prime, but to be stuffed by an amateur taxidermist is really too hard to bear!

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Trained Taste.

"But, Dorothy, dear, don't you care for this lovely sunset?"

"Why, you know very well, mamma, that I've got lots of picture post cards that are much lovelier."

If Your Feet Ache or Burn get a 25c package of Allen's Foot-Ease. It gives quick relief. Two million packages sold yearly.

An Insinuation.

"He's as honest as the day is long."

"Especially in the winter time."

30,000 ACRES WILD LAND. MORTON Co. No. Dak. Farms in Minnesota & Wisconsin. National Land Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

Happiness is measured not by the enlargement of the possessions but of the heart.—Ruskin.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE." That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

Life does not make us, we make life.—Kavanagh.

DOING GOOD WORK

OAKDALE SANATORIUM MAKES EXCELLENT SHOWING.

EIGHTY PER CENT SHOW GAIN

Many Cases Turned Away on Account of Lack of Facilities for Their Care.

Des Moines.—In an effort to curtail the exodus of hundreds of citizens to western states and afford relief to those whose financial condition renders effective treatment here or elsewhere impossible, the Iowa state legislature, three years ago decided to provide an institution for the treatment of tuberculosis.

The State Sanatorium located at Oakdale was opened to patients on February 1, 1908. For the year just ended, two hundred and thirty-six patients have been admitted, having reached its capacity in November with an average of seventyseven patients. During the year more than four hundred have been turned away as too far advanced to be received. Of the total number accepted only thirty-three proved to be incipient or early cases, and of this class eighty per cent who remained over two months, were sent home apparently cured.

The sanatorium was built and equipped for the treatment of incipient cases only, but while room was available the more favorable of advanced cases were accepted. Of these ninety per cent who remained two months showed marked improvement. Such gratifying results justify making provision for the treatment of this class of patients.

People all over the state have been astonished at many of the remarkable results observed in friends who have been patients at Oakdale. This will be readily understood from the fact that many have returned home who have gained from twenty-five to forty pounds, with corresponding improvement in their lungs.

The sanatorium is effecting cures. It is doing more. It is educating the people of Iowa to the necessities of the work undertaken and pointing the way to what is certain in time to result in at least a parial eradication of the Great White Plague. It is disseminating a knowledge of sanitation which will minimize infecton and remove the necessity for treatment on so broad a scale.

Two facts stand out in bold relief as emphasizing the necessity of enlarging the sanatorium equipment. As stated above, eighty per cent of the incipient cases treated were sent away apparently cured, while more than four hundred have been denied admission because too far advanced.

From now on it will not be wholly a matter of rejecting advanced cases. The sanatorium is full and unless enlarged many patients who might be successfully treated must be kept on the waiting list while every week makes more remote their chance of recovery. Without means many are unable to look for treatment elsewhere. More than half of the patients treated during the past year were supported by the state.

The legislature has been asked to appropriate funds to enlarge the scope of this institution. The appropriation asked for will not make it possible to provide for all applicants but it will help. In preparing the budget the superintendent has endeavored to economize to the last degree in every direction. It is simply a question of whether means shall be provided for more effective treatment and the accommodation of a larger number of afflicted persons who desire admission to the sanatorium, or whether the work shall be confined to its present limitations, which in extent has already proven entirely inadequate.

A contract has been awarded for building a new postoffice at Clarinda to cost $54,790.

Frank Brown of Shannon City won the sweepstakes prize at the corn show of the farmers' institute at Afton.

John Mahr of Chariton has been arrested, charged with robbing J. F. Irwin, a traveling man from Ottumwa.

It is reported that the Sisters of Dubuque will take over the Dr. Kessel hospital at Cresco, and erect a fine $30,000 hospital at that place in the spring.

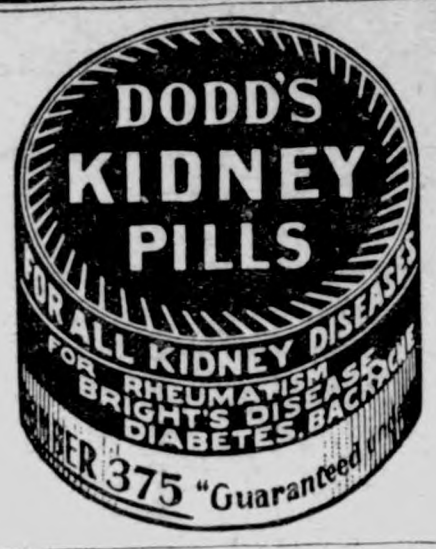
Steps for the complete electrification of the Newton & Northwestern line have been taken by the proprietors of the road. The line will be electrified from Fort Dodge Junction to Rockwell City, a distance of twenty-four miles. The work will begin this spring.

James Gegoris, who formerly conducted a candy and fruit store in Perry has started suit in the district court of Polk county for $10,000 damages against the Inter-Urban Railway Company, for being ejected from a car several weeks ago.

A Cure For Colds and Grip.

There is inconvenience, suffering and danger in a cold, and the wonder is that people will take so few precautions against colds. One or two Laxe's Pleasant Tablets (be sure of the name) taken when the first snuffly feeling appears, will stop the progress of a cold and save a great deal of unnecessary suffering. Druggists and dealers generally sell these tablets, price 25 cents. If you cannot get them send to Orator F. Woodward, Le Roy, N. Y. Sample free.

If one-half the world doesn't know how the other half lives, it ought to be informed that the process is the simple one of not paying its bills.



There's Danger Ahead

if you've been neglecting a cold. Don't experiment with your health. Get a remedy that you know will cure—that remedy is

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

It's safe. In the severest cases of coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup, inflammation of chest and lungs it is the most effective remedy known. It does its work quickly, removes the cause of the disease

Sold everywhere in three size bottles, $1.00, 50c, 25c.

A 25c. Bottle of Kemp's Balsam

Contains 40 DOSES,

And each dose is more effective than four times the same quantity of any other cough remedy, however well advertised and however strongly recommended that remedy may be

Remember always that Kemp's Balsam is the Best Cough Cure.

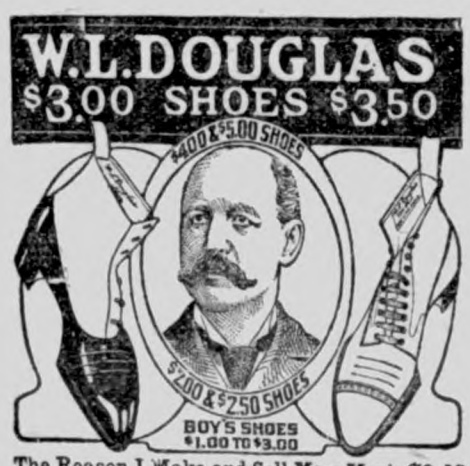
It has saved thousands from consumption.

It has saved thousands of lives.

At all druggists', 25c., 50c. and $1.

Don't accept anything else.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOES $3.50



The Reason I Make and Sell More Men's $3.00 & $3.50 Shoes Than Any Other Manufacturer

is because I give the wearer the benefit of the most complete organization of trained experts and skilled shoemakers in the country

The selection of the leathers for each part of the shoe and every detail of the making in every department, is looked after by the best shoemakers in the shoe industry

If I could show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make

My Method of Tanning the Soles makes them More Flexible and Longer Wearing than any others.

Shoes for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses and Children.

For sale by shoe dealers everywhere.

CAUTION! None genuine without W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom

Fast Color Eyelets Used Exclusively. Catalog mailed free

W. L. DOUGLAS, 167 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

The great family liniment is A-B-C LINIMENT Sold Everywhere.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

PISO'S

Keep It on Hand!

Coughs and colds may seize any member of the family any time. Many a bad cold has been averted and much sickness and suffering has been saved by the prompt use of Piso's Cure. There is nothing like it to break up coughs and colds. There is no bronchial or lung trouble that it will not relieve. Free from opiates or harmful ingredients. Fine for children.

At all druggists', 25 cts.

25 cts. 25 cts.

CURE

THIRTEEN WORDS—For Seattle

For thirteen consecutive weeks, good Eastern people, I have been trying to "get a word in" to your "inner consciousness" for Seattle. I have tried to give you an inkling of the marvelous growth which the Queen City of the Northwest Empire has experienced since the Yukon "gold rush" in '98; some idea of the immense, varied resources—the unique location—which are making Seattle the "New York of the Pacific;" I have been reminding you of, extending each and all of you a special invitation to, our ALASKA-YUKON-PACIFIC EXPOSITION this summer, with the view, finally, of getting you to comprehend the unusual investment opportunity my company has developed in the UNIT OWNERSHIP of Seattle's Central Business Property, which, until now, I've only casually mentioned. Now, for thirteen weeks more, I shall "bear down hard" upon the fact—which I hope at least you will investigate when you come to the Fair—that the ownership of Seattle's Central Business Property, which WE divide into Units from $100 upward, is the best safe investment of the time. Let me send YOU some facts to think over beforehand. Write to me NOW.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

HEATING THE HOUSE

Do you find it difficult to heat your house properly and economically? Does your base-burner fail to produce a warm, even temperature during the cold snaps? Does your fire go out? Are you continually poking clinkers and sifting ashes? Does it seem as though you were always shoveling coal? Do you have to wear an overcoat for an hour or two every morning until the fire gets started?

Some people never have any heating troubles—the users of

MILWAUKEE Solvay Coke

This is an up-to-date product that has taken the place of hard coal and other fuels wherever it has been given a trial.

Milwaukee Solvay Coke ignites quickly—warms the house thoroughly in a few moments—sustains an even fire at all times. It lasts all night and requires but little attention in the morning.

It is cheaper and goes farther than hard coal and there are no ashes to sift.

It is clean, smokeless and hygienic—it is the heat element of the coal—the perfect fuel for use in stove or furnace.

2,000 dealers in the Northwest sell Milwaukee Solvay Coke—all sizes—ask your dealer, and write for interesting booklet of coke information to

PICKANDS, BROWN & COMPANY
Colby-Abbott Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

William A. Stiles Advertising Agency, Chicago.

100 TRANSPLANTED EVERGREENS $1

(50 Express Prepaid $6)

These trees have been twice transplanted and twice root-pruned which gives them the large abundance of roots necessary to the life of the tree. They are backed by the fairest guarantee of any nursery in the U. S. and by reputation of

Iowa's Greatest Evergreen Specialist for Forty Years

These trees are from 1 1-2 feet to 2 feet in height and first class in every way. Our other special bargains, backed by our guarantee, will surely please you. Write for special bargain sheet and guarantee. 3-year-old apple trees $1 per hundred.

Bristow Nursery Co., 134 West 5th St., Hampton, Ia.

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE

FOR PINK EYE DISTEMPER CATARRHAL FEVER AND ALL NOSE AND THROAT DISEASES

Cures the sick and acts as a preventive for others. Liquid given on the tongue. Safe for brood mares and all others. Best kidney remedy. 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle; $5.00 and $10.00 the dozen. Sold by all druggists and horse goods houses, or sent express paid, by the manufacturers

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists, GOSHEN, INDIANA

Western Canada the Pennant Winner

"The Last Best West"

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

The government of Canada now gives to every actual settler 160 acres of wheat-growing land free and an additional 160 acres at $3.00 an acre. The 300,000 contented American settlers making their homes in Western Canada is the best evidence of the superiority of that country. They are becoming rich, growing from 25 to 50 bushels wheat to the acre; 60 to 110 bushels oats and 45 to 60 bushels barley, besides having splendid herds of cattle raised on the prairie grass. Dairying is an important industry.

The crop of 1908 still keeps Western Canada in the lead. The world will soon look to it as its food-producer.

"The thing which most impressed us was the magnitude of the country that is available for agricultural purposes."—National Editorial Correspondence, 1908.

Low railway rates, good schools and churches, markets convenient, prices the highest, climate perfect.

Lands are for sale by Railway and Land Companies. Descriptive pamphlets and maps sent free. For railway rates and other information apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

Cabbage Seed 60 cts. per acre

Per Salzer's catalog page 129.

The biggest money making crop in vegetables is cabbage. Then comes onions, radishes, peas, cucumbers. Big catalog free: or, send 16c in stamps and receive catalog and 1000 kernels each of onions, carrots, celery, radishes, 1500 each lettuce, rutabagas, turnips, 100 parsley, 100 tomatoes, 100 melons, 1200 charming flower seeds, in all 10,000 kernels, easily worth $1.00 of any man's money. Or, send 20c and we add one pkg. of Earliest Peep O'Day Sweet Corn.

SALZER SEED CO., Box W, La Crosse, Wis.

6% QUARTERLY

We pay interest every three months at the rate of six per cent. yearly. Our investments are all in mortgages on New York City real estate. Twenty years' experience in New York real estate. Principal and interest guaranteed. Communications confidential. Write:

Liberty Financial & Security Co.,
CITY INVESTING BUILDING, NEW YORK CITY

FREE TO Sick People

We have opened a department for the treatment of sick people.

Our reasons would make a long story and no purpose. Briefly, we wish to demonstrate stead of advertise; to prove instead of

Our combination includes Wheeler's Vitalizer, Wheeler's Blood Vitalizer and Kidney Tea, each a specific distinctly in class.

Of the treatment, we have only this to contains neither alcohol, morphine, other harmful or habit forming drugs—is solute cure, not a bracer. Of ourselves, have been successfully curing sick people over 60 years. Our record has been what we have done—not what we promise

Tell us plainly what your trouble is, proper combination may be sent to you.

This free offer must necessarily extend very brief period. Act now, not because but for your health's sake and the happ will give you. Send coupon below with for mailing to J. W. Brant Co., Albion, Ind.

Nervous Prostration Thin, Watery Blood
Nervous Debility Skin Eruption
Sleeplessness
Epileptic Fits
Brain Fag
Weakness
Despondency
Palpitation
Female Trouble
Constipation
Kidney Trouble
Liver Trouble

FREE Treatment Coupon No. 30

EAT PURITY CHOCOLATE

M'f'd by Windsor-Purity Candy Co., Des Moines
For sale by all first-class dealers

TEXAS STATE LAND

Millions of acres of school land to be sold by State, $1.00 to $5.00 per acre; only one-fortieth and 40 years time on balance; three per cent interest; only $12.00 cash for 160 acres at $3.00 per acre. Greatest opportunity; good agricultural land. 50 cents for Book of Instructions and New State Law. J. J. Snyder, School Land Locator, 160 1/2 E. 6th St., Austin, Tex. Reference, Austin National Bank.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

MADE HER FEEL FOOLISH.

Ill-Bred Woman Deserved Little Sympathy in Her Mortification.

"In an eastern city, an ill-bred woman used to boast that her husband owned a bank. She was proud, and excessively foolish in her pride. The conductors on the line which she uses all know her, and smile when she enters the car and grandly utters her command:

"Conductor, let me off at my husband's bank."

One day lately, a trampish-looking old fellow with a red nose got on the car just as the banker's wife delivered her usual order to the conductor. The old man watched the performance curiously, and then arose, pulled himself together, and called out, with a magnificent air that was almost inimitable:

"Conductor, let me off at my old woman's peanut stand."

A roar went through the air, and "my husband's bank" has been alluded to more than ever since that time.

HAD AWFUL WEEPING ECZEMA.

Face and Neck Were Raw—Terrible Itching, Inflammation and Soreness—All Treatments Failed.

Cuticura Proved a Great Success.

"Eczema began over the top of my ear. It cracked and then began to spread. I had three different doctors and tried several things, but they did me no good. At last one side of my face and my neck were raw. The water ran out of it so that I had to wear medicated cotton, and it was so inflamed and sore that I had to put a piece of cloth over my pillow to keep the water from it, and it would stain the cloth a sort of yellow. The eczema itched so that it seemed as though I could tear my face all to pieces. Then I began to use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and it was not more than three months before it was all healed up. Miss Ann Pearsons, Northfield, Vt., Dec. 19, 1907."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Noted Woman Press Agent.

Mrs. Charles Neave is the latest English woman of birth and education to go into business. She has become a press agent, and it is said by her friends that some of the best singers at Covent Garden, London, are largely indebted to her for their success this season. Mrs. Neave is the daughter of a man of title and the widow of an army officer.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

The Only Way.

"Did the widow who was after Jim marry him?"

"No, he escaped her."

"What did he die of?"

Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes Relieved by Murine Eye Remedy. Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Murine Doesn't Smart; Soothes Eye Pain. Write Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago, for Illustrated Eye Book. At Druggists.

Many a fellow who tells a girl he would lay down his life for her is afraid to take a chance by breaking the news to her father.

For relieving Coughs, Asthma and Bronchitis "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are effective. 25 cents a box. Samples free. John I. Brown & Son, Boston, Mass.

It never did yet hurt to lay down likelihoods and forms of hope.—Shakespeare.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

DR. McINTOSH celebrated

NATURAL UTERINE SUPPORTER

Gives immediate relief. Sold by all surgical instrument dealers and leading druggists in United States & Canada. Catalog & price list sent on application. THE HASTINGS & McINTOSH TRUSS CO., 812 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa., manufacturers of Trusses and sole makers of the genuine stamped McINTOSH Supporter.

WISCONSIN SEEDS

They never fail.
Let us send you our catalog.
It is free and tells you all about vegetable, farm and field seeds, that never disappoint you when harvest time comes.
Wisconsin Seed Growers' Ass'n, La Crosse, Wis.

ONE CONTROL BOARD

SENATE COMMITTEE FAVORS WHIPPLE MEASURE.

PASSED BY UNANIMOUS VOTE

It Provides For Single Governing Body For Three State Educational Institutions.

Des Moines.—The senate committee on appropriations have gone on record as favoring the Whipple bill for a single board of control for the three educational institutions. This is one of the most important measures before the present legislature and provides for a state board of education, to be composed of eleven members and to take the place of the three boards which now have the management of the state university, the Ames Agricultural college, and the State Normal school at Cedar Rapids.

Not a dissenting vote was cast when the motion to recommend the bill for passage was made, and this is considered significant of the reception that the measure will meet in the senate when it is brought up for passage by that body.

Two years ago the senate passed a similar bill but it was killed in the house, largely through this fight made upon it by the heads of the state university and the agricultural school, according to the view of Senator Whipple. This year it is said that several members who two years ago voted against the bill have changed their minds and will favor its passage. This is indicated by the action of the senate appropriations committee, some of the members of that committee having opposed the measure strenuously.

Killed in House Last Session.

Senator Whipple's strongest argument in favor of his bill is that it will promote economy in the management of the educational institutions and that it will prevent duplication in the courses of study of the normal school and the university, and of the agricultural college and the university. He caims that this duplication has been fostered by the separate boards, and that each board, in its ambition to see its particular school excel the others, has forged ahead and created new departments. In the case of the normal school, he avers, this has resulted in a decreased attendance because of the raising of the requirements for entrance. Although this is denied by President Seerley and by friends of the school, Senator Whipple persists in calling the Cedar Falls institution "a miniature university," and declares that it is encroaching upon the field that should be occupied alone by the state university.

Doctors' Insurance Loses.

The McCulloch bill stirred up a tempest of debate in the senate when it was called up for passage. It provides that insurance companies may issue policies insuring physicians, hospitals, dentists and druggists against loss in consequence of error or mistake in the treatment of patients or compounding of drugs.

The bill was lost by an overwhelming vote, only five senators favoring it. They were Senators Frudden, Gilliland, McColloch, White and Whiting.

Divorce Bill Killed.

Representative Finlayson's second attempt to make it impossible for divorced persons to remarry outside of Iowa and return to the state to live before a year has elapsed has ended in failure. The house committee put the first bill to sleep, and Finlayson tried it again and the committee reported the second for indefinite postponement.

Can't Buy Liquor.

A single word, "knowingly," caused a verbal war in the senate ending in the passage of the Hammill bill which provides that anyone who furnishes to a discharged or paroled inebriate, a drunken person, or a dipsomaniac, any intoxicating liquor or narcotic, shall be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor and subjected to a fine of not more than $500.

A Fly Paper Bill.

As the pharamacy board has ruled that grocers and promiscous dealers in general merchandise should not be allowed to sell fly paper and other household preparations containing potash and concentrated lye, Senator Saunders has introduced a bill providing that others than registered pharamacists may handle these products.

Compel Education of Afflicted.

The senate has passed the Whipple bill compelling the parents of children who cannot see or hear well enough to attend the publis schools to send them to state schools for blind and deaf. A penalty for violation in the form of a fine of $25 or a term of eight days in jail was provided

"THE MARRYING SQUIRE."

Justice George E. Law Has Broken All Records.

George E. Law, Justice of the Peace, 13½ Franklin St., Brazil, Ind., is known far and wide as the "Marrying Squire," from the fact that he has married more couples than any other official in Indiana. Judge Law wrote a letter in 1906, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, which he said had made a bad back well, enabled him to sleep better nights and feel more fit for work. The treatment also cleared up the urine. On January 5, 1909, Judge Law confirmed his previous testimony. "I have recommended this remedy to many people since I first used it," said he.

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Wise Men.

Once 'pon a time a man clumb a tree ter git rid of a mad bull, a hurricane come 'long an' blowed him an' de tree down; den he crawled inter a hole in de groun', ter hide frum de hurricane, an' please God, here come a yearthquake an' swallowed 'im—shoes an' all. I tell you, folks, it's a wise man what know how ter dodge trouble!—F. L. S., in Atlanta Constitution.

If It's Your Eye Use Pettit's Eye Salve, for inflammation, stys, itching lids, eye aches, defects of vision and sensitivity to strong lights. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

A man without thought for the future must soon have present sorrow. —Confucius.

Try the Natural laxative, Garfield Tea! It overcomes constipation and regulates liver and kidneys. Samples sent upon request. Garfield Tea Co., Brooklyn, N. Y.

A woman wouldn't mind being poor so much if all her acquaintances were just a little poorer.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Silence isn't always golden. Sometimes it is an admission of guilt.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Faith is obedience, not confidence. —Macdonald.

OWES HER LIFE TO

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vienna, W. Va.—"I feel that I owe the last ten years of my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Eleven years ago I was a walking shadow. I had been under the doctor's care but got no relief. My husband persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like a charm. It relieved all my pains and misery. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." —MRS. EMMA WHEATON, Vienna, W. Va.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

FITS

If you suffer from Fits, Falling Sickness, Spasms or have children, or friends that do so, my New Discovery will relieve them, and all you are asked to do is to send for a Free Bottle of

Dr. May's Epilepticide Cure.

It has cured thousands where everything else failed. Sent free with directions. Express Prepaid. Guaranteed by May Medical Laboratory, under the National Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906. Guaranty No. 18971. Please give AGE and full address

DR. W. H. MAY,
548 Pearl Street, New York City.

For Lame Back

An aching back is instantly relieved by an application of Sloan's Liniment.

This liniment takes the place of massage and is better than sticky plasters. It penetrates—without rubbing—through the skin and muscular tissue right to the bone, quickens the blood, relieves congestion, and gives permanent as well as temporary relief.

Sloan's Liniment

has no equal as a remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or any pain or stiffness in the muscles or joints.

Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass., U. S. A.

Sloan's book on horses, cattle, sheep and poultry sent free.

SALZER'S GREAT BEARDLESS BARLEY.

SILVER KING BARLEY
Wisconsin is famed as the best barley state in the Union. Certain it is that it produces the heaviest yielding barleys on earth.
OF 60 VARIETIES
tested by the Wisconsin Agricultural Station, Salzer's Silver King Barley heads the list as the biggest yielder! That's a record we are proud of! But it's what Salzer's seeds do everywhere.

BEARDLESS BARLEY
The barley of your dreams; no beards; easy to harvest, yielding in New York state 121 bushels per acre.

Emperor William OAT
Our new Emperor William oat is the greatest oat of the century. Almost as great as the Emperor himself. You will want it. It's a marvel.
Big trial package, 6c

SALZER'S BILLION DOLLAR GRASS AND TEOSINTE
Billion Dollar Grass covered itself with glory in 1908. It's hay crop to the United States alone is estimated at $10,000,000.00. It will be much more for 1909. Everybody is talking about it. Everybody will sow it for 1909, as it costs but 60c to 90c per acre. Is ready with its first crop within six weeks after seeding and seldom yields less than 6 to 12 tons per acre of magnificent hay.
TEOSINTE, well, the catalog tells of this 100 ton green food freak.

PURE CLOVER AND TIMOTHY SEED
Salzer's 20th Century strains of clover and timothy seed stand all alone in their absolute purity. Of course they cost more than any other seedsmans, but they are free from weeds. That's worth the difference.

We have by all odds the largest Seed Potato trade in the World—one of our cellars holds 60,000 Bushels!

BIG CATALOG FREE
Or for 10c in stamps we mail free of all costs samples of Silver King Barley, yielding 173 bu. per acre; Macaroni Wheat, yielding 64 bu. per acre; Billion Dollar Grass; Spelts, the cereal and hay food prodigy, together with timothy, clover, grasses, etc., easily worth $10.00 of any man's money to get a start therewith.
And if you send 14c we add to above a package of Farm Seed Novelty never seen by you before.

SALZER'S BEARDLESS BARLEY

SALZER'S BEARDLESS BARLEY

JOHN A. SALZER SEED COMPANY.
Box W. LA CROSSE, WIS.

Mayer HONORBILT

SHOES FOR MEN

These splendid men's shoes represent the best there is in shoe leather. Every piece of material is of the choicest tannage. The workmanship is perfect; the styles are up-to-date. When it comes to service, there is nothing that equals them in lasting qualities.

"HONORBILT" SHOES

are everything the name implies. They are "built on honor." No matter where you look, or what you pay, you will never find anything that will outclass them in wear, style or comfort.

If your dealer will not supply you, write to us. Look for the Mayer Trade Mark on the sole.

FREE—Send us the name of a dealer who does not handle Mayer Honorbilt Shoes, and we will send you free, postpaid, a beautiful picture of George Washington, size 15 x 20.

We also make Leading Lady Shoes, Martha Washington Comfort Shoes, Yerma Cushion Shoes and Special Merit School Shoes.

MILWAUKEE Mayer CUSTOM MADE

F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Co.
MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN

HAMLINS WIZARD OIL THE OIL THAT PENETRATES GREAT FOR PAIN

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery

FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free

AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.

GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

TIME TABLE.

Rock Island System

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
435 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgason, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York

U.S. CREAM SEPARATOR

If you keep cows you need a U. S. Separator to make them yield the biggest profit. It will make the most money for you because it skims cleaner than any other separator. It will save you more than any other because it needs less time, labor and repairs to run it. Look a U. S. over for yourself. For sale by

ELL BROS.

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c. Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia. — Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia. — E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia. — John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

SHOWING THE WEDDING GIFTS.

Charming Exhibitions Made at French Bridals.

In Paris most charming conceits are devised to enhance the effect of an exhibition of wedding gifts in the bride's home. Sometimes the furniture is removed from one or two rooms to give space to show cases, where is made a tasteful array of the most delicate parts of the trousseau, and numberless bivelots. The heavier articles are suspended from screens or round the walls from hanging ribbons, pictures, or even dados of crinkled papier velours in some subdued shade. One of the most telling arrangements is dispersal against the walls of small tables covered with mignonette-green silk, and on which are artistically displayed the bridal treasures, to each of which is attached with a pink ribbon the card of the giver. The contents of every table are partly veiled by vaporous tulle held up to the wall by some bracket lamp, high statuette, and draped at the sides with large choux in pink satin. The coloring depends evidently on the prevailing tones of the house decoration. Such a treatment is light, tasteful and not too expensive. A scheme which involves larger reception rooms and a greater outlay of time and money consists of a triumphal arch in bamboo at the entrance to every door, often covered with climbers, whilst through the whole suite of rooms are distributed in profusion palm trees, jardinieres, tall vases and corbeilles full of flowers, giving the impression of a bower of flowers and foilage, in which are nestled the marvels of the bride's outfit and of her friends' generosity and taste.

The Child's Viewpoint.

Percy Alder, M. P., of London, told an amusing story of a small girl at a recent meeting of the Children's Happy Evenings association. The child had been sent away to the country for a holiday, and questioned as to what in all her holiday had pleased her most, this little slum maiden whose London home adjoined a waste piece of land, replied: "Seeing the dead cats."

Birds Not Afraid of Man.

Among southern African birds which manifest wonderful tameness is the Cape wagtail, which not only penetrates to the living room in search of flies, but will pick them from the old Boer's velschoons as he sits on his stoep, and perch about his chair.

IDEAS FOR THE HOSTESS.

Some Novel and Simple Ways to Entertain Guests.

A Handkerchief Shower.

This affair for a prospective bride was arranged in a very clever manner. Twelve intimate friends were invited to luncheon with the request to bring the gift "mouchoir" rolled up into the smallest package possible. Before going to the dining-room the hostess took all the packages and disapepared. When luncheon was announced, with one voice the guests exclaimed "how pretty." Suspended from the chandalier there was an inverted Japanese umbrella, from each rib there was a smaller umbrella and from this hung by ribbons there was a gilded watering can the sprinkler of which had 12 holes with baby ribbons of different colors coming out. At the end of each ribbon there was a tightly rolled package. The effect was lovely. The place cards were miniature "Jap" parasols with the cards tied to the handles. The candle shades were ornamented with these same tiny parasols and small lanetrns filled with candied puffed rice were at each place. The mint sherbert, which was the dessert, had smilax twined around the tall glass with another little umbrella in the top of the glass.

Honors Easy.

People who were present smiled at the little passage of arms which took place between two young ladies at a luncheon recently. One of them, a bride, shaking hands in her characteristically cordial way, said to the other:

"I'm so glad to meet you! You have afforded me so very much amusement just lately."

"Amusement?" said the other.

"Oh, yes," went on the bride. "I've been through my husband's desk, and I've read all his old love letters. I found several very affectionate letters from you, and I enjoyed reading them, really, ever so much."

"I'm so glad you enjoyed them," purred the other. "But do come and see me very soon. Here is my card. I have the answers to all those letters and you might like to read them as well. Mr. X——'s letters are so much more affectionate than those I wrote to him. I know you'll enjoy reading them ever so much more than you did mine."

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction, Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.

Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, their effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1,00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 32 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, MAR. 11, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

YES, I SAVED MY MONEY.
PUT IT IN THE BANK.
WHERE IT WAS SAFE.

A TRUE STORY

MEN who own automobiles begin putting their money in the bank when they were boys and kept at it. You are never too young to begin a good habit.

We will pay you a liberal rate of interest for your savings.

Capital and Surplus $25,500.00

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

North Elevator

—FOR—

Seeds! Seeds! Seeds!

Medium Red Clover
Mammoth Red Clover
Alsike Clover
Timothy—extra fancy

My seeds comply with the Iowa Pure Seed Laws.

☞ Place your orders now—my prices are right.

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes | Ladies and Gents Furnishings | Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

Avery Center.

Frank Ufken lost one of his best cows.

Fred Bachman's baby has been quite sick the last week.

John Bachman and lady were Garner visitors one day last week

J. T. Griggs' little girl has very sick but is improving now.

Mrs. Guitner is improving very rapidly after her severe sickness.

We understand that J. W. Griggs has purchased a very fine driving horse.

W. M. Shaver has been kept quite busy the last week along the vetenary line.

The snow that fell last night we think was the most that fell at any one time this season.

Charley Roath has moved to the Linden Ranch where he will take up the vetenary work again.

Miss Jennie Chase of Forest City, Iowa, is visiting at the home of her brother F. R. Chase.

The basket social at the Center school house on last Friday night was a great success, J. W. Griggs being the lucky one to get the schoolmaam's basket.

Peoples Caucus

At the Peoples Caucus on Wednesday evening the following were placed in nomination for the various offices to be filled:

For Mayor, C. P. Ell.
For Clerk, N. L. Palmer.
For Assessor, F. Henschen.
For Treasurer, Chas Velau.
For Councilmen for two years, E. G. Ell and G. R. Waterman.
For Councilmen for one year to fill vacancy, H. Mann and Al. Koerner.

Hush Money.

There are a number of singers belonging to the Metropolitan Opera House Company, who, although they are retained merely for cases of emergency, are nevertheless guaranteed a certain amount of pay. Thus, supposing that their price per performance is $500 they each get, say, $5,000 for the season, even if they do not sing at all.

Some wag at the opera house has invented a most appropriate name for the salaries paid out to these silent song birds.

He calls it "hush money."—New York Times.

Echo of Real Value.

Emerson Hough, the author of several popular novels, is very fond of outdoor life. It takes a good man to beat him when it comes to telling a story around the camp fire at night. While camping out in the Adirondacks with a party of his friends, the conversation turned on echoes and how plainly they could be heard. Echoes were getting louder and louder, until silenced by the following statement by Mr. Hough: "Out in the Rocky mountains it takes eight hours to hear the echo of your voice. When I camp out there, and just before I pull the blankets around me for the night, I shout out: 'Time to get up!' and—do you believe it?—the echo wakes me next morning!"

Peas Bring Luck.

N. C. Burriss said large numbers of negroes came into his store this morning and bought peas, the ordinary table peas, and usually in small quantities. The large number of such peas excited his curiosity and he asked one of the negroes what it meant. He was told that the negroes believed that if they ate peas on the first day of the year they would have money all the rest of the year. Many negroes believe in it and all of them had peas for dinner.—Anderson Mail.

All Taxes

become due and a lien after Jan. 1st a penalty of one cent per month attaches after April 1st. If first installment of tax is paid before April 1st balance can run until October 1st before penalty attaches. We have tax lists of German, Ell, Avery and Twin Lake townships and the town of Klemme. We make no charge for paying taxes.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

A. F. HUBBARD

AUCTIONEER.

I would be pleased to cry your sales this season at reasonable terms. Livestock a specialty. Make dates with either banks at Klemme. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Address—Ventura, Iowa,
R. F. D. No. 2.

Toilet and Fancy Goods.

Toilet soaps, bath soaps, infent powders, sachet powders face powders, tooth powders, dressing and fine combs.

PAINTS and OILS

Strictly pure white lead. Colors dry and in oil Turpentine and varnishes. Window shades and trimmings.

Customers will find our stock complete in every respect. We are constantly adding every new novel and meritorious article that comes within our line of business. If you see a medicine advertised and want it, we will gladly get it for you if we do not have it.

Call and see us—your patronage is always appreciated, no matter how small your purchase, and you may rest assured it will be our constant aim to sell you the best that can be obtained and at reasonable prices.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

KLEMME IOWA

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

J. W. BLYTHE DEAD

FAMOUS BURLINGTON ATTORNEY AND POLITICAL POWER.

WAS AWAY ON AN OUTING

Was Seized With Violent Pains and Doctor Summoned but of No Avail.

Burlington, Ia.—Joseph W. Blythe, general counsel of the Burlington route, died suddenly at a hunting lodge near Wapella, Louisa county, of heart failure. Mr. Blythe, H. S. Rand and Revenue Collector H. O. Weaples were preparing for a day's hunting when Blythe was taken suddenly ill and succumbed in a few minutes of heart trouble.

He was born in Mercer county, N. J., January 16, 1850, and graduated from Princeton college. He came to Burlington in 1874 and entered the law firm of ex-Congressman Thomas Hedge.

In 1876 he was appointed general counsel. He was the leader of the stand-pat division of the Iowa republicans.

He is survived by a widow and son, Hugh.

Long Political Life.

Joseph W. Blythe had been for thirty years a conspicuous figure in Iowa politics.

He was a son-in-law of the late Senator Gear and was virtually the political manager for the senator during his many campaigns. He was credited with being leader of the movement to repeal prohibition and had a large share in rebuking the republican party for its support of prohibition. Then he formed an organization along the lines of the Burlington in southern Iowa, which became famous as the strongest organization of the kind ever planned for Iowa and through it Mr. Blythe was for a long time virtual dictator of the policies of the state. Mr. Blythe met his first great defeat in the Cedar Rapids convention of 1901 and lost control of the state but in all matters he continued to be a powerful factor. He never held office. He was a delegate to several republican national conventions and at one time was elected the Iowa member of the national committee but declined. Five years ago he was urged by his Iowa friends to be the chairman of the national committee.

An Iowan Leaves Millions.

Spokane, Wash.—Mrs. Mary J. King, one of five heirs to an estate in Texas estimated to be worth more than $1,000,000, was located at Mukilteo, Wash., through a newspaper item. She will go to Galveston in a few days to present her claims. The woman is the wife of a crippled cobbler, who drove an express wagon until he lost his leg in a runaway. Mrs. King is a niece of John Edmonson, who left the estate to five relatives, Edmonson migrated to Texas from Iowa in 1849, making the trip by wagon. He died forty years ago, since which time the authorities have been searching for the heirs. Relatives in various parts of Iowa joined with the attorneys in an effort to locate the missing woman, but it was not until they got into communication with the authorities at Everet that any clue resulted.

Are Caught Getting In.

Port Huron, Mich.—Two Chinamen who were being smuggled into the United States were discovered in the tunnel yards, and will be taken to Detroit for an examination. Special Officer George Mann of the Grand Trunk, was walking through the yards and noticed that the seals of a box car had been tampered with. The car was opened and found to contain barrels of paint shipped from Buffalo, and secreted behind the barrels were the two celestrials.

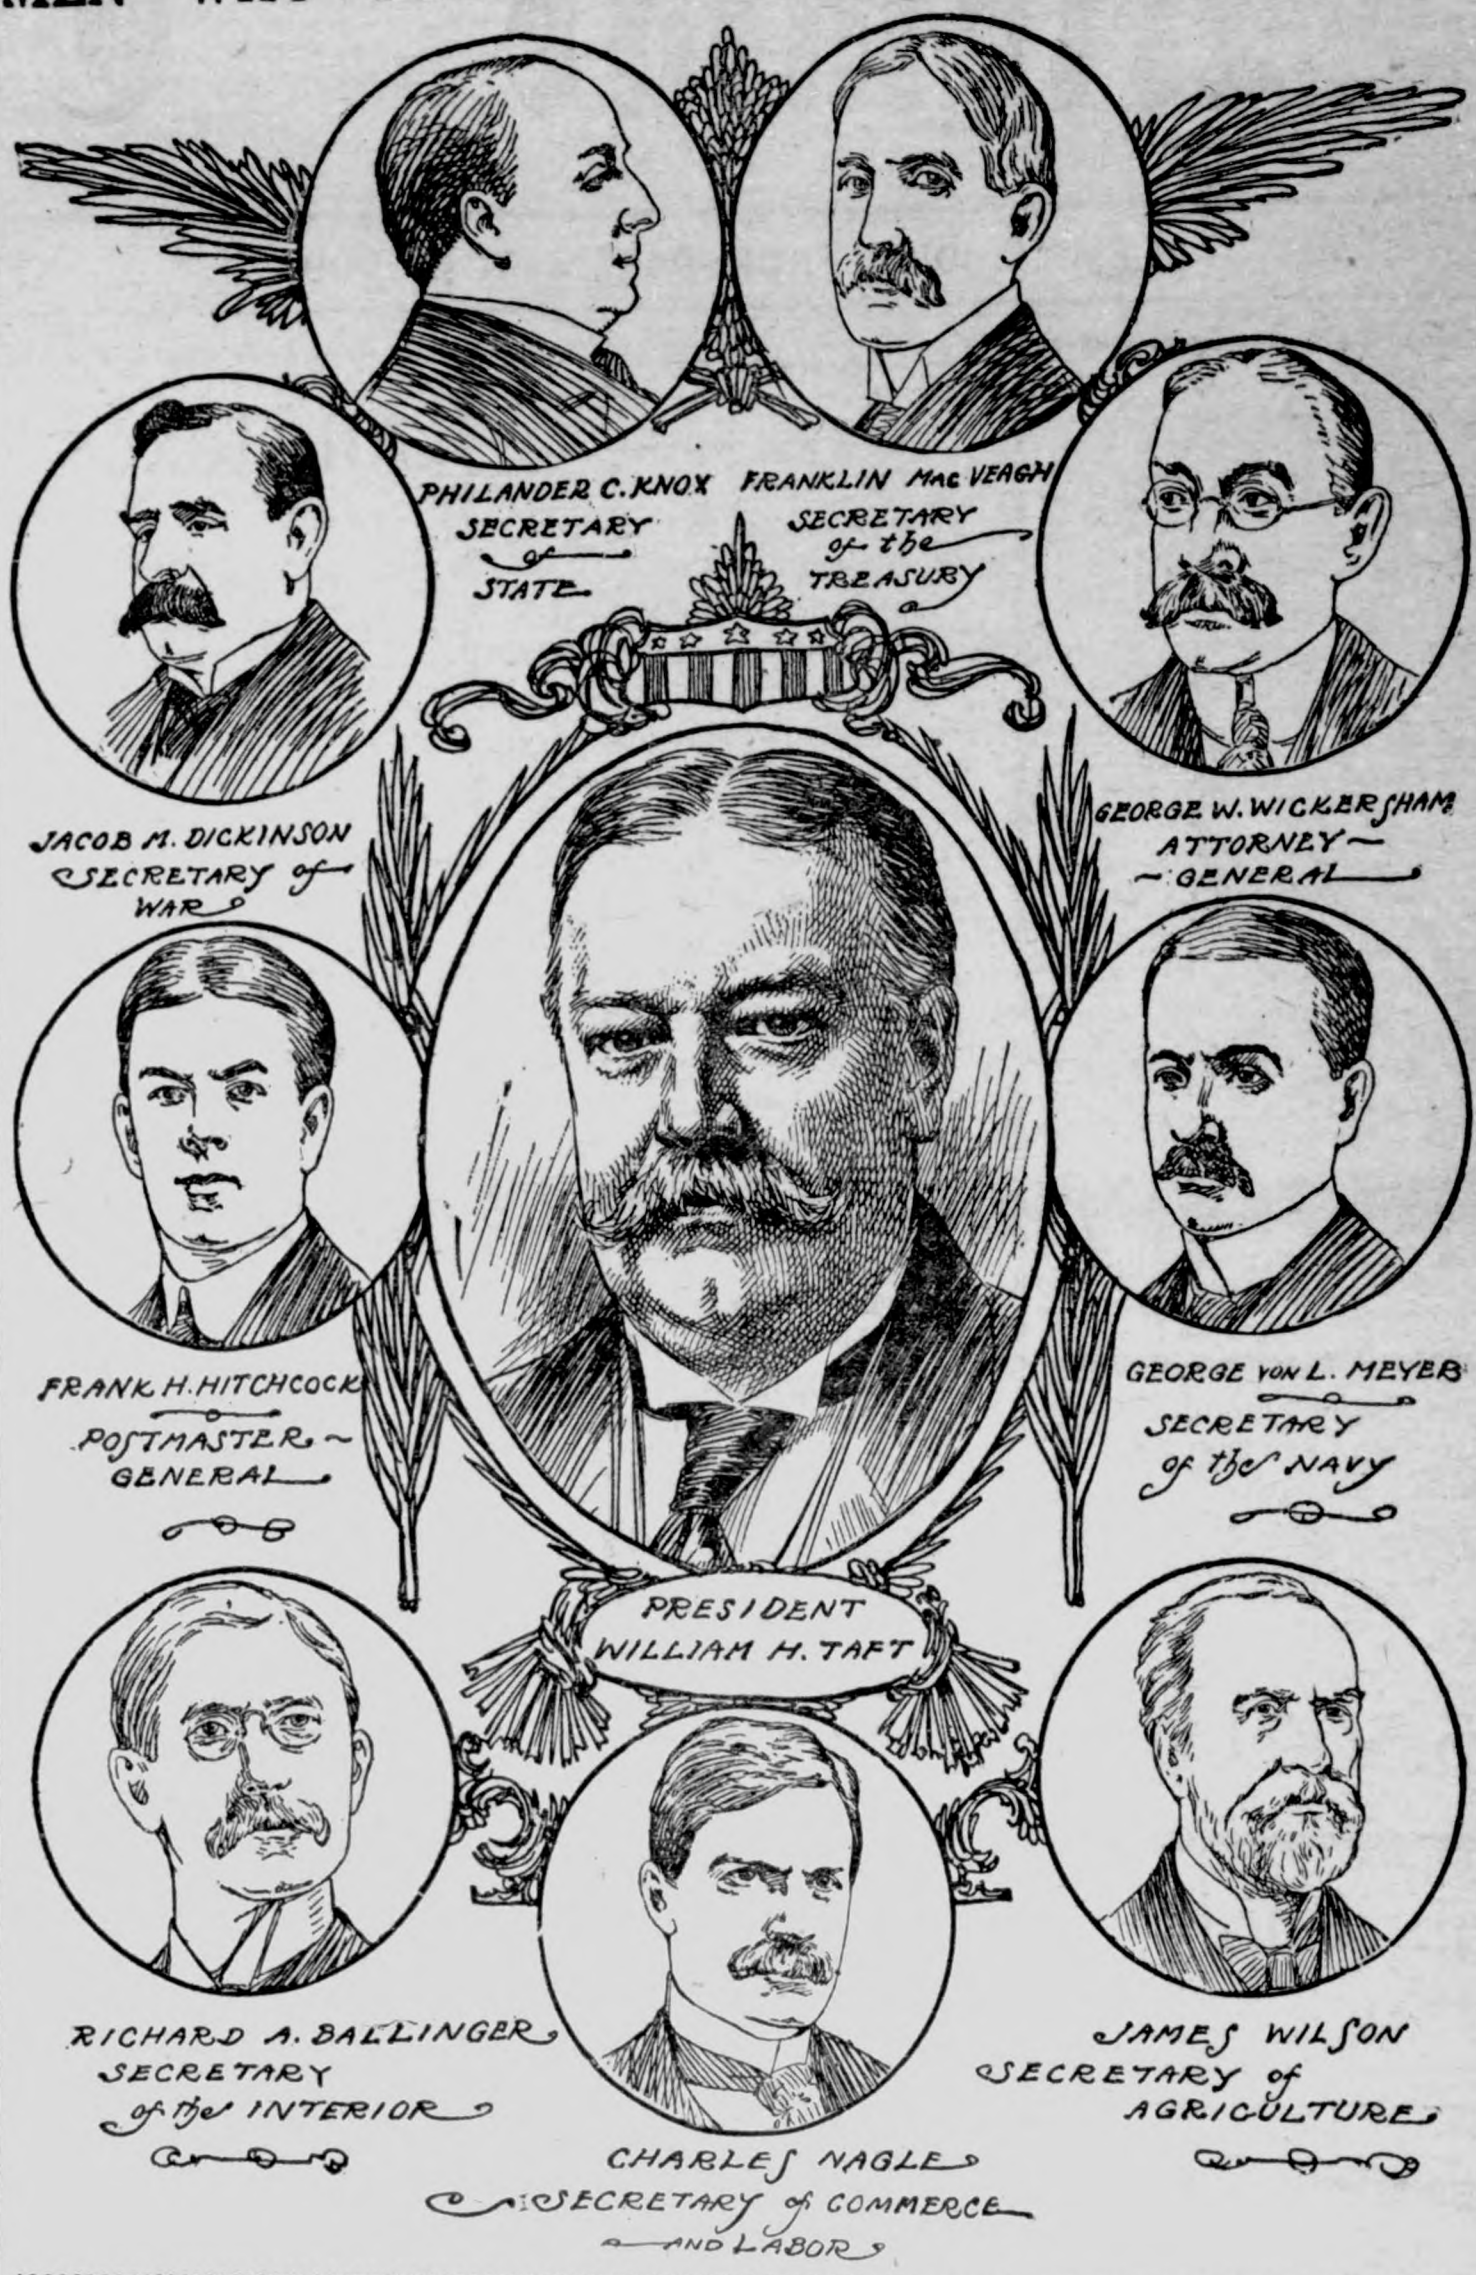
Negro Burned at Stake.

Rockwell, Tex.—After having been identified by Mrs. Arthur McKinney as the negro who attempted a criminal assault on her, Anderson Ellis was taken from the Rockwell county jail and fastened to an iron stake driven into the earth and burned to death in the presence of about a thousand persons. Earlier in the evening, Will Clarke, a negro, was shot and killed.

Boy Hunter Is Blamed.

Atchison, Kan.—That a 17-year-old country lad while hunting in the neighborhood accidentally fired the shot which killed Mrs. Jerome Hoover, and who was found dead under mysterious circumstances is the assertion of the authorities. Carl Hale, the boy, was taken into custody.

MEN WHO FORM PRESIDENT TAFT'S CABINET



President Taft's cabinet of nine men is headed by Philander Chase Knox, secretary of state, who was born in 1853 at Brownsville, Pa. He graduated from Mount Union college, Ohio, in 1872, and three years later was admitted to the bar. During the years 1876 and 1877 he served as assistant United States district attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania. In the latter year he formed a law partnership with James H. Reed which still exists and which has represented many large corporations, including the Carnegie Company. Mr. Knox entered President McKinley's cabinet as attorney general in April, 1901, serving until 1904, when he was elected United States senator from Pensylvania. The latter position he resigned to become the head of President Taft's cabinet. He was a candidate for the presidential nomination in the Republican national convention of 1908. Mr. Knox is recognized as one of the foremost constitutional lawyers in the country.

MacVeagh for the Treasury.

Franklin MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury, was born on a farm in Chester county, Pennsylvania, graduated from Yale in 1862 and from Columbia Law school in 1864. He began the practice of law in New York city but ill-health forced him to abandon it and in 1865 he went to Chicago and engaged in the wholesale grocery business. In this and other commercial pursuits he has amassed a large fortune. Before entering the cabinet he disposed of his holdings in the big grocery firm and resigned as director of the Commercial National bank of Chicago. Mr. MacVeagh has always been interested in movements for the public welfare, locally and nationally.

Wilson Retains His Place.

Only one member of the Roosevelt cabinet retains his portfolio under Mr. Taft. That is James Wilson of Iowa, secretary of agriculture. So excellent had been his work in that position that there was no serious talk of making a change. Born in Scotland in 1835, Mr. Wilson came to the United States in 1852 and three years later settled in Iowa. In 1861 he engaged in farming in Tama county. He was a member of the Iowa assembly for three sessions and speaker of the house for one session, and also was a member of the Iowa state railway commission. In 1873 he was elected to congress, serving two terms, and was sent to the national legislature again for one term in 1883. He was regent of the State university of Iowa in 1870-74, and in 1890 was made director of the agricultural experiment station and professor of agriculture at the Iowa Agricultural college, Ames, Ia. In 1897 he became secretary of agriculture.

Dickinson Is War Secretary.

Jacob M. Dickinson of Tennessee and Chicago, the new secretary of war, was born in 1851 at Columbus, Miss. He graduated from the University of Nashville in 1872 and afterward studied law at Columbia college, at the University of Leipsiz and in Paris. He served several times by special commission on the supreme bench of Tennessee and was assistant attorney general of the United States in 1895-97.

Postmaster General Hitchcock.

The first cabinet officer selected by Mr. Taft after his election was Frank H. Hitchcock of Massachusetts, who gave up his place as first assistant postmaster general to manage successfully the Taft presidential campaign. He has been given the office of postmaster general in the new cabinet. Mr. Hitchcock was born at Amherst, O., in 1867, and graduated from Harvard in 1891 and from Columbia Law school in 1894. Since 1891 he has been a government official.

Nagel Has Commerce Portfolio.

Missouri has been rewarded for its switch to the Republican column by the appointment of Charles Nagel as secretary of commerce and labor. Mr. Nagel is a leading lawyer of St. Louis and the west. He was born in Texas in 1849, moved to St. Louis when a child and graduated from the St. Louis Law school in 1873. He has been senior member of the law firm of Nagel & Kirby, professor in the St. Louis Law school and a trustee of Washington university. In 1881-83 he was a member of the Missouri house of representatives, and in 1893-97 was president of the St. Louis city council. He is a member of the Republican national committee.

Navy Under Meyer's Charge.

President Taft's secretary of the navy, George Von L. Meyer of Massachusetts, has had wide experience as a business man, legislator, diplomat and cabinet officer. He was born in Boston in 1858 and graduated from Harvard in 1879. He then entered business and has been prominently conected with a number of financial and mercantile concerns. His career as a public official began in 1889, when he was elected to the Boston common council. He then served on the board of aldermen, and in 1892-96 he was a member of the Massachusetts isgislature, the last two years being speaker of the house. In 1900 Mr. Meyer was sent to Italy as American ambassador, and in 1905 was transferred to Russia. In January, 1907, President Roosevelt called him home to enter his cabinet as postmaster general.

Ballinger Secretary of Interior.

After about one year's service as commissioner of the general land office, Richard A. Ballinger of Seattle, Wash., has entered the cabinet as secretary of the interior. He is a native of Iowa, having been born in Boonesboro in 1858. After attending the University of Kansas and Washburn college at Topeka, he went to Williams college, graduating in 1884 and afterward studying law and removing to Washington. He was United States court commissioner in 1890-92 and later was judge of the supreme court in Jefferson county, Wash.

Attorney General Wickersham.

George W. Wickersham, who becomes President Taft's attorney general, has had the reputation of being one of the ablest lawyers in New York city. Born in Pittsburg in 1858, he studied civil engineering in Lehigh university and in 1880 graduated from the law school of the University of Pennsylvania. For two years he practiced law in Philadelphia. In 1884 he became associated with the law firm of Strong & Cadwallader, to which Henry W. Taft, brother of the president, belongs.

TROUBLES OF JUNGLE DENTISTS

Dentist—I wonder does he want that tooth pulled, or is he ing for a breakfast?

Sheer white goods, in fact, wash goods when new, owe their attractiveness to the way are laundered, this being done manner to enhance their textile ty. Home laundering would be ly satisfactory if proper attention given to starching, the first being good Starch, which has strength to stiffen, without the goods. Try Defiance Starch you will be pleasantly surprised improved appearance of your

A New Standard.

"I knew they were putting on They let on that their silverware all solid and now the whole knows it isn't."

"How did it come out?"

"Burglars broke into their hou other night and didn't take a thi Detroit Free Press.

Nautical Error.

"I am sorry to hear, captain your wife left you so uncer ously."

"My mistake, sir; I took her mate and she proved to be a ski —Tit-Bits.

Pneumonia and Consumption a ways preceded by an ordinary cold. lins Wizard Oil rubbed into the draws out the inflammation, brea the cold and prevents all serious

Opportunities fall in the w every man who is resolved to ta vantage of them.—Samuel Smi

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE" That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used th over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

A man who needs advice is get the kind he doesn't want.

It Cures While You Walk Allen's Foot-Ease for corns and bunions, hot callous aching feet. 25c all Druggists.

And sometimes a poet fools by wearing his hair short.

"A Little Cold is a Dangerous Thing"

and often leads to hasty disease death when neglected. There many ways to treat a cold, but the only one right way—use the remedy.

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

is the surest and safest remedy kn for Coughs, Croup, Bronchi Whooping Cough, Asthma, Pleu It cures when other remedies fail.

Do something for your cold in t you know what delay means, know the remedy, too—Dr. D. Jay Expectorant.

Bottles in three sizes, $1, 50c, 2

Western Can

MORE BIG CROPS IN 19

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Another 60 tlers from the States. Ne tricts opened tlement. 3 ofland to ea tler,—16 homestead and 160 at $3.00 per ac

"A vast rich country and a contente perous people."—Extract from corres of a National Editor, whose visit to Canada, in August, 1908, was an inspi

Many have paid the entire cost farms and had a balance of from $ $20.00 per acre as a result of one c

Spring wheat, winter wheat, oats, flax and peas are the principal crop the wild grasses bring to perfect best cattle that have ever been the Chicago market.

Splendid climate, schools and c in all localities. Railways touch the settled districts, and prices for are always good. Lands may also chased from railway and land co

For pamphlets, maps and informat garding low railway rates, apply to S tendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Can the authorized Canadian Government

C. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Om

PISO'S 25 cts.

Stop Coughing!

Nothing breaks down the health so quickly and positively as a persistent cough. If you have a cough give it attention now. You can relieve it quickly with PISO'S CURE.

Famous for half a century as the reliable remedy for coughs, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, asthma and kindred ailments. Fine for children.

At all druggists', 25 cts.

CURE

"It Is Day, and He Is Coming."

The SMUGGLER

BY ELLA MIDDLETON TYBOUT

COPYRIGHT 1907 BY J.B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

ILLUSTRATED BY RAY WALTERS

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. The young women met a Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented. Two men called. They proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett, one a friend of Elizabeth's father. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. Fearing for the safety of some gems, Lady Edith left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his actions on board ship. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. At a supper, which was held on the rocks, Elizabeth rather mysteriously lost her ring, causing a search by the entire party. Gabrielle witnessed a stormy scene between Lady Edith and Lord Wilfrid, jealousy being the cause. Mary Anne brought back Elizabeth's ring. Elise went sailing with Gordon Bennett. He tried to persuade her to return the jewels left in the girl's care by Lady Edith. At midnight Elise saw two men—one of them Gordon Bennett—attempting to force an entrance into their boathouse. She admitted to herself that she had nearly loved him and believed herself used as a tool. Mrs. Graham, sick, told Elise of her husband's love for another woman.

CHAPTER XIV.—Continued.

"Come," she repeated, and, like one hypnotized, I followed down the stairs and out upon the beach, where the water lapped sullenly, for the tide was low.

We walked along in silence, and I wrapped the shawl closely around me, for I was shivering with a chill within as much as without. When we reached our boathouse she paused on the little slip and stretched out her hands toward the water.

"And another voice is calling,
Oh, it cometh from the sea,
With an undertone of danger—
But, there's work for you and me."

She repeated the words almost [illegible]ly.

"[illegible] is the message she sent, the woman with yellow hair. I needed you, too, Harry, and I called you, but the voice from the sea was stronger, and I understand. Oh, my dear, I begin to understand!"

The stars were gone now, and a faint red line replaced the dull gray of the horizon. A gull flew close by us with a frightened whirring of white wings and an enterprising wave slapped sharply against the slip; for the tide was coming in now, and the ocean was rippling with little white-crested waves.

The east grew rosily pink, then glowed brightly golden as out of the water rose a scarlet ball that hung suspended a moment between heaven and earth, then smiled upon the world and flooded it with radiance.

"It is day," said Mrs. Graham, "and he is coming."

She pointed at a dark object rounding the end of the island, and as it drew nearer I recognized the government boat, with which we had now grown quite familiar.

"I am glad," she said, simply, "that he never knew I knew; he never liked to hurt me."

There were three men in the little boat, and I recognized two of them, Gordon Bennett and his friend Mr. Blake. I do not think I was surprised to see them there, for I had succumbed to a sort of numbness of intellect wherein nothing could astonish me. So I only walked to the edge of the wharf and looked the question my lips refused to utter.

"You!" said Mr. Bennett, slowly. "You!"

"Take her away," he whispered. "We are bringing him home. Take her away."

"Dead?"

His eyes answered, and I moistened my lips before I could articulate again.

"Drowned?" I hazarded, and he turned away, his face clouded with pain.

"Murdered," he muttered. "Knocked on the head like a beast. A coward's blow—from the back. We found him in the water. For God's sake, take her away!"

Cold and shaking with fright, I went to Mrs. Graham and tried to speak, but could only put my arm about her and draw her close to me.

"Come home with me," I managed to say, at last—"home to the cottage. We want you."

But she only stared at me with wide, tearless eyes.

CHAPTER XV.

I do not wish to speak about the week which followed. Even now I do not like to think about it, although its long days are indelibly photographed upon my mind, I can see Mrs. Graham walking around with her stony calmness, directing everything, and receiving all efforts at sympathy with the same impenetrable air of reserve and the same proud dignity which forbade pity and discouraged intimacy.

We realized also that we had known her only when exhausted nature had rebelled at the strain imposed upon it, when her vitality had little by little been sapped away and the long continued tension of her nerves was about to snap at this last turning of the screw.

So we were obliged to stand sorrowfully aloof and watch her prepare for her last journey with Harry Graham. We could only hope that after a while the bitterness of grief might pass away—that she might forget what she had already forgiven, and think of him only as the boy who had loved and married her. And this we hoped, knowing that God is merciful and time effaces much.

Once I found her gazing at the picture of her child.

"I am going home to him," she said; "he needs me. There is much he must be taught—self-denial, honesty, forbearance—all of life's lessons. He must learn them all. And he shall be a good man."

Only at the last, as she stood in the door closely veiled and ready for the long journey home, which she insisted upon undertaking alone, did she relax even a little. Then she drew me to her and kissed me,

"Some time," she said, "later on, I will write to you. And some time I will see you again. You were very, very good to me, and I thank you. Good-by."

Thus she passed out of our lives, and we settled down again, a little graver, perhaps, and a little less apt to treat every subject as a joke. Elizabeth said she did not love the ocean as much as formerly, while Gabrielle confessed she often went out of her way to avoid seeing the little house on the shore, now lonely and unoccupied. As for me, I often awoke with a start, thing I heard Mrs. Graham calling me, and half expecting to find her standing beside my bed, waiting for me to go out with her just as dawn was breaking.

It was then that our friendship for Lady Edith ripened into love. She was so sympathetic, so gentle, and so patient with the strange attitude assumed by poor Mrs. Graham. One could not but admire a woman whose every advance was frigidly repelled, yet made no comment and expressed no surprise, but quietly did all in her power to help a sister woman through the deep waters that engulfed her.

Her charity was extended to Mr. Graham also, and, while no explanation nor excuse seemed possible regarding him, she covered his past with a mantle of silence, in effect somewhat resembling the soft powdering of freshly fallen snow upon the mire of the streets.

"Let us not talk about him," she once said gently, when we were discussing the subject. "He is dead. Perhaps he was tempted beyond his strength—who knows?"

She spent much time with us at the cottage, and although the strain we all felt more or less was apparent in the pallor of her cheeks and the black circles about her eyes, her quiet cheerfulness never failed, and she was always ready to respond to any appeal for advice or assistance. We grew to depend greatly upon her, and felt as though we had known her always.

Not so Lord Wilfrid. A card left formally at Mrs. Graham's door was the only indication he gave of any knowledge of the deplorable event which had shaken our little community to its foundations, and not even his sister could induce him to do anything more.

"Hang it all!" he said roughly, one evening when she had urged upon him the necessity of at least offering to be of any assistance in his power, "why should I mix myself up in it? The man is dead, and, from all accounts, it seems a good riddance."

"But, Wilfrid, dear, remember we knew them before we met them here. It does not seem kind—"

She paused, for he interrupted, with a disagreeable laugh:

"We knew them—yes, so we did. Why should I forget it? I have done all I ever mean to do for him. And don't ask me to go near that house where he lies dead—his wife looks and looks at you with her big solemn eyes, reading your very soul. There are some things even you cannot make me do, and—"

"Wilfrid!"

He stopped abruptly, and with a muttered apology left the veranda. His sister sighed a little as she turned to Gabrielle, who sat next her.

"Poor Wilfrid!" she said. "Only see how nervous he is. He always had this strange aversion to death, and he did not like Mr. Graham—men know men. I fear he is not as strong as I thought, for this sad affair has completely unnerved him. Have you not noticed how badly he looks?"

It was indeed patent that he was far from well. He was sullen and irritable, his complexion had assumed a dull, pasty hue, and his eyes were shifty and troubled.

"I believe," remarked Elizabeth that night when we were alone, "that Lord Wilfrid takes some kind of a drug which gives him that queer greenish look."

"Poor Lady Edith!" I said. "I believe she has troubles of her own with him."

"And how bravely she hides them!" added Gabrielle, thoughtfully. "Well, it only goes to prove what I have said all along: Blood will tell."

But if Lord Wilfrid failed in the ordinary courtesies of humanity, Gordon Bennett did all and more than could have been expected of him, and I soon forgot his scarf-pin with the Sphinx's head, and also the fact that I had seen him trying to force an entrance into our boathouse, which extraordinary proceeding was still unexplained.

So the days passed, and we slowly resumed our ordinary routine, recovering from the shock with the elasticity of youth and health, and quite willing to put the dreadful episode away from us.

There was a ball at the hotel one night, and we all went, glad of the diversion afforded by the lights and music, and pleasantly conscious that our gowns were all that could be desired.

Gordon Bennett and Mr. Blake, as well as many other cottagers, sailed over to participate, and as the floor was good, the music excellent, and men plentiful, we enjoyed ourselves very much indeed.

Mr. Blake danced once with me, but I noticed that his eyes continually followed Lady Edith's graceful figure, again attired in the black gown which afforded such an effective background for her golden hair and white shoulders.

"Is she not lovely?" I inquired, as my glance followed his.

"She is wonderful," he said, almost beneath his breath—"wonderful."

After supper, as I stood for a moment alone by the open door, Lady Edith touched me on the shoulder and beckoned me to join her on the veranda. Her face was very grave, and I observed that her hand was cold and shook a little as she drew me to a chair.

"Elise," she said; "I am going to pain you."

I looked at her in silence, wondering greatly, but she seemed to find it difficult to continue.

"Have you ever thought," she said at last, "that there is anything strange about Mr. Bennett?"

"Strange?" I repeated. "Strange?"

"Not quite right, I mean. What men call straight. Have you ever seen him do anything which seemed to require an explanation? Have you ever asked him a question he could not answer?"

I stared blankly at her ,and she resumed slowly:

"You make it very hard for me, yet I must tell you. The man is not suitable for you to know; I warned you once before, but was not certain, so dared not say too much. Wilfrid says (men hear these things) that he is the man the police are after—the sumggler. And worse still, that he is the thief who took Mrs. Bundy's emeralds."

"Are you sure?" I hardly recognized my own voice.

"Quite sure. Every one will know soon, for his arrest is a matter of but a few days. He is a dangerous character, and has been trying to force an entrance to your boathouse with his confederate, this man Blake."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

NEWSPAPERS IN THE ARCTIC.

Two In That Region That Issue But Once a Year.

There exist at present several journals that make their appearance only once year. They are published within the confines of the north polar circle. The Eskimo Bulletin, for example, is edited near Cape Prince of Wales, on Behring strait. Here, in a village inhabited by Eskimos, the British missionaries have established a school, and, as only one steamer lands at this place, and that only once a year, the news it brings is consigned to a sheet of paper printed with the hectograph. Its size is 8 by 12 inches. The paper is very thick, and only one surface is used. This Eskimo Bulletin in a subhead claims to be the "only yearly paper." This, however, is an error, for there is an annual sheet published in Godthaab, Greenland, where a small printing office was established in 1862, whence news sheets and lithographic prints have been issued. The journal in question is entitled "Atnagagdlinit, nalinginarmik tusaruminasassumik"—that is, "Something for reading; accounas of all sorts of entertaining subjects." The language is that of Greenland, a dialect of the Eskimo. There is still another periodical published in Greenland under the name of Kaladlit.

Bird Slaughter.

Of those living gems, the humming birds of America, 11,443 were put up at one of the regular auction sales in London not long ago.—London Spectator.

RATHER PAY THAN SERVE.

Citizen Soldier's Unique Idea of the Duties of a Sentry.

Australians still tell stories of the C. L. V.'s, although the war is a far memory. One, a member of the Stock Exchange, was left one wet and miserable night to guard a wagonload of goods.

He shivered in the unsheltered place for some hours pondering many things, and then a bright thought struck him just as the colonel came around on his tour of inspection.

"Colonel," he asked, "how much is this wagon worth?"

"I don't know," was the answer. "Much or little, we can't afford to lose it."

"Well, but colonel," persisted the amateur soldier, "you might give me a rough idea of the value."

"About £200," said the Colonel testily.

"Very well," was the answer. "I will come down to the camp and give you a check for the amount. Then I'll turn in. I wouldn't catch my death of cold for twice that much."

What the colonel said is not recorded.—Melbourne Times.

BABY HORRIBLY BURNED

By Boiling Grease—Skin All Came Off One Side of Face and Head—Thought Her Disfigured for Life.

Used Cuticura: No Scar Left.

"My baby was sitting beside the fender and we were preparing the breakfast when the frying-pan full of boiling grease was upset and it went all over one side of her face and head. Some one wiped the scald with a towel, pulling the entire skin off. We took her to a doctor. He tended her a week and gave me some stuff to put on. But it all festered and I thought the baby was disfigured for life. I used about three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and it was wonderful how it healed. In about five weeks it was better and there wasn't a mark to tell where the scald had been. Her skin is just like velvet. Mrs. Hare, 1, Henry St., South Shields, Durham, England, March 22, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Different Destinations.

"Mollie," he said, "I believe that if you were in heaven you would ask the angels if your hat was on straight."

"Yes," was the reply. "Just about the time you'd be asking Satan to put a little more brimstone in the 'Hot Scotch!'"

Breaking Up Colds.

A cold may be stopped at the start by a couple of Lane's Pleasant Tablets. Even in cases where a cold has seemed to gain so strong a hold that nothing could break it, these tablets have done it in an hour or two. All druggists and dealers sell them at 25 cents a box. If you cannot get them send to the proprietor, Orator F. Woodward, Le Roy, N. Y. Sample free.

No man pretends that his soul finds its supreme satisfaction in self-sacrifice; such an affectation would stamp him as a coward and a weakling. Women who yearn for self-sacrifice are merely underworked.

Brooklyn, N. Y.

Address the Garfield Tea Co. as above when writing for free samples of Garfield Tea, the true remedy for constipation.

A Profitable Course.

"Did you find the course profitable?"

"Rather; tutored six men in it."—Lampoon.

Throat Trouble may follow a Cough, or Hoarseness. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give relief. 25 cents a box. Samples free. John I. Brown & Son, Boston, Mass.

Fortunate is the woman who remembers that frowns beget more wrinkles than smiles.

30,000 ACRES WILD LAND. MORTON Co. No. Dak. Farms in Minnesota & Wisconsin. National Land Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

Things past may be repented but not recalled.—Livy.

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna

Cleanses the System Effectually:
Dispels colds and Headaches due to Constipation;
Acts naturally, acts truly as a Laxative.
Best for Men, Women and Children—Young and Old.
To get it's beneficial effects, always buy the Genuine,

manufactured by the

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS

one size only, regular price 50¢ per bottle.

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of

—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

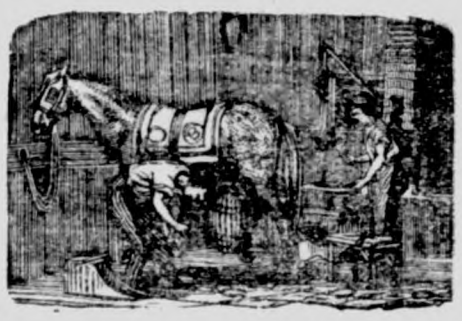
in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA



J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING

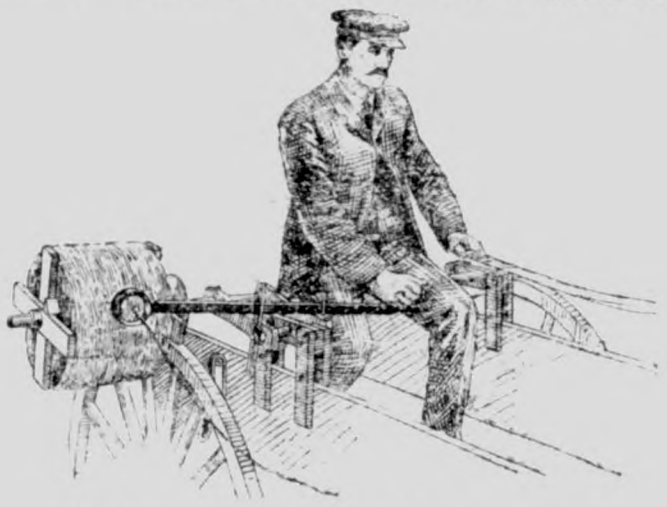
HORSE SHOEING A

SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL



Farm Machinery.

Yes Sir! We mean just what we say. "A penna saved means a penna earned" and you can do this by going to H. Lau & Son and buy you a first-class "A Grade Surrey" and top buggy and Dane mower and Dane hay loaders, buckers, stackers, 20 century Kemp manure spreaders. You can also buy cultivator plows, binders, mowers, hay rakes, Jones scales, harnesses, flynets, lap dusters, whips, oils of all kinds, tile spades, barb and smoot wires, fence stapels and other farm implements. Royal Tailors tight fit suits. They will keep style and collor, fit guaranteed.

H. Lau & Son.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

We have just received

A Car Load of Furnitur

Our Furniture business has grown so that we now must buy—car lots. This means a big saving to us. Not only the price we pay for the goods but also freight and breakage. This enables us to offer a BIG ASSORTMENT to pick from and also UNUSUAL VALUES.

Here are a few big values

An Oak Dresser	at only	$ 8.50
An Oak Chamber Suit	at only	27.00
A Strong Iron Bed	at only	3.50

Come and see for yourself, we invite you.

New Wall Paper for 1909

How about it? Hadn't you better hang that wall paper now before Spring work begins? The kitchen needs it for sure and maybe some the other rooms to.

Our own patent device

For showing wall paper is now filled with the new colors and designs for 1909. It's so handy, we can show you 75 kinds of wall paper in minutes.

New paper 6c per double roll and up.

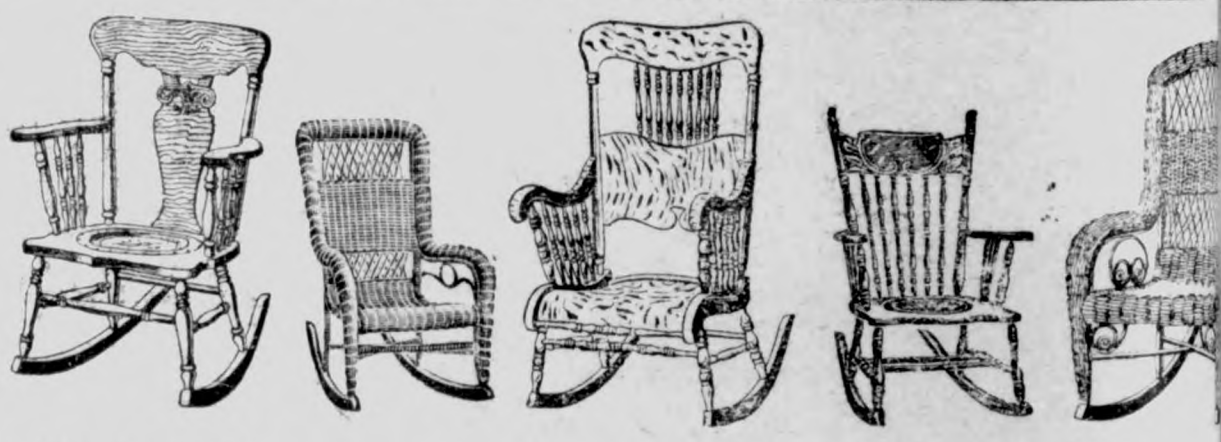
It's no trouble to show wall paper

HAVE A LOOK

LINOLEUM A clean and durable floor covering for the kitchen or dining room. Price from 35c to $1.45 per square yard. We have it on hand in full rolls, either 2 yds wide or 4 yds wide. These are new goods.

Arthur Wellemeyer

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN SHOES



NEAR DEATH IN BIG POND

It was a thrilling experience to Mrs. Ida Soper to face death. "For years a severe lung trouble gave me intense suffering" she writes, and several times nearly caused my death. All remedies failed and doctors said I was incurable. Then Dr. King's new discovery brought quick relief and a cure so permanent that I have not been troubled in twelve years. Mrs. Soper lives in Big Pond, Pa. It works wonders in coughs and colds, sore lungs, hemorrhages, lagrippe, asthma croup, whooping cough and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G A Pabst & Co.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

Subscribers who are more
One Year in arrears to the T
are requested to pay up at O

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	50 to 54c
Oats	45 to 49c
Wheat	90 to 100
Barley	55 to60 c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.90
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Read the First National Bank ad.

Linoleum 4 yds. wide at Welle meyer's.

H. Schroeder arrived from Chicago this Thursday.

Col. J. A Young drove down from Garner Thursday.

Supper at Kirkwood's restaurant on Friday evening.

Joe Johnson shipped cattle and hogs to Chicago on Sunday morning.

After the dance on Friday evening take your supper at the Kirkwood restaurant.

FOR SALE—On team for sale. 6 years old. weight 2500. Enquire of J. T. Griggs, Goodell. Iowa.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

If you'd be dubbed a handsome girl
And win a handsome Knight,
The secret here I do impart,
Take Rocky Mountain Tea at night
G A Pabst & Co.

Jacob Bock and family moved to Vicking, Red Lake Co., Minn. this week Wednesday where they will make their home on his farm. The Times wishes them prosperity in their new location

The new "Wonder Lamp" incandescent 100 candle power, cannot explode, 6 hours for 1c. Burns common kerosene. THE lamp for churches, schools, halls and homes. Write or see J. D. G. Houghton, Agent, Goodell, Iowa or Klemme. 31-3

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets, Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

During the last two years there has been an unusual demand upon us for help in the improving the oat crop of the state. For the purpose of developing greater interest for better oats the C. R. I. & P. R'y has consented to co-operate with the College running an Oat Special Train which will stop at Klemme on March 17th at 10:35 a. m. for a 30 minute lecture. All farmers especially should attend.

Linoleum 2 yds wide at Wellemeyer's.

Fred Musfeld is a new Times subscriber.

J. F. Hartfelder was at Garner Monday.

Mrs. Muehlmeier and daughter were Garner visitors Monday.

The Schlichting brothers returned from their Texas visit on Wednesday.

Miss Hulda Johnson left this Thursday for Mason City for a visit with her sister.

Mr. J. Baumgaertner of Garner, visited over Sunday with his son J E and family.

H. A. Sweigard of Garner, visited with his old time friends in Klemme and vicinity over Sunday.

Bloom keeps all kinds of good seed oats, barley, buckwheet, clover, timothy, rape and milet. Yours for business at the South Elevator. tf

A spring tonic that makes rich, red blood. Brings strength, health and happiness to the whole family. Nothing equals Hollister's rocky mountain tea as a spring regulator. 36c. G A Pabst & Co.

Mrs. Otto Wellmer and babie, Mrs. Fred Wellner and children of Sanborn, Minn. visited their brother Wm. Prull and family the first of the week in Germantown.

At the school election on Monday the following were elected on the school board: J. W Waterman and J. Terhufen for full term and Wm. Fuller to fill vacancy.

Wallace Pavey, J. W. Scott's best man in the blacksmith shop, has been laid up the past week. A piece of steel penetrated his eye which has been very painful to him. Dr. Zinn assisted him and he is now getting along nicely. Better wear specks hereafter Wallace.

Sunday evening several inches of snow fell and Monday everybody was busy shoveling snow, Tuesday and Tuesday night we again had snow and an old time blizzard which blockaded all the road and our business places were banked up with snow drifts close to 12 inches of snow fell.

KILLS WOULD BE SLAYER.

A merciless murderer is appendicitis with many victims. But Dr. King's New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis, curing constipation, biliousness, chills, malaria, headache and indigestion. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

The program and basket social at the Klemme Opera House on Friday evening of last week was largely attended. A nice program was rendered and the baskets sold brought a good price which was for the benefit of the Opera House Co. Auctioneers Wm. Lau and E. G. Ell were there with the goods. in fact one would take them to be old timers at the business.

IT SAVED HIS LEG.

All though I'd lose my leg writes J. A. Swenson. Watertown Wis., Ten years of eczema that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it sound and well." Infallible for skin eruptions, eczema, salt rheum. boils, fever sores, burns, scalds, cuts and piles. 25c at. G. A. Pabst & Co.

Wall paper at Wellemeyer's.

A car load of furniture at wellemeyer's

Dance at Opera House Friday night Mar 12th.

Remember the dance at Opera House. Friday night Mar. 12th.

Grant Henderson and family moved to Alta, Iowa where they will make their home.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

WANTED—Dress making done at my residenc. Rates reasonable and work guaranteed. Call at my residence. Mrs. Langmann.

Don't wait until your blood is impoverished and you are sick and ailing but take Hollister's rocky mountain tea now. It will positively drive out all winter impurities. 35c, tea or tablets. G. A. Pabst & Co.

Wooley and Bally are the first ones from this town who bagged ducks this spring. We ourselves havn't seen these ducks but have their word for it. They usually tell the truth.

Farmers moving from farm to farm and town people moving from house to house has been the program this month. We ourselves had the pleasure of moving last week Saturday.

On Monday evening Mar. 8th a pleasant surprise was made at the residence of F. Gruetzmacher and family. The families who attended were: Carl Busch and family. J. Terhufen and family, Wes. Haefner and family and E. H. Lenz and family. A pleasant evening was spent.

THE LURID GLOW OF DOOM

was seen in the red face, hands and body of the little son of H M Adams of Henriette. Pa. His awful plight from eczeme had for five years defied al remedies and baffled the best doctors who aaid the poisoned blood had affected his lungs and nothing could save him. But. writs his mother, seven bottlei of electric bitters completely cured him. For eruptios, eczema, salt rheum, sores and all blood eisord eas and rheumatism Electric Bitters is supreme. Only 50c. Guaranteed by G A Pabst & Co.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

J Jordan, Jefferson, Okla.
Albert Bock, Plymouth, Wis.
J Schwichtenberg, Goodell
Fred Knoke, Garner
Jacob Bock, Klemme
A. J. Schoenwetter, Garner

A SURPRISE.

On Tuesday evening Mar. 2nd eight families. neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Ahrenkiel, droped in on them a farewell surprise as they soon intend to move to their new home southeast of Klemme. At the midnight hour a fine supper was served. The ladies bringing well filled baskets. In a few words one of the gentlemen in behalf of those present presented Mr. and Mrs. Ahrenkiel with a beautiful rug which will undoubtedly remind them of their many friends they made in the six years that they lived in our midst.

AN IDEAL COUGH MEDICINE.

As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's cough remedy in a class by itself, says Dr. R A Wiltshire of Gwynneville, Ind. I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's cough medicine. In fact I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morphine it certainly makes a most safe pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended. For sale by G. A. Pabst & Co.

German M. E. Church Items

Mrs. W. H. Miller of Burt, a sister of ye scribe, visited at the parsonage one day last week.

J. Griewe and Leonard Sampson each drew several loads of sawdust from Garner for the meat market.

Alvina Gethman and Bettie Bruene of Gladbrook, stoped off with Mrs. Wesselon their return trip from the convention.

Rev. Koerner and three of his delegates visited a number of families in Germantown and in Klemme on their homeward trip from the convention.

Herbert Stille returned from Kirksville, Mo. last week and is looking fine. He has nothing but words of praise for the infirmery and well he may.

Joe Woeste and Roy Timmons of Colesburg, spent Sunday with Wm. Kraus and family. The boys are attending college in Charles City. They also called on Wm. Sampson and family.

Rev. J. L. Panzlau of LaCrosse Wis. spent a week in Klemme and Germantown working in the interest of the Charles City College endowment fund. Some of our people responded with a liberal contribution.

The Klemme Womans Missionary Society will hold their monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at Mrs. J. Gruetzmacher and the 'Standard Bearers" on Eriday evening with Clara and Anna Griewe.

The district Sunday school and Epworth League convention held in Garner last week was favored with fine weather and the attendance was large. A number of good papers were read by different Sunday school workers, holding forth high ideas and urging on to more aggressive work. A steady advance in all lines of work is noticable and the importance of this work among the young is arresting the attention of parents and teachers more and more. Those who attended as delegates from Klemme and Germantown are: Wm. Bredlow, August Wenz, E. C. Beier, Erick Josten, G. Schoenwetter, Ella Schlei, Ida Schwichtenberg, Will Riemer, Mrs. Wessel and the writer. A goodly number were no delegates among them were Etna Suckow, Hulda and Esther Gruetzmacher. H. Griewe, Mr. and Mrs. Riemer, Wm. Kraus and wife, C. Bredlow and wife, Emil and Leonard Sampson, Mrs. Ludeke and daughters and son Elmer, Geo. Gruetzmachers and others. The address of Rev. Barber at the temperance mass meeting as well as in the convention, created much enthusiasm for temperance and law enforcement.

Citizens Caucus.

At the Citizens Caucus held on Monday, Mar. 8th the following were placed in nomination for the various offices to be filled:

For Mayor, F. Gruetzmacher.
For Clerk, A. G. Koerner.
For Assessor, A. C. Gibbs.
For Treasurer, F. H. Ridder.
For Councilmen for two years, J. H. Terhufen and H. C. Lau.
For Councilmen for one year to fill vacancy, F. Blank and G. W. Kinckhohn.

Remember the Gypsy Moth.

A Philadelphia scientist has discovered a new kind of flea, described as having no eyes and six teeth. Provided the society with the long name did not object, it might be suggested to the scientist, as in line with public policy, that he pull the flea's teeth before letting it go again.

Let us be your Tailor
THE AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS Co., Chicago, Illinois.
Manufacturers of fine woolens and wholesale custom tailors.
As Eastern Decoration Day is near at hand, I will give special bargains on suits that are purchased of us before that time.
I will be please to show you a beautiful line of samples. A fit, a beauty and a long wearing suit Your profit, my pleasure.
ELMER LUDEKE
Klemme - - - Iowa

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

$13,440 Cash from 28 Acres of Onions in the Texas Gulf Coast

¶ W. A. McNeil planted twenty-eight acres in onions at Santa Maria, Tex., in the Gulf Coast Country. The yield averaged 400 crates per acre, for which he received $1.20 per crate, $480 an acre. His total receipts from the twenty-eight acres was $13,440. Pretty good results from four months' work.

¶ Mr. McNeil is no exception. Profits of from $300 to $1,000 an acre are of common occurrence in the Gulf Coast Country.

¶ Are you doing as well? Why shouldn't you? Raising fruit and vegetables in the Gulf Coast Country is simple—anyone can do it. A few acres will be all you need. You can buy it on easy terms and the first crop, if properly cared for, should more than pay for the land.

¶ The Gulf Coast Country is a delightful place in which to live. Mild, sunny winters; gulf-breeze-cooled summers.

¶ Investigate this proposition while the land is within your reach—next year it will cost more.

¶ On excursion days tourist sleepers run through from Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, St. Louis and Kansas City to Brownsville, Tex.

Let me send you some further information about the big profits growers are making in the Gulf Coast Country. We have prepared this in attractive, printed form. Write for a free copy to-day.

JOHN SEBASTIAN
Passenger Traffic Mgr.
2005 La Salle Station
Chicago

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines.
Klemme, Iowa

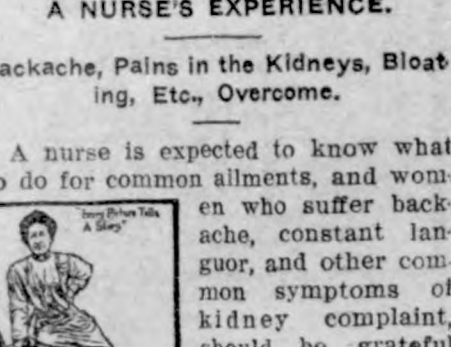
A NURSE'S EXPERIENCE.

Backache, Pains in the Kidneys, Bloating, Etc., Overcome.

A nurse is expected to know what to do for common ailments, and women who suffer backache, constant languor, and other common symptoms of kidney complaint, should be grateful to Mrs. Minnie Turner, of E. B. St., Anadarko, Okla., for pointing out the way to find quick relief. Mrs. Turner used Doan's Kidney Pills for a run-down condition, backache, pains in the sides and kidneys, bloated limbs, etc. "The way they have built me up is simply marvelous," says Mrs. Turner, who is a nurse. "My health improved rapidly. Five boxes did so much for me I am telling everybody about it."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

MADE HIM SIT UP.



Wifie—I'll make you sorry you ever quarreled with me!

Hubby—What will you do? Go home to your mother, I suppose?

Wifie—No; I'll bring mother here!

Thanks to the Burglar.

The dark lantern flashed through the flat. Then came the gleam of a revolver.

"Hands up!" hissed the head of the family. "You're a burglar."

"Y-yes," gasped the intruder, as he faced the cold steel.

"What have you stolen?"

"Your wife's pug dog."

"H'm. Er—if that's all you may sneak out quietly."

"And your motherin-law's parrot."

"You don't say. Well, here is some loose change."

"And your daughter's phonograph."

"Good! Here's some more loose change."

"Also your son's punching bag."

"What! Great Scot, man, come out to the library and I'll open a special bottle."—Tit-Bits.

Might Look for Recovery.

The following was told of the patient of a well-known New York physician:

The patient, an elderly gentleman, became quite ill while the doctor was absent upon a vacation, the indisposition being the result of too frequent potations. A female nurse was at once engaged to care for him in his hotel.

A lady, residing in the same hotel, became aware of his illness, and interested herself to the extent of one morning inquiring concerning his condition of the chambermaid.

"Shure, ma'am," replied Maggie, "an' I think he do be getting along very well. The nurse was sittin' on his lap this mornin'!"

CONGENIAL WORK
And Strength to Perform It.

A person in good health is likely to have a genial disposition, ambition, and enjoy work.

On the other hand, if the digestive organs have been upset by wrong food, work becomes drudgery.

"Until recently," writes a Washington girl, "I was a railroad stenographer, which means full work every day.

"Like many other girls alone in a large city, I lived at a boarding house. For breakfast it was mush, greasy meat, soggy cakes, black coffee, etc.

"After a few months of this diet I used to feel sleepy and heavy in the mornings. My work seemed a terrible effort, and I thought the work was to blame—too arduous.

"At home I had heard my father speak of a young fellow who went long distances in the cold on Grape-Nuts and cream and nothing more for breakfast.

"I concluded if it would tide him over a morning's heavy work, it might help me, so on my way home one night I bought a package and next morning I had Grape-Nuts and milk for breakfast.

"I stuck to Grape-Nuts, and in less than two weeks I noticed improvement. I can't just tell how well I felt, but I remember I used to walk the 12 blocks to business and knew how good it was simply to live.

"As to my work—well, did you ever feel the delight of having congenial work and the strength to perform it? That's how I felt. I truly believe there's life and vigor in every grain of Grape-Nuts."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

JAMIESON IS OUT

HEPBURN'S SUCCESSOR GIVES UP HIS STATE JOB.

CONTEST IS AT AN END

Page County Man's Action Indicates That Hepburn Gives Up.

Des Moines.—Senator William D. Jamieson of Page county has tendered his resignation as state senator to take effect at once.

Some days ago he was in doubt about resigning now, as prominent persons in his district did not desire that the state should be put to the expense of a special election to choose a senator who could at best only sit in the senate about a week.

After consultation with leaders of both parties in his district and with the attorney-general, Senator Jamieson decided he would resign now, having reasonable assurance no special election would be called.

The senator's associates in the general assembly arranged for him a few bouquets, and incidentally permitted him to call up and have passed his bill, senate file 238, to authorize the railroad commission to give permission to railroads to make the short haul rate on competitive business. The Page senator spoke effectively on the bill and only one vote was recorded against it. He then clinched it with a motion to reconsider, which went to the table.

Senator Jamieson will go to Washington in about ten days to take his seat in congress at the opening of the special session to revise the tariff.

Richard B. Barrett Dies.

Richard B. Barrett, ex-state superintendent of public instruction, died at Methodist hospital, in Des Moines, from complications resulting from mastoid operations. Since the end of his term as state superintendent, Mr. Barrett completed the law course at Drake university, receiving his degree with the class of 1904, and going immediately to Ames, where he took the position of teacher of civics in the college, combining this with considerable work as a lecturer throughout the state.

He was brought to Des Moines some time ago for an operation, but his condition had advanced so far that the physicians gave little hope of his recovery, and a second operation took place, after which he sank rapidly.

Mr. Barrett was 48 years of age. He leaves a wife and several children. The body was taken to Ames where burial will take place.

State House Bill in Good Shape.

Representative John Sullivan of Polk county believes that the prospects for obtaining an appropriation for enlarged and improved state house grounds are brighter than they ever have been and that something will be done along this line before the legislature adjourns.

"The need of more room for the capitol and for larger and more commodious grounds is apparent to every member of the legislature," said Mr. Sullivan. "I find a sentiment in favor of this improvement not only among state house employes who realize how things are crowded, but amongst those legislators who live in the rural districts of the state. I am certain that the appropriations committee will set aside a sum sufficient to start the work of enlargement and improvement."

Put Plumbers Under the Medics.

State licenses for plumbers issued under the direction of doctors is the newest use for the secretary of the state board of health. Senator Clarkson introduced a bill in the senate providing for semi-annual examinations by a board composed of the secretary of the state board of health, the state chemist, two plumbers and a civil engineer, upon which licenses may be issued to plumbers. If the bill passes, good morals, sobriety, knowledge of hydraulices, gas fitting, ventilation, drainage and sanitation, will all enter into the fitness of a plumber and when you see a real, live licensed plumber you may know that he is about as fine as a college graduate, travel-trimmed and society polished, can be. Four years' experience and a good grade in the quizzes are the two requirements.

Farmers' Institutes to Get Cash.

The Arney bill to encourage farmers' institutes with $75 each if a proper showing was made was passed, as was also the Reaney bill providing for increased state aid to county fairs.

Mail Carriers to Ride.

John Sullivan's bill permitting mail carriers to ride on passes on street cars was also passed without serious opposition.

Board Asks Bids.

Bids on clothing and other supplies that will reach into many thousands of dollars are asked by the state board of control, which is completing its estimates of what the various state institutions need. The supplies asked are as various almost as the sands of the seashore. For instance, the estimate for the Anamosa reformatory ranges from 30,000 pounds of fresh beef, 12,000 pounds of pork, to twelve corsets for women and two pairs of baby shoes for a youngster who was born in the woman's department of the reformatory a few weeks ago. Iowa firms are always given the preference in letting contracts. The board spends about 40 percent of the appropriation given it for employes who resided in Iowa. All the coal comes from Iowa and whenever it is possible, Iowa bidders are favored. The estimates as computed are as follows: Anamosa, $14,214; Fort Madison, $17,310; Glenwood home for feeble minded, $28,849; Eldora industrial school, $15,700; Davenport orphans' home, $12,707; Council Bluffs school for deaf, $7,553; Clarinda hospital, $27,736; Cherokee hospital, $22,099; Oakdale sanitarium, $11,043; Knoxville inebriates' hospital, $7,785; Independence hospital, $39,774; Marshalltown soldiers' home, $33,208; Mitchellville, $8,878; Mount Pleasant hospital, $34,712; Vinton college for blind, $4,219. There will be other supplementary estimates which will increase the totals considerably.

Premiums for State Fair.

Premium totals to be paid out for all classes of exhibits at the big fair next fall, as announced by Secretary Simpson, reach a grand total of $56,672, or about $18,000 more than was paid out last fall. For races $15,500 in purses will be put up. Much of the additional money will be given for work in the important new departments of poultry, work of children, educational exhibit of farm crops and as prizes for stock judging and cooking by young men and women. These last will be paid with a scholarship at the state college at Ames. The total premiums for each class follow: Horses, $8,264; cattle, $12,192; swine, $3,323; sheep, $2,268; poultry, $1,832; agriculture, $2,973.50; pantry and kitchen, $568; apiary, $205; dairy products, $657; horticulture, $967; floriculture, $826; fine arts, $1,806; work of children, $1,290; Iowa state college scholarships, $1,000; educational exhibit of farm crops, $2,000; exhibits of products of agricultural college, $1,000; seed department, $15,500.

Does Good Work.

The majority of the graduates of the Knoxville inebriate hospital leave that institution cured of the drink habit, so reports to the state board of control indicate. Superintendent Miner reports on 65 cases of Knoxville graduates. Of the 365 cases, 38 have never returned to the drink habit; 54 have been greatly improved since they were released; 29 are drinking again, but not so bad as before they took the treatment; 30 began drinking as soon as they were released, and 8 are drinking worse than ever. Reduced to percentages, the figures show that 65 per cent of the inmates were cured; 18 per cent were benefitted; 9 per cent were drinking again but not badly; 9 per cent resumed liquor as soon as they could get it, and 2 per cent are drinking worse than ever.

Will Be Investigated.

Representative Brandes' movement now under way for an inevstigation of the charges of cruelty to patients in state hospitals for insane has resulted in a sentiment among some members of the general assembly that an investigation of affairs at the Fort Madison state penitentary should be taken up also before the adjournment of this session. Warden Sanders has expressed himself as welcoming a legislative investigation, and in view of this a resolution introduced might not be opposed.

Charges with reference to the conduct at the penitentiary are the opposite of those being investigated relative to the hospitals for insane. Instead of cruelty being alleged, leniency is said to prevail in too great an extent in treatment of criminals who have given much trouble to officers in the process of landing them behind the bars.

The committee investigating the hospitals for insane consists solely of members of the house of representatives, and whether the sentiment with reference to the penitentiary will take definite form in the same branch or will break out in the senate, which has no investigating committee, will not be determined until the members reconvene.

Polk Farmers Need Help.

Polk county farmers are among those who are urging State Labor Commissioner E. D. Brigham to put them in touch with men who are looking for farm jobs. One farmer from Mitchellville asked the state commissioner to send him two men if he could get them.

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right Starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only destroys the appearance, but also affects the wearing quality of the goods. This trouble can be entirely overcome by using Defiance Starch, as it can be applied much more thinly because of its greater strength than other makes.

No Temperament.

"One of your daughters married an artist, did she not?"

"Yes, and he beats her dreadfully."

"The artistic temperament. Who did her sister marry?"

"A coal heaver, and he loves her devotedly and never gives her a cross word."

"How uneventful life must seem with an unthinking clod like that."—Houston Post.

With a smooth iron and Defiance Starch, you can launder your shirtwaist just as well at home as the steam laundry can; it will have the proper stiffness and finish, there will be less wear and tear of the goods, and it will be a positive pleasure to use a Starch that does not stick to the iron.

A Mad Rush.

Mexican—Big earthquake to-day.

American Tourist—Was there one? I didn't notice it.

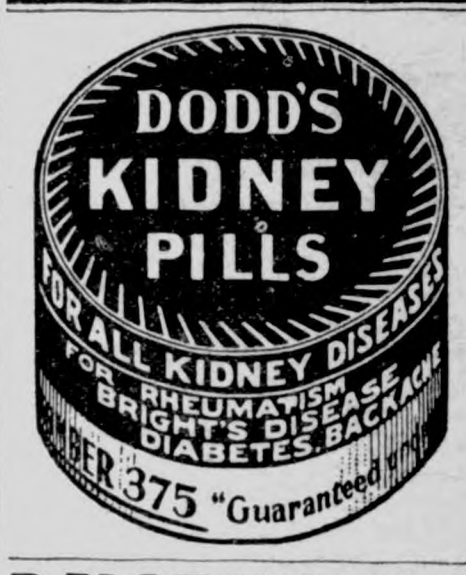
Mexican—Not you see zee people rush out from churches?

Tourist—Oh, yes, I saw that; but I thought maybe the contribution box was going 'round.—New York Weekly.

His Trouble.

Friend—Don't worry because your sweetheart has turned you down since you lost your money. There are as good fish in the sea as ever were caught.

Jilted One—Yes, but I've lost my bait.—Harper's Bazar.



DYSPEPSIA

"Having taken your wonderful 'Cascarets' for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to 'Cascarets' for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other so-called remedies but without avail, and I find that Cascarets relieve more in a day than all the others I have taken would in a year." James McGune, 108 Mercer St., Jersey City, N. J.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 919

Are you troubled with Constipation or Sick Headache? Use A-B-C Tea Only 25 cts. a Package.

DEFIANCE STARCH easiest to work with and starches clothes nicest

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 11, 1909.

Bad Breath.

A well-known physician, who undoubtedly knows, declares that bad breath has broken off more matches than bad temper.

There are ardent lovers who must sometimes wish their sweethearts presented sweeter mouths to be kissed.

Good teeth cannot prevent bad breath when the stomach is disordered.

The best cure for bad breath is a cleansing out of the body by use of

Lane's Family Medicine

(called also Lane's Tea)

the tonic laxative.

This is a herb medicine, sold in 25c. and 50c. packages by druggists. It saves doctor bills.

It cures headache, backache, indigestion, constipation and skin diseases. 25c. at druggists.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER.

They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTE

RHEUMATISM

I want every chronic rheumatic to throw away all medicines, all liniments, all plasters, and give MUNYON'S RHEUMATISM REMEDY a trial. No matter what your doctor may say, no matter what your friends may say, no matter how prejudiced you may be against all advertised remedies, go at once to your druggist and get a bottle of the RHEUMATISM REMEDY. If it fails to give satisfaction, I will refund your money.—Munyon

Remember this remedy contains no salicylic acid, no opium cocaine, morphine or other harmful drugs. It is put up under the guarantee of the Pure Food and Drugs Act.

For sale by all druggists. Price, 25c

6% QUARTERLY

We pay interest every three months at the rate of six per cent. yearly. Our investments are all in mortgages on New York City real estate. Twenty years' experience in New York real estate. Principal and interest guaranteed. Communications confidential. Write

Liberty Financial & Security Co.

CITY INVESTING BUILDING. NEW YORK

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

Ask Your Dealer

Your regular dealer should handle Milwaukee Solvay Coke—probably has it. Dealers in all sections of the Northwest sell it—sell lots of it.

If he does not, try another dealer—or write to our office in Milwaukee and we will mail you full information as to where it can be obtained.

Insist upon having genuine Milwaukee Solvay Coke and give it a trial—you will be delighted with the result—you will be thankful that we called your attention to it—you will adopt it as your permanent fuel at once.

It will pay you to do so.

MILWAUKEE Solvay Coke

More than 100,000 familes are using this ideal fuel for cooking and heating—because they save money, save work and avoid trouble by doing so.

About one-third of the weight of coal is volatile matter—useless for heating purposes, annoying because it is the smoke and soot producing, gaseous, vexatious part of the coal.

The volatile elements are removed by the patented process used in the manufacture of Milwaukee Solvay Coke—carbon, the heat producing element remains.

Milwaukee Solvay Coke is cheaper than hard coal—better than hard coal—superior to any other fuel in every way—every person who has ever used it will tell you so.

2,000 dealers in the Northwest sell Milwaukee Solvay Coke—all sizes—ask your dealer, and write for interesting booklet of coke information to

PICKANDS, BROWN & COMPANY
Colby-Abbott Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

THROWN IN RIVER

CHOPPED UP BODY IN RIVER AT OTTUMWA.

LETTERS SHOW HER IDENTITY

Ross Disappeared Month Ago, and His Money Orders Were Found On Body.

Ottumwa.—Every evidence points to the belief that the floater found in the river here is the body of Peter Ross, an Italian formerly employed at Des Moines.

Indications unearthed by the police in their investigation of the crime are that Ross was murdered in Des Moines and his body floated down the river to Ottumwa.

It was first thought that the body was that of Fred Loerche, a brick mason, held up and robbed some days ago by three men. Later investigation by the coroner developed the fact that it was not Loerche but Ross.

Letters to Ross.

In his pockets were letters addressed to Peter Ross at Des Moines. A money order cashed at Des Moines postoffice shows that he sent money from here to his people in Italy.

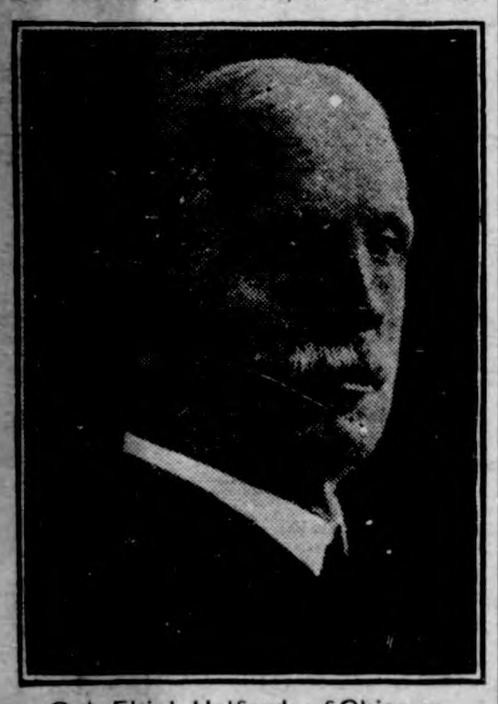
Receipts in his pockets show that he had at one time been in the employ of the Johns Coal company at Fort Des Moines. Communication with this firm developed the fact that Ross was formerly a workman there, but had not been at the mine since a month ago. No one knew his present whereabouts. It was said that Ross collected his money as usual on pay day but failed to show up for work on the following Monday morning.

Brutal Killing.

The murder is one of the most brutal committed in years. The head was nearly several by a razor, cut from one ear to the back of the head. The skull had been then split open with an ax. On different parts of the body numerous knife wounds were found, making his corpse a sieve. In addition to this several holes were found above his heart which the coroner believes were made by revolver shots.

Noted Editor Will Speak.

Des Moines.—Col. Elijah Halford of Chicago the noted editor is one of the speakers at the Iowa Conference of the Laymens Missionary Movement in Des Moines, March 23, 24 and 25. Col.



Col. Elijah Halford, of Chicago.

Halford founded the Chicago Inter-Ocean. The conference is expected to be the biggest meeting for men ever held in the middle west. Governor B. A. Carroll will preside at the banquet on the opening night.

Negro Sings in Bastile.

Des Moines.—For the first time since his incarceration in the Polk county jail. John Junken, the Ottumwa murderer, Sunday joined in religious services, singing with the Salvation Army jail workers. Heretofore he has not taken the slightest interest in the efforts of the workers, but Sunday he with the other prisoners took an active part in all the ceremonies. He appeared unusually light-hearted and spent the day smoking cigarettes, reading the newspaper accounts of his indictment, and singing. He did not have anything to say regarding the true bill returned against him by the Ottumwa grand jurors. He was not surprised at the report that County Attorney Cornell would insist and plead with the jury for the life sentence for him. He expected that the prosecutor would ask and insist upon this. He is pleased over the report that he will not be taken to Ottumwa for arraignment until his trial in April. Despite the assurances of the officers that no lynching would take place if he were taken to Ottumwa at once, Junken feels safer the farther he is from the town where the murder of Clara Rosen was committed. He would rather stay in Des Moines than be taken to Fort Madison, he stated, however.

Woman Commits Suicide.

Valley Junction.—After having made careful preparations for the perpetuation of her memory after death, and the distribution of her estate equally among her heirs, Mrs. C. Hogewoning, living with her son at 556 Fifth street, went to her home about noon, and after taking the contents of a two ounce bottle of carbolic acid, fired two revolver shots into her body. One of them penetrated the left breast just above the heart, the other taking effect in the forehead beween the eyes, passing out behind the left ear.

The shots were heard by Mrs. Morrissey, a woman living next door, but no investigation was made until the son, Peter Hogewoning, an employe of the Rock Island shops returned home shortly before 7 o'clock in the evening. Receiving no response to his summons, he forced the rear door and found his mother cold in death on the floor before the kitchen stove. Medical aid was immediately summoned, but the woman had evidently been dead for some hours.

A number of deeds were found wrapped neatly in a package and placed in an extra coat belonging to the son. Two pocketbooks containing the money drawn from the bank were also found there. The house was searched thoroughly for a communication which would impart some motive, but without avail.

A number of proofs of photographs were received by the son yesterday from the Hodge studio on East Locust street. It is evident that careful preparations had been made by the woman for ending her life. She purchased the carbolic acid at the same time she arranged for the photographs. The revolver she used was one given her by her son as a Christmas present.

Main Artery Through Iowa.

Mason City.—A prominent Milwaukee railroad official who was in this city gave out the information that this division of the road would be in the highway between the Pacific coast and the east and that at no distant day through transcontinental trains would be put on. Engineers have been quietly making a survey, riding with the engineers and in other ways examing the track, and they have discovered that by building a few miles of lines between Jackson Junction and West Union, connecting with the Turkey river division, a route could be established from Seattle to Chicago sixty miles shorter than any other the road might select. It, too, was found that this route has eliminated all the heavy grades of the system in the northwest and has thus bested the Minneapolis or the Sioux route.

The points in this part of the country on the trunk line would then be Aberdeen and Mitchell, S. D., Mason City, Jackson, West Union, Dubuque to Chicago.

May Mean a Rope for Jones.

Muscatine.—Before a crowd that thronged the court room of Muscatine county building, the trial of Harry Jones, charged with the murder of the Van Winkle family of Fairport, which promises to be one of the most sensational cases ever tried in eastern Iowa. On account of the great interest taken in the case it is believed that it will be at least several days before a jury can be secured. A special venire of fifty has already been drawn and attorneys believe that several more will be exhausted before the jury box is filled. When Jones was taken from the jail to the court house at least a thousand surrounded the jail. Feeling is strong against Jones, and in order to protect the prisoner eight deputies have been chosen as bodyguard. During the progress of the trial they are placed about the court room to quell any disturbance.

Whirled to His Death.

Oelwein.—Byron Skeels, a 16-year-old boy, was caught in a belt in the Chicago, Great Western shops here and torn to pieces. While his horrible screams rang through the shops his arms and legs were torn from his body. Fellow workmen stood petrified with horror and unable to turn a hand for his aid. Life was extinct before the machinery could be stopped. The accident happened just before the night shift came on duty. Part of the boy's clothing caught on the shaft and the boy was whirled about it, his body whipping the floor at every turn. His mother is frantic with grief.

Aged Circuit Rider Dies.

Clarion.—Rev. John D. Sands, pastor emeritus of the Congregational church at Belmond and veteran home missionary is dead. He celebrated last month his ninety-fourth birthday. In the early days of this section he rode from place to place preaching and organizing churches. Seven Congregational churches in Wright county were planted by him. He was a very learned man, being a Hebrew scholar and able to preach in French as well as English. He was widely known and highly respected.

DURING THE SHOPPING.

Maude—Men are getting so deceitful, you can't trust your best friend.

Percy—And what's worse, you can't get your best friend to trust you.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Last Resort.

"The young heiress I told you of refused her last wooer with fear and trembling."

"Why so?"

"He threatened that if she would not have him he would do something desperate."

"Well, did he?"

"He did. He went to work."—Baltimore American.

The Difference.

Josiah (to newly wedded neighbor)—I wish you long, happy lives; and I see no reason since you have had experience why you and Mariah cannot pull together as steady and happy and successfully as a team of horses.

Obadiar—No doubt we could if there was only one tongue between us.—Judge.

Try Murine Eye Remedy

For Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes. Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law. Murine Doesn't Smart. Soothes Eye Pain. Try Murine for Your Eyes.

He Knew.

"My boy, do you know the nature of an oath?"

"Yes, sir, we got a parrot."—Exchange.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.

PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

It is better to remain silent than to speak the truth ill-humoredly, and so spoil an excellent dish by covering it with bad sauce.—St. Francis de Sales.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

The most certain sign of wisdom is a continual cheerfulness.—Montaigne.

HER PHYSICIAN ADVISED

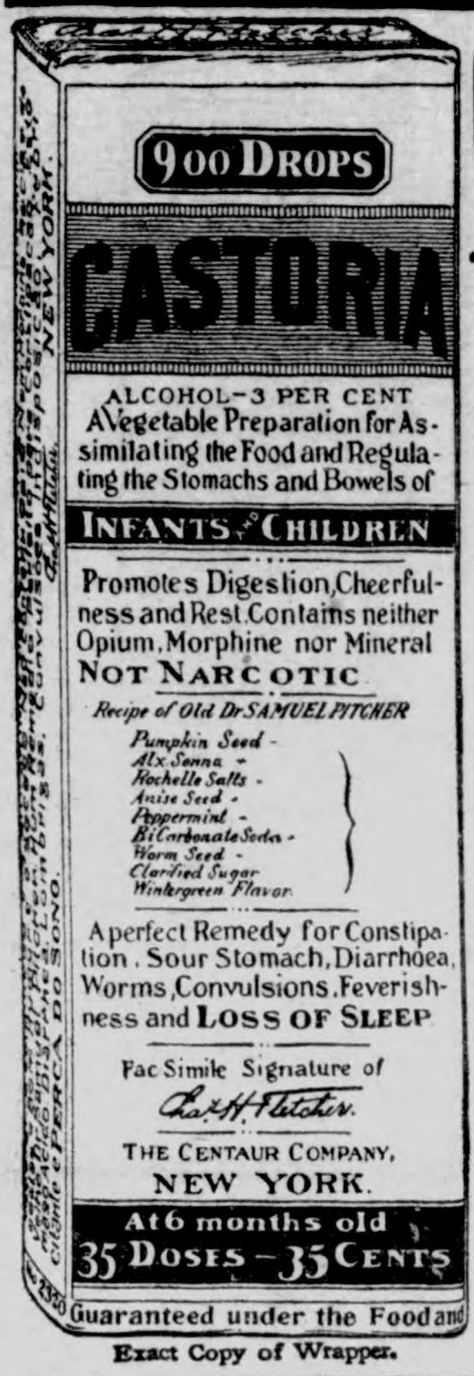
Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Columbus, Ohio.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during change of life. My doctor told me it was good, and since taking it I feel so much better that I can do all my work again. I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fine remedy for all woman's troubles, and I never forget to tell my friends what it has done for me."—Mrs. E. HANSON, 304 East Long St., Columbus, Ohio.

Another Woman Helped.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth mountains of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter."—Mrs. CHARLES BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

WILL YOU TAKE THE BEST—Of Seattle?

Seattle occupies the unique position upon the globe: It is the Pacific's Gateway on the shortest rail route across the American Continent, to all the principal cities and to the Atlantic seaports. It is America's Western Gateway on the shortest route to all Pacific shores, to the "East"—the dream-goal of commerce through the centuries. Seattle cannot help being an immense city.

Will YOU take, for yourself, for your children and your children's children, any portion of the enormous GROUND-VALUE INCREMENT and EVER-INCREASING RENTAL EARNINGS of Seattle's Central Business Property? Will you decline to possess yourself of an inevitable fortune, an ever-increasing income, as sure as a government tax? These I offer YOU through the non-taxable OWNERSHIP of measured UNITS of specific properties in the business center of this splendid city. Write to me NOW and let me send you the facts which you can verify when you come to the "A.-Y.-P." Fair next summer.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

MAPLEINE

A flavoring that is used the same as lemon or vanilla. By dissolving granulated sugar in water and adding Mapleine, a delicious syrup is made and a syrup better than maple. Mapleine is sold by grocers. If not send 35c for 2 oz. bot. and recipe book. Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle.

SALZER'S OATS

GERMANY, a country smaller than Texas, grows more oats than nearly the whole of Europe put together. Why? She has no better soil than anybody else, but she sows only pedigree, big yielding varieties.

EMPEROR WILLIAM OATS.

Some years ago when in Germany, we picked up this remarkable oat in a rich side valley of the Rhine. Thousands of American farmers tried it last year and are loud and earnest in its praise. Trial package 6c.

REJUVENATED WHITE BONANZA OATS.

Salzer's White Bonanza Oats, 21 years ago, took the world's prize of $500.00 in gold for the heaviest yielding oat variety. (Our catalog tells the interesting story.) We have rejuvenated this oat and offer it again as something quite above the ordinary.

HEADQUARTERS FOR AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE SEED

such as Minnesota No. 6 and No. 25 Oats, Wisconsin Swedish Oats, Oderbrucker (Wis. No. 55), Minnesota No. 6 and No. 105 Barley, Minnesota No. 25 and North Dakota No. 155 Flax, Corn, Wheat, etc., etc.

We have by all odds the largest SEED POTATO trade in the world; one of our cellars alone holds 60,000 bushels!

BIG SEED, PLANT AND TOOL BOOK FREE.

We publish the most original seed catalog in America. It bristles with seed thoughts. Or, if you remit 10c in postage we will send you a remarkable lot of farm seed samples, including Billion Dollar Grass, the 12 ton Hay Wonder, Spelts, the 80 bu. cereal and hay prodigy, Silver King Barley, yielding 173 bu. per acre, together with clover, timothy, grasses, etc., etc., worth $10.00 of any man's money to get a start therewith.

Or remit 14c and we will add a package of a New Farm Seed Novelty never before seen by you.

JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO.

Box W. LA CROSSE, WIS.

100 TRANSPLANTED EVERGREENS $10

(50 Express Prepaid $6)

These trees have been twice transplanted and twice root-pruned which gives them the large abundance of roots necessary to the life of the tree. Then they are backed by the fairest guarantee of any nursery in the U. S. and by the reputation of

Iowa's Greatest Evergreen Specialist for Forty Years.

These trees are from 1 1-2 feet to 2 feet in height and first class in every way. Our other special bargains, backed by our guarantee, will surely please you. Write for special bargain sheet and guarantee. 8-year-old apple trees $10.00 per hundred.

Bristow Nursery Co., 134 West 5th St., Hampton, Ia.

COLT DISTEMPER

Can be handled very easily. The sick are cured, and all others in same stable, no matter how "exposed," kept from having the disease, by using SPOHN'S LIQUID DISTEMPER CURE. Give on the tongue, or in feed. Acts on the blood and expels germs of all forms of distemper. Best remedy ever known for mares in foal. One bottle guaranteed to cure one case. 50c and $1 a bottle; $5 and $10 dozen of druggists and harness dealers, or sent express paid by manufacturers. Cut shows how to poultice throats. Our free Booklet gives everything. Local agents wanted. Largest selling horse remedy in existence—twelve years.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists, Goshen, Ind., U. S. A.

CALIFORNIA LANDS—Tulare Co., California. The place to get a home cheap; 5, 10, 20, 40, 80, 160 to 5,000 acre tracts. Prices from $30 up. Products alfalfa, dairying, corn, wheat, rye, oats, barley, peaches, prunes, apricots, pears, grapes, raisins, peanuts, sugar beets, etc. Easy terms. Write to-day for literature. 100,000 acres for sale. Pacific Land Co., W. A. Iden, Gen. Mgr.

GOOD CORN AND ALFALFA LANDS at Twenty-five to Forty dollars per acre, in the Garden spot of Oklahoma, Kay and Noble Counties. For information write: CARSON & SON, PONCA CITY, OKLA.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.
A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS
WITH Dr. King's New Discovery
FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 .....

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a.
437 ..... 1:46 p.

Stock Extra every Wednesd and Sunday. All regular trai carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Age

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums. Liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York

U.S. CREAM SEPARATOR

If you keep cows you need a U. S. Separator to make them yield the biggest profit. It will make the most money for you because it skims cleaner than any other separator. It will save you more than any other because it needs less time, labor and repairs to run it. Look a U. S. over for yourself. For sale by

ELL BROS.

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

A Complete Defense.

An Irish woman was accused of having stolen an iron soap kettle and cracked it, so that its usefulness was ended.

Her defense, when brought before the judge, was as follows: "Oi have witnesses here, yer honor, t' prove, first, that Oi niver had th' kittle in me possession; second, that Oi returned it t' Mrs. Casey widout a crack in it; and, third, that th' old kittle was cracked whin Oi s'hole it."

MOST LIKELY.

"Who was the fellow who went around with a lantern looking for an honest man?"

"I don't know; but if he were to try it to-day somebody would steal his lantern!"

True Genius.

"Your daughter has genius, Mr Straightout."

"Nonsense! She can't sing, nor she can't play!"

"No. But she knows it."

The Worst.

Young Wife (whose elderly husband is desperately ill)—Doctor, do not keep me in suspense! Tell me the worst!

Doctor—Then, madam, listen! He will get well!

New Decorative Idea.

The hostes who wishes something different is asked to try using striped ed fancy grasses, rushes and little wild foliage plants that grow in damp places and along streams. A table an be made very pretty with these, using no flowers. Try it.

The Colonel's Leg in History.

Col. Blank, who later called himself general, received, in a little skirmish of the Civil war, a slight scratch on the leg. In the days afterward he nursed his glorious wound with loving care and grew lamer year by year that the memory of his bravery might be ever fresh.

When grown old, as he sat one day caring for his leg and musing on the glorious past, a young man, a stranger visiting the family for a few days, approached him and inquired, sympathetically:

"Lame, general?"

"Yes, young man, I am lame."

"Been riding, sir?"

"No, sir," sternly and rebukingly, "I have not been riding."

"Ah, slipped on the ice, general?"

"No, sir!" with actual ferocity.

"Then, perhaps, sir, you have sprained your ankle?"

The old man slowly and carefully lifted his pet leg in both hands and tenderly set his foot upon the floor. Then he slowly rose from his seat and stood looking down with scornful pity at the unlucky youth. At last, in the sublimity of rage, he burst out:

"Go and read the history of your country, you puppy!"

How He Hunted Bear.

A New York Irishman was visiting a friend in the Adirondacks and was taken with a desire to go hunting. Borrowing a gun from his friend he set off alone in search of game. Some time after his host heard a distant report of a gun. A few minutes later he heard some one shouting. From a window he spied, in the distance, his friend, hot-footing it for home, and behind him a bear, gaining at every step. Nearly spent, the pursued reached the door just in time to cry out:

"Quick, Mike! Quick! Open the door! I'm bringing him home aloive!"

Good Old Stock.

"Have ye anny ancisters, Mrs. Kelly?" asked Mrs. O'Brien.

"An' what's ancisters?"

"Why, people you shprung from."

"Listen to me, Mrs. O'Brien," said Mrs. Kelly, impressively. "I come from the rale stock of Donahues, thot shpring from nobody. They shpring at thim!"

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.
Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men
The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, their effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 33 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, MAR. 18, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

ITS A COLD WORLD, EH? BUT A BANK BOOK IS

A WARM FRIEND
AND A SECURE ONE

Taxes due Apr. 1.

GEORGE F. SWIET of Swift & Co. the big packers in Chicago who today do a business of $1,000 a minute first banked enough from his wages to buy one steer.

We will pay you a liberal rate of interest and start you on the road to prosperity.

Do not forget that April 1st all taxes are to be paid, we will be pleased to pay your taxes for you without any charge whatever.

Taxes due Apr. 1.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

North Elevator

—FOR—

Seeds! Seeds! Seeds!

Medium Red Clover
Mammoth Red Clover
Alsike Clover
Timothy—extra fancy

My seeds comply with the Iowa Pure Seed Laws.

☞ Place your orders now—my prices are right.

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J.W.WATERMAN

THE LURID GLOW OF DOOM

was seen in the red face, hands and body of the little son of H M Adams of Henriette. Pa. His awful plight from eczeme had for five years defied al remedies and baffled the best doctors who aaid the poisoned blood had affected his lungs and nothing could save him. But. writs his mother, seven bottlei of electric bitters completely cured him. For eruptios, eczema, salt rheum, sores and all blood eisord eas and rheumatism Electric Bitters is supreme. Only 50c. Guaranteed by G A Pabst & Co.

Avery Center.

Geo. W. Griggs was at Mascn City one day last week.

Mrs. Geo. W. Griggs is reported very sick at this writeing.

Miss Laura Meyers finished a succssful term of school last Friday.

O. D. Church has been having the lagrippe the last two weeks.

The heaviest snow for five years droped on this vicinity last week.

Henry Grosz was transacting business in Garner last Friday.

Perl Shaver of Rown, Iowa is visiting with her parents and friends of this vicinity.

C. M. Roath made a businness trip to the Center last week to doctor horses for L. G. Avery.

We are informed that J. T. Griggs and T. M. Hamilton butchered eight hogs one day last week.

The Avery Center Dancing Association are going to call a meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the coming season they are going to add two more instruments to their orchestra which will make five in all, we think they are going to make as fine an orchestra as can be found any where in the northwest.

AN IDEAL COUGH MEDICINE.

As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's cough remedy in a class by itself, says Dr. R A Wiltshire of Gwynneville, Ind. I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's cough medicine. In fact I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morphine it certainly makes a most safe pleasa t and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended. For sale by G. A. Pabst & Co.

Dining-Room Like a Rose Garden.

At a recent grand diplomatic dinner the decorations of the dining-room and the table were roses—a veritable shower of them! Bengal roses, Dijon roses, and the roses of France. They strewed the table; they hung in baskets; they wreathed the candelabra; they trailed from the dinner cart, and sprays of them marked the places of the guests inclosing the name cards written in letters of gold. The room was like a rose garden. In the dark hair of the hostess, behind each ear, nestled a large pink rose. A pretty finish to her robe of white meteor crepe edged and hemmed with a Greek key design done in gold.—From a Paris Letter to Vogue.

Tea Made of White Hair.

"This is white hair you are drinking," said the Chinese under secretary.

"White hair? Nonsense! It is delicious tea."

The under secretary laughed in his lilac brocade sleeve. "No, white hair," he insisted. "White hair, that is, in my language. For Pekoe means white hair. This tea is called Pekoe because its leaves were gathered so young that the downy hairs still grow [illegible]" become due and a lien after Jan. 1st a penalty of one cent per month attaches after April 1st. If first installment of tax is paid before April 1st balance can run until October 1st before penalty attaches. We have tax lists of German, Ell, Avery and Twin Lake townships and the town of Klemme. We make no charge for paying taxes.

All Taxes

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

A. F. HUBBARD

AUCTIONEER.

I would be pleased to cry your sales this season at reasonable terms. Livestock a specialty. Make dates with either banks at Klemme. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Address—Ventura, Iowa,
R. F. D. No. 2.

As You Enter a Beautiful Home You Admire First

The Decorative Treatment.

Here are new Wall Papers that will help you to make your house more beautiful.

Elegant Shades suituble for kitchen that show neither dust or smoke.

10c UP

Nobby dining and sitting room patterns with drop ceiling effect, also fruit patterns.

15c UP

Parlor paper latest designs.

20c UP

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & M r.

Klemme, - - Iowa

A Life-Preserver.

The middle-aged, untrained woman suddenly left without means of support is one of the tragic facts of modern life. Every charitable agency knows and dreads her discouraged face. Every kind-hearted clergyman feels the burden of her story. Her relatives and friends grow weary of her, by virtue of their inability to help her. Each case presents its own pathetic difficulty, but the cases are so many that they cease to be recognized as individual, and the protest, "More useless women!" is made almost in the hearing of the crowd of applicants for "some respectable way of earning a living." Every mother of daughters is bound to do what she can to prevent her girls from joining this melancholy, straggling army of the unfit. Sending girls to college does not insure them against catastrophe 25 years after their graduation. The most effective protection is the ability to do well some manual work. There is a constant market for a high grade of manual work, reinforced by intelligence. The girl who is a skilled milliner, and who practices her art for her own amusement for 20 years, will be able to make a living from it, if she needs it at 40, says the Youth's Companion. Millinery, dressmaking, machine-stitching, typewriting, telegraphy, stenography, professional cooking, practical housekeeping for large establishments, fine laundering, designing, advertising, gardening, floriculture, upholstery—all these occupations and a thousand others may be taught our girls, and once learned they may prove veritable supports in time of need. When every girl, rich or poor, provides herself with some such trade as a sort of life-preserver, there will be fewer feminine casualties as the result of financial shipwrecks.

Some time ago the theory was started that the American people owe their indomitable spirit of enterprise to the ever changing atmospheric conditions of the United States, and since then many a tenderfoot has felt better, not to say happier, about his climatic discomforts. Willing we are to be bent and unbent by the rapid alternations of heat and cold, since this "tempering" improves the quality of the races on this soil. Storms and cyclones, bone-searching winds, hurricanes and gales, zero weather and tropic heat are all the same to a loyal American since he knows that weather makes him great. At least, Mr. Willis L. Moore, director of the weather bureau at Washington, says we should be grateful for, not cross at, all the varieties sweeping over this grand continent every day of life. Blessed be the invigorating fresh air!

For nine years Australia has been trying to choose a capital. Melbourne and Sydney, beautiful cities beautifully named, were both impossible, because the Commonwealth Act of 1900 provided that the capital should be in New South Wales, not less than 100 miles from Sydney. Whatever the merits of the places proposed, Dalgety, Tumut, and the place finally selected, Yass-Canberra, they all suffer from queer names. So there is a new problem before the Australian commonwealth, to choose for the capital a name which the world will take pleasure in saying and the poets will be able to sing. It is a fortunate thing for America that George Washington was not named Poggs or Snipkin.

It may interest the musical youth in this region to know that a mechanical piano has been introduced into York cottage for the benefit of the Prince of Wales' children, who like to grind out all the latest popular airs on the machine-played piano, but it does not prevent the children from being taught their notes on the real instrument and "practicing" so much every day. They also have a gramophone of large size, and both these inventions are a great source of delight to Princess Mary and her brothers.

Medical and legal associations in New York are among the latest advocates of a reform in the use of expert testimony. They urge that experts be more fairly treated by lawyers in the courtroom, that they be paid officers of the court and not hirelings of the client. The proposed change, if enforced by legislation, would do away with the unfair advantage lying with the richer litigant, and would relieve the expert of the temptation to testify rather in his employer's interests than in the interests of scientific truth.

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. The young women met a Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented. Two men called. They proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett, one a friend of Elizabeth's father. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. Fearing for the safety of some gems, Lady Edith left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his actions on board ship. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. At a supper, which was held on the rocks, Elizabeth rather mysteriously lost her ring, causing a search by the entire party. Gabrielle witnessed a stormy scene between Lady Edith and Lord Wilfrid, jealousy being the cause. Mary Anne brought back Elizabeth's ring. Elise went sailing with Gordon Bennett. He tried to persuade her to return the jewels left in the girl's care by Lady Edith. At midnight Elise saw two men—one of them Gordon Bennett—attempting to force an entrance into their boathouse. She admitted to herself that she had nearly loved him and believed herself used as a tool. Mrs. Graham, sick, told Elise of her husband's love for another woman. Gordon Bennett and Blake returned with Mr. Graham's body. He had been murdered. Lord Wilfrid grew sulky. Lady Edith confided to Elise that Blake and Bennett were thieves.

CHAPTER XV.—Continued.

I uttered a smothered ejaculation.

"There is more to come," she said, "and I do not quite know how to tell you. To-night, when you are all here at the ball, these two men intend to force an entrance to your cottage. I know this to be true—in fact, they have already gone."

She paused abruptly and added in a tone of real solicitude:

"Have I hurt you so very much?"

"No," I hastened to reply; "no, of course not. Why should I be hurt? He is nothing to me. But you must prove it; you might be mistaken, you know."

My head was swimming with the sickening sensation often caused by swinging too long, and I scarcely knew what I said, but felt vaguely that I might in this way gain time, and that time was valuable.

"I will prove it," she said, catching up a wrap and handing it to me. "Would you believe me if you saw with your own eyes? Then come with me. You are quite safe—do not be afraid."

I was not afraid, but as I walked by her side through the quiet village and down the familiar little path to our cottage I wondered dimly why she had brought me there—why she had not selected one of the others.

"We have nothing valuable," I said, at last—"nothing. He knows that."

"You have my pearls," she returned; "but of course you have never mentioned them."

I stopped short, horror-struck. What had I not done, by my thoughtless gossiping?

"Oh, but I did!" I cried. "I did! I told him about the safe and what was in it."

"Ah!"

It was a short exclamation, pregnant with meaning. Then she turned quickly and took my hand in hers.

"Never mind," she whispered; "it will be all right. Don't worry."

I tried to say something, but she motioned me to be silent, for we were approaching the cottage now, and she stepped softly, as though fearing to disturb some one. At the corner of the house she paused, listened a moment, then beckoned me to come nearer and pointed toward the kitchen.

At the outer door leading into the cellar knelt two figures, men in evening clothes. I did not need the assistance of the moon, which just then emerged triumphant from behind a cloud, for I recognized them at once.

"No use," said Mr. Blake's even voice; "this door seems to be fastened by an iron bar inside. We must try the boathouse again. I suppose the servant is inside."

"Yes," replied Gordon Bennett; "I saw her a moment ago, when she passed the window. I hope we'll have luck with the boathouse this time."

We shrank into the corner of the house, and they passed so close we might have touched them. As they disappeared down the steps leading to the slip, my companion followed them, still holding my hand and drawing me after her.

"Look!" she whispered.

And I again saw the two men before the boathouse, just as I had seen them once before; saw them try the door, and even set their shoulders against it with an ineffectual effort to burst it open. Lady Edith's face appeared very white and haggard in the moonlight, and the light shawl she wore rose and fell swiftly with her quick breath.

"It holds!" she ejaculated. "The door holds!"

It seemed to be a staunch door, indeed, for, in spite of repeated efforts, it stood impregnable, until at last they ceased working over it and retired to the end of the slip, talking earnestly.

"They have given it up," she whispered, and her voice seemed to thrill exultantly. "See, they are going away. They are easily discouraged, are they not?"

It was quite true they were going away. We saw them step into their little boat and glide into the moonlit water toward the end of the island, which they must round in order to get home.

"You are safe for to-night," she said. "I am almost sorry I told you, for

They Passed So Close We Might Have Touched Them.

they will not return, and to-morrow they cannot. Let us go back to the hotel and forget it."

I shook my head and watched the little boat, now a mere speck on the sparkling water.

"I am not going back," I said dully. "I do not care to dance. I'm going home. Mary Anne is there, and I shall not be afraid. Will you tell the girls I did not feel well, and came home?"

"Poor child!" she said. "I understand. I knew you would not go back, and arranged with Wilfrid to bring the others home. He knows all about it, but he will not speak until I see him. I will stay with you."

Lady Edith was very gentle and very tactful when she went back into the cottage with me. She explained to Mary Anne that I had one of my headaches and wanted to go quietly to bed. She told her also to bring me a cup of hot tea, and when I resisted followed her into the hall, and I heard a low-voiced conversation, of which I distinguished only the concluding sentences.

"Very well," said Mary Anne, in a tone of sullen remonstrance that surprised me; "very well, I'll make the tea, but I'll give it to 'er meself, so I will. I'll have no 'and in—"

"That is quite enough," said Lady Edith, sharply. "You will make the tea and bring it here. I will come out and get and take it to Miss Elise; she is ill, and cannot have you lumbering about her room."

After all, it was Mary Anne who brought me the tea, pushing the bedroom door open and marching to my side with the manner of one determined to do or die. I drank it, and she went away again, without a glance at Lady Edith, who sat beside me, saying nothing indeed, but occasionally touching my forehead with fingers which were cold rather than cool and now and then trembled slightly. I knew that in spite of her admirable self-control the evening had been an exhausting one for her as well as for me.

After a while we heard Gabrielle and Elizabeth come home, and she met them in the hall, telling them I had fallen asleep at last, but had been quite prostrate with a sudden headache, and would no doubt be all right in the morning.

I heard them say good-night and come upstairs very softly in order not to disturb me. Then the lights went out, the house grew quiet, and I lay there alone with my secret—my two secrets, indeed, for I knew why Gordon Bennett looked at me so strangely, and knew also that he was unworthy a woman's love.

So I clinched my hands and fought my fight, and after a while the tumult in my brain ceased, for sleep is merciful and brings with it oblivion to exhausted nature.

CHAPTER XVI.

"Elise, wake up."

Gabrielle, looking unnaturally tall in her yellow kimono with long-legged storks and large chrysanthemums straggling indiscriminately across it, stood beside my bed—the lighted candle in her hand held at an angle which caused the grease to drip upon my face and materially assist in rousing me.

"What's the matter?" I demanded, sitting indignantly upright. "I'd only just gone to sleep."

"Hush—don't make a noise. There is some one in the house."

"What?"

I was wide enough awake now, and the events of the preceding evening flashed across my mind with unwelcome distinctness.

"At least, we think so. I heard a noise and waked Elizabeth, and we both listened. It was in the dining-room, and oh, Elise—"

"Lady Edith's pearls!" I finished in an awed whisper, adding as an afterthought: "Where is Elizabeth?"

"Gone to wake Mary Anne. Do get up and put on your wrapper; we might as well be prepared."

I have since asked Gabrielle if she thought it unconventional to receive burglars in a robe de nuit; at that time however, I did not question the motive of her command, but reached obediently for my slippers, and was enveloped in my pink kimono when Elizabeth appeared in her blue one.

Elizabeth was very pale and looked as though she had encountered a regiment of ghosts, as she collapsed in a crumpled heap on the foot of my bed.

"She wasn't there," she said, in a frightened whisper; "her bed had not been touched, and—oh, I'm afraid!"

We all were, for that matter, and huddled close together, listening intently. Mary Anne, a tower of strength in any emergency, had failed us in our hour of need, and we were weakly incompetent as well as alarmed.

We listened with strained attention and every sense alert, dreading the unknown, yet still more fearful of the silence which enveloped the house like a pall. We heard nothing, however, except the sound of the waves, usually soothing in its regularity, but to-night accompanied with an overpowering sense of loneliness and a realization of our helplessness and complete isolation.

But as the slow moments passed and nothing happened we grew gradually calmer, and even ventured to creep noiselessly into the hall and lean over the banisters, ready for instant flight back to my room at the first suspicion of a movement below, there to barricade the door and insure personal safety if possible. After we listened, and again nothing happened.

"Would you be afraid to go downstairs?" suggested Gabrielle, always the most valiant. "It seems all right."

We were afraid, and said so emphatically.

"Of course," said Elizabeth, after another period of silence, "we must have been mistaken about the noise. But, then, there's Mary Anne—what of her?"

Gabrielle sat flat upon the floor, mingled relief and dismay in her face.

"That's just it!" she exclaimed. "It was Mary Anne."

"What do you mean?"

"The noise—it was Mary Anne. Don't you see? She has been deceiving us about her son; he is still hiding about somewhere, and she goes out at night and meets him, so it is no wonder she was not in her room."

"Why, of course"—Elizabeth accepted the theory without question, while I maintained an uneasy silence. "I'm so relieved—but I'm sorry, too, to hate to think she has deceived us again."

Gabrielle snuffed the wick of the candle and rose to the occasion, which as she said afterward, she felt herself more than equal to Mary Anne, even though she might perhaps flinch from a masked burglar.

"Now, I'll tell you our best plan," she said, decidedly. "We'll go downstairs and see if she has left a door or window open (as, of course, she must), and then we will lock it and wait until we hear her coming, and then—"

"Well," I inquired, as she paused resolutely, "what then?"

"Why, then we'll confront her."

Gabrielle spoke firmly, and we felt as though the act of confronting her would be in the nature of the ancient ordeal of red-hot ploughshares.

"Let us go right down," she continued, "before she has a chance to come in. Both of you get candles and come on."

"I don't quite like it," demurred Elizabeth. "Suppose she brings a man with her? He might not object to three other murders if he thought necessary."

I got my candle in puzzled silence. Gabrielle's explanation was very plausible, and I fervently hoped it might prove to be true, but I had a momentary vision of the figures at the door of the boathouse, and my heart sank within me.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

FEARED HE WOULD "WALK."

Curious Reason for the Mutilation of a Corpse in Austria.

This curious bit of Dalmatian superstition turned up in a recent trial in Trieste: Antonia Logic, a widow, was accused of mutilating a corpse, and also with disturbing the repose of the dead, by severing the sinews in the foot of Mathe Duda, a deceased property owner, at Salona, near Spalato. In that locality exists a deeply rooted superstition that any evil-doer will, after death, be compelled to walk around eternally in the shape of a greatly distended spirit, to the terror and discomfort of himself and all householders. As Duda's daughter-in-law had reasons for fearing that he might become a "Bukodlak," as the Dalmatian vernacular has it, she employed the widow to cut the ligaments in the foot and thus prevent any ghostly promenadings later. Antonia, the widow, believed absolutely in the superstition and conscientiously earned her pay. The lower court discharged the prisoner because she had acted from motives of piety, but the court of appeal reversed the decision and sentenced her to three days' imprisonment for the treatment of a corpse.

Heat in Match's Flame.

The flame of an ordinary match has a much higher temperature than is generally known, and will melt cast iron or steel filings. Try it by striking a match and sprinkle the filings through the flame. Sputtering sparks like gunpowder will be the result of the melting metal.—Popular Mechanics.

The Sound of Thunder.

Spread out the thunder into its single tones, and it becomes a lullaby for children; pour it forth together in one quick peal, and the royal sound will remove the heavens.—Schiller.

WHAT WIFE SAYS "GOES."

But It Sometimes Is Bad for the Painting.

When a property-owner knows nothing about paint it is bad for the property-owner, and bad for the painter. It would not be so if the property-owner would always hire a skilled painter, and then really leave everything to him. But the house-owner so often fools himself on one or the other of these things.

The skilled painter in every community has some of the most incompetent competitors that ever vexed a conscientious workman or contractor, and the incompetents get jobs generally by working cheap. In the next place, when the skilled painter is hired, they do not leave everything to him, as so many property-owners boast they do.

They interfere most ignorantly and most fatally. They insist sometimes on using paint materials without investigating whether they are good or not. Or perhaps they insist on the painter's hurrying the work.

"I'm not going to have that painter's mess around my house a month," the wife says, and what wife says goes—at the cost of a lot of wasted painting money.

If the painter stays away a few days to allow the paint to thoroughly dry the owner says: "That painter's neglecting this work—guess he's side-tracking me for Jones' work. I won't stand it."

What chance does a painter have to do good work for a man who is continually nagging at him and otherwise handicapping him (without meaning it, of course)? A poor job is the inevitable result of such interference.

Poor painting costs the houseowner money—don't forget that. It might pay you to get the practical paint book, painting specifications and instrument for detecting paint adulterants, which National Lead Co. are offering under the title of House Owner's Painting Outfit No. 49. Address National Lead Co., 1902 Trinity Bldg., New York City. This company do not make paint (they leave that to the painter to do) but they make pure white lead ("Dutch Boy Painter" trademark kind), and they can tell you how to save money by securing durable painting.

Tight.

"I would that I might share your griefs!"

"You'd look mighty funny with one of my shoes on."

A Domestic Eye Remedy
Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Conforms to Pure Food and Drugs Laws. Wins Friends Wherever Used. Ask Druggists for Murine Eye Remedy. Try Murine in Your Eyes. You Will Like Murine.

Put off thy cares with thy clothes; so shall thy rest strengthen thy labor; and so shall thy labor sweeten thy rest.—Quarles.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Sore Throat will not live under the same roof with Hamlins Wizard Oil, the best of all remedies for the relief of all pain.

What is defeat? Nothing but education, nothing but the first step to something better.—Wendell Phillips.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE."
That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

Things gained are gone, but great things done endure.—Bishop.

Those Tired, Aching Feet of Yours need Allen's Foot-Ease. 25c at your Druggist's. Write A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y., for sample.

A dimple in a woman's chin makes a dent in a man's heart

You Need a Tonic

if you feel languid and depressed all the time. The best thing to help nature build up the system is

DR. D. JAYNE'S TONIC VERMIFUGE

This great tonic is not a false stimulant as many of the so-called "spring tonics." It is a natural strength-giver. For all run-down conditions of the health it is an invaluable remedy; imparts new life and vigor and builds up the entire system.

Sold by All Leading Druggists in two size bottles, 50c and 35c

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth

Glidden Route Through Iowa.

Des Moines.—The Glidden tour, the premier automobile endurance test in America, does not include this city on its route. The tourists will enter Iowa at Clinton, go through Cedar Rapids and Boone and will leave the state at Council Bluffs. In Iowa they will follow the same roads as were used by the New York to Paris racers.

There is no doubt but what the route has been decided upon, although no announcement has been made. G. W. Smithson and H. B. Eubanks of the Studebaker company, have been making hotel arrangements for the tourists.

The race starts from Chicago on July 1 and that night will be spent at Dixon, Ill. The night of the second will be spent at Cedar Rapids and the third at Boone. The tourists will be in Omaha the night of the fourth and other stops are Grand Island, North Platte, Julesburg, Cheyenne and Denver.

Storm Ties up Central.

Marshalltown.—As a result of the heavy snowfall, especially north of this city, the Iowa Central railway has been practically tied up as far as the operation of trains anywhere near on schedule time was concerned. Trains out of here got a part of the trips covered and then tied up or returned as the opposite train on the run to take the place of late night and early morning trains. The night train on the Story City branch was abandoned altogether. The blockade was by far the worst of the entire winter. In some places drifts from four to six feet in depth were encountered and all engines were equipped with snow plows to assist in the work of "bucking."

Submit to Skin Grafting.

Clinton.—Owing to a recent accident, a skin-grafting operation was rendered necessary for the recovery of Sister Mary Evangeline of Our Lady of Angels seminary, a house of the order of Sisters of Charity. A number of members of the order submitted to the painful operation of having a quantity of cuticle removed in order that the skin might be supplied to their suffering companion. Sister Evangeline was engaged in working in the laundry department, and caught her hand in a mangle severely injuring the hand and arm, and rendering the operation necessary. She will recover the use of her arm.

Seed Oats Train Traverses State.

Dubuque.—This city was the starting point of the third oats special, which left to tell the farmers how to raise bigger oats. The train will traverse the state on the Illinois Central lines, taking a week for the trip from Dubuque to Sioux City. Half-hour stops are to be made at sixty-four stations during the week, with night lectures at Independence, Osage, Fort Dodge, Cherokee and LeMars.

Profs. P. G. Holden, M. L. Bowman, B. W. Crossley, A. E. Quaife, R E. Drennen, M. L. Wilson and H. E. Bell compose the lecture staff. Capt. J. F. Merry, general immigration agent of the Illinois Central lines, is aboard the train.

Next week the final train will be run over the Rock Island system.

Clinton Masons to Celebrate.

Clinton.—DeMolay consistory, A. A. S. R., will hold its third reunion in the magnificent new $120,000 cathedral here on May 18, 19, 20 and 21, when the spring reunion is announced. It is expected that an unusually large class of candidates will take the degrees, including the thirty-second. DeMolay consistory, established in 1869, is one of the oldest Masonic bodies west of the Mississippi river.

Scalded by "Live" Boiler.

Ottumwa.—John Snyder, a boiler maker employed in the Burlington shops, was severely scalded while engaged in repairing a "live" boiler. While he was busy at work upon it, a flue head blew out, deluging the unfortunate man with the scalding water and steam.

Cattle Thief in Pen.

Corning.—Harry Johnson, serving a five-year term at Anamosa for stealing two head of horses, is reported to have confessed that he is the man who threw Adams county cattlemen into a state of terror by a long series of cattle thefts.

Main Artery Through Iowa.

Mason City.—A prominent Milwaukee railroad official who was in this city gave out the information that this division of the road would be in the highway between the Pacific coast and the east and that at no distant day through transcontinental trains would be put on. Engineers have been quietly making a survey, riding with the engineers and in other ways examing the track, and they have discovered that by building a few miles of lines between Jackson Junction and West Union, connecting with the Turkey river division, a route could be established from Seattle to Chicago sixty miles shorter than any other the road might select. It, too, was found that this route has eliminated all the heavy grades of the system in the northwest and has thus bested the Minneapolis or the Sioux route.

The points in this part of the country on the trunk line would then be Aberdeen and Mitchell, S. D., Mason City, Jackson, West Union, Dubuque to Chicago.

Burns His Liquor License.

Pleasanton.—A unique meeting took place here to determine whether it was a benefit to the town to continue the sale of liquor at the local drug store.

The meeting was called by A. M. Hagg, proprietor of the place, and also owner of the largest general store in town. It was composed mostly of business men. Arguments were presented, both pro and con, and even an experienced temperance lecturer could have gained points.

After the flow of oratory had ceased a vote was taken, and all but three voted to discontinue the sale of liquor. Among the three dissenting votes was one cast by a minister.

When the matter was finally decided Mr. Hagg produced the government license and a match was applied to it. As the last of the paper disappeared in smoke a rousing cheer was given by those in favor of prohibition, but outside the building, where were gathered the antis, many groans disturbed the quiet night air.

Goes to Africa to Wed.

De Witt.—On Monday, March 15, Miss Charlotte Clany of Stanwood starts for the Soudan, Africa, as a missionary of the United Presbyterian church. Miss Claney has already spent nearly three years in the American mission in Egypt and returned home last May. Now she is about to return to the work, but will be located at Dolieb Hill, Soudan. She expects to sail on March 22 for Egypt and will be met at Alexandria by Dr. Thomas Lambie, to whom she will be married in that ancient city, and they will proceed up the Nile river to their destination. The mission in the Soudan has been established about four years, and has been purely pioneer work, under the direction and support of the United Presbyterian church. Miss Claney is a native of Iowa and a graduate of Monmouth, Ill., college, and is well fitted for the work to which she consecrates her life.

Put Ban on New Licenses.

Davenport.—Saloon licenses will be a thing of the past in Davenport after April 1, until the number of places has been reduced to the ratio of one for every 500 inhibitants. This is the ultimatum of the city council. The injunction proceedings started against a large number of local saloonkeepers by the civic federation have been called before Judge Bollinger. Decrees of injunction were issued against the defendants as there were no contests in the suit.

Duck Hunter Loses a Foot.

Marshalltown.—Lying behind a blind, waiting for a flock of ducks circling above him, may prove fatal to John Burns aged 18 years, of State Center. Burns and a companion had sighted some birds and while trying to get a shot Burns' gun was discharged, tearing away nearly all of his right foot. It is feared that the leg will have to be amputated and possibly that the boy may lose his life.

Noted Editor Will Speak.

Des Moines.—Col. Elijah Halford of Chicago the noted editor is one of the speakers at the Iowa Conference of the Laymens Missionary Movement in Des Moines, March 23, 24 and 25. Col. Halford founded the Chicago Inter-Ocean. The conference is expected to be the biggest meeting for men ever held in the middle west. Governor B. A. Carroll will preside at the banquet on the opening night.

County to Raise Seeds.

Correctionville.—The board of supervisors will conduct an experimental seed farm near here this year at the suggestion of A. E. Nelson. The board has voted $300 for the farm's maintenance. Ames' systems will be carried out in the new plan—education of the nearby farmers to the value of good seeds and the raising of good seed is the primary object of the new plan.

WHAT A FORMER OREGON FARMER THINKS OF WESTERN CANADA.

Albert Nelson left Benton Co., Oregon, in Sept., 1904, for the great Canadian prairies. To quote from his letter: "I was greatly surprised to find such an immense stretch of rich virgin prairie still almost unoccupied in the very heart of North America. The splendid crops of oats, wheat, barley, potatoes and hay I beheld in the settlements made me very eager for a piece of this rich soil, and I soon located in the Goose Lake country. We have here a great stretch of the rich, deep clay loam of the Saskatchewan—a soil heavy and hard to break, but particularly well adapted for the retention of moisture and production of the bright No. 1 hard wheat, and great crops of oats, barley, flax and potatoes. I had 60 bushels of oats, weighing 441 lb. to the bushel, per acre. Some of my neighbors had still greater yields. Wheat yielded from 20 to 30 bushels per acre. We have all done well here, and I could name many Americans who came here with means to go ahead, who have done big already. For homesteads one has to go further west, but the best prairie can be bought here for from $12.00 to $16.00 per acre. The climate is dry and healthy. This is the regular Saskatchewan fall weather—frosty nights, and bright, sunny days—ideal for threshing and hauling out of wheat. The trails are dusty, as thousands of wheat teams are moving towards the elevators.

"The sight of it makes one stop and wonder what it will be in a few years when the immense prairies get under cultivation. Heavy snowfall is the exception here. Snow generally falls in December and goes off in March. It sometimes gets very cold, but the Saskatchewan farmer does not fear the cold. Winter is his season of rest. The first or second crop he builds a comfortable house for himself, and warm stables for his horses. He need not, like some, be poking about in the mud all winter attending a few beasts for a livelihood."

A STRONG NAME.

"What's your name, messenger?"

"Samson, sir."

"Good! Just pop off with this box to the depot."

GOVERNMENT CAREY ACT OPENING OF IRRIGATED LAND.

MAY 6, the State of Wyoming Will Sell 100 Irrigated Farms at 50c per acre at Cooper Lake, Wyo., to those who have made applications for WATER RIGHTS NOW ON SALE at $5 per acre cash and $3 per acre annually for ten years. Free railroad fare, sleeping and dining car accommodations and FREE DEED to TWO TOWN LOTS to all applying BEFORE MAY 1. Applications and particulars furnished by TALLMADGE-BUNTIN LAND CO., Agents, Railway Exchange, Chicago. Agents wanted.

Unfortunate Expression.

That fruitful source of mirth, the mixed metaphor, is ever with us. It illustrates on almost every appearance the truth of the saying that the sublime and the ridiculous are but a step apart.

In a book on the laboring man, containing some excellent ideas, there appeared the following sentence:

"What manner of woman is she who would turn her eyes toward other things, which would become ashes on her very lips?"

The flippant answer is, of course, "A cross-eyed woman.—Youth's Companion.

The Grip of Spring.

During the last twenty years many of our citizens have been attacked in the spring months by grip. Some have had serious or slight attacks every year or two. All know it to be a dangerous disease. If Lane's Pleasant Tablets (which are sold at 25 cents a box by druggists and dealers) are taken when the first symptoms are felt, there is hardly a chance of the malady getting a foothold. If you cannot get them near home, send 25 cents to Orator F. Woodward, Le Roy, N. Y. Sample free.

Hubby's Argument.

Mrs. Hoyle—My husband declares that corsets are unhealthy; he insists that they shorten life.

Mrs. Doyle—Is that so?

Mrs. Hoyle—Yes; he says he knew of a man who lived to be 100 years old who never wore them.

No Luxuries.

"Why, you've got the grip, old man."

"I have not. I can't afford to quit work and go to bed. This is merely a darned bad cold."

Low Fares To Montana

Crop figures for 1908 prove that Montana is an excellent field for profitable farming. Secure a farm of your own there now.

Fertile land at reasonable prices. Homestead lands are still plentiful in Montana close to the new towns on the

Chicago Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railway

Low settlers' fares to Montana on March 23 and 30, and April 6, 13, 20 and 27.

$18.05 from Des Moines to Miles City, Forsyth, Musselshell and Roundup; $18.30 to Lavina; $18.75 to Harlowton; $19.20 to Moore; $19.30 to Lewistown. Low fares from and to other points on these dates.

Complete information, with new Montana folder free.

F. A. MILLER
General Passenger Agent
Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Ry.
Chicago

JUST DOUBLE

320 ACRES INSTEAD OF 160 ACRES

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

As further inducement to settlement of the wheat-raising lands of Western Canada, the Canadian Government has increased the area that may be taken by a homesteader to 320 acres—160 free and 160 to be purchased at $3.00 per acre. These lands are in the grain-raising area, where mixed farming is also carried on with unqualified success. A railway will shortly be built to Hudson Bay, bringing the world's markets a thousand miles nearer these wheat-fields, where schools and churches are convenient, climate excellent, railways close to all settlements, and local markets good.

"It would take time to assimilate the revelations that a visit to the great empire lying to the North of us unfolded at every turn."—Correspondence of a National Editor, who visited Western Canada in August, 1908.

Lands may also be purchased from railway and land companies at low prices and on easy terms.

For pamphlets, maps and information as to low railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

ALFALFA

Pronounced Absolutely Pure. No Weeds.
Largest growers of Clover, Timothy and Grasses, Oats, Barley and Potatoes in America.
EX. GOV. HOARD OF WISCONSIN, from 30 acres sown to Salzer's 20th Century Alfalfa, harvested within 24 weeks after seeding $2500.00 worth of magnificent hay, or at the rate of $83.33 per acre.

Salzer's Seed Catalogue Free
It's the most original seed book published and is gladly mailed to intending purchasers free. Or remit 10c and get lots of remarkable farm seed samples, including Alfalfa, Clover, etc., or send 14c and we add a package of Farm Seed never seen by you before.
JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LaCrosse, Wis.

6% QUARTERLY

We pay interest every three months at the rate of six per cent. yearly. Our investments are all in mortgages on New York City real estate. Twenty years' experience in New York real estate. Principal and interest guaranteed. Communications confidential. Write:

Liberty Financial & Security Co.,
CITY INVESTING BUILDING. NEW YORK CITY

Veterinary Taught By Mail

Complete course in Veterinary Medicine with examination and diploma in three months. When graduated you have a good paying profession in your own locality. The only college in the United States teaching Veterinary by mail. Send for prospectus. Students enrolled at any time. AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF VETERINARY SCIENCE, Chicago, Ill.

DEFIANCE STARCH easiest to work with and starches clothes nicest.

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of

—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING

HORSE SHOEING A

SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL

HELLO THERE

Where are you going? I'm going to H. Lau & Son. They handle all kinds of farm implements, Port Huron threshers also the Aultman & Taylor machinery, the 20 Century and Appleton manure spreader, McKinnon and Clinton wagons, Anchor and Velie buggies, Ohio and Kingman cultivators, stirring and gang plows, the open mould board sulky plows the lightest draft, Towers cultivators, Imperial and Challenge wind mills, hog fencing, barb wire, smooth wire gates, pumps and piping of all kinds, feed mills and the international gas engines from 1 to 40 H. P., Milwaukee mowers, binders, Dane hay loaders and buckers, nails and fence staples, wind mills and pump repairing on short notice, the sharpless cream separator the best made today, the Crack a-jack line of samples for tailor made suits.

H. Lau & Son.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

I often pass the Old Brick School house where my mother taught nearly 40 years ago There is also a stone school house near here where my mother and two of her brothers and a sister taught. Mr. A. B. Holbert of the Greeley Horse Importing Co was a pupil of my mother's as were also the brothers of Judge Benjamin Lwdsay of the Juveiule Court of Denver. On the road to Greeley is the Fountain spring Niell which is of stone, was built in 1855 and is still run partly by water power. Some of the land here has been farmed for over 60 years. Carl Wellemeyer.

KILLS WOULD BE SLAYER.

A merciless murderer is appendicitis with many victims. But Dr. King's New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis, curing constipation, biliousness, chills, malaria, headache and indigestion. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

J J. Stille	Garner
H. C. Lau	Klemme
F. Blackstone	Garner
Ben Billmyre	Klemme
Aug. Barz	"
Wm. Katter	Garner
J. G. Tanner	Goodell
Carl Wellemeyer,	Colesburg
F. H. Wellemeyer,	Charles City.
H. H. Ellsworth,	Britt
Isaac Sweigard,	Garner
A. J. Cleaves,	Garner
E. H. Bettin,	Klemme
H. N. Church,	"
Mrs. A. Bettin.	Charles City

NEAR DEATH IN BIG POND

It was a thrilling experience to Mrs. Ida Soper to face death. "For years a severe lung trouble gave me intense suffering" she writes, and several times nearly caused my death. All remedies failed and doctors said I was incurable. Then Dr. King's new discovery brought quick relief and a cure so permanent that I have not been troubled in twelve years. Mrs. Soper lives in Big Pond, Pa. It works wonders in coughs and colds, sore lungs, hemorrhages, lagrippe, asthma croup, whooping cough and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G A Fabst & Co.

Out of the Ordinary.

"I'm going to have some photographs taken, John," said the wife of his bosom the other morning. "Have you any preferences as to the position?"

"Well," rejoined the husband of his wife, "if you were to pose before the camera while in the act of sewing a button on my trousers it would make a picture that I could contemplate with pleasurable emotion."

Would Be Rise for Turkey.

Should the plan of Sir William Willcocks ever materialize—he proposes to irrigate the fertile plains of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers and make them as productive as they were when Babyon and Nineveh where at the height of their power—it is believed that Turkey would become one of the greatest cotton and grain countries in the world.

Economizing His Syllables.

"When I was in Mexico," said the commercial traveler, "I met an Italian who had the fashion of economizing on his words. Whenever he could he clipped them half in two. The result was often amusing.

"'How do you like the bull fights?' I asked him one day.

"'Me lika the bull fights,' he answered, 'but me no lika see bull suf.'"

Grammar.

Heine—"Und you svam to der intake crib? Dot vas a great foot!"

Jimmie—Ha, ha! You mean a great feat, Dutch.

Heine—A great feat? So you did it more as vonce?

Every Lady in the land should COME

And See!

The new goods and the new styles for Spring. Have a look whether you wish to buy or not.

New Worsted Suitings

In the most stylish colors—Olive Brown, Elephant shad also in Wine, in Grey and Navy Blue.

Fancy Dress Ginghams

We bought early in December and thus secured first choice of patterns.

We also were lucky enough to BUY A DROP in the market and are thus able to offer regular 15c ginghams at

Pure Linen Suiting—tan color @

96 New Shirt Waists

Were bought direct from a factory and are excellent values—all sizes at 95c to $4.50

New Petticoats by the Doze

Heatherbloom and Sateen at 95c to $3

New Belts New Rushings

New Neckwear New Oxfor

We Make Buttons

Trim your dress with cloth covered buttons. It's all the rage. Our BUTTON Machine makes all sizes, makes them to match your dress

Arthur Wellemeyer

Where your Dollar does its duty.

MILLINERY

We have received the Largest Stock of

SPRING MILLINERY

and are ready for opening.

Also Hair Goods, best Corsets, Shirt Waists Belts. Collars, Silks, Velvets going at Cut Prices. Please call and see the new trimmed hats.

We have a first-class trimmer who is sure to please.

MRS. J. JOSTE

Which CREAM SEPARATOR is Cheapest?

Clean Skim
Easy Run
Long We

Several catalogues houses are offering "just as good" cream separators for sale at a lower price than the U. S. Cream Separator sells for. But before the unfortunate purchaser of one of these "mail order" separators gets through paying the repair bills he finds that first cost isn't the only difference. The "cheap" separators soon get out of fix because they are built of cheap material, and loosely put together. The cost of repairs alone in the first y two would pay the difference in price between one of them and a But more important still they do not skim clean, they waste cre every skimming.

U. S. CREAM SEPARATOR

have stood the test of time. Many of them have been in use for 10 or more, and have cost their owners next to nothing for repairs. are easy running, skim cleaner than any others, have a simple, to-wash bowl; enclosed, safety gearing and a convenient, low milk See a U. S. Separator for yourself—that's the best way. They are s ELL BROS. Klemme.

Renew on the Klemme Time

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	50 to 54c
Oats	45 to 49c
Wheat	90 to 100
Barley	55 to60 c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.90
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

A tax ad for State Bank.

Change of ad for State Bank.

C. W. Stiehl was a Garner visitor Monday.

Mrs. Aug. Lau visited at Garner on Mon 'ay.

M. H. Thompson and wife returned from Wyomi.g, Iowa last week.

H Schroeder shipped his stock from the farm to Chicago last Sunday morning.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

Geo. Schroeder and family moved to Garner the first of this week. We are sorry to see them leave this community.

If you'd be dubbed a handsome girl
And win a handsome Knight,
The secret here I do impart,
Take Rocky Mountain Tea at night
G A Pabst & Co.

Quite a number have responded to our statements with renewals on subscription We hope to here from the balance of the list soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Klingberg of Elkader, arrived last week Friday for a visit with H. Ihde and family. Mrs. Klingberg is a sister of Mrs Ihde.

E. G. Ell and son visited over Sunday with his brother-in-law and family at Buffalo Center. His wife who has been visiting there before returned with him.

The new "Wonder Lamp" incandescent 100 candle power, cannot explode, 6 hours for 1c. Burns common kerosene. THE lamp for churches, schools, halls and homes. Write or see J. D. G. Houghton, Agent, Goodell, Iowa or Klemme. 31-3

Ben Swalve, wife and son Ben who have been visiting at Freeport, Ill. and other points for a few weeks, returned Wednesday. Ben says that there is no snow there but plenty of mud, and that that part of the state has had but very little snow this winter.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets, Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 8, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

Pay your taxes with State Bank.

Monday we received more snow.

Miss Meyer visited with relatives at Garner the first of this week.

Mrs. H. Mann and daughter Lucile were Garner visitors Wednesday.

J. W. Scott transacted business at Vinton, Iowa. He returned Monday.

Elmer Abbey and James Ryan of Garner, attended the dance here last week Friday evening.

Mrs. J. Gruetzmrcher and daughters Hulda and Esther were Garner visitors Wednesday.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

FOR SALE—On team for sale. 6 years old, weight 2500. Enquire of J. T. Griggs, Goodell. Iowa.

Mrs. Geo. Holmes who has been visiting Lew Lewis and family, left for Dodge Center, Minn. last week Friday.

A. B. Sawyer, our county treasurer of Garner and W. P. Chambers of Cowith transacted business here Wednesday.

Chas. Zwald, brother-in-law of Chas. Ax arrived from the western states for a visit· He left this week for Washington.

Bloom keeps all kinds of good seed oats, barley, buckwheet, clover, timothy, rape and milet. Yours for business at the South Elevator. tf

A spring tonic that makes rich, red blood. Brings strength, health and happiness to the whole family. Nothing equals Hollister's rocky mountain tea as a spring regulator. 36c. G A Pabst & Co.

The dance at the Opera House on last week Friday evening was fairly well attended. The Griesemer and Shipley orchestra rendered excellent music.

Don't wait until your blood is impoverished and you are sick and ailing but take Hollister's rocky mountain tea now. It will positively drive out all winter impurities. 35c, tea or tablets. G. A. Pabst & Co.

A large gathering of young people had a party at the residence of Geo. Schroeder and family on Tuesday evening. It was an enjoyable affair.

Mr. E. J. Schaefer returned from Kirksville, Mo. on Tuesday of this week. He has a good healthy appearance and speaks very highly of the climate and the hospital.

John and Geo. Waterman received the sad news last week Saturday that their father who lives at Luzerne, Iowa, was dangerously ill. The two brothers and their sister Mrs. Chas. Behrens of Garner left for there on Saturday and Monday. Later—He died on Sunday afternoon.

The changes of ads this week and new ones are:
State Savings Bank
H. Lau & Son
Art Wellemeyer
Mrs. J. Josten
Rock Island System
Ell Bros.
G. A. Pabst & Co.

IT SAVED HIS LEG.

All though I'd lose my leg writes J. A. Swenson. Watertown Wis., Ten years of eczema that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it sound and well." Infallible for skin eruptions, eczema, salt rheum. boils, fever sores, burns, scalds, cuts and piles, 25c at. G. A. Pabst & Co.

German M. E. Church Items

Lurena Wessel was home over Sunday returning Monday evening.

Alvina Gethman returned to her home in Gladbrood Tuesday evening after spending two weeks in our burg.

Elnora Koerner of Charles City, arrived last week and is calling on her many relatives in Klemme and Germantown.

Clara Luedeke has gone to Charles City where she is attending to the household duties for an uncle for the time being.

Six new members were added to the Epworth League in Germantown last Sunday evening. The League is steadily growing.

Carl Albrecht returned from his southern trip last Saturday. He is looking well and evidently enjoyed his journey in the sunny south.

Geo. Schneider of Ft. Atkinson, Wis. has bee i visiting his relatives the Schaefer's in Garner and Germantown for several weeks returning the forepart of this week.

It is not very often that an editor of a newspaper takes a preachers place but Klemme can boast of such an editor. That is he occupies the preachers house—not his pulpit.

John Brade moved onto one of W. F. Stille's farms in German township last Saturday. He is well and favorabie known among our farmers, having lived on the Wellemeyer place several years.

Many of our readers will be pained to hear that Mrs. Wm. Schaper of Garner were obliged to take their daughter Gladys to the hospital in Iowa City last Saturday where she is to be operated for appendicitis.

A number of Germantown people received a card from their former neighbor Carl Wellemeyer last week. It brought them the glad tidings that a son came last Sunday to gladden their home.

Mrs. John Fluhrer and two boys of Charles City arrived on the afternoon freight Monday to visit her relatives, but a tele gram was awaiting her calling her home to the bedside of a sick child. F. C. Griewe took them to Garner just in time to reach the east bound passanger.

Rev. and Mrs Wm. Berg arrived Saturday from New Mexico where they had gone about 18 months ago and taken up a claim. Last fall Mrs. Berg was stricken with a paraletic stroke which lamed her one side. As soon as she was able to stand the trip they started north. They are staying with Mother Schwichtenberg at present.

It becomes our sad duty to chronicle the death of little Elden Benjamin Schuldt, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Schuldt who died Wednesday noon. Though he had been seized with occasionly sick spells during the last month, the little fellow was growing fast and was a strong child for his age. Shortly before he died he went into spasams and the end came fast. It is a hard blow for the parents to loose their child so unexpected, Only those who have passed through a similar experience know how lonely the home is without these little ones. Just four short months his little life gave hope, cheer and sunshine to this home, which is now all the sadder for his having lived in it and departed, but a new relation has been established to the home beyond the skies. The funeral services will be held Fridry noon.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

Colesburg, Iowa, Mar. 17, '09.
Dear Klemme Times Readers—

I have planned every day for a month to address myself to you and tonight I shall discharge the obligation. It was on Jan. 23rd that our car arrived at Greeley. This town is located probably 8 miles from where we live. The road over which we travel to Greeley is the well known Elk Bottom Road. I doubt whether there is a more picturesque wagon road in the state of Iowa. Elk Creek flows trough a flat bottom rouging in width from 100 to 500 feet. On either side of the valley there is an irregular range of high wooded hills The creek is very winding as is also the diriction of the valey and the course of the wagon trail. The roads wind along the foot of the hills, first on one side of the stream, then on the other. There are a great many bridges along the way for the creek is crossed and recrossed many times. There are many small houses along the way, some built of logs showing how long the country has been settled. These houses are all occupied by the socalled Elk-Creekers, the second or third generation of whom are being reared on the same soil. The sole stock-in-trade of most thiese natives consists of a double bladad ax, and a cross-cut saw. A near by spring furnishes water, the cow browses wenter and summer on the hill side.

A patch of corn among the stumps furnishes corn for the pig; fuel is within easy reach and a true Elker never has more than a 12 hour supply ahead. It is contrary to the code to work as long as there is money on hand. But the store-keeper limits the credit to $5 00 and there are many mouths to feed so our timber jack is busy most of the winter getting out fuel and barn frames for his more prospercus farmer friends upon the hills And to do them justice they know the woods. A good man will know every tree in his employer's timber.

But enough of this. In some later letter, I may tell you what my impressions are of this country as a farming region. I can say, without fear of contradiction, that the quality of the horses produced here is of a high order. A cousin of mine by marriage sold one for $250.00 a few days ago. A man about 2 miles north of Colesburg refused $1000.00 for 4 horses last week.

Colesburg is an inland town. It is one of the cheapest towns in God's creation to trade in. The barber taxed me 25c for a hair cut and shave both. Taxes are low and, merchants dont have to hustle for trade as they do in a western town. Mail addressed to Colesburg, Dyersville, Route 22 or New Vienna, Route will reach us. The mail sent via Dyersville. It seems a stage takes it to New Vienna from Dyersville. Then our mail carrier starts out from N. Vienna. So the latter place is our more correct address.

(Continued to page 4)

Let us be your Tailor
THE AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS Co, Chicago, Illinois.
Manufacturers of fine woolens and wholesale custom tailors.
As Eastern Decoration Day is near at hand, I will give special bargains on suits that are purchased of us before that time.
I will be please to show you a beautiful line of samples. A fit, a beauty and a long wearing suit Your profit, my pleasure.
ELMER LUDEKE
Klemme - - - Iowa

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a new hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in.

Items for Travelers

Have you read the wonderful stories of success in the Gulf Coast Country of Texas? Send for our pamphlet.

$30 to $35 will take you to principal points in the Southwest and return. Tickets sold first and third Tuesdays of each month.

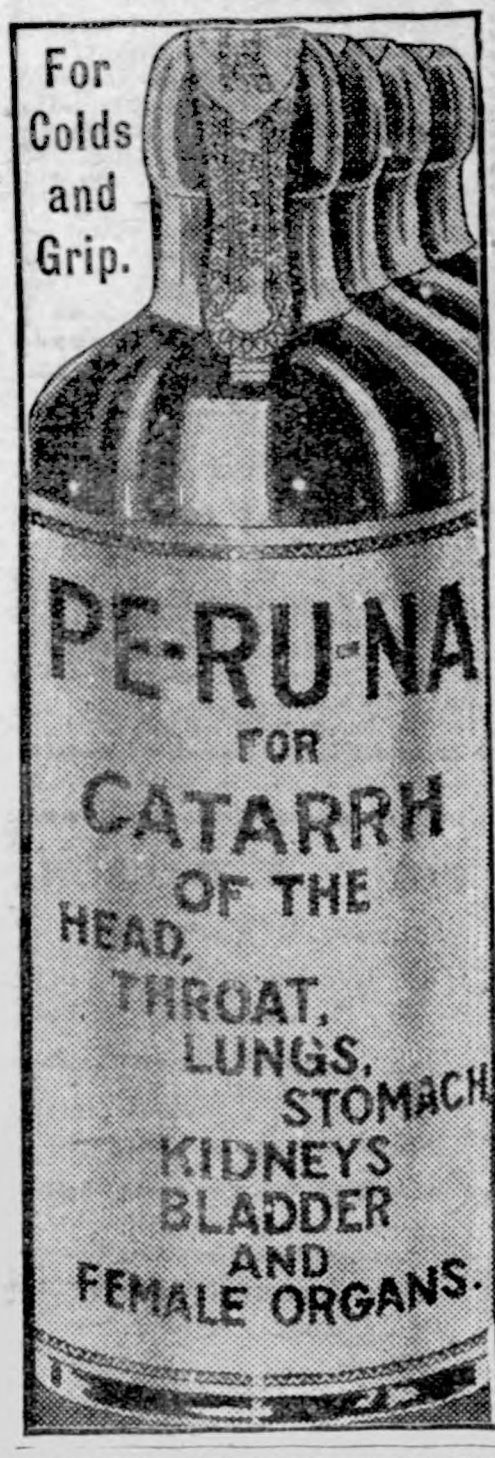
When traveling to and from Colorado use the best! "The Rocky Mountain Limited."

Hundreds of people are going to California on the Golden State Limited. Why not you?

Mr. Jno. G. Farmer, D. P. A., Cedar Rapids, will gladly inform you about any trip you may consider taking. Remember, I sell the tickets.

Rock Island

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa.



SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

CONSOLING.

Artist—Yes, my art is my fortune.

Model (cheerily)—Never mind. Poverty is no crime.

A Distinction.

She—I suppose your uncle didn't fail to remember you in his will?

He—It was scarcely a remembrance—more like a faint recollection.

Modern Improvements Wanted.

Charon was indignant.

"That spirit wants the ferry equipped with the wireless system," he snorted.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

If love wasn't blind Cupid would have a lot more work to do.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Some men haven't sense enough to do the best they can.

A Safe and Sure Cough Cure.

Kemp's Balsam

Does not contain Opium, Morphine, or any other narcotic or habit-forming drug.

Nothing of a poisonous or harmful character enters into its composition.

This clean and pure cough cure cures coughs that cannot be cured by any other medicine.

It has saved thousands from consumption.

It has saved thousands of lives.

A 25c. bottle contains 40 doses.

At all druggists', 25c., 50c. and $1.

Don't accept anything else.

SINGLE BOARD BILL

WHIPPLE MEASURE INDORSED BY UPPER HOUSE.

REGENTS DISPENSED WITH Representatives Who Formerly Opposed Plan Now Express Themselves For It.

Des Moines—With only nine opposing votes the Whipple bill, providing for a single board of educational control to handle the affairs of the three state educational institutions, passed the senate after a whole day had been spent in discussing it.

The bill was opposed by Senator De Wolf, Senator Moon, Senator Van Law and Senator Allen of Pocahontas. President H. H. Seerley of the state normal school at Cedar Falls sat with Senator De Wolf throughout the debate, and Senator Whipple referred often in his argument to the activity of the heads of the three state schools in their opposition to the bill.

The bill as passed by the senate provides for a board of education for the three state institutions, comprising nine members, with an additional finance committee consisting of three men, one residing at Ames, one at Iowa City and one at Cedar Falls. This board shall assume the duties that now devolve upon the board of regents of the state university, the board of trustees of the agricultural school and the board of trustees of the state normal school. Among the objects of the bill are the prevention of duplication in the courses of study, decreasing the number of members of the educational boards from thirty-two to twelve, and bringing about better business management.

Prohibition Endorsed.

Prohibition as a part of the state constitution was endorsed by the house of the Iowa legislature, after a two days' fight. With a vote of 68 yeas and 37 nayes the house endorsed the Meredith resolution for an amendment to the constitution providing that no ale, wine or beer shall be made or sold in the state of Iowa as a beverage.

The house fought desperately for and against the drastic resolution which is part of the close of the thirty years' war for prohibition in the state.

Various amendments were offered to weaken, strengthen and kill it, but the resolution resisted all attacks and also the one made to send it back to committee where it would have been safely imprisoned for the remainder of the session.

Every inch of space on the floor and in the galleries was crowded and the spectators exceeded those at any time except inaugurations. There was the wildest demonstrations in years when the amendment was declared to have passed.

Meredith Expected to Pass.

A motion to rerefer the Meredith resolution to the house judiciary committee was lost by a vote of 57 to 42, after the most intensely interesting debate of the session.

Interest has already shifted from the house to the senate, where those who fear another period of turmoil with the prohibition question uppermost are confident the resolution will be killed.

Representative Marston made the motion to rerefer, which was supported with arguments by Representative Harding. Mr. Harding's support failed to materialize and he was left to struggle against the strong resubmission forces almost alone. At one point in the discussion Respresentative Sullivan came to his aid.

Strong speeches against burying the resolution in the judiciary committee were made by Meredith, Inman, Elliott, Johnson, Hanson and Boe.

Son Forced to Pay for Parents' Keep.

Frank Hollis of Hamilton county, who refused to pay for the support of his aged parents in the poorhouse, where they were for 140 weeks, was ordered to foot the bill by the supreme court in a decision handed down on the appeal taken from the decision of Chief Justice W. D. Evans, who was then on the bench in the Elevanth judicial district.

The county supported the aged people, but sued the two sons for $980, which was awarded. It was from this the son appealed. Chief Justice Evans' decision was declared by the supreme court to be without any error, at a session in which the chief justice did not participate.

Labels on Lard Are Not Needed.

The supreme court holds that a dealer need not put a separate label on every small package of lard sold over the counter, if the barrel from which the product was taken was properly labeled. The court so decided in a Polk county case in which the state appealed.

Won't Call Special Election.

Governor Carroll will not order a special election in the Seventh district to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Senator W. D. Jamieson, who became congressman from the Eighth district March 4. He has had the matter up with Attorney General Byers, who gives it as his opinion that the statute is not mandatory.

Governor Carroll has taken the matter up by correspondence and personal interviews with leading politicians in the district and there appears to be an overwhelming opinion that an election should not be called.

Assuming that the legislature will not adjourn until the second week in April it would be impossible for the person elected to serve more than ten days or two weeks, the law providing that at least ten days' notice shall be given before the holding of the election. The expense would perhaps amount to something like $2.000 and in view of the short time that the person elected would have to serve it is deemed advisable not to call the special election.

"Comma" Bill Passed.

After a delay of two weeks because of a comma, the senate passed the Peterson bill allowing the fathers of former soldiers, sailors and marines admittance to the state soldiers' home at Marshalltown. This bill was passed by the senate a few weeks ago, but the grammatical construction didn't suit Representative Carl Johnson. He made an amendment, inserting a comma. Senator Peterson objected to the amendment and the senate refused to concur. The house would not back down and a conference committee was appointed, consisting of three members of each house. Senator Peterson, as chairman of the conference committee, submitted the report, which inserted the comma and made another little grammatical change. The senate adopted the amendment and now the bill goes to the house for its concurrence.

New Road Bill Passed.

Compulsory use of the King road drag is the object of two bills which were prepared by the highways committees of the Iowa house and senate. The house bill is not as definite in its provisions as is the senate bill, and the latter is regarded as having the better chance for passage. The senate bill is a combination of the best points in the bill introduced by Senators Chapman, Bruce and Nichols. It provides that township trustees must compel the use of the King drag on the country roads and shall have the authority to contract with farmers for the work, paying fifty cents per mile for dragging. All of the roads on which travel is general must be dragged, according to the bill, and city councils are compelled to drag the roads leading into the cities.

Library Funds Out.

Instead of an increase of $6,000 in the appropriation for the traveling library work of the state library department, the senate appropriations committee agreed to recommend an increase of $2,330, which will make a total appropriation of $10,000 for the work. The necessity of cutting down on the appropriation bills in general prompted the action of the committee and although the friends of the library are somewhat disappointed in failing to receive all they wanted, they are nevertheless glad that an increase in the allowance of the library department is to be made, and they expect to be able to show an increase in the efficiency of the traveling library that will in two years go far toward bringing about a further increase.

Hits Discrimination.

Striking at the big creamery companies, elevator concerns and buyers of poultry, who are accused of having put out of business hundreds of farmers' co-operative concerns during the last few years, the Cosson anti-discrimination bill was passed by the senate by a vote of 32 to 6. Opposition to the measure was offered by Senator Adams, who declared that such a law was useless and tended to a dangerous system of paternalism which is bad for the general welfare of the state. Senator Smith of Mitchell sided with Senator Adams against the bill, but after a thorough discussion of the measure and the addition of a few amendments to make the intent more clear, it received a majority vote.

Blow Aimed at Trusts By House.

Anti-trust legislation of the most radical type is sought in the Kull bill introduced into the house, in which corporations or persons dealing in lumber are restrained from combining to create a scale of prices. The bill makes all combinations of this sort of felony, either for one or two men in a town to combine, for larger districts.

THE BEST REMEDY

For Women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Noah, Ky. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from headaches, nervous prostration, and hemorrhages.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, so that I can do all my housework, and attend to the store and post-office, and I feel much younger than I really am.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most successful remedy for all kinds of female troubles, and I feel that I can never praise it enough." — MRS. LIZZIE HOLLAND, Noah, Ky.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

LIVE STOCK AND MISCELLANEOUS ELECTROTYPES
In great variety for sale at the lowest prices by A. N. KELLOGG NEWSPAPER CO., 72 W. Adams St., Chicago

DEFIANCE Cold Water Starch
makes laundry work a pleasure. 16 oz. pkg. 10c.

This Trade-mark Eliminates Uncertainty in the purchase of paint material. It is an absolute guarantee of purity and quality. For your protection see that it is on the label of every keg of white lead you buy.

NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY, 1902 Trinity Building, New York

BILLION $ GRASS
Costs 60c—90c per acre for seed.
Most wonderful grass of the century. Yields 5 to 10 tons of hay per acre and lots of pasture besides. It simply grows, grows, grows! Cattle like it and in 4 weeks it looks for the mower. Grows and so on. Grows and flourishes everywhere. Best farm in America. Cheap as dirt; luxuriates on bottom lands of Egypt. Big seed catalog free. Send 10c in stamps and receive sample of this wonderful grass, also of Spelz, the cereal wonder, Barley, Oats, Clovers, Grasses, etc., etc. Catalog free. Or send 14c and we will add a rare farm seed novelty never seen by you before.
SALZER SEED CO., Box W, La Crosse, Wis.

Readers of this paper desiring to buy anything advertised in its columns should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing substitutes or imitations.

LARGEST STATE BANK OF OKLAHOMA
Are you fully satisfied with your bank? Are you sure your life and home, why not insure your account? Deposits in this bank are insured by the guaranty fund of the State of Oklahoma.
4% interest paid on time deposits. Correspondence invited.
BANK OF OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.
C. F. Elerick, Pres. Fred Sutton, Cash.

TEXAS STATE LAND
Millions of acres of school land to be sold by State, $1.00 to $5.00 per acre; only one-fortieth cash and 40 years time on balance; three per cent interest; only $12.00 cash for 160 acres at Slaton. Greatest opportunity; good agricultural land. 50 cents for Book of Instructions and New Map. J. J. Snyder, School Land Locator, Box 1, Austin, Tex. Reference, Austin National Bank.

GOOD CORN AND ALFALFA LAND
at Twenty-five to Forty dollars per acre in the Garden spot of Oklahoma, Kay and Noble Counties. For information write:
CARSON & SON, PONCA CITY, OKLA.

WE PAY 7% Write us if you have money to invest.
Wm. McKinley, Pres., Marbesney Bldg., Fla.

Take no substitute or just as good. A-B-C LINIMENT. Get what you ask for.

100 TRANSPLANTED EVERGREENS
(50 Express Prepaid $6)

These trees have been twice transplanted and twice root-pruned, which gives them the large abundance of roots necessary to the life of the tree. They are backed by the fairest guarantee of any nursery in the U. S. and the reputation of

Iowa's Greatest Evergreen Specialist for Forty Years

These trees are from 1 1-2 feet to 2 feet in height and first class in every way. Our other special bargains, backed by our guarantee, will surely please you. Write for special bargain sheet and guarantee. 3-year-old apple trees, $10 per hundred.

Bristow Nursery Co., 134 West 5th St., Hampton, Iowa

5 Acre Florida Celery Farms $75
$10 down; $5 monthly, no interest. At Kalamazoo, Fla., near Sanford. Crops rotate all year round. Average yield, per acre, Sanford district: Celery, $600 to $1,500; Tomatoes, $600; String Beans, $300 to $1,000; Potatoes, $210. Grown for winter-spring markets of frozen north. Ideal climate. Our tract limited. Increased value certain within 60 days. Reserve now to secure to-day's price. Deduct 10% for cash. Secure for occupation or holding as investment. Perfect title. Reference: Union Savings Bank, Jacksonville, Fla.
FLORIDA DEVELOPING CO., Duval Bldg., Jacksonville, Fla.

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic, Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fever

Sure cure and positive preventive, no matter how horses at any age are "exposed." Liquid, given on the tongue; acts on the Blood and Glands, expels poisonous germs from the body. Cures Distemper in Dogs and Sheep and Poultry. Largest selling live stock remedy. Cures La Grippe among horses and is a fine Kidney remedy. 50c and $1 a bottle, $5 and $10 a dozen. Cut this out. Show to your druggist, who will get it for you. Free Booklet, "Distemper and Cures." Special agents wanted.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOES $3.50

The Reason I Make and Sell More Men's $3.00 & $3.50 Shoes Than Any Other Manufacturer is because I give the wearer the benefit of the most complete organization of trained experts and skilled shoemakers in the country. The selection of the leathers for each part of the shoe and every detail of the making in every department, is looked after by the best shoemakers in the shoe industry. If I could show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make. My Method of Tanning the Soles makes them More Flexible and Longer Wearing than any others.

Shoes for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses and Children.

For sale by shoe dealers everywhere.

CAUTION! None genuine without W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom.

Fast Color Eyelets Used Exclusively. Catalog mailed free.

W. L. DOUGLAS, 167 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

The difference

remember this—

it may save your life. Cathartics, bird shot and cannon ball pills—tea spoon doses of cathartic medicines all depend on irritation of the bowels until they sweat enough to move. Cascarets strengthen the bowel muscles so they creep and crawl naturally. This means a cure and only through Cascarets can you get it quickly and naturally.

Cascarets—10c box—week's treatment. All druggists. Biggest seller in the world—million boxes a month. 880

Paxtine
TOILET ANTISEPTIC
—NOTHING LIKE IT FOR—

THE TEETH Paxtine excels any tooth paste in cleansing, whitening, removing tartar from the teeth, besides it destroys all germs of decay and disease which ordinary tooth preparations cannot do.

THE MOUTH Paxtine used as a gargle or wash disinfects the mouth and throat, purifies the breath, and kills the germs which collect in the mouth, causing sore gums, bad teeth, bad breath, grippe, and much sickness.

THE EYES when inflamed, sore, weak and burn, may be quickly relieved and strengthened by Paxtine.

CATARRH Paxtine will destroy the germs that cause catarrh, relieve inflammation and stop the discharge. Best remedy for uterine catarrh.

Paxtine is a harmless yet powerful germicide, disinfectant and deodorizer. Used in bathing it destroys odors and leaves the body antiseptically clean.

FOR SALE AT DRUG STORES, 50c. OR POSTPAID BY MAIL.

LARGE SAMPLE FREE!

THE PAXTON TOILET CO. BOSTON, MASS.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

REPORT SEA FIGHT

MEXICO HEARS SALVADOR AND NICARAGUA ARE AT WAR.

GUNBOATS IN A BATTLE

Diplomatic Relations Broken Off with Zelaya's Country by the United States After Recall of Envoy.

Mexico City.—Ships of Nicaragua and Salvador met in battle Tuesday and it is believed a second clash followed Thursday or Friday.

Three Nicaraguan gunboats, led by the Momotombo, attacked the Salvadoran gunboat Presidente. The latter by a lucky shot put the Momotombo out of action almost at the beginning of the engagement. The three Nicaraguans then withdrew. Later the Momotombo was repaired and went in pursuit of the Presidente.

No word having been received from the Mexican representative in Nicaragua it is thought the cable has been cut.

Washington.—Owing to the continued disturbed conditions in Nicaragua and President Zelaya's failure to make serious efforts looking to the settlement of the Emery claim the state department Friday, by withdrawing Mr. Gregory, the American charge at Managua, and ordering the legation placed in the hands of the consul, who will have no diplomatic capacity, practically broke off diplomatic relations with that country.

Affairs in Central America have been closely watched by the American and Mexican governments, both of which have now come to an understanding that the time has arrived when drastic measures should be enforced to insure peace in the Central American republics.

Ambassador La Barra of Mexico spent some time at the state department in conference with Assistant Secretary Wilson, and the determination was reached that if the American warships now in Nicaraguan waters and those to be sent there are not sufficient to impress President Zelaya that the treaty of peace entered into between the Central American republics is not to be lived up to more radical steps would be taken to accomplish that result. The impression was given that if need be intervention would be resorted to.

The governments of the United States and Mexico, it was stated, are in full accord as to the policy to be pursued toward Nicaragua, and are now anticipating Zelaya's further moves.

So far as could be ascertained no official information has been received here of a reported naval engagement between gunboats of Nicaragua and Salvador. As bearing on affairs in Nicaragua the following statement was obtained from official sources:

"Under telegraphic orders issued by the navy department an armored cruiser will remain upon the west coast of Nicaragua pending the arrival of the Yorktown, to take that and indefinitely, and the Dubuque and Tacoma are proceeding to cruise on the Atlantic coast of Nicaragua and the neighborhood of Honduras.

The situation at Managua is becoming such that the department has now ordered Mr. Gregory, the charge d'affaires, to return home upon leave of absence, to make a report to the department upon the situation, the legation remaining in charge of the consul, who will have no diplomatic capacity."

M'KINLEY DEATH COST $42,517.

Government Paid Dr. Mann $10,000 and Used $2,033 for Telegrams.

Washington. — After carefully guarding for more than seven years the facts as to the government's expenditures incident to the last illness and burial of President McKinley, the treasury officials Wednesday made a statement covering all of the items of expenditure under the appropriation of $65,000 for this purpose, made by Congress on July 1, 1902. Some of the items follow:

Dr. M. D. Mann, $10,000; Dr. H. Hunter, $6,000; Dr. C. McBurney, $5,000; Dr. Roswell Park, $5,000; Dr. C. Stockton, $1,500; Dr. E. G. Janeway, $500; Dr. H. C. Matzinger, $750; Drs. W. Johnston, E. W. Lee and H. R. Wylord, $500 each; Dr. N. W. Wilson, $50; Dr. G. McR. Hall and Dr. E. C. Mann, $200 each. Undertakers—Drugard & Koch, $2,104.15, and McCrea & Arnold, $223. Western Union Telegraph Company, $1,593.61; Postal Telegraph Cable Company, $440.27.

Bryan's Daughter Gets Divorce.

Lincoln, Neb.—Ruth Bryan-Leavitt, eldest daughter of William J. Bryan, was granted a divorce Tuesday from John H. Leavitt.

Mrs. Leavitt and her mother appeared in the court of Judge Cornish, and both alleged that Leavitt had not contributed to the support of his wife. There was no defense. Mrs. Leavitt was granted the custody of the two children.

INHERITED KIDNEY TROUBLE.

Could Feel It Constantly Gaining Ground as Time Passed.

Mrs. Frank Roseboom, 512 W. Washington St., Moscow, Idaho, says: "Kidney trouble was hereditary, and my parents spent hundreds of dollars trying to cure me. I was nervous, my eyesight had failed noticeably, my circulation was bad, sleep fitful, heart action irregular, and my back so weak and painful I could hardly stand it. There was also an irregularity of the kidney secretions and a cold always made the whole trouble worse. I could tell many other symptoms, too, but shall only add that Doan's Kidney Pills made me free of all of them."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Trouble.

A maidservant in the employ of a Brooklyn woman was left the other day in charge of the children while her mistress went for a long drive.

"Well, Mary," asked the lady, on her return, "how did the children behave during my absence? Nicely, I hope."

"Nicely, ma'am," Mary answered, "but at the end they fought terribly together."

"Fight! Mercy me! why did they fight?"

"To decide," said Mary, "which was behaving the best."—Harper's Weekly.

Wanted Longer Sermons.

It was a proud boast one clergyman made to two or three others who were having a quiet chat in his study the other night—namely, that he had actually on one occasion been asked to make his service, both prayers and sermon, a bit longer.

His brethren regarded him with superstitious awe, and one asked, feebly:

"Where on earth was that?"

"Well, boys," was the frank confession, "it was with a goal where I acted as chaplain for a short time. The poor beggars dreaded to leave the church for their cells."

Second Thought.

"It cannot be," sighed the maid. "I respect you highly, Mr. Hunter, but we are incompatible."

"Well, I suppose it cannot be helped," the young man replied, pocketing his chagrin and looking about for his hat. "But it defeats all my cherished hopes. I had planned a house, in which I fondly imagined we might be happy. It was to have had a pantry twice as large as the ordinary size, with a roomy closet in which to stow away the new cooking utensils, and things that a woman naturally buys when a peddler comes around."

"Stay, George," she said falteringly. "perhaps I have been too hasty. Give me a day or two to think it over. It is not impossible that—that—"

Easy.

Once there was an old woman who lived in a shoe. She had so many children that at first she didn't know what to do.

A friend of the family who happened to come along just then, however, made the following suggestions:

To put one of them in a factory.

To have a couple more operated on and otherwise fussed over by the doctors.

To put a couple of them in a coal mine.

To send one to a modern public school.

To bring up another on a pure food diet.

Which no sooner having been carried into effect than the old woman settled down to a life of ease and loneliness.—New York Herald.

DIDN'T REALIZE

How Injurious Coffee Really Was.

Many persons go on drinking coffee year after year without realizing that it is the cause of many obscure but persistent ailments.

The drug—caffeine—in coffee and tea, is very like uric acid and is often the cause of rheumatic attacks which, when coffee is used habitually, become chronic.

A Washington lady said, recently: "I am sixty-five and have had a good deal of experience with coffee. I consider it very injurious and the cause of many diseases. I am sure it causes decay of teeth in children.

"When I drank coffee I had sick spells and still did not realize that coffee could be so harmful, till about a year ago I had rheumatism in my arms and fingers, got so nervous I could not sleep, and was all run down.

"At last, after finding that medicines did me no good, I decided to quit coffee entirely and try Postum. After using it six months I fully recovered my health beyond all expectations, can sleep, sound and my rheumatism is all gone." "There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

A CURE FOR FITS.

The Treatment Is to Accomplish What Science Has Been Struggling to Attain for Centuries.

The intense interest that has been manifested throughout the country by the wonderful cures that are being accomplished daily by epilepticide still continues. It is really surprising the vast number of people who have already been cured of fits and nervousness. In order that everybody may have a chance to test the medicine, large trial bottles, valuable literature, History of Epilepsy and testimonials, will be sent by mail absolutely free to all who write to the Dr. May Laboratory, 548 Pearl Street, New York City.

ATTENUATED.

He—See, Samantha, that shows how terribly thin some folks are.

CUTICURA CURED HIM.

Eczema Came on Legs and Ankles—Could Not Wear Shoes Because Of Bad Scaling and Itching.

"I have been successfully cured of dry eczema. I was inspecting the removal of noxious weeds from the edge of a river and was constantly in the dust from the weeds. At night I cleansed my limbs but felt a prickly sensation. I paid no attention to it for two years but I noticed a scum on my legs like fish scales. I did not attend to it until it came to be too itchy and sore and began getting two running sores. My ankles were all sore and scabby and I could not wear shoes. I had to use carpet and felt slippers for weeks. I got a cake of the Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Ointment. In less than ten days I could put on my boots and in less than three weeks I was free from the confounded itching. Capt. George P. Bliss, Chief of Police, Morris, Manitoba, Mar. 20, 1907, and Sept. 24, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

A Tabloid Fable.

A man once collided with an opportunity.

"Why don't you look where you are going?" growled the man.

"Don't you recognize me?" asked the opportunity, pleasantly.

"No, and I don't care to. You have trodden on my corns," replied the man as he limped away.

Moral: Don't believe the people who say they have never had a chance. —New York Times.

STATE OF OHIO CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY. }

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 6th day of December, A. D., 1886.

{ SEAL }

A. W. GLEASON,
NOTARY PUBLIC.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Triplets Live to Sixty.

News has reached Trowbridge of triplets born in that town who have lived to celebrate their sixtieth birthday. They are Mr. Aaron Albert White, Mr. Moses Henry White, and Mrs. Miriam Lenorah Lewis. The three emigrated to Australia many years ago, and all are in excellent health.—London Mail.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.

The Rightful User.

Knicker—Why did you discharge your chauffeur?

Bocker—He persisted in taking his friends out when the cook wanted the auto.

Pettit's Eye Salve 100 Years Old, relieves tired eyes, quickly cures eye aches, inflamed, sore, watery or ulcerated eyes. All druggists or Howard Bros. Buffalo, N.Y.

It's not difficult to judge some men by their clothes—policemen and letter carriers, for example.

"Brown's Bronchial Troches" relieve Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh and Throat Diseases. 25 cents a box. Samples sent free by John I. Brown & Son, Boston, Mass.

It's the easiest thing in the world to point out the proper course for others to pursue.

You will respond very quickly to the Garfield Tea treatment, for this Natural laxative corrects constipation, purifies the blood, and benefits the entire system.

The dentist is invited to attend many a swell gathering.

20 Per Cent Saved

A saving of 20 per cent is a considerable item—one-fifth—it is big interest on your money.

100,000 families have found that they can cut their fuel bills 20 per cent and they are doing it every year.

Not only do they make this saving, but they save time, worry, strength and health by using the ideal fuel—Milwaukee Solvay Coke. This is a combustible, made by the patented Solvay process which removes practically all elements from the mixture of coals from which it is made, except the heat element.

It is a concentrated fuel.

MILWAUKEE Solvay Coke

The housewife enjoys it because it is clean—easy to handle—light in weight and because it is always dependable whether used in cook stove, heater or furnace.

There are no ashes to sift—no clinkers to remove—a quick, hot fire can be obtained in a few moments and kept as long as desired.

Taking advantage of its favorable reputation, unscrupulous fuel dealers have been offering inferior cokes stating that they were made by practically the same process as Milwaukee Solvay Coke. In some cases they have offered these cheap imitations as Milwaukee Solvay itself.

Buyers should insist upon having the genuine.

2,000 dealers in the Northwest sell Milwaukee Solvay Coke—all sizes—ask your dealer, and write for interesting booklet of coke information to

PICKANDS, BROWN & COMPANY
Colby-Abbott Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

YOUR OVERWHELMING DESIRE—For Seattle

To EVERYONE as he comes to the realization of what Seattle IS and IS TO BE, there is sure to come an overwhelming desire to possess, for himself and his offspring, some share in the perpetual and ever-spreading wealth of this Queen City of the Northwest Empire. No other "share" that man may choose, will participate so fundamentally and inevitably in the ever-increasing volume of piling wealth as the ownership of some portion, however small, of Seattle's Central Business Property.

The ground-value increment of this marvelously progressive, growing city is an inevitable fortune builder; these business property rents, of at least 6% per annum, are as sure and regular as a government tax. Non-taxable OWNERSHIP of definitely measured UNITS of the most prominent central business property in Seattle may now be had in multiples of hundreds or of thousands. You get both rent and ground-value growth. Look into this matter when you come to the "A.-Y.-P." this summer, but let me send you some facts beforehand. FRANK T. HUNTER, President,

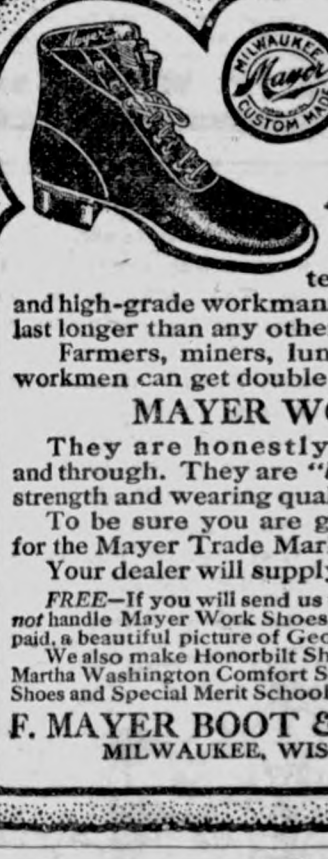
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.



Mayer

WORK SHOES

Tough stock, heavy soles, solid counters, double leather toes, double seams and high-grade workmanship are what make Mayer Work Shoes last longer than any other kind.

Farmers, miners, lumbermen, mechanics and all classes of workmen can get double the wear out of

MAYER WORK SHOES

They are honestly made—solid through and through. They are "built on honor." Their strength and wearing qualities cannot be equalled.

To be sure you are getting the genuine, look for the Mayer Trade Mark on the sole.

Your dealer will supply you; if not, write to us.

FREE—If you will send us the name of a dealer who does not handle Mayer Work Shoes, we will send you free, postpaid, a beautiful picture of George Washington, size 15x20.

We also make Honorbilt Shoes, Leading Lady Shoes, Martha Washington Comfort Shoes, Yerma Cushion Shoes and Special Merit School Shoes.

F. MAYER BOOT & SHOE CO.
MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN

For Lameness in Horses

Much of the chronic lameness in horses is due to neglect. See that your horse is not allowed to go lame. Keep Sloan's Liniment on hand and apply at the first signs of stiffness. It's wonderfully penetrating—goes right to the spot—relieves the soreness — limbers up the joints and makes the muscles elastic and pliant.

Sloan's Liniment

will kill a spavin, curb or splint, reduce wind puffs and swollen joints, and is a sure and speedy remedy for fistula, sweeney, founder and thrush. Price, 50c. and $1.00.

Dr. Earl S. Sloan, - - Boston, Mass.

Sloan's book on horses, cattle, sheep and poultry sent free.

PISO'S CURE

25 cts. 25 cts.

A HEART-BREAKING COUGH

is dreadful to suffer and despairing to hear. Why threaten the health of your lungs and the peace of your family when you can obtain immediate relief from Piso's Cure? Remarkable results follow the first dose. Taken regularly it soothes and heals the lacerated tissues, loosens the clogging phlegm and stops the cough. Pleasant to the taste and free from opiates. Children enjoy taking it. For throat and lung diseases, no matter how far advanced,

PISO'S CURE IS INCOMPARABLE

Just Dust it on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS
WITH Dr. King's New Discovery
FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

486 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
485 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

A Complete Defense.

An Irish woman was accused of having stolen an iron soap kettle and cracked it, so that its usefulness was ended.

Her defense, when brought before the judge, was as follows: "Oi have witnesses here, yer honor, t' prove, first, that Oi niver had th' kittle in me possession; second, that Oi returned it t' Mrs. Casey widout a crack in it; and, third, that th' old kittle was cracked whin Oi s'hole it."

MOST LIKELY.

"Who was the fellow who went around with a lantern looking for an honest man?"

"I don't know; but if he were to try it to-day somebody would steal his lantern!"

True Genius.

"Your daughter has genius, Mr. Straighout."

"Nonsense! She can't sing, nor she can't play!"

"No. But she knows it."

The Worst.

Young Wife (whose elderly husband is desperately ill)—Doctor, do not keep me in suspense! Tell me the worst!

Doctor—Then, madam, listen! He will get well!

New Decorative Idea.

The hostess who wishes something different is asked to try using striped and fancy grasses, rushes and little wild foliage plants that grow in damp places and along streams. A table can be made very pretty with these, using no flowers. Try it.

The Colonel's Leg in History.

Col. Blank, who later called himself general, received, in a little skirmish of the Civil war, a slight scratch on the leg. In the days afterward he nursed his glorious wound with loving care and grew lamer year by year that the memory of his bravery might be ever fresh.

When grown old, as he sat one day caring for his leg and musing on the glorious past, a young man, a stranger visiting the family for a few days, approached him and inquired, sympathetically:

"Lame, general?"

"Yes, young man, I am lame."

"Been riding, sir?"

"No, sir," sternly and rebukingly, "I have not been riding."

"Ah, slipped on the ice, general?"

"No, sir!" with actual ferocity.

"Then, perhaps, sir, you have sprained your ankle?"

The old man slowly and carefully lifted his pet leg in both hands and tenderly set his foot upon the floor. Then he slowly rose from his seat and stood looking down with scornful pity at the unlucky youth. At last, in the sublimity of rage, he burst out:

"Go and read the history of your country, you puppy!"

How He Hunted Bear.

A New York Irishman was visiting a friend in the Adirondacks and was taken with a desire to go hunting. Borrowing a gun from his friend he set off alone in search of game. Some time after his host heard a distant report of a gun. A few minutes later he heard some one shouting. From a window he spied, in the distance, his friend, hot-footing it for home, and behind him a bear, gaining at every step. Nearly spent, the pursued reached the door just in time to cry out:

"Quick, Mike! Quick! Open the door! I'm bringing him home aloive!"

Good Old Stock.

"Have ye anny ancisters, Mrs. Kelly?" asked Mrs. O'Brien.

"An' what's ancisters?"

"Why, people you shprung from."

"Listen to me, Mrs. O'Brien," said Mrs. Kelly, impressively. "I come from the rale stock of Donahues, thot shpring from nobody. They shpring at thim!"

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOW

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Five days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men. The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book full explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

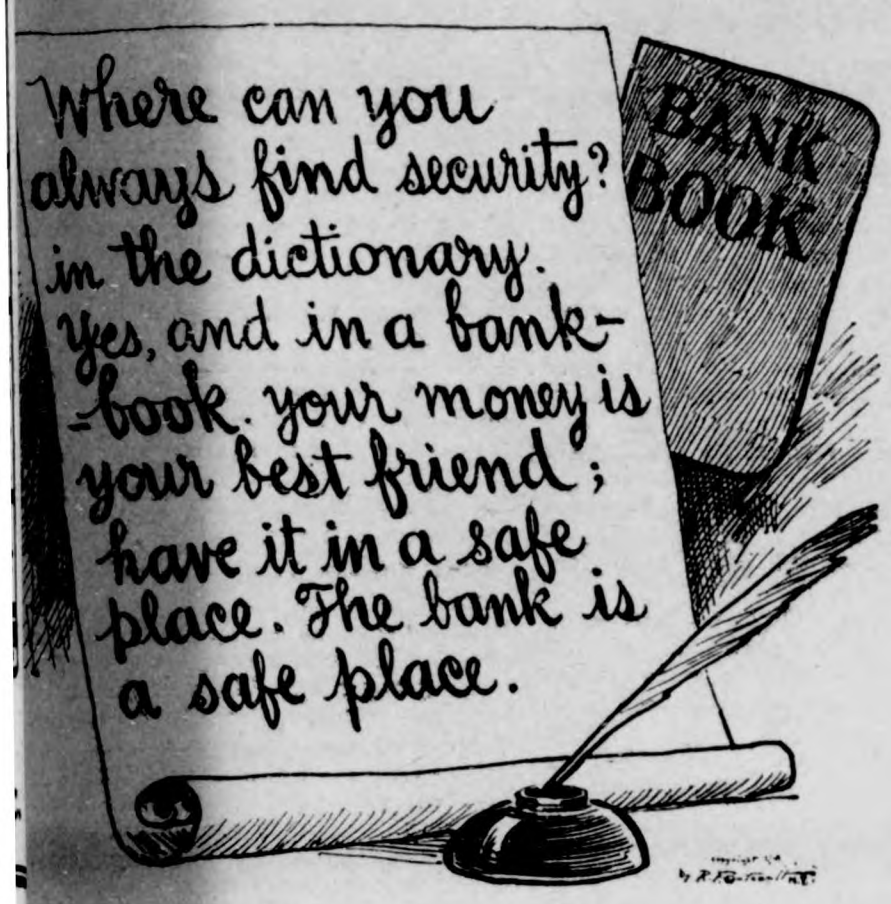
BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application. Full description of above diseases, effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR
THE TIMES
$1,00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 34 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, MAR. 25, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE



DO NOT FORGET THAT April 1st will soon on hand and your taxes must be paid. We will be re than pleased to do this little service of paying your es for you and will not charge you for this service. We are also in position to give you the best terms on m loans and insurance. See us before you buying r insurance and secure our terms upon farm loans be- e going elsewhere.

State Savings Bank.

nme - - Iowa

orth Elevator

—FOR—

Seeds! Seeds! Seeds!

Medium Red Clover
Mammoth Red Clover
Alsike Clover
Timothy—extra fancy

My seeds comply with the Iowa Pure Seed Laws.

☞ Place your orders now—my prices are right.

hest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

roceries Boots Shoes | Ladies and Gents Furnishings | Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

L IN J.W.WATERMAN

WILL SPEND TIME IN KITCHEN.

Interview with Cook Led to Woman's Change of Heart.

"I had an interview with my cook to-day which has made me rather thoughtful," said a prominent club woman and philanthropist. "Some time ago I engaged a very capable woman as cook, but since I engaged her it has happened that I have been away from home a good deal, attending meetings of various organizations in which I am interested. My communications with the cook, therefore, have been confined to hurried conversations through speaking tube or messages transmitted through the housemaid. To-day, however, something she served not being to my liking, I thought it time to let her know I was the mistress of the house, and I went down stairs to interview her.

"'And who may you be?' she demanded, standing with arms akimbo as she eyed me from head to foot.

"'Why, I am the mistress of the house—the person who engaged you,' I replied, somewhat taken aback.

"'Oh, sure, so ye are, but I've never seen ye from that day to this and I'd forgot what ye looked like. Now, don't ye think, ma'am,' she continued, 'if ye want things run to suit ye ye'd better visit your kitchen a little oftener?'

"And I've come to the conclusion she was right," said the club woman. "I think it behooves me to resign a few of my public duties that I may spend more time in private life—in my kitchen."

HIS LUCK CHANGED BY TIME.

At Last Butcher Saw Where Hoodoo Was Leaving Him.

A butcher in a small way of business was in the habit of sending his son out with a small trap to deliver orders.

The lad was a careless driver, and one day he knocked down an old lady.

The inevitable lawsuit followed, and the butcher had to pay heavy damages.

Shortly after this the son was the cause of another accident which had a similar unfortunate result, and the drain on the butcher's resources brought him to the verge of ruin.

A few days after the second case had been settled, he was sitting in his shop thinking over his hard fate when a neighbor came rushing in breathless with the information that the butcher's wife had been run over by the careless driver of a private carriage and was lying in the hospital with a crushed leg.

"Thank goodness," exclaimed the butcher, as if greatly relieved; "my luck's changed at last!"

Apples for Advertising.

The Commercial club of North Yakima has decided on the plans for an active 1909 campaign for publicity. The governing board has issued an official call for six carloads of red apples to be sent out on a mission of advertising. The fruits are to be shipped to New York city, Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington, Boston and other large market centers and displayed in various ways, in order to show the possibilities of the country and open new markets for the fruits. Growers are to receive $2.50 a box for all apples accepted. It is estimated that the cars will contain 630 boxes each, and the first cost of getting the exhibit in shape for inspection will approximate $10,000.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

AN IDEAL COUGH MEDICINE.

As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's cough remedy in a class by itself, says Dr. R A Wiltshire of Gwynneville, Ind. I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's cough medicine. In fact I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children As it contains no opium, chloroform or morphine it certainly makes a most safe pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended. For sale by G. A. Pabst & Co.

All Taxes become due and a lien after Jan. 1st a penalty of one cent per month attaches after April 1st. If first installment of tax is paid before April 1st balance can run until October 1st before penalty attaches. We have tax lists of German, Elk Avery and Twin Lake townships and the town of Klemme. We make no charge for paying taxes.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

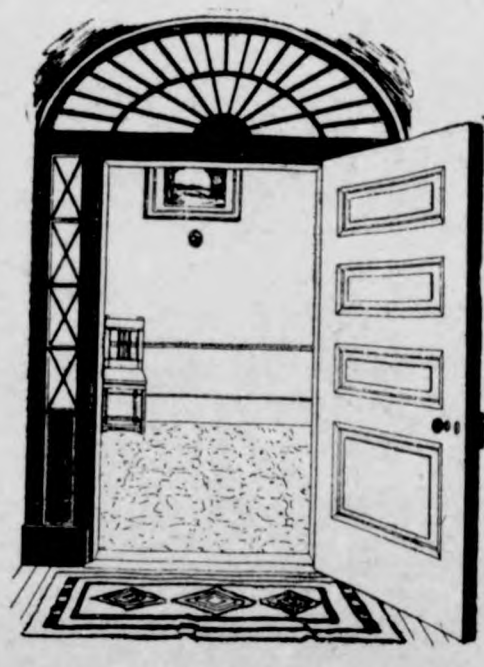
Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa



As You Enter a Beautiful Home You Admire First

The Decorative Treatment.

Here are new Wall Papers that will help you to make your house more beautiful.

Elegant Shades suituble for kitchen that show neither dust or smoke.

10c UP

Nobby dining and sitting room patterns with drop ceiling effect, also fruit patterns.

15c UP

Parlor paper latest designs.

20c UP

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

JURY SAYS "GUILTY"

COOPERS CONVICTED FOR THE KILLING OF CARMACK.

SENTENCED TO TWENTY YEARS

Verdict Was Returned After Prolonged Struggle for Many Hours in Jury Room.

Nashville, Tenn.,—Guilty of murder in the second degree with twenty years imprisonment as the penalty was the verdict of the jury in the case against Colonel Duncan B. Cooper and his son Robin Cooper charged with the murder of former United States Senator E. W. Carmack.

The jury acquitted John D. Sharp, a co-defendant.

State Mistrial.

Immediately the defense moved to set aside the verdict because of the disagreement and asked the court to declare it a mistrial.

Judge Hart said he would listen to arguments on this motion later. He then fixed the defendants' bonds at $25,000 each, which amount was acceptable to both sides.

Verdict a Surprise.

The verdict, coming as it did upon the heels of Foreman Burke's declaration "that we are hoplessly tied up as to the Coopers" was a decided surprise.

The defendants took it coolly—almost without emotion. Mrs. Burch and Mrs. Wilson, the young daughters of Colonel Cooper, were brave and aside from tearful eyes, restrained their emotion gamely. Mrs. Burch sat with her arm around her brother Robin's shoulder and Mrs. Wilson was at her father's right. The suspense for the two young women had been heart-rending, and any verdict, however, unfavorable, was a relief.

Jurors Hurry Away.

The jurors looked tired and disheveled and when the court remarked: "I thank you, gentlemen, for your patience and devotion to the state and dismiss you to your homes and your personal avocations," the entire twelve sprang from their seats as one man and hurriedly left the court room. The defendants and their counsel remained to complete the bond preliminaries and motions for a new trial.

Missouri Fights Railroads.

Jefferson City, Mo.—Bills backed by Governor Hadley and Attorney General Mayor and intended to meet the threatened move of the railroads to restore the 3-cent passenger fare rate were the most important of a large number of measures presented to the legislature on the last day for the introduction of bills. There were three administration railroad bills introduced. One gives the railroad commissioners of the state power to regulate passenger rates, which power will be extended to the public utilities commission if such a body is created. Another bill seeks to prevent railroads from owning and operating coal mines in competition with persons or firms not connected with railroads as the third would, if passed, prevent railroads from making discriminating rates at terminal points in order to meet competition from roads with shorter lines.

Deadly Fight on a Train.

Clarendon, Texas.—An unidentified man is dead and Floyd Autrey, of Fort Worth is dying as the results of a three-cornered fight with revolvers on a Fort Worth & Denver train near Giles, Texas. That Autrey and his cousin, Fred Garrett, of Fort Worth, killed a third participant in the fight and threw the body out of a coach window is indicated by the finding of a body near Estelline bridge later by the police.

Fire in a Penitentiary.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Fire in the laundry house of the Western Pennsylvania penitentiary partially destroyed the building and valuable contents. On the verge of a panic 650 prisoners half the population of the penitentiary were marshaled together in the dining room and marched to their cells A general alarm sent a force of armed guards to the walls and no attempts to escape were made.

Kills Friend Who Stole His Wife.

Fort Worth, Texas.—Fred Morris, in jail here, admits that he deliberately shot and killed Otto H. Meyer, his former friend. He declares that Meyer knew his death sentence had been pronounced and that he unflinchingly accepted his fate. The shooting followed a confession written and signed by Meyer, that he had won the love of Mrs Morris.

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth

Dates Named for Camps.

Des Moines.—Four miniature armies will camp on Iowa soil next summer, in the encampment of the four regiments of the state, in July and August. The places of holding the camps have not been determined, but they will be in the territory of the different regiments. Three troops from Fort Des Moines, a platoon of artillery, a signal corps from the regular army, and a detail of officers from the staff college will be added to each Iowa regiment. The dates of the encampments of the regiments have been set as follows: Fifty-third infantry, July 21; Fifty-fifth infantry, August 5; Fifty-sixth infantry, August 18.

Get Away With Nearly $5,000.

Shenandoah.—The First National bank of Imogene, a small town in Page county about eight miles from here, was burglarized and nearly all the cash on hand amounting to about $5,000 secured. The burglars made good their escape, the robbery not being discovered until morning when a section hand on his way to work gave the alarm. The bank is capitalized for $25,000 and according to the last statement had deposits of about $150,000. Most of this, however, is kept here, F. H. Reed, president of the Imogene concern, being also president of one of the leading local banks. The bank vault and safe were literally demolished. None of the bank books or valuable papers were destroyed.

Maybray Gang Are Indicted.

Council Bluffs.—The grand jury of the district court of this (Pottawattamie) county have returned ten indictments in the wholesale swindling cases. The announcement was made that each of the indictments is against J. C. Maybray and others, but the names of none of the others were made public, it being intimated that some of them are not yet under arrest. Conspiracy and larceny is charged in each indictment. The complaining witnesses in the ten cases are Samuel Suton of Cass Lake, Minn.; Joseph P. Walker, Denver; J Hemelbracht, Bancroft, Neb.; W. H. Bedford, Blockow, Mo.; Dr. C. C. Vanderbeck, St. Louis.

Pasteur Institute Cures.

Iowa City.—The Pasteur institute, which was this year established in connection with the bacteriological department of the college of medicine of the state university, has effected its second postive cure. Miss Hertzler of Burlington took a treatment of twenty days and has been cured. Dr. Albert, in charge of the institute, made an analysis of the dog's brain and found that the animal who had bitten her was afflicted with rabies. Mr. Schuster of Des Moines was released after a three weeks' treatment. It was found that in his case the dog which bit him had hydrophobia.

S. U. I. Recruits to Camp.

Iowa City.—Lieutenant Weeks, who is in command of the university military companies, has announced the date of the spring encampment as May 29 to June 1. The student soldiers will leave the university early Saturday morning, and return Tuesday afternoon. The date has been made later this year than previous because of the cold and rainy weather which has hitherto interferred.

Dows Citizens Work for Interurban.

Dows.—The citizens of Dows have subscribed over $1,000 of the $4,000 necessary to run the preliminary survey for an interurban from Mason City to Fort Dodge via Dows. Woolstock is anxious to secure the road and is willing to contribute liberally, but in running the line via Woolstock the promoters would cut off Webster City, an important point on the line.

Farmers Organize Co-Operative Co.

St. Anthony.—Articles of incorporation were filed by the St. Anthony Grain and Stock company, which will deal in dairy products, live stock, merchandise, machinery, agricultural implements and building material. The company is capitalized at $10,000.

Sues the City for $2,000.

Waterloo.—Because the low-hanging bough of a tree on LaFayette street inflicted an injury to his eye while he was driving a hack in the early morning of Dec. 17, S. W. Rich has brought suit for $2,000 damages against the city.

New Line Into Sioux City.

Sioux City.—Preliminary steps for the opening of an interurban railway line between Sioux City and Hartington, Neb., have been taken by Sioux City and Nebraska business men. A conference at which the project was launched was held in the office of W. L. Frost, president of the Sioux City Real Estate association. The meeting was attended by C. T. Johnson Peter Askin and Ben McClary of Martinsburg and Messrs. Burgel, Lynde and Morton of Hartington, and James F. Toy. C. F. Lytle, George C. Call, R. J. Andrews, J. A. Blondell, J. A. Dean, C. A. Kneedler, J. M. Lynch and J. N. Wood of Sioux City. The line is intended to enter a strip of rich farming country twenty miles wide, and will enter Sioux City paralleling the Burlington Short line from Waterbury, Neb. From this point it will work north on almost a direct line to Hartington. The plan is receiving favorable mention among local commercial interests.

Five Want Mayor's Job.

Mason City.—There are now in the field five candidates for the office of mayor. The issues are as varied as the personality of the candidates. A. F. Shotts promises the city a business administration. He heads the republican ticket. A. H. Cummings heads the equal taxation ticket and promises a reform in taxation, and the return to the city of the salary paid to the mayor. F. A. Kirschman leads with the peoples' ticket and is making a strong bid for the labor vote and says the people should rule. W. H. Nutting comes under the head of the Independent ticket and is after the labor vote also on promises of cheaper living. H. H. Harbaugh, who entered the race recently, wants equal taxation and cheaper gas and light. He promises to clean up the police force and renovate the city of vice. He is against saloons and is called the churches' candidate.

Edwin P. Fitch Returns.

Council Bluffs.—Edwin P. Fitch of this city, secretary of the State Insurance company of Iowa, who disappeared last October and was found by the American consul at Naples, has arrived in New York City. Fitch left his home in Council Bluffs last August for a vacation trip in Europe. He telegraphed his relatives from Paris six weeks later that he had gone to London to be operated on for appendicitis. An unsuccessful search for him in London hospitals was made by the state department. When found in Naples in February he said he had been very ill and had only a faint recollection of traveling in various countries on the continent.

Fire Sweeps Town.

Cambridge.—Fire destroyed the hotel operated by J. B. Green, A. M. Mason's jewelry store and a barber shop and nearly all the business places on the east side of the main street Nothing was saved from the jewelry store or barber shop and very little from the hotel. The guests in the hotel had ample warning and all escaped without injury. The fire originated in the barber shop from an unknown cause. The loss is partially covered by insurance. It was just three years ago that fire destroyed several business houses on the west side of the street.

Refund to Ottumwa.

Ottumwa.—The contributors to the fund to pay Pinkerton detectives for ferreting out recent crimes in Ottumwa which aided in securing the confession of John Junken, will receive a portion of their contributions back, as the expense of the secret service men only reach $359. A total of $1,107 was contributed and the committee in charge decided to return to each contributor his pro rata share of the balance.

Five Thousand for His Eye.

Marshalltown.—Five thousand dollars for the loss of an eye, which he had appraised at a value of $50,000, is the amount John A. Welter, a deaf mute of this city, will receive from the Great Western railway. Judgment in that amount was entered against the railroad company in the district court here, and Welter dismissed the case. The compromise was reached following an offer of the railroad company to settle.

Gored to Death by Bull.

Winterset.—Sands Austin, living about three miles northwest of Barney, in this county, was killed by an angry bull. He was found terribly crushed and in a dying condition. He was conscious when found, but lived only about twenty minutes. He was 87 years of age, a native of New York state and an old resident of Madison county.

Aged Pastor Resigns Charge.

Nora Springs.—After nearly fifty years of active ministry, the Rev. D. J. Mason, formerly Congregational pastor here but now of Forest City, resigned a week ago and Sunday preached his farewell sermon to his congregation. Age and poor health are the reasons for his retirement.

NEW TARIFF BILL IS INTRODUCED IN HOUSE

Measure Would Increase Country's Revenues from Customs to $300,000,000 a Year---Inheritance Tax Planned---Coffee on Free List

Washington. — The ways and means committee of the house has begun consideration of the tariff bill which was introduced Wednesday. The measure as it now stands would increase the country's revenues from customs to $300,000,000 a year.

The senate committee on finance also began informal consideration of the measure. The probabilities are that the house committee will have only one sitting on the bill, that the measure will be reported to the house immediately after it convenes to-day and the debates will begin next Monday.

The measure, which was introduced by Sereno Payne, chairman of the committee, chairman of the ways and means committee provides for an inheritance tax; increased internal revenue tax on cigarettes; a $40,000,000 issue of Panama canal bonds; an increased issue of $150,000,000 in treasury certificates, and the imposition of duties on a maximum and minimum basis. Coffee, hides and iron ore are on the free list; boots and shoes, leather goods, steel and iron products, lumber, wool shoddy, and waste, and the cheaper grades of third-class wool are materially reduced. Tea is taxed eight cents a pound. The internal revenue tax on beer and whisky is not disturbed. Thirty thousand copies will be printed.

No Duty on Coffee.

While there is no duty imposed upon coffee, tea is taxed eight cents when imported from the country where it is produced, and nine cents when from other than the producing country. The internal revenue tax on cigarettes is materially increased, while the tax on beer and whisky is undisturbed. A cut of 50 per cent. is made in the steel and lumber schedules. Hides, tallow, cottonseed oil, and works of art more than 20 years old are placed on the free list.

The tariff on boots and shoes is reduced 10 per cent. and on other leather manufactures in proportion. The pottery schedule remains about the same, but the duties on window and plate glass of the smaller sizes are increased, while the duties on the larger sizes are reduced. The tariff on wool of the first and second class, used principally in clothing, is not disturbed, but on wool of the third class, known as carpet wool, it is reduced on the cheaper grades.

Duty on Agricultural Products.

Agricultural products schedule: Barley, from 30 cents per bushel to 15 cents; barley malt from 45 cents to 25 cents; cabbages from 3 to 2 cents each; bacon and hams from 5 cents per pound to 4 cents; fresh meat from 2 cents to 1½ cents per pound; lard from 2 cents to 1½ cents; tallow from ¾ of 1 cent per pound to the free list; wool grease from ½ of 1 cent to ¼ of 1 cent; dextrin, burnt starch, and so forth from 2 cents to 1½ cents per pound; peas, green, from 40 cents per bushel to 30 cents per bushel; all starch, except potato starch, from 1½ cents to 1 cent per pound; sugar, refined, is reduced from 1 95/100 cents to 1 90/100 cents per pound."

Reduction for Wool.

A five cent reduction is made in the duties on shoddy and waste, while wool tops are assessed six cents a pound more than the duty on scoured wool, which is unchanged. The recommendations for placing wood pulp on the free list and reducing the duties on print paper, with certain restrictions, made by the Mann committee of the house, are incorporated in the bill.

The duty on refined sugar is reduced 5.100 of a cent a pound and on dextrin half a cent a pound. A reduction of half a cent a pound is also made in the duty on starch, with the exception of potato starch. Zinc in ore is assessed one cent per pound for the zinc contained. The tariff on pig iron is reduced from $4 to $2.50 per ton.

Where Increases Are Made.

The principal increases are made in the duties on lemons, cocoa and substitutes for coffee, coal-tar, dyes, gloves, and coated papers and lithographic prints.

As was expected, the new tariff bill is made on a maximum and minimum basis, with the provision that the maximum rates are not to go into effect until 60 days after the passage of the bill. Reciprocity provisions are contained in the paragraphs assessing duties on bituminous coal and coke and agricultural implements, by which these articles are given entry free of duty when imported from countries which permit the free importation of these articles from America.

The inheritance tax provision of the bill is similar to the New York state law. It provides a tax of five per cent. on all inheritances over $500 that are collateral inheritances or in which strangers are the legatees. In case of direct inheritance the taxes prescribed are: On $10,000 to $100,000 one per cent.; on $100,000 to $500,000 two per cent., and on those over $500,000, three per cent. It is estimated that $20,000,000 annually will be derived from this tax.

Ends Foreign Trade Agreements.

The maximum and minimum provision of the bill does away with the necessity of continuing the foreign trade agreements. The abrogation of these is provided for in a section which authorizes the president to issue notices of the termination of these agreements within ten days after the bill goes into effect. The French agreement would therefore terminate immediately, while the German agreement would remain in force for six months.

A provision in the bill is designed to meet the conditions resulting from the patent laws of Great Britain which requires that patentees must manufacture their articles in Great Britain. This provision applies the same rules to patents taken out in this country by aliens as applied to Americans in the country of the alien. Drawback privileges are extended by the bill and the method of valuation on articles upon which the tariff imposes an ad valorem duty is broadened for the purpose of preventing the practice of undervaluation.

Payne Explains Bill.

The following explanation of the form of the bill was made by Mr. Payne:

"The new tariff bill is a minimum and maximum tariff bill. The minimum rates of duty are contained in the first section, and the free list for the minimum rates is in the second section of the bill. The third section contains the maximum rates, which are generally equal to the minimum rates and 20 per cent. in addition thereto and the articles on the free list, in the transfer to the third section, bear a duty of 20 per cent. ad valorem as a maximum rate. The maximum rate does not go into effect in any event until 60 days after the passage of the act. By the fourth section the minimum rates are applied to all good terms by way of tariff as that given to any other nation and the maximum rates are applied to those countries which discriminate against the trade of the United States or fail to give the United States tariff rates as favorable as those given any other nation. This section is self acting, making it the duty of the executive to collect the duties, whether minimum or maximum, in accordance with the terms of the bill, leaving it open to the courts to decide upon the legality of the action.

"One problem that confronted the committee was the question of revenue. The business of all commercial nations has been depressed for nearly two years, and thus has affected our commerce and greatly reduced our revenues, so that we have a large deficit, but the revenues under the present law are improving from month to month, as business conditions are becoming better."

Changes by Payne Bill.

The statement gives the rates in the present law, the Dingley tariff and shows the changes that the Payne bill proposes. The abstract of the bill continues:

"The committee have transferred some articles from the free list to the dutiable, and have increased duties on others for the sole purpose of increasing the revenue. Most of these articles on which duties have been increased are luxuries which have been increased as follows:

"Perfumeries and toilet articles from 50 to 60 per centum ad valorem; fancy soap, from 15 to 20 cents per pound; chicory root, raw, not dried, from one cent to 2½ cents per pound; roasted from 2½ cents to five cents per pound.

"Cocoa, crude, transferred from the free list to the dutiable, at four cents per pound; prepared or manufactured increased two cents on each classification except that valued above 35 cents per pound, which remains the same. Ten per centum ad valorem is also added to the duties assessed on that valued between 15 and 35 cents per pound. Powdered cocoa from five to nine cents per pound.

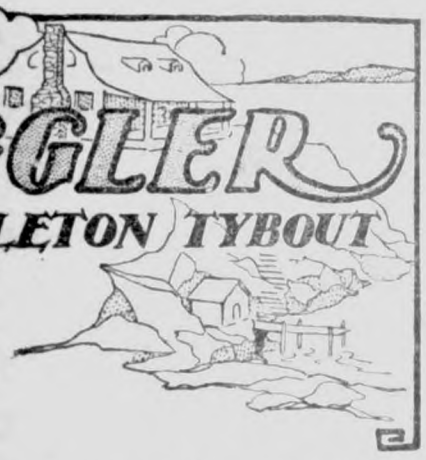
"There Is Some One In Here, I Know It."

The SMUGGLER

BY ELLA MIDDLETON TYBOUT

COPYRIGHT 1907 BY J.B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

ILLUSTRATED BY RAY WALTERS



SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. The young women met a Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented. Two men called. They proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett, one a friend of Elizabeth's father. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. Fearing for the safety of some gems, Lady Edith left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his actions on board ship. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. At a supper, which was held on the rocks, Elizabeth rather mysteriously lost her ring, causing a search by the entire party. Gabrielle witnessed a stormy scene between Lady Edith and Lord Wilfrid, jealousy being the cause. Mary Anne brought back Elizabeth's ring. Elise went sailing with Gordon Bennett. He tried to persuade her to return the jewels left in the girl's care by Lady Edith. At midnight Elise saw two men—one of them Gordon Bennett—attempting to force an entrance into their boathouse. She admitted to herself that she had nearly loved him and believed herself used as a tool. Mrs. Graham, sick, told Elise of her husband's love for another woman. Gordon Bennett and Blake returned with Mr. Graham's body. He had been murdered. Lord Wilfrid grew sulky. Lady Edith confided to Elise that Blake and Bennett were thieves. Lady Edith led her to where they were trying to break in. The girls were awakened late at night by a noise in the cottage.

CHAPTER XVI.—Continued.

"Get your watch," advised Gabrielle, "and your pins and things. I've got all mine in this chamois bag, except the gold beads; they wouldn't go, so I'll just carry them. I'm not afraid, but I would rather have my things with me, somehow."

I collected my small store of valuables, and we formed a procession of three and ventured downstairs, walking softly, as though afraid to disturb some one.

With every step our confidence returned. We tried the front door and found it closed and bolted; the windows in the hall and living room were securely fastened; the dining room also appeared impregnable; and when we found the door to the safe tightly closed, I was beyond measure relieved, and almost ready to laugh at my suspicions.

In the kitchen we found the cellar door open, and debated whether we should lock it and thus prevent Mary Anne's return, or wait and greet her in disapproving array.

"Let us listen," suggested Gabrielle, and sat down upon the top step to carry out her suggestion.

Then occurred the accident to which I referred in the very beginning. She held her gold beads in her hand, and somehow managed to break the catch and away they went. We could hear them rolling down into the cellar step by step, and Gabrielle was at first motionless with surprise, then as usual prepared for immediate action.

"I'm going after them," she announced, literally rising to the occasion.

"Down there?" shuddered Elizabeth. "Oh, no! Wait till morning."

"I spent every cent of Cousin Lucy's check on those beads," said Gabrielle, folding her kimono about her and preparing to descend, "and I'm going to pick them up right away. Wait till morning, indeed! You might suppose they were pebbles."

We sighed apprehensively, but prepared to follow our intrepid friend, feeling that we must share whatever fate was in store for her, as well as help collect her property. So we went carefully down the steps, holding our candles well before us.

Those miserable beads had rolled to the most remote places, of course, and we got so interested in looking for them we almost forgot to be afraid.

Suddenly, however, Elizabeth gave a stifled scream, which was more of a gasp, after all, and shrank back against the wall.

"There is some one in here," she whispered. "I know it."

"How do you know?"

Gabrielle tried to speak boldly, but the hand which held the candle shook until a little shower of melted wax fell upon the floor.

"I was feeling—under the steps,"—Elizabeth found articulation difficult—"when I touched hair—human hair."

We gazed at one another in abject terror, unable for the moment to speak or move; then Elizabeth, whose nerves were completely unstrung, swayed suddenly as though she were going to faint.

"I'm afraid," she gasped—"awfully afraid. It was hair, and—oh, dear! what shall we do?"

She began to sob in a hopeless kind of way, in which I felt much inclined to join, when I heard a suppressed exclamation, followed by a scrambling sound and the simultaneous flash of two dark lanterns, as a man advanced from the back of the cellar, while another appeared from beneath the steps.

Instinctively we drew close together, and when we afterward compared notes found we had each tried to scream but could not.

"Don't be frightened," said a voice which sounded strangely familiar; "it's only us, Blake and I."

The girls stared with mingled relief and amazement, but I looked the other way, for I felt a curious sensation of personal disgrace, and as though I could not bear to meet their eyes.

"But," said Elizabeth, at last—"but—"

"It is odd, isn't it?" said Mr. Bennett, with a laugh he tried hard to make natural. "I'm—I'm most awfully sorry you happened to come down. We did not want you to know anything about it."

He paused abruptly, conscious that he was floundering badly, and turned to his companion.

"Tell them, Blake," he commanded. "This thing has got to be explained, and, after all, it's your business, not mine."

"Yes," said Gabrielle, in her most high and mighty voice; "it does seem to need explaining."

I admired her very much just then, for it is not every woman who can look dignified and imposing when enveloped in a kimono, with a spluttering candle in her hand, and a dearth of stiff petticoats to sustain her moral backbone.

Mr. Blake cast an anxious glance toward the recess from which he had emerged.

"One moment," he said, then disappeared into the darkness, whence we plainly heard a subdued whispering.

"Are there more of you?" demanded Gabrielle, but with rather a forlorn quaver in her voice instead of the note of stern interrogation she had intended.

"It's all right," said Gordon Bennett. "On my honor, Miss Gabrielle, it's all right."

"Your honor!"

I had not intended to speak; the words escaped before I was aware of it. He turned and looked at me steadily, and again I involuntarily averted my eyes.

"On my honor," he repeated.

"Now," said Mr. Blake, returning; "if you will kindly come upstairs, I am ready to explain, but I fear I must cause you some pain, or at least a shock."

We went up to the living room, Elizabeth and I very conscious of our dishabille and inclined to shrink into dark corners, Gabrielle stalking majestically on in front with disgust and disapproval written in capital letters across her back, and indignation hanging from her shoulder blades.

"Well?" she said, coldly, after a moment's silence.

"First," said Mr. Blake, with a note of calm authority in his voice, "I must ask you to listen to my story without interruptions, and to accept for the time being any statements I may make. Later I shall be in a position to prove them."

"I hope so," murmured Gabrielle, plainly unimpressed.

Mr. Blake handed her a chair with the same careful courtesy which had hitherto marked his intercourse with us, and waited until she was seated before saying anything more. Gabrielle sat rigidly upright, but suddenly remembered that her feet, incased in bedroom slippers, were minus stockings, and therefore drew them quickly under the folds of her kimono, which hasty act was rather refreshing, since it proved her but mortal, after all.

"I do not suppose," he began, in the calm, level tone so irritating when one's excitement is at fever heat, "you will believe me when I say that Mrs. Bundy's emeralds are in your safe. Please don't take the trouble to deny it, for I know I am speaking the truth.

"Also, I wish to say that they were placed there by the woman you have received and entertained as Lady Campbell, but who is in reality a notorious character and badly wanted by the police."

"I don't believe it."

It was Elizabeth who spoke, and her words were freighted with sincere conviction.

"I did not expect you to. It is true, nevertheless. This woman is known as Nell Simms, and her career has been marvelous. For some years she was—well, associated with a famous criminal named James Kilroy, who gave the police a long, hard chase before his capture. He had many strings to his bow, not the least among them the smuggling of diamonds and other articles none too honestly acquired; since his arrest this woman has directed the business. She is clever—wonderfully clever."

There was sincere, if unwilling, admiration in his tone, and he paused thoughtfully before resuming his story.

"It has been my business this summer to look up this matter of smuggling, and I have followed the history of this woman as closely as I could. After the arrest of her chosen companion she married the man you know as Lord Wilfrid Campbell, who is a well-known thief and a member of the small and select band of smugglers, but who is far from being as clever as she. He is also the son of your servant, Mary Anne Brown."

Across my mind rushed the recollection of the conversation I had overheard in the cellar, and the memory of the man's voice, certain inflections of which had haunted me with their familiarity. For some reason I looked across at Gordon Bennett, only to find him watching me intently, an anxious expression in his blue eyes, where relief was mingled with sympathy. I wondered if he knew what I had been thinking, and immediately looked away again.

"The son of your servant," continued Mr. Blake's even voice, "and a dangerous character—wanted for murder in Montreal. These people, young ladies, have used you for their own purposes. This cottage you live in belongs to them, and you were put here as a buffer to avert suspicion. Your servant was sent here to watch you and drug you when necessary; your boathouse was used to conceal their boats, and your cellar to store their goods. A passage at the back—hidden by the empty dry goods box—leads into the boathouse. With the man's mother as your servant and under their control, it was easy for them to carry on whatever operations they chose, and to baffle the secret service. But your safety, even your lives, were in danger."

He paused as though there was more to come which he hardly knew how to say, but Gabrielle interrupted him, starting from her chair and standing tall and erect before him.

"And do you expect us to believe this extraordinary story?" she inquired slowly.

"It is true."

"It is not true. We know there are jewels in that safe. Lady Edith put them there after the robbery at the hotel, because she was afraid of losing them. But they are pearls, not emeralds, and to-morrow I will ask her to show them to you."

"I do not wish to see them."

"I do not know, Mr. Blake, what you were doing in our cellar to-night. It seems a very strange place for a guest, but no doubt you can offer some satisfactory explanation of your intentions. We are waiting for it; your unwarrantable attack upon our friends hardly seems sufficient reason for your presence here at this hour."

Mr. Blake looked at his watch, then replied very calmly.

"Your friends," he said, with a slight emphasis, "will return here to-night. We are waiting for them. We are sorry, as Mr. Bennett has already said, that you discovered us, for we meant to conduct the thing quietly."

"It is impossible," said Gabrielle. "I—we—why, I know you must be mistaken."

"You can see for yourself," he returned. "I must ask you to allow me to put out the lights."

"I will not do it."

"But, Miss Gabrielle, you really must," interrupted Gordon Bennett quickly. "So much depends upon it! If we are wrong, we will apologize in sackcloth and ashes. Tell her it is the only thing to do, Miss Elizabeth."

We finaly agreed, and hid behind the portiere at the dining room door, feeling wretchedly guilty ourselves, as well as disloyal to our absent friends

I do not know how long we stood there in the dark, but it seemed an age, as I distinctly felt the thumping of my heart and listened with strained attention for a sound from the surrounding darkness.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Milo a Staple in Dry States.

The newest pioneering crop is milo. It is a sort of corn which has made itself staple in the drier uplands of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma. This territory takes a varying annual rainfall of 17 to 25 inches. Last year it was found to mature in points in Colorado 6,000 feet above the sea level, and in South Dakota it had ripened just as the first frost occurred. Its roots penetrate from three to four feet after the moisture. In appearance the seeds head out, not like an ear of maize, with a covering of husk, but very much like that of broom corn, with a bunch of loosely-grown seeds around the head of the stalk. It can be harvested by machinery, is easily thrashed, and yields from 30 to 55 bushels an acre. Its main use is for the feeding of live stock. As such, it adds another mainstay to the strength of farms in regions of small rainfall.—Wall Street Journal.

Married and Single.

There is no denying that engaged lovers stand on one platform and married lovers on another. Previous to marriage so little is said about money. There are discussions, there are wranglings, but they are done by proxy, by the lawyers. Once married, however, the principals must talk of money matters between thmselves; its management, its disbursement.—London Lady.

Women as Fakir Victims.

Women are especially warned that there are many fake curios in Europe and other places, and women who are traveling are considered fair prey as a general thing. In most places there any persons who can be relied upon to give true information in regard to these things, and women should trust to their judgment.

DOUBTED TALES OF SCIENTIST.

Scotsman's Summing Up of Character of Man of Learning.

Sir Archibald Geikie, the distinguished geologist, who will probably succeed Lord Rayleigh as president of the Royal society, tells a good story in his capital book of "Scottish Reminiscences."

"I was quite sure you had been in our neighborhood," a friend said to Sir Archibald. "I met the old farmer of G——, who had a strange tale to tell me.

"'Dod, Mr. Caithcart,' he began, 'I ran across the queerest body the other day. As I was coming by the head of the cleugh I thocht I heard a wheen tinkers quarrelin', but when I lookit down there was a wee stoot man. Whiles he was chappin the rocks wi' a hammer, whiles he was writin' in a book, whiles fetchin' with the thorns and misca'in them for a' that was bad. When he cam up frae the burn, him and me had a large confab. Dod! he tell't me a' about the stanes, and hoo they showed that Scotland was ance like Greenland, smoored in ice. A very entertainin' body, Mr. Caithcart, but—an awful', awful' lecar."—Tit-Bits.

She Earned It.

Mabel liked candy. However, she was not allowed nearly as much as she would like. One day her father told her that she could have three pieces if she would kiss a visitor who was coming to dinner. As soon as the front door was opened she rushed up and implanted the kiss with much gusto, and then turned to her father.

"Now, papa, give me the candy for kissing her."

Other Men's Wives.

"What a pretty party this is," she said, as she looked around the beautiful room at the pretty women sitting on the long divans against the wall. "And these are your wives? Aren't they sweet? Isn't it lovely?"

"Yes," he admitted, "but you ought to have been at our party last month when we had a lot of other fellows' wives. It was a whole lot lovelier."

Cure That Cold To-Day.

Nearly all druggists and dealers now have in stock Lane's Pleasant Tablets (laxative), for Colds and Grip, and they will break up a cold quicker than any other remedy. A trial will convince you, as it has thousands of others. Avoid suffering and save doctors' bills by ordering to-day. 25 cents a box. Sample free. Address Orator F. Woodward, Le Roy, N. Y.

And It Was Overruled.

Judge Hoar and Gen. Butler were opponents in a case of a new trial. Gen. Butler quoted: "Eye for eye, skin for skin, tooth for tooth, yea, all that a man hath, will be give for his life." To which Judge Hoar replied: "Yes, the devil quoted that once before in a motion for a new trial."

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

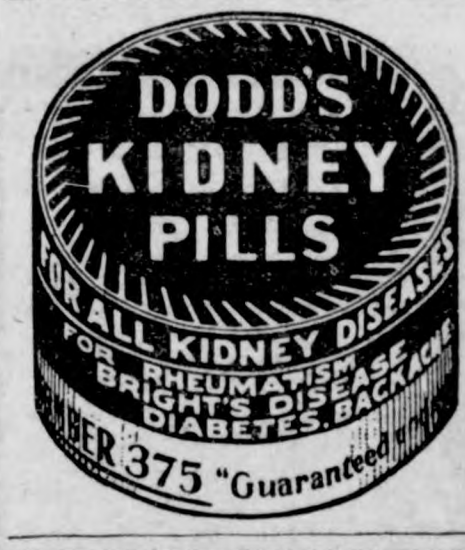
In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

When a woman goes away on a visit for a few days, never ask her why she takes so many clothes with her, for how else could she show her friends that she has them?



Do You Love Your Child?

Then protect it from the dangers of croup to which every child is subject. Keep

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

in your home all the time, then you're ready for the sudden attacks of croup and colds. Neglect may cost you the life of your child. It's safest to be on your guard.

Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant is the best remedy known for croup; it gives quickest relief.

Sold everywhere in three size bottles

$1.00, 50c, 25c

25 cts. PISO'S CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. 25 cts. CURE

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of

—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

HELLO THERE

Where are you going? I'm going to H. Lau & Son. They handle all kinds of farm implements, Port Huron threshers also the Aultman & Taylor machinery, the 20 Century and Appleton manure spreader, McKinnon and Clinton wagons, Anchor and Velie buggies, Ohio and Kingman cultivators, stirring and gang plows, the open mould board sulky plows the lightest draft, Towers cultivators, Imperial and Challenge wind mills, hog fencing, barb wire, smooth wire gates, pumps and piping of all kinds, feed mills and the international gas engines from 1 to 40 H. P., Milwaukee mowers, binders, Dane hay loaders and buckers, nails and fence staples, wind mills and pump repairing on short notice, the sharpless cream separator the best made today, the Crack a-jack line of samples for tailor made suits.

H. Lau & Son.

Which CREAM SEPARATOR is Cheapest?

Clean Skimming
Easy Running
Long Wearing
U.S.

Several catalogues houses are offering "just as good" cream separators for sale at a lower price than the U. S. Cream Separator sells for. But before the unfortunate purchaser of one of these "mail order" separators gets through paying the repair bills he finds that first cost isn't the only difference. The "cheap" separators soon get out of fix because they are built of cheap material, and loosely put together. The cost of repairs alone in the first year or two would pay the difference in price between one of them and a U. S. But more important still they do not skim clean, they waste cream at every skimming.

U. S. CREAM SEPARATORS

have stood the test of time. Many of them have been in use for 10 years or more, and have cost their owners next to nothing for repairs. They are easy running, skim cleaner than any others, have a simple, easy-to-wash bowl; enclosed, safety gearing and a convenient, low milk tank. See a U. S. Separator for yourself—that's the best way. They are sold by

ELL BROS. Klemme. Ia.

Renew on the Klemme Times.

KLEMME WOMEN ARE AFTER SHEATH GOWNS

Local Merchants Fail to Make Them Believe That They are Not the Thing.

"Sheath gowns, and sheath gowns only."

That was the ultimatum delivered by a party of Klemme women in the city today doing their spring shopping. They brought pictures of the famous fashion from Paris and would accept nothing but the real article with the real sheath.

It was in vain that the local venders of fashionable attire for women told them that the sheath gowns are not now all the rage, that they are in fact back numbers, and that American women have not taken kindly to the style

It could'nt be true, they said for this picture was from a real Paris paper and told how those gowns are all the rage now. So they went back to Klemme without sheath gowns, but determined to make the trip to Paris if necessary to secure them.–From the Mason City Times-Herald, Tuesday, Mar. 23.

Avery Center.

W. M. Shaver has invested in a very fine driving horse.

Phil Behringer has invested in a new manure spreader.

George Binken of Grundy Center is visiting at Frank Ufkens.

Vera Cook wears a long smile all on account of the arrival of a little son.

J. W. Griggs and W. L. Sherwood were Meservey callers one day last week.

John Heginger's little girl has been very sick but is improving at this writing.

Fred Wilkins and Frank Ufken atttended the combination sale at Meservey.

J. F. Griggs and Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Hamilton were Garner callers, last Wednesday.

Anthony Shaver accompanied by his sisters atterded a dance at Arthur Bishels last Wednesday Eve.

The Avery Center Orchestra are going to give an entertainment at the Center school house Saturday eve.

J F Hartfelder and family and Phil Behringer and family called at the W. L. Sherwood home Wednesday eve.

Miss Maud Griggs returned home Tuesday from Hartley Iowa where she has finished a very successful term of school.

NEAR DEATH IN BIG POND

It was a thrilling experience to Mrs. Ida Soper to face death. "For years a severe lung trouble gave me intense suffering" she writes, and several times nearly caused my death. All remedies failed and doctors said I was incurable. Then Dr. King's new discovery brought quick relief and a cure so permanent that I have not been troubled in twelve years. Mrs. Soper lives in Big Pond, Pa. It works wonders in coughs and colds, sore lungs, hemorrhages, lagrippe, asthma croup, whooping cough and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G A Pabst & Co.

THE ORIGINAL LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP

KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE HONEY AND TAR

Red Clover Blossom and Honey Tee on Every Bottle.

New Clothing

OVER

$1000.00

WORTH

of new clothing for Men and Boys has just been unpacked

We can now show the very latest styles with Coat Cuffs and Fancy Pocket Flaps.

In all the new shades—

ELEPHANT SHADE
OLIVE BROWN
FANCY TAN
FANCY BLUE
OXFORD GREY
PLAIN BLUE
MANY BLACKS

The very next time you come to town step in and Have a Look. You may not need a suit just now

But Have a Look Anyway.

WE INVITE YOU

Arthur Wellemeyer.

Where your Dollar does its duty.

GRAND EASTER OPENING

APRIL 1-2-3.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY.

We will have the Largest and Finest Display of Easter and Spring Millinery ever shown
The newest creations in Pattern Hats,
Trimmed Hats, Childrens Headwear. The latest in Hair Rools also the best Ladies Corsets
A fine line of latest Ladies Shirt Waists, Collars, Rushes and Belts.

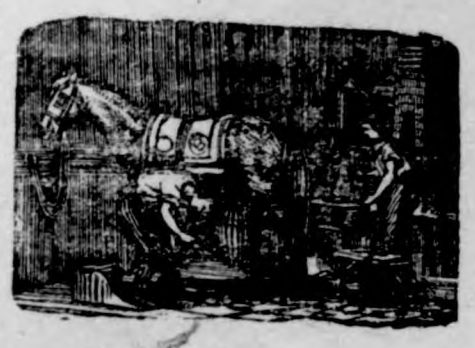
Miss Polskae a trimmer of great experience is sure to please.

MRS. J. JOSTEN.



J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING
HORSE SHOEING A
SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	50 to 54c
Oats	45 to 49c
Wheat	90 to 100
Barley	55 to60 c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.90
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

New ad for State Savings.

H. Barz was at Garner on Tuesday.

Miss Dora Lau visited at Garner last week Saturday.

H Lewis has been helping out in this office over a ruse of work.

Aug. Ridder and Fred Musfeld were Garner callers on Wednesday.

Miss Aggie Blank visited with her sister Mrs. Wm. F. Lau and the Schroeder family on Monday.

The Kirkwood restaurant is now stocked up with new goods. They solicit a share of your patronage.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

If you'd be dubbed a handsome girl
And win a handsome Knight,
The secret here I do impart,
Take Rocky Mountain Tea at night
G A Pabst & Co.

The following were at Garner today: Mrs. Arnold and her daughter Amanda, Mrs. H. Lau and Mrs. Al. Koerner and children, the Yohn sisters and the Suckow sisters.

The funeral of little Elden B. Schuldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wes. J. Schuldt was largely attended at the German M. E. church last week Friday. The Times wishes to express their sympathy to the bereaved parents.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets, Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 7 6 x 8, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

Ell Bros. who handle the Cyphers Incubators and Brooders are doing a land office business in the way of hatching chickens these days. They have three machines in operation now and one hatch came off last week which was displayed in their show window which was a pertty sight to see. They have a good machine and are agents for the same and they have sold quite a number of them this Spring Anyone who may be interested, they will gladly wait upon you or send you a catalog.

Read the Savings ad of the State Bank.

R. Nesbit of Garner, was a Klemme visitor Monday.

Howard Yohn is visiting at Charles City and Greene, Iowa.

Wm. F. Lau and family of Garner, visited in Klemme over Sunday.

John Bock, Jr. and wife were at Garner between trains Wednesday.

Ed Lenz left for Forest City Monday last. He also visited at Mason City

J. F. Hartfelder returned from Chicago Tuesday where he has been shipping stock.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

Mrs. H. L Schuldt visited her sister Mrs M. E. Peck and family at Garner the first of this week.

Thos. Monaghen and family will now be residents of Garner. They moved from Goodell on Tuesday.

Read Mrs. J. Josten's millinery opening ad. which will be on April 1-2 3. She has a veay nice line to select from.

Jim Pavey and his uncle arrived from Garrison last week for a few days visit with Wallace. They returned Saturday.

There will be a dime social at the home of M. Elder's on next Tuesday, Mar. 30, 1909. Everybody is cordially invited.

Bloom keeps all kinds of good seed oats, barley, buckwheet, clover, timothy, rape and milet. Yours for business at the South Elevator. tf

A spring tonic that makes rich, red blood. Brings strength, health and happiness to the whole family. Nothing equals Hollister's rocky mountain tea as a spring regulator. 36c. G A Pabst & Co.

Don't wait until your blood is impoverished and you are sick and ailing but take Hollister's rocky mountain tea now. It will positively drive out all winter impurities. 35c, tea or tablets. G. A. Pabst & Co.

I have some good improved farms in Southern Minnesota I will trade for a good business, General Merchandise or hardware preferred. Write Box 18, Danvers. Minn.

This month of March certainly has been a bad one. The snow that fell is staying right by us and more or less are effected with bad colds. We are anxiously waiting for spring weather.

Joe Hamilton informed us that he wished to resign from the office of Vic-Pres, in the noted Avery Center Orchestra. He says that Frank Ufken has had more experience in orchestras and would be the fit man to hold such a prominent office.

It is rumored that there will be a town election on Monday, Mar. 29th. There was no notice published as heretofore to this effect. Some of the candidates who are working the hardest will probably inform the voters as to where and from what time this election will take place.

IT SAVED HIS LEG

All though I'd lose my leg writes J. A. Swenson. Watertown Wis., Ten years of eczema that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it sound and well." Infallible for skin eruptions, eczema, salt rheum, boils, fever sores, burns, scalds, cuts and piles, 25c at. G. A. Pabst & Co.

S. H. Day was sight seeing at Garner on Monday.

Clair Pollock drove down from Garner on Wednesday.

More or less are affected with LaGrippe these days.

Another change of ad for the State Bank this week.

Mrs. M. Haskin has been on the sick roll the past week.

J. Gruetzmacher transacted business at Garner Monday.

J. J. Wilson of Mesevey was seen on our streets Monday.

Mrs. H. Griewe and daughter Miss Clara were Garner visitors Monday.

Sunday was the first day of Spring and it has felt spring like ever since.

Observe the Wellemeyer New Clothing ad. this week. Over $1,000 worth of new clothing.

Mrs. J. Gruetzmacher and Grandma Gruetzmacher, visited relatives at Garner last week Saturday.

Geo. Radloff of Clayton county visited with H. Ihde and family last week. He is a cousin of the Ihde brothers.

Mrs. E. P. Dow and daughters visited here the first of the week with relatives and friends, returning Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lafe Schneider of Garner, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gruetzmacher and family the first of this week.

Chris. Hansen and wife returned last week from Ft. Dodge where they have been visiting with their son in-laws. They also visited at other points.

During our winter months the Rock Island R'y has met with a great deal of difficulty in making their regular runs and on regular time through here on account of the snow and blizzards this winter, but the latest addition has been added and that is in the way of a three wheeled hand car which is manipulated by our experienced strong man Geo. Wessels who has been breaking the wind for freight trains, leading them only a few rails ahead which has been a great advantage in making time. The other evening Geo. was leading the fright in from the north with the fright close upon him caused by the suction of the three wheeled hand car. The only thing Geo could do was to pump for dear life to keep clear from the train. Geo. says that he had a very narrow escape and that he has resigned his position in breaking the roads for the Rock Island System.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

John Newberger,	Ventura
F. Griesemer,	Garner
Wm. Monaghen,	Goodell
Fred Bock,	Klemme
D. D. Ross	Garnrr
W. S. Glanville	Goodell
Jno. Heginger,	Goodell
Aug. Kropp,	Garner
H. A. Josten,	Klemme
M. H. Crissman,	Olin, Iowa

THE LURID GLOW OF DOOM

was seen in the red face, hands and body of the little son of H M Adams of Henriette. Pa. His awful plight from eczeme had for five years defied al remedies and baffled the best doctors who aaid the poisoned blood had affected his lungs and nothing could save him. But. writs his mother, seven bottles of electric bitters completely cured him. For eruptios, eczema, salt rheum, sores and all blood diseases and rheumatism Electric Bitters is supreme. Only 50c. Guaranteed by G A Pabst & Co.

German M. E. Church Items

W. C. A. Gast and family were Klemme visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Ridder was quite sick for a few days last week.

Spring is here, but spring weather has failed to appear.

Emil Sampson attended services in Germantown last Sunday.

Mrs. H. Griewe and daughter Clara were Garner callers Monday.

The Klemme League will give a missionary program next Sunday evening.

Wm. Kraus and family called on father and mother Kraus Sunday afternoon.

A young man of Mason City was a visitor at the W. J. Schmidt home last Sunday.

Camilla Neff came home from Charles City Saturday afternoon returning Monday evening.

W. F. Lau and family spent Sunday with their kin folks. There is no place like Klemme, they say.

Ida Schwichtenberg is staying with her grandmother for the time being, helping take care of her aunt.

Mr. Georg of Lake Mills, Wis. arrived Sunday morning to see his aged mother who has been poorly of late.

Aug. Nuehring is keeping things straight on the H. C. Wichman farm this week while the latter is on a visit to Clayton county.

Mr. and Mrs. John Newberger had four of their children christened Monday naming them Walter Roy; Christine Mae; Ruth Matilda and John Mitchell.

Rev. Wm. Berg departed last Friday evening for West Grove, Davis Co., Iowa where he has taken a pastoral charge. His wife will remain with her mother in Klemme indefinitaly.

The funeral of little Elden B. Schuldt was largely attended last Friday both in the house and in the church. It was plainly noticable that all were desirous to express their sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Schuldt in their bereavement.

We read Carl Wellemeyer's letter in last week's issue with much interest. The romantic scenery which so impressed him is near the home of our childhood. We have passed up and down "Elk bottom" more than a hundred times on foot, horse back or by team There among the hills and valleys we used to pasture the cattle in early days, go fishing and bathing in the creek, hunt coons in the fall, rabbits and squirrels in winter and make maple sugar in early spring We suppose by this time Carl has tried one of those double bitted axes and we are curious to know how many cords of wood he cut the first day. Miss Muffat is wondering what Carl said when he drove down one of those steep hills with a heavy load. We are all interested in our old friends you see.

KILLS WOULD BE SLAYER.

A merciless murderer is appendicitis with many victims. But Dr. King's New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis, curing constipation, biliousness, chills, malaria, headache and indigestion. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Let us be your Tailor
THE AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS Co, Chicago, Illinois.
Manufacturers of fine woolens and wholesale custom tailors.
As Eastern Decoration Day is near at hand I will give special bargains on suits that are purchased of us before that time.
I will be please to show you a beautiful line of samples. A fit, a beauty and a long wearing suit Your profit, my pleasure.
ELMER LUDEKE
Klemme - - - Iowa

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER.
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a new hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank.
Call in

Items for Travelers

Have you read the wonderful stories of success in the Gulf Coast Country of Texas? Send for our pamphlet.

$30 to $35 will take you to principal points in the Southwest and return. Tickets sold first and third Tuesdays of each month.

When traveling to and from Colorado use the best! "The Rocky Mountain Limited."

Hundreds of people are going to California on the Golden State Limited. Why not you?

Mr. Jno. G. Farmer, D. P. A., Cedar Rapids, will gladly inform you about any trip you may consider taking.
Remember, I sell the tickets.

Rock Island

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa.

BACKACHE IS KIDNEYACHE.

Usually There Are Other Troubles to Prove It.

Pain in the back is pain in the kidneys, in most cases, and it points to the need of a special remedy to relieve and cure the congestion or inflammation of the kidneys that is interfering with their work and causing that pain that makes you say: "Oh, my back."

Thompson Watkins, professional nurse, 420 N. 23d St., Parsons, Kans., says: "For some time I was annoyed with sharp twinges across the small of my back and irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills I am free from these troubles."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

PROSAIC ENDING OF DREAM.

Nevertheless, Editor Believes It Portends Some Good Luck.

The dream of an unknown Kansas editor:

She was dressed in green, and a serpent of old gold and with red eyes encircled her arm. Her hair was very black and loose. Her eyes, black and deep, seemed to search me through as she held my hand in hers and looked up from the palm she had been reading.

"Your death will come suddenly," she said.

"Will it be a railroad collision or a hotel fire?" we inquired.

"I cannot say," she said, "but it will be so sudden as to be painless."

Just then we awoke, because somebody was punching us in the ribs and saying: "Get on your side of the bed and let me have my share of the quilts."

But we have been thinking about it since, and we believe somebody is going to pay his subscription in advance. —Kansas City Journal.

COVERED WITH HIVES.

Child a Mass of Dreadful Sore, Itching, Irritating Humor for 2 Months —Little Sufferer in Terrible Plight.

Disease Cured by Cuticura.

"My six year old daughter had the dreadful disease called hives for two months. She became affected by playing with children who had it. By scratching she caused large sores which were irritating. Her body was a complete sore but it was worse on her arms and back. We employed a physician who left medicine but it did not help her and I tried several remedies but without avail. Seeing the Cuticura Remedies advertised, I thought I would try them. I gave her a hot bath daily with Cuticura Soap and anointed her body with Cuticura Ointment. The first treatment relieved the itching and in a short time the disease disappeared. Mrs. George L. Fridhoff, Warren, Mich., June 30 and July 13, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Lots Easier.

Bobby rushed out to meet his father the other night as he was returning from work and said, breathlessly:

"Oh, papa, I won't have to study nearly so hard at school any more."

Now, Bobby had been doing far from well, and his father was pleased to hear of the new interest, hoping for better things.

"How's that, my son?" said he.

"Oh, I got put back a class."—The Housekeeper.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, Price, 75c. per bottle.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

He Objected.

"Meeker tells me that he wants handcuffs abolished."

"Is Meeker interested in criminology?"

"No; his wife is in the habit of cuffing him on the ear."

Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes
Relieved by Murine Eye Remedy. Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Conforms to Pure Food and Drug Laws. Murine Doesn't Smart; Soothes Eye Pain. Try Murine in Your Eyes. At Druggists.

He who is false to duty breaks a thread in the loom, and will find the flaw when he may have forgotten the cause.—H. Ward Beecher.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE."
That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

A good sermon is often spoiled by a bad dinner.

WIN HARD BATTLE

BULK SALES BILL FINALLY PASSED BY THE IOWA SENATE.

PROVOKES LONG DISCUSSION

Prevents Merchants From Disposing of Stock Without Notifying Creditors.

Des Moines.—By a vote of 29 to 12 the Iowa senate passed the De Wolf bulk sales bill after a substitute offered by the author for the original had been amended. The discussion of the measure occupied almost all of the morning. The substitute offered by Senator De Wolf eliminated the provision in the former bill which would have compelled a dealer to notify all of his creditors five days previous to making a sale of his stock of goods or any part of the stock, in bulk, except in the general course of trade.

Had Some Opposition.

Opposition developed to this measure on the part of Senators Francis and Adams and the latter declared that the bill as framed would prevent a general merchant from disposing of his line of boots and shoes or his stock of tobacco, or any particular line he might decide to quit carrying as a part of his general stock. Senator Balkema, who is a merchant, took the same view and opposed the bill on that ground. The senate adopted an amendment by Senator Adams by which the reference to any part of a merchant's stock is omitted from the bill, and as it was adopted the measure provides that five days' notice must be given of the sale of a stock of goods in bulk. The substitute eliminates also the necessity of notifying each creditor and provides that a bill of sale shall be filed of record by the transferrer and shall remain on file for five days before the money concerned in the sale changes hands.

Saloon Bills Passed by Senate.

Defining the duties of sheriffs.

Defining the duties of county attorneys.

Defining the duties of the attorney general.

Providing for the removal of officers for neglect of duty.

Prohibiting the sale of liquors and narcotics to inebriates or former inmates of institutions for the cure of liquor or drug habits.

Providing for numbered reports of sales of liquors by druggists, and for returns by each dealer to the county auditor.

Prohibiting the drinking of liquors on trains or street cars.

Prohibiting the establishing of a saloon within three hundred feet of a public library.

Prohibiting saloon keepers from serving lunches.

Limiting the number of saloons in cities to not more than one for each 1,000 of population.

Prohibiting any person convicted of selling liquor unlawfully from engaging in the saloon business within five years after the conviction.

Prohibiting breweries from engaging in the retail saloon business.

Prohibiting stockholders in brewing companies from signing the bonds of saloon keepers.

Pending Passage by Senate.

Gilliland bill raising saloon bond from $3,000 to $5,000.

Chapman bill to prevent sale of liquor by druggists except on doctor's prescriptions.

Gets After Big Corporations.

Against opposition from the telegraph and telephone companies the house of representatives passed the Tilton bill extending the time in which an injured party must put in a claim for damages against either to six months instead of sixty days as at present. The bill applies only to cases of error in transmission of a message or to unnnecessary delays.

Nine "Lifers" Learn Their Fate.

The senate pardons committee report, adverse to clemency for nine of the eleven convicts who asked for parole, was adopted by the senate. This leaves but two cases not disposed of. Some of those whose applications were rejected will probably appeal to the parole board and governor soon.

Governor is 49 Years Old.

Governor B. F. Carroll is 49 years old. He celebrated the event by working with the executive council in catching up for lost time because of the inauguration. The governor is an Iowan by birth and the 49 years of his career have been spent almost entirely in Davis county and Des Moines.

Chiropractic Examiners.

A third bill by Representative Miller, creating a board of chiropractic examiners and recognizing chiropractic doctors was considered and three practitioners of this school were heard.

Free Teachers from Exams.

School teachers will be given relief from frequent examinations by a bill prepared by Senator Adams, and graduates of high schools and colleges are given recognition without examination for a limited period of time. Persons holding first grade certificates and who can give proof of successful teaching for five years shall have their certificates renewed for life. Applicants whose examinations entitle them to a third grade certificate shall receive the same for one year, at the end of which successful teaching shall be sufficient warrant of a renewal for one year. Applicants who have completed four years of a high school course or its equivalent are under this bill entitled to a third grade certificate for one year. Upon proof of successful teaching for that period the applicant may receive a second grade certificate for two years without further examination. Upon proof of thirty-six weeks of successful teaching the applicant may receive a first grade certificate for life upon passing the examination in such studies as are required for a first grade certificate and were not included in the requirements for graduation. College graduates may be given a second grade certificate and secure a first grade certificate by the same process outlined for high school graduates.

Oregon Plan Killed.

Senator Moon held the support of the democratic minority in the senate for his Oregon plan bills. He made a speech for the bills and was followed by Senator De Wolf. Both explained the working of the Oregon law as to the election of United States senators and asked that the senate vote to adopt the same plan in Iowa. On the roll call the Moon bills received just what had been conceded them—the democratic vote. The republicans voted for Senator Peterson's motion to approve the report of the committee on elections recommending indefinite postponement of the bills. Senator Smith of Burlington and Senator White of the Iowa-Johnson county district were the democrats absent, and Senators Smith of Mitchell, Bruce and Seeley were the three republicans not in attendance .This is the first strictly party measure to be voted upon in the Iowa senate during the present legislative session.

Organized Labor Wins.

Members of organized labor rejoiced when the senate passed the Dowell bill which provides for air brakes on all double truck street cars and gives the companies until January 1, 1912, to finish the equipping of the last one-third of the cars now in service. All cars purchased subsequent to the passage of the bill by the lower house must have air brakes. The bill was introduced at the request of the street car employes' union.

Senator Ream introduced another measure that is of interest to organized labor. It provides that all road engines on railways shall be equipped with headlights powerful enough to allow the engineer to distinguish objects 1,200 feet in advance of the locomotive. It was referred to the committee on railroads.

Control Board Waiting.

The members of the board of control and the heads of the state institutions under the management of the board have adopted a waiting game. Though their methods have been criticised by members of the legislature and stories of mismanagement and even of cruelty have been told, they are not disposed to make any answer until an official investigation is made and they are officially asked to defend themselves. The head of every state institution under the board is attending the quarterly meetings, but none of these men has a word to say about the legislative investigation.

Can't Sell Beer Even if Papa Agrees.

The Iowa supreme court gave the liquor laws another new twist which will add to the troubles of the registered pharmacists. In a Polk county case, that of Sharp against Davis, the defendant resisted an injunction on the ground that in selling liquor to a minor he had the written consent of the boy's father. The court, in a decision by Judge Evans, holds that this is no protection to the permit holder.

State Will be Redistricted.

The senate has adopted the house bill for a committee to redistrict Iowa as to judges and report a bill within a week, after full and fair investigation of the work done by all the courts of the state. The purpose is to kill off the bill relating to pay of shorthand reporters. The senate also passed the bill increasing the annual allowance of the state board of health by $3,100, makin git $9,000 a year.

Manufacture Serum.

The Wilson bill providing for the establishment of a laboratory to manufacture hog cholera serum for free use of farmers was passed. It carries $8,000 and the plant is to be located at or near Des Moines in charge of the state veterinarian.

Women Who Suffer

from woman's ailments are invited to write to the names and addresses here given, for positive proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does cure female ills.

Tumor Removed.
Chicago, Ill.—Mrs. Alvena Sperling, 11 Langdon Street.
Lindley, Ind.—Mrs. May Fry.
Kinsley, Kans.—Mrs. Stella Gifford Beaman.
Scott, N.Y.—Mrs. S. J. Barber.
Cornwallville, N.Y.—Mrs. Wm. Boughton.
Cincinnati, O.—Mrs. W. K. Housh, 7 Eastview Av
Milwaukee, Wis.—Mrs. Emma Imse, 883 1st St., German.

Change of Life.
South Bend, Ind.—Mrs. Fred Certia, 1014 S. Lafayette Street.
Noah, Kentucky.—Mrs. Lizzie Holland.
Brookfield, Mo.—Mrs. Sarah Lousignont, 207 S. Market St.
Paterson, N.J.—Mrs. Wm. Somerville, 195 Hamburgh Avenue.
Philadelphia, Pa.—Mrs. K. E. Garrett, 2407 North Garnet Street.
Kewaskum, Wis.—Mrs. Carl Dahlke.

Maternity Troubles.
Worcester, Mass.—Mrs. Dosylva Coté, 117 Southgate Street.
Indianapolis, Ind.—Mrs. A. P. Anderson, 1207 E. Pratt Street.
Big Run, Pa.—Mrs. W. E. Pooler.
Atwater Station, O.—Mrs. Anton Muelhaupt.
Cincinnati, Ohio.—Mrs. E. H. Maddocks, 2135 Gilbert Avenue.
Mogadore, Ohio.—Mrs. Lee Manges, Box 131.
Dewittville, N.Y.—Mrs. A. A. Giles.
Johnstown, N.Y.—Mrs. Homer N. Seaman, 108 E. Main Street.
Burtonview, Ill.—Mrs. Peter Langenbahn.

Avoid Operations.
Hampstead, Md.—Mrs. Jos. H. Dandy.
Adrian, Ga.—Lena V. Henry, Route No. 3.
Indianapolis, Ind.—Bessie V. Piper, 29 South Addison Street.
Louisville, Ky.—Mrs. Sam Lee, 3523 Fourth St.
South West Harbor, Maine.—Mrs. Lillian Robbins, Mt. Desert Light Station.
Detroit, Mich.—Mrs. Frieda Rosenau, 544 Meldrum Avenue, German.

Organic Displacements.
Mozier, Ills.—Mrs. Mary Ball.
Ligonier, Ind.—Mrs. Eliza Wood, R.F.D. No. 4.
Melbourne, Iowa.—Mrs. Clara Watermann, R. F. D. No. 1.
Bardstown, Ky.—Mrs. Joseph Hall.
Lewiston, Maine.—Mrs. Henry Cloutier, 56 Oxford Street.
Minneapolis, Minn.—Mrs. John G. Moldan, 2115 Second Street, N.
Shamrock, Mo.—Josie Ham, R. F. D. No. 1; Box 22.
Marlton, N.J.—Mrs. Geo. Jordy, Route No. 3, Box 40.
Chester, Ark.—Mrs. Ella Wood.
Ocilla, Ga.—Mrs. T. A. Cribb.
Pendleton, Ind.—Mrs. May Marshall, R.R. 44.
Cambridge, Neb.—Mrs. Nellie Moslander.

Painful Periods.
Goshen, Ala.—Mrs. W. T. Dalton, Route No. 3.
Chicago, Ill.—Mrs. Wm. Tully, 465 Ogden Av.
Paw Paw, Mich.—Mrs. Emma Draper.
Flushing, Mich.—Mrs. Burt Loyd, R. F. D. No. 3; care of D. A. Sanborn.
Coffeeville, Miss.—Mrs. S. J. Jones.
Cincinnati, Ohio.—Mrs. Flora Ahr, 1362 Ernst Street.
Cleveland, Ohio.—Miss Lizzie Steiger, 5510 Fleet Avenue, S.E.
Wesleyville, Pa.—Mrs. Maggie Ester, R.F.D. 1.
Dyersburg, Tenn.—Mrs. Lue Hilliard, R.R. 1.
Hayfield, Va.—Mrs. Mayme Windle.

Irregularity.
Herrin, Ill.—Mrs. Chas. Folkel.
Winchester, Ind.—Mrs. May Deal.
Dyer, Ind.—Mrs. Wm. Oberloh, R. F. D. No. 1.
Baltimore, Md.—Mrs. W. S. Ford, 1938 Lansdowne Street.
Roxbury, Mass.—Mrs. Francis Merkle, 13 Field Street.
Clarksdale, Mo.—Miss Anna Wallace.
Guysville, Ohio.—Mrs. Ella Michael, R.F.D. 3.
Dayton, Ohio.—Mrs. Ida Hale, Box 25, National Military Home.
Lebanon, Pa.—Mrs. Harry L. Rittle, 233 Lehman Street.
Sykes, Tenn.—Minnie Hall.
Detroit, Mich.—Mrs. Louise Jung, 332 Chestnut St.

Ovarian Trouble.
Vincennes, Ind.—Mrs. Syl. B. Jerauld, 508 N. Tenth Street.
Gardiner, Maine.—Mrs. S. A. Williams, R. F. D. No. 14; Box 39.
Philadelphia, Pa.—Mrs. Chas. Boell, 2407 N. Garnet Street.
Plattsburg, Miss.—Miss Verna Wilkes, R.F.D. 1.

Female Weakness.
Willimantic, Conn.—Mrs. Etta Donovan, Box 239.
Woodside, Idaho.—Mrs. Rachel Johnson.
Rockland, Maine.—Mrs. Will Young, 6 Columbia Avenue.
Scottville, Mich.—Mrs. J.G. Johnson, R.F.D. 3.
Dayton, Ohio.—Mrs. F. R. Smith, 431 Elm St.
Erie, Pa.—Mrs. J. P. Endlich, R. F. D. No. 7.
Beaver Falls, Pa.—Mrs. W. P. Boyd, 2109 Seventh Avenue.
Fairchance, Pa.—Mrs. I. A. Dunham, Box 152.
Fort Hunter, Pa.—Mrs. Mary Jane Shatto.
East Earl, Pa.—Mrs. Augustus Lyon, R.F.D. 2.
Vienna, W. Va.—Mrs. Emma Wheaton.

Nervous Prostration.
Oronogo, Mo.—Mrs. Mae McKnight.
Camden, N.J.—Mrs. Tillie Waters, 451 Liberty Street.
Joseph, Oregon.—Mrs. Alice Huffman.
Philadelphia, Pa.—Mrs. John Johnston, 210 Siegel Street.
Christiana, Tenn.—Mrs. Mary Wood, R. F. D. No. 3.
Pecos, Texas.—Mrs. Ada Young Eggleston.
Graniteville, Vt.—Mrs. Chas. Barclay, R.F.D.

These women are only a few of thousands of living witnesses of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. Not one of these women ever received compensation in any form for the use of their names in this advertisement—but are willing that we should refer to them because of the good they may do other suffering women to prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable and honest medicine, and that the statements made in our advertisements regarding its merit are the truth and nothing but the truth.

MAPLEINE A flavoring that is used the same as lemon or vanilla. By dissolving granulated sugar in water and adding Mapleine, a delicious syrup is made and a syrup better than maple. Mapleine is sold by grocers. If not send 35c for 2 oz. bot. and recipe book. Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle.

THE WEALTH THAT GROWS—In Seattle

The ground in the heart of Seattle's "Inner Business Circle"—ground measuring but 80 blocks, or but one-326th of the city's entire area, and occupied by the city's most prominent and valuable business blocks and "skyscrapers"—is a "gold mine;" a mine possessing not merely inexhaustible values, but ever-increasing values.

The total assessed valuation of these 80 blocks in 1900 was $9,879,330. In 1908 it amounted to one-fifth of the city's assessed valuation, or nearly $35,000,000, an increase averaging more than 25% a year.

YOU, no matter WHERE you live nor HOW SMALL your capital, can secure a permanent, growing ownership in this inexhaustible, expanding "gold mine" by investing in the non-taxable UNITS OF OWNERSHIP of specific properties in Seattle's business center—UNITS created by my Company. Write to me now, and let me send you the facts.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

FINE FLORIDA FARMS
$15 ACRE Perfect Title — $10 DOWN; $5 MONTH No Interest — 10% DISCOUNT For Cash
KALAMAZOO, Florida, only 8 miles from Sanford where $1,900 in lettuce and $2,000 in celery taken from 1 1-2 acres in one season. Truck growers' paradise. Farming profitable every month; doubly profitable in winter. Every vegetable easily grown and marketed at immense profits. Fla. East Coast Ry. practically on property. Atl. Coast Line and St. John River connections. Eastern markets only 48 hours away. Titles perfect. We will give you a farm if what we say isn't so. Reference: Union Savings Bank, Jacksonville, Fla.
FLORIDA DEVELOPING CO., DUVAL BLDG., JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA.

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fever

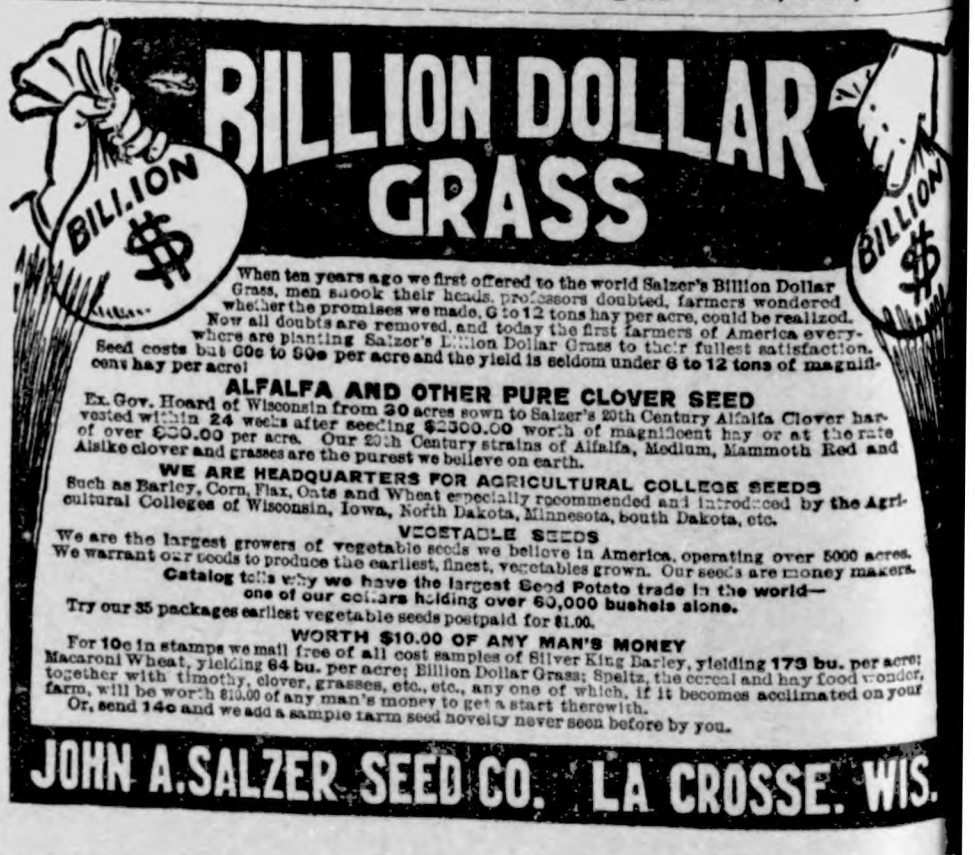
Sure cure and positive preventive, no matter how horses at any age are infected or "exposed." Liquid, given on the tongue; acts on the Blood and Glands; expels the poisonous germs from the body. Cures Distemper in Dogs and Sheep and Cholera in Poultry. Largest selling live stock remedy. Cures La Grippe among human beings and is a fine Kidney remedy. 50c and $1 a bottle, $5 and $10 a dozen. Cut this out. Keep it. Show to your druggist, who will get it for you. Free Booklet, "Distemper, Causes and Cures." Special agents wanted.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.



TAFT MESSAGE SETS A RECORD

PRESIDENT SENDS TARIFF VIEWS TO CONGRESS.

IS SHORTEST DOCUMENT

Adheres to Revision Pledge with Treatise of Less Than 400 Words—Conditions Changed, He Says.

Washington. — When President Taft's personal messenger arrived at the capitol Tuesday, supposedly with the executive message on the tariff question, groans went up from both houses of congress. The congressmen, seeing no evidence of a message, drew the quick conclusion that the president hadn't written it yet and that it was to be postponed for another day.

They knew the message was to be short, but they were thunderstruck when the messenger pulled it out of his vest pocket and laid it before the clerks. It was less than 400 words in length, thus setting a new record for short messages. The messenger had memorized it on the way over from the White House, but owing to the amendment to the old house rules, he was not allowed to recite it, so the clerk read it there.

"Get busy," wa sthe theme of the abbreviated document, the president simply telling congress that conditions in the past 12 years had so changed that a revision of the present tariff duties was an absolute necessity. He further called attention to the fact that in the republican convention at Chicago last June, the party had promised to revise the tariff if elected and this must be done.

As President Roosevelt's messages were usually long and as the former occupant of the White House had engaged in a small war with congress, there was a general expression of satisfaction.

Following is the message:

"To the Senate and House of Representatives: I have convened the congress in this extra session in order to enable it to give immediate consideration to the revision of the Dingley tariff act. Conditions affecting production, manufacture and business generally have so changed in the last 12 years as to require a readjustment and revision of the import duties imposed by that act. More than this, the present tariff act, with the other sources of government revenue, does not furnish income enough to pay the authorized expenditures. By July 1st, next, the excess of expenses over receipts for the current fiscal year will equal $100,000,000.

"The successful party in the late election is pledged to a revision of the tariff. The country, and the business community, especially, expect it. The prospect of a change in the rates of import duties always causes a suspension or halt in business because of the uncertainty as to the changes to be made and their effect. It is therefore of the highest importance that the new bill should be agreed upon and passed with as much speed as possible consistent with its due and thorough consideration. For these reasons I have deemed the present to be an extraordinary occasion within the meaning of the constitution, justifying and requiring the calling of an extra session.

"In my inaugural address, I stated in a summary way the principles upon which, in my judgment, the revision of the tariff should proceed, and indicated at least one new source of revenue that might be properly resorted to in order to avoid a future deficit. It is not necessary for me to repeat what I then said.

"I venture to suggest that the vital business interests of the country require that the attention of the congress in this session be chiefly devoted to the consideration of the new tariff bill, and that the less time given to other subjects of legislation in this session, the better for the country.

(Signed) "WILLIAM H. TAFT.

"The White House, March 16, 1909."

BOY OUT OF WORK A SUICIDE.

Leaves a Pathetic Note for Little Girl, His Only Friend.

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 16.—Guthrie Powers, 19 years old, killed himself in his room by drinking carbolic acid late yesterday. He could not find work. He and the little daughter of the housekeeper were fast friends, and Guthrie left for the child the following note:

"My Dear Little Verna: I am sorry I cannot look into your dear, sweet face again. Honey, good-by. There is no place on earth for me. You are my dearest and only friend. What is life without friends or home?"

The youth left his home six weeks ago, after a quarrel with his stepfather.

PREVENTING PAINT TROUBLES.

It's easy enough to recognize the symptoms of poor paint, after it has been on awhile—after its inherent tendency to crack and peel and scale and blister, etc., has developed into trouble. You know these paint "diseases" usually indicate adulteration or substitution in the paint materials. And you know the only remedy is repainting.

A little knowledge of paint and painting requirements, and how to made sure of the purity and quality of materials, would prevent all trouble, and save the big extra expense of re-painting; just as a proper knowledge of simple health-laws, and observance of them, prevents sickness.

A complete painting guide, including a book of color schemes, specifications for all kinds of painting work, and an instrument for detecting adulteration in paint materials, with directions for using it, can be had free by writing National Lead Co., 1902 Trinity Bldg., New York, and asking for Houseowner's Painting Outfit No. 49.

A very simple guide in the purchase of white lead (the only sure and safe paint material) is the famous "Dutch Boy Painter" trademark; that trademark is an absolute guarantee of purity and quality.

Bank Balance and Independence.

Business women have evolved the idea of saving, and the thrifty incentive was not inspired by their brothers, but rather envelops the girl with pendence which evolves th. girl with $300 or $400 to her credit and spurs her on to add more and more to the reserve.

Breaking the News Gently.

A good example of the extremely courteous in public correspondence was the notice sent to Charles James Fox that he was no longer a member of the government of George the Third. It read thus: "His gracious majesty has been pleased to issue a new commission, in which your name does not appear."

Fiery Courtesy.

In a Canadian town a few days ago a dry goods firm was burned out in the morning. In the afternoon a competing firm inserted the following advertisement in a local paper:

"We desire to extend our sympathy to our respected competitors in their loss by fire and to express the hope that their affairs may soon be so adjusted as to enable them to continue business without undue loss of time."

She Had Tested the Oyster.

Dora, the pet of the household, was very fond of cysters, and after eating her lunch of oysters and crackers she thought of her dear mother busy at her sewing machine. She selected a nice large oyster, put it in a plate and carried it to her mother, who, pleased with her little daughter's thoughtfulness, ate the oyster and said:

"It is most as good as my little girlie."

"Yes," answered Dora. "I know it is good 'cause I licked it all the way from the kitchen."—The Delineator.

Aesthetic Lily.

"Here comes my little Lily!" exclaimed a doting mother to a roomful of guests. "I have nursie take her for a walk in the park every afternoon, and you have no idea how rapidly it is developing her sense of the aesthetic—the beautiful! Come here, my darling. Tell us what you remember best about your walk in the park to-day."

Lily's breath came hard. She paused a moment, then answered in a shrill, excited treble:

"Oh, mamma, the bears smelt awful."

LESS MEAT
Advice of Family Physician.

Formerly people thought meat necessary for strength and muscular vigor.

The man who worked hard was supposed to require meat two or three times a day. Science has found out differently.

It is now a common thing for a family physician to order less meat, as in the following letter from a N. Y. man.

"I had suffered for years with dyspepsia and nervousness. My physician advised me to eat less meat and greasy foods generally. I tried several things to take the place of my usual breakfast of chops, fried potatoes, etc., but got no relief until I tried Grape-Nuts food.

"After using Grape-Nuts for the cereal part of my meals for two years, I am now a well man. Grape-Nuts benefited my health far more than the $500.00 worth of medicine I had taken before.

"My wife and children are healthier than they had been for years, and we are a very happy family, largely due to Grape-Nuts.

"We have been so much benefited by Grape-Nuts that it would be ungrateful not to acknowledge it."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Took It Personally.

An author engaged a young lady typewriter to take down his new novel from dictation. At the passage: "Oh! my adorable angel, accept the confession from my lips that I cannot exist without you! Make me happy; come and share my lot and be mine until death do us part!"—his fair secretary paused and ingenuously inquired: "Is that to go down with the rest?"

What a Woman Will Not Do.

There is nothing a woman would not do to regain her lost beauty. She ought to be fully as zealous in preserving her good looks. The herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine or Lane's Tea is the most efficient aid in preserving a beautiful skin, and will do more than anything else to restore the roses to faded cheeks. At all druggists' and dealers', 25c.

A Bad Break.

"That was a bad break Dr. Green made."

"What was it?"

"He advised our traveling man to give up work for a while and travel for his health."—Detroit Free Press.

Thousands of country people know that in time of sudden mishap or accident Hamlins Wizard Oil is the best substitute for the family doctor. That is why it is so often found upon the shelf.

A Cold Deal.

"And so he made a cool million?"

"Yep, cornered the ice market."—Yale Record.

A pessimist needs Garfield Tea, the Herb laxative which regulates the liver, corrects constipation and brings good health and good spirits.

Every time a married man lets out the remark that he is free from worry and care, other married men give him the merry grin.

"Brown's Bronchial Troches" give relief in Bronchial and Lung Troubles. A simple remedy. 25 cents a box. Samples sent free by John I. Brown & Son, Boston, Mass.

Nine men out of a possible ten wear a sad look after they have been married a year.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

No man will become a drunkard if he knows how to make a home run.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

It is what it is "cracked up to be," if it is ice.

Use Allen's Foot-Ease
Cures tired, aching, sweating feet. 25c. Trial package free. A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

The professional tramp never punctures his tire.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product, has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the appoval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed, because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States, in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

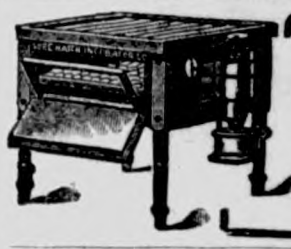
Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

ADDRESSES
Louisville, Ky. — San Francisco, Cal. U. S. A. London, England. — INCORPORATED New York, N. Y.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.



BIG COME DOWN IN PRICES

Famous Sure Hatch Incubators

Will be sold CHEAP the next few weeks. Best machine in the world. Built for real business, and will make you money. Get into the business now and raise chickens while Poultry and Eggs are high priced. Send for big free book about our Incubator and the Poultry Business.

Sure Hatch Incubator Co., Box 169, Fremont, Neb.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

This Trade-mark Eliminates All Uncertainty

in the purchase of paint materials. It is an absolute guarantee of purity and quality. For your own protection, see that it is on the side of every keg of white lead you buy.

NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY
1902 Trinity Building, New York

ONION SEED 60 cts. a lb.

Per Salzer's catalog page 129.

Largest growers of onion and vegetable seeds in the world. Big catalog free: or, send 16c in stamps and receive catalog and 1000 kernels each of onions, carrots, celery, radishes, 1500 each lettuce, rutabaga, turnips, 100 parsley, 100 tomatoes, 100 melons, 1200 charming flower seeds, in all 10,000 kernels, easily worth $1.00 of any man's money. Or, send 20c and we will add one pkg. of Earliest Peep O'Day Sweet Corn.

SALZER SEED CO., Box W, La Crosse, Wis.

DISSATISFIED: If you own OIL or MINING SHARES that you will sell for cash, write at once. MINES INVESTIGATION CO., 305 Hibernia Bldg., San Francisco, Cal.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

Check that Cold by using A-B-C TEA Only 25cts. a Large Package.

MEXICO LAND Best agricultural and timber land in Republic. Price $3 per acre. Address KENZY BENHAM, Cisco, Texas.

320 Acres of Wheat Land IN WESTERN CANADA

WILL MAKE YOU RICH

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Fifty bushels per acre have been grown. General average greater than in any other part of the continent. Under new regulations it is possible to secure a homestead of 160 acres free, and additional 160 acres at $3 per acre.

"The development of the country has made marvelous strides. It is a revelation, a record of conquest by settlement that is remarkable."—Extract from correspondence of a National Editor, who visited Canada in August last.

The grain crop of 1908 will net many farmers $20.00 to $25.00 per acre. Grain-raising, mixed farming and dairying are the principal industries. Climate is excellent; social conditions the best; railway advantages unequalled; schools, churches and markets close at hand. Land may also be purchased from railway and land companies.

For "Last Best West" pamphlets, maps and information as to how to secure lowest railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

PILES

"I have suffered with piles for thirty-six years. One year ago last April I began taking Cascarets for constipation. In the course of a week I noticed the piles began to disappear and at the end of six weeks they did not trouble me at all. Cascarets have done wonders for me. I am entirely cured and feel like a new man." George Kryder, Napoleon, O.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 920

6% QUARTERLY

We pay interest every three months at the rate of six per cent. yearly. Our investments are all in mortgages on New York City real estate. Twenty years' experience in New York real estate. Principal and interest guaranteed. Communications confidential. Write:

Liberty Financial & Security Co.,
CITY INVESTING BUILDING. NEW YORK CITY

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.
A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery
FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

4436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
4437 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

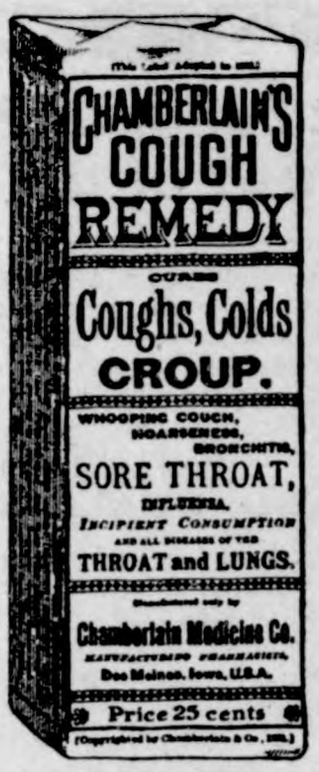
Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.



See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

Sneeze Is Cure for Faintness.

There is no more sure cure for an attack of faintness than a hearty sneeze.

It immediately stimulates the blood vessels of the brain.

In many persons fainting never goes so far as a loss of consciousness or loss of control of the limbs.

And in these the sudden weakness is often brought to an end by a sneeze caused by nature herself without any external aid.

A grain or two of tobacco introduced into the nose or tickling its interior lightly will insure a sneeze.

These simple procedures, or others similar in character, may prove invaluable when smelling salts and other elegant aids are absent.

Shoulder Straps.

In the United States army the several branches of the service are distinguished by the color of the shoulder strap, the infantry wearing white, the cavalry yellow and the artillery red. The grades of rank of commissioned officers are indicated by symbols of gold or silver on the shoulder strap as follows: Second lieutenant, blank; first lieutenant, a silver bar at each end; captain, two silver bars at each end; major, two gold oak leaves; lieutenant colonel, two silver leaves; colonel, a silver spread eagle; brigadier general, one silver star; major general, two silver stars; lieutenant general, three silver stars; general, two silver stars with the United States arms between.

One Hundred Years Ago.

It has been some time announced that the new machine for traveling without horses, being impelled entirely by steam, was matched to run 24 hours against any horse in the kingdom. This bet, so novel in the sporting world, will be decided on Wednesday and Thursday next. The machine is to start at two o'clock on Wednesday on its ground in the fields near Russell square to demonstrate the extent of its speed and endurance. Very large sums are depending on the issue. —From the London Observer, September 18, 1808.

New Decorative Idea.

The hostes who wishes something different is asked to try using striped and fancy grasses, rushes and little wild foliage plants that grow in damp places and along streams. A table can be made very pretty with these, using no flowers. Try it.

The Colonel's Leg in History.

Col. Blank, who later called himself general, received, in a little skirmish of the Civil war, a slight scratch on the leg. In the days afterward he nursed his glorious wound with loving care and grew lamer year by year that the memory of his bravery might be ever fresh.

When grown old, as he sat one day caring for his leg and musing on the glorious past, a young man, a stranger visiting the family for a few days, approached him and inquired, sympathetically:

"Lame, general?"

"Yes, young man, I am lame."

"Been riding, sir?"

"No, sir," sternly and rebukingly, "I have not been riding."

"Ah, slipped on the ice, general?"

"No, sir!" with actual ferocity.

"Then, perhaps, sir, you have sprained your ankle?"

The old man slowly and carefully lifted his pet leg in both hands and tenderly set his foot upon the floor. Then he slowly rose from his seat and stood looking down with scornful pity at the unlucky youth. At last, in the sublimity of rage, he burst out:

"Go and read the history of your country, you puppy!"

How He Hunted Bear.

A New York Irishman was visiting a friend in the Adirondacks and was taken with a desire to go hunting. Borrowing a gun from his friend he set off alone in search of game. Some time after his host heard a distant report of a gun. A few minutes later he heard some one shouting. From a window he spied, in the distance, his friend, hot-footing it for home, and behind him a bear, gaining at every step. Nearly spent, the pursued reached the door just in time to cry out:

"Quick, Mike! Quick! Open the door! I'm bringing him home aloive!"

Good Old Stock.

"Have ye anny ancisters, Mrs. Kelly?" asked Mrs. O'Brien.

"An' what's ancisters?"

"Why, people you shprung from."

"Listen to me, Mrs. O'Brien," said Mrs. Kelly, impressively. "I come from the rale stock of Donahues, thot shpring from nobody. They shpring at thim!"

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED, REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

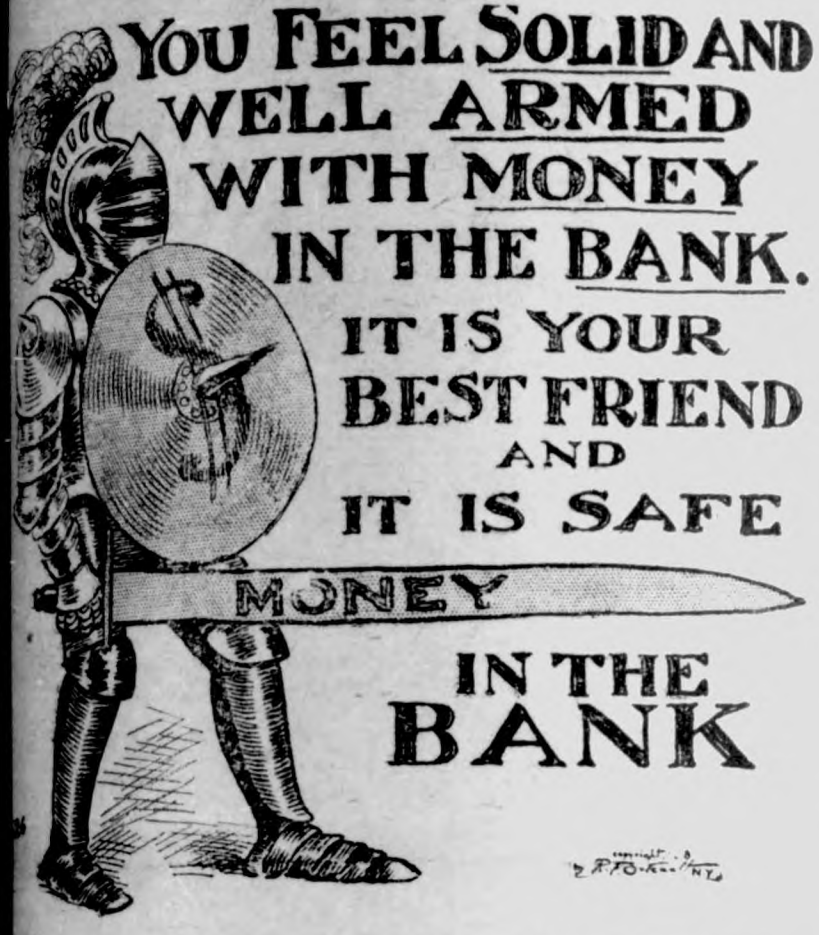
SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 35 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, APR. 1, 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE



The Fire and Tornado season is at hand—now is the time to buy your insurance—let us write you a combined policy in one of our good companies and insure you against loss.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

North Elevator

—FOR—

Seeds! Seeds! Seeds!

Medium Red Clover
Mammoth Red Clover
Alsike Clover
Timothy—extra fancy

My seeds comply with the Iowa Pure Seed Laws.

☞ Place your orders now—my prices are right.

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

FOR PHYSICIANS AND NURSES.

New Watch That Indicates Number of Beats of the Pulse.

A new watch has been invented for the use of physicians and nurses in counting the pulse. The watch indicates, without mental calculation, the number of beats of the pulse in a minute. It operates on the principle of a stop-watch. By pressing the push-button a large second hand is set in motion, and the counting of the pulsations begins. At the twentieth pulsation the motion of the hand is stopped by another pressure of the push-button. The dial accurately indicates the exact number of pulsations per minute. A third pressure on the push-button brings the hand back to the starting point. The use of this instrument does away with the necessity of observing the progress of the watch while taking the pulse, and in addition insures an absolutely correct record. The instrument is also a chronographic counter, facilitating the making of observations, which are automatically recorded in minutes, seconds and fifths of a second. A small dial placed below the 12 records minutes from 0 to 30. The large hand records seconds and fifths of a second.—Scientific American.

HERRINGS NO LONGER SMOKED.

They Are Now Painted with a Harmless Chemical Extract.

"Extract of smoke," said the canner, dipping his brush into a pot of brown fluid.

"Extract of smoke?" repeated the dazed reporter.

"Smoke extract," said the canner. He took up a fresh herring, painted it with the dark mixture, and laid it on a board beside a long, long line of brother herrings. "Now, in the past," he explained, "you smoked herrings by hanging them up for days in smoke houses wherein smoldered fires of costly aromatic woods. That process was slow and expensive; we have quite improved it out of existence. We paint our herring now with this really quite harmless chemical extract of smoke—a coal tar product—and as soon as he is dry he is ready for the market."

The reporter tasted one of the herrings. "But this isn't half as good as the smoked herring of my boyhood," he protested.

"Not as good, perhaps," agreed the canner, "but ever so much more profitable."

Error About Patents.

There is a very general notion that when the United States government gives a man a patent for an invention by this very act the patentee is in possession of exclusive and inalienable rights to his invention for a term of years. Now this is the very thing that does not necessarily exist, and the very thing that patentees, investors and the public would like to have established. Most patents are exploited by others than inventors, and the money for the purpose is largely supplied by those with little knowledge of the laws. It has happened time and time again that the governmental patent has proved worthless. Iti used to be that it was litle more than prima facie evidence to be used in litigation. Of recent years there has been some improvement in the laws and practice, but at present there is no governmental guaranty behind the papers issued to any inventor.

Scots as Pilate's Body Guard.

Of Andrew Carnegie the London Chronicle remarks: "Mr. Carnegie is not only a millionaire of millionaries; he is also a Scot of Scots, who, in spite of all temptations to belong to other nations, remains a Scotsman. Ever since the fifth century, he says, 'Scotsmen had led the world,' but he might have gone five centuries further back still and asseverated that the bodyguard of Pontius Pilate was composed of Caledonians, the Dugald Dalgettys of their time. Such at least is the claim put forward by the Royal Scots, now the premier regiment of the British line, who are alternatively known as 'Pontius Pilate's bodyguard.'"

THE ORIGINAL LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE HONEY AND TAR
Red Clover Blossom and Honey Tee on Every Bottle

All Taxes

become due and a lien after Jan. 1st a penalty of one cent per month attaches after April 1st. If first installment of tax is paid before April 1st balance can run until October 1st before penalty attaches. We have tax lists of German, Ellis, Avery and Twin Lake townships and the town of Klemme. We make no charge for paying taxes.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING
HORSE SHOEING A
SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL

As You Enter a Beautiful Home You Admire First

The Decorative Treatment.

Here are new Wall Papers that will help you to make your house more beautiful.

Elegant Shades suituble for kitchen that show neither dust or smoke.

10c UP

Nobby dining and sitting room patterns with drop ceiling effect, also fruit patterns.

15c UP

Parlor paper latest designs.

20c UP

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & M r.

Klemme, - - Iowa

REDS ON WARPATH

DESPERATE BATTLE BETWEEN WHITES AND INDIANS.

AT HICKORY GROVE, OKLAHOMA

Snake Tribe Had Been Buying Rifles and Bullets For Months, and Will Fight.

Oklahoma City, March 28.—Five companies of military have been ordered out to the scene of the Indian battle at Hickory Ground.

Two officers dead, another fatally wounded, four companies of militia on the way and armed men from sev- places gathering for battle. These are the results of an attempt of five officers to arrest Chief Harjo, head of the Snake clan of Creek Indians at Hickory Ground.

The dead:

Herman Odom, Checktoh, son of the sheriff of McIntosh county.

Edw. Daum, city marshal of Checktoh.

Badly wounded:

Frank Swift of Muskogee.

Frank Jones and William Carr, other members of the gang, escaped and carried Swift with them. When they reached Pierce, the alarm was given.

Armed Men on Scene.

More than a hundred armed men from various nearby settlements are already on the way to the scene and four companies of militia are on their way.

When the officers approached Harjo's cabin they were fired upon by at least twenty persons.

Odom and Daum fell dead and Swift was seriously injured. Jones ran a few yards and hid himself in a clump of trees until the Indians disappeared. Then he and Carr returned to the bodies of their com anions. Finding them dead they hurried to Pierce. A dispatch from Checktoh says the Snake Indians have been purchasing rifles and ammunition for a month and that they are supplied with powder and lead enough to last them two days.

Creditors Take Calkins Syndicate.

Sacramento, Cal.—All property of the Calkins syndicate, including the publishing plant in San Francisco, the Sacramento Union, Fresno Herald, and several small papers throughout the state, has been taken over by creditors. All of the property of the syndicate is to be disposed of. The statement is made by creditors that there are $150,000 debts on the San Francisco plant.

Felt That Death Was Near.

Manitowoc, Wis.—Upon registering at the Wisconsin Hotel, at Two Rivers, Julius Goergenson, a retired Range Line farmer had a premonition that death was near, and before retiring deposited $250 with the proprietor with instructions to use the money for burial should he die. Goergenson was found dead in his room. Death was pronounced due to heart failure.

Roller Skating Hits Saloons.

Wausau, Wis.—According to Chief of Police Thomas Malone, the roller skating craze has developed into an effective antidote to intemperance. Its attracting power is decidedly stronger for young men than saloons, hence a majority of the youths who used to frequent barrooms before the sport came into vogue can now be found at the rinks.

Rockefeller Honors a Toiler.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—Michael J. Murphy, employed as a blacksmith by John D. Rockefeller on his estate, was buried Thursday. During the funeral, at Mr. Rockefeller's request, all work on the Rockefeller property ceased and the employes attended in a body. Mr. Rockefeller and the other members of his family sent flowers.

Put in Grave as Tower Falls.

San Diego, Cal.—Just at the moment that the body of Henry Timken, the millionaire carriage manufacturer of Ohio and St. Louis, was being lowered into the grave at a local cemetery, a 180-foot tower on the eight story block under construction for Mr. Timken crashed to the ground, injuring two persons slightly.

Death in Cisco, Texas, Fire.

Cisco, Texas.—Fire destroyed the opera house, the merchandise store of Mayhew & Co. and the residence of L. E. Childs. Bert Strickland was killed by a falling wall. Firemen Henry Benham, J. B. Patterson and William McGuire were injured seriously. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth

In Jail For Forgery.

Des Moines.—Driven to desperation by a lack of money with which to buy food, clothing and other necessities of life, Charles Brady, a contractor and a cripple, says that he committed many forgeries and collected thousands of dollars before he was caught.

His downfall came as he attempted to secure $450 from the Central State bank on a forged note and was arrested by Constable Charles Temple. He was taken to the county jail.

The exact amount of the forgeries are unknown, but Brady himself says they will run between $3,000 and $4,000. Officers think it will reach a greater sum.

Brady appeared at the bank and negotiated for a large loan, but the bankers would agree only on a sum not to exceed $500. Before he could get the money, they said he must secure the signature of some property holder as a surety. He left the bank and returned later on with the signature of a prominent business man. When he showed it to the officers they became suspicious and found that it had been forged.

While one of the officers held the attention of Brady, J. D. Whisenand, the vice-president slipped up stairs to the office of Justice Zell Roe, the justice of the peace filed an information charging him with forgery. Constable Charles Temple immediately arrested the man in the bank.

Two Killed by Train.

De Witt.—Ross Vickery, a 17-year-old boy of this place, and Mrs. F. C. Gearhart, aged 59, of Lyons, Ia., were run down and instantly killed by a fast train at the Chicago & Northwestern station here. Mrs. Gearhart had gone to the station, having in charge her daughter. In a few minutes Mrs. Gearhart missed her daughter and started to search for her. She called to her assistance young Vickery, who happened to be passing. They were crossing the double track looking for Mrs. Page and either did not observe the approaching train or did not realize how near it was to them and were both struck and instantly killed. The train was a fast east bound one that does not stop at this station. Ross Vickery was the son of N. J. Vickery of this city.

May Try Junken at Keosauqua.

Keosauqua.—There is considerable talk of bringing John Junken here for trial. It is not improbable, as Keosauqua is in the same circuit as Ottumwa. Keosauqua is a quiet, peaceful old town, slumbering in the great bend of the Des Moines river, and it would be a rude awakening of its citizens if Junken were brought here. This place is distinguished for the great lawyers that have emanated from here, such as Hon. George D. Wright, Judge C. C. Nourse, Judge H. C. Caldwell, and others This is the home of Judge Robert Sloan and he is practicing at the bar now. W. M. Walker is another brilliant and able lawyer practicing here. The same old court house stands on the hill that heard all of these men plead, and the same jail is still used.

Iowa's Youngest Sheriff.

Clinton.—Clinton had the honor of a visit of the youngest sheriff in the state of Iowa. This official hails from Cedar county and is just 26 years of age. Sheriff Piett came to the city on official business and after the fashion of emissaries of the law on business bent, repaired at once to the police station. There it was learned that the visitor was the youngest sheriff in the state. His father held a county office in Cedar county for four terms.

Clue to Assailant.

Ottumwa.—Three letters in the hands of C. M. Johnston may lead to the capture of the man whom Mrs. Johnston alleges assaulted her on the morning of Feb. 15. The contents of the letters the Johnstons refuse to make known, but state that they will turn them over to the postal authorities with a view to apprehending the fiend whom Mrs. Johnston claims was her attacker.

Married in His Own Church.

Greenfield.—The marriage of Rev. Frank McCallon, pastor of the Christian church of Greenfield, to Miss Maude Brown of Orient was solemnized in the groom's church in the presence of 300 invited guests. A wedding supper followed, served in the church by the ladies and was followed by a public reception.

Romance of Fleet's Cruise.

Clinton.—A pretty romance, which grew out of the "around-the-world" cruise of the American battleship fleet, has its culmination here, when Miss Gertrude Ellis, daughter of George Ellis of Los Angeles, neice of Garrett E. Lamb, a millionaire lumberman of this city, was united in marriage with Lieut. Clyde Stanley McDowell of the battleship Georgia of the United States navy. The couple met at San Diego over a year ago when the battleship was anchored there, preparatory to its trip around the world. A friendship quickly sprang up between the couple, which ripened into love, and their engagement was announced recently. Miss Ellis traveled half way across the continent, upon the arrival of the fleet from its 24,000 mile cruise; and Lieutenant McDowell, who is said to be the youngest lieutenant in the American navy, came to Clinton to take his bride east. The nuptial ceremony, one of the most notable society events of the year in the fashionable circles of Clinton, the "city of millionaires," took place at noon. Bishop McDowell of Evanston, Ill., officiating. Lieutenant Morgan of the Louisiana officiated as best man.

Used Gun as Cane; One Dead.

Waterloo.—Ray Ferry of Laporte City is dead and Arthur Kane seriously injured in a hunting accident. Both were crossing a stream and Ferry was using his gun as a cane and had the muzzle under the water when it was accidentally discharged. The gun burst and Ferry was killed and Kine was badly injured.

Thomas Lawler a Former Iowan.

Marshalltown.—It is not generally known that the new attorney general for the department of the interior, Thomas Lawler of Los Angeles, Calif., is a former Iowa boy, but such is the case. Lawler was reared in this city, and is a son of William Lawler, who moved from this city to California twenty years ago. Young Lawler is now a man of 35 and for several years has been prominent as an attorney at Los Angeles.

Expensive Wreck at Dexter.

Dexter.—East bound meat express on the Rock Island went in the ditch here and traffic was completely tied up for ten hours. Sixteen cars of meat were entirely demolished. The cars, after leaving the rails, followed the track for a quarter of a mile and piled up when the switch was struck. The engine staid on the track.

Loses Life in Round House.

Perry.—Thomas Horrigan, one of the oldest men in the service of the Milwaukee road here was almost instantly killed while at work as a sweeper in the round house. An engine was being moved out of the house and Horrigan was caught between the cylinder and door post and crushed to death. He was 70 years old and had been in the employ of the Milwaukee here for more than thirty years.

Bank Robbers are Foiled.

Melvin.—Aroused by the explosions of four charges of dynamite in the First National bank here, citizens armed with shotguns routed robbers who had attempted unsuccessfully to break into the vault. The bandits escaped on a hand car which was found later near Hartley.

Fort Dodge New Postoffice.

Fort Dodge.—Postmaster Robertson is in receipt of a communication from the department relative to the vacation of the present post office building in preparation for the new $130,000 structure authorized by congress. Work on razing the old building will be started within six weeks.

National Convention Called.

Davenport.—William R. Benkert, national chairman of the United Christian party, the unique political organization which has run a candidate for president in several national campaigns, and which was founded in Davenport and has its national headquarters here, has issued a call for the next national convention of the party "in the Watch Tower in Rock Island, Ill., May 1, 1909, to confer with one another concerning the will and kingdom of God in earth, in behalf of humanity, as the assembly led by His Spirit and governed by His command of love, may we see and act upon."

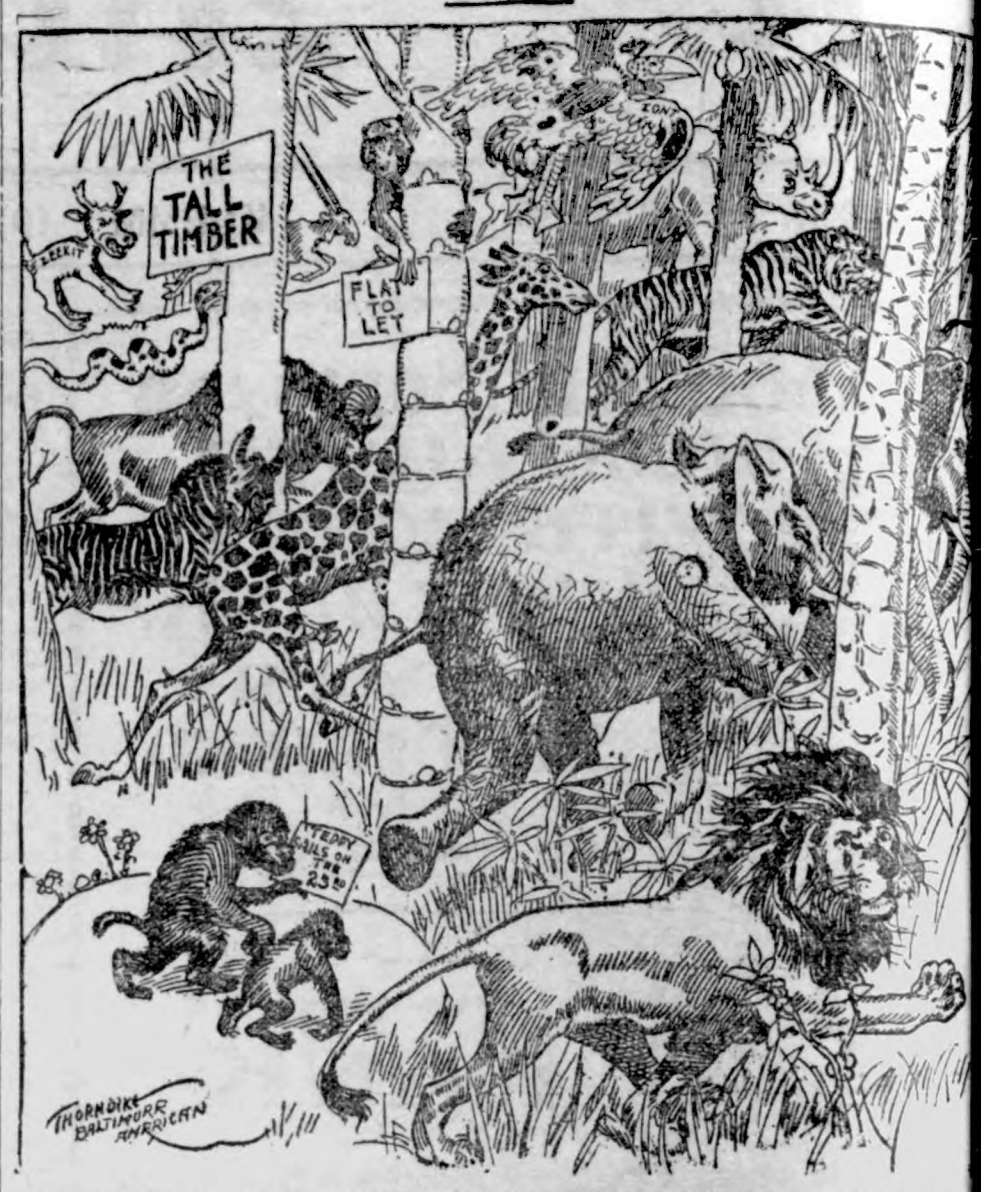
Breaks Up Game of Poker.

Stuart.—While riding down in the branch train from Guthrie Center to Stuart last evening, C. B. Hughes, county attorney of Guthrie county, sat near a quartette of commercial men who were playing poker. Mr. Hughes remained an interested spectator of the game from Guthrie Center to Menlo, where he had the four arrested. They were fined $5 and costs.

Prevent's Mother's Suicide.

Carbon.—Mrs. Jack Burris was saved from hanging herself in the garret by her little son, who, hearing a strange noise, investigated and cut her down before she strangled. She had hung herself because her other son had been sent to the penitentiary for five years by Judge Evans for keeping a house of ill fame. The woman will recover.

MOVING DAY IN THE JUNGLE.



OFFER BINGHAM BIG BRIBE

GOTHAM POLICE COMMISSIONER COULD HAVE $600,000 YEARLY.

Declares His Job Would Be a Gold Mine to a Dishonest Man.

New York. — A dishonest man holding the position of police commissioner in New York city easily might become a millionaire in a few months, so great are the opportunities for illicit gains, according to a statement by Commissioner Bingham.

During Mr. Bingham's first year in the office, he said, a single bribe of $600,000 a year was offered him if he would protect certain criminal interests. "Compliance with the conditions of the offer," he added, "would have been entirely of a negative matter—all they wanted was to be let alone."

Commissioner Bingham was worked up over the refusal of the city aldermen to vote him an appropriation of $100,000 for a secret service to investigate "Black Hand" crimes and other matters.

"This job of police commissioner," he said, "for example, would be a regular gold mine to a dishonest official. If it were put up at auction to the highest bidder, a man could well afford to pay $1,000,000 for a year's opportunity to accept what the criminal classes would be only too glad to offer him."

Then he referred to the $600,000 bribe offer which he had received when he first took up the office. "The offer was of course carefully guarded," he said. "It came from a suave gentleman, who knew how to handle words to perfection and was able to make his hearer understand what was meant without laying himself open to any unpleasant after effects.

"I listened until I understood what the fellow was about. Then I gave him such a talking to that he will never forget his visit here as long as he lives. I have not heard from him since."

Commissioner Bingham declined to give the name of the man who had made the offer, nor would he say what interests had sought protection.

GET CLOSE TO SOUTH POLE.

British Navy Officer and His Party Within 111 Miles.

London.—Lieut. E. H. Shackleton of the British navy, commander of the Antarctic expedition, which returned on the barkentine Nimrod to Invercargill, New Zealand, although he did not achieve his object, succeeded in getting within 111 miles of the pole.

The Nimrod expedition left England in July, 1907, and after reaching the ice fields and making the most elaborate preparations, the main expedition started on a sledge journey which occupied 126 days and traversed 1,708 miles southwards. The explorers reached latitude 88.23 and longitude 162 east, which was estimated as 111 miles from the pole.

MINISTER SLAYS PREACHER.

Lebanon, Mo.—In a quarrel over the entirely mundane question of the efficiency of a telephone service, Rev. M. D. Johnson shot and killed Rev. Solomon O'Dell at the village of Russ.

Both the participants in the fight are ministers of Lebanon. Johnson is a Free Will Baptist, while Mr. O'Dell was a Cumberland Presbyterian. In matters spiritual the two men had always been on perfectly agreeable terms and in their personal life they were friendly.

MRS. LORILLARD A SUICIDE.

Kills Herself with Gas Following Washington Society Dinner.

Washington.—Weary of the gay whirl of society and face to face as she believed with years of physical suffering, Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, Jr., aged 49, wife of the tobacco magnate, committed suicide by asphyxiation at her home near the fashionable Dupont circle in this city Thursday.

The death was made more dramatic by occurring only a few hours after Mr. and Mrs. Lorillard had been the guests of Mrs. Townsend, on Massachusetts avenue, at a dinner given in honor of Lady Paget. She had joined freely in the social festivities of the evening at the Townsend home, where had gathered the Brazilian ambassador and Mme. Nabuco, the Danish minister and Countess Moltke, the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Meyer, Senator and Mrs. Lodge, Senator and Mrs. Aldrich, Senator Root, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Endicot of Boston, Lady Clifford of England, Col and Mrs. Colin Campbell, Col. and Mrs. McCawley, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, Hon. Maude Pauncefote, Commodore Rodgers, Rear Admiral Cowles and Capt. Archibald Butt, military aide of the president.

SOLONS NEAR FIGHT OVER TARIFF

Fordney of Michigan Clashes with Byrd of Mississippi.

Washington.—The monotony of the tariff debate in the house of representatives was relieved for a time Friday by a clash between Messrs. Fordney of Michigan and Byrd of Mississippi which came near ending in blows.

Mr. Fordney had been making an exhaustive discussion of the lumber schedule when he was interrupted by the Mississippian who insisted that the lumber manufacturers of which Mr. Fordney was one, were in a trust. Mr. Fordney peremptorily denied the statement and said that Mr. Byrd didn't know a d—n thing about it."

The Mississippi member made a move toward Mr. Fordney and was in the act of removing his coat when some of his Democratic colleagues took hold of him. Later it developed that the incident grew out of a misunderstanding and both men made mutual explanations and apologies.

KILL THREE AND WOUND FIVE

Oklahoma Deputy Sheriffs in Battle with Negroes and Indians.

Guthrie, Okla. — On the scene of the famous Creek Indian uprising of last year at Hickory settlement, two negroes were killed, five wounded and 40 captured in a battle between 20 deputy sheriffs and 100 negroes and seven Indians. The fighting began late Wednesday afternoon and continued with interruptions until ten o'clock Thursday.

Five deputies went from Henrietta, 18 miles north to the negro settlement to arrest cattle thieves thought to be concealed in the house of one of the negroes. They were met at the outer edge of the camp by a party of armed negroes and fired upon. A few hours after the first clash, a larger posse, heavily armed, reached the settlement. About 300 shots were fired in the last encounter, when the two negroes were killed and Deputy Sheriff Fowler was wounded.

Discovers Germ of Trachoma.

Berlin.—Prof. Richard Greeff of the Berlin university eye hospital announces the discovery of the germ of trachoma.

The SMUGGLER

BY ELLA MIDDLETON TYBOUT

COPYRIGHT 1907 BY J.B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

ILLUSTRATED BY RAY WALTERS

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. The young women met a Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented. Two men called. They proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett, one a friend of Elizabeth's father. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. Fearing for the safety of some gems, Lady Edith left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his actions on board ship. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. At a supper, which was held on the rocks, Elizabeth rather mysteriously lost her ring, causing a search by the entire party. Gabrielle witnessed a stormy scene between Lady Edith and Lord Wilfrid, jealousy being the cause. Mary Anne brought back Elizabeth's ring. Elise went sailing with Gordon Bennett. He tried to persuade her to return the jewels left in the girl's care by Lady Edith. At midnight Elise saw two men—one of them Gordon Bennett—attempting to force an entrance into their boathouse. She admitted to herself that she had nearly loved him and believed herself used as a tool. Mrs. Graham, sick, told Elise of her husband's love for another woman. Gordon Bennett and Blake returned with Mr. Graham's body. He had been murdered. Lord Wilfrid grew sulky. Lady Edith confided to Elise that Blake and Bennett were thieves. Lady Edith led her to where they were trying to break in. The girls were awakened late at night by a noise in the cottage. They found Blake and Bennett awaiting Lady Edith, who, they told the girls, was Nell Simms, a notorious crook, and Lord Wilfrid, a smuggler, wanted for murder. They refused to believe. Blake proved to be a government officer.

CHAPTER XVI.—Continued.

At last it came. A stealthy step, a subdued rustle of skirts, a whispered word of caution, and we were aware that some one had entered the dining room and stood so near the shielding portiere that it moved slightly. We could hear a low voice command some one to go to the foot of the stairs and listen for movements above. Then silence again, and a whisper from Mary Anne that everything was quiet.

A faint light appeared through the opening of the portiere, and, parting it still further, we saw two figures: One a man, on his knees at the door of the safe, while the other, a woman, held the lantern.

The man sprang to his feet with an oath, but his arms were seized by two men in uniform, who in terms more forceful than polite admonished him to keep quiet and make no trouble.

And the woman—Lady Edith? She stood erect, with head flung back and flashing eyes. A scarlet spot flamed in her cheeks, glowing brilliantly at first, then fading to marble whiteness as she looked at the array against her. For a moment she said nothing; then, turning to Mr. Blake, she spoke in an even, mechanical voice.

"I congratulate you upon the success of your coup."

He came nearer and held out his hand authoritatively.

"I will relieve you of that box," he said.

"I will not give it to you."

"I should regret to use force with a woman."

But we could bear no more, and with one accord pushed aside the curtain and entered the room.

"It isn't true!" cried Elizabeth, rushing to her side. "Say it isn't true, and we will believe you."

"Even now, in the face of everything, would you believe me?"

"Yes," I said; "we would indeed. It is your word against theirs—why should we not believe you? Only say it is not true. The box is yours, but why did you get it this way? You took only to tell us you wanted it."

"You hear?" she said, standing tall and erect, her eyes on a level with Mr. Blake's as she looked at him, ignoring his outstretched hand. "My word against yours, and they believe me!"

"I should regret to use force," he repeated. "The box, if you please."

"Stop!" said Gabrielle quickly. "Lady Edith, may I take the box? Thank you. Surely it is a simple matter for you to satisfy this man. Let him open it and prove him wrong once for all, and then neither you nor I need ever see him again."

She unwrapped the first layer of paper, then paused uncertainly.

"Tell me they are yours," she said in a queer, choked voice—"your mother's pearls—and I will believe you. Only look at me and tell me so."

The great brown eyes looked into Gabrielle's clear hazel ones steadily for a minute perhaps, then faltered; the long lashes drooped upon her cheek, and she turned aside, speechless—self-confessed a thief.

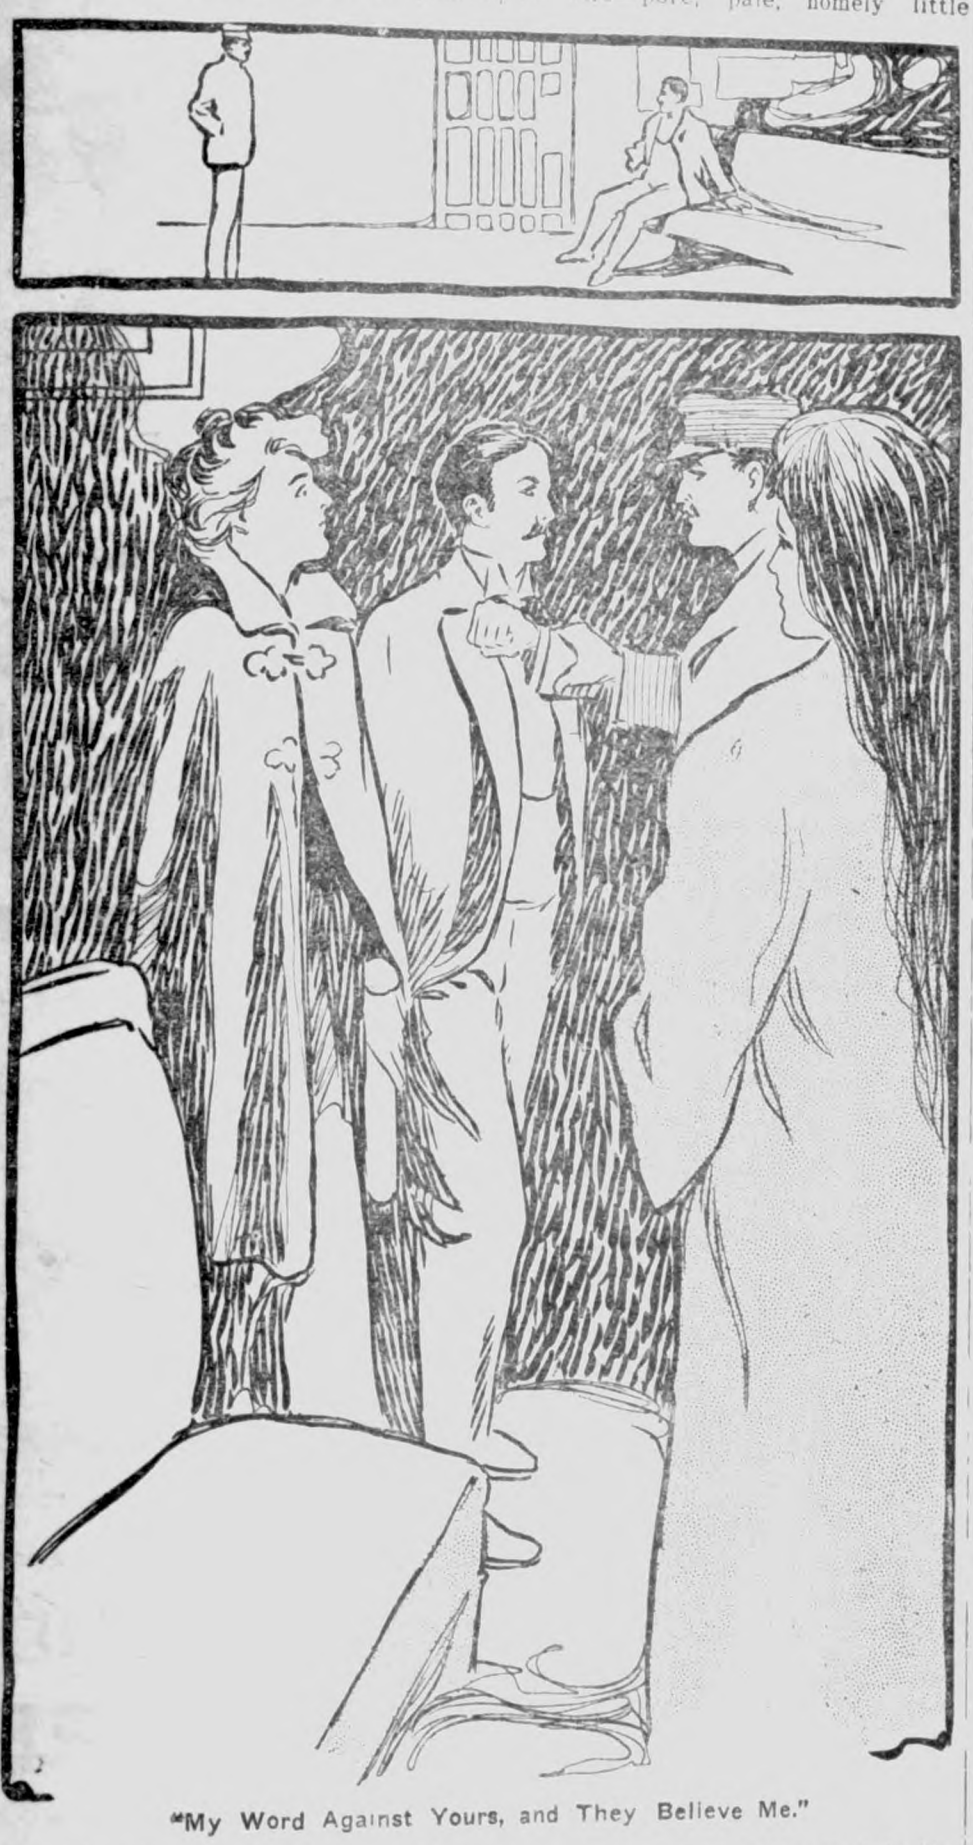
Gabrielle, with a sigh which was almost a sob, handed the box to Mr. Blake. He bowed gravely, removed the cover, and Mrs. Bundy's famous emeralds glittered in their bed of jeweler's cotton. As long as I live I shall hate emeralds, for they can but recall that most painful scene, bringing vividly before me the averted face, and bent golden head, of our once loved friend.

"Surely," said Gordon Bennett, "there is no use in prolonging this scene."

"None whatever," agreed Mr. Blake, making a sign to the officers who held the man I even now think of as Lord Wilfrid.

"I arrest you," said the officer, "for the murder of Harry Graham."

Something flashed in the light, and we heard a sharp click, accompanied



"My Word Against Yours, and They Believe Me."

by a suppressed scream from Mary Anne.

"Not that!" she cried. "Oh, good Lord! not that! Don't put the 'andcuffs on 'im."

"Be quiet," her son said. "Don't you see the game is up?"

She did not heed him, but stood before the officers with raised hand and a certain dignity of carriage which commanded attention in spite of her gingham apron and round red face.

"Aye," she said; "the murder of Mr. Graham. 'E done it—'e struck the blow—but why? Ask the woman beside 'im, 'er with the soft 'ands and the yellow 'air. Ask 'er why he done it. Ain't she 'is wife? Ain't 'e lived and breathed and worked fur 'er ever sence the evil day he fust seen 'er—the day 'e come to me and told me 'e was agoing to take up a trade and live honest and respectable? Wot did she do fur 'im? She smiled on 'im and she coaxed 'im, with 'er sweet voice and pretty ways; she said she couldn't live wi'out 'im, and more, too. And she told 'im 'ow rich she was, and 'ow easy she made 'er money—takin' whatever she laid 'er 'ands on, and smuggling jools and sich acrost the border to 'er friends in the states. Wot did she marry 'im fur? She didn't love him—"

The man made a sudden motion, but the officer laid a restraining hand upon his arm, and Mary Anne continued, pouring out the words in a steady stream which admitted of no interruption.

"She wanted somebody to do 'er dirty work, that's why she married 'im, and tired enough of 'im she got, fur all the gold key she gave 'im an' the cuff button which I thought I'd die when I seen it in yer 'ands, Miss Elise. Was there a stormy night she didn't send 'im out on the ocean wi' a boat-load fur the other side, carin' not a bit whether 'e ever come back or not? Did she care fur anything but 'erself?

"Don't I know 'ow fur years, ever sence she fust seen 'im, she's made that pore dead man work fur 'er? An honest man 'e was, too, at fust, with a wife and child, but wot did she care? 'E was crazy about 'er, and once I heard 'im say 'e'd foller 'er to purgatory and wuss, and 'e left 'is wife and child whenever she called 'im, which she did wi' a lock o' 'air and some fool verse. She liked 'im, too—liked 'is fine figger and 'andsome face, and when he come around she 'ad smiles and to spare, with nothing left fur Willy but black looks and sharp words. Oh, I know!"

"Will some one stop the woman?" said Mr. Blake helplessly; but Mary Anne had more to say, and went close to her daughter-in-law, addressing her directly.

"When you sent fur 'im this summer," she said, "and 'e come as usual, you didn't like it because he brought 'is wife—pore, pale, homely little thing—so you was extra sweet to 'im nights when you met in the boat-'ouse and he sailed you out on the sea, you two alone, and my boy here left behind, eatin' 'is 'eart out with love and jealousy. And you made a plan, you two, so's you could be together alwiz fur you thought you couldn't live apart, you said. So 'e was to leave 'is wife fur good and all and go abroad, and you was to join 'im there, fust lettin' the police in Montreal know how they could git Willy—git 'im fur something 'e done because you told 'im to. But you wanted to close up the bizness 'ere fust, you said, and git the emeralds safely landed, so's you would be sure of the money they'd bring. And Willy wasn't to git a cent, fur you needed it yerself, but 'e thought 'e had 'em, fur you give 'im a box jest like it one night, and started 'im and Mr. Graham off fur the other shore. You never thought, though, when you two was talkin' in the boat-house jest before they sailed, that me and Willy was in the passageway listenin' to you. We 'eard jest 'ow Mr. Graham was to land 'im with the empty box, and sail away immediate, leavin' 'im caught hard and fast. Well you knowed 'e would never peach on you."

She paused and swallowed convulsively.

"So Willy went out in the boat alone with Mr. Graham, and with 'is 'eart black wi' rage and passion. And 'e struck the man meanin' to stun 'im, per'aps. But 'e killed 'im—'e killed im. And I say now, and God in 'eaven knows I'm right, that this woman murdered 'Arry Graham, not my boy—not my boy."

"Officer," said Mr. Blake's quiet voice, "remove the prisoners."

"Good-by," Edith said very gently. "You would have believed me, and I thank you. I—I am glad to have known you. Please forget me, and—good-by."

"And this," Blake said to Gabrielle, "explains our presence in your cellar to-night. I hope you are convinced I spoke the truth."

"Go away," she said in a smothered voice—"go away, and never, never, let me see your face again."

"What have we done?" he inquired, turning to his friend with a puzzled air.

Elizabeth now had the floor, and the mantle of dignity descended upon her.

"I think," she remarked frigidly, "we need not trouble you to stay any longer. We are quite accustomed to being alone—we prefer to be alone."

Gordon Bennett turned helplessly to me, but it was now my turn to be haughty and unappeased. Even under the circumstances, I could not let the others distance me.

"I do not think there is anything more to say, Mr. Bennett," I returned loftily. "I quite agree with my friends."

"It seems," he remarked, turning to Mr. Blake, "as though we might as well go home."

When they reached the door, however, he returned and stood before me, hat in hand, and a very determined aspect about the chin.

"I want to tell you," he said, "that I found the scarf-pin on the slip. It was a sleeve button dropped by the man you call Lord Wilfrid, and the clue Mr. Blake was looking for. I had promised him not to admit to any one where I got it—therefore I lied, as you know. He had it set as a pin, and wished to try the effect on the woman. You know how she gave herself away when she saw it, for you also were watching her. The gold key is the badge of this particular band of smugglers, and they all wear it in various ways. Your servant, Mary Anne, was more sinned against than sinning, and will be allowed to go free. I know you would wish this."

He paused suggestively. I made no reply. "I think that is all," he concluded, "except to say that if I can at any time be of service to you, or if, for any reason, you want to see me, I hope you will let me know. Until then I shall be careful not to intrude."

The hall door slammed with some emphasis, and again we listened to steps crossing the veranda. Then, simultaneously and without restraint, we began to cry, while Mary Anne in the kitchen sobbed heavily.

This did us all good, and when at last we opened the windows and looked out, the ocean sparkled and glittered in the morning sun and the whole world smiled at us just as it had so often done before.

At the point of the island a small, dark object moved swiftly along; we recognized the government boat, and watched it with swimming eyes and trembling lips until it made the turn and disappeared.

Gabrielle pointed to the foam in its wake with a hand that shook slightly.

"There goes Lady Edith," she said; and we looked out over the empty ocean in silence.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Just Enough Crust.

"Enough pie crust for two pies and a little pan of dough," was an order overheard at an uptown bakery in the vicinity of many apartment houses. On inquiry it was ascertained that was not so unusual as it appeared.

"You see," said the clerk, "lots of young housekeepers don't know how to make either pie crust or bread. By buying unbaked bread they can tear it off in pieces and make 'baptist cakes' for breakfast without a bit of trouble and their husbands think them wonderful cooks. As to the pie crust, that's easier still. They perhaps have had some home-made mincemeat sent to them and all they have to do is to roll out the crust, line the pie plate, fill in the mincemeat, put another piece over the top and bake it. It's really no trick at all and still one has the feeling of eating a real home-made pie. Oh, we're used to all sorts of queer tricks in this business, I can tell you, for every woman likes to make herself out to be a good housekeeper if she can. An she generally can if she's ingenious."—N. Y. Sun.

A Clean Slate.

A well-known doctor upon reaching home after a two days' absence noticed that his slate was perfectly clean, whereupon he asked the servant girl, "Has nobody called during my two days' absence? I left this slate out for callers to write their names on, and it is perfectly clean."

"Oh, yes, sir," replied the servant, cheerfully. "A lot of folk has come. An' the slate got so full o' names that only this morning I had to rub them off to make room for more."

45 to 50 Bu. of Wheat Per Acre

have been grown on farm lands in

WESTERN CANADA

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Much less would be satisfactory. The general average is above twenty bushels.

"All are loud in their praises of the great crops and that wonderful country."—Extract from correspondence National Editorial Association of August, 1908.

It is now possible to secure a homestead of 160 acres free and another 160 acres at $3.00 per acre. Hundreds have paid the cost of their farms (if purchased) and then had a balance of from $10.00 to $12.00 per acre from one crop. Wheat, barley, oats, flax—all do well. Mixed farming is a great success and dairying is highly profitable. Excellent climate, splendid schools and churches, railways bring most every district within easy reach of market. Railway and land companies have lands for sale at low prices and on easy terms.

"Last Best West" pamphlets and maps sent free. For these and information as to how to secure lowest railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOES $3.50

The Reason I Make and Sell More Men's $3.00 & $3.50 Shoes Than Any Other Manufacturer

is because I give the wearer the benefit of the most complete organization of trained experts and skilled shoemakers in the country.

The selection of the leathers for each part of the shoe, and every detail of the making in every department, is looked after by the best shoemakers in the shoe industry.

If I could show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make.

My Method of Tanning the Soles makes them More Flexible and Longer Wearing than any others.

Shoes for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses and Children.

For sale by shoe dealers everywhere.

CAUTION! None genuine without W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom.

Fast Color Eyelets Used Exclusively. Catalog mailed free.

W. L. DOUGLAS, 167 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

This Trade-mark Eliminates All Uncertainty

in the purchase of paint materials. It is an absolute guarantee of purity and quality. For your own protection, see that it is on the side of every keg of white lead you buy.

NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY
1902 Trinity Building, New York

Salts and Castor Oil—bad stuff—never cure, only makes bowels move because it irritates and sweats them, like poking finger in your eye. The best Bowel Medicine is Cascarets. Every Salts and Castor Oil user should get a box of CASCARETS and try them just once. You'll see. 884

Cascarets—10c box—week's treatment. All druggists. Biggest seller in the world—million boxes a month.

SEED OATS 60 cts. a bu.

Per Salzer's catalog page 129.

Largest growers of seed oats, wheat, barley, speltz, corn, potatoes, grasses and clovers and farm seeds in the world. Big catalog free: or, send 10c in stamps and receive sample of Billion Dollar Grass, yielding 10 tons of hay per acre, oats, speltz, barley, etc., easily worth $10.00 of any man's money to get a start with, and catalog free. Or, send 14c and we add a sample farm seed novelty never seen before by you. SALZER SEED CO., Box W, La Crosse, Wis.

6% QUARTERLY

We pay interest every three months at the rate of six per cent. yearly. Our investments are all in mortgages on New York City real estate. Twenty years' experience in New York real estate. Principal and interest guaranteed. Communications confidential. Write:

Liberty Financial & Security Co.,
CITY INVESTING BUILDING. NEW YORK CITY

EAT PURITY CHOCOLATES

M'f'd by Windsor-Purity Candy Co., Des Moines. For sale by all first-class dealers.

LARGEST STATE BANK OF OKLAHOMA

Are you fully satisfied with your bank? You insure your life and home, why not insure your bank account? Deposits in this bank are insured by the guaranty fund of the State of Oklahoma.

4% Interest paid on time deposits. Correspondence invited. FIRST STATE BANK OF OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLAHOMA. C. F. Elerick, Pres. Fred Sutton, Cashier.

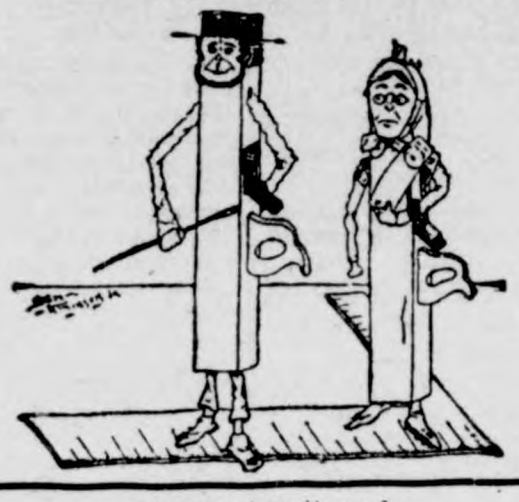
BLOODHOUNDS, Foxhounds, Norwegian Bearhounds Irish Wolfhounds Registered. Stamp for catalog. Rookwood Kennels, Lexington, Ky.

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of



—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

HELLO THERE

Where are you going? I'm going to H. Lau & Son. They handle all kinds of farm implements, Port Huron threshers also the Aultman & Taylor machinery, the 20 Century and Appleton manure spreader, McKinnon and Clinton wagons, Anchor and Velie buggies, Ohio and Kingman cultivators, stirring and gang plows, the open mould board sulky plows the lightest draft, Towers cultivators, Imperial and Challenge wind mills, hog fencing, barb wire, smooth wire gates, pumps and piping of all kinds, feed mills and the international gas engines from 1 to 40 H. P., Milwaukee mowers, binders, Dane bay loaders and buckers, nails and fence staples, wind mills and pump repairing on short notice, the sharpless cream separator the best made today, the Crack a-jack line of samples for tailor made suits.

H. Lau & Son.

Which CREAM SEPARATOR is Cheapest?

Clean Skimming
Easy Running
Long Wearing
U.S.

Several catalogues houses are offering "just as good" cream separators for sale at a lower price than the U. S. Cream Separator sells for. But before the unfortunate purchaser of one of these "mail order" separators gets through paying the repair bills he finds that first cost isn't the only difference. The "cheap" separators soon get out of fix because they are built of cheap material, and loosely put together. The cost of repairs alone in the first year or two would pay the difference in price between one of them and a U. S. But more important still they do not skim clean, they waste cream at every skimming.

U. S. CREAM SEPARATORS

have stood the test of time. Many of them have been in use for 10 years or more, and have cost their owners next to nothing for repairs. They are easy running, skim cleaner than any others, have a simple, easy-to-wash bowl; enclosed, safety gearing and a convenient, low milk tank. See a U. S. Separator for yourself—that's the best way. They are sold by

ELL BROS. Klemme, Ia.

Renew on the Klemme Times.

UP BEFORE THE BAR

N H Brown an attorney of Pittsfield, Vt. writes: We have used Dr. King's new life pills for years and find them such a good family medicine we wouldn't be withou them. For chills constipation, biliousness or sick headache they work wonders, 25c at G A Pabst & Co.

Avery Center.

Jay T. Griggs sold a team last week.

J. F. Hartfelder was buying stock around Thornton Thursday.

Anthony Shaver took in the dance at Theo. Jahnke's Wednesday eve.

J. W. Griggs is kept busy these days shooting wild geese around the park.

Harry Behringer while unloading a shot gun in the house accidently shot a hole threw the wall.

We understand there is a new Doctor in the Center but haven't learned his name at this writing.

O. D. Church says that he has three of the best cows in Avery township. He churned 1261 lbs. during the month of March. He says he can't make money any faster than milking cows like these. He ships all his butter to a Chicago firm and gets the best price that is to be had. These cows give such a large flow of milk that he has to milk them three times a day.

RHEUMATISM

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's liniment is all that is needed and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicines usually given internally for rhenmatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. The are worse than usual in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For sale by G A Pabst & Co.

Gladstone's Opinion of the King.

H. W. Lucy, dean of the house of commons reporters, who has known every prominent politician for the last quarter of a century, continues his reminiscences in the Cornhill Magazine. He gives the following as Mr. Gladstone's characteristic summary of King Edward, given apparently about 1887:

"A shrewd man, a keen observer, full of tact, always educating himself without deliberately sitting down to learn a lesson; rarely opening a book, but keeping himself au courant with whatever is going on in the world, and when the time comes for him to take his part in public business doing it thoroughly."

The Highwayman's Prayer.

Tom L Johnson was criticising, at a holiday banquet, a grasping corporation.

"They are too transparent," he said, "in asking for the passage of this bill. In fact, they remind me vividly of the continental highwayman who, laying his bludgeon and revolver beside him, knelt down on the road in front of a wayside shrine and prayed:

"'I do not ask thee, O Madonna, for money—only send this way an automobile with full pockets.'"

Only One Death in Family in 50 Years.

This was a notable day in the affairs of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Kulp of this city, for it was just 50 years since they were married. To-day's event was attended by the six children and 11 grandchildren, their families and other relatives. There has been but one death in this family, that of a grandchild, which occurred 26 years ago.—Lock Haven Correspondence, Philadelphia Press.

Mortal Offense.

"I'm going to beat your block off!"

"What for?"

"You offended my wife."

"But, my dear sir, I merely refused to elope with her as she wanted me to."

"I know it. And here's where you get trimmed."—Cleveland Leader.

APRIL 11, 1909 IS

EASTER SUNDAY

The day that marks the formal opening of Spring. It is that that we put on our "best bib and tucker" and march forth wearing our new hat and patent leather slippers, not to mention the Easter necktie.

Your Easter Hat is here

It is a "Lampher Hat" which means the hat which is "Always Right."

Come try it on and wear it away.

The Lanpher Hat

The Lanpher Hat

A Half Thousand

Faster Neckties in our show cases. We want every man and boy in our territory to wear a new tie on Easter Sunday.

Come Today
The Picking is Good

Arthur Wellemeyer.

Where your Dollar does its duty.

RESTAURANT
AND LUNCH ROOM

We have a fresh and complete line of Candies, Nuts, Tobacco, Cigars, lunch counter Canned Goods, Soft Drinks and Fruits.

We have fresh home made bakery goods every day. Meals and Lunches served at all hours. We can also accommodate you with lodging. We solicit a share of your patronage.

A. KIRKWOOD & SON

GRAND EASTER OPENING

APRIL 1-2-3,

THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY

We will have the Largest and Finest Display of Easter and Spring Milliuery ever shown The newest creations in Pattern Hats, Trimmed Hats. Childrens Headwear. The latest in Hair Rools also the best Ladies Corsets A fine line of latest Ladies Shirt Waists, Collars, Rushes and Belts.

Miss Polskae a trimmer of great experience is sure to please.

MRS. J. JOSTE

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	50 to 54c
Oats	45 to 49c
Wheat	90 to 100
Barley	55 to60 c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.90
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Change of ad. for State Savings Bank.

Ed. Lenz left for Sioux Falls, S. Dak. on Tuesday.

We call the readers attention to Wellemeyer's Easter Sunday ad.

Emil Haes commenced work on the cement plant at Mason City.

Jake Bachman of Goodell, is doing some mason work in the Elder hotel.

Chas. Gibbs made a business trip to Chicago and Plano, Ill. returning Monday of this week.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

Mrs. J. W. Waterman, daughter Mable and Miss Becker visited with Chas. Behrens and family at Garner Tuesday.

Read the new Restaurant and Lunch Room ad. in this issue oppcsite local page of A. Kirkwood & Son. They solicit a share of your patronage.

The party who pickpocketed a horse collar from H. Lau & Son is known and was seen in the act. The cheapest way out of it is to pay for the collar.

Permanently relieves constipation and indigestion. Regulates the bowels, builds up waste tissue. Makes pure blood. You grow strong, healthy and robust Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea the safest, nicest Spring tonic 35 cents. G. A. Pabst & Co.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets. Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

The hunting season for geese and ducks has been very poor this spring. The late snow we had kept the ponds froze and the game is taking a different route. What game is seen here is flying beyond gun reach. A gattling gun is the only weapon that would face them, still it is great sport to sit upon a cake of ice and anxiously waiting for the game to appear. Try it, we have had the experience.

Do not forget to read State Bank ad.

Luke Wessels is a new Times subscriber.

The snow is gradually going away and the roads are terribly muddy.

Vick Carlson who is confined to his bed with sickness, is at present somewhat better.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

H. L. Suckow and his brother-in-law Mr. Breuer. left for Waseca, Minn. today, Thursday.

Miller and James Lunn moved to Mandan, N. Dak. where they have gone to grow up with the country on their claims.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Baumgaertner of Garner are visiting with their son J. Baumgaertner and family and other acquaintances.

Mr. J. Turgasen and Miss Anna Turgasen of Richland Center, Wis. are visiting with their brother L. O. Turgasen and family.

Geo Wessels took sick suddenly Tuesday and is now confined to his bed with lung fever. We hope that it will not be a serious case.

Bloom keeps all kinds of good seed oats, barley, buckwheet, clover, timothy, rape and milet. Yours for business at the South Elevator. tf

Thos. Elder and family moved up from Goodell last week and are occupying the hotel. We understand that they will open up for business before long.

I have some good improved farms in Southern Minnesota I will trade for a good business, General Merchandise or hardware preferred. Write Box 18, Danvers. Minn.

A few have responded to our statements which we recently sent out to be paid by April 1st. We expect to hear from the balance by the 15th of April. We have payments to meet and expect to hear from you.

At the town election on Monday, Mar. 29th the following town officers were elected:

Mayor, F. Gruetzmacher.
Clerk, N. L. Palmer.
Treasurer, F. H. Ridder.
Assessor, Fred Henschen.
Councilman two years, H. C. Lau, J. Terhufen.
Councilman one year, T. Blank A. G. Koerner.

Dr. W. F Missman has decided to locate with us again. He will be remembered as having been left in care of Dr. Zinn's practice last summer and is well known among many of our people. The doctor is a graduate of the State University at Iowa City, whose medical school is headed by the noted surgeon Dr. J. R. Guthrie of Dubuque Since graduating the doctor has had much experience in hospital work and general practice and make a worthy addition to the countys medical members.

SWEPT OVER NIAGRA

The terrible calamity often happens because a careless boatman ignores the river's warnings growing ripples and faster current. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape fatal maladies—dropsy, diabetes or brights disease. Take Flectric bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. After long suffering from weak kidneys and back one $1 00 bottle wholly cured me, writes J R Blackenship of Belk, Tenn. Only 50 at G A Pabst & Co.

It is up to you to read the State Savings Bank ad

Henry Ihde and his uncle Mr. Klinkenberg were at Garner Monday.

Mrs. H. Griewe and daughter Miss Clara were Garner visitors Tuesday.

If anyone has cattle that they wish pastured this season, call on Aug. Lau.

Mrs. A L. Spooner arrived from Iowa Falls today for a few days visit with relatives.

Rev. Koerner arrived from Reinbeck, Iowa on Monday for a few days visit with relatives.

Mr. Fred Haupt left for Belmond Monday evening for a few days visit with his sister Mrs. Kenefick.

Miss Anna Schuldt visited with her aunt Mrs. M. E. Peck and family at Garner Saturday last week.

Mrs. Gittie M. Sweigard arrived from Goodell Wednesday for a few days visit with her brother Al White and wife on the farm.

Aug. Lau is helping his son H. C. in the elevator and other business matters while H. C. Lau's helper Vick Carlson is on the sick list.

Mart Bachman sold two car loads of cattle to Aug. Lau last week Saturday. Mart went along with the stock to Chicago Sunday morning.

Builds up your whole body. Regulates the bowels. clears the blood, aids digestion, makes you well from head to feet. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do, greatest spring regulator. Tea or Tablets, 35 cents. G. A. Pabst & Co.

The writer of the church locals being absent for more than a week, returned too late to find locals for this week.

It became our duty to spend a few days in Giard, Watson, Monona and vicinity in the interest of Charles City College. In this work we were successful beyond expectation. From there we went to Dubuque to be present Sunday at the dedication of the new Sunday school rooms which have been added to the German M. E. Church. An elaborrte program had been arranged for an all day meeting to which all former pastors had been invited but we were the only one who put in an appearance. It was a rare treat to us tc spend a few days among this congregation whose pastor we had been four years, namely from 1892 to 1896. For Monday evening they had arranged a grand banquet for which about 229 plates were covered. It was a great jubilee. Music and speech making extended to a late hour. Morally, Dubuque has becc me a different city since the saloon business has been brought under control. Every saloon was closed on Sunday and the day seemed hallowed with a peaceful spirit, such as we had never known in Dubuque in former days. It is the result of a combined effort of protestant and Catholics of which Arch Bishop Keene was the central figure. We were told the bishop invited the city council and the ministers to his residence and there the council was informed what the better class of citizens demanded of them. Later a great mass meeting was held and a law inforcement league was formed. This was the beginning of better days for Dubuque.

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to night calls.

Aug. Lau bought a car load of nice cattle of the Arnold brothers last week and shipped them last week Wednesday. Mr. Lau went in with them.

C. C. Suckow and wife visited over Sunday at Iowa Falls with Dr. Spooner and family. Some of the Spooner children returned with them on Monday.

Aug. and Henry Oellermann left for Adams, Dawson Co., Montana where they will again take up their work on their claims. We wish the boys success.

Grace: Pimples, blotches, rough, shiny skin are from the blood and stomach. A simple and never failing remedy—one that makes clear, healthy com plexions, pure blood, perfect digestion, is Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Surprise yourself. Tea or tablets 35 cents. G. A Pabst & Co.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

A. C Ripley	Des Moines
Val. Josten, Jr.	Goodell
A. Oellermann.	Adams, Mon.
E. P. Schaefer	Hebron, Ill.
Mrs. H. C. Josten	Garner
Frank Roath	Klemme
F. Gruetzmacher	"
Chas. Anderson	"
Fred Haupt	"
Chris. Rhodes,	Appleton, Minn

WORDS TO FREEZE THE SOUL

Your son has consumption. His case is hopeless. These appaling words were spoken to Geo. E Blevens a leading merchant of Springfield, N C by two expert doctors— one a lung specialist. Then was shown the wonderful power of Dr. King's new discovery. After three weeks use, writes Mr. Blevens he was as well as ever. I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for my boy. Infallible for coughs and colds its the safest, surest cure of desperate lung direases on earth. 50c and $1.00. Guarantee satifaction. Trial bottle free. G. A. Pabst & Co.

Twin Lake.

John Tanner delivered hogs at Klemme Tuesday.

A number of our people are still having a time with the la-grippe.

Theodore Riser of Galva, Ia, visited with relatives here recently.

Some of the farmers in this vicinity are taking advantage of this spring weather and are plowing sod.

Miss Nora Wendel visited with relatives and friends in this neighborhood the first part of the week

Chesley M. Jackson, of Peterson and Miss Corinne Huntington of Belmond visited at the F. W. Tanner home on Monday and Tuesday.

I'D RATHER DIE, DOCTOR

than have my feet cut off, said M L Bingham of Princeville, Ill. but you'll die from gangreen which had eaten away eight toes. if you don't said all doctors. Instead he used Bucklen's arnica salve till wholly cured. Its cures of eczema, fever sores, boils, burns and piles astound the world. 25 cts. at G A Pabst & Co.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

Let us be your Tailor
THE AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS Co, Chicago, Illinois.
Manufacturers of fine woolens and wholesale custom tailors.
As Eastern Decoration Day is near at hand I will give special bargains on suits that are purchased of us before that time.
I will be please to show you a beautiful line of samples. A fit, a beauty and a long wearing suit Your profit, my pleasure.
ELMER LUDEKE
Klemme - - - Iowa

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a new hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

Items for Travelers

Have you read the wonderful stories of success in the Gulf Coast Country of Texas? Send for our pamphlet.

$30 to $35 will take you to principal points in the Southwest and return. Tickets sold first and third Tuesdays of each month.

When traveling to and from Colorado use the best! "The Rocky Mountain Limited."

Hundreds of people are going to California on the Golden State Limited. Why not you?

Mr. Jno. G. Farmer, D. P. A., Cedar Rapids, will gladly inform you about any trip you may consider taking.

Rock Island

Remember, I sell the tickets.

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

A CONSTIPATION REMEDY FREE

There is no action of your daily life of greater importance than to see that your bowels move. They should move at least once a day naturally, and by that is meant without any help. If they do uot move at least cnce a day you can consider yourself constipated and it is time you did something about it.

You will be glad to know there is a way out of the difficulty, Lemuel Landerdale, an old soldier at Quincy, Ill., Elmer McMillan, of Speed, Mo., Mrs. Monahan, of Stonewall, Miss., and many others were as you are now. But one day they awoke to the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin was curing their friends, so they bought it too and it cured them. To-day, they are loud in praise of it.

What Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin did for them it should do for you. Surely your constipation is no worse than theirs, one of whom had it since '61. It only remains for you to realize that salts are of but temporary good, and what you want is a permanent cure; that purgative tablets, cathartic pills and such violent things make a great show of doing something, but do nothing that is lasting. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientific preparation, a laxative-tonic, a mild syrupy liquid that contains ingredients that not only cure the constipation, but tone the intestinal muscles so that they learn again to work without help. A bottle can be bought of any druggist for the small price of 50 cents, and there is a dollar size for families who have already found out its wonderful value in stomach, liver and bowel troubles, in old or young.

Send your name and address to the doctor and a free trial bottle will be sent you so that you can test it before buying.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 201 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

Your orthography is twisted, Alonzo. A woman is not a padded cell.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Chicken-hearted people are always hatching excuses.

Feet Ache—Use Allen's Foot-Ease
Over 30,000 testimonials. Refuse imitations. Send for free trial package. A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Love is not blind, but those whom it affects are.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Willimantic, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles, causing backache, irregularities, dizziness and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk upstairs without stopping on the way. I tried three different doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them, but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said nothing would restore my health. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and I am restored to my natural health."—Mrs. ETTA DONOVAN, Box 299, Willimantic, Conn.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

FITS

If you suffer from Fits, Falling Sickness, Spasms or have children or friends that do so, my New Discovery will relieve them, and all you are asked to do is send for a FREE Bottle of
Dr. May's Epilepticide Cure.
It has cured thousands where everything else failed. Sent free with directions. Express Prepaid. Guaranteed by May Medical Laboratory, under the National Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906. Guaranty No. 18971. Please give AGE and full address.
DR. W. H. MAY,
548 Pearl Street, New York City.

Everybody's Friend, Once Tried, Always Used. A-B-C LINIMENT
The Best Liniment on Earth.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results

FOR A BIG FIGHT

ADVOCATES OF PROHIBITION AND SALOONS GATHER.

HEARING ON RESUBMISSION

The Fate of the Constitutional Amendment May be Decided Soon.

Des Moines.—Anticipating the hearing upon the Meredith prohibition resolution in the Iowa senate, crowds of visitors are at the state house. From all over the state have come prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists, church workers and politicians, idealists and men who are peculiarly practical in their views of legislation. The senate chamber is crowded to capacity during the hearing before the senate committee on constitutional amendments. The opponents of prohibition talk against favorable action by the committee, and a part of the hearing will be given over to the prohibitionists. This gathering will go down in Iowa legislative and political history and will be long remembered for its influence upon the prohibitory statutes of the commonwealth, regardless of the outcome of the present war over the Meredith resolution. Prohibition and temperance forces are leagued in the support of the measure, and opposed to it re business men from different parts of the state. Some of the opponents, also, are members of the ministry. Few active liquor dealers are present among the opponents of the resolution and among their leaders there is a tendency to criticise the newspapers of the state for referring conveniently to the opponents of the prohibition amendments as "the liquor men."

Many Transients at Asylums.

Condemnation of the policy of hiring transient attendants in the state insane hospitals and of the penurious policy of paying attendants salaries from only $25 to $30 per month will be a feature of the report of the committee from the house of representatives named to investigate charges of cruelty in the insane hospitals. The committee has returned from a visit to Clarinda and Mount Pleasant, where, the members say, much evidence was uncovered, some indicating needless cruelty to inmates and some indicating that such charges are largely unfounded.

Indefinitely Postponed.

The bill by Allen of Pocahontas providing for the inspection of all county and city jails under direction of the board of control, introduced a few days ago in the senate, was short lived. The senate committee on cities and towns recommended indefinite postponement of any action. Members of the committee thought the inspection ordered by the courts on the part of grand juries every time they sit to be sufficient.

Nonpartisan Elections.

Senator Frudden expects to introduce a bill which will provide that in cities of the first and second classes and cities under special charters, nomination and election of city officers shall be made in accordance with the commission plan. The object of this measure is to provide for city governments administered by nonpartisan corps of officials.

To Get Interest on Deposits.

The house passed the Dowell bill requiring banks to pay interest on county deposits. The same bill was introduced in the house by Representative Hunter of Polk county but the senate acted first and the Dowell bill was substituted. It was amended in the house to require 2 per cent interest on only 90 per cent of the average daily balance.

Anti-Frat Bill In.

The senate committee on schools has introduced a bill which provides that there shall be no "frats" in public schools. The custom of "rushing" high school senior classmen who are planning college careers is also barred by the bill, and any college fraternity man who is found guilty must, on conviction, pay a fine of from $2 to $10.

To Kill Off Brown Tail Moth.

The brown tail moth is to be the subject of investigation under legislative sanction in Iowa, from all appearances. The senate passed the Gillilland bill making an appropriation of $1,000 for the state entomologist to use in studying this little fruit destroying insect and securing its eradication.

De Wolf Bill Passed.

It is surely going to be a State Teachers' college instead of State Normal school. The house passed the De Wolf bill for change in name of the institution after amending it to make it read State Teachers' college. The bill, as it left the senate, changed the name to State Normal college.

School Ma'am Bill Fixed Up.

Senator Adams has perfected his bill providing for life certificates for school teachers, which is now in the hands of a sub-committee, and hopes to get early action upon it by the senate committee on schools. The sections he has remodeled relate to the giving of certificates without examination to persons who have completed a four years' high school course, or its equivalent, and to persons who have completed a college course. In order that there may be no question about the course of the high school graduate the school must reach a standard approved by the state board of examiners. The section relating to college graduates has been stricken out, so the law will remain as it now is with reference to this. The college graduate now receives a second grade certificate for two years, and by successful teaching he may work into the first grade class and receive a life certificate. As a means of holding up the standard in another way the bill requires that the persons holding a second grade certificate must show in addition to the five years' experience an average on examinations of not less than 85 per cent and in no study less than 75 per cent, in order to secure a life certificate.

Banking Laws to be Revised.

Revision of the banking laws of Iowa in a manner that places both state and savings banks on the same footing is being attempted by the committee on banks and banking of the house of representatives of the general assembly. Most important of the changes in the law sought is the one giving savings banks the privilege of loaning money on real estate securities outside of the state. This provision is guarded by the requirement that the loan shall not be in excess of 40 per cent of the value as appraised by four disinterested persons. Six bank examiners are provided for under the proposed statute instead of four, the number now in the service. As a bill is now pending in the legislature which has for its end the removal of the banking department from the office of the auditor of state to that of the state treasurer, the revision bill is drawn with that in view, although as introduced it names the auditor as the supervising officer.

Bill Hits Swindlers.

Swindlers who tie up the Iowa farmer—or merchant or banker or lawyer—with fraudulent contracts for nursery trees, land sales, lightning rods, books or cheap jewelry will no longer be permitted to bring suit at their headquarters in the other end of the state and force the farmer to pay up rather than leave home to defend himself. A bill which probably will do more to put a stop to swindling of this variety than any law on the statute books was passed by the house of representatives. It was introduced and supported by Representative Cooper of Jasper county, and provides that the defendant in a suit to recover on a contract may secure a change in the place of trial to his home county by pleading fraud and putting up a reasonable bond with his local court.

Utility Bill Reported for Passage.

Senator Smith's public service utility commission bill has been reported for passage by the senate committee on railroads. The Sammis bill on the same proposition, but drawn along different lines, is in the hands of the committee on cities and towns, where a sub-committee is going over it. The Smith bill places only railroads, telegraphs and telephones under the commission and makes the body appointive instead of elective.

Civil Rights Bill Lost.

With nine votes opposing it and twenty-one senators failing to answer to their names on the roll call, Senator Clarkson's civil rights bill was lost in the senate, and there will not be any law enacted at the present legislative session to compel incorporated schools to enroll wouldbe students regardless of race. The bill received nineteen votes, seven short of the number required for its passage.

Search for Cigarettes.

Search warrants will be obtainable in Iowa by persons who have reason to believe that the law regarding the sale of cigarettes and cigarette materials is being violated. The bill introduced by Representative Hunter of Polk county and framed by John Hammond, leader of the Trimmer club movement, was passed by the senate in practically the same form in which it passed the house.

Roads Bill Defeated.

The only good roads bill that seemed likely to pass the lower house of the Iowa legislature was defeated through the indifference of members, more than thirty of whom were away from their desks when the roll was called. It was Representative Dodd's bill permitting the creation of road improvement districts and the levying of a 2 mill tax by the board of supervisors, both for the construction of permanent roads.

FEAR FOR KIDNAPERS

BOYLES TAKEN TO PITTSBURG FOR SAFE KEEPING.

INDICTED AT CLEVELAND

Will Be Tried for Blackmail If They Fail of Conviction In Pennsylvania —Identified by Whitla Boy.

Pittsburg, Pa. — Fearing for the safety of their prisoners if they were taken to Sharon or the county seat at Mercer, officers brought James H. Boyle and his wife, accused of kidnaping Willie Whitla, to the Allegheny county jail here.

They were brought here in a special Pullman car from Cleveland by way of Youngstown and New Castle, over the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad. The prisoners were guarded in their car by 16 detectives and officers.

It was the unanimous opinion of the officers engaged on the case that it would be safer not to take any chances by exposing their prisoners to the wrath of the Sharon populace.

Indicted at Cleveland.

The Cleveland police have a club over the heads of the Boyles in a joint indictment charging them with blackmail. This charge is based on the payment of $10,000 ransom by J. P. Whitla for the recovery of his son in that city last Monday. This indictment will be used by the Cleveland officials in the event that the case here fails of conviction. The Boyles did not fight extradition to this state.

Boy Identifies Kidnapers.

Cleveland, O.—All doubt that the man and woman arrested Tuesday night are the kidnapers of Willie Whitla, the Sharon (Pa.) boy whose father paid $10,000 ransom for his recovery, was dispelled Wednesday, when the lad, without hesitation, identified the prisoners when he faced them in the police station.

Willie said the man who gave the name of James H. Boyle was the one who took him from school and carried him through the tortuous route to Cleveland, then to Ashtabula, back to this city, and placed him in the house in the east end where he was held until the money was paid. Willie also declared that the woman was the one who cared for him at the house where he was detained and who acted the part of a nurse.

Boyle said the woman was his wife. The police have no other identification of the couple than the names given. Boyle is said to reside in Sharon and is a plumber by trade. He is said to have a widowed mother, four brothers and a sister.

The woman, who is accredited with being the wife of Boyle, declared soon after her arrest that her identification would cause a sensation in Sharon.

When the identification was completed Mr. Whitla would say nothing regarding the woman. He said he knew Boyle slightly.

When Boyle was taken before the boy Chief Kohler asked Willie if he had ever seen the man before.

"Sure," said Willie, brightly; "why that is the man I left Sharon with. He took me to Cleveland, then to Ashtabula and back to Cleveland."

When Willie concluded Boyle was taken back to his cell and the woman was brought in.

Immediately Willie walked up to her and extending his hands, said:

"How do you do?"

"Hello, Willie," the woman replied, as she placed her hand upon his head and caressed him for an instant.

The boy then stepped back to his father and was asked several questions by the chief of police.

"Yes, I know her," he said, "she was the nurse who took care of me in Cleveland. She told me I was sick and in a hospital. I saw her a whole lot as she was with me most all of the time."

Whitla Abductor Chicago Woman.

Mercer, Pa.—Heavily manacled to Sheriff Chess and guarded by several detectives, James Boyle, one of the kidnapers of little Willie Whitla, was brought here Friday from Pittsburg and lodged in the Mercer county jail. His wife, who has been identified as Anna McDermott, daughter of William McDermott, a former Chicago fireman, it is said, will be brought here from Pittsburg Saturday and the couple will be formally arraigned on a charge of kidnaping in a few days.

Boyle feared violence in his arrival in Mercer and on the journey from Pittsburg asked Sheriff Chess if he thought the crowd would harm him.

Original "Affinity's" Wife Sues.

Middletown, N. Y. — Ferdinand Pinney Earle, artist, poet and foremost exponent of the "affinity" idea, was served Friday with papers in an action brought by Mrs. Earle, formerly Miss Julia Kuttner of New York city, for annulment of their marriage. Mrs. Earle alleges that Earle is of unsound mind.

TWO YEARS OF FREEDOM.

No Kidney Trouble at All Since Using Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. J. B. Johnson, 710 Wee St., Columbia, Mo., says: "I was in misery with kidney trouble, and finally had to undergo an operation. I did not rally well, and began to suffer smothering spells and dropsy. My left side was badly swollen and the action of the kidneys much disordered. My doctors said I would have to be tapped, but I began using Doan's Kidney Pills instead, and the swelling subsided and the kidneys began to act properly. Now my health is fine." (Statement made Aug. 1, 1906, and confirmed by Mrs. Johnson Nov. 16, 1908.)

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

WHOLE TEAM.

Ida—Yes; that is Mrs. Petleigh. Her husband is a famous coach.

May—That's a good combination. She's a regular nag.

HUMOR BURNED AND ITCHED.

Eczema on Hand, Arms, Legs and Face—It Was Something Terrible.

Complete Cure by Cuticura.

"About fifteen or eighteen years ago eczema developed on top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a doctor. He pronounced it ringworm. After trying his different remedies the disease increased and went up my arms and to my legs and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible. I went to another doctor who had the reputation of being the best in town. He told me it was eczema. His medicine checked the advance of the disease, but no further. I finally concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies and found relief in the first trial. I continued until I was completely cured from the disease, and I have not been troubled since. C. Burkhart, 236 W. Market St., Chambersburg, Pa., Sept. 19, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

The Elopers.

"Did you telegraph your father?"

"Yes and got his answer."

"What is it?"

"I asked him if he would forgive us if we came back and he said the only condition on which he would forgive us would be that we shouldn't come back."—Houston Post.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Defined.

The Writer's Child—Pa, what is penury?

The Writer—Penury, my son, is the wages of the pen.

Stops Colds in an Hour.

You will be glad to know Lane's Pleasant Tablets (laxative) will stop in an hour a cold that could not be warded off by anything else. They will always break up a cold almost immediately. Druggists and dealers sell them at 25 cts. a box. Orator F. Woodward, Le Roy, N. Y. Sample free.

A woman is always more economical than a man. Where a man will manufacture a lie out of the whole cloth a woman will use the remnants.

Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes
Relieved by Murine Eye Remedy. Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Murine Doesn't Smart; Soothes Eye Pain. Write Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago, for illustrated Eye Book. At Druggists.

A good singer can always make women cry by singing "Home, Sweet Home." So many people long for a home, and so few have one.

Pettit's Eye Salve First Sold in 1807 100 years ago, sales increase yearly, wonderful remedy; cured millions weak eyes. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

And a silver dollar looks like a wheel of fortune to the man who is down to his last penny.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE."
That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

If duty would use a megaphone more of us might hear the call.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

It's easy for a man's wife to dress well if his creditors can afford it.

An Easter Song.

The golden sun climbs up the sky,
The shadows flee away,
Oh! weary heart, forget to sigh:
God sends the Easter Day!
Long was that night, chill was the air,
And grief o'er brooded long,
Yet is the new world white and fair,
Uplift thine Easter song!

The cross that bowed thee with its weight
By strength of prayer is stirred,
Till it shall bear thee soon or late,
As wings upbear the bird.
The life that thrills from star to star,
And beats in leaf and stem,
Is wider than the heavens are,
And blesses thee from them.

Wert thou cast down, wert thou dismayed,
Dear Child of One above,
Behold the earth in light arrayed;
The light of deathless love.
Oh! listen to the word that wakes
In every budding flower,
And take the bread the Master breaks,
In His triumphant hour.

For those who hear, and hearing yearn,
The King hath secrets sweet;
Their hearts within them thrill and burn,
They wait His coming feet.
Then swift the sun climbs up the sky!
The shadows flee away!
Oh! weary heart, forget to sigh,
God sends the Easter Day!

Easter in the World.

According to an old tradition, when the Roman soldiers came to the Garden of Gethsemane Christ hid under the olive trees until the treacherous plover cried out "Buvick!" "Buvick!" "He is hiding!"

But if a Judas among the birds betrayed the Master of men in this hour of ...ed, other faithful feathered folk min...tered to him at the darker moment ...f Calvary. Then it was that the ...oice of the pitying turtle dove grew ...o plaintive that never has it re...ained its lost happy notes. Not only ...d the swallow perch on the cross and ...itter tender words of consolation, ...t also in its small, sweet way al...viated the sufferer's pain by pulling ...t a spine from the crown of thorns. ...nd the stork flying o...er the cross ...ttered on the wing to call down: ...Stryk!" "Stryk!" — "Strengthen!" ...Strengthen!"

Wonderful Passion Flower.

...In the passion flower the reverent ...agination has discovered not a ...oss alone, but also the pillar of ...ourging, the nails, th... crown of ...orns, and even spots to mark the ...e wounds of the crucified body.

The Spaniard will tell you that the ...pen trembles because that was the ...od of the cross. However this may ..., there is a delightful old legend ...ncerning the tree out of which the ...oss was made.

Aged Adam, weary of toil and sin ...d eager for death, sent to the angel ...arding the Tree of Life to beg a ...on. The messenger brought back ...e welcome promise that Adam should ...e in three days, and the added gift ...three small seeds which were mys...riously to be placed under the dead ...an's tongue before burial.

From these seeds, the quaint narra...ve continues, sprang three saplings ...at later united, three in one, sym...l of the Trinity. With this mirac...ous tree Moses and David each ...rought many wonders. But King ...olomon, his whole heart set upon the ...ilding of the temple, had the tree ...t down, intending it for a magnifi...nt beam. Strive as the workmen ...ould, however, nowhere would the ...am fit, and, cast aside, it was later ...ed as a bridge across a near-by ...eam. When the queen of Sheba ...de her notable visit she refused to ...ad upon this bridge; instead, she ...elt and worshiped, and having con...ed to Solomon a vision she had ...ncerning it, the king at once or...ed the sacred wood incased in gold ...d silver, and reverently hung over ...e door of the temple. Subsequently, Abijah, son of Rehoboam, coveting the precious setting, had it taken down, and after appropriating the metal had the wood buried deep in the earth—so deep, in fact, that a well was dug over it, the famous Pool of Bethesda, the tree of mercy at the bottom giving healing qualities to the waters. Finally, as the time appointed approached, the tree rose and floated on the surface, and the Jews took it and made it into the cross upon which the Christ was crucified.

Wood of the Cross.

As some claim the aspen was the wood of the cross, others select the weeping willow for the tree upon which Judas hanged himself.

There is an old legend as sinister as the fatalistic Dedipus myth that claims that before the birth of Judas his mother dreamed that her child would murder his father and betray his God for money. To prevent this tragedy, the babe was put in a chest and cast upon the sea, but was rescued and adopted by a king.

According to tradition, Pontius Pilate as well as Judas committed suicide, for upon his return to Rome so indignant was the emperor over the governor's actions while in Jerusalem that he cast him into prison, a humiliation too great for so weak a spirit to bear.

Weird is the legend told concerning the restless, tormented ghost of him who could wash his hands but not his conscience of offense.

The body of the suicide was first cast into the Tiber, but so turbulent were the storms that immediately followed that it was taken out of the river, carried to Gaul, and thrown into the Rhone. Tempests were the instant result. Again the body was removed, this time to Lake Geneva. The same disasters in its train. Once more an attempt was made to overcome the evil. Surely, in a far-away mountain lake locked in the center of the Alps even the spirit of a Pilate could do no harm. Vain hope. There arose storms of wind and rain so great in fury that flocks and herds were drowned, trees torn up by the roots, and happy-hearted homes washed away to death and destruction.

Quieting Troubled Spirit.

Then at the call of the emergency came the man of the hour to answer it. Alone he went to the lake, and with the sole weapons of a scholar's knowledge and magic battled with the spirit until it signified an agreement to remain at peace if only it might have one day of freedom during the year.

The storms ceased, but long afterward whoever went to Pilate's lake on a Good Friday saw an awful specter clothed in a red toga upon a rock above the water, "the grim, ghostly figure of him who saw no ill yet permitted it."

A LITTLE KNOWLEDGE

Of Painting Requirements Will Save Much Expense.

When one sees the surface of a house or other building scaling, or peeling, or spotted or blistered, or showing other symptoms of paint "disease," it is evident that a poor painter has been on the job, and that poor paint was used—or possibly that a good painter had been dominated by a property-owner who knew nothing about paint.

It is an easy matter to be informed on paint and painting. A complete painting guide, including a book of color schemes, either for exterior or interior—specifications for all kinds of painting,—and an instrument for detecting adulteration in paint material, with directions for using it, may be had free by writing National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Bldg., New York City, and asking for House-owner's Painting Outfit No. 49.

Then, every houseowner should make it a point to get only well-known reliable brands in buying his materials. Pure white lead is especially important, or the paint will not prove satisfactory. The famous "Dutch Boy Painter" trademark of National Lead Company, the largest makers of pure white lead, is an absolute guarantee of the purity and quality of the white lead sold under it. That trademark is a safeguard against paint trouble.

The Alternative.

"If the window had been eight feet from the ground," pouted the young wife, "instead of eight stories, I'd have thrown myself out when you quarreled with me. Then you'd have had to be sweet to me when you picked me up. A lot of wives attempt suicide, they say, just to be petted when they come to."

"Yes," said he, "but sometimes they don't come to, remember."

Safe and Sure.

Among the medicines that are recommended and endorsed by physicians and nurses is Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. For many years it has been regarded by doctors as the medicine most likely to cure coughs, and it has a strong hold on the esteem of all well-informed people. When Kemp's Balsam cannot cure a cough we shall be at a loss to know what will. At druggists' and dealers', 25c.

We are ruined, not by what we really want, but by what we think we want; it is wise, therefore, never to go abroad in search of our wants.—Punshion.

Your working power depends upon your health! Garfield Tea corrects disorders of liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels; overcomes constipation, purifies the blood—brings good health.

It takes a has-been a long time to find it out.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
FOR RHEUMATISM
FOR BRIGHT'S DISEASE
FOR BACKACHE
FOR DIABETES.
NUMBER 375 "Guaranteed"

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature
Brent Good
REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

Do You Feel Run Down?

If so, you are an easy victim of disease. You can avoid danger if you build up your system with the natural strength-giver—which helps your body do its own building up. It puts the whole digestive system in a perfect condition. Regulates the stomach, imparts new vigor and health to the tissues.

DR. D. JAYNE'S TONIC VERMIFUGE

Your Druggist has it.

Two sizes, 50c and 35c

900 DROPS
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL—3 PER CENT
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral
NOT NARCOTIC
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna -
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed -
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda -
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor.
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES - 35 CENTS
Guaranteed under the Food and
Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

TAKE SOME OF THE WEALTH THAT GROWS—In Seattle

Immense wealth is growing—will never stop growing—in Seattle, in the ever-rising value of the ground in the "Inner Business Circle." For the past 18 years, the Assessors' records show, this yearly increment has averaged more than 25%.

This is the silent, but irresistible force that works day and night to make YOU rich, whether you work or "soldier." You need only be an owner.

It is but truth to say Seattle's growth has only fairly begun. From now on, the new value which will be added spontaneously to every separate block in Seattle's business center will amount to an independent fortune in every single year.

No matter WHERE you live nor HOW SMALL your capital, YOU CAN SECURE THIS OWNERSHIP through my Company and its system of UNIT OWNERSHIP. Write to me now, and I will promptly send you the facts.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

Mayer
Martha Washington Comfort Shoes

You will never know what genuine foot comfort is until you wear Martha Washington Comfort Shoes. They relieve tired and aching feet and make walking a pleasure. They fit like a glove and feel as easy as a stocking. No bother about buttons or laces—they just slip on and off at will. The elastic at the sides "gives" with every movement of the foot, insuring free action and a perfect fit. Absolute comfort guaranteed.

Beware of imitations. Only the genuine have the name Martha Washington and Mayer Trade Mark stamped on the sole. Refuse substitutes. Your dealer will supply you; if not, write to us.

FREE—If you will send us the name of a dealer who does not handle Martha Washington Comfort Shoes, we will send you free, postpaid, a beautiful picture of Martha Washington, size 15x20.

We also make Honorbilt Shoes, Leading Lady Shoes, Yerma Cushion Shoes and Special Merit School Shoes.

F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Co.
MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN

MILWAUKEE Mayer CUSTOM MADE

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fever

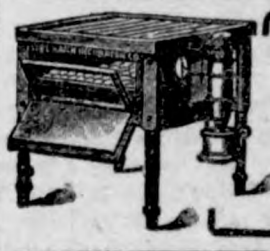
Sure cure and positive preventive, no matter how horses at any age are infected or "exposed." Liquid, given on the tongue; acts on the Blood and Glands; expels the poisonous germs from the body. Cures Distemper in Dogs and Sheep and Cholera in Poultry. Largest selling live stock remedy. Cures La Grippe among human beings and is a fine Kidney remedy. 50c and $1 a bottle. $5 and $10 a dozen. Cut this out. Keep it. Show to your druggist, who will get it for you. Free Booklet, "Distemper, Causes and Cures." Special agents wanted.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.

$5 A MONTH

$10 down, buys a $75 Five-acre Truck Farm at KALAMAZOO, Florida, the new celery district. Farm here at immense profits in winters, return to your present farm in summer. Migratory farming pays big. No freezing to death in winter. Live and work in perpetual sunshine. Fabulous profits realized by our truck growers supplying frozen north with Celery, Carrots, Cucumbers, Cabbage, etc. Make sure of your KALAMAZOO farm by reserving to-day. Perfect title given. Ask for facts on Kalamazoo. Reference: Union Savings Bank, Jacksonville, Florida.

FLORIDA DEVELOPING CO., Duval Bldg., Jacksonville, Florida.



BIG COME DOWN IN PRICES

Famous Sure Hatch Incubators

Will be sold CHEAP the next few weeks. Best machine in the world. Built for real business, and will make you money. Get into the business now and raise chickens while Poultry and Eggs are high priced. Send for big free book about our Incubator and the Poultry Business.

Sure Hatch Incubator Co., Box 169, Fremont, Neb.

HAMLIN'S WIZARD OIL
THE OIL THAT PENETRATES
GREAT FOR PAIN

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

CASH for your property wherever located. If you want to sell, send description and price. If you want to buy, state your wants.
Northwestern Business Agency
Dept. C, Bank of Commerce Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS
WITH Dr. King's New Discovery
FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
437 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

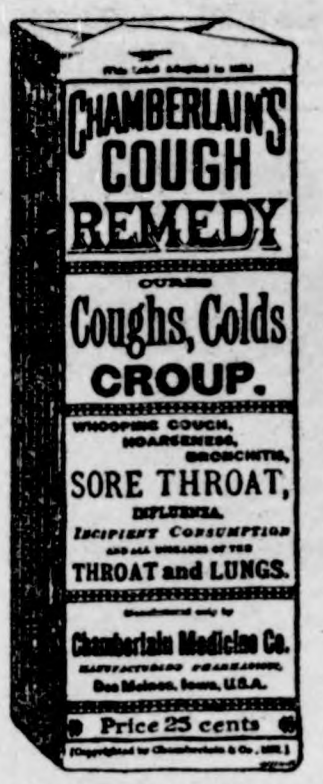
Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.



See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

The Origin of Pie.

The origin of pie, especially mince pie, like the origin of sausage, is shrouded in mystery, but certain it is that it was known as far back as the time of Piers the Plowman, and it may be that in his dinner pail could have been found the precedent which Michael of Pittsburg, now of the hospital, sought to follow. Those who are surprised, after being led to believe that New England is the habitat of the article, to learn that pie is an old English institution, can easily accept the further statement that "planted on American soil it forthwith ran rampant and burst forth into an untold variety of genera and species." Like the Irish potato, which is said to have been originated in the new world, it has been so ingrafted into the life of its adopted country that it seems more like a native than an alien.

Troublesome Small Animals.

Farmers who live near the Blue mountains, in Lehigh county, are greatly bothered with foxes, minks and weasels, and the farmers who live along the lowlands have their land spoiled by the muskrats and the skunks. A crusade has been declared against these animals and the farmers expect to exterminate them by trapping and shooting.

More than 1,000 pelts have been shipped from New Tripoli during the last week. Among the most successful trappers were the following: R. Stump and C. Frey, who had 40 skunks, 36 opossums and 34 muskrats; W. Oswald, six minks; J. Wolf, seven red foxes. There are a score of others who caught as high as 40 foxes, skunks, opossums and muskrats.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

CAESAR'S GHOST IN POLITICS.

Nations Still Cling Tenaciously to Notion of Empire.

Even more tenacious has been the hold of Caesar's ghost in politics. There are two forms under which the idea of world government presents itself: One, the dead notion of empire, the thing for which Caesar stood, the very name of the man still clinging on in the words czar and kaiser, and the name of his idea remaining in the word emperor; the other, the living idea of federation. When we have come to understand the nature of ghost rule we wonder no longer at some political phenomena otherwise absolutely incomprehensible. Why, for instance, does each nation now strive for the chimera of military preparedness? Germany, England and Japan levy an intolerable tax of money and blood to maintain their armies; the nations are in perpetual travail to bring fourth battleship after battleship. If you go to the bottom of the reason of all this you find no reason at all, or a silly one. For it is manifestly impossible for any one nation to conquer all the others. You ask yourself why one international fleet and army could not be supported, to be at the command of one international court, thus to settle all disputes and enforce all decisions. The answer plainly is that this question is mere living, mortal common sense, and hence a puny thing to put against the age-old, dead ghost-principle of empire.—Atlantic Weekly.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 36 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, APR. 8, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

The Fire and Tornado season is at hand—now is the time to buy your insurance—let us write you a combined policy in one of our good companies and insure you against loss.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

North Elevator

—FOR—

Seeds! Seeds! Seeds!

Medium Red Clover
Mammoth Red Clover
Alsike Clover
Timothy—extra fancy

My seeds comply with the Iowa Pure Seed Laws.

☞ Place your orders now—my prices are right.

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN

J. W. WATERMAN

RHEUMATISM

More than nine cut of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's liniment is all that is needed and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicines usually given internally for rhenmatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. The are worse than usual in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For sale by G A Pabst & Co.

Justice Fuller's Idea of Interpreters.

Chief Justice Fuller has but a small opinion of expert witnesses and entertains scarcely a more favorable opinion of interpreters. He is not at all averse to expressing his mind on these subjects, and on one occasion summed up his idea of an interpreter as follows:

"An interpreter is a person who translates a language he does not understand into one that he does not speak."

Caruso, But Still—!

At a performance of "Aida," Caruso, as usual, soared into the highest altitudes of song with such consummate ease and thrilling power that he brought down the house—with the exception of one critical young woman in the family circle.

"Lou," she observed to her companion, "ain't it funny that Caroozer don't seem to gripe your nolves the way he does on the record? Queer, ain't it?"

Unusual Freedom.

"Are all married men as carefully watched as jokesmiths say they are?"

"Certainly not. I know a married man who is allowed two nights out every week, just so he comes home before 11 o'clock, and tells his wife exactly where he has been and brings some sort of little gift, just to show that he has been thinking about her [illegible] —Birmingham Age-Herald.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

INDICTMENT OF THE LANDLORD.

Stern Words for Those Who Surrender Themselves to Greed.

Wherein is the difference between a poisoned well and a poisoned air shaft? Suppose, deliberately and knowingly, we allow our fellow-men to inhabit rooms, to live under conditions which mean a lingering death. The thing has to be proved to us beyond question; then the moment that it has been proved beyond question, it becomes not simply a scientific question, it becomes a question of morals, a question, ultimately, of religion. I like that phrase in the Old Testament where, speaking of those who violate certain fundamental principles of health and well-being, the statement was made that such a man was "an abomination unto the Lord." Now, we want that taught to the landlord as well as to the tenant, that there are some things which are abominations unto the Lord, and there are persons who are abominations unto the Lord.—Rev. S. M. Crothers, Cambridge.

THE CHILDREN LIKE IT
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP

WOR S TO FR EZE THE SOUL

Your son has consumption. His case is hopeless. These appaling words were spoken to Geo. E Blevens a leading merchant of Springfield, N C by two expert doctors— one a lung specialist. Then was shown the wonderful power of Dr. King's new discovery. After three weeks use, writes Mr. Blevens he was as well as ever. I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for my boy. Infallible for coughs and colds its the safest, surest cure of desperate lung direases on earth. 50c and $1.00.

Guarantee satifaction. Trial bottle free. G. A. Pabst & Co.

Banking Business?

YOU have more or less of it? Possibly it is with us, that being the case you know something of our service, but if not a patron would not it be well to become one? Begin now.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

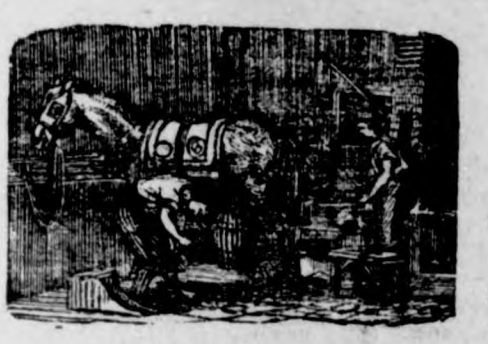
The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.



J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING
HORSE SHOEING A SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL

As You Enter a beautiful Home You Admire First

The Decorative Treatment.

Here are new Wall Papers that will help you to make your house more beautiful.

Elegant Shades suituble for kitchen that show neither dust or smoke.

10c UP

Nobby dining and sitting room patterns with drop ceiling effect, also fruit patterns.

15c UP

Parlor paper latest designs.

20c UP

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

The Klemme Times

O. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

The auto has proved that it has both come to stay and come to go.

Buffalo girl marries a prisoner in the county jail. Poor devil couldn't get away.

If improving the cows will improve the milk and butter then good luck to the movement.

At a wedding in New Jersey one of the guests was the bride's great-grandaughter. Romance must die hard—very, very hard—in New Jersey.

Pity the sorrows of the persecuted rich. They rail at Hetty Green for parsimony and they carp at Carnegie's benefactions.

Science continues to discover microbes in everything we breathe or eat. Yet scientists themselves do not consent to suffocate or starve.

Castro says he is incapable of some of the things of which he is accused. But he will scarcely go back to Venezuela and demand an investigation.

A woman in New York discharged her cook by shooting her. Even the mildest of domestic worms will turn at times.

There might be fewer auto accidents were the qualifications and responsibilities of chauffeurs specifically fixed by law.

Less coal was mined last year and less was burned, but as Providence tempered the winter to the poor there was less suffering.

London suffragettes send a couple of themselves to parliament by mail. Maybe we don't want a parcels post after all.

As it has taken 18 years to cut down the transatlantic record one day, it is a mathematical calculation that in 1981 we will be crossing the Atlantic in no time at all.

A Harrisburg, Pa., doctor removed the vermiform appendix belonging to a girl who went to him to obtain treatment for sore throat. Force of habit sometimes becomes an awful thing.

The crown prince of Germany decides he cannot come here incognito. He has evidently heard of the American reporter and fears he will be discovered.

That terrible tornado in Arkansas reminds us that the season of spring storms is here, and also that science is powerless to protect from these awful forces of nature.

Plans to fly across the Atlantic ocean look large and advanced, but wouldn't it be wiser for the human birds first to learn to negotiate some of the broader rivers and smaller lakes?

The word "flareback," invented by the weather experts, is likely to find its way into debate when a member of congress desires to intimate that some one is making himself disagreeable.

Between San Francisco and San Pedro the torpedo-boat destroyer Whipple made the 476 miles in 17 hours, the resulting casualties among sea serpents which frequent those waters not being reported.

Alfred Austin occupies five stanzas to express in rhyme the deep reflection that if the United States will stand by England England will stand by the United States. Perhaps the United States will agree, subject to the stipulation that Alfred Austin be restrained from inflicting any more rhymes on us.

A Kentucky court holds that checks given in payment of poker debts are binding. Kentucky does not propose to have such an important matter as the great American game emasculated by repudiation of the settlements. Indeed, there is reason to believe that if Kentucky could have her full wish the blue chip would rank as legal tender for five dollars.

A league is to be formed in Pittsburg of national scope, whose aim is to purge cities of graft. It is not yet stated whether its noble purposes of reform will be backed by Pittsburg millionaires, but all acquainted with the subject involved will agree that while the league will hardly abolish the time-honored institution it has set out to attack, its members will have lots of fun.

An inventive genius in England, according to a report by United States Consul Joseph G. Stephens at Plymouth, has discovered a process by which eggs six months old are made to retain all their new-laid qualities. Part of the process consists of disinfecting the eggs and then sealing them with paraffin wax. It sounds very scientific, but the probability is that a large proportion of consumers will prefer eggs strictly fresh.

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth

Hunters Drown at Waterloo.

Waterloo.—Henry Bothman, Chris and Frank Bentz were drowned in the Cedar river Sunday noon while out duck hunting. Dozens of people were forced to stand helpless on the banks of the stream while two of the men, clinging to the upturned boat, were swept over the dam. The third abandoned the boat some distance above the dam and failed in an attempt to swim to the shore. The men were first seen clinging to the upturned boat half a mile above the dam. People who rushed to the shore found the boats there securely locked to trees and not an oar in sight. Powerless to aid, they were forced to stand on the bank and see the three men sweep helplessly down the rushing current.

National Convention Called.

Davenport.—William R. Benkert, national chairman of the United Christian party, the unique political organization which has run a candidate for president in several national campaigns, and which was founded in Davenport and has its national headquarters here, has issued a call for the next national convention of the party "in the Watch Tower in Rock Island, Ill., May 1, 1909, to confer with one another concerning the will and kingdom of God in earth, in behalf of humanity, as the assembly led by His Spirit and governed by His command of love, may we see and act upon."

Police to Watch Autos.

Sioux City.—As a result of the running down of little Joe O'Leary, a 6-year-old boy, by a recklessly driven automobile the Sioux City police commissioners have about decided to detail police officers on bicycles to apprehend reckless drivers. The little fellow who was hurt has never regained consciousness and hopes for his recovery are slight. The boy's father was killed a year ago by an automobile.

Cigarettes the Cause.

Des Moines.—Because her husband, John E. Roper, of Omaha, Neb., smoked cigarettes incessantly, Mrs. Roper has filed suit for a divorce in the district court. In her petition she says that the cigarettes caused her husband's mind to become depraved, that he developed a temper and abused her in a shameful manner. She asks to have her name restored to Clara B. Delp if she is granted a decree.

Tramps in Large Numbers.

Webster City.—There are more tramps passing through Webster City this spring than have come this way for the past ten years. The majority of them, too, are middle aged men out of work—not of the usual "Wearie Willie" type. Mayor Hyatt reports that three times as many men are being given lodging in the city jail this spring as applied for a night's rest last year at this time.

To Dig Into Indian Mounds.

Sioux City.—As a result of interest in an address delivered before the Sioux City Academy of Sciences by Prof. E. L. Hewett of Wahington, D. C., director of the American Institute of Archaeology, a branch of the Iowa Archaeological ociety will be formed her for the purpose of conducting a scientific investigation of the Indian mounds of Woodbury county.

Prevent's Mother's Suicide.

Carbon.—Mrs. Jack Burris was saved from hanging herself in the garret by her little son, who, hearing a strange noise, investigated and cut her down before she strangled. She had hung herself because her other son had been sent to the penitentiary for five years by Judge Evans for keeping a house of ill fame. The woman will recover.

Pioneer Resident Naturalized.

Sioux City.—Desirous of becoming a homesteader, Mrs. Margaret Long, aged 76 years, a native of Canada, foreswore allegiance to King Edward of England and took out her first naturalization papers as a subpject of Uncle Sam. Mrs. Long was a pioneer resident of Larchwood, Lyon county, Iowa.

Man Stricken Speechless.

Iowa City.—Paralysis has robbed Isaac Reizenstein of speech. The aged man was stricken a month ago. The trouble spread and he is now unable to speak

Killed in Bluffs Yards.

Council Bluffs.—William J. McCune, a prominent insurance man of Council Bluffs, was killed in the Northwestern yards here. The exact circumstances surrounding McCune's death are not known. He was in the yards seeking a man with whom he had some business and it is presumed that he had attempted to catch the last of a string of fifteen cars that were being taken to the lower yards for a ride to the station and fell under the wheels. His mangled body was found under the last car after the trainmen had their attention attracted to a fluttering garment and had stopped the train. McCune was about 30 years old. He was for a number of years secretary of the local lodge of Elks. He leaves a widow and one son.

Claims Servian Throne.

Eldora.—The report that King Peter of Servia has announced his intention of quitting his throne and spending the remainder of his life in Switzerland, recalls the fact that an Iowa man, Maximilian Streu, of Numa, Appanoose county, has claims to this throne and may now make a desperate effort to sit on the throne and rule the Servians. Streu's claims have been made public through the papers many times and he stil stoutly maintains that he should be given opportunity to prove his rights. The Iowa man is a telegraph operator and for a number of years has resided at the little station of the Rock Island, attending to his duties as a railroad man, dreaming of the time and the day when he shall don the purple robes of office, wear the ermine and rule over the Servian people.

Rewards for Clean Yards.

Villisca.—The Village Improvement association, a society of women whose business is to encourage and promote the cleanliness of Villisca, have come out with the announcement that premiums will be given for the three best kept back and front yards this summer. The offer is $10, $5 and $2.50 for the three neatest yards and the only condition is that women wishing to compete register their names and the ward they live in with the society. Villisca is already one of the cleanest and most beautiful towns in Iowa, but that there are many back yards that would look much better if swept clean of old tin cans and other rubbish and a few flower seeds planted in their stead is the opinion of the Village Improvement association.

Nearly Killed by Remedy.

Cushing.—A doctor taking his own medicine nearly cost the life of Dr. A. H. Bullock, a leading practitioner of this place. He had prescribed for a patient, who, after taking a small dose of the medicine, complained of worse pain than he had had before and went to the doctor about it, declaring he believed that the prescription was wrong. Dr. Bullock felt so sure that no mistake had been made that he took a liberal swallow of the potion.

Tries to Commit Suicide.

Newton.—Charles A. Gibford, returning from Des Moines swallowed the contents of a bottle of chloroform and is in a precarious condition. He is a plumber, is married and has a family. He is steadily employed in Newton. Returning on the train he seemed to be in a perfectly normal condition of mind. His family say that he staggered out of the house choking, and when asked his trouble said he had taken something to end his life.

Iowa's Youngest Sheriff.

Clinton.—Clinton had the honor of a visit of the youngest sheriff in the state of Iowa. This official hails from Cedar county and is just 26 years of age. Sheriff Piett came to the city on official business and after the fashion of emissaries of the law on business bent, repaired at once to the police station. There it was learned that the visitor was the youngest sheriff in the state. His father held a county office in Cedar county for four terms.

Boy Run Down by Auto.

Sioux City.—In returning from an errand, Joseph O'Leary, the 6-year-old son of Mrs. Michael O'Leary, was run down by an automobile driven by Lawton Wyckoff. According to eye witnesses the machine was traveling at at unlawful speed and it is probable that a warrant will be issued for Wyckoff's arrest. The boy's father was run down and killed by an automobile on Sept. 10, 1907.

Married in His Own Church.

Greenfield.—The marriage of Rev. Frank McCallon, pastor of the Christian church of Greenfield, to Miss Maude Brown of Orient was solemnized in the groom's church in the presence of 300 invited guests. A wedding supper followed, served in the church by the ladies and was followed by a public reception

HARRIMAN WILL NOT RETIRE.

Too Far to Drop, and Not Time Enough to Climb Down.

PRIEST OWES $1,594,141.64

FATHER M'MAHON OF CLEVELAND FILES BANKRUPTCY PETITION.

Clergyman and Editor of the Catholic Universe Caught by Failure of the Funding Company.

Cleveland, O.—Scheduling total liabilities of $1,594,141.64 and assets of $75,207.08, of which $71,300 is real estate, Rev. William McMahon, pastor of St. Bridget's Catholic church in this city and editor of the Catholic Universe, filed a petition in the United States district court Wednesday.

The secured claims amount to $946,925.73; unsecured claims, $371,207.91, and commercial paper, $185,918.

Father McMahon was a director of the Fidelity Funding Company of New York, founded by P. J. Kieran and which now is in the hands of receivers. Thus it came about that his name was signed to many of the papers issued by the company and for which he now is held liable by the receivers.

The petition enumerates many notes signed by Father McMahon. They are held mostly by New York, Pittsburg and Cleveland banks. Among the larger secured claims cited are the following: Carnegie Trust Company, New York, $281,256.73; Guarantee Title & Trust Company, Pittsburg, $185,000; Society for Savings, Cleveland, $235,000; Third National bank of Buffalo, $3,200.

Included in the secured claims as filed by the petitioner are liabilities held by almost every banking institution of prominence in the city of Cleveland and similar institutions in Boston, New York, Pittsburg, Syracuse and Buffalo.

The filing of the petition by Attorney J. W. Sutphen was not entirely a surprise either in financial circles here or to the parishioners of St. Bridget's who had known for some time past that the financial affairs of Father McMahon were in a badly entangled state owing to his connection with the Kieran enterprises.

It was announced authoritatively from a priest closely identified with the affairs of the Cleveland diocese that the liability set forth in the petition in voluntary bankruptcy made by Father McMahon is personal and that the Catholic church property is not involved in a way that the church can lose.

WANTED—A THIN MAN.

Uncle Sam Has use for Human Skeleton in Testing Refrigerator Car System.

Chicago.—A thin man—thin enough to fit into a narrow crack—is wanted by the bureau of plant industry, department of agriculture. Besides his thinness he must have knowledge of refrigerating machinery and be able to keep both thin and warm in a frosty atmosphere.

A salary of $900 to $1,200 will be paid this intelligent skeleton if the government finds him. He will be sent out with a special refrigerating car to all parts of the country to test a system of cooling fruits. He must be thin in order to get into all corners of the car to run the machinery.

U. S. SOLDIERS LEAVE CUBA.

Stars and Stripes Taken Down and Home Government Now Is in Full Control.

Havana.—The last emblem of American domination over Cuba disappeared Thursday when two battalions of the Twenty-seventh infantry, and engineers sailed for home.

The ceremony attending the transfer of authority took place in the presence of the American garrison of Camp Columbia, consisting of two battalions of the Twenty-seventh infantry, three companies of engineers, and one battalion of Cuban infantry, forming three sides of a hollow square.

At the direction of Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Barry, commanding, Lieut. Byard Sneed of the Twenty-seventh infantry, advanced to the flagstaff and hauled down the colors.

The troops presented arms and the Cuban and American bands played "The Star-Spangled Banner." A Cuban lieutenant then raised the Cuban colors. The troops again saluted and the bands play the "Hymno de Bayamo."

The transfer of the camp being thus completed, the Cuban troops lined the roadside and presented arms, while the Americans, numbering about 800 in heavy marching order, swung past. They halted outside the camp limits where a long line of trolley cars was in waiting to convey them to the transports Sumner and McClellan lying at the arsenal docks.

READY TO GREET ROOSEVELT

Even the Lions and Elephants Are Getting Restless in British East Africa.

Mombasa, British East Africa.—The preparation for the reception here of Theodore Roosevelt are nearing completion. Frederick John Jackson, lieutenant governor of the protectorate, famous sportsman and the author of the book on big game in the Badminton library series, will receive the former president.

Since the advent of the rains lions have been terrifying the natives within four miles of Kilindini. An elephant that evidently had strayed from a herd made its way into the bazaar at Masingi and played havoc. The natives at Masingi have been assured that they need have no further fear, as Mr. Roosevelt is on his way to the protectorate to hunt. They are awaiting Mr. Roosevelt's arrival contentedly.

LAMPHERE NEAR DEATH.

Gunness Farm Hand in the Throes of Consumption Is Report Received at Laporte.

Laporte, Ind.—Ray Lamphere, convicted of having set fire to the home of Belle Gunness on April 26, 1908, by which fire the Gunness woman and her three children were burned to death, is in the throes of consumption. Slight hopes for his recovery are entertained.

Attorney Worden received word from Warden Reid of the Michigan City penitentiary that Lamphere has recently lost seven pounds of flesh. He is on the wane. Efforts will be made by his friends to secure a pardon.

"How Can I Tell?" I Began, Petulantly.

The SMUGGLER

BY ELLA MIDDLETON TYBOUT

COPYRIGHT 1907 BY J.B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

ILLUSTRATED BY RAY WALTERS

SYNOPSIS.

Three girls — Elizabeth, Gabrielle and Elise—started for Canada to spend the summer there. On board steamer they were frightened by an apparently demented stranger, who, finding a bag belonging to one of them, took enjoyment in scrutinizing a photo of the trio. The young women met a Mrs. Graham, anxiously awaiting her husband, who had a mania for sailing. They were introduced to Lord Wilfrid and Lady Edith. A cottage by the ocean was rented. Two men called. They proved to be John C. Blake and Gordon Bennett, one a friend of Elizabeth's father. A wisp of yellow hair from Mr. Graham's pocket fell into the hands of Elise. Mrs. Graham's hair was black. Fearing for the safety of some gems, Lady Edith left them in a safe at the cottage. Mr. Gordon Bennett was properly introduced, explained his actions on board ship. Elise, alone, explored the cellar, overhearing a conversation there between Mary Anne and a man. He proved to be her son, charged with murder. At a supper, which was held on the rocks, Elizabeth rather mysteriously lost her ring, causing a search by the entire party. Gabrielle witnessed a stormy scene between Lady Edith and Lord Wilfrid, jealousy being the cause. Mary Anne brought back Elizabeth's ring. Elise went sailing with Gordon Bennett. He tried to persuade her to return the jewels left in the girl's care of Lady Edith. At midnight Elise saw two men—one of them Gordon Bennett—attempting to force an entrance into their boathouse. She admitted to herself that she had nearly loved him and believed herself used as a tool. Mrs. Graham, sick, told Elise of her husband's love for another woman. Gordon Bennett and Blake returned with Mr. Graham's body. He had been murdered. Lord Wilfrid grew sulky. Lady Edith confided to Elise that Blake and Bennett were thieves. Lady Edith led her to where they were trying to break in. The girls were awakened late at night by a noise in the cottage. They found Blake and Bennett awaiting Lady Edith, who, notorious crook, and Lord Wilfrid, a smuggler, wanted for murder. They refused to believe. Blake proved to be a government officer. Bennett surprised Lady Edith and Lord Wilfrid taking the set jewels from the safe. Both confessed their guilt. Lady Edith's love for Graham was told, also how Lord Wilfrid had slain him because of jealousy. The girls prepared to go home. Bennett proposed to Elise and was accepted.

CHAPTER XVII.

We were going home. Our trunks were packed and our passage engaged. We told each other we were glad to go, but if the truth were known, we were all very melancholy and wandered around picking up stray last articles in a resigned silence which grew more and more depressing as the afternoon advanced.

"It might have been clear, our last day," observed Elizabeth, flattening her nose against the window pane as she peered out into the gray drizzle which harmonized so well with our state of mind.

It was then I announced my intention of walking to the village, to get any mail which might have accumulated in the two days since we had visited the post office. So I got my rain-coat and umbrella, and as I fastened my veil I heard a gloomy voice from the next room

"What have I done with my life? When I get back to Washington I intend to make a fresh start. I will read to the blind, and—"

Smothering the first inclination to laugh which I had had for some days, I left Elizabeth to struggle with the blue devils which had got possession of her alter ego, and went up to the village.

I was glad I went, for, heavy though the atmosphere undoubtedly was, it seemed less depressing than our pretty little rooms, and, besides, I wanted to be alone. So I got the mail, and wandered slowly back along the familiar path, with my heart strangely heavy and a very suspicious lump in my throat, which made me thankful I was not obliged to talk to anyone.

When I got to the steps leading down to our little slip I paused and looked wistfully toward it, but the fog was so thick I could see nothing.

"I'm going down," I remarked decidedly, as though some one had objected.

I sat with my face turned toward the ocean, so I did not see a figure follow me down the steps, cross the slip, and stand directly behind me, quite obscured by my umbrella, which I held very loosely indeed until a sudden puff of wind almost wrenched it away from me.

I clutched at the handle in an incompetent sort of way, and tried to lower it, since it was difficult to hold and I was already very wet, but the catch would not work, and I struggled vainly with it until a strong brown hand quietly closed over mine and I recognized the signet ring with the Bennett crest.

"Allow me," he remarked, just as he had said to Gabrielle when she was fishing for the comb.

I could only stare dumbly, all at once acutely conscious of my draggled appearance. He lowered the umbrella and calmly seated himself upon the ledge beside me, raising his own as he did so.

"This," he said, adjusting it at an angle which let cold water drip down my neck, "will shield us both."

I wriggled ungratefully, and tried to assume a careless air.

"I'm not much shielded," I replied, "but, then, I did not ask to be."

"But you wanted to?"

I was not prepared to answer his question, so parried it by another.

"Where did you come from?"

"From the village. I saw you there, and followed humbly in the rear, as a culprit should. But, on my soul, I don't know what I've done, except—"

"Don't," I interrupted; "I do not wish to talk about it."

"Well, I won't. But you might admit you were just a little unreasonable that night. We really meant well."

"We are going away," I said, abruptly.

"I know."

"And we're never coming back any more."

"Oh, yes, you are—next summer."

"Never any more."

"I am coming back next summer," he said, positively, "but not by myself, I hope. My island is a very jolly little place, but it's a bit lonely, even when a fellow wants to rest after his winter's work."

"What is your work?" I inquired, suddenly conscious that none of us knew or had cared to ask.

"Well, I draw a bit sometimes, just enough to keep the jam-pot full, since my parents insured my bread and butter."

I sat up straight with surprise and pushed aside the umbrella.

"Not Bennett, the illustrator?" I exclaimed.

"Why not, please?"

"Well!" I gasped, quite overcome, for I knew and loved his illustrations in the leading magazines, and had read everything about him I could lay my hands upon. "And to think we first thought you insane, and I even doubted your honesty, while all the time you were—"

"A very spoiled, lazy fellow," he interrupted gravely, "and a lonely fellow, too, for success like mine brings many acquaintances and few friends."

"You can always have Mr. Blake," I suggested pointedly, as he paused.

"Blake is all very well in his place," he returned, shifting the umbrella to his left hand and feeling abstractedly in his pocket, "but I want something lots better, and I think I've found my heart's desire. I want you to see her picture."

"So you are going to be married?"

I scarcely recognized my own voice, it sounded so strained and mechanical.

"I truly hope so, but I have not ventured to ask her yet. Will you look at the picture and tell me whether you think she will be kind? You see, I'm by no means certain, and it is very vital to me."

"How can I tell?" I began petulantly, then paused abruptly, for it was our picture he laid upon my lap, the one he had so shamelessly abstracted from Gabrielle's shopping bag. So I stared wide-eyed and speechless, with a clutching at my heart I could not understand. Was it Gabrielle or Elizabeth?

"The one in the middle," he said, gently. "Elise—will she be kind?"

And then I realized he was not speaking of some remote, shadowy paragon of a girl, but of me—just as I was, in my old rain-coat and dripping hat. I realized something else, too, for when I looked up and met his eyes, I tried to speak, but could not, because my heart was too full. But words were quite unnecessary, for we were looking into each other's eyes, and of course we understood.

"And now," he remarked, some time later, when we were back to earth, or rather to water, by the fine soft drizzle changing into a brisk shower—"and now you really must go in, or you will have pneumonia, and then what should I do? But first it's up to me to return that side-comb. I said I'd do it in my own way, you know, so I'm going to put it in myself."

"But not now. Think how wet and horrid my hair must be."

And then—well, I don't believe it is necessary for me to say any more. Things which are very sweet and natural, and often form cherished memories, are apt to look very different in cold hard print, and, moreover, what would become of the little shrine we erected for ourselves that rainy afternoon if I took the world into our confidence and allowed it to be desecrated by the critical outsider?

CHAPTER XVIII.

Mary Anne made us our farewell fire that night, almost putting it out with the tears she shed as she arranged the driftwood. For Mary Anne was a veritable Niobe these last days, poor soul, and every spare moment was given over to weeping. She was, she told us as she struck the match, going home to England, where she hoped she might die happy some day, if only she could learn to forget. She could live on her savings, and if not, work was always to be had when one looked for it. And she hung lovingly about us, too, with protestations of affection and regret at all that had happened.

"I looked out fur you," she said; "I done what I could, fur I come to love you all, and 'ow could I 'elp it? I made 'em give back your ring, Miss Elizabeth, which she took offen your finger before you very h'eyes; miss; when you was 'olding of 'er 'and on the rocks in the moonlight. Oh, she was clever, she was. But I made 'er give it up. I went out that night, but she was away wi' 'Arry Graham and I couldn't git it till next day. Which it was my shadder and Willy's you seen that night, Miss Elise. He, 'alf crazy, pore lad, because jest as soon as you was out of sight she up and jined 'Arry Graham and went out on the water wi' 'im. And them red roses, Miss Gabrielle—you seen 'ow it was. And she alwiz 'ad 'em, alwiz. 'Arry Graham seen to that, and Willy couldn't do nothing."

Here she paused for breath.

"And I never, never drugged you but the once," she continued—"in the chocolate, you know. I wouldn't do it for neither of 'em, and very 'ard they thought of me for it, too; but 'ow could I go for to do it and you trustin' me, even when you 'eard me and Willy talkin' in the cellar? And I brought you the tea myself that last night, Miss Elise, when she wanted to give it to you 'erself and put a powder in it to send you to sleep; but I wouldn't let 'er, for all she was my son's wife. Oh, Willy, Willy!"

We got rid of her after awhile, and settled down for our last evening, while the fire burned with its green, blue, lavender, and red lights, wherein I now found wonderful pictures and not so very remote either, and the ocean rolled monotonously outside.

In the first long silence I told the girls about it—glad that the lamp was not lighted, and glad also that the firelight did not shine upon my face. Well, they were very, very nice, and considerate enough to ask but few searching questions—although they have since told me they were consumed with the desire to do so.

So the evening passed, and at last we went unwillingly upstairs, careful not to mention that it was our last night in the little cottage, which, in spite of everything, we still loved.

I lay broad awake for a long time, listening to the washing of the waves and thinking the thoughts that come to a girl but once in a lifetime, when I heard a low voice from the next room, and knew the others were wakeful also.

"Were you surprised, Elizabeth?"

"Yes, I certainly was"—the emphasis in Elizabeth's tone left no room for doubt. "Somehow, I never associated Elise with marriage—or men either, for that matter."

"Neither did I. She'll never be the same again, but oh, Elizabeth, if it had been you, what should I have done?"

"And I was just lying here thinking how dreadful it would have been if it had happened to you. So long as we have each other, nothing else matters."

"No, nothing else matters. I hope she'll be very happy, but Elise is—well, she's Elise, and I can't help wondering how she is going to like married life."

And I wonder, too, for, after all, it is always like starting a very small ship across a very broad ocean. But I am not afraid of the voyage, for Gordon is going with me, and we have engaged a pilot whose name is spelled with four letters; he is warranted to steer a safe course through every sort of weather, and we both believe he will bring us safe into port at last.

THE END.

NEW ZEALAND'S WHITE ISLAND.

Always Enveloped in Clouds of Steam —Its Strange Lakes.

White island, in Australia, derives its name from the clouds of white steam in which it appears to be continually enveloped. Its area is only 600 acres, and its height about 880 feet above the sea level.

In form and color it is like a reposing camel, while its interior with its gray, weather-beaten, almost perpendicular cliffs, recalls the Coliseum at Rome. Overhanging the southern landing place stands a column of rock closely resembling a sentinel, which has been dedicated to the memory of Capt. Cook. The water of the island is of a pale green hue, and anything dipped into it becomes of a red brick color. The fumes of sulphur are always plainly perceptible.

On a fine moonlight night a wonderful sight is afforded to any one who will sit in an open boat in one of the lakes of the island. Covering an area of 50 acres is an immense caldron hissing and snorting and sending forth volumes of poisonous steam, while all chances of egress appear to be denied by the steep, silent and gloomy cliffs.

Suspicious.

"I wish," said the hard-hearted landlord, "that you would watch the tenants in No. 3310. Be sure that they pay promptly in advance."

"Very well," replied the clerk. "Have you heard anything to make you suspicious of them?"

"No; but they haven't asked for any repairs for nearly six weeks now. It doesn't look right."

Western Canada the Pennant Winner

"The Last Best West"

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

The government of Canada now gives to every actual settler 160 acres of wheat-growing land free and an additional 160 acres at $3.00 an acre. The 300,000 contented American settlers making their homes in Western Canada is the best evidence of the superiority of that country. They are becoming rich, growing from 25 to 50 bushels wheat to the acre; 60 to 110 bushels oats and 45 to 60 bushels barley, besides having splendid herds of cattle raised on the prairie grass. Dairying is an important industry.

The crop of 1908 still keeps Western Canada in the lead. The world will soon look to it as its food-producer.

"The thing which most impressed us was the magnitude of the country that is available for agricultural purposes." — National Editorial Correspondence, 1908.

Low railway rates, good schools and churches, markets convenient, prices the highest, climate perfect.

Lands are for sale by Railway and Land Companies. Descriptive pamphlets and maps sent free. For railway rates and other information apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

Paxtine

TOILET ANTISEPTIC

—NOTHING LIKE IT FOR—

THE TEETH Paxtine excels any dentifrice in cleansing, whitening and removing tartar from the teeth, besides destroying all germs of decay and disease which ordinary tooth preparations cannot do.

THE MOUTH Paxtine used as a mouth-wash disinfects the mouth and throat, purifies the breath, and kills the germs which collect in the mouth, causing sore throat, bad teeth, bad breath, grippe, and much sickness.

THE EYES when inflamed, tired, ache and burn, may be instantly relieved and strengthened by Paxtine.

CATARRH Paxtine will destroy the germs that cause catarrh, heal the inflammation and stop the discharge. It is a sure remedy for uterine catarrh.

Paxtine is a harmless yet powerful germicide, disinfectant and deodorizer. Used in bathing it destroys odors and leaves the body antiseptically clean.

FOR SALE AT DRUG STORES, 50c. OR POSTPAID BY MAIL.

LARGE SAMPLE FREE!

THE PAXTON TOILET CO., BOSTON, MASS.

For 16c.

Everybody loves earliest vegetables and brilliant flowers. Therefore, to gain you as a customer we offer:

1000 kernels Fine Onion Seed.
1000 " Rich Carrot Seed.
1000 " Celery, 100 Parsley.
1000 " Juicy Radish Seed.
1500 " Buttery Lettuce Seed.
1500 " Tender Turnip Seed.
1500 " Sweet Rutabaga S'd.
100 " Melons, 100 Tomato.
1200 " Brilliant Flowering Annuals

In all 10,000 kernels of warranted northern grown seeds, well worth $1.00 of any man's money (including Big Catalog) all postpaid for but 16c in stamps.

And if you send 20c we add a package of Earliest Peep O'Day Sweet Corn. Big Plant, Tool and Seed Catalog free to intending buyers. Write for same today.

THE JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO. LaCROSSE, WIS.

Worms

"Cascarets are certainly fine. I gave a friend one when the doctor was treating him for cancer of the stomach. The next morning he passed four pieces of a tape worm. He then got a box and in three days he passed a tape-worm 45 feet long. It was Mr. Matt Freck, of Millersburg, Dauphin Co., Pa. I am quite a worker for Cascarets. I use them myself and find them beneficial for most any disease caused by impure blood." Chas. R. Condon, Lewiston, Pa., (Mifflin Co.)

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 921

This Trade-mark Eliminates All Uncertainty

in the purchase of paint materials. It is an absolute guarantee of purity and quality. For your own protection, see that it is on the side of every keg of white lead you buy.

NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY
1902 Trinity Building, New York

Moving West?

Reduced rates on household goods in through cars to all points.

Blue Line Transfer & Storage Co.
202 Fifth St., Des Moines, Ia.

WANTED by a new factory manufacturing only staple articles, good reliable, upright men to represent us in every state, who will buy five or ten shares of capital stock. A salary of $100.00 per month, and liberal commission goes with your investment. Reference required and given. Address

The Fowler Manufacturing Company
Oklahoma City, Okla.

You get no Alcohol or other Injurious Remedy when you use A-B-C TEA
All Dealers Sell It.

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of

—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

HELLO THERE

Where are you going? I'm going to H. Lau & Son. They handle all kinds of farm implements, Port Huron threshers also the Aultman & Taylor machinery, the 20 Century and Appleton manure spreader, McKinnon and Clinton wagons, Anchor and Velie buggies, Ohio and Kingman cultivators, stirring and gang plows, the open mould board sulky plows the lightest draft, Towers cultivators, Imperial and Challenge wind mills, hog fencing, barb wire, smooth wire gates, pumps and piping of all kinds, feed mills and the international gas engines from 1 to 40 H. P., Milwaukee mowers, binders, Dane hay loaders and buckers, nails and fence staples, wind mills and pump repairing on short notice, the sharpless cream separator the best made today, the Crack a-jack line of samples for tailor made suits.

H. Lau & Son.

STYX NO. 24964.

The imported stallion STYX is a jet black free from white and weighs over 2000 lbs. as a eight year-old.

Sired by Gerfaut 2d Reg. No. 2538 and he by Hercule No. 2522 Dam Wanne d'Ap No. 38165 and she by Marie No. 4523.

This horse was shipped from Brussels, Oct. 15, 1903 by the Livermore Horse Importing Co. of Livermore, Iowa

Will make the season at the following places:

Frank Glanville on Monday and Tuesday.
G. O. Miner on Tuesday and Wednesday.
W. S. Glanville on Thursday.
C. L. Yahnke Livery Barn Friday and Saturday.

TERMS—To insure a live colt to stand up and suck $15.

M. Palmby, J. E. Johnson,
Owners.

A. Kirkwood, Manager.

UP BEFORE THE BAR

N H Brown an attorney of Pittsfield, Vt. writes: We have used Dr. King's new life pills for years and find them such a good family medicine we wouldn't be without them. For chills constipation, biliousness or sick headache they work wonders, 25c at G A Pabst & Co.

Ell Center.

Fred Wacker is having his barn re-shingled.

Fred Wacker and family visited at Ernest Henschen's Sunday.

Herman Barz and wife called on Henry Josten and wife Sunday.

Elmer Yohn and sister Luella visited Forest City friends a few days last week.

George Lawhorn returned Monday from a week's visit with Miller relatives.

Hod Lawhorn visited his sister at Miller between trains last week Thursday.

The Spring term began at the Center school Monday with Miss Luella Yohn as teacher.

I'D RATHER DIE, DOCTOR

than have my feet cut off, said M L Bingham of Princeville, Ill. but you'll die from gangreen which had eaten away eight toes, if you don't said all doctors. Instead he used Bucklen's arnica salve till wholly cured. Its cures of eczema, fever sores, boils, burns and piles astound the world. 25 cts. at G A Pabst & Co.

Wm. Lau, Sr. returned home from his Woden trip Monday where he attended the confirmation of his youngest daughter Alma with fourteen in the class. Rev. A. Wellner was the pastor and instructor to the young and old. Wm. claims that the fourteen scholars had well learned and received good instruction by their Pastor, also did the parents of the children. They should follow the instructions they received last Sunday and then either children or parents certainly not go wrong. Here is what Mr. Lau says: If pastor or parents of a good christian congregation would insist in having their children confirmed and instructed in the word of God we would have a better civilized nation in Iowa and that the members of these congregations should go together and instruct their pastor to teach and instruct their children in the word of God and have them have a hearing before the congregation, and by so doing they would reap a crop of the betterness. But as some Pastors are spending their time in preaching prohibition, they can never expect to make any head way in teaching the children of said congregation and to reap a crop of success, simply because they are commencing at the wrong side. Hold to the word of God and love thy neighbor as thy self and the rest will follow.

Avery Center.

Fred Bachman sold a horse.

Fred Chase sold a horse to the horse buyers at Meservey.

John Bachman has hired out to Geo. Griggs for the coming season.

Henry Chase from North Dakota, made his brother Fred a visit last week.

Miss Mae Yohn commenced her spring term of school Monday in Dist. No. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood and Mr. and Mrs. Ross visited at the J. F. Hartfelder home Thursday evening.

Roy Brada of Garner, is making a farewell visit at T. M. Hamilton's as he is going to Canada to make his future home.

The infant baby of Roy Halfpopps passed away to a better land Thursday after suffering with pneumonia for about five days. The grief striken parents have the sympathy of this community.

A NEW SHOE

Made Especially for Dealer in Small Iowa Town.

HIS PEOPLE HAVE FAT FEET.

The Brown Shoe Co. have just completed a lot of mens dress shoes which were made up especially for Arthur Wellemeyer of Klemme, Iowa.

Mr. Wellemeyer is located in a small town in Northern Iowa, his customers are mostly well-fed farmers and require a wide shoe, roomy in the instep and plenty of toe room.

It took the factory just six weeks to make up this new shoe to his special order.

The shoe is made of good kid stock on a wide comfortable last with a symetrical pleasing shape and we predict it will be a good selier.—St. Louis Message.

Don't worry about Oxfords for Easter—you'll find just what you want at Wellemeyers.

Arthur Wellemeyer.

Where your Dollar does its duty.

RESTAURANT

AND

LUNCH ROOM

We have a fresh and complete line of Candies, Nuts, Tobacco, Cigars, lunch counter Canned Goods, Soft Drinks and Fruits.

We have fresh home made bakery goods every day. Meals and Lunches served at all hours. We can also accommodate you with lodging. We solicit a share of your patronage.

A. KIRKWOOD & SON

MILLINERY ANNOUNCEMENT

WE

Have the largest and finest display of Spring Millinery ever show has excited more admiration and attention than any we ever had.

We have some of the most beautiful and stricken effects in Patte Hats, Trimmed Hats and Childrens headwear. The latest in Ha Rolls also a fine line of the best ladies Corsets. We have quite assortment of the latest ladies waists, and a fine line of Collars, Ru hes and Belts.

Our Trimmer is an experienced one who will be sure to please.

MRS. J. JOSTEN

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	50 to 54c
Oats	45 to 49c
Wheat	90 to 100
Barley	55 to60 c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.90
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Phillip Ell was a Garner visitor Wednesday.

Read the Millinery Announcement ad of Mrs. J. Josten.

Lloyd Spooner came up from Iowa Falls last week Friday.

Dr. C. W. Stiehl transacted business at Garner Wednesday.

Mrs. Lemon and Mrs. Spooner were Garner visitors last week Friday.

Mrs. Art Shoop and children visited at Clear Lake over Sunday with relatives.

The small town of Klemme was mentioned in a St. Louis paper last week—see clipping elsewhere.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 50c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

Ben Swalve is putting on more style than anybody these days. He purchased a new Lyon surrey of H. Lau & Son.

Mrs. M E. Peck of Garner, visited with her sister Mrs. H. L. Schuldt and family over Sunday. Mrs. Schuldt returned with her Monday.

Now we are receiving the kind of weather we have been wishing for. The warm winds are drying up the roads and the farmers are getting busy preparing the ground for seeding.

Permanently relieves constipation and indigestion. Regulates the bowels. builds up waste tissue Makes pure blood. You grow strong, healthy and robust Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea the safest, nicest Spring tonic 35 cents. G. A. Pabst & Co.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets. Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 7 6 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

O. W. Scott who handles the Robinson Manure Spreaders, and which are manufactured at Vinton, Iowa sold three machines recently to A. J. Schoenwetter, Greiman and Phil Behringer and several more of these machines are spoken for. They have stood the test with any of them and are giving the best of satisfaction.

Oxfords for Easter at Wellemeyer's.

Tuesday we received our first April showers.

Read Mrs. Josten's Millinery Announcement ad.

Mrs G. G. Washburn was a Garner visitor Tuesday.

The town equalization board met at the town Hall on Monday.

Mrs. H. Thrun and children were Garner visitors Saturday.

The new town officers elect took their oath of office on Monday.

Ed Haskin of Garner, visited with his son Myron and family Monday.

After a week's vacation school convened again on Monday for the Spring term.

We call the farmers attention to the new horse ad. of V. Palmby and J. E. Johnson.

Aug. Ridder has been improving the streets with the King drag. Nothing like it.

Miss Aggie Blank visited with her sister Mrs. Wm. F. Lau and family at Garner Tuesday.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

Wm. Lau left for Woden, Iowa last week Saturday where he visited with his daughters over Sunday.

"A New Shoe" is the heading of Wellemeyer's new ad. He has a very nice assortment of shoes to select from.

Dr. W. F. Missman moved his office equipments from Garner Monday and will be ready for business in a few days.

Bloom keeps all kinds of good seed oats, barley, buckwheet, clover, timothy, rape and milet. Yours for business at the South Elevator. tf

Miss Jordan returned last week Saturday from Spencer, Iowa where she has been visiting at her home during the week's school vacation.

WANTED—Having leased the Schroeder pasture, I will be in a position to pasture your stock the coming season.
36tf E. C. Griewe.

Grace: Pimples, blotches, rough, shiny skin are from the blood and stomach. A simple and never failing remedy—one that makes clear, healthy complexions, pure blood, perfect digestion, is Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Surprise yourself. Tea or tablets 35 cents. G. A Pabst & Co.

Gus. A Radke and his brother Wm. arrived from Tracy, Minn. last week for a few days visit among old acquaintances. While here they bought the Reeves traction engine of H. J Stille. The brothers thresh every fall and last fall they reported to us good returns. Oats weighing from 70 to 75 pounds to the sack. The corn last season was well matured and a large yield. They are doing well financially in that locality. We wish them success.

SWEPT OVER NIAGRA

The terrible calamity often happens because a careless boatman ignores the river's warnings growing ripples and faster current. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape fatal maladies—dropsy, diabetes or brights disease. Take Electric bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. After long suffering from weak kidneys and back one $1.00 bottle wholly cured me, writes J R Blackenship of Belk, Tenn. Only 50 at G A Pabst & Co.

Wallace Carr drove down from Garner Saturday last week.

Aug. Lau and F. A. Arnold did business at Garner Monday.

L. A. Fuller of Belmond, was a Klemme visitor last week Friday.

The King drag has been doing some good work in this locality these days.

W. R. Bloom shipped one car load of hogs to Chicago Wednesday morning.

Vick Carlson is improving from his recent sickness and is able to be about some.

Geo. Wessels who has been very sick of late is at this writing a little on the mend.

Miss Vera Duffy of Garner, will teach the Jno. Newberger school this Spring term.

Wallace Carr of Garner, purchased one of H. Yahnke's best horses the first of this week.

"Banking Business" is the heading of The First National Bank ad. this week Read it.

Mr. L. E Bowker principal of the Crystal Lake schools, was a Klemme visitor Tuesday and Wednesday. The Times office acknowledged a pleasant visit.

Dr. Spooner is practicing medicine at Luverne, Iowa having located there from Iowa Falls recently His family who have been visiting here with relatives, departed for their new home on Tuesday.

Builds up your whole body. Regulates the bowels. clears the blood, aids digestion, makes you well from head to feet. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do, greatest spring regulator. Tea or Tablets, 35 cents. G. A. Pabst & Co.

At a meeting of the Klemme School Board on Tuesday evening the following business was transacted: Mr. L. E. Bowker, principal of the Crystal Lake schools and Miss Costello of Goodell were hired and will take charge this fall term. Miss Leuz will retain her room.

German M. E. Church Items

A few farmers started to seed on Monday.

We are glad to note that our sick are all improved.

Mrs. Josten's millinery opening was largely attended last week.

The pleasant weather on Palm Sunday brought out a large audience.

Mrs. H. Griewe and daughter Clara were in Garner Monday between trains.

Edward Weisbrod of Fenton, Iowa spent Sunday in Germantown on one of his quarterly visits.

Hugo Neff began work for Erick Josten Monday morning. He has hired out to Erick for the entire summer.

This being passion week there will be services in Klemme Wednesday evening and Friday morning at 10:30 and in Germantown on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Herman Brockmeyer of Colesburg, Iowa is spending a few weeks at the home of her mother Mrs. Schwichtenberg to help take care of her sister Mrs. Berg.

In the Klemme church there will be an Easter sermon at the usual hour followed by an Easter program by a number of the smaller Sunday school scholars, Sunday morning.

The Germantown Epworth League will give an Easter program Sunday evening.

Gus. Radke of Tracy, Minn. arrived last week and is calling on his numerous friends in Germantown.

From all appearance, a few ——senators will keep the amendment bill in their pocket after it passed the house by a handsome majority and was demanded by thousands of Iowas best citizens. We feel justly proud of our senator Hammill and representative Ripley for their stand in this and other questiong.

We clip the following from the "Mida's Criterion," a Chicago liquor organ: "It is hard to disguise the fact that the trade as a whole is suffering from the effect of persistent agitation aimed at its very existence. So far as the retail trade of this and adjoining States is concerned, it seems to be sick unto death. It got to the point where it refuses to respond to treatment for no day seems to know what the next day may bring forth." The above would hardly seem true in some nooks and corners of this burg some nights. But every dog has his day.

The Germantown League gave a "Shaddow" social at the home of H. J Stille on Friday evening of last week. About 50 young people were present and with the few older ones it brought the number over 60. To say the least, it was a company of fine intelligent people of which any community might be proud. The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Stille was a most suitable place for a gathering of this kind and they did all in their power to make it pleasant for all. The exercises opened with a short programme after which an "Exchange" was indulged in for a short time to get all acquainted. A few guessing contests followed and then the main feature of the evening opened, the selling of shadows. Several of the young men came near getting a "corner" on the fleecy article, which made bidding lively and fast. Tho' the shadows disappeared when the curtain was raised. Ladies with well filled baskets appeared and all received their moneys worth. The committee had several games still on the program, but owing to the large crowd and late hour a closing song ended this pleasant occasion. We were more than pleased to have several parents with us, come again.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

M. Palmby	Klemme
Carl Busch	"
J. Terhufen	"
Gus. Baack	"
Chas. Greffin	"
H. Yahnke	"
Andrew Schwartz,	Jefferson, Oklahoma.
Thos. Hamilton	Goodell
G. A. Radke	Tracy, Minn.
J. A. Schneider,	Froelich, Ia
F. Voelker	Weatherford, Okla

Board of Health Notice.

Notice is hereby given that all dead animals must be disposed of on or before April 20th. It is prohibited to leave dead poultry along the highway. Anyone not complying with this notice, will be fined to the amount of $25.00. H. C. BEIER,
36-3 Clerk, German Township.

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to night calls.

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

Items for Travelers

Have you read the wonderful stories of success in the Gulf Coast Country of Texas? Send for our pamphlet.

$30 to $35 will take you to principal points in the Southwest and return. Tickets sold first and third Tuesdays of each month.

When traveling to and from Colorado use the best! "The Rocky Mountain Limited."

Hundreds of people are going to California on the Golden State Limited. Why not you?

Mr. Jno. G. Farmer, D. P. A., Cedar Rapids, will gladly inform you about any trip you may consider taking. Remember, I sell the tickets.

Rock Island

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa.

MUST BELIEVE IT.

Every Reader Will Concede the Truth of This Statement.

One who suffers with backache or any form of kidney trouble wants a lasting cure, not merely a temporary benefit. Profit by the example of Rev. J. M. Suffield, of 2179 S. 8th St., Lincoln, Nebr., who confirms a report of his cure after several years. "I told in a statement made for publication in 1900 how Doan's Kidney Pills had relieved me after other remedies had failed," said Rev. Suffield. "I have no hesitation in confirming that statement now. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills at various times and they have never failed me."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Partners in His Crime.

The hard looking customer had been arrested for stealing an umbrella.

"What do you have to say for yourself?" asked the police justice. "Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"I'm one o' the guilty ones, y'r honor, I reckon," answered the prisoner. "The umbrella had the name of J. Thompson on the handle, G. H. Brickley stamped on the inside o' the cover, an' I stole it from a man named Quimby."

No Wonder She's Cross.

The woman who has a thousand petty cares and annoyances while she suffers with headache or side ache must not be blamed if she cannot always be angelically amiable. What she needs is thoughtfulness from her family and such a simple and natural remedy as Lane's Family Medicine, the herb tea that makes weak women strong and well. Sold by druggists and dealers, 25c.

Polite Interruptions.

"And it's awfully impolite to interrupt one who is talking, isn't it, mother?"

"Except when a woman is describing clothes, my dear, and then it is polite to constantly ejaculate 'How lovely!' or 'How ridiculous!' as the case may be."—Kansas City Times.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Up to Date.

Blobbs—So he broke off the engagement, eh? Did she take it to heart?

Slobbs—No, to court.

ONLY ONE "BROMO QUININE."

That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

Women like to talk of the days they were single and had a good time.

WORTH MOUNTAINS OF GOLD

During Change of Life, says Mrs. Chas. Barclay

Graniteville, Vt. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter." — MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, local weaknesses, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life. It costs but little to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, as Mrs. Barclay says, it is "worth mountains of gold" to suffering women.

WETS WIN FIGHT

SENATORS VOTE TO TABLE THE CLARKSON RESOLUTION.

MAY DECIDE FUTURE ACTION

Mrs. Edworthy Declares Suffragists Will Complicate Constitutional Convention.

Des Moines.—By laying on the table the resolution introduced by Senator Clarkson requiring the committee on constitutional amendments to report upon the Meredith prohibitory resolution, the Iowa senate administered the second defeat to the prohibition forces. The motion was made by Senator Saunders, and the vote, 27 to 13, showed a slight gain for the antis and a decided loss to the prohibitionists laying on the table the Proudfoot motion to recall the measure from the committee, which was 26 to 21.

After this action was taken Senator DeArmand offered a resolution providing that whereas the time for adjournment had been fixed, the senate should not consider on the floor any measure not having a favorable report from the committee to which it is referred. The adoption of this will prevent the taking up of the time of the senate with any measure which cannot secure approval of a committee.

Budget of a Million.

The budget which the legislature will be asked to pass within a very few days will total $1,460,000 in round numbers, so Chairman E. R. Moore of the house appropriations committee estimates. This is within $40,000 of the amount of funds at the disposal of the committee which have in charge the disbursement of the state money. Chairman Moore explained that the $40,000 must be left in the state treasury so as to keep the ship of state from going on the rocks during the period from July to October, when there are no taxes coming in. The house appropriations committee has but three little bills left, and these, while of little importance, will be recommended for indefinite postponement. The senate appropriations committee is taking similar actions with appropriations bill. In short, both committees have gone the limit, and it is a most worthy cause which will now be recognized with an appropriation.

Board is Cleared.

In the house committee on suppression of intemperance the board has practically been cleared and everything recommended for passage. Among the bills sent out with approval are the measure requiring a new petition of consent every two years, the Moon bill limiting the number of saloons to one for every 800 persons in cities of the first class and the substitute for the Van Law bill providing that none except a qualified elector can own or operate a saloon and attaching more regulations.

To Scrutinize Printing Bills.

Representative Judge Crozier of Mahon county is convinced that more printed matter is being ground out by the state of Iowa than is necessary. He has introduced a resolution calling upon the committee on retrenchment and reform to take an inventory of all matter printed and report back as to how much is necessary and how much could be dispensed with.

To Make Butter Tubs.

In olden days all one had to do to stir up a fuss was to introduce a bill in the legislature providing for convict made binding twine. But the house passed the Byerly bill permitting Anamosa convicts to make butter tubs and voted down Boettger's amendment providing that the butter tubs should be labeled "convict made."

New Military Code.

The bill to provide a military code for Iowa as passed provides an annual appropriation of $140,000 for the Iowa National Guard and increases the salary of Adjutant General Logan from $2,000 to $2,200. It provides for adding 1,000 men to the guard, the purchase of four field guns and other improvements.

Showing the Farmer.

The state board of control is showing the farmers in the Iowa legislature how to manage a test of seed corn. In the first floor corridor of the state house the board has a half dozen boxes of tested corn and the miniature cornfield is attracting much attention.

Cut Down Appropriation.

The house of representatives cut down the appropriation for the Iowa highway commission from $10,000 to $5,000 and passed it. There is every indication that the present legislature will be looked back upon as the most antagonistic to good roads in the history of the state.

No State Fire Marshal.

Another measure asked by the fire insurance writers was given its quietus in the legislature when the appropriations committee slaughtered the Harding bill for a state fire marshal. The demise of this measure following so quickly that of the Harding bill to repeal the Blanchard law winds up the hopes of the Iowa insurance companies for legislation which would have served to protect them from foreign companies. The house committee also killed the Newberry bill for teaching agriculture in the state institutions, the Gilliland bill for quarantine of the brown tailed moth and the Hunter bill increasing the salary of the assistant librarian.

Air Brakes Are Given Test.

Members of the house of representatives committee on cities and towns were given a demonstration of air brake and power brakes on street cars. The street car company managed the test, which proved that air brakes will stop the car several feet sooner than will the old fashioned power brakes, so members of the committee stated. A bill to force the installation of air brakes on street cars has passed the senate and is before the house committee.

Asked to Veto Hotel Bill.

Governor Carroll is being importuned by the business interests of the state and especially the keepers of hotels, to veto the Smith hotel bill, which was prepared by and for the traveling men of the state to provide safeguards for travelers. They say that the bill is very bad, that it is expensive, that it will compel closing of many hotels, that it will require virtual rebuilding of some hotels, The bill is up to the governor for his veto.

Defines Duties.

The bill defining the duties of the county sheriff is now ready for the governor's signature, amendments having been finally agreed to by the house and senate. These affected the wording of the bill and were of no importance. The house receded from its amendment changing a "whom" to "who" and agreed to accept the senate's judgment on this grammatical point.

Ask for Air Brakes.

A strong effort is being made by interested persons to secure enough votes in the house for the defeat of the bill to require street car companies to equip cars with air brakes. The house has the bill reported for passage. It is desired by the street car employes and patrons, but the claim is being made that air brakes are not as good as hand brakes.

Will Withdraw Bill.

Senator Ream will probably withdraw his bill requiring railroad companies to equip engines with a headlight that will light the track 1,200 feet. The objection to the bill is that such a light is impracticable because of its effects upon signal lights, which are said to be the real lights by which the engine is run.

Gets Bill on Calendar.

Representative Smith has finally succeeded in getting his bill to penalize railroads for non-compliance with orders of the railroad commissioners upon the senate calendar. This bill was one of the first passed by the house, but the senate committee has been holding it up.

Cosson's Bill Killed.

Good-bye to Senator Cosson's bill making it a misdemeanor for divorced parties to live in Iowa after remarriage in another state before a year has elapsed. The house committee on judiciary killed the bill which had passed the senate.

Pension Disabled Policemen.

Representative Hackler of Fort Dodge, has presented a petition to the house of representatives from Fort Dodge policemen urging him to support the bill for pensioning of worn out and disabled policemen and the widows and children of deceased policemen.

Can't Jump on Trains.

The flow of bills in the senate practically stopped several days ago, but one falls in once in a while. Senator Clark introduced one yesterday fixing a penalty of $100 fine or thirty days in jail for getting on or off moving trains.

Favor the Policemen.

The policemen, disabled and otherwise, seem fair to be given a chance to pension themselves. The house of representatives committee on judiciary has recommended for passage John Sullivan's bill looking toward that end.

Gets Half of Claim.

Gustave Winter, who lost an arm in a corn shredder at the insane hospital in Independence and who asked for $2,000 from the state, will get half that amount, the claims committee has recommended.

THE CRACKING OF PAINT.

Property Owners Can Save Money by Learning the Cause.

Do you know what is wrong when paint peels, or cracks, or otherwise necessitates premature re-painting?

Well, sometimes it hasn't been properly applied—the surface being damp or there being too much turpentine or too much drier.

But, nine times out of ten, the trouble is caused by adulterated white lead.

To avoid all such trouble, every houseowner should know in a general way, when a surface is in proper condition to receive paint, what kind of primer and finishing coats different surfaces require, and how to avoid adulteration in materials.

A complete painting guide, including a book of color schemes, specifications for all kinds of painting work, and an instrument for detecting adulterations in painting materials, with directions for using it, can be had free by writing National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Bldg., New York, and asking for Houseowner's Painting Outfit No. 49.

This company, the largest makers of pure white lead, invite tests, by means of the blowpipe (included in outfit), or in any other way, of the purity of the white lead sold under their famous "Dutch Boy Painter" trademark. That trademark on a keg of white lead is in itself an absolute guarantee of purity and quality.

IT WAS NOT HER BACK.

Woman Had No Idea of Being Proxy for Medical Treatment.

A missionary, discoursing upon India, told of a woman who had come to her complaining of a very sore back and desired that she pray for its cure. This Mrs. Jackson did, but the woman again appeared before her and declared that the back was still in a bad condition. Mrs. Jackson advised the use of an application of iodine, and brought out a bottle of the drug to apply upon the afflicted part of the woman's anatomy. But she regarded the bottle suspiciously and acted as though it would hurt her were she to use it. To allay her fears upon this score Mrs. Jackson applied some of the drug to her own finger and showed her that it would not burn, and that she had better allow her to put some of it upon her back.

"But," said the woman, "it would do no good."

"How so?" inquired Mrs. Jackson, sympathetically.

"Because," replied the woman, "it is my old man's back that is sore."

The Secret of Success.

The motto of success was given in this tale, told at a banquet:

A Swede among the miners in the west was noted for always striking pay dirt. His fellows thought that there must be some secret to the unusual success of the Swede and questioned him as to how he always succeeded in finding the spot where the gold cropped out.

"Vell, Ay don't know ef Ay can tell anytang 'bout dat," answered Ole. "Ay only know dat Ay yust keep on diggin'."—Milwaukee Free Press.

Hope Springs Eternal.

He was addressing a crowd one Sunday morning on the quay at Newcastle.

"I can safely say that no man ever attempted to bribe me, gentlemen," said the speaker.

"Don't be down-hearted, old chap, your luck may change," shouted a man in the crowd.—Tit-Bits.

SISTER'S TRICK

But It All Came Out Right.

How a sister played a trick that brought rosy health to a coffee fiend is an interesting tale:

"I was a coffee fiend—a trembling, nervous, physical wreck, yet clinging to the poison that stole away my strength. I mocked at Postum and would have none of it.

"One day my sister substituted a cup of Postum piping hot for my morning cup of coffee but did not tell me what it was. I noticed the richness of it and remarked that the coffee tasted fine but my sister did not tell me I was drinking Postum for fear I might not take any more.

"She kept the secret and kept giving me Postum instead of coffee until I grew stronger, more tireless, got a better color in my sallow cheeks and a clearness to my eyes, then she told me of the health-giving, nerve-strengthening life-saver she had given me in place of my morning coffee. From that time I became a disciple of Postum and no words can do justice in telling the good this cereal drink did me. I will not try to tell it, for only after having used it can one be convinced of its merits."

Ten days' trial shows Postum's power to rebuild what coffee has destroyed. "There's a Reason."

Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Habitual Constipation

May be permanently overcome by proper personal efforts with the assistance of the one truly beneficial laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs & Elixir of Senna, which enables one to form regular habits daily so that assistance to nature may be gradually dispensed with when no longer needed, as the best remedies when required are to assist nature, and not to supplant the natural functions, which must depend ultimately upon proper nourishment, proper efforts, and right living generally.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine

MANUFACTURED BY THE

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS

ONE SIZE ONLY—REGULAR PRICE 50¢ PER BOTTLE

His Burst of Generosity.

"Your boy's injury is not as serious as I had anticipated," the surgeon assured him. "I shall not have to amputate his leg."

"I am glad to hear you say so," said Mr. Tyte-Phist, with emotion. "Still if it had been necessary, in order to save his life, I—I was willing to bear the expense of it!"

Wasted Years.

Nan—So, after six years' courtship all is off between Tim and Tiny.

Fan—Yes; they loved not wisely but too platonically.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

From the blackmailer's viewpoint keeping secrets is a paying business.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES

FOR RHEUMATISM BRIGHT'S DISEASE DIABETES BACKACHE

NUMBER 375 "Guaranteed"

You Are In Danger

if you let that cold run on. Neglected colds cause incurable diseases. Don't risk your health. Keep a bottle of

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

in your home. It's the safest, surest and quickest remedy for colds ever compounded. For Coughs, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Inflammation of the Lungs, in fact, all diseases caused by neglected colds. It has no equal.

Recommended and sold by druggists everywhere.

Three size bottles, $1.00, 50c, 25c

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER.

They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTE

6% QUARTERLY

We pay interest every three months at the rate of six per cent. yearly. Our investments are all in mortgages on New York City real estate. Twenty years' experience in New York real estate. Principal and interest guaranteed. Communications confidential. Write:

Liberty Financial & Security Co.

CITY INVESTING BUILDING. NEW YORK CITY.

AGENTS EVERYWHERE Fruits, Flowers, Vines — Shrubs — Vegetables, etc., grow twice their natural size, or larger, in ½ usual time—or less. Destroys Bugs and Insects, non-poisonous. Send 35c for 50c trial package. CHEMISTS SPECIALTY CO., CHICAGO.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

E-RU-NA

Cramps in the Stomach of Six Years' Standing.

...was troubled with cramps in the ...ach for six years. I tried many ... of medicine, also was treated ...ree doctors.

...hey said that I had nervous dys... I took the medicine for two ... then I got sick again and gave ...l hopes of getting cured.

...saw a testimonial of a man whose ...was similar to mine, being cured ...eruna, so thought I would give it ...al. I procured a bottle at once, ...commenced taking it.

...have taken nineteen bottles, and ...ntirely cured. I believe Peruna ...that is claimed for it."—Mrs. J. ...mison, 61 Marchant St., Watson... Cal.

DUTIFUL SON.

...ou young scamp! I've caught ...smoking my cigars!"

...es, pa—er—er—you see I heard ...ay that you were smokin' your... ...o death and er—I'm tryin' to save ... life!"

More Than One.

...young fellow, whose better-half ...just presented him with a pair of ...cing twins, attended church one ...day.

...ring the discourse the clergyman ...ed right out at our innocent friend ... said with thrilling eloquence:

..."oung man, you have an important ...onsibility thrust upon you."

...e newly fledged dad, supposing ...preacher alluded to his peculiar ...e event, considerably startled the ...ence by exclaiming: "Yes, I have ...of 'em."—Liverpool Mercury.

Punishment and Crime.

...he seems to be having a pretty ... time now that she and her hus... are separated," whispered the ... girls in the corner as she en... the room.

... don't blame her," said one. "He ... her, didn't he?"

...ey looked her over again.

..."ell, I don't blame him for beat... her," the third declared, "if she ...sed like that. That red is awful."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

...al applications, as they cannot reach the dis... portion of the ear. There is only one way to ...eafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. ...ss is caused by an inflamed condition of the ... lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this ... inflamed you have a rumbling sound or im... hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deaf... the result, and unless the inflammation can be ...out and this tube restored to its normal condi... hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases ...ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing ... inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. ... will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of ...ss (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured ...'s Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

...by Druggists, 75c.

...e Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

From Plutarch.

...either rich furniture nor abun...ce of gold, nor a descent from an ...trious family, nor greatness of ...ority, nor eloquence and all the ...ms of speaking, can produce so ...l a serenity of life as a mind free ... guilt, kept untainted, not only ... actions, but purposes that are ...ed.—Plutarch.

Questionable.

..."Has she a sense of humor?"

..."I can't tell."

..."Why not?"

..."Because she looked serious when ... told me she admired your sing...

Try Murine Eye Remedy

...Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes. ...pounded by Experienced Physicians. ...forms to the Pure Food and Drugs ... Murine Doesn't Smart. Soothes Eye ... Try Murine for Your Eyes.

Speaking of Spooks.

...asmus—What did der ghost say ...you?

...astus—How yer tink I know? I ...er lurned de dead languiges.

...ese people use Hamlins Wizard Oil ...top pain because they know it always ...es good. Foolish people try experi... ...ts. Ask your druggists about it.

At the Butcher's.

..."Is this meat dear?"

..."No, ma'am, sheep!"

...PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS. ...O OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case ...hing, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in ...days or money refunded. 50c.

...ne way to remove paint is to sit ...n on it before it is dry.

...yspepsia and constipation are avoidable ...ases—take Garfield Tea, Nature's Herb ...ative.

...he best thing to do when you catch ...old is to let go of it.

...Allen's Foot-Ease, a Powder ...swollen, sweating feet. Gives instant relief. The ...al powder for the feet. 25c at all Druggists.

...t sometimes happens that a distant ...ation is too close.

PLAN BIG WAGE CUT

STEEL TRUST'S COMPANIES TO SLASH PAY 15 PER CENT.

GOES INTO EFFECT MAY 1

Reduction Means a Saving of $25,000,000 and Gives the Combine Advantage Over Independents Whose Cuts Are Ten Per cent.

New York.—The various subsidiary companies of the United States Steel corporation, it is announced on the best authority, will slash 15 per cent. off the wages of their employes on May 1. The trust itself will not announce the cut, but it will be left to the subsidiary concerns to make the announcements on April 15.

The subsidiary companies of the steel corporation have been holding back their announcement of wage cuts with the purpose of letting all the independent companies do their cutting first. This has not only the advantage of letting the independents accumulate the brunt of the odium for wage reduction and insures that there will not be an exodus of skilled trust workmen into the independent mills but also serves a steel market coup of far greater importance than either of these considerations.

Inasmuch as the independents have cut their wage scales uniformly at the rate of ten per cent., the steel trust will be in position, if it announces a cut of 15 per cent. on May 1, to rearrange its price schedules so sweepingly that it will capture the entire steel market for months to come and insure an enormously swollen business for the coming year.

The United States Steel corporation paid out $160,000,000 in 1907. On that basis a cut of 15 per cent. means that the company will save $25,000,000 on labor alone.

Buffalo, N. Y.—The arrival here Friday of a carload of non-union engineers, oilers and firemen is looked upon as the beginning of the fight between the Lake Carriers' association and the various unions on the great lakes.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—The first trouble in the anthracite region since the expiration of the three-year agreement has developed at the Keystone colliery of the Traders' Coal Company at the Ridgewood mine, about four miles from here. The miners had a dispute over yardage and the shifting of rock and as a result refrained from working Friday.

NOT GUILTY, SAYS KIDNAPER.

Mrs. Boyle Arraigned and Held in Default of $25,000 Bond at Mercer, Pa.

Mercer, Pa. — Mrs. Helen Boyle, wife of James H. Boyle, kidnaper of Willie Whitla, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Thomas McClain, at this place Wednesday, charged with kidnaping.

She entered a plea of "not guilty," and was held for the action of the grand jury in the sum of $25,000 bail. Her husband waived a hearing at Sharon, Monday and is held in the jail here on a similar bond.

The mystery surrounding the stranger who visited Mrs. Boyle in jail last Monday was cleared last night when W. J. McDermott of Chicago told friends here that he called at the jail in the absence of Sheriff Chess and identified the prisoner as his sister, Anna McDermott, who eloped from Chicago with Boyle three years' ago.

KILLS MINER IN RIOT.

Constable Slays One and Wounds Another When Attempt Is Made to Rescue Prisoner.

Pittsburg, Pa.—One man was killed and another probably fatally injured in a riot between a crowd of miners formerly employed at the Harwick mines of the Allegheny Coal Company at Cheswick, Pa., near here, and two deputy constables at that place.

The dead man is Mike Strenyard, aged 20 years. Norwalk Bulterge, aged 24 years, has two bullets in his back.

The trouble started when the crowd of miners attempted to rescue a comrade who had been arrested by Deputy Constables Holland and Blair. Holland, who did the shooting, is under a $2,000 bond.

Zeppelin Returns In Airship.

Fredrichshafen. — Wearing a smile which fully expressed the victory of his wonderful airship over wind, snow and other adverse weather conditions, Count Zeppelin returned in his aerial craft Friday night after having been on a voyage which consumed two days' time. He landed safely on Lake Constance and the airship was snugly tucked away in its shed none the worse for its wild experiences.

President Taft's White Steamer

PRESIDENT TAFT AND HIS FAMILY IN THEIR WHITE STEAMER

When the announcement was made several months ago that Mr. Taft would use an automobile during his term as President, much rivalry developed among the leading manufacturers for the honor of selling him a car and the public watched with interest to see what Mr. Taft's choice would be. The knowing ones predicted that the White Steamer would be selected and they pointed out that President Roosevelt had used White Steamers for two years at his summer home at Oyster Bay and had recommended this make to Mr. Taft as the most desirable.

This prediction proved correct, although Mr. Taft did not rely solely on Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation, but, with his usual thoroughness, determined to have an investigation made of all the principal makes. Accordingly, he asked several officers of the War Department to look into the matter for him, and they tested many makes of cars, visited a number of factories so that they might see what materials were used, and, finally, they investigated the records of the different types of cars in public contests and in private service.

When their labors were completed, the officials reported unanimously to Mr. Taft in favor of the White, and, accordingly, a car of this make was immediately ordered from the manufacturers, The White Company of Cleveland.

The new car was delivered to Mr. Taft in Washington a few days before his inauguration and since that time it has been in almost constant use. There has not been a day when the President or some member of his family have not been seen riding around the National Capital in the new car. It is hinted that Mr. Taft likes fast traveling and that when he rides out into the open country, he does not always insist that the speed of the car be kept within the legal limits.

W. J. Urquhart, manager of the western branch of the White Company, 239 Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., said recently to a correspondent of this paper: "We are receiving many inquiries each day asking for full details regarding the construction of Mr. Taft's car and in reply we are sending copies of our catalog. Mr. Taft's car is exactly like any other Model 'M' 40 horse-power White Steamer, except that his car has the United States coat-of-arms painted on either door. In other words, when we make a car for the President of the United States there is no way in which we can make it any better than the car which you, or anybody else, can purchase from us.

"Some of those writing to me about Mr. Taft's car say that, although they are very desirous of having a car like Mr. Taft's, they are afraid that such a car is somewhat larger and more expensive than they desire. In reply to such letters, I point out that our Model 'O' 20 horse-power car is exactly like our 40 horse-power model, except as regards the size of the different parts. The principle of construction is exactly the same and the smaller car possesses all the desirable qualities of our larger model. In other words, one can secure an exact duplicate of Mr. Taft's car for $4,000, or a car of the same qualities, but of smaller dimensions, for only $2,000. Judging by the demand for White cars, a good proportion of those desiring to purchase automobiles are quite content to trust President Taft's judgment as to the best and most desirable make."

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

SNAP FOR JIMMIE.

"Oh, Jimmie, our pa's been appointed postmaster!"

"Good! Now I won't have ter put any stamps on de letters I sends yous!"

CHILD ATE CUTICURA OINTMENT.

Spread Whole Box of It on Crackers —Not the Least Injury Resulted.

Cuticura Thus Proven Pure and Sweet.

A New York friend of Cuticura writes:

"My three year old son and heir, after being put to bed on a trip across the Atlantic, investigated the stateroom and located a box of graham crackers and a box of Cuticura Ointment. When a search was made for the box, it was found empty and the kid admitted that he had eaten the contents of the entire box spread on the crackers. It cured him of a bad cold and I don't know what else."

No more conclusive evidence could be offered that every ingredient of Cuticura Ointment is absolutely pure, sweet and harmless. If it may be safely eaten by a young child, none but the most beneficial results can be expected to attend its application to even the tenderest skin or youngest infant.

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

The First Word.

"That is what I call an ideal marriage," Hardy declared to his wife as they were walking homeward after an evening at the Carrolls'. "Actually I believe both think absolutely alike."

"Yes, they are certainly charming," assented Mrs. Hardy; "but about thinking, Joe, if you will notice, she generally thinks first."—Youth's Companion.

For Colds and Grip.

Lane's Pleasant Tablets (laxative) cure colds in an hour and are the best treatment for grip. Do not wait a minute when you feel a cold coming on, but get a box of these tablets and save suffering and expense. They are sold by druggists and dealers at 25 cents a box. Orator F. Woodward. Le Roy, N. Y. Sample free.

Give Him Time.

"Do you cultivate the muses?"

"No—I'm a stranger in town, and only know a few people, so far."

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

The Flavor Lasts Remember that!

NEITHER FROSTS NOR DROUTHS RETARD THE WEALTH THAT GROWS—In Seattle

This wealth that grows from the never-ceasing increase in the value of the ground in the "Inner Business Circle" of Seattle, utterly indifferent to weather, seasons or whims of men, producing in addition its unfailing crops of rents, regardless of frosts or floods or drouths or insects—THIS wealth, as SURE as time, as SAFE as Earth, my Company through its system of UNIT OWNERSHIP makes it possible for YOU to get and keep—for yourself, your children and your children's children, no matter WHERE you live nor HOW SMALL your capital.

If you have any surplus financial seed, much or little, to plant in fertile soil which others will till for you, then write to me and let me send you the facts—NOW.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

MAPLEINE

A flavoring that is used the same as lemon or vanilla. By dissolving granulated sugar in water and adding Mapleine, a delicious syrup is made and a syrup better than maple. Mapleine is sold by grocers. If not send 35c for 2 oz. bot. and recipe book. Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle.

KALAMAZOO, FLORIDA

The new celery district near Sanford, Florida. Neighboring lands being sold at fabulous prices. We own limited high-grade tract which we offer you in any size acreage for a short time only, $15 acre; $10 down; $5 monthly, no interest. Farming at Kalamazoo doubly profitable in winter and carried on all year. Make reservation to-day. Enhanced values in 60 days; make sure of getting your share of this extraordinary offering; write now for facts. Your money back if we cannot prove every word we say. Reference: Union Savings Bank, Jacksonville, Florida.

FLORIDA DEVELOPING CO., Duval Bldg., Jacksonville, Florida.

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE

FOR PINK EYE DISTEMPER CATARRHAL FEVER AND ALL NOSE AND THROAT DISEASES

Cures the sick and acts as a preventive for others. Liquid given on the tongue. Safe for brood mares and all others. Best kidney remedy; 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle; $5.00 and $10.00 the dozen. Sold by all druggists and horse goods houses, or sent express paid, by the manufacturers.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists, GOSHEN, INDIANA

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS
WITH Dr. King's New Discovery
FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
437 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

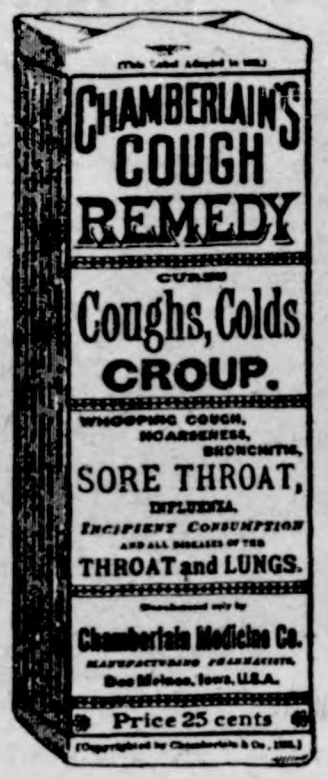
Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.



See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

The Origin of Pie.

The origin of pie, especially mince pie, like the origin of sausage, is shrouded in mystery, but certain it is that it was known as far back as the time of Piers the Plowman, and it may be that in his dinner pail could have been found the precedent which Michael of Pittsburg, now of the hospital, sought to follow. Those who are surprised, after being led to believe that New England is the habitat of the article, to learn that pie is an old English institution, can easily accept the further statement that "planted on American soil it forthwith ran rampant and burst forth into an untold variety of genera and species." Like the Irish potato, which is said to have been originated in the new world, it has been so ingrafted into the life of its adopted country that it seems more like a native than an alien.

Troublesome Small Animals.

Farmers who live near the Blue mountains, in Lehigh county, are greatly bothered with foxes, minks and weasels, and the farmers who live along the lowlands have their land spoiled by the muskrats and the skunks. A crusade has been declared against these animals and the farmers expect to exterminate them by trapping and shooting.

More than 1,000 pelts have been shipped from New Tripoli during the last week. Among the most successful trappers were the following: R. Stump and C. Frey, who had 40 skunks, 36 opossums and 34 muskrats; W. Oswald, six minks; J. Wolf, seven red foxes. There are a score of others who caught as high as 40 foxes, skunks, opossums and muskrats.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

CAESAR'S GHOST IN POLITICS.

Nations Still Cling Tenaciously to Notion of Empire.

Even more tenacious has been the hold of Caesar's ghost in politics. There are two forms under which the idea of world government presents itself: One, the dead notion of empire, the thing for which Caesar stood, the very name of the man still clinging on in the words czar and kaiser, and the name of his idea remaining in the word emperor; the other, the living idea of federation. When we have come to understand the nature of ghost rule we wonder no longer at some political phenomena otherwise absolutely incomprehensible. Why, for instance, does each nation now strive for the chimera of military preparedness? Germany, England and Japan levy an intolerable tax of money and blood to maintain their armies; the nations are in perpetual travail to bring fourth battleship after battleship. If you go to the bottom of the reason of all this you find no reason at all, or a silly one. For it is manifestly impossible for any one nation to conquer all the others. You ask yourself why one international fleet and army could not be supported, to be at the command of one international court, thus to settle all disputes and enforce all decisions. The answer plainly is that this question is mere living, mortal common sense, and hence a puny thing to put against the age-old, dead ghost-principle of empire.—Atlantic Weekly.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.
Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days trial treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men. The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 37 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, APR. 15, 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

That happiness and contentment that comes only through a certainty for the future is the healthy, permanent kind. A savings account starts you on that road today.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

North Elevator

—FOR—

Seeds! Seeds! Seeds!

Medium Red Clover
Mammoth Red Clover
Alsike Clover
Timothy—extra fancy

My seeds comply with the Iowa Pure Seed Laws.

☞ Place your orders now—my prices are right.

Highest market price for—

Grain and Livestock.

Yours for business

H. C. LAU

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J.W.WATERMAN

ENVELOPES TO SEND ABROAD

Made Now Lined with Thin Tissue Paper of Any Desired Color.

"Nice sorts of envelopes they have nowadays for foreign correspondents," said a girl who writes letters abroad. "You know the envelopes, like the letter sheets, are made of thin paper so that they won't weigh too much and increase the postage.

"With an envelope of thin, plain paper the writing on the letter might show through. So they came to make these envelopes of a paper that was printed on the inner side with close lines in a pretty plaid pattern that you couldn't see through and that served very well, but now you can buy foreign letter envelopes that are made opaque with a lining of the thinnest tissue paper of any desired color.

"Such envelopes you will find and with lining of various colors in stock, envelopes lined with blue or with red or purple or tan or violet, but if you don't find among these just what you want they will show you a book of tissues with samples of 50 or more colors or shades from which you can select first just the color you do fancy or the color you call your own and then you have the envelopes made to order."

THE GIRL FROM THE COUNTRY.

Habit That Enabled Her Instantly to Be Singled Out.

Said a visitor to a teacher in a business college:

"That girl from the country seems to be the brightest student in the room."

At the request of the teacher she designated more particularly the girl she had in mind.

"Oh, yes," said the teacher, "she is very bright, but how did you know she is from the country? She doesn't look countrified."

"Her habit of washing her hands so often gave her away," said the visitor. "I have been sitting here about two hours. In that time she has washed her hands three times. No city girl would have done that; she would have sharpened pencils or turned over the dusty books, and simply have polished her hands on her pocket handkerchief and gone on working. The country girl would find it impossible to work under such conditions. She must have clean hands. All country people have a mania for washing their hands. After each task down go their hands into a basin of water. City life cures most country habits; frequent bathing of the hands is the last to go."

Able to Operate on Lungs.

A German physician, by means of a glass cabinet with a partial vacuum, has solved the problem of operating on the lungs. He probably has paved the way to successful surgery in cases of internal cancer, and possibly of consumption where the lung tissue is affected. By the use of his cabinet the patient, it is said, can breathe easily with the chest cavity open and without danger of collapse of the lungs, which has been the danger hitherto, owing to atmospheric pressure. After the surgeon and his assistants have taken their place inside this cabinet the subject is placed upon the operating table and his head allowed to project through a tight-fitting rubber collar in the wall of the cabinet. By means of a suction pump the air inside is then reduced to negative pressure.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

RHEUMATISM

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's liniment is all that is needed and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicines usually given internally for rheumatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. The are worse than usual in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For sale by G A Pabst & Co.

Banking Business?

YOU have more or less of it? Possibly it is with us, that being the case you know something of our service, but if not a patron would not it be well to become one? Begin now.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING HORSE SHOEING A SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL

Spring Beauties

New Wall Paper for Spring are ready.

etc. etc. etc.

Of every discription. Neat patterns suitable for any job.

Prices that are Right.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - - Iowa

ETHAN ALLEN HITCHCOCK DEAD

FORMER SECRETARY OF INTERIOR EXPIRES IN CAPITAL.

Famed as Prosecutor of Western Land Grafters—First Ambassador to Russia.

Washington. — Following an illness of several days, Ethan Allen Hitchcock, former secretary of the interior, died in Washington, Friday, aged 74 years. He was appointed to the cabinet by President McKinley and served until March 6, 1907, under President Roosevelt.

His passing marked the close of a career whose preeminent feature was an administration of the interior department that stirred the western land problems as never before. Brought here from St. Petersburg, where he had served as ambassador under an appointment of President McKinley, Mr. Hitchcock was almost immediately plunged into a vortex of complications growing out of vast frauds and charges of fraud and counter-charges growing out of the acquirement of public lands in the western states. Mr. Hitchcock directed the most sweeping investigations, arousing the enmity of powerful political interests. That work is recalled to-day as one of the most unswerving and relentless inquisitions in the annals of government prosecutions. He prosecuted cases against numerous men in public life and private business, including United States Senator Mitchell of Oregon, who was convicted and died not long afterward; former Congressman Binger Hermann, who had served as commissioner of the general land office and who was acquitted; former United States Dietrich of Nebraska; Representative Williamson of Oregon, and John A. Benson, a millionaire real estate broker of San Francisco.

Ethan Allen Hitchcock.

Mr. Hitchcock was a target for attack on the floors of congress and in protests filed at the White House. The Hitchcock family were well known in Washington society, where they frequently entertained at smart functions.

Mr. Hitchcock's home was in St. Louis. He was reputed to be worth several millions dollars. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Sims, wife of a lieutenant commander of the navy, Mrs. Shepley of St. Louis and Miss Margaret Hitchcock.

REJECT MINERS' DEMANDS

Anthracite Operators Refuse to Accept Offer of Men and Conference Fails to Agree.

Philadelphia.—After conferences extending since Wednesday between the anthracite coal operators and the officials of the United Mine Workers of America, representating the miners, at which the question of a wage agreement was discussed to replace that brought about by the anthracite strike commission, the operators Friday rejected the modified demands of the miners presented Thursday and the conference adjourned deadlocked.

There will be no strike inaugurated by the mine workers, however, and the only danger of a suspension of mining in the near future, according to the mine workers' officials, arises from the possibility of a lockout.

CALLS THREE MURDERERS

Sensational Charges Are Made by Evansville Woman in a Suit for a Divorce.

Evansville, Ind.—That her own husband, Frank Rice, his sister, Mrs. Albert Taylor, and Dr. L. M. Stroud, brought about the death of Albert Taylor at Terrell, Tex., January 8, 1905, by poison, is charged by Mrs. Ida Rice in an affidavit filed in her suit for divorce.

Mrs. Rice alleges that an insurance company paid $5,000 on the death of Taylor, and that this money was divided among those she accuses.

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth

$150,000 for Iowa Ex-Sheriffs.

Mason City.—Encouraged by the decision of the district court of Fayette county it is evident that suits will be field by sheriffs and ex-sheriffs for the recovery of large sums of money paid out by them for deputy hire. While the Fayette county case is pending in the supreme court sheriffs are getting ready to institute suit against the counties in which they reside for the money they have paid their deputies. In Kossuth county "Billy" McDonald has filed a claim for $3,000. He is an ex-sheriff. This is about the size of at least fifty other sheriff bills in the state who will immediately proceed to recover if the decision of the Fayette county case is sustained by the supreme court. It is safe to say that the total amount involved in this way in the state will reach $150,000.

May Succeed Shanklin.

Mason City.—There is a strong probability that District Superintendent of Schools Henry F. Kling of Chicago will be elected president of Upper Iowa university, located at Fayette, to succeed Dr. Shanklin who has gone to Middleton, Conn., to accept the presidency of the college there. For the past three months the board has been engaged in the work of selecting a successor. Eighteen names were before them. During the meetings held they sifted the names down to eight, and while the board is endeavoring to keep matters pretty well to themselves, it is understood that Henry F. Kling is the high man of the eight

Henedy Heads the Teachers.

Iowa City.—The Southeast Iowa Teachers' convention adjourned after an address by Professor L. H. Bailey of Cornell university. At the business meeting officers were elected as follows: President, Superintendent Eugene Henedy, Grinnell; vice-president, C. W. Cruickshank, Mount Pleasant secretary, Miss Mary Vanest, Oskaloosa; treasurer, Professor C. W. Wassam, Iowa City; chairman executive committe, Frank L. Smart, Davenport. The association passed resolutions deploring the defeat of the commission school bill by the legislature.

Webster City Claims Lead.

Webster City.—The close of the municipal fiscal year is at hand and figures can be produced which it is believed will substantiate the claim that Webster City is in the best financial condition of any town in the state of Iowa. The claim is remarkable, because Webster City is a "municipal ownership" town. The claim is also timely because of the decision of the city to do a large amount of paving the coming season.

Clean-up at Altoona City.

Altoont—Substantial evidence of what a "booster" movement can do for a town was shown here when the town observed Saturday as "clean up day," under the supervision of the local improvement committee of the newly formed Commercial club. Every street in the town was dragged and drays were provided to haul away refuse from all alleys. The citizens entered into the spirit of the day and the town presented a trim appearance for Easter.

Three Girls Are Killed.

Dubuque.—The Illinois Central flyer struck and instantly killed Anna, Mabel and and Ruby, aged 7, 8 and 14, respectively, daughters of Fred Foldorff four miles west of here. The girls were walking on the track toward the approaching train but on account of a high wind they had their heads down and did not see the train. When the engineer realized this it was too late to stop.

New Humboldt Church.

Humboldt.—The Christian Scientists of this town will proceed at once to the erection of a substantial church building. A site has been procured in a central location, and the contract will be let forthwith for a church edifice which will be a noteworthy improvement to the town.

Texas Regulates Liquor.

Auston, Tex., April 12.—The legislature passed the Robertson-Fitzhough bill to regulate liquor traffic in Texas, the house concurring in the senate amendments. The senate struck out the uniform high license provisions and the prohibition against the sale of liquors by growers.

LINE IS TO BE CONSTRUCTED

Promoters Decide to Go Ahead With Short Line.

Treynor.—After a session lasting the greater part of one night the subscribers to the guarantee fund for the Iowa & Omana Short Line railway, voted to proceed with the work. The proposition received a tie vote when first submitted, but later was reconsidered and adopted by a majority vote.

As soon as it had been agreed to go ahead with the work it was arranged to put surveyors in the field at once. Grade stakes will be set as the line is located. It is estimated that it will require three weeks to complete the survey and that actual work of construction will be commenced by May 1.

A representative of an eastern bond house was present at the meeting and announced that there would be no trouble whatever in financing the road or in placing the bonds. An issue of $100,000 in bonds is contemplated, which will cover the estimated cost of the line.

The total amount subscribed is about $85,000. When the bonds are issued the subscribers will be given first chance to purchase them, and all not sold to the subscribers can readily be placed in the east, so the promoters were assured.

That portion of the line covered by the present plans will be about ten miles long, connecting the town of Treynor with the Wabash at Pony Creek. The action taken insures the completion of the project and there is great rejoicing in consequence.

Humboldt Wants Court House.

Humboldt.—The question of a new court house for Humboldt county is receiving lively agitation here. The present one is entirely inadequate to the growing needs of the county. The county now has to rent outside rooms for three of its officers, and the vault room is entirely insufficient for the safe protection of the records. Before a new court house is planned, however, a relocation of the county seat is a foregone conclusion. Nobody thinks of erecting a new structure for county purposes anywhere but in Humboldt, which has long been virtually the county seat, although the adjoining corporation of Dakotah City has nominally held the title.

New St. Paul Bridge

M'Gregor.—As further evidence that this division will be made by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, their main line to the coast, is their plans which have now been perfected to put in a bridge at McGregor, which is to cost $1,000,000. The plans are now completed for this structure and work will be commenced as soon as affairs can be shaped. The government is going to work pretty soon to remove the old piling which has stood in the river ever since the Lawler pontoon was first constructed and have been used as ice breaks. This is to be the most costly bridge spanning the Mississippi.

Shoots Three Persons.

Hutchinson, Kans., April 12.—Horace Schwartz yesterday shot his wife, her brother, at whose home she had taken refuge, and a neighbor, Phineas and Spain. He then tried to end his own life by drinking carbolic acid. Mrs. Schwartz is in a critical condition, but the men were not seriously wounded. Schwartz is in jail. The police say another man aided in the shooting.

First Trip of Season.

Davenport—The government steamer, David Tipton, commonly known as the dentist boat of the United States fleet, in charge of Captain Martin, is now at work in the Burlington-Davenport district removing a few small obstructions in the channel. The steamer is on its first trip of the season.

Will Organize Y. M. C. A.

Muscatine.—Hugh Jameson, for the last five years general secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, has accepted the resposnibility of organizing a similar institution at Sault Ste Marie, Mich., a thriving city of about 13,000 inhabitants.

Old Boat Dismantled.

Muscatine—The Silver Crescent, on the river since 1882, will give up the ghost this week at Wabasha, Minn., and its machinery will make the new Black Hawk go.

Will Open Park.

Fort Madison—J. A. Peak of South Bend, Ind., has taken over the Ivanhoe park and will reopen it as a pleasure resort like Ingersoll park in Des Moines.

Eldora Mills Leased.

Eldora—The Eldora roller mills have been leased from the Marshalltown owner by T. K. Coles, an expert miller from Owatonna, Minn.

Wholly Out of Debt.

Fairfield—The accounting just made shows Fairfield to be wholly out of debt.

PASS TARIFF BILL

HOUSE ADOPTS PAYNE MEASURE BY VOTE OF 217 TO 161.

IGNORE PROTESTS OF WOMEN

Increases Duty on Gloves and Stockings—Coffee, Tea, Oil and Hides Placed on Free List—Keep Tariff on Lumber.

Washington.—By a vote of 217 to 161 the Payne tariff bill, which has been under consideration for three weeks, was passed Friday night by the house.

One Republican, Austin of Tennessee, voted against the measure, and four Democrats, all from Louisiana, Messrs. Broussard, Estopinal, Pujo and Wickliffe, voted for it. An attempt by Champ Clark, the minority leader, to recommit the bill with instructions signally failed.

Hides, hosiery and gloves were left as reported by the committee, hides remaining free and an increased duty being presented for gloves and stockings.

One of the principal changes effected in the Payne bill since its introduction was the placing of petroleum on the free list. This involved a more seriously contested fight than any of the other amendments. Speaker Cannon, during the debate Wednesday on the amendment to reduce the duty, took the floor in defense of the higher rate of duty. Although an amendment to place oil on the free list was lost Thursday, a similar amendment offered by Chairman Payne yesterday was carried.

Among the other important amendments that have been made since the bill came from committee were those striking out the provision for a duty on tea and the countervailing duty proviso on coffee. The elimination of the maximum duty of 20 per cent. on coffee, contained in the maximum and minimum section of the bill, was also significant.

To the free list were added evergreen seedlings, cloves and nut oil, which is used in making varnish. The patent law provision, intended to retaliate for the new British patent law, was stricken out on account of an international convention. The so-called "joker" in the cotton cloth schedule which it was claimed would increase the duty of the Dingley bill several hundred per cent. was corrected, the proviso for the method of counting threads in the cloth being made the same as in the present law.

The section of restricting the contents of packages of tobacco was amended to conform with the present law in order that union labels may not be excluded from such packages. The countervailing duty clause on lumber was stricken out, but a strong effort to place lumber on the free list did not succeed.

The duties on barley, barley malt, charcoal iron, pineapples in crates, saccharine, medicated cotton and cotton collars and cuffs, as originally in the bill, were increased. To retaliate against Turkey, which country prohibits the importation of American filler tobacco, a proviso was included in the tobacco schedule increasing the duty on filler tabocco from any country which prohibits the importation of the American tobacco.

$10,000 BILL IN BOX.

Pennsylvania Church Thinks Mistake Was Made and Offers to Return the Money.

Washington.—The insertion of an advertisement in a local paper Thursday that there had been found in the collection plate of the Roscoe Methodist Episcopal church, near here, after the service last Sunday night a $10,000 bill, developed the fact that the church officers think the donor made a mistake.

The yearly collections of the church do not average much more than this amount, and the officials, in the advertisement, state that they will return the money to the owner if he wants it back and can prove he inadvertently dropped it into the plate.

Walter Reeves Dies Suddenly.

Streator, Ill. — Walter Reeves, one of La Salle county's foremost citizens, and a member of the Republican state central committee, died of heart failure Friday night. Mr. Reeves was 60 years old and a native of Fayette county, Pennsylvania. He moved to Illinois with his parents in his boyhood and located at Odell, Livingston county.

F. Marion Crawford Dead.

Sorrento, Italy. — F. Marion Crawford, the novelist, died on Friday afternoon. Although he was known as an American writer, Mr. Crawford was born in Bangi di Lucca, Italy August 2, 1854. He was the son of Thomas Crawford, an American sculptor, who was studying in Italy.

Linguistic Resources.

"Is this story you are telling me of hill-climbing, a true one?"

"Yes, it is on the level."

Pettit's Eye Salve for 25c relieves tired, overworked eyes, stops eye aches, congested, inflamed or sore eyes. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

The half of the world that gets along is unable to understand why the other half is always short.

Spear isn't anything! Mint isn't anything! Spearmint isn't anything—unless it's WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT.

It is the man who can't do things that is always telling others how to do them.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Stealing away from bad company is justifiable larceny.

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N.J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life. I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering."—Mrs. GEORGE JORDY, Box 40, Marlton, N.J.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT THE FLAVOR LASTS

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

6% QUARTERLY

We pay interest every three months at the rate of six per cent. yearly. Our investments are all in mortgages on New York City real estate. Twenty years' experience in New York real estate. Principal and interest guaranteed. Communications confidential. Write:

Liberty Financial & Security Co.,
CITY INVESTING BUILDING. NEW YORK CITY

Moving West?

Reduced rates on household goods in through cars to all points.

Blue Line Transfer & Storage Co.
202 Fifth St., Des Moines, Ia.

WRIGLEY WRIGLEY WRIGLEY

The Best, but Cheapest Liniment on the Market. Buy It, Try It, and You Will Be Pleased. A-B-C LINIMENT

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

ALF A MILLION

EGISLATURE ALLOWS LARGE APPROPRIATIONS.

STITUTIONS WELL CARED FOR

irty-third Assembly Grants Nearly The Full Amounts Asked For.

Des Moines.—The appropriations ssed by the legislature set apart 5,700 for the various state institu- ns under the state board of con- l. This amount is appropriated in ail to the various institutions as lows:

IOWA SOLDIERS HOME.

The Iowa Soldiers Home at Mar- lltown shall receive sums as fol- ws:

additional room for married eople	$ 5,000
furniture and furnishings	3,000
improvement of plumbing, heat- g and lighting system and gener- l repairs	3,000
new beds	2,700
tool house and vegetable cellar	2,000

WA SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' HOME AT DAVENPORT.

beds	600
mattresses	1,800
dormitory floors	400
decorating chapel	300
wagon shed	150
books and periodicals	300
connection of city sewer	1,400
contingent and repair fund	3,000

COLLEGE FOR BLIND AT VINTON.

gymnasium and equipment	12,000

HOOL FOR DEAF AT COUNCIL BLUFFS.

telephone system	300
fencing	500
completing and furnishing as- embly hall	2,000
library and binding	300
school furniture	300
painting interior of main build- ng	500
painting school house and gym- nasium	1,000
walks and grading	500
contingent and repair fund	3,500

STITUTION FOR FEEBLE-MINDED CHILDREN AT GLENWOOD.

wing for new custodial building	40,000
beds and bedding	3,000
furniture and furnishings	4,000
paint and painting	3,500
contingent and repair	10,000
railway switch	3,500

NATARIUM FOR TREATMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS AT OAKDALE.

cottage for patients	22,500
cottage for superintendent	5,000
kitchen, dining room and quar- rs for help	20,000
fire protection	4,000
buildings for poultry	500
improvement of grounds	1,000
amusements	200
books and periodicals	300
contingent and repair	3,000

DUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS AT ELDORA.

hospital building	10,000
two steam boilers	2,000
greenhouse and connections	3,000
ice house	1,600
lectures, entertainments, etc	300
library, books and periodicals	300
dental fund	600
agricultural implements	500
horses, cattle and hogs	1,000
band and orchestra instruments	200
furniture and furnishings	1,000
drain tile	1,000
fencing	500
horse barn	3,500
cow barn	4,000
granary	2,000
tunnels, pipe, pipe covering etc.	15,000
contingent and repair fund	5,000

DUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS AT MITCHELLVILLE.

cement walks	$ 1,000
finishing basement Larrabee ttage	1,500
furniture and furnishings	1,000
hot water tank and connections	3,000
painting, interiors and exteriors	500
dental fund	400
chaplain's fund	150
new green house and equipment	2,000
contingent and repair	3,000
pianos	600

T. PLEASANT STATE HOSPITAL.

furniture and furnishings	$ 5,000
patients library	500
women's infirmary, additional	3,000
furniture and furnishings, wo- en's infirmary	3,000
hydrotherapeutic department, omen's infirmary	4,000
furnishing farmer's lodge	1,500
food cars	800
ice plant	12,000
battery of boilers	5,000
drain tile	2,000
fencing	600
gutters, main building	3,000
open air pavilion	2,000
paints and painting	3,000
kitchen equipment	2,000
cows	1,000
horses, wagons and farm imple- ents	1,000
laundry machinery	1,000
engine and generator	9,000
enlarging sewage disposal plant	2,000
contingent and repair	10,000

DEPENDENCE STATE HOSPITAL.

electric wiring	$ 4,000
floors and flooring	3,000
paints and painting	3,000
new sewer	1,200
new smokestack	8,000
new boilers, additional	4,500
iron-working lathe	750
re-shingling cow barn	500
tiling	3,000
additional water supply	12,000
additional support fund	7,000
railway switch	20,000
contingent and repair	10,000

CLARINDA STATE HOSPITAL.

new boilers and stokers	$10,000
re-wiring	3,000
plumbing and fixtures	1,000
contingent and repair	10,000

CHEROKEE STATE HOSPITAL.

fire station and root cellar	$ 5,000
painting	2,000
books, periodicals and newspa- rs	300
pictures and picture moulding	250
carpets and rugs	1,000
contingent and repair	10,000

FT. MADISON PENITENTIARY.

For transportation of prisioners	$ 2,000
For cell house	15,000
For contingent and repair	5,000

REFORMATORY AT ANAMOSA.

For two new boilers and appurte nances	$ 2,900
For wiring and lighting new cell bank	2,900
For derrick supplies	500
For tools for shop and quarry	600
For freight and stone	800
For transportation of discharged prisoners	1,000
For salaries of foremen	10,000
For printing and binding, additional	2,500
For contingent and repair	5,000

Of the appropriations made by this act, the sum of $50,000 is for the purchase of land for the use of one or more of the state institutions herein- before named. The board of control of state institutions shall designate the institution for which land is to be purchased and the amount to be expended for each, and the amounts so determined shall be drawn from the state treasury on vouchers duly executed for each purchase and ap- provided by the chief executive officer of the institution for which purchase was made and by said board of con- trol.

Educational Appropriation.

There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to the State University, the sum of $22,000, annually hereafter, and the further sum of $25,000, annually for two years, for additional support fund; the sum of $7,500, annually hereafter, for ad ditional repair and contingent fund, and the sum of $15,000, annually for two years, for library support.

There is further appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to the State University the sum of $90,000 for the following purposes:

For additional boiler equipment au tomatic stokers for central heating plant, boiler, feed pump, and addi tional dynamo at hydraulic power station	$15,000
For purchase of additional land	35,000
For departmental equipment and sup plies	15,000
For paving, sidewalks, and improve ment of grounds	6,000
For building equipment for buildings now partially equipped, and for equipment for new law building and other buildings to be erected	19,000

There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to the Iowa State College of Agricul ure and Mechanical Arts the sum of $15,000 annually hereafter, and for the further sum of $25,000, annually for two years, for additional support fund; the sum of $13,000, annually hereafter, for repairs, minor improvements and contingencies; the sum of $2,500, annually hereafter, for the library book fund; the sum of $1,500, annually hereafter, for the support of the engineering experiment station; the sum of $15,000, annually for two years, for the support of agri cultural experiment station; and the sum of $5,000, annually for two years, for agricultural extension work.

For the equipment of departments	$15,000
For the purchase of pure bred stock	10,000
For furnishings and fixtures for the general engineering laboratory	$ 5,000
hall of agriculture	25,000
For sidewalks and grading	7,500
For completing the heating and power plant	50,000

There is further appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to the State Normal school the sum of $27,- 000 for the following purposes:

For the support of library	$10,000
For librarian's salary	2,000
For paving, permanent walks, and improvements of grounds	5,000
For nurse and hospital support	2,000

UNIVERSITY.

	Annually	Biennium
From mileage tax for building purposes	$130,000
Contingent and repair fund	7,500
Support fund	240,000
	$378,000	$756,000
Other special appropria tions, tuition and labor atory fees		400,000
Total receipts for bi- ennium		$1,156,000
Total expenditures for bi ennium		$1,168,000

IOWA STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

	Annually	Biennium
From mileage tax for building purposes	$ 65,000
Contingent and repair fund	34,000
Teachers' fund	77,500
Support for summer school	8,000
	$184,500	$369,000
Special appropriations, tu itions, fees and miscel- laneous items		129,780
Total receipts		$498,780
Total expenditures		$464,320

IOWA STATE COLLEGE.

	Annually	Biennium
From mileage tax for building purposes	$130,000
Contingent and repair fund	23,000
Educational support fund	155,000
Agricultural extension fund	27,000
Agricultural experiment station	24,000
Horse breeding experi- mentation	1,125
Engineering experiment	3,500
Good roads experimenta tion	5,000
Support of library	2,500
Cataloguer	600
	$371,725	743,450
In addition to the above the following amounts are received from the national government an- nually:
For educational support	65,000
Agricultural experimenta- tion	25,000
Horse breeding	1,125
	$ 91,125	$182,250
Other special appropria tions, tuitions, labora- tory fees and miscellan- eous items		296,300
Total receipts		$1,222,000
Total expenditures		$1,137,690

Attention is called to the contingent funds allowed for the different in- stitutions, namely:

	Annually.
Iowa State university	$ 7,500
Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts	23,000
Iowa State Normal school	34,000

Attention is also called to appro- priation made for support of libraries.

	Biennial.
Iowa State university	$10,000
Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts	6,200
Iowa State Normal school	18,000

The available funds for extraordin- ary appropriation as estimated by the auditor, is $1,500,000 for the biennial period ending June 30, 1911. This estimate is based upon a levy that will produce $2,250,000 annually.

The appropriations made by the Thirty second General Assembly for Cherokee have been taken care of in the hospitals at Independence and making the above estimate.

DISCLOSES INDIAN GRAVEYARD

Falling Bank of River Leaves Skele- tons Exposed.

Madrid.—An Indian grave yard was disclosed here when part of a steep bank of the Des Moines river weaken- ed by the recent floods slid into the water. Small boys were the first to make the discovery. They picked up several bones and skulls, some Ind- ian beads and two or three queer looking pipes.

The river has been cutting into this hill for years. The recent spring rains caused the slide and uncovered the graves that have been resting in quiet for years.

One party has just dug out a full skeleton resembling a female, as the bones are small, and also the skull. At one point a large number of bones were found as though there had been many placed in one grave.

There have been found many odd relics, such as were made by that class of people. A large jar that had been made out of some kind of stone, after being washed and cleaned up was just as fresh and clean as the day it was placed in the grave along with its owner. In the inside of this stone jar and the same on the out- side, one could see the cutting of some instrument that shaped it for its purposes as plain as the day it was made, and the same on many of the stone hammers that were found.

Grant Relics In Iowa.

Carroll.—C. M. Morris of Coon Rap- ids, a pioneer of Carroll county and an old soldier, has interesting recol- lections of General Grant and Abra- ham Lincoln. He knew the former at Galena, Ill., and he treasures among his possessions the copper tablet from the outer box in which Grant's body was carried after death to its final resting place at Riverside Park. Mr. Morris being a member of the escort. He also has in his possession a certificate of membership in the Sol- diers' Monument association of Davis county, of which Gran was president and which was signed by him short- ly after his return from his trip around the world. He also carries as a keepsake a metal disk. This he re- ceived in 1859 during Lincoln's candi- dacy for president. He was present at the Lincoln-Douglas debate at Free- port and heard him speak on several other occasions.

To Fight For An Estate.

Mason City.—That there will be a determined fight for the possession or a division of the estate of the late O. B. Morse of Grand Meadows, Minn., was evidenced by the relatives here who caused suit to be filed in the Mower county, Minnesota, court ob- jecting to the probate of the will. The estate is valued at $100,000 and the bulk of it went to Mrs. C. W. Martin of Grand Meadows, who is a niece and is the nearest relative of the de- ceased. Distant relatives are Nellie P. Jackson and Mrs. Fannie Smith, living near Conn., and Miss Alice Pollock of Austin, Minn. The land composing the estate lies along the state line and is considered fine prop- erty. Three prominent law firms from Rochester, Northfield and Aus- tin and a firm from Northwood have been retained.

New St. Paul Bridge

M'Gregor.—As further evidence that this division will be made by the Chi- cago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, their main line to the coast, is their plans which have now been perfected to put in a bridge at McGregor, which is to cost $1,000,000. The plans are now completed for this structure and work will be commenced as soon as affairs can be shaped. The government is going to work pretty soon to remove the old piling which has stood in the river ever since the Lawler pontoon was first constructed and have been used as ice breaks. This is to be the most costly bridge spanning the Mis- sissippi.

SIX DIE IN BIG FIRE

FOUR SQUARE BLOCKS GO UP IN FLAMES.

WOMEN LEAP TO THEIR DEATH

Loss Is Placed at $300,000—Conflagra- tion Due to Spontaneous Combustion.

Lenox, Mass., April 12.—Six persons lost their lives, three others were badly burned and a property loss of between $200,000 and $800,000 was caused by a fire in the business sec- tion of town Sunday.

Four business blocks, two dwellings and two other structures were de- stroyed in the section bounded by Franklin, Main, Housatonic and Church streets. The fire is believed to have started in the Clifford building from spontaneous combustion.

The dead: Edward C. Ventris, electrician. Mrs. Edward C. Ventris. Miss Leslie Ventris, aged 12 years. Miss Alice French, bookkeeper, Miss Isabel Cook, bookkeeper Miss Mary Sparks, school teachers. The injured: Catherine Root and her two sons, George and Arthur, severely burned.

The death of Alice French was one of the pitiful tragedies of the morn- ing. While the fire in the Clifford block was at its height a woman was seen to climb out of a flame filled room on to a veranda on the second story with her night clothing and hair ablaze. Staggering to the railing the woman leaped to the sidewalk beneath, landing in a heap within five or six feet of the blazing walls. Some of the horrified onlookers attempted to rush in to drag her out, but the intense heat drove them back and not until the flames had practically died out, several hours later, was the body re- covered. The bodies of the other victims have not been found.

MILLIONS IN OIL SUIT

Evidence Amounts to 11,000,000 Words.

St. Louis, Mo., April 12.—After a continuous argument of five days, one of the longest ever granted by a fed- eral court in this country, Special United States Attorney General Frank B. Kellogg delivered his closing ad- dress to the court in behalf of the government in the latter's suit to have the Standard Oil company of New Jersey dissolved as a violator of the Sherman anti-trust act.

The case has a record for bigness, the evidence being larger by half than that ever before taken in a sin- gle case, the record containing in all 11,000,000 words. Not alone does it concern one of the largest corpora- tions in the United States, but its trial had employed the attention of a score or more of the most promi- nent corporation attorneys for almost two years, also a record. The case has also cost into the millions and it is estimated that by the time the court of last resort will have passed upon the issue that the trial will represent an expenditure of close to $5,000,000.

WATCH CENTRAL AMERICA

Uncle Sam Keeps Naval Force Close for Any Emergency.

Washington, D. C., April 12.—Or- ders have been issued at the navy de- partment contemplating the tempo- rary stationing at Central American ports of the cruisers Albany, South Dakota and Colorado. They are to re- lieve the Yorktown, California and Washington, which will proceed north for target practice and maneuvers. This will leave half a dozen Ameri- can war vessels in Central American waters stationed chiefly at Nicara- guan and Honduran ports, thus indi- cating the belief of the administra- tion of the necessity of maintaining a naval force to be available for any occasion that may arise.

Cotton Stalk Paper.

Cordele, Ga., April 12.—Ground is being broken here for the erection of the cotton stalk paper mill. A cotton pulp and paper company has been chartered with a capital stock of $175,- 000, and the material is on the ground for the erection of the buildings. The capacity of the plant will be twenty- five tons per day. About forty tons of cotton stalks will be consumed in making a day's output. News print paper will be the principal product.

Roosevelt Soon at Alden.

Suez, April 12.—The steamer Ad- miral with ex-President Roosevelt on board, passed out of the canal and made a brief stop at Suez, then pro- ceeded down the Red sea. The Ad- miral will make stops at Aden and Mogadiio, on the east coas of Italian Somaliland.

KEEP BABY HEALTHY; FREE

No child can be well and strong unless its bowels move regularly every day at the same hour. Such regularity promotes good health. One passage is absolutely necessary, while two are not too many.

There is one remedy that is espe- cially adapted to the needs of children, and which thousands of American mothers are using to-day, and that is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound. Its gentle action, so free from griping, its tonic effects, and its perfect purity, vouched for to the United States Government, makes it an ideal children's laxative tonic.

Mrs. M. F. Cash, of Webb, Okla., is an old-time friend of this wonderful child's remedy and she says she could scarcely keep house without it. She became ac- quainted with it through Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free trial bottle, which she found so effective on her baby that she now always keeps it in the house. Mrs. K. L. Stout, of Louisville, Ky., also first used it in a free sample, then bought it of her druggist at the regular price, which is only 50 cents or $1 a bottle. It gave her little girl a splendid appetite and a vigor- ous stomach. Where Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin once finds its way into the home it makes a life-long friend. They soon discard salts, pills and powders.

Those who have never yet used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should begin to do so, for they are missing a valuable household friend. In order to acquaint you with its merits at no expense to your- self the doctor will send you a free test bottle on receipt of name and address. It has been justly called the nation's safe- guard to health in the cure of constipa- tion, dyspepsia, heartburn, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and similar digestive ailments.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 201 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

RATHER AN APT COMPARISON.

Humorous Thought That Occurred to Jim When He First Occupied His New White "Baid."

The prize to-day goes to a Virginia woman, who sends me this darky story:

My colored girl not only keeps my house in exquisite order, but is proud of her own home and spends time and money on it. She purchased a white enamel bed and I asked her if her hus- band liked it.

"Yessum, Jim he like dat white baid I done git—he like it all right. Las' night I had done fix dat baid up wid a spraid an' I got new pillershams an' it look moughty clean an' white. Jim he ondress hese'f an' git inter baid, an' he lie dere and doan say nuttin' twell I hear him sayin':

"'Lizzie--'

"'Well,' I say, 'whatcher wan', Jim?'

"'Lizzie, does yo' know what I minds myse'f of in dis white baid?'

"'No, Jim, I doan know what yo' minds yo'se'f of.'

"Jim he chockle and den he say:

"'A fly in a pan of milk!'"—New York Telegraph.

Morals and Manners.

The witness had been arraigned for perjury.

"Your honor," he complained, "this is most unjust. I never could permit an absurd devotion to truth to inter- fere with the fact that I am a gentle- man."

This was construed roughly as a plea of guilty.

Use Allen's Foot-Ease.

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smart- ing, Tired, Aching, Hot, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot- Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. Cures while you walk. At all Drug- gists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Don't accept any substitute. Sample sent FREE. Ad- dress, Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Needful.

"What money-making scheme have you devised this year?"

"One dandy. I'm getting up some road maps for the use of department store customers."

Spearmint! Spearmint! What's that? Nothing—unless it's WRIG- LEY'S SPEARMINT.

Doesn't Entertain.

"Did you say he was a lecturer and entertainer?"

"No; I merely said he was a lec- turer."

A Domestic Eye Remedy

Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Conforms to Pure Food and Drugs Laws. Wins Friends Wherever Used. Ask Drug- gists for Murine Eye Remedy. Try Mu- rine in Your Eyes. You Will Like Murine.

Its Kind.

"This squib about people's hanging on to straps in street cars—"

"Oh, that's a standing joke."

To have more of Health and more of Life, take Garfield Tea! This Natural laxa- tive regulates liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels, corrects constipation, purifies the blood and eradicates disease.

The only true secret of assisting the poor is to make them agents in bet- tering their own condition.—George Eliot.

Wait! The delicious fragrance of WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT will soon fill the air everywhere!

The man who is full, usually carries a pocket which is empty.

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of

—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

HELLO THERE

Where are you going? I'm going to H. Lau & Son. They handle all kinds of farm implements, Port Huron threshers also the Aultman & Taylor machinery, the 20 Century and Appleton manure spreader, McKinnon and Clinton wagons, Anchor and Velie buggies, Ohio and Kingman cultivators, stirring and gang plows, the open mould board sulky plows the lightest draft, Towers cultivators, Imperial and Challenge wind mills, hog fencing, barb wire, smooth wire gates, pumps and piping of all kinds, feed mills and the international gas engines from 1 to 40 H. P., Milwaukee mowers, binders, Dane hay loaders and buckers, nails and fence staples, wind mills and pump repairing on short notice, the sharpless cream separator the best made today, the Crack a-jack line of samples for tailor made suits.

H. Lau & Son.

STYX NO. 24964.

The imported stallion STYX is a jet black free from white and weighs over 2000 lbs. as a eight year-old.

Sired by Gerfaut 2d Reg. No. 2538 and he by Hercule No. 2522 Dam Wanne d'Ap No. 38165 and she by Marie No. 4523.

This horse was shipped from Brussels, Oct. 15, 1903 by the Livermore Horse Importing Co. of Livermore, Iowa

Will make the season at the following places:

Frank Glanville on Monday and Tuesday.
G. O. Miner on Tuesday and Wednesday.
W. S. Glanville on Thursday.
C. L. Yahnke Livery Barn Friday and Saturday.

TERMS—To insure a live colt to stand up and suck $15.

M. Palmby, J. E. Johnson,
Owners.

A. Kirkwood, Manager.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

O. C. Olsen	Meservey
Louis Sampson	Klemme
C. H. Lenz	Beltrami, Minn.
J. A. Senneff	Britt
Geo Ulrich	Garner
M. Redding	Mason City
C. F. Rolston	Klemme
Mary Suckow,	Unionville, Ia
Chas. Ax	Klemme
Wm. Yohn	"
B. F. Strosnider,	Lincoln, Neb

I'D RATHER DIE, DOCTOR

than have my feet cut off, said M L Bingham of Princeville, Ill. but you'll die from gangreen which had eaten away eight toes, if you don't said all doctors. Instead he used Bucklen's arnica salve till wholly cured. Its cures of eczema, fever sores, boils, burns and piles astound the world. 25 cts. at G A Pabst & Co.

Ell Center.

Charley Lawhorn drove to Miller Tuesday.

Tom Nelson hauled hogs to Klemme Saturday.

Henry Josten hauled his hogs to Klemme Monday.

Hod Lawhorn and wife visited at Charley Lawhorn's Sunday.

Miss Ruth Bonar of Forest City, visited over Sunday at Wm. Yohn's.

Webner Haskin of Klemme, has been visiting his grandpa Webner.

Sup't. A. M. Deyoe was calling on the schools in this district this week.

Tom Nelson, Sr. and wife of Klemme, visited here Sunday with their son Tom and family.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

WORDS TO FREEZE THE SOUL

Your son has consumption. His case is hopeless. These appaling words were spoken to Geo. E Blevens a leading merchant of Springfield, N C by two expert doctors—one a lung specialist. Then was shown the wonderful power of Dr. King's new discovery. After three weeks use, writes Mr. Blevens he was as well as ever. I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for my boy. Infallible for coughs and colds its the safest, surest cure of desperate lung direases on earth. 50c and $1.00.

Guarantee satifaction, Trial bottle free. G. A. Pabst & Co.

Avery Center.

Geo. W. Griggs is tileing his cellar.

Joe Hamilton was a caller at Shavers Sunday.

Miss Pearl Shaver is visiting her parents for a few days.

The gale that swept over the Center Sunday was a fast one.

Frank Ufken had a colt get into the wire fence and got cut badly.

T. M. Hamilton and J. T. Griggs bagged 13 ducks one day last week.

Fred Wilkins and Frank Ufken were Belmond callers one day last week.

Mr. Joe Hamilton and Mrs. Frank Costello visited at T. M. Hamilton's Sunday.

The Avery Center Orchestra is going to give an entertainment Friday the 16th.

The Avery Center Doctor is kept quite busy the last week calling on his patients.

THE CHILDREN LIKE IT
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE
COUGH SYRUP

Don't Kill Her

On every well regulated farm there is enough house-work for two women, but usually the good wife must do it alone.

Save the HOUSEWIFE

by providing:

Linoleum

For Kitchen and Dining Room, it saves ½ the scrubbing, it costs less than a new floor, $10 will cover a big room and will last 10 years.

A Kitchen Cabinet

At from $6 to $18 saves unnecessary steps, saves food supplies, lasts a life time.

A Sewing Machine

The best is the cheapest such as "The New Home" and "The Goodrich" either one of these will pay for itself over and over again.

A $30 Goodrich machine will be sold to the highest bidder on May 1, 1909 at the store—make a Bid

New Furniture, Lace Curtains
Window Shades, Wall Paper

To lessen the work for the house-wife means increased happiness for your home.

Arthur Wellemeyer.

Where your Dollar does its duty.

RESTAURANT
AND LUNCH ROOM

We have a fresh and complete line of Candies, Nuts, Tobacco, Cigars, lunch counter Canned Goods, Soft Drinks and Fruits.

We have fresh home made bakery goods every day. Meals and Lunches served at all hours. We can also accommodate you with lodging. We solicit a share of your patronage.

A. KIRKWOOD & SO

MILLINERY ANNOUNCEMENT

WE

Have the largest and finest display of Spring Millinery ever has excited more admiration and attention than any we ever

We have some of the most beautiful and striking effects in Hats, Trimmed Hats and Childrens headwear. The latest Rolls also a fine line of the best ladies Corsets. We have assortment of the latest ladies waists, and a fine line of Collaches and Belts.

Our Trimmer is an experienced one who will be sure to plea

MRS. J. JOST

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	50 to 54c
Oats	45 to 49c
Wheat	90 to 100
Barley	55 to60 c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.90
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. A. Ross is a new Times subscriber.

If you contemplate matrimony read State Bank ad.

Mrs. J. Gruetzmacher visited at Garner this Thursday.

Bert Auchampach transacted business at Garner Tuesday.

J. F. Hartfelder shipped a car load of cattle to Chicago Sunday morning.

C. P. Ell transacted business at Belmond Wednesday returning Thursday.

Jack Cruse and Clarence Kluckhohn were Garner sight seerers Monday.

Mrs. Muehlmeier and son Awald were at Garner between trains Tuesday.

Raymond Gruetzmacher of Charles City, visited here with relatives the first of this week

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 75c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

Sunday we had a very strong wind from the south and snow on Sunday night. The snow was about all gone by the next day noon.

Mr. W. J. Robinson of Britt, Iowa, who is a representative of the General Missionary American Sunday School Union, called on Klemme people Tuesday.

NOTICE—Cattle wanted to pasture for the summer season on our farm. Plenty of good water and salt furnished.

tf Wm. Baack.

G. R. Waterman is about the whole works of our city now. He is one of our city draymen, also Waterworks Supt., Street Commissioner and City Marshal. Look out for George and be good.

Permanently relieves constipation and indigestion. Regulates the bowels, builds up waste tissue. Makes pure blood. You grow strong, healthy and robust Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea the safest, nicest Spring tonic. 35 cents. G. A. Pabst & Co.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets, Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

The illustration is beautiful—State Bank ad.

Fred Henschen took a run up to Garner today.

Rev. Muehlmeier left for Germania on Monday.

Read the "Spring Beauties" ad of G. A. Pabst & Co.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.

Mrs. L. Mann.

Miss Carrie Johnson who is attending school at Mason City, visited over Sunday at home.

Geo. Wessels is gaining nicely from his recent sickness and will soon be able to be about again.

Mrs. L. Sampson left today Thursday for a visit with her daughter Mrs. Levi Klotzbach at Froelich, Iowa.

"Don't Kill Her" is the heading of Wellemeyer's ad. Read it and find out what he has to say for the Housewife.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs Geo. Wessels has been dangerously sick of late. It is hoped that the little fellow will recover.

G. W. Kluckhohn is having the front of his store remodeled and expects to put in a new cement sidewalk. Harve Allen is doing the work.

WANTED—Having leased the Schroeder pasture, I will be in a position to pasture your stock the coming season.

36tf Fred C. Griewe.

Two inches of snow fell Tuesday night. The farmers were getting nicely started at seeding the first of the week, but this will put them back a few days again.

Sirce we again have a marshal some of the live stock which has been running at large has been shut up. This will be a saving to sidewalks and a much needed nuisance prohibited.

Grace: Pimples, blotches, rough, shiny skin are from the blood and stomach. A simple and never failing remedy—one that makes clear, healthy complexions, pure blood, perfect digestion, is Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Surprise yourself. Tea or tablets 35 cents. G. A Pabst & Co.

A real Easter rabbit arrived in Klemme Sunday. He came in from the north. J. W. Scott took him into refuge and is keeping him in his barn. It isn't a very large animal all but his ears. He is large enough to ride and several of our sports have been indulging in this amusement. The only fault the boys find that have rode him is that he dont go fast enough and when he is urged to go faster, he usually raises his rear extremities with his large ears downward and the result is usually you alight in the mud. Such was the case when Fred Kluckhohn and Otto Cruse rode him and they lit very gently into a soft place in the street.

SWEPT OVER NIAGRA

The terrible calamity often happens because a careless boatman ignores the river's warnings growing ripples and faster current. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape fatal maladies—dropsy, diabetes or brights disease. Take Electric bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. After long suffering from weak kidneys and back one $1.00 bottle wholly cured me, writes J R Blackenship of Belk, Tenn. Only 50 at G A Pabst & Co.

A real new ad for the State Savings.

Grace Blank was a Garner visitor Tuesday.

Geo. Gruetzmacher was a Garner visitor Tuesday.

Miss Becker of Garner, visited with her folks here the first of this week.

C. Kraus who has been laid up the past five weeks with rheumatims is now able to be about some.

Mrs. H. C. Josten of Garner visited among relatives and friends here the first of this week.

Miss Ella Griewe who is attending school at Charles City, visited over Sunday at home returning Monday.

Joe Miller and Fred Wilkins left for Garner Monday where they will serve as jurymen at this term of court

Mr. and Mrs. Zwald of Garfield township, visited the first of this week with their daughter Mrs. Chas. Ax and family.

S. H. Day, Fred and John Henschen are generally repairing the Elder hotel. At present they are reshingeling the roof.

C. H. Lenz and family arrived from Beltrami, Minn. and are visiting with relatives here. They expect to locate at Mason City.

County Supt. A. M. Deyoe of Garner, made the Times office a pleasant call this Thursday. He was here in the interests of our public schools

Builds up your whole body. Regulates the bowels, clears the blood, aids digestion, makes you well from head to feet. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do, greatest spring regulator. Tea or Tablets, 35 cents. G. A. Pabst & Co.

The hunting party who took a hunt at the west river on Tuesday last were J. Terhufuen, Aug Ridder, C. W. Stiehl, J. Baumgaertner, Thed and John Henschen They report having had a good time and that they brot back a few ducks. Following is the experience that some of them had: Bobbie says that he was 'positive' of inserting 30 shot into one duck, driving it clean under water and then the blasted thing came to the surface again and flew away unconcerned. Bum says that the ducks he did bring down were fortunate in dropping into the high rushes and couldn't find them. Wooly says that the ducks he hit with his automatic rapid firing gun, he hit them so hard and drove them so far out of sight that it was a question if they had come down yet. Watkins did his bombarding from a boat, as he is no lightweight every time his gun was discharged his boat nearly sank out of sight and nearly upsetting still he received his share of the game. Ridder was appointed book-keeper and kept score of the game that was shot. He was kept too busy keeping score to do very much bombarding himself. Terhufen did not make any report as to his ability in shooting straight but is considered a good marksman so we presume he received his share The boys undoubtedly had a good time and we wish we could have been one of them.

UP BEFORE THE BAR

N H Brown an attorney of Pittsfield, Vt. writes: We have used Dr. King's new life pills for years and find them such a good family medicine we wouldn't be without them. For chills constipation, biliousness or sick headache they work wonders. 25c at G A Pabst & Co.

German M. E. Church Items

Spring weather one day and a snow storm the next is the order.

Aug. Schuldt is serving as juryman in Garner this term of court.

Mrs. W. F. Beier and son Walter of Goodell, were Germantown visitors over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Blank and little Mary spent Easter Sunday in Garner with W. F Lau and family.

Etna Suckow went up to Garner Monday to assist an uncle and his family who have moved in north of town.

Two judges in Chicago last Saturday disposed of 67 divorce cases in three hours. That is certainly "going some."

Elmer Weisbrod of Fenton, Iowa, not to be outdone by his cousin who called in Germantown the week before was a Klemme visitor over Sunday. Come again boys.

Mrs. Wessel left for Giard last Friday to visit a week or more with her parents. At Charles City her daughter Lurena accompanied her to spend a few days with her also.

Ella Griewe and Camilla Neff came down from Charles City, Friday afternoon to spend Easter with their home folks. They brought two other lady friends with them. All returned on Monday.

offices, where every co tended. Address us as f

tandard Film
Dept. 828, 79 Dearborn Str
Kindly mention this paper

Charley Lenz and family arrived in Klemme on Monday from Beltrami, Minn. They have shipped their goods to Mason City where they expect to locate. Mr. Lenz will leave for the latter place this week to find a house and look for a job. Mrs. Lenz and the children will remain with her parents for some time.

The pleasant weather on Easter Sunday made it possible for many to be out and we had large audiences in both churches. In Klemme the little folks gave a nice program after the sermon which was appreciated by parents and friends. In Germantown the Epworth League gave a good Easter program in the evening. All were prepared and delivered their work well.

Emil Beier entertained his Sunday school class last Sunday which consists of twelve promising boys. A splendid dinner was awaiting them as they arrived from church. To break the unlucky number which teacher and scholars would have made the writer had been invited to and he enjoyed this meeting with them. It would have been hard to decide who felt the proudest, the teacher of his class, or the class of their teacher. This is the relative feeling which must exist, if good and lasting work should be done. They must not only be a class during Sunday school, but every day in the week.

Board of Health Notice.

Notice is hereby given that all dead animals must be disposed of on or before April 20th. It is prohibited to leave dead poultry along the highway. Anyone not complying with this notice, will be fined to the amount of $25.00. H. C. BEIER,

36-3 Clerk, German Township.

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to night calls.

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

Items for Travelers

Have you read the wonderful stories of success in the Gulf Coast Country of Texas? Send for our pamphlet.

$30 to $35 will take you to principal points in the Southwest and return. Tickets sold first and third Tuesdays of each month.

When traveling to and from Colorado use the best! "The Rocky Mountain Limited."

Hundreds of people are going to California on the Golden State Limited. Why not you?

Mr. Jno. G. Farmer, D. P. A., Cedar Rapids, will gladly inform you about any trip you may consider taking.

Remember, I sell Rock Island

L. O. TERGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa.

NO NEED TO TAKE CHANCES

There Is a Sure Way of Knowing Good Paint Material.

There is really no need whatever for any property owner to take chances in the selection of his paint materials. It doesn't cost a cent to learn how to be on the safe side. Certainly every property owner has enough at stake to find this out.

A complete painting guide, known as Houseowner's Painting Outfit No. 49, can be had free by writing National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Building, New York. This company is the largest maker of pure white lead in the world. Its Dutch Boy Painter trademark is famous as a guarantee of purity and quality. The outfit includes a book of color schemes, for either interior or exterior painting, a book of specifications, and a simple little instrument, with directions for testing the purity of paint materials.

There is no grace in a benefit that sticks to the fingers.—Seneca.

It'll soon begin! But it'll never stop! You'd be sorry if it did. WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT.

Seasoning.

"He swore she was the salt of his life."

"And now that they are wed?"

"She's the pepper."

A Sure Sign.

"How did you know that dowdy-looking girl was a scientific student? Did you hear her talk?"

"Not that; knew her by her wireless collars."

The Scapegoat.

"I wish our furnace were not so brave."

"Brave! Who ever heard of a furnace being brave."

"Well, ours is; it smokes when my wife is around and she blames me for it."—Houston Post.

Unsympathetic.

Others may have said the same thing, but this rather unsympathetic comment is attributed to the late Judge Hoar: "Are you going to attend the funeral of Gen. Butler?" a friend asked him. "No," was the calm reply. "No, I am not going to attend—but I heartily approve of it."

Took an Antidote.

Percival came running to his grandma one day asking for a drink of water. "Quick, quick, grandma," he said, "give me a drink of water, quick!"

After he got his drink he said: "The reason that I was in such a hurry, I thought I swallowed a worm while eating an apple and I wanted to drown it."—Delineator.

Assuming the Responsibility.

Mrs. Malone's patience was much tried by a servant who had a habit of standing around with her mouth open. One day, as the maid waited upon the table, her mouth was open, as usual, and her mistress, giving her a severe look, said:

"Mary, your mouth is open."

"Yessum," replied Mary, "I opened it."—Success Magazine.

Harris' Great Good Humor.

"No man ever maintained his life at a higher level of perpetual good humor," writes James W. Lee of Joel Chandler Harris in the Century. "The day before he died, when he was already beginning to pass into the dark valley of death, one of his sons came into the room and inquired: 'How are you this morning, father?'

"'Well,' responded Mr. Harris, 'I am about the extent of a tenth of a gnat's eyebrow better.'"

SICK DOCTOR

Proper Food Put Him Right.

The food experience of a physician in his own case when worn and weak from sickness and when needing nourishment the worst way is valuable:

"An attack of grip, so severe it came near making an end of me, left my stomach in such condition I could not retain any ordinary food. I knew of course that I must have food nourishment or I could never recover.

"I began to take four tablespoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and cream three times a day and for 2 weeks this was almost my only food; it tasted so delicious that I enjoyed it immensely and my stomach handled it perfectly from the first mouthful. It was so nourishing I was quickly built back to normal health and strength.

"Grape-Nuts is of great value as food to sustain life during serious attacks in which the stomach is so deranged it cannot digest and assimilate other foods.

"I am convinced that were Grape-Nuts more widely used by physicians, it would save many lives that are otherwise lost from lack of nourishment."

Absolutely the most perfect food in the world. Trial of Grape-Nuts 10 days proves. "There's a Reason."

Look in pkg. for the little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

SHOWS BIG SURPLUS

BYERS MADE MORE THAN OFFICE COST

CORPORATIONS PAY BIG SUMS

Attorney Gereral Collected in Fees $4,000 More That Expenses in His Office.

Des Moines—Attorney General Byers collected fees from various corporations never before sought totaling $21,545 within the past two years which exceeded the cost of conducting his office by over $4,000. In other words the attorney general's office not only paid all expenses, but cleared $4,000 for the state, so the report of Mr. Byers, as presented to the committees on retrenchent and reform, today, indicates.

These fees came from corporations who had not paid up according to law. No attempt had been made to collect them before and hence the money thus realized is "velvet" for the state.

During the two years this office has, with the assistance of the secretary of state, forced the collection of the following fees: Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company, filing fees, $15,015; Kettle River Quarry company, filing fees, $515; the Sperry-Hutchinson company, filing fees, $1,015; Omaha Bridge and Terminal company, $5,000; making total collections, $21,545.

Total salaries paid in the office, including all clerical help for the same time amounts to $18,000, in round numbers, or to be exact, $17,740.96.

There is pending and unsettled the following: Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Ry Co., filing fee, $250,015; Cudahy Packing Co., filing fee, $120,15; Chicago Great Western Ry. Co., $105,000; will be asked to pass within a very few days will total $1,460,000 in round numbers, so Chairman E. R. Moore of the house appropriations committee estimates. This is within $40,000 of the amount of funds at the disposal of the committee which have in charge the disbursement of the state money. Chairman Moore explained that the $40,000 must be left in the state treasury so as to keep the ship of state from going on the rocks during the period from July to October, when there are no taxes coming in. The house appropriations committee has but three little bills left, and these, while of little importance, will be recommended for indefinite postponement. The senate appropriations committee is taking similar actions with appropriations bill. In short, both committees have gone the limit, and it is a most worthy cause which will now be recognized with an appropriation.

O THERE

Board is Cleared.

In the house committee on suppression of intemperance the board has practically been cleared and everything recommended for passage. Among the bills sent out with approval are the measure requiring a new petition of consent every two years, the Moon bill limiting the number of saloons to one for every 800 persons in cities of the first class and the substitute for the Van Law bill providing that none except a qualified elector can own or operate a saloon and attaching more regulations.

No Liquor on Trains

No more may dining cars on Iowa trains sell intoxicating liquors. The house of representatives passed the senate bill prohibiting drinking on trains and in the opinion of attorneys in the legislature the act puts a quietus to the sale of liquor in dining cars for consumption while on the train.

John Sullivan sought to have the law amended to give members of the train crew the power to act as officers and arrest offenders, but this was lost and they are only permitted to eject offenders from the train and call upon local officers to take them into custody.

Swift Bill Modified

After numerous ups and downs the Swift bill providing a penalty for failure upon the part of a railroad company to comply with the order of the railroad commission, passed the senate. It has been modified considerably since it left the house of representatives, and in its present form the penalty does not begin to run immediately if an appeal is taken and the judge of the court holds that it is in good faith and remits the penalty

Appointed Two Aides.

Governor Carroll has appointed Representative Ernest R. Moore of Cedar Rapids and Representative William Larrabee, Jr., of Fayette county as members of his staff to serve as aides. Both officers will have the title of colonel. Both Col. Moore and Col. Larrabee are full fledged soldiers. Both served for years in the Iowa National Guard and both spent over a year in Cuba during the Spanish-American war. Both are exceptionally popular among their legislative associates and the announcement of their appointment on the governor's staff gives general satisfaction.

Senate Approves Gypsum Mine Bill.

The much-discussed gypsum mining bill, which has failed to pass in legislatures for ten years or more, was sanctioned by the senate after having been amended so as to provide that the examining board shall consist of a coal miner, a coal operator, a gypsum miner, a gypsum operator and an engineer. The bill extends the laws regarding coal mine inspection so as to cover the gypsum mines of the state, most of which are located in Webster county.

House Refuses Taxation Measure.

For the second time during the session the lower house refused to change the method of taxing real estate mortgages and defeated the Calkins bill providing for the deduction of the value of the mortgage from the assessment against the real estate and assessing the mortgage to the holder in the county where the land is located.

To Make Butter Tubs.

In olden days all one had to do to stir up a fuss was to introduce a bill in the legislature providing for convict made binding twine. But the house passed the Byerly bill permitting Anamosa convicts to make butter tubs and voted down Boettger's amendment providing that the butter tubs should be labeled "convict made."

Insanity Hearing Needs Funds.

Chairman Henry Brandes of the house committee to investigate charges of cruelty in the state insane hospitals, has put in a bill for expenses thus far of $327.99. The bill is accompanied by a complete list of the witnesses, mileage, expenses of the committee as it went to the state institutions, etc.

To Scrutinize Printing Bills.

Representative Judge Crozier of Marion county is convinced that more printed matter is being ground out by the state of Iowa than is necessary. He has introduced a resolution calling upon the committee on retrenchment and reform to take an inventory of all matter printed and report back as to how much is necessary and how much could be dispensed with.

Hanson Bill Amended.

Amendments were placed by the senate upon the Hanson bill relating to penalties for violation of the pure food laws, allowing packers of products to show in case of failure of a package to contain the amount specified upon the outside, that the difference was on account of shrinkage, the burden of proof being upon the defendant.

New Military Code.

The bill to provide a military code for Iowa as passed provides an annual appropriation of $140,000 for the Iowa National Guard and increases the salary of Adjutant General Logan from $2,000 to $2,200. It provides for adding 1,000 men to the guard, the purchase of four field guns and other improvements.

No Reorganization of Board.

Representative Grier sought to have passed his bill reorganizing the pharmacy commission by putting one commissioner on a salary of $1,800 and his associates on the pay roll for not to exceed $200 per year, thus doing away with the pernicious per diem system. But the house voted down the bill.

Showing the Farmer.

The state board of control is showing the farmers in the Iowa legislature how to manage a test of seed corn. In the first floor corridor of the state house the board has a half dozen boxes of tested corn and the miniature cornfield is attracting much attention.

Avoid Attending School.

Representative Boe secured the passage by the house of representatives of a bill which will make it possible for children to avoid attending school under the compulsory law if they are attending confirmation classes for one-half day out of the week.

Hits Church Fairs and Raffles.

Senator Hammill's anti-gambling bill, which hits church fairs and raffles and which passed the senate, was reported for passage in the house of representatives.

Tax on Monies and Credits.

The Ward bill, for a tax on monies and credits, was quietly killed by the ways and means committee.

HARDSHIPS OF ARMY LIFE.

Left Thousands of Veterans with Kidney Trouble.

The experience of David W. Martin, a retired merchant of Bolivar, Mo., is just like thousands of others. Mr. Martin says: "I think I have had kidney disease ever since the war. During an engagement my horse fell on me, straining my back and injuring the kidneys. I have been told I had a floating kidney. I had intense pain in the back, headaches and dizzy spells, and the action of the bladder very irregular. About three years ago I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and inside of a comparatively short time was entirely rid of kidney trouble."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

PROBABLY HARDEST OF ALL.

Wifey's Addition to List of Her Household Duties of Course Was Not Personal.

After dinner the other evening Mr. and Mrs. Brown started to speak of their respective duties, and soon an argument as to whether the husband or the wife had the hardest work to perform was in full swing. First Brown warbled, and then wifey sang.

"A wife," argued the good lady, "has to cook, wash dishes, clothe the kids, scrub the floors, sweep the house, make the beds, build the fires, carry up coal, nail slats on the back fence, dig—"

"Is that all?" sarcastically interrupted Mr. Brown.

"No," was the prompt rejoinder of Mrs. Brown. "In addition to those duties every wife has to keep her husband from making a fool of himself?"—Philadelphia Telegraph.

TOTAL LOSS OF HAIR

Seemed Imminent—Scalp Was Very Scaly and Hair Came Out by Handfuls—Scalp Now Clear and

New Hair Grown by Cuticura.

"About two years ago I was troubled with my head being scaly. Shortly after that I had an attack of typhoid fever and I was out of the hospital possibly two months when I first noticed the loss of hair, my scalp being still scaly. I started to use dandruff cures to no effect whatever. I had actually lost hope of saving any hair at all. I could brush it off my coat by the handful. I was afraid to comb it. But after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and nearly a box of Cuticura Ointment, the change was surprising. My scalp is now clear and healthy as could be and my hair thicker than ever, whereas I had my mind made up to be bald. W. F. Steese, 5812 Broad St., Pittsburg, Penn., May 7 and 21, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

His Record.

"Colonel," asked the beautiful girl, "did you ever ride a horse 90 miles in three days?"

"No," replied the veteran of two wars, "but I once ran 20 miles in about 30 minutes, which I think was going some, considering the fact that the underbrush was thick and I was in so much of a hurry that I forgot to throw away a knapsack that weighed nearly 50 pounds."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Her Womanly Curiosity.

"I have put aside enough money," said the bachelor of 52, "to make it sure that I shall be decently buried without expense to the public."

"Why," asked the maiden who was verging on 35, "do you think you ought to have decent burial?"

Important to Mothers.
Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
In Use For Over 30 Years.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Memory Training.

"I forget so easily. I wish I could do something to exercise my memory."

"That's simple," said his friend. "Just lend me ten dollars and let me know if you forget it."—Judge.

In case of accident, cuts, wounds, burns, scalds, sprains, bruises, etc., nothing will so quickly take away all pain and soreness as Hamlins Wizard Oil.

Some figures do not lie until the dressmaker starts to pad them.

A CURE FOR FITS.

The Treatment Is to Accomplish What Science Has Been Struggling to Attain for Centuries.

The intense interest that has been manifested throughout the country by the wonderful cures that are being accomplished daily by epilepticide still continues. It is really surprising the vast number of people who have already been cured of fits and nervousness. In order that everybody may have a chance to test the medicine, large trial bottles, valuable literature, History of Epilepsy and testimonials, will be sent by mail absolutely free to all who write to the Dr. May Laboratory, 548 Pearl Street, New York City.

A Fable, Perhaps.

When George Ade was coming from New Orleans last winter he noticed among the race-track men on the train one tan-shoed sheet writer with the largest feet he had ever seen.

And he furthermore testifies and affirms that the sheet writer, on rising in the morning, discovered that the reporter had shined one shoe and a suit-case.—Success Magazine.

Don't Be Misled.

Many a life has been cut short by a cough that was not believed to be serious. Many a backache and sideache follows a coughing spell. Many a night is passed in restlessness caused by coughing. Many a cough "cure" that never cures is tried. Do not be misled. If you cough, take the old reliable Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. At druggists' and dealers', 25c.

Seemed Reasonable.

First Citizen (excitedly)—Can you tell me where the fire is?

Second Citizen (calmly)—I think it must be the schoolhouse. There are a lot of boys dancing and yelling gleefully just around the corner.

Happy smiles! White teeth! What a delicious perfume! WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT!

Be charitable before wealth makes thee covetous.—Sir Thomas Browne.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
FOR RHEUMATISM BRIGHT'S DISEASE BACKACHE DIABETES.
PER 375 "Guaranteed"

You Need a Tonic
if you feel languid and depressed all the time. The best thing to help nature build up the system is
DR. D. JAYNE'S TONIC VERMIFUGE
This great tonic is not a false stimulant as many of the so-called "spring tonics." It is a natural strength-giver. For all run-down conditions of the health it is an invaluable remedy; imparts new life and vigor and builds up the entire system.
Sold by All Leading Druggists in two size bottles, 50c and 35c

WRIGLEY'S

BUY THE BEST GUARANTEED
HAWKEYE 98% PURE COPPER CABLE LIGHTNING RODS
LIBERAL OFFER to agents to handle our rods. Write for particulars.
HAWKEYE LIGHTNING ROD CO.
Riverside, Iowa

CALIFORNIA LANDS—Tulare Co., California. The place to get a home cheap; 5, 10, 20, 40, 80, 160 to 5,000 acre tracts. Prices from $30 up. Products alfalfa, dairying, corn, wheat, rye, oats, barley, peaches, prunes, apricots, pears, grapes, raisins, peanuts, sugar beets, etc. Easy terms. Write to-day for literature. 100,000 acres for sale. Pacific Land Co., Tulare, Cal.

GENERAL WILLIAM BOOTH

EN. BOOTH ON EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY STARTS NEW PLAN

teran Founder of Salvation Army Launches cheme for "University of Humanity" in the United States---All the World Celebrates Anniversary of His Birth.

ew York.—Gen. William Booth, der and commander-in-chief of the ation Army, celebrated his eight- birthday on Saturday, April 10, the event was made the occasion rejoicing all over the civilized ld. The Army itself held big meet- in every city and town where it tablished, and these were partici- d in by hundreds of thousands of r citizens who were glad to do or to the distinguished philan- ist.

n. Booth himself presided over ral monster mass meetings in don. His advanced age and the that he was operated on recently cataract did not deter him from g part in the celebrations held by devoted soldiers.

iversity of Humanity Launched.

America the day was marked cially by the launching of another en. Booth's original schemes for l reform in the United States. very post of the army was an- ced the beginning of work to d a University of Humanity, a t institute for the training of ers in social service. The uni- ty will be divided between New and Chicago, and it is expected gin with a fund of $1,000,000. The ering of this fund is the work the army now enters upon in memoration of its famous leader's pletion of his eightieth year.

a much-needed stone in the great nizational structure that William h has been building during the 47 years, this idea of a school he systematic training of his ers has been in his mind for sev- years. On his last visit to the ed States the general made his tentative announcement of the Since then he has worked out of the details and he has just ented to the beginning of pre- ary work in this country where eed for trained workers has been cially great.

other religious organization in world's history has branched out so many departments of philan- c effort and absorbed them as of its religious duties.

Need of Trained Workers.

e scheme for a University of Hu- ty grew naturally out of the de- yment of the 20 other depart- . With a field as wide as the itself the work of the Salvation is only limited by the number rkers that can be secured and ectiveness by the understanding rnestness of these workers. As work has grown from local ef- forts to help a few into a great inclusive movement which must miss none, the problems of organization have grown greater. Charity has become a science and its application an art requiring the highest development of personal qualities of insight and altruism. There is thus pressing need for workers of quite exceptional qualification. These qualifications must first of all be inherent and must then be developed by experience and special training.

This is the new work planned by Gen. Booth. Those women, for instance, who are to go among the slums of the big cities must not only have the desire to help but must know how real helpfulness can best be secured. They must understand by a study of practical sociology something of the social forces that create this poverty and crime and wretchedness. They must understand the danger of the unwise charity that merely increases dependence and understand the value of better living conditions in raising the moral courage of those to whom fate has been unkind. They must be able not only to correct home conditions themselves but to impart their knowledge and to inspire with a desire for betterment.

Value of the Organization.

This will be but a small part of the university's training in social service as planned by the patriarchal evangelist, but it serves to show of what value such an organization will be.

Of the general's plan for the university he himself said recently: "I want to train men and women to deal with misfortune. I want them instructed to combat with the weaknesses and sins of the drunkard, the criminal, the pauper and the would-be suicide."

At 80 years of age the head of the Salvation Army, after more than half a century of almost unceasing activity, is as vigorous and untiring as at any time in his career. The inexhaustible vitality and intellectual and physical activity of this social reformer, philanthropist, preacher, author and traveler are marvelous. At fourscore he is traveling many thousands of miles over the world every year, controlling the destinies of his more than 7,000 corps of Salvation soldiery with their 18,000 commissioned officers, distributed among every civilized country, preaching constantly to vast audiences and doing an amount of literary work that would be a factor to many a professional author with no other occupation.

William Booth was born on April 10, 1829, in Nottingham, England, and was trained for the Methodist ministry which he entered and became one of the strongest evangelistic forces in that church. He grew dissatisfied, however, at reaching only those with some religious training and conviction. He felt that there were thousands whose need was far greater and he gravitated to the East end of London where wretchedness of all kinds was the rule.

In a disused burial ground on Mile End road he pitched an old tent and the first Salvationist meeting was held in that tent in 1861. The fiery eloquence of the earnest young preacher caught the attention of a crowd of poor Whitechapelers and before that first meeting was over he had made several conversions, a performance that he has been repeating throughout the world for 47 years.

This first meeting resulted in the formation of the Christian mission, from which it was the evangelist's custom to send his converts to the existing churches of the locality, but finding that they were not welcomed and were in danger of slipping back from sheer want of comradeship and oversight, he set about forming societies of the converted. These he found to be a potent agency for bringing in more, as the heedless East ender could be impressed by the words of a former "pal" when he would not listen to a minister. So was created the central idea of the Salvation Army.

The need of organization becomes apparent, but several methods were tried with little success before Gen. Booth hit upon the military idea and named his organization the Salvation Army. From that time on the movement grew amazingly and it has continued to grow without ceasing to this day.

Spread Over the World.

The movement began spreading to other countries of the world in 1881 when it first reached the United States through the influence of a silk-weaver who had emigrated from Coventry, England, bringing with him the Salvation Army idea and a strong desire to continue in the work. It reached Australia in the same year through a milk dealer from Stepney, and soon afterwards the first Canadian corps was organized in a similar fashion.

Five years later, in 1886, the general made the first of many visits to the American branches of the army and he has seen them grow from a few small corps into a veritable army of tremendous influence and unsurpassed efficiency. His first great world-tour was made in 1891, when he visited South Africa, Australia and India. Since then he has visited the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and India four times, South Africa twice and Japan and the Holy Land each once.

During all these travels the actual executive responsibility for the government of the army has never been lifted from his shoulders. Even on shipboard he is an indefatigable worker, planning and writing through the days.

Gen. Booth Honored.

One of the most remarkable of the many tributes paid to the general by the great of the world was that of the mikado of Japan during the visit to that country. The mikado personally received the general with great warmth and he was accorded remarkable ovations in Yokohama, Tokyo, Sendai and Kyoto, a circumstance of strange import when it is realized that Japan is not a Christian country.

Another interesting distinction given Gen. Booth was the conferring on him of the degree of doctor of civil law by Oxford university. The significance of this honor will be better understood when it is stated those who received university honors with him at the time were Prince Arthur of Connaught, the prime minister of England, the lord chancellor, the speaker, Sir E. Grey, the archbishop of Armagh, Sir Evelyn Wood, the American ambassador, Mark Twain and Rudyard Kipling.

As a writer Gen. Booth is remarkable, both as a stylist, as a thinker and as a producer. He has written in all 21 volumes, besides innumerable articles for the army publications. His best-known book is "In Darkest England and the Way Out," in which he outlined his scheme for social reform by means of colonization. "The Training of Children," "Love, Marriage and the Home," and his books on reform are among the others of the general's best-known literary productions.

Of his creed the general has written very beautifully. He says:

"The simplicity of our creed has been, as I believe it will remain, one of the principal helps to our unity. We stand for the old truths. The faith which can be interpreted in terms of duty, of unselfishness, of purity, of love to God and man, is the only faith we really care about. Whatever may be the case with the select minority, the consciousness of sin, the force of evil habit and the consciousness of sin and the influence of passion, are all vivid realities with the great masses of the population. To them we bring the promise of deliverance by Jesus Christ."

SURE FORTUNE BUILDER—In Seattle

Ground-Value Growth is an inevitable fortune builder. In New York and the older Eastern cities, central business ground-value increment has averaged more than 10% per annum for 75 years. This is the force that made and still is increasing the colossal Astor estate.

In SEATTLE, where population, growth and commercial and industrial development are more rapid, the ground-value increment in the central business district has been exceeding 25% a year during the past 7 years. And the growth and development of this really marvelous city have only fairly begun.

Let me show YOU how to become an owner of one of the most prominent centrally located business properties in Seattle, with all the returns in rental income and growth-in-value, minus taxes and care of management, that actual ownership implies. Please write to me at once, whether you have much or little to invest.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

Moving Pictures Here to Stay

Invest Your Money in Moving Picture Theatres. You Will Get Greater Returns from This Than from Any Other Investment

It pays big to amuse the public. It requires but a small investment to start and maintain a MOVING PICTURE THEATRE. It is a fact that most of these theatres pay 500% on their original investment in one year. FORTUNES are being made in this business on SMALL INVESTMENTS.

The STANDARD FILM EXCHANGE is one of the largest and most reliable companies who make a business of EQUIPPING THEATRES COMPLETELY. We handle everything that belongs to the business. We help you convert a store room or hall into a MOVING PICTURE THEATRE. We furnish CHAIRS, MACHINES, CURTAIN and SUPPLIES, and RENT YOU MOVING PICTURE FILMS and SONG SLIDES.

WRITE US FOR FULL DETAILS and ESTIMATES. We invite you to call at our offices, where every courtesy will be extended. Address us as follows:

Standard Film Exchange
Dept. 828, 79 Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois
Kindly mention this paper when writing.

COLT DISTEMPER

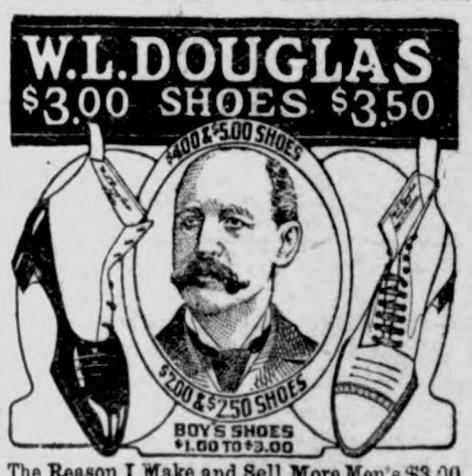
Can be handled very easily. The sick are cured, and all others in same stable, no matter how "exposed," kept from having the disease, by using SPOHN'S LIQUID DISTEMPER CURE. Give on the tongue, or in feed. Acts on the blood and expels germs of all forms of distemper. Best remedy ever known for mares in foal. One bottle guaranteed to cure one case. 50c and $1 a bottle; $5 and $10 dozen of druggists and harness dealers, or sent express paid by manufacturers. Cut shows how to poultice throats. Our free Booklet gives everything. Local agents wanted. Largest selling horse remedy in existence—twelve years.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists, Goshen, Ind., U. S. A.

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 16--1909.

WRIGLEY'S

W.L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOES $3.50



The Reason I Make and Sell More Men's $3.00 & $3.50 Shoes Than Any Other Manufacturer

is because I give the wearer the benefit of the most complete organization of trained experts and skilled shoemakers in the country.

The selection of the leathers for each part of the shoe, and every detail of the making in every department, is looked after by the best shoemakers in the shoe industry.

If I could show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make.

My Method of Tanning the Soles makes them More Flexible and Longer Wearing than any others.

Shoes for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses and Children.

For sale by shoe dealers everywhere.

CAUTION! None genuine without W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom.

Fast Color Eyelets Used Exclusively. Catalog mailed free.

W. L. DOUGLAS, 167 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

This Trade-mark Eliminates All Uncertainty

in the purchase of paint materials. It is an absolute guarantee of purity and quality. For your own protection, see that it is on the side of every keg of white lead you buy.

NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY
1902 Trinity Building, New York

BILLION $ GRASS

Costs 60c—90c per acre for seed.

Most wonderful grass of the century, yielding from 5 to 10 tons of hay per acre and lots of pasture besides. It simply grows, grows, grows! Cut it today and in 4 weeks it looks for the mower again, and so on. Grows and flourishes everywhere, on every farm in America. Cheap as dirt; luxuriant as the bottom lands of Egypt. Big seed catalog free or send 10c in stamps and receive sample of this wonderful grass, also of Speltz, the cereal wonder. Barley, Oats, Clovers, Grasses, etc., etc., and catalog free. Or send 14c and we will add a sample farm seed novelty never seen by you before.

SALZER SEED CO., Box W. La Crosse, Wis.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

Western Canada

MORE BIG CROPS IN 1908

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Another 60,000 settlers from the United States. New districts opened for settlement. 320 acres of land to each settler,—160 free homestead and 160 at $3.00 per acre.

"A vast rich country and a contented prosperous people."—Extract from correspondence of a National Editor, whose visit to Western Canada, in August, 1908, was an inspiration.

Many have paid the entire cost of their farms and had a balance of from $10.00 to $20.00 per acre as a result of one crop.

Spring wheat, winter wheat, oats, barley, flax and peas are the principal crops, while the wild grasses bring to perfection the best cattle that have ever been sold on the Chicago market.

Splendid climate, schools and churches in all localities. Railways touch most of the settled districts, and prices for produce are always good. Lands may also be purchased from railway and land companies.

For pamphlets, maps and information regarding low railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT PEPSIN GUM 5 cts

No Matter

what Liver or Bowel medicine you are using, stop it now. Get a 10c box—week's treatment—of CASCARETS today from your druggist and learn how easily, naturally and delightfully your liver can be made to work, and your bowels move every day. There's new life in every box. CASCARETS are nature's helper. You will see the difference! 883

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment, all druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month.

Dr. McINTOSH celebrated
Natural Uterine Supporter
gives immediate relief. Sold by all surgical instrument dealers and leading druggists in United States and Canada. Catalog, price list and particulars mailed on application.

THE HASTINGS & McINTOSH TRUSS CO., 912 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa., manufacturers of trusses and sole makers of the Genuine Stamped "McIntosh" Supporter.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS
WITH Dr. King's New Discovery
FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
433 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York.

Subscribers who are more than One Year in arrears to the Times, are requested to pay up at ONCE.

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

Has Made Quartz Fusible.

It is not so long ago that the textbooks on minerals used to describe quartz as "infusible." The electric furnace has made this an error, and now some manufacturers of chemical devices devote special catalogues to apparatus made of this substance. There are two grades on the market—the transparent kind, made from rock crystal and looking almost precisely like ordinary glass, and the cheaper translucent variety, made of common silica, and sometimes called in the trade "electroquartz." Both kinds are valuable in the chemical laboratory, because vessels made of either resist all acids but hydrofluoric, and cannot be cracked by the change of temperature, however violent. Quartz is useful also for its insulating properties, which are nearly perfect.

A Fellow Sufferer.

In Philadelphia they tell a story of a man whose wife had arranged an "authors' evening," and persuaded her reluctant husband to remain at home and help her receive the 50 guests who were asked to participate in this intellectual feast.

The first author was dull enough, but the second was worse. Moreover, the rooms were intolerably warm. So, on pretense of letting in some cool air, the unfortunate host escaped to the hall, where he found a servant comfortably asleep on the settee.

"Wake up," sternly commanded the Philadelphian in the man's ear. "Wake up, I say. You must have been listening at the keyhole."—Harper's Magazine.

DEWITT'S CARBOLIZED WITCH HAZEL SALVE For Piles, Burns, Sores.

CAESAR'S GHOST IN POLITICS.

Nations Still Cling Tenaciously to Notion of Empire.

Even more tenacious has been the hold of Caesar's ghost in politics. There are two forms under which the idea of world government presents itself: One, the dead notion of empire, the thing for which Caesar stood, the very name of the man still clinging on in the words czar and kaiser, and the name of his idea remaining in the word emperor; the other, the living idea of federation. When we have come to understand the nature of ghost rule we wonder no longer at some political phenomena otherwise absolutely incomprehensible. Why, for instance, does each nation now strive for the chimera of military preparedness? Germany, England and Japan levy an intolerable tax of money and blood to maintain their armies; the nations are in perpetual travail to bring fourth battleship after battleship. If you go to the bottom of the reason of all this you find no reason at all, or a silly one. For it is manifestly impossible for any one nation to conquer all the others. You ask yourself why one international fleet and army could not be supported, to be at the command of one international court, thus to settle all disputes and enforce all decisions. The answer plainly is that this question is mere living, mortal common sense, and hence a puny thing to put against the age-old, dead ghost-principle of empire.—Atlantic Weekly.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.

Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men. The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, their effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

UME XII. NUMBER 38 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, APR. 22, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

That happiness and contentment that comes only through a certainty for the future is the healthy, permanent kind. A savings account starts you on that road today.

State Savings Bank.

hme - - Iowa

o the Patrons of the Times.

Recently we have sent out a number of statements o those owing us on book account for which quite a mber have responded and appreciate the same.

To those who have not yet responded, we kindly k of them a settlement before May 1. Do not pass y our request but pay UP. We also have payments meet by May 1st and must have the money.

Yours very respectfully,

C. H. MANN & CO.

blishers of the TIMES.

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

ALL IN

J. W. WATERMAN

THOUGHTS OF MAN IN COMMAND.

Just What the Captain of a Battleship Actually Feels.

How the commander of a modern big American battleship can feel is disclosed in the following, taken from a letter written by such an officer: "There are more than 900 men on this ship, and, on the theory that an official of the government is a servant of the people, I am the servant of these 900 odd men and am bound to see that they are kept in food and clothing and baseball bats—and abundantly supplied with occupation. Perhaps I should feel more independent if I didn't have to listen respectfully to the orderly every time he comes in and makes one of his infinitely numerous reports, and put men in jail when I don't want to.

"Some of these 900 men look more dignified and independent than I feel. I wonder whether I look dignified and independent. I suppose I ought to do so, for to swing a steel mass 504 feet long successfully around like monsters, and to make 15,000 tons writhe around the corners of narrow channels, is something of an art, after all, and one not possessed by many of the inhabitants of the globe.

"With all that swinging of steel monsters around there go the responsibility and the knowledge that if the ship runs aground the whole civilized world will be acquainted with it inside of 24 hours."

AGE NOT COUNTED BY YEARS.

Just What It Means Is a Matter Hard to Determine.

This is Walt Mason's story: A few days ago an aged man was planted in a little Kansas cemetery. That he was highly thought of was evidenced by the long cortege that followed the plumed hearse to the City of Rest. Friends stood by the open grave and shed real tears, yet none of them would have called him back to life had that been possible. For he had died of old age and consequent infirmities; the toil and tribulations of 75 years had battered him down; and for a long time before his death he merely went through the motion of living.

"He was an old, old man," said the mourners, as they turned away from the grave, when the clods had been heaped upon the coffin lid.

"His age wasn't hurting him any," responded a white-haired man, who stood by the newly made grave, leaning upon a stick. The speaker was the dead man's father. He was 98 years old.

What is old age?—Kansas City Journal.

Suburban Compensations.

"I do find it inconvenient to live out of town, of course," declared a suburbanite, 'but it has its compensations. My husband and sons travel by train, and always have seats without having to secure them at the cost of letting women stand.

"After I have ridden in the subway," she continued. "I come home perfectly satisfied to put up with anything I have to by living out of town rather than let my husband and sons become such hogs as the men seem to me to be who ride in the subway, securing seats for themselves and looking indifferently at the numbers of women hanging wearily by the straps, being knocked about and jostled every time a passenger gets on or off the car."—New York Times.

Mme. Jusselin, Commercial Judge.

Don't forget her name. Mme. Clemence Jusselin is the first woman ever elected to any public office in France. She is the lady who was put up as representative of her profession as dressmaker, and she it is who will now decide in the trade disputes. Her title is commercial judge. Strange to say, Mme. Jusselin has been elected entirely by men. Stop, though; perhaps it would have been stranger if she had been chosen by her own sex. She regards her election as "an almost historic event, for it is something to be proud of to be the first woman in France to hold such a position." But let madame be wary, go slow. A commercial judge's judgments will create a stir in many quarters, and this one may not find her role so easy.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

Banking Business?

YOU have more or less of it? Possibly it is with us, that being the case you know something of our service, but if not a patron would not it be well to become one? Begin now.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING HORSE SHOEING A SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL

Spring Beauties

New Wall Paper for Spring are ready.

etc. etc. etc.

Of every discription. Neat patterns suitable for any job.

Prices that are Right.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

CHARGE CUDAHYS WITH FRAUD

PACKING COMPANY INDICTED ON 659 COUNTS AT TOPEKA.

Federal Grand Jury Charges Use of Coloring and Evasion of Law—Denied by Company Official.

Topeka, Kan.—The Cudahy Packing Company of Kansas City, Kan., is charged in indictments returned by the federal grand jury Friday with defrauding the government out of $125,000 by violating the law relating to oleomargarine. There are 695 counts, for each of which the penalty is $1,000.

The revenue law provides that each pound of uncolored oleomargarine must bear a revenue stamp of a quarter of a cent, but that on each pound to which coloring matter has been added to give it the appearance of butter, a ten-cent revenue stamp must be attached.

It is charged in the indictments that the Cudahy Company has sold the colored product under the quarter of a cent tax and consequently has defrauded the government out of large sums.

Inspectors have been working on the case several months and have secured samples sold in towns and cities from New York to Seattle and from Duluth to Jacksonville.

Every sample now in the hands of the government experts bears the identification mark of the inspector who purchased it, as well as the analysis which shows that it contains coloring matter.

It is claimed by the government officials that the Cudahy Company has succeeded in monopolizing the oleomargarine market by selling the colored product and paying the tax on the basis of uncolored, there being a difference of 9¾ cents a pound. By this means, it is claimed, they were enabled to undersell other manufacturers and control the market.

While this criminal action, which provides for a minimum fine of $695,000, will be prosecuted, District Attorney Bene says it does not end the matter. He will bring a civil action against the company to have the plant and machinery used in the manufacture of oleomargarine confiscated.

Washington.—Internal revenue officials said government agents have examined a very large number of samples of oleomargarine in many parts of the country sold by the Cudahy company, and that while it would not be expedient to estimate the amount of taxes involved in the alleged frauds, it is known that the officials believe it will be in excess of $125,000, and possibly a much larger sum.

OHIO RIVER STEAMER SINKS.

Fifty Panic-Stricken Passengers Saved by Crew When the Virginia Goes Down.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Following a remarkable series of accidents and a tempestuous voyage, the steamer Virginia, from Cincinnati, O., to Pittsburg, was finally wrecked in the Ohio river at Wellsville, O., Tuesday night.

The boat, the largest plying the upper Ohio, went down close to shore after striking a rock and tearing a hole three feet long in the hull. The passengers, numbering 50, in a highly nervous condition as a result of minor accidents earlier in the evening, became panic-stricken when the vessel met with the last accident, and it was with difficulty a crew of 75 men restrained them.

Although handcapped by darkness, a high wind and drenching rain, the crew managed to place the passengers safely in boats and put them ashore. From here they were taken, scantily clad, to a fire engine house in Wellsville, O., and later reached the warmth of a hotel in a patrol wagon.

When some distance from shore the steamer struck an obstruction with terrific force. The boat jarred mightily and the passengers were thrown from their berths.

ROB ILLINOIS BANK OF $1,900

Woodlawn Institution, However, Is Insured Against Desperadoes—Bandits at Wellsville, Mo.

Mount Vernon, Ill.—The bank at Woodlawn, a small town seven miles west of here on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, was robbed Thursday. Five masked men dynamited the safe, wrecking it and the interior of the building, and escaped with $1,900 in currency. The bank was insured against robbery.

Wellsville, Mo.—Four masked robbers blew open the safe of the post office here and escaped with a small quantity of stamps and one registered letter. The explosion aroused the town, but citizens were held back at the points of revolvers.

CAUSE IS UNKNOWN

MILK SERVED TO STUDENTS CONTAINS NO POISON.

SYMPTONS INDICATE POISON

Ten Students of Des Moines College Among Number—Analysis of Milk Fails to Solve Puzzle.

Des Moines, Ia., April 19.—As the result of drinking supposedly impure milk, ten students of Des Moines college were under the care of physicians Friday and Saturday. It is thought that all are out of danger.

All of the ten students took lunch at a boarding house. Although there were several other boarders, only ten became ill.

State Food and Dairy Commissioner Wright and Assistant State Chemist W. S. Frisbie made an analysis of the milk which was believed to be responsible for the ptomaine poisoning and failed to find any poison in the milk. This does not, however, exclude the possibility that it may have contained poisonous substances, which, Chemist Frisbie says, might have evaporated after the milk was obtained for the test.

None of the victims are dead and early this morning it was thought to be certain that all will recover.

Big Nebraska Prairie Fire.

Merriam, Neb., April 19.—Telephone communication with Gordon and Rockford, which are in the zone of last night's fire, was cut off by flames and little is known here of the result, except that the fire was still burning. The fire split ten miles west of Gordon and began burning in two directions, but at last reports it was believed further serious progress would be stopped by an approaching rain storm. No word has been received from the burned section up to a late hour.

Nevada Boy Kills His Brother.

Nevada, Ia., April 19.—"Tell papa and mamma good-by" were the last words of the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Heard of Zearing yesterday morning. Mr. Heard was going to the barn to shoot a heifer. The two children learning of this started there before him. The younger child, 8 years of age, was placing the cartridges in the gun when it was exploded and the 12-year-old boy was the victim.

S. A. R. to Meet.

Des Moines, Ia., Apr. 19.—More than a hundred Sons of the American Revolution will meet at the Shrine temple, to attend the annual meeting of the order. Delegates from all parts of the state began arriving in the city Sunday and some came as early as Saturday to attend the performance of "Ben Bur," to remain in the city until the close of the convention.

MUCH DANGER BY STORM.

American Consul Attacked.

Mobile, Ala., April 19.—It is learned here an attack was made on American Consul Hutchinson at Tela, Honduras, April 8, while the consul was walking with a friend who was attacked by a native, who used a knife, cutting Hutchinson on the hand and inflicting a scalp wound. The native was captured.

Big Smelting Co. Bankrupt.

Iola, Kan., April 19.—Upon application of Alton B. Parker, acting upon the part of the Trust Company of America, trustees for the bondholders J. O. Rogers was appointed receiver for the Lanyon Zinc company, one of the larget smelting works in the world.

Iowa Commits Suicide.

Paris, April 18.—Wm. E. Bainbridge of Council Bluffs, Iowa, a special agent of the United States treasuray department, who has been attached to the consulate here, committed suicide today by shooting. It is believed that Mr. Bainbridge was temporarily in sane.

Commits Suicide.

Des Moines, Ia., April 19.—After swallowing a pint of whisky, M. M. Elam, of Corydon, a traveling salesman for the Red Cross Vinegar company of St. Louis, ended his life by sending a 32-caliber bullet through his brain while in his room at the Kirkwood hotel Sunday night.

Funds For the Census.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—The census appropriation bill, providing $10,000,000 for the expense incident to the first two years of the collection of data for the thirteenth census, will be introduced by Representative Tawney.

GOING UP.

15 DIE IN A HOTEL FIRE

FRISCO HOSTELRY ABLAZE AS PATRONS SLEEP.

Nearly 200 in Bed When Flames Start—Bodies Taken from Ruins.

San Francisco.—Six bodies recovered and eight or ten others buried in the ruins; six injured, one fatally, and property loss of $125,000, are the results of a fire Friday that destroyed the St. George hotel, a lodging house for laborers at Howard and Eighth streets, and eight other small buildings. The bodies taken to the morgue were so charred that identification was impossible.

The hotel was a three-story frame building and burned so rapidly that none of the 180 guests had time to dress, and many escaped by jumping to the roof of an adjoining workshop. Scores clambered down the ladders of the firemen and the fire escapes, and at least four jumped to safety into the net held by the fire fighters.

When the fire was discovered shortly after three o'clock, Night Clerk Arthur Gronhk, three or four other employes, and Policeman W. F. Kruger ran through the house arousing the sleeping tenants.

In the smoke-filled halls they directed the half-crazed men to the exits. Great confusion and panic prevailed, so that it was with great difficulty that men were able to find their way through the labyrinth of halls which threaded the 400 small rooms.

Firemen and police worked heroically, and but for their efforts the loss of life would have been much greater.

Two hundred people were in the hotel when the fire broke out. One hundred and thirty of these were regular boarders, and the rest transients. Of the regular boarders 30 were unaccounted for, but many of them escaped in the confusion, and neglected to report their safety.

Rochester, N. Y.—The act of a fire bug which Tuesday rendered 1,000 persons homeless, when flames swept the city, has caused terror here. The militia is parading the streets guarding the few articles of furniture saved by the victims.

Swept along in the face of a 25-mile gale, the fire destroyed several sections of the city and did damage estimated at $1,000,000. It is believed the fire is of incendiary origin and the police are investigating.

Prison for Soul Mater.

Chicago.—Marion Grey of the Searchlight club of Elgin, Ill., must serve one year in a prison cell for her work in mating souls of rich but lonesome men and handsome but lovesick widows.

Judge Landis' sentence in the case was Tuesday affirmed by the United States circuit court of appeals. No error was found in the records and the attorney for the girl matrimonial agent, Elijah N. Zoline, who took her case after a reported squabble between Miss Grey and her trial counsel, was informed in the decision that "if any error was committed it was invited error."

SOUNDS ROOSEVELT PRAISE.

Senator Cummins Places Ex-President Ahead of Washington and Lauds Aldrich and Cannon.

Washington.—Senator Albert B. Cummins, the strenuous former governor of Iowa, who succeeded Senator Allison in the upper house of congress, jarred the Men's club of Mount Pleasant Congregational church with the statement that Roosevelt was greater than Washington.

While his hearers were trying to adjust themselves to that point of view, Senator Cummins ran in the statement that Daniel Webster was a dub compared with Senator Aldrich, and that Henry Clay was not in Speaker Cannon's class.

"Theodore Roosevelt," said the senator in his talk to the church club, "I consider a stronger man than George Washington, the 'Father of His Country.' Perhaps this sounds like treason, but it is not meant for that. Theodore Roosevelt, it is well known, faced problems day after day which Gen. Washington could never have met with success, but from which he would have had to recoil helpless.

GOTCH AN EASY WINNER.

World's Wrestling Champion Defeats Turk in Two Straight Falls Without Trouble.

Chicago. — Frank Gotch of Iowa, the world's heavyweight wrestling champion, Wednesday night in Dexter Park pavilion easily defeated Yusiff Mahmout, the latest importation of "terrible Turks." Gotch won the match in straight falls.

It took the champion only eight minutes to pin the shoulders of Mahmout to the mat in the first fall. The Turk stayed one minute longer when they faced each other the next time and went down after nine minutes of struggling. Gotch showed his superiority at every angle of the game and the great crowd was surprised as well as disappointed at the poor showing of Yussif.

Cotch won both falls with a crotch and half nelson and made no effort to get his famous toe hold on the Turk.

Celebrated Defaulter Free.

Ossining, N. Y. — A celebrated defalcation case was recalled by the release from Sing Sing prison of Cornelius J. Alvord, formerly note teller of the First National bank of New York city. Alvord was sentenced to a total of 13 years' imprisonment on January 16, 1901, for making false entries in the books of the first National bank to cover up defalcations said to have aggregated $620,000, extending over a period of several years.

Nelson to Fight McFarland.

Chicago. — Battling Nelson and Packey McFarland Friday signed an agreement to fight for the lightweight championship of the world before James Coffroth's club at Colma, Cal., July 5. The winner gets 75 and the loser 25 per cent. of the receipts. They are to weigh 133 pounds at eight o'clock in the morning and the battle is to take place at 2:30 in the afternoon.

MURDER ARMENIAN

SLAYING OF TWO MOSLEMS AVENGED BY 6,000 ENRAGED TURKS.

AMERICANS ARE IN DANGER

Massacre Occurs at Mersina While the Christians Have Missionaries—Mutinous Marines Lynch Vice-Admiral in Constantinople.

Constantinople.—Reports from Mersina, a seaport of Asia Minor on the Mediterranean, Thursday, told of a massacre of Armenians by Turks in which it is feared many were killed.

Enraged at the murder of two Moslems by an Armenian and the fact that the assassin was not apprehended, the Mohammedan population of Mersina, which counts a total of 10,000 inhabitants, took the law into its own hands and attacked the Armenian quarters.

The Christian communities of Mersina are appealing to the consuls here for help.

Two American missions are represented at Mersina.

The trouble at Mersina is in no way connected with the political upheaval at Constantinople of the last two days. It involves a recrudescence of the Armenian question, which is religious and racial, and has nothing to do with the internal policies of Turkey.

Mersina is 36 miles by rail southeast of the city of Adana. It counts 6,000 Mohammedans and some 3,000 Christians. It has a station of the synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in North America and an outstation of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. The record of 1907 shows that Rev. C. Dodds, Rev. R. J. Dodds and Miss Evadna M. Sterrett were stationed at Mersina.

The third day of the revolutionary movement in this city was marked by some disorders, the most serious of which was a demonstration by the marines, who objected to the new minister of marine, Vice-Admiral Adjemin Pasha. The marines gathered in force Thursday and seized and conveyed to the palace Arif Bey, commander of the battleship Assari-Tewfik, a member of the Committee of Union and Progress, who ordered the guns of his ship trained on the Yildiz Kiosk when the rising was at its height, with the intention of supporting the committee.

Arrived at the Yildiz Kiosk the marines lynched Arif Bey, notwithstanding the efforts of the palace guard to save him. Although public confidence is by no means restored by the formation of the new cabinet, an excellent impression has been produced by the appointment of Nazim Pasha as commander of the First Army corps, and this has been strengthened by the nomination of Memduh Pasha, another ablo Adrianople officer, to command the First division at Constantinople. Both hem Pasha, the new minister of war and Nazim Pasha made the round of the barracks in the city and exhorted the soldiers to obey their officers. They were well received and cheered.

Constantinople. — Information received here Friday from Adana, in Asiatic Turkey, declares that two American missionaries have been killed in the anti-Armenian outbreak at that place.

Ambassador Leishman instructed the American vice-consul at Mersina, John Debbas, to proceed immediately to Adana and report on the situation.

France has sent two warships to the scene.

TWO BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Explosion of a Nitroglycerin Factory at Gordon, Ill., Is Felt Twenty-Five Miles Away.

Sullivan, Ind.—With a detonation which was heard for 25 miles, the shock of which was felt in an area of 50 miles, the nitroglycerin factory at Gordon, Ill., across the Wabash river from this place, was destroyed by a terrific explosion late Thursday afternoon.

Charles Deweis and Moses Land were blown to atoms. Owing to the fact that Gordon has no long distance telephone communication and that the connection with the farm lines was destroyed by the explosion, the first rumors of the loss of life were exaggerated, one report putting the number of killed at 30. The fact, however, is that only two men were allowed to work in the factory at one time.

Old Battleship Made Over.

New York. — After being out of commission for more than two years the old battleship Massachusetts sailed out of the Brooklyn navy yard Thursday with a full complement of officers and men. The vessel was built by the Cramps in 1893 and has been largely made over so that she is almost as good as the battleships of much later types.

AILING WOMEN.

the Kidneys Well and the Kidneys Will Keep You Well.

k, suffering, languid women are ing the true cause of bad backs and how to cure them. Mrs. W. G. Davis, of Groesbeck, Texas, says: "Backaches hurt me so I could hardly stand. Spells of dizziness and sick headaches were frequent and the action of the kidneys was irregular.

after I began taking Doan's Kid- Pills I passed several gravel es. I got well and the trouble has returned. My back is good and ng, and my general health is bet-ld by all dealers. 50 cents a box. er-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

GOING THE PACE.

ortoise—What, have you started a or car?
hail—Yes, one must move with the es, you know.

Intruder Among the War Dogs.

Prof William Lyon Phelps of Yale t to West Point last fall to lec- e. He was lecturing in the chapel, cadets were rigidly paying at- tion, erect, eyes front, each man ramrod of military etiquette. An h setter entered the chapel door ambled sniffingly down the aisle up on to the platform. The ca- s squirmed under the eagle eyes of ir officers but not a man smiled. lly" noticed the strain. He looked n at the dog wagging its tail benev- ntly on the rostrum. "What! w's this?" said Prof. Phelps. "A ter? Why, I expected to see noth- but West Pointers up here."— e Alumni Weekly.

The Missionary Mule.

"That mule," said the old farmer, "is at I call a 'missionary mule,' an' I'll you why: It throwed one man on head, an' when the man wuz able be up an' about ag'in, he went to achin'; an' the last time the sheriff me to levy on that mule the critter cked him 'cross the county line, whar y wuz holdin' a campmeetin' an' blest ef the sheriff didn't git relig- an' quit runnin' fer office—w'ich z oncommon hard to do, seein' that office habit run in his blood. I tell u, nuthin' in this here worl' is to be spised, w'en as humble a critter as mule kin be a missionary!"

Offensive Advice.

"Madam," said the medical man, avely, "you must practice filling ur lungs with deep breaths of pure ."
"An' bust the smithereens out of my w direct'ry gown," sniffed the lady. think I see myself."
And turning on her high heels she ughtily left the apartment.—Cleve- nd Plain Dealer.

"COFFEE DOESN'T HURT ME"

Tales That Are Told.

"I was one of the kind who wouldn't lieve that coffee was hurting me," ys a N. Y. woman. "You just couldn't nvince me its use was connected th the heart and stomach trouble I ffered from most of the time.
"My trouble finally got so bad I d to live on milk and toast almost tirely for three or four years. Still oved the coffee and wouldn't believe could do such damage.
"What I needed was to quit coffee d take nourishment in such form as y stomach could digest.
"I had read much about Postum, t never thought it would fit my case til one day I decided to quit coffee d give it a trial and make sure about So I got a package and carefully llowed the directions.
"Soon I began to get better and was ble to eat carefully selected foods ithout the aid of pepsin or other di- estants and it was not long before I as really a new woman physically.
"Now I am healthy and sound, can t anything and everything that mes along and I know this wonder- l change is all due to my having it coffee and got the nourishment I eded through this delicious Postum.
"My wonder is why everyone don't ve up the old coffee and the troubles at go with it and build themselves up I have done, with Postum."
Easy to prove by 10 days' trial of ostum in place of coffee. The reward big.
"There's a Reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new e appears from time to time. They e genuine, true, and full of human terest.

PORK KILLS THREE

MEMBERS OF SIOUX CITY FAMILY ARE ALSO ILL.

TRICHINA IS CAUSE OF DEATH

Meat Is Served at a Dinner Following a Funeral Which Many Attended.

Sioux City, Ia., April 16.—As a result of eating pork infected with trichina, three members of the family of John Kolpin are dead and three are dangerously ill.

The dead are John Kolpin, Jr., Mrs. John Kolpin, and their 14-year old son, Herbert Kolpin. They died at Galva, their home.

Those seriously ill at the German Lutheran hospital here are: Miss Minna Schuelke, and her brother, Henry Schuelke, both of Aurelia.

Ill at Galva are the following: Miss Minna Peters, Will Poltzin, Henry Holtz, Gustave Drier, John Holtz, Mrs. John Kolpin, Sr., Ella Kolpin and Mrs. William Getzmier.

The victims partook of pork at a dinner following a funeral at the Kolpin home in Galva.

Cora, Lester and Florence Kolpin are in a very dangerous condition at the Sioux City hospital and eleven friends and neighbors at Galva are down with the terrible affliction and the whole town is terribly wrought up over the matter. It takes three weeks for the trichina to develop and make themselves felt, and as most all the friends and neighbors of the Kolpins ran in to help care for them and most all of them partook at some time or other of the deadly sausage the people of Galva are wondering where this terrible death harvest is going to end.

RECEIVERSHIP TO BE ENDED

Great Western Will Be Put On Its Feet by July.

Council Bluffs.—Federal Judge Walter H. Sanborn of St. Paul told attorneys representing the locomotive engineers on the Omaha division of the Chicago, Great Western railroad that the receivership of that road would terminate within the next three or four months. He said there were several ways in which the road could be put on its feet, but that it had not been decided just how reorganization would occur.

Judge Sanborn listened to complaint of engineers who said engineers from other divisions had been brought here and given the best runs, reducing the engineers already on this division to freight trains and switch engines in alleged violation of contract. Judge Sanborn took the matter under advisement and indicated that the matter might be adjusted if he old engineers waived the right to bring damage suits for salary they might have received had they not been reduced.

MAIL CLERKS MEET APRIL 27

Sixth District Association Will Hold Forth in Des Moines.

Des Moines.—The annual meeting of the sixth district Railway Mail association will be held in this city on April 27 and 28. A banquet is to be given on the night of the 28th, at which there will be several well known men on the program as speakers. The Des Moines branch will be host to the visitors. Frank B. Lorey of 621 Tenth street is president of the local branch; H. H. Flanagan, 917 Mary avenue, is vice-president; Geo. W. Batson, 2021 East Fourteenth street, is secretary. The executive committee is composed of G. J. Van Hamert, J. S. Baker and F. M. Burdette.

Shoots Three Persons.

Hutchinson, Kans., April 12.—Horace Schwartz yesterday shot his wife, her brother, at whose home she had taken refuge, and a neighbor, Phineas and Spain. He then tried to end his own life by drinking carbolic acid. Mrs. Schwartz is in a critical condition, but the men were not seriously wounded. Schwartz is in jail. The police say another man aided in the shooting.

First Trip of Season.

Davenport—The government steamer, David Tipton, commonly known as the dentist boat of the United States fleet, in charge of Captain Martin, is now at work in the Burlington-Davenport district removing a few small obstructions in the channel. The steamer is on its first trip of the season.

Son of Ex-Gov. Boies Weds.

Waterloo.—At the home of the bride's parents at Sycamore, Ill., H. B. Boies, son of former Governor Boies, and Miss Faith Hoyt were married Saturday. Miss Hoyt was the teacher of elocution in the Waterloo high school for two years.

PLANS NEW INTERURBAN LINE

Company Negotiates for Old Crooked Creek Property.

Des Moines.—Negotiations now in progress contemplating the purchase by the Ft. Dodge, Des Moines & Southern railway of the old Crooked Creek railroad may result in the addition of another important line to the Ft. Dodge electric road's system. This line would run from Ft. Dodge to Webster City, passing through the rich gypsum fields east of Ft. Dodge. It also would provide electric road service between Webster City and Des Moines.

General Manager J. L. Blake of the Ft. Dodge road admitted that the negotiations for the purchase of the Crooked Creek line are in progress. Physically, the road is in poor condition and extensive building would be required to fit it for good service.

The Crooked Creek railroad extends from Webster City to a point several miles west of Lehigh, a total distance of approximately thirty miles. It has been used for coal, clay and shale hauling. In addition to the rail line the deal includes title to about 1,000 acres of valuable land, rich in clay and shale and thought to hold some coal.

ELEPHANT'S VICTIM IS KNOWN

Mrs. Ida Washington of Oskaloosa Identified Dead Man.

Des Moines.—Frank Bartlow, the man killed by Tom, the big trick elephant of the Robinson circus, has been identified by Mrs. Ida Washington of Oskaloosa. She informed the coroner that his name was Frank and not Charles. He was her cousin. Mrs. Brafford, the Hastings woman, who thought Bartlow was her brother, is now entirely satisfied that she has no claim of relationship to the dead man.

The remains were laid to rest in Glendale cemetery.

Mrs. Washington said that Bartlow had been married in Asia while traveling abroad with the Barnum show, and that a wife and four children survive him, although nothing is known of their whereabouts.

EXPECTS 5,000 VETERANS

Ft. Dodge Makes Preparation for G. A. R.

Ft. Dodge.—Preparations for the G. A. R. encampment in June in this city are being made diligently and much is already finally planned for the biggest convention Ft. Dodge has ever had. Neighboring military companies will be here to participate in a big parade and Sons of Veterans, Spanish War Veterans, W. R. C. and the society of relatives of civil war veterans will meet here and participate in the big parade. Ft. Dodge will be called upon to accommodate fully five thousand people and a strenuous campaign is going forward to secure pleasant lodgings and meals for this vast number. Ft. Dodge homes generally are to be opened to the delegates.

Henedy Heads the Teachers.

Iowa City.—The Southeast Iowa Teachers' convention adjourned after an address by Professor L. H. Bailey of Cornell university. At the business meeting officers were elected as follows: President, Superintendent Eugene Henedy, Grinnell; vice-president, C. W. Cruickshank, Mount Pleasant secretary, Miss Mary Vanest, Oskaloosa; treasurer, Professor C. W. Wassam, Iowa City; chairman executive committe, Frank L. Smart, Davenport. The association passed resolutions deploring the defeat of the commission school bill by the legislature.

Webster City Claims Lead.

Webster City.—The close of the municipal fiscal year is at hand and figures can be produced which it is believed will substantiate the claim that Webster City is in the best financial condition of any town in the state of Iowa. The claim is remarkable, because Webster City is a "municipal ownership" town. The claim is also timely because of the decision of the city to do a large amount of paving the coming season.

Train Saved From Wreck.

Iowa City.—A broken break beam on the tender of the engine of the Rocky Mountain Limited train swung in front of the wheels from West Liberty to Iowa City, and if a sudden lurch of the train had thrown the piece of iron into a wheel there would have been a derailment of the tourist train.

Veteran is Fined 1 Cent.

Chicago, April 16.—A fine of 1 cent, to satisfy a technical violation of the law, was imposed by Judge Landis on Henry H. Tebbetts, a notary public and veteran of the civil war, who pleaded guilty to a charge of making a false affidavit for a fellow veteran to aid him in the collection of his pension.

Grief That Kills.

"My poor boy," said the beneficent old clergyman, who had encountered a young waif sobbing in the streets, "what ails you? Some case of dire distress has touched your heart-chords, no doubt."

"No," sniffed the lad, "you're clear off your base, old kazzozicks. Me an' Snippy an' de rest of de fellies tin-canned the mangy, old yellow cur up at Schwarz' grocery, and while old Schwarz an' de gang followed the dog, I sneaked back to the grocery to swipe dried apples. De Fido chased into Schmitt's orchard and de gang cribbed de swellest peaches you ever seen, an' then dey smoked grape-vine cigarettes and set the barn a-fire. I made a sashay into de apple barrel at de grocery, an' de delivery boy pasted me with a bed-slat and it hurts yet, and I didn't get to see de fire, and didn't get nothin' to eat, and I wisht I wuz dead—dog-gone it all!"—The Bohemian Magazine.

Do You Feel Like This?

Does your head ache or simply feel heavy and uncomfortable? Does your back ache? Does your side ache? Do you feel fagged out? The tonic laxative herb tea known as Lane's Family Medicine will clear your head, remove the pain in side or back and restore your strength. Nothing else is so good for the stomach and bowels. At druggists' and dealers', 25c.

Unlikely.

Whale—What are you going to tell your wife when you get home?

Jonah—I don't know; I don't suppose she would believe me if I should tell her that I had been to a fish dinner.—The Bohemian.

Ask Your Druggist for Allen's Foot-Ease.

"I tried ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE recently, and have just bought another supply. It has cured my corns, and the hot, burning and itching sensation in my feet which was almost unbearable, and I would not be without it now.—Mrs. W. J. Walker, Camden, N. J." Sold by all Druggists, 25c.

Deception.

"Did a man ever kiss you against your will?"

"No; but some have thought they did."—Brooklyn Life.

Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes

Relieved by Murine Eye Remedy. Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Conforms to Pure Food and Drug Laws. Murine Doesn't Smart; Soothes Eye Pain. Try Murine in Your Eyes. At Druggists.

The total number of sailing vessels in the world is double that of steamers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

He who is buried in thought dodges the undertaker.

PERUNA

For Catarrh of the Throat of Two Years' Standing.

"I was afflicted for two years with catarrh of the throat. At first it was very slight, but every cold I took made it worse.

"I followed your directions and in a very short time I began to improve. I took one bottle and am now taking my second. I can safely say that my throat and head are cleared from catarrh at the present time, but I still continue to take my usual dose for a spring tonic, and I find there is nothing better."—Mrs. W. Pray, 260 Twelfth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

There's Danger Ahead

if you've been neglecting a cold. Don't experiment with your health. Get a remedy that you know will cure—that remedy is

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

It's safe. In the severest cases of coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup, inflammation of chest and lungs it is the most effective remedy known. It does its work quickly, removes the cause of the disease

Sold everywhere in three size bottles, $1.00, 50c, 25c.

10 BEAUTIFUL POST CARDS "LANGUAGE OF THE FLOWERS" AND THE FARM MAGAZINE A FULL YEAR FOR ONLY 25 CTS.

The Farm Magazine is a semi-monthly farm paper that every farmer will not only enjoy reading, but will also find an invaluable aid in his farm work.

The Farm Magazine is the connection between the farmer and the agricultural colleges and the government experimental stations.

Every issue of The Farm Magazine has especially prepared articles that are of vital importance to the farmer.

The ten post cards are beautiful reproductions from nature that will be appreciated by each member of the family, suitable for an album collection or for correspondence.

This offer will not appear again; send 25c in stamps or silver to

THE FARM MAGAZINE, OMAHA, NEB.

LIVE STOCK AND MISCELLANEOUS ELECTROTYPES

In great variety for sale at the lowest prices by WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION, 73 W. Adams St., Chicago

Let Me Tell You Something

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is to blame for her own wretched condition.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what these women say:

Camden, N. J.—"It is with pleasure that I send my testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, hoping it may induce other suffering women to avail themselves of the benefit of this valuable remedy.

"I suffered from pains in my back and side, sick headaches, no appetite, was tired and nervous all the time, and so weak I could hardly stand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman—and this valuable medicine shall always have my praise."—Mrs. W. P. Valentine, 902 Lincoln Ave., Camden, N. J.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles, and at last was almost helpless. I tried three doctors but they did me no good. My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has made me well and strong. I hope all suffering women will just give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, for it is worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. Endlich, R. F. D. 7, Erie, Pa.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

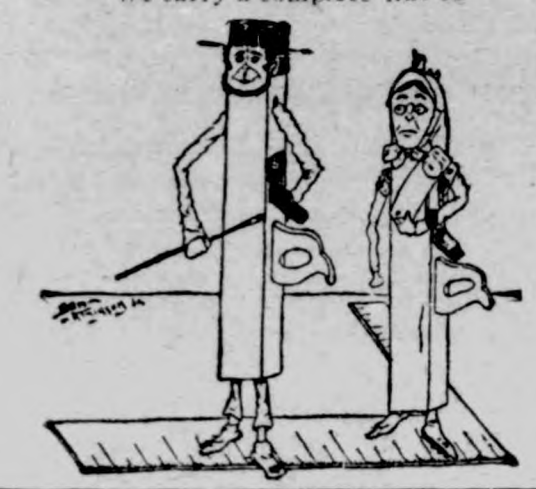
If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of



—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

HELLO THERE

Where are you going? I'm going to H. Lau & Son. They handle all kinds of farm implements, Port Huron threshers also the Aultman & Taylor machinery, the 20 Century and Appleton manure spreader, McKinnon and Clinton wagons, Anchor and Velie buggies, Ohio and Kingman cultivators, stirring and gang plows, the open mould board sulky plows the lightest draft, Towers cultivators, Imperial and Challenge wind mills, hog fencing, barb wire, smooth wire gates, pumps and piping of all kinds, feed mills and the international gas engines from 1 to 40 H. P., Milwaukee mowers, binders, Dane bay loaders and buckers, nails and fence staples, wind mills and pump repairing on short notice, the sharpless cream separator the best made today, the Crack a-jack line of samples for tailor made suits.

In the Household—As Hygeno is regularly used by thousands as a household remedy, disinfectant, germicide and insecticide the greatest cleanliness is exercised in its manufacture. For sale here.

H. Lau & Son.

STYX NO. 24964.

The imported stallion STYX is a jet black free from white and weighs over 2000 lbs. as a eight year-old.

Sired by Gerfaut 2d Reg. No. 2538 and he by Hercule No. 2522 Dam Wanne d'Ap No. 38165 and she by Marie No. 4523.

This horse was shipped from Brussels, Oct. 15, 1903 by the Livermore Horse Importing Co. of Livermore, Iowa

Will make the season at the following places:

Frank Glanville on Monday and Tuesday.
G. O. Miner on Tuesday and Wednesday.
W. S. Glanville on Thursday.
C. L. Yahnke Livery Barn Friday and Saturday.

TERMS—To insure a live colt to stand up and suck $15.

M. Palmby, J. E. Johnson,
Owners.

A. Kirkwood, Manager.

WOODMAN PICNIC DAY AT BELMOND

Business Men Organize and Make Large Plans for Boosting Celebration.

JUNE 17th SET AS THE DATE.

In response to a call issued by Mayor Griesy last week, an enthusiastic assembly of the business men of this city met at the Woodman Hall for the purpose of formulating plans for the celebration of the Woodman Picnic on June 17th.

In order that the event may be made the one big event of the season and that Belmond may establish an enviable reputation as an entertainer of visitors, it was unanimously decided to pass up Fourth of July celebration and devote every effort to the successful consummation of the picnic project.

Various committees have been appointed and are taking up the duties assigned with a vigor that foretells a big day and a rousing time. The work of publicity is already in hand as well as the financial management and no pains or effort will be spared that may assist in making the event a gala day attended by the biggest crowd ever in the city.—From the Iowa Valley Press, Belmond, Iowa.

WORDS TO FREEZE THE SOUL

Your son has consumption. His case is hopeless. These appaling words were spoken to Geo. E Blevens a leading merchant of Springfield. N C by two expert doctors—one a lung specialist. Then was shown the wonderful power of Dr. King's new discovery. After three weeks use, writes Mr. Blevens he was as well as ever. I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for my boy. Infallible for coughs and colds its the safest, surest cure of desperate lung direases on earth. 50c and $1.00.

Guarantee satifaction. Trial bottle free. G. A. Pabst & Co.

Avery Center.

W. M. Shaver was a Belmond caller Saturday.

Fred Wilkins is attending court this week.

John Bachman is very sick at this writing with typhoid fever.

Mrs. John Heginger was visiting friends at Belmond last week

Vera Cook and wife started for the state of Oregon Monday night.

F. R. Chase lost one of his best cows the cause is not known.

The party given at J. T. Griggs Friday evening was well attended.

The hail storm that swept over this vicinity Saturday night was quite severe.

Geo. Grosz began his spring term of school in Twin Lake township last Monday.

Henry Groens barn was struck with lightning Saturday night and burned it to the ground.

RHEUMATISM

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's liniment is all that is needed and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicines usually given internally for rhenmatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. The are worse than usual in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For sale by G A Pabst & Co.

Now when you start to Clean House be sure and do

A GOOD JOB

Don't Scrub
Put Linoleum in your kitchen and dining room. It very cheap for it lasts 10 years.

Bed Bugs
can not hide in our Iron Beds—$3.00 and up.

Bring in that roll of nice pictures which should have been framed long ago. New moulding at 5c and up.

Cover the Dirt
48c worth of new wall paper is enough for a room other beautiful patterns at 6c to 50c

Under the bed put matting on bed room floor—25c yd.

Your New Carpet
can be easily selected from our many big samples new patterns 35c and up.

While they last
we offer 50 Smyrna Rugs size 30x71, each at 95c

Arthur Wellemeyer.

Where your Dollar does its duty.

RESTAURANT
AND LUNCH ROOM

We have a fresh and complete line of Candies, Nuts, Tobacco Cigars, lunch counter Canned Goods, Soft Drinks and Fruits.

We have fresh home made bakery goods every day. Meals and Lunches served at all hours. We can also accommodate you with lodging. We solicit a share of your patronage.

A. KIRKWOOD & SON

MILLINERY ANNOUNCEMENT

WE

Have the largest and finest display of Spring Millinery ever shown has excited more admiration and attention than any we ever had.

We have some of the most beautiful and striking effects in Patte Hats, Trimmed Hats and Childrens headwear. The latest in Fl Rolls also a fine line of the best ladies Corsets. We have quite assortment of the latest ladies waists, and a fine line of Collars, R hes and Belts.

Our Trimmer is an experienced one who will be sure to please.

MRS. J. JOSTEN

THE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & CO.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	50 to 54c
Oats	45 to 49c
Wheat	90 to 100
Barley	55 to60 c
Hay	3 00 to 6.00
Hogs	5.00 to 5.90
Cattle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Read the Times ad on 1st page.

W. R. Bloom was at Dows the first of this week.

C. P. Ell did business at Forest City Monday of this week.

Mrs. H. L. Schuldt and daughter Anna were Garner visitors Tuesday.

Mr. B. H. Luken, one of the proprietors of the Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co., was a Klemme caller Monday.

I have just added to my stock a nice line of Lace Curtains at 5c up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. Schuler's. tf

Miss Hubbard of Garner, visited with C. C. Suckow and family and others last week Friday and Saturday returning Saturday

Geo. Culp arrived from Garrison, Iowa last week Saturday for a visit with J. W. Scott and family. He returned Tuesday evening.

NOTICE—Cattle wanted to pasture for the summer season on our farm. Plenty of good water and salt furnished.
tf Wm. Baack.

Permanently relieves constipation and indigestion. Regulates the bowels, builds up waste tissue. Makes pure blood. You grow strong, healthy and robust Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea the safest, nicest Spring tonic 35 cents. G. A. Pabst & Co.

Mrs. H. Schroeder and son Albert and Miss Selma Schroeder came down from Garner Monday evening and returned to Garner Tuesday. Mrs. Schroeder and son have also been visiting with her folks at Eitzen, Minn. They expect to return to Chicago sometime next week.

If you think of buying a rug it will pay you to look over my stock which consists of Wilton Velvets, Axminsters, Saxony Axminsters, Colonial Velvets and Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, 8 x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. Yours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

Iowa State Register—The oration by Mr. H. V. Adams has never been excelled in central Iowa. The speaker held the vast audience spellbound by his matchless oratory. At Klemme Opera House, Tuesday evening, April 27th.

Anton Ahrenkiel was a Britt visitor last week Friday.

Miss Clara Griewe was a Garner visitor Friday of last week.

Attend the lecture at Opera House on Tuesday evening, Apr. 27th.

Albert Fuller left for Buffalo Center today for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. C. C. Suckow and daughter Fern were Garner callers Saturday last week.

G. Yahnke and his son C. L. Yahnke were Buffalo Center visitors the first of this week.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.
Mrs. L. Mann.

H. Lau and son erected three wind mills on the farms of Peter and Erick Josten and Mrs. H. C. Josten last week.

Miss Aggie Blank visited with her sister Mrs. Wm. F. Lau and family and the Schroeder family at Garrer Saturday last week.

WANTED—Having leased the Schroeder pasture, I will be in a position to pasture your stock the coming season.
36tf Fred C. Griewe.

At the Klemme Opera House on Tuesday evening, Apr. 27th, "A Man with a Subject" by Mr. H. V. Adams who is very highly praised as a lecturer. This will be the last number of the lecture course. All turn out and hear him.

Mr. H. Bowers of Clear Lake was the guest of Art Shoop the latter part of last week. Art returned with him Saturday, going to Britt first and from there to Clear Lake. Mrs Shoop and children returned with him Monday

The weather of the past week has not been the best for our farmers in putting in their spring crop, however there was some work done. It will crowd some of them with their work. Monday of this week we started in with sunshine and hope we will have sunshine the rest of the week.

Grace: Pimples, blotches, rough, shiny skin are from the blood and stomach. A simple and never failing remedy—one that makes clear, healthy complexions, pure blood, perfect digestion, is Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Surprise yourself. Tea or tablets 35 cents. G. A Pabst & Co.

Mr. P. Eide of Stora City, who is a representative of the Silo, and J. L Manuel his General Sales Agent of several counties here, were in this locality the first of this week interviewing the farmers. The Silo is a great addition to a farmer raising stock which has been proven in quite a number of counties in this state. There are but a few Silos in Hancock count but it will not be long before our stock farmers will have them when they learn the benefit they derive from them.

SWEPT OVER NIAGRA

The terrible calamity often happens because a careless boatman ignores the river's warnings growing ripples and faster current. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape fatal maladies—dropsy, diabetes or brights disease. Take Flectric bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. After long suffering from weak kidneys and back one $1.00 bottle wholly cured me, writes J R Blackenship of Belk, Tenn. Only 50 at G A Pabst & Co.

Read the H. C. Lau new ad.

Read all about "Bed Bugs" in the Wellemeyer ad.

Full directions for "House-cleaning" and how to "Cover up Dirt"—read the Wellemeyer ad.

F. C. Griewe had the misfortune to sprain his back one day this week which will lay him up some time.

PAY UP—All those owing me on book account are requested to make settlement before May 1, 1909. F. H. Ridder.

Geo Wessels is able to be around some after his recent sickness and his little son who has been also dangerously sick, is slowly gaining strength. The family has had more than their share of sickness and we are glad of their recovery.

Builds up your whole body. Regulates the bowels, clears the blood, aids digestion, makes you well from head to feet. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do, greatest spring regulator. Tea or Tablets, 35 cents. G. A. Pabst & Co.

Mr. J. L. Manuel, Sec. of the Hancock Co. Fair, of Britt, was in Klemme Wednesday in the interest of our County Fair. He was also interviewing our farmers selling Indiana Silos. The Silo has come to stay as it makes it possible to keep double the amount of stock on a farm. He is General Sales Agent for Hancock, Wright, Winnebago and east part of Kossuth counties. We can vouch for James as being square in anything he undertakes.

UP BEFORE THE BAR

N H Brown an attorney of Pittsfield, Vt. writes: We have used Dr. King's new life pills for years and find them such a good family medicine we wouldn't be without them. For chills constipation, biliousness or sick headache they work wonders. 25c at G A Pabst & Co.

German M. E. Church Items

Rain, cold, rain, snow, pleasant, rain again.

F. C. Griewe is laid up with a sprained back.

Aug. Lau is building a small addition to his house these days

We are having all but the hot and the dry in good measure these days.

Camilla Neff came home from College Wednesday evening and will remain at home.

The Germantown League has arranged an anniversary program to be given some time in May.

Clara Griewe, Hulda and Esther Gruetzmacher were in Garner last Friday to have some dental work done.

Last Sunday was a disagreeable day still there was a nice audience out, both morning and evening in town In Germantown the meeting was small.

Hulda Stiehl spent Sunday in Klemme the guest of her brother and wife. She is doing good work as teacher in No. 2 Twin Lake township.

The board of Church extention has requested every charge to take a collection April 18. for the work of rebuilding the churches in San Francisco, destroyed by the earthquake three years ago. Since last Sunday was so unpleasant this collection will be taken in both churches next Sunday.

A different arrangement of the Sunday morning service will take effect next Sunday. Try and be there in time. Bring your Bible and join right heartily in the opening exercise.

When a boy we used to sing: "Oh, the weather Oh, the weather
T'is too hot, t'is too cold
T'is too dry, t'is too wet
T'is enough to make every one Fret, fret, fret, fret."

As there have moved a number of families to German township during the past few years who do not understand the German language, we intend to hold at least one English service each month. The first will be Sunday evening April 25.

Not only is the farmer getting restless with the cold and rainy weather, but the farmer's horses too. To hurry up matters a little Leonard Sampson's team took a "spin" with the seeder last week and sowed oats pretty fast for a time. Then other objects came in their way and they left the machine behind.

Reminisence.

Though not the largest, the cathedral at Milan, Italy is one of the most majestic and at the same time beautiful and elaborate structure in the world. It is built of white marble. By moonlight it seems like a mountain of alabaster peopled with thousands of graceful figures. There are actually more than 4800 marble statues on the exterior of this marvelous structure. These are not rough figures like one sees at a world's fare, but each an admirable work of art. The roof of the building is like an aerial sculpture—gallery, surrounded by myrids of colums, towers, pinnacles and arches all tainted by snow white angels, warriers, saints and kings, outlined at times like frosted silver on the sky. Over the triple doorways there are three inscriptions spanning the splendid arches. Over one is carved a beautiful wreath of roses and underneath is the legend, "All that which pleases is only for a moment.' Over the other is a sculptured cross and there are the words, "All that which troubles is but for a moment." Over the great central entrance in the middle aisle is the inscription "That only is which is eternal."

I'D RATHER DIE, DOCTOR

than have my feet cut off, said M L Bingham of Princeville, Ill. but you'll die from gangreen which had eaten away eight toes, if you don't said all doctors. Instead he used Bucklen's arnica salve till wholly cured. Its cures of eczema, fever sores, boils, burns and piles astound the world. 25 cts. at G A Pabst & Co.

Board of Health Notice.

Notice is hereby given that all dead animals must be disposed of on or before April 20th. It is prohibited to leave dead poultry along the highway. Anyone not complying with this notice, will be fined to the amount of $25.00. H. C. BEIER,
36-3 Clerk, German Township

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

A. M. Deyoe	Garner
Joe Lawhorn	"
Thos. Nelson	"
J. W. Costello	Goodell

Harry Ell, Casselton, N. D.
Chas. Gruetzmacher, Charles City.

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to night calls.

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank.
Call in

Items for Travelers

Have you read the wonderful stories of success in the Gulf Coast Country of Texas? Send for our pamphlet.

$30 to $35 will take you to principal points in the Southwest and return. Tickets sold first and third Tuesdays of each month.

When traveling to and from Colorado use the best! "The Rocky Mountain Limited."

Hundreds of people are going to California on the Golden State Limited. Why not you?

Mr. Jno. G. Farmer, D. P. A., Cedar Rapids, will gladly inform you about any trip you may consider taking. Remember, I sell the tickets.

Rock Island

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent.
Rock Island Lines.
Klemme, Iowa.

MOON BILL FAULTY

ATTORNEY SAYS THE SUPREME COURT WILL KNOCK IT OUT.

HOUSE CLERKS MADE ERROR

Waterloo Man Appears for the Iowa Liquor Dealers' Association.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 16.—Representing the Iowa Liquor Dealers' Association, Attorney Willis Birdsall of Waterloo went before Governor Carroll yesterday and told the chief executive that the supreme court undoubtedly will knock out the Moon bill limiting the number of saloons to one for every 1,000 people, if it is signed by him.

Mr. Birdsall called the governor's attention to a discrepancy in the house and senate journals which indicate that the senate did not concur in all the amendments to the original bill adopted by the house.

The house journal reads that on March 31 the Moon bill was reported for passage by the house committee on the suppression of intemperance with three amendments. One of these made a minor change in the wording, another provided for a gradual reduction in the number of saloons, and the third provided that in towns of 25,000 or over the ratio should be one saloon to each 800 people.

When the bill was reported by the sifting committee on the afternoon of the last day of the session Chairman Elliott of the committee on the suppression of intemperance moved the adoption of the first two amendments, according to the memory of those who were present at this session. A compromise between the temperance leaders and the sifting committee had been reached by which the first two amendments were agreed to and the third was to be stricken out.

Says All Were Adopted.

But the house journal reads that the "amendments recommended by the committee" were adopted. This statement, according to Attorney Birdsall, means that all three amendments were adopted and made a part of the bill which passed the house.

The bill with the first two amendments was then sent back to the senate and these two amendments were concurred in. The liquor men declare that the house journal shows that all three amendments were adopted by the house, and that in this respect there is a discrepancy in the record sufficient to destroy the bill.

The question is believed to narrow down to whether the statement in the house journal for April 9 to the effect that "the amendments proposed by the committee were adopted," necessarily referred to all three of the amendments printed in the journal with the report of the committee on March 31.

Attorney General Byers is inclined to believe that a slight error in the work of the journal clerks of the house cannot destroy the bill. Whether the journal actually shows an error is open to question, as the statement that "amendments proposed by the committee were adopted" might be held to refer only to two of these amendments.

Let Courts Decide.

Although Governor Carroll has not indicated his decision, it is generally believed that he will waive the question of technical error in procedure and leave this question to be determined by the courts if the liquor interests wish to press it.

The house journal of April 9, which is alleged to show discrepancy with the final record in the senate, was corrected by the chief clerk of the house and the journal clerk, and not by the house itself, as the legislature adjourned the same evening, before the journal was printed. Whether the fact that it was not corrected in the regular manner would discount the effect of any errors or ambiguity in the record is a question that has occurred to those interested.

Much Given in Transportation.

More than $15,000 a year in transportation is given free by Iowa railroads to the state railroad commission, according to figures secured at the office of the commission.

Byers in Doubt.

Attorney General H. W. Byers declares it is a close question whether the state can compel Justice Emlin McClain of the supreme court to repay to the state the sum of $4,500 which he has received for annotating the supplement to the code.

Increase in Salary.

The increase in the salary of state superintendent from $2,200 to $3,000 which passed the senate, was one of the bills lost in the final hurly burly of legislative adjournment.

WEAKENS WAR ON PLAGUE

STATE BOARD CALLS NEW STATUTE BACKWARD STEP.

Such Is Conclusion of Board Members After Reviewing Statute Recently Enacted.

Iowa's crusade against the white plague has been seriously crippled and robbed of its most effective weapon—compulsory disinfection. At least this is the declaration of members of the state board of health, who at their April meeting discovered that consumption had been omitted from the list of contagious diseases specified in the new quarantine law.

Under this law the state board loses the power to compel attending physicians or health officers to disinfect houses or lodgings occupied by consumptives. Instead of following out the suggestions of the department of tuberculosis of the state board of control and passing a bill requiring disinfection by the owner of quarters occupied by a consumptive, the legislature has taken what members of the board of health declare is a serious backward step.

The quarantine law repealed by the Thirty-third general assembly gave the state board power to make rules and regulations regarding quarantine and disinfection for all contagious diseases, leaving it to the board to determine which diseases are contagious. Because of complaint in several counties that quarantine and disinfection were required for measles and other minor ailments, at needless expense, the new bill specified what should be considered contagious diseases, naming a list of ailments in which tuberculosis is not included.

Check Kept on Officials.

The most rigid system of checking ever known in Iowa has been inaugurated at the state house. Any state officer, member of commission or anyone on the state payroll in any way will find it impossible to get away with either per diem, expenses or a single dollar to which he is entitled, and disclosures which have recently caused a sensational exposure of methods in one or two of the state departments have been absolutely terminated. The new system, as provided by the recent legislature, forces the filing of duplicate vouchers for every cent demanded with the auditor of state. Duplicate bills must be filed with the executive council through its secretary. The executive council is then authorized to employ a competent clerk whose duty it shall be to check up the certified vouchers, the duplicate bills and all items of expense.

Must Compile Report.

Every two years on the September prior to the convening of the legislature, the executive council must compile a complete report showing all expenditures, amounts paid out for every possible expense, printing, supplies, fees, per diem, etc., which will be ready for the legislators when the assembly convenes.

Affects Cigarette Smokers.

"It shall be unlawful," says the Proudfoot act, "for any person under 21 years of age to smoke or use a cigarette or cigarettes on the premises of another or on any public road, street alley or park or other land used for public purposes, or in any place of business or amusement, except when in company of his parent or guardian." Under the new law boys under 21 years of age may be arrested for smoking cigarettes in almost any place except their own homes, unless accompanied by their guardians or parents. The bill was introduced by Senator Proudfoot by request, and the Iowa Anti-Saloon league intends to see it enforced.

Must Appoint Commission.

It is now up to Governor B. F. Carroll to name seven men who shall compose the Iowa state drainage, waterways and conservation commission. The law providing for the establishment of this commission went into effect upon publication. The law suggests that the members of this commission shall come from the state institutions, and that one shall be an expert geologist, another a surveyor, another a drainage expert, etc. The law does not make the appointment of such men compulsory, but it is expected that Governor Carroll will regard the suggestion in naming the commission.

Clocks for Watchmen.

Seventy-five dollars a month to each of two men for locking the doors of the state house is the reason for the purchase of thirty-two keys and a patent clock to be used by Nightwatchmen Tom Graham and J. M. Russell in registering their nocturnal visits to remote corners of the big building on the hill.

SAVING PAINT MONEY

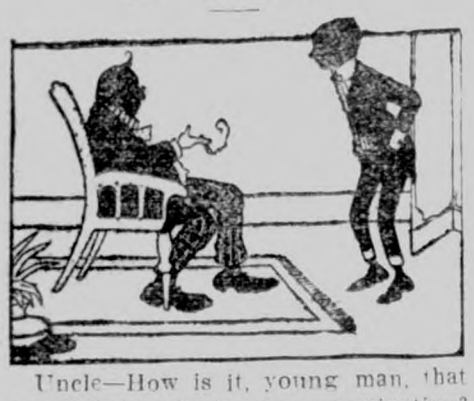
It Cannot Be Done by Using Cheap Material and Cheap Painters.

In arranging for painting, a good many property-owners try to save money by employing the painter who offers to do the job cheapest—or try to save money by insisting on a low-priced paint. But no property-owner would run such risks if he realized what must be taken into consideration in order to get a job that will wear and give thorough satisfaction.

No houseowner will go wrong on the painting question if he writes National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Building, New York, for their Houseowner's Painting Outfit No. 49, which is sent free. It is a complete guide to painting. It includes a book of color schemes for either exterior or interior painting, a book of specifications, and an instrument for detecting adulteration in paint materials.

Nearly every dealer has National Lead Company's pure white lead. (Dutch Boy Painter trademark.) If yours has not notify National Lead Co., and arrangements will be made for you to get it.

THE WRETCHES.



Uncle—How is it, young man, that you failed again in your examination?

Nephew—Why, the wretches asked me the very same question I could not answer last year!

BABY'S WATERY ECZEMA

Itched and Scratched Until Blood Ran —$50 Spent on Useless Treatments —Disease Seemed Incurable.

Cured by Cuticura for $1.50.

"When my little boy was two and a half months old he broke out on both cheeks with eczema. It was the itchy, watery kind and we had to keep his little hands wrapped up all the time, and if he would happen to get them uncovered he would claw his face till the blood streamed down on his clothing. We called in a physician at once, but he gave an ointment which was so severe that my babe would scream when it was put on. We changed doctors and medicine until we had spent fifty dollars or more and baby was getting worse. I was so worn out watching and caring for him night and day that I almost felt sure the disease was incurable. But finally reading of the good results of the Cuticura Remedies, I determined to try them. I can truthfully say I was more than surprised, for I bought only a dollar and a half's worth of the Cuticura Remedies (Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills), and they did more good than all my doctors' medicines I had tried, and in fact entirely cured him. His face is perfectly clear of the least spot or scar of anything. Mrs. W. M. spot or scar. Mrs. W. M. Comerer, Burnt Cabins, Pa., Sept. 15, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Ambiguous.

"What sort of time did you have in your automobile trip?"

"Oh, we had a perfectly killing time!"

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES OR RHEUMATISM BRIGHT'S DISEASE DIABETES, BACKACHE

PER 375 "Guaranteed

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

ALCOHOL—3 PER CENT

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral

NOT NARCOTIC

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER

Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna -
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed -
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda -
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP

Fac Simile Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK.

At 6 months old

35 DOSES - 35 CENTS

Guaranteed under the Food and

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

WRIGLEY

Crush!

go the mint leaves!

OUT flows the delicious mint leaf juice!

WRIGLEY'S Spearmint is full of it—and you can't chew it out.

Look for the spear

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT PEPSIN GUM

The flavor lasts

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizoot Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fev

Sure cure and positive preventive, no matter how horses at any age are infected "exposed." Liquid, given on the tongue; acts on the Blood and Glands; expels poisonous germs from the body. Cures Distemper in Dogs and Sheep and Cholera Poultry. Largest selling live stock remedy. Cures La Grippe among human be and is a fine Kidney remedy. 50c and $1 a bottle, $5 and $10 a dozen. Cut this out. K it. Show to your druggist, who will get it for you. Free Booklet, "Distemper, C and Cures." Special agents wanted.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.

PIMPLES

"I tried all kinds of blood remedies which failed to do me any good, but I have found the right thing at last. My face was full of pimples and black-heads. After taking Cascarets they all left. I am continuing the use of them and recommending them to my friends. I feel fine when I rise in the morning. Hope to have a chance to recommend Cascarets." Fred C. Witten, 76 Elm St., Newark, N. J.

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 922

JUST DOUBL

320 ACRES INSTEAD OF 160 ACRES

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

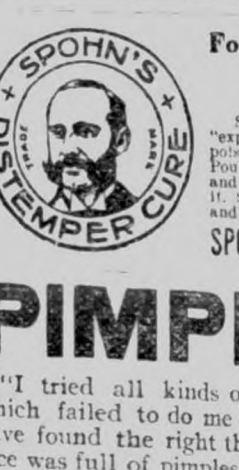
As further induce to settlement of wheat-raising lands Western Canada, Canadian Govern has increased the that may be taken homesteader to 320 acres—160 free and 16 be purchased at $3.00 per acre. These are in the grain-raising area, where mixed far is also carried on with unqualified success. railway will shortly be built to Hudson Bay, bri ing the world's markets a thousand miles n these wheat-fields, where schools and chur are convenient, climate excellent, railways clos all settlements, and local markets good.

"It would take time to assimilate the reve tions that a visit to the great empire lying t the North of us unfolded at every turn."—Correspondence of a National Editor, who visi Western Canada in August, 1908.

Lands may also be purchased from railway land companies at low prices and on easy t

For pamphlets, maps and information as t low railway rates, apply to Superintende of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or th authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn. W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, N



This Trade-mark Eliminates All Uncertainty

in the purchase of paint materials. It is an absolute guarantee of purity and quality. For your own protection, see that it is on the side of every keg of white lead you buy.

NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY 1902 Trinity Building, New York

6% QUARTERLY

We pay interest every three months at the rate of six per cent. yearly. Our investments are all in mortgages on New York City real estate. Twenty years' experience in New York real estate. Principal and interest guaranteed. Communications confidential. Write:

Liberty Financial & Security Co., CITY INVESTING BUILDING, NEW YORK CITY

Moving West?

Reduced rates on household goods in through cars to all points.

Blue Line Transfer & Storage Co. 202 Fifth St., Des Moines, Ia.

CANCER CURED WITH OUT KNIFE OR BURNING PLASTER CURE GUARANTEED REFERENCE AND CONSULTATION FREE DR. H. NEVINS PEORIA ILL.

IN VOGUE

FOR SWEET SIXTEEN

SLIMNESS AND DAINTINESS IS THE RULE.

Like Her Elders, the Young Girl Has Neither Hips Nor Prominent Bust Lines—Suggestion for Neat Costume.

Slimness of effect, and daintiness of material, rule styles for young girls. The correct figure for sweet 16 is one of reed willowyness; and if nature has furnished more pounds than fashion to hips or prominent bust lines any more than her elders. Like them, she must be in silhouette a well-bred knife blade, a charming stem which can bloom widely only at the head. In fact, with all the rest of the modish lines falling so straightly and slimly, the heavily-trimmed mushroom hats now worn give a good many of us the look of having heads quite out of proportion to the rest of the body.

With the fine wash materials which compose the simpler of the girl frocks this slimness is especially gracious, giving that look of divine innocence which is so delightful to girl garments. But it is the fashion every where to look saintly, ingenue forever younger than one's years, rather than older.

A fashionable effect in broadcloth may be suggested by the illustration. The low blouse, with its short sleeves and revers, give a number of suggestions for rich lace and embroideries in place of the plaid trimming shown. Again, plain or figured silk, the color of the gown, could be used for these bodice decorations and for the skirt band, while the gown material, plainly stitched, would prove not only an inexpensive garniture but one eminently stylish.

So replete with suggestion, in fact, have styles become that there is rarely a smart one which may not be copied in any every-day material, all cuts leaning toward smartness of line rather than elaborate trimmings and permitting many changes. The actual restriction is with the dressier of the empire modes, and to copy these in poor or coarse materials is to forswear taste entirely.

To conclude the subject of the gowns all fragile texture would require silk or lawn underslips fitting the figure as carefully as do the costumes. The guimpes required with them may be bought ready made if the sewer does not care to attempt them, for every shop of any importance is alive to the demand for these dainty accessories, and shows them in all degrees of elegance and simplicity.

Some of the prettiest of the guimpes and guimpe-bodices are in plain-tucked net or mull. The entire bodice is more expensive than the pieces which come no further than the bust or a little lower, and are considered by many as more comfortable to wear. The short guimpes run from $1.50 up; but the cheapest of the bodices likely to last any time will be $8.50 or more Fashionable Effect in Plain or Figured Silk.

...es for, careful corset bodies and ...ed stays, loose lines and high belts ...st conceal the objectionable pro...tions.

The smart schoolgirl has no right

...L SHOW TOUCH OF BLACK.

...amentation as Popular To-Day as ...t Was Last Season—Is Seen on Everything.

...ast spring and summer there was ...h talked and written about "the ...h of black that made the gar...t," "that improved the greatest ...terpiece," "that made the most un...oming gown suit the most impos...e wearer," and "that gave the ...h of the artistic to the most com...place of garments." Surely all ... could not have been said with ...h last season and then all of it ...ked this year. Certainly not. ... touch of black is as much used as ..., and while it may not necessarily ... the form of a bow or a band of ...k velvet introduced on corsage, it ...till evident, and oftenest at the ...le line.

...lack frequently appears in soft ... as a girdle slipped under panels ...ands crossing the waist line. A ... evidence of black is seen wheth... the gown is trimmed with metals ...hether it is of the lightest fabric. ...e touch of black is usually intro...d to give character to an other... flat composition. It is not neces..., but in the case of a jabot, gown ...louse being slightly unbecoming ...addition of a little black will make ...he difference in the world.

Table Flowers.

...e tall vase in the center of the ... has been abandoned. It is not ...idered a pretty decoration be...e it hides the guests on one side ...e table from those on the other. ...e English fashion of putting low ...rations on the table at luncheon ...inner is much taken up over here. ...ver basket filled with fruit is one ...e old-time fancies that has come ... favor again, and the china basket ...sed if one does not possess the ... kind.

...e cut-glass French basket, with ... handle and dipping ends, is now ...opular idea for flowers on a sim...table. Long-stemmed blossoms ...ot be used, but orchids, hyacinths, ... of the valley and California vio...are used separately or together.

LATEST THING IN COIFFURE.

An artistic girl's coiffure; a thick plait of hair wound round the head, outlined with a delicate silver band; the coiffure finished with soft clusters of curls.

TOILET TABLE.

A dab of eau de cologne will often remove a slight red spot from the face.

Scented toilet waters often injure the hair, but every girl delights in an elusive odor for her locks. The best plan is to rub a favorite sachet powder into the rats and center of the hair puffs, and this gives just the right scent.

Rub warts night and morning with the following salve: Twelve centigrams of chromate of potassa, well mixed in 15 grams of soft animal fat or vaseline. The warts will usually disappear in the course of three or four weeks' treatment.

Habitually eating soft foods, to the exclusion of everything that is hard or crusty, will not only weaken the digestive organs, but will lead to rapid decay of the teeth. When these are not used in the mastication of harder foods they become weak, just as any muscle will that is not given sufficient work to do. This applies especially to growing, healthy children.

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, obtained by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially, and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy, and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

Not Our Discovery.

The Greek, Eratosthenes, 250 B. C., taught the doctrine of the rotundity of the earth, and the ideas of the sphere, its poles, axis, the equator, arctic and antarctic circles, equinoctial points and the solstices were quite generally entertained by the wise men of that time. There were plenty of men in Rome, therefore, who were prepared to talk about the earth as a sphere and to make globes illustrating their ideas.

DAILY AND SUNDAY FOR ONLY $1.00

The Des Moines News, Daily and Sunday six full months for only $1.00. This trial offer should appeal to the reading public. Send in your dollar bill to-day.

Jess Said Her Prayers.

One day three-year-old Baby Jess was visiting her grandmother, who was very devout. She asked Baby Jess if her mother had taught her to say her prayers.

Jess answered: "Yes, ma'am."

"Whom do you pray to, dear, and ask to forgive your naughty ways?"

"Sometimes I pray to mother's knees and sometimes to the bed."—Delineator.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Hot Time All Around.

Lawyer—What did the prisoner say when you accused him of arson?

Witness—He answered with heat that such a charge was a burning shame.

Time is the best test. For over fifty years Hamlins Wizard Oil has been the most popular remedy in the United States for the cure of Rheumatism, Neuralgia and all pain and inflammation.

Skill to do comes of doing, knowledge comes by eyes always open and working hands, and there is no knowledge that is not power.—Emerson.

Do not force yourself to take offensive (and harmful) drugs—take Garfield Tea, Nature's Herb laxative; it overcomes constipation, purifies the blood, brings Health!

It doesn't take much to satisfy most people who are self-satisfied.

Moving Pictures Here to Stay

Invest Your Money in Moving Picture Theatres. You Will Get Greater Returns from This Than from Any Other Investment

It pays big to amuse the public. It requires but a small investment to start and maintain a MOVING PICTURE THEATRE. It is a fact that most of these theatres pay 500% on their original investment in one year. FORTUNES are being made in this business on SMALL INVESTMENTS.

The STANDARD FILM EXCHANGE is one of the largest and most reliable companies who make a business of EQUIPPING THEATRES COMPLETELY. We handle everything that belongs to the business. We help you convert a store room or hall into a MOVING PICTURE THEATRE. We furnish CHAIRS, MACHINES, CURTAIN and SUPPLIES, and RENT YOU MOVING PICTURE FILMS and SONG SLIDES.

WRITE US FOR FULL DETAILS and ESTIMATES. We invite you to call at our offices, where every courtesy will be extended. Address us as follows:

Standard Film Exchange

Dept. 828, 79 Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois

Kindly mention this paper when writing.

WHEN YOU RETIRE—Come To Seattle

"Farmers, like other hard workers, often desire to change their environments after they have obtained a competency."—Editorial.

Why then not seek homes where climate, scenery, progressiveness and other attractions are all that the most fertile imagination can picture, as in the matchless Puget Sound Country? Here, in the wonderfully fertile Northwest, farmers are every week retiring to the progressive Puget Sound cities, and by investing in improved city property, they not only insure themselves the necessary steady income, but their estates continuously increase in value, without their least concern nor worry.

Especially is this true of investments made in Seattle's Central Business Property, which my Company places within reach of all. When YOU come this summer, to SEATTLE'S A-Y-P, you will want to look into this. Better let me send you full particulars beforehand. Please write to me now.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

MAPLEINE

A flavoring that is used the same as lemon or vanilla. By dissolving granulated sugar in water and adding Mapleine, a delicious syrup is made and a syrup better than maple. Mapleine is sold by grocers. If not send 35c for 2 oz. bot. and recipe book. Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

For your Headache and Nervousness use A-B-C TEA
Get a Package To-day, Only 25 cts.

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.
A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery

FOR COUGHS COLDS — PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free

AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.

GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
437 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York.

H. C. LAU

DEALER IN

[illegible] Low

THE CHILDREN LIKE IT
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c. Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.

Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days to ailment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men. The results of youthful follies and excesses—catching losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, fearfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

Has Made Quartz Fusible.

It is not so long ago that the textbooks on minerals used to describe quartz as "infusible." The electric furnace has made this an error, and now some manufacturers of chemical devices devote special catalogues to apparatus made of this substance. There are two grades on the market—the transparent kind, made from rock crystal and looking almost precisely like ordinary glass, and the cheaper translucent variety, made of common silica, and sometimes called in the trade "electroquartz." Both kinds are valuable in the chemical laboratory, because vessels made of either resist all acids but hydrofluoric, and cannot be cracked by the change of temperature, however violent. Quartz is useful also for its insulating properties, which are nearly perfect.

A Fellow Sufferer.

In Philadelphia they tell a story of a man whose wife had arranged an "authors' evening," and persuaded her reluctant husband to remain at home and help her receive the 50 guests who were asked to participate in this intellectual feast.

The first author was dull enough, but the second was worse. Moreover, the rooms were intolerably warm. So, on pretense of letting in some cool air, the unfortunate host escaped to the hall, where he found a servant comfortably asleep on the settee.

"Wake up," sternly commanded the Philadelphian in the man's ear. "Wake up, I say. You must have been listening at the keyhole."—Harper's Magazine.

DeWITT'S CARBOLIZED WITCH HAZEL SALVE For Piles, Burns, Sores.

CAESAR'S GHOST IN POLITICS.

Nations Still Cling Tenaciously to Notion of Empire.

Even more tenacious has been the hold of Caesar's ghost in politics. There are two forms under which the idea of world government presents itself: One, the dead notion of empire, the thing for which Caesar stood, the very name of the man still clinging on in the words czar and kaiser, and the name of his idea remaining in the word emperor; the other, the living idea of federation. When we have come to understand the nature of ghost rule we wonder no longer at some political phenomena otherwise absolutely incomprehensible. Why, for instance, does each nation now strive for the chimera of military preparedness? Germany, England and Japan levy an intolerable tax of money and blood to maintain their armies; the nations are in perpetual travail to bring fourth battleship after battleship. If you go to the bottom of the reason of all this you find no reason at all, or a silly one. For it is manifestly impossible for any one nation to conquer all the others. You ask yourself why one international fleet and army could not be supported, to be at the command of one international court, thus to settle all disputes and enforce all decisions. The answer plainly is that this question is mere living, mortal common sense, and hence a puny thing to put against the age-old, dead ghost-principle of empire.—Atlantic Weekly.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

SUBSCRIBE FOR
THE TIMES
$1.00 A YEAR.

The Klemme Times.

UME XII. NUMBER 39 | KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, APR. 29, 1909. | $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

HEN YOU GO ON YOUR ACATION TAKE A GOOD BOOK TO READ. HELPS YOU TO KEEP COOL Because you know your money is safe.

If you never looked at the pages of YOUR bank book and watched the "balance to your credit" grow, you yet have the most interesting of all books to read. If you once begin to read in your BANK BOOK you'll never lose interest in THAT book, because We'll pay you You'll enjoy seeing your money grow.

State Savings Bank.

me - - Iowa

OBITUARY.

Ellen Anna Fuller was born Aug. 17, 1870 in Wicken Cambrigeshire, England and died at her home near Buffalo Center, Iowa. April 24 1909, aged 38 years 8 months and 8 days.

When about 4 years of age she came to America with her parents who settled in Hardin Co., Iowa, where she lived till her marriage to Albert Henry Yohnke, Dec. 23, 1891. After their marriage Mr and Mrs. Yahnke moved to a farm near Klemme where they resided only one year. From there they moved to their present home near Buffalo Center where she resided till the date of her death.

To this home have been born 6 children, Rosa, May, Walter Burten, Hattie Alice, Cora Esther and two children which died in infancy. Besides her husband and four children she leaves to mourn her death her mother, one brother and two sisters, together with a host of other relatives and friends. She has been a member of the church since 18 years of age and has sought constantly to live a life faithful to her Heavenly Father.

The funeral was conducted from the Congregational church by Rev. Frank C. Gonzales, April the 27th when a large number of sympathizing friends had gathered. The burial followed at Graceland Cemetery beside her two infant children. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in this hour of sorrow.

UP BEFORE THE BAR

N H Brown an attorney of Pittsfield, Vt. writes: We have used Dr. King's new life pills for years and find them such a good family medicine we wouldn't be without them. For chills constipation, biliousness or sick headache they work wonders, 25c at G A Pabst & Co.

Sherlock Holmes Again.

Somebody wondered how long a certain woman who had just left the room had been married.

"About fifteen years," said the jeweler.

"How do you know?" asked his wife. "You never saw her until to-night."

"I can tell by the size of her wedding ring," the jeweler replied. "The width of wedding rings changes about every five years. The kind she wears was in style 15 years ago."

The Pity of It.

"I saw a woman coming across Stuyvesant park," said she, "holding a string with a little white dog at the end of it. She said, 'You darling little precious baby, you!' to the dog.

"I like dogs all right enough, but about half a block from the park there are the raggedest sort of children who haven't enough to eat half the time. It seems a sort of pity they can't dress them up in white, tie strings around their necks and say, 'You darling little precious baby, you,' to them."—N. Y. Press.

The Ascent of Art.

"Yes, he has had quite a varied experience. He began his artistic career by painting a sign for a livery stable."

"Indeed!"

"Then he climbed steadily. Have you seen his latest and best work?"

"No. What is it?"

"It's a calendar for a bock beer brewer."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

All Depends.

"It's a lucky man," declared Dusty Rhodes, "dat children an' dorgs likes to feller about. Don't yer agree wit' me, pard?"

"Not if the children want to chuck rocks," answered Wayside Waggs, "an' de dorgs wanter bite."

Banking Business?

YOU have more or less of it? Possibly it is with us, that being the case you know something of our service, but if not a patron would not it be well to become one? Begin now.

The First National Bank
CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.
of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

J. W. SCOTT

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING
HORSE SHOEING A
SPECIALTY

We have the Robinson Manure Spreader, guaranteed to do the work.

Wood works in connection. Located at the Nissen stand.

GIVE ME A CALL

o the Patrons of the Times.

Recently we have sent out a number of statements those owing us on book account for which quite a mber have responded and appreciate the same.

To those who have not yet responded, we kindly k of them a settlement before May 1. Do not pass our request but pay UP. We also have payments meet by May 1st and must have the money.

Yours very respectfully,

C. H. MANN & CO.

blishers of the TIMES.

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

LL IN J.W.WATERMAN

Spring Beauties

New Wall Paper
for Spring are ready.

etc.
etc.
etc.

Of every discription. Neat patterns suitable for any job.

Prices that are Right.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

The Klemme Times

C. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

The first book printed in the United States was entitled "The Freeman's Oath."

Great Britain and Germany are again making faces at each other, but that will be all.

Great Britain's commerce fell off $494,000,000 last year, landing, we assume, with a dull, sickening thud.

Owing to the French letter carriers' strike a number of challenges to duels are delayed in transmission.

A girl of 12 has published a book. With infant prodigies in the field what chance has the author who has reached the fateful age of 40?

A Georgia court has decided that to call a man a liar is a breach of the peace and means a fight. This is one of the cases where custom asserts itself as a lawmaker.

There would be fewer divorces, says a noted composer, if we had more music. We doubt it. Many a happy home has been broken up by the presence of a perfectly upright piano.

Castro left much of his fortune in the hands of European hotelkeepers. He was unwise to choose a time when the regular American tourist was at home saving his money.

A German professor has discovered the trachoma germ, though it was hiding in the eye of an ape. Who but a professor would have thought of looking for it there?

European swindlers who circulated $400,000 worth of bad money in this country were most inconsiderate. The secret service has enough on its mind without this foreign interference.

As long as England expects women who set the social pace to shoot pheasants and deer it must expect somewhat excessive readiness to resort to physical violence when suffragettes get excited.

In writing a "code" letter that may accidentally fall into other hands than those of the person for whom it is intended, it is better to avoid such words as "peach," and use "mud fence," "kangaroo," "turnip," or some equally harmless substitute.

Sheep-shearing machines are now used quite extensively in Australia. In Tasmania they are just beginning to be installed. It seems only a question of time when all the sheep shearing in this island will be done by machinery, driven by steam, electric or gasoline power.

A naval court-martial has declared that the delirious delights of a happy honeymoon are no excuse for desertion from the service. As long as the cold-blooded abstraction called naval service can command legs which march and arms which carry weapons little it recks of hearts that love.

That Americans find life especially sweeter than other nations is proved by the figures showing candy consumption. The candy bill of the United States for 1908 is $100,000,000. This not only shows a tendency to a greater sweetness in national life, but also that if times are growing more prosaic, romance is dying hard.

An injunction has been issued by a court in Ohio forbidding a man from making love to an attractive widow. When it comes to ordering a man not to fall in love, they might as well issue injunctions against ducks swimming. Even Shakespeare, who suggested that lovers should be put in a madhouse, did not go so far as to hint at jail.

China needs a ruler who will come out in the open, live the life of a good sovereign and keep in mind that this is the twentieth century, not the tenth. Until that land gets such an emperor her lack of modern civilization and her abhorrence of modern ideas will keep her far in the background among the progressive nations of the world.

The announcement is made of a decrease in the sale of darning cotton for stockings. This may be either the result of prosperity which allows people to buy new clothes and not mend their old ones so much, or it may corroborate the charge made recently that American women are the laziest on earth. The evidence on either side is bound to be interesting.

Prince de Sagan is said to be a social outcast in Paris, ostracised by the very select circle in which he formerly moved. It is not because of any more lapses of which he may be guilty. Far from it; society formerly received him gladly for all his well-known record. It is because he has refused to accept a challenge to fight Count Boni de Castellane, and has thereby "offended a gentleman." French "honor" is a funny thing. The whole business is like an act in a comic opera.

PARDONS FOR EXILES

ALLEGED CONSPIRATORS IN GOEBEL MURDER FREED BY KENTUCKY GOVERNOR.

MAY RETURN TO THE STATE

Taylor, Finley and Four Others Accused as Slayers, After Nine Years Are Relieved of Charges by Action of Executive.

Frankfort, Ky.—Pardons were granted Friday night by Gov. Willson which clear the dockets of the Kentucky courts of all charges growing out of the assassination of Senator William Goebel, who had been declared governor in January, 1900., except those against state's evidence witnesses. Those pardoned without trial are: Former Gov. W. S. Taylor and former Secretary of State Charles Finley, who have been fugitives in the state of Indiana for nine years; to John Powers, brother of Caleb Powers, who is believed to be in Honduras; to Holland Whittaker of Butler county, John Davis of Louisville, and Zach. Steele of Bell county, under indictment and who did not flee the state.

Those over whom indictments are left hanging are Wharton Golden of Knox county, now in Colorado; Frank Cecil of Bell county, now a railroad detective in St. Louis, and William H. Culton of Owsley county, said to have died in the west a few months ago.

These cases, with the possible exception of Cecil, will be dismissed, leaving Henry E. Youtsey, now serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary, the only person to suffer for the taking off of Goebel.

Reiterating the belief he expressed some months ago, when he granted pardons to Caleb Powers and James B. Howard, that no one but Youtsey had part in the murder, and that it was not a conspiracy, as the commonwealth charged, Gov. Willson says he believes it a "sacred duty, which I must no longer delay, to carry this belief into effect," and grant pardon to the men charged, and who fled the state as they "had the greatest reasons to believe" that they could not "have a fair trial," and if they stayed here would be forced to trial before a partisan jury under conditions which would give them no chance at all for a just decision.

In extending clemency in the Taylor case, the governor, after reviewing the state gubernatorial election of 1899 and the contest instituted before the legislature by Senator William Goebel, says:

"For years it seemed as if there never would be an end of the political use of the Goebel murder to keep up hatred and contention. In the campaign of 1907 it was again brought up, as it had been in every campaign since 1899, by speeches in which it was claimed that the Democratic nominee for governor would not pardon Taylor, Powers and others, and that the Republican nominee would pardon them if elected.

"I made no answer to these speeches until I came to the home of Powers in the mountains, where I told the people, his friends, that I would not prejudge these cases; that I would not promise anybody either to pardon or not to pardon these men, but that if the cases ever came before me I would take them up officially and decide them on their merits, and that I was as anxious for the conviction and punishment of every person guilty of the murder of William Goebel as anyone in Kentucky.

"There is no need to repeat here the statements of the Powers and Howard cases; they are well known to the people. The study of these records constrained me to believe, to the exclusion of a doubt, that Howard did not fire the shot which killed Goebel.

"The only evidence in all of the four trials of Powers and three trials of Howard by which the prosecution in any way attempted to connect Gov. Taylor with the murder was the testimony as to his writing to get Howard to come to Frankfort to kill William Goebel, and tending to show that Howard, on the request in that letter, did come to Frankfort, entered into the plot and committed the murder.

"But Howard did not kil Goebel, and Gov. Taylor could not be guilty of getting Howard to do what he did not do.

"From the fair, impartial study of all of the trials and from my knowledge of the conditions of these times, I believe that William S. Taylor had no guilty knowledge of the murder of William Goebel, and that he would never have been indicted but for political excitement and passion."

The governor then reviews the cases of the other defendants, against whom he says there was no proof of conspiracy.

In a statement issued at Indianapolis Taylor and Finley expressed their gratitude for relief from the burden of being exiles. Taylor will remain in Indianapolis but Finley will return to Williamsburg, Ky.

UNEASY LIES THE HEAD, ETC.

STARTS FIGHT ON HARRIMAN

TAFT FOLLOWS NEW POLICY IN ANTI-TRUST WAR.

Sends Complaint to Attorney General Instead of Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington. — In directing that Attorney General Wickersham instead of the interstate commerce commission investigate the charges made by Senators Smoot and Sutherland and Mr. Howell of Utah against the Harriman railroads, President Taft Wednesday put his own anti trust policy into action.

The roads named in the complaint filed with Mr. Taft are the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Oregon Short Line, Oregon Railroad & Navigation, San Pedro, Los Angles & Salt Lake, Denver & Rio Grande, Missouri Pacific, Colorado Midland, Colorado & Southern, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Rock Island, and Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe.

The charge is made that these roads discriminate in rates against Salt Lake and other intermountain cities on shipments from the east. The complaint cites numerous instances. As examples, they say that a car of cocoa beans shipped from Chicago to Utah cities costs $594 in freight tariff, while the same shipment to San Francisco costs but $225. A car of nails, 40,000 pounds, costs $440 to Utah points, while the same car, if carried 1,000 miles further west, to the coast, costs but $160.

In letters to the president accompanying the complaint it is pointed out that the enormous earnings of the Harriman lines from which big dividends are paid on stocks indicate that the railroad rates complained of are enormously profitable, and that Harriman derides power of any less importance than the federal government, and apparently cares little for that.

KIDNAPER TRIES SUICIDE.

Boyle Found in Cell, Ill from a Drug—His Sickness Prevents Escape.

Mercer, Pa.—The Mercer county authorities are greatly worried over an alleged attempt of James H. Boyle, the Whitla kidnaper, to commit suicide and later a well-planned attempt on the part of supposed friends on the outside to liberate the prisoner from the jail here.

While both affairs were frustrated, their successful conclusion seems to have been averted by the narrowest margin. Late Thursday afternoon it was learned that Boyle suddenly became ill Wednesday. He was found lying upon the floor of his cell in the agony of convulsions. Excepting that his illness was such as would have resulted from some powerful drug nothing can be learned.

A few minutes after midnight an attempt to liberate Boyle failed on account of the prisoner's illness. At that hour guards found a 20-foot ladder in position at a window in Boyle's cell. The supposition is that the men who were to free Boyle climbed this ladder and then found his cell empty.

Catch Kidnaper at Cairo.

Paducah, Ky. — Robert Lee Hawkins, alleged kidnaper of the 15-year-old son of James F. Estes of this city, is being held in jail at Cairo, Ill., pending the issuance of a requisition paper at Frankfort.

TEDDY SLEEPS IN TENT.

Ex-President Begins Real Hunt in Africa—Lions Prowl Around Camp.

Kapiti Plains, British East Africa. —Theodore Roosevelt has reached the hunting grounds and Friday night spent his first night in Africa under canvas.

A big camp has been established near the railroad station here for the Roosevelt expedition, and lions prowled about in the vicinity of the tents during the night.

The country is green, owing to the recent rains, and there is every prospect of good sport. The commoner varieties of game are plentiful, and the huntsmen will lose no time in getting started on their shooting trips to-day.

The camp established for Mr. Roosevelt is most elaborate. The caravan will have a total of 260 followers. There are 13 tents for the Europeans and their horses, and 60 tents for the porters. An American flag is flying over the tent to be occupied by Mr. Roosevelt. All the native porters of the expedition were lined up on the platform when the Roosevelt special pulled in, and as Mr. Roosevelt stepped down from the train they shouted a salute in his honor. In response Mr. Roosevelt raised his hat.

Mr. Roosevelt was on the cow catcher of the engine when the train pulled in, having occupied that position for the 79 miles between Makindu and Kapiti Plains. He said he was intensely interested in the country and expressed his gratitude and delight at the hospitality shown him by the acting governor and Mrs. Jackson.

MOVES FOR FREE WHEAT.

Representative Scott of Kansas Prepares Bill to Be Presented to the House.

Washington.—Representative Scott of Kansas will ask the ways and means committee of the house to curb the wheat-corner movement being conducted by James Patten in Chicago by temporarily removing the duty from wheat.

Mr. Scott has prepared a bill which he will submit to the committee asking it to report the bill to the house, recommending immediate action. The bill, as drawn, suspends the duty of 25 cents a bushel on wheat.

There is little chance that the committee will confuse congress by the interpolation of any legislation while the tariff bill is being considered. Members who heard of the Scott bill could see little good in it.

TORNADO KILLS TEN.

Many Are Hurt and Much Property Damaged at Cleveland and Ashtabula, O.

Cleveland, O.—Nine persos were killed, six fatally hurt, at least fifty sustained injuries and property valued at more than $1,000,000 was destroyed in a tornado which swept through Cleveland and northern Ohio Wednesday One man was killed and a dozen hurt at Ashtabula.

An unidentified woman was blown into a pond at Wade park and drowned.

In the blinding rain pedestrians were blown off their feet and hurled against buildings, in many cases struck down by flying bricks and timbers which filled the air.

YOUNG TURKS WIN

Commission of Notables Will Try Abdul Hamid.

EMPIRE TO BE CLEANED

Confirmation of the Report That 25,000 Were Killed in Streets of Adana—Victors Use Good Judgment.

London,, April 26.—The report has been received that the Sultan was taken out of the palace by force at a late hour last night and that Mohammed Reschad Effendi was installed in his palace.

Constantinople, April 26.—The Yildiz garrison has surrendered to the constitutionalist forces. The commanders of these battalions began sending in their submission to Mahmoud Schefket Pasha last night and the whole of the troops protecting the palace gave their formal and unconditional surrender.

Niaci Bey, who is called the hero of the July revolution, is now in command of the garrison.

Unsympathetic and resolute strangers are on guard around the sultan, as a precaution against his friends. He has not been deposed from his position as ruler, but his subjects talk openly of whether he shall remain even the nominal head of the empire.

Sultan Abdul Hamid has been permitted to remain within the walls of the Yildiz Kiosk, where in company with his ministers he waited for the outcome of the struggle between his loyal troops and the army of investment, each hour bringing to him word of a fresh disaster. Since victory rested with the constitutionalists, the sultan himself gave orders to his men not to resist.

Barricaded in the most impregnable part of the Yildiz Kiosk and surrounded by several hundred of his most loyal troops, a modern Swiss guard who have elected to die with him if need be, the aged ruler issued his defiance to the Young Turks' commanders, and the prospects now are that the bloodiest and most tragic fighting will be necessary to bring about his overthrow.

The young Turks have declared that by his refusal to accept their terms, Abdul Hamid has forfeited his last chance of escaping with his life. Even the leaders admit that his execution will follow the capture of the palace. They say he has demonstrated that there can be no assurance of peace as long as he lives.

Washington, April 26.—Ambassador Riddle, at St. Petersburg, informed the state department that he had received assurances from the minister of foreign affairs that all foreigners within the danger zone in and near Tabriz, Persia, would be protected by the Russian troops which left for that city this morning.

New Counterfeits Out.

Washington, D. C., April 26.—Discovery of two new counterfeits, a five dollar silver certificate and a twenty dollar national currency note on the National Bank of Washington, S. D., has been announced at the treasury department. The former is an imitation of the series of 1899, but bears the date of 1889 and in the portrait of the Indian chief the nose and mouth are entirely different from the original. The Wessington counterfeit is a pen and ink production from Chicago, a dollar note being bleached to obtain the desired paper.

Tornado in Nebraska.

Fremont, Neb., April 26.—A tornado northwest of Fremont wrecked the buildings on the Jackson farm and injured a number of the occupants. James Scholmar and Peter Greison, farmers on the way to North Bend, were caught in the wind, their wagons overturned and both badly injured. Greison's injuries are serious, Minor damage was done on other farms, but the storm was local.

To Des Moines Next Year.

Burlington, Ia., April 26.—The annual convention of the Travelers' Protective Association of Iowa, in their session held here, chose Des Moines as the convention city for 1910. A large delegation was present and much important business was transacted. A river excursion in honor of the visitors and ladies was given.

Six Drown; Boat Upsets.

New Orleans, La., April 26.—The tow boat Eagle of the Louisiana Petroleum company capsized in the Mississippi river about forty miles south of New Orleans and Captain George, Second Engineer Goodbill, Fireman Martin, a chambermaid and two negro deck hands are reported drowned.

AXATIVE FOR WOMEN FREE

There is a great difference in the urposes to which a laxative should e put. Tablets and pills, salts, etc., e usually violent purgatives or thartics, and altogether too power- l for the average person.

A woman at all times needs only a ild laxative—in fact, none other is eeded by anyone, weak or strong ough they may be, for the object is mply to move the bowels, and if a entle laxative will do it, what is the se of a violent one?

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has rned a well-deserved vogue among omen and children and old folks—eople who must necessarily be care- l of what they take.

t is a liquid laxative tonic and ad- ttedly the greatest stomach, liver and wel remedy before the American peo- . The price is only 50 cents or $1 a bot- , as it comes in both sizes, and all uggists sell it. Its pleasant taste and ntle action make it an ideal remedy for omen in constipation, torpid liver, sour omach, sick headache, heartburn and h like digestive complaints. Its use for short time will remove the trouble en- ely so that future medication will be necessary. Its tonic properties build up e stomach and intestinal muscles so t they act naturally again. That this so is the experience of many heads of milies, like Mrs. Brannan, of Alvarado, , Mrs. K. L. Stout, of Louisville, Ky., d numerous others; in fact, way out in illiams, Cal., as Mrs. J. E. Blackmore, that place, writes, the whole town ems to be using it.

f the remedy is new to you and you nt to make a trial of it before buying, d your name to the doctor's address as ow and a free test bottle will be sent u. Then, if results are satisfactory you can buy it of your druggist.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 201 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

COUNTRY IN MOVEMENT.

eeting of National Association for tudy and Prevention of Tuberculo- sis Will Be Largely Attended.

The fifth annual meeting of the Na- nal Association for the Study and evention of Tuberculosis will be d in Washington, D. C., at the New llard hotel, on May 13, 14 and 15. ing to the present interest in the mpaign against tuberculosis, the eting will be of unusual interest d importance. The membership of e national association now numbers arly 2,000, and is distributed in al- st every state in the United States e national association has also a nsiderable membership in Canada, ba, Porto Rico, Philippine islands, d in several of the European coun- es. Ex-President Roosevelt and William Osler are honorary vice- sidents of the national association. Vincent Y. Bowditch of Boston is president; Mr. Homer Folks of w York city, and Dr. Charles L. nor of Asheville, N. C., are the vice- sidents; Gen. George M. Sternberg Washington, D. C., is treasurer; Dr. nry Barton Jacobs of Baltimore, is retary, and Dr. Livingston Farrand New York is the executive secre- y of the association.

Prologue Required.

During dinner Mr. Galey began to le apropos of nothing.

"What are you thinking about now?" ed his wife, sharply.

"Why," began Galey, "the Cornell dow tells an awfully good story ut—"

"Indeed!" interrupted Mrs. Galey, ezingly. "Where did you meet this eresting lady, may I inquire?"—Il- rated Sunday Magazine.

FOOD FACTS
What an M. D. Learned.

A prominent Georgia physician went ough a food experience which he kes public:

"It was my own experience that first me to advocate Grape-Nuts food I also know, from having pre- ibed it to convalescents and other k patients, that the food is a won- ful builder and restorer of nerve brain tissue, as well as muscle. It proves the digestion and sick pa- ts always gain just as I did in ngth and weight very rapidly.

I was in such a low state that I to give up my work entirely, and t to the mountains of this state, two months there did not improve in fact I was not quite as well as n I left home.

My food did not sustain me and became plain that I must change. n I began to use Grape-Nuts food in two weeks I could walk a mile out fatigue, and in five weeks rned to my home and practice, ng up hard work again. Since that e I have felt as well and strong as er did in my life.

As a physician who seeks to help sufferers, I consider it a duty to e these facts public."

rial 10 days on Grape-Nuts, when regular food does not seem to sus- the body, will work miracles.

"There's a Reason."

ook in pkgs. for the famous little k, "The Road to Wellville."

er read the above letter? A new appears from time to time. They genuine, true, and full of human rest.

Iowa State News

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth

IOWA GIRL GONE AS A BOY

OSKALOOSA GIRL DONS FOSTER FATHER'S CLOTHING.

Police Search in Vain for Her and Her Parents Are Distracted.

Oskaloosa, Ia.—April 26.—Marian Hutton, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hutton of Rutledge, Wapello county, ran away from home, donning male attire belonging to her father, walked on the Milwaukee tracks twelve miles to Hedrick where she boarded the Iowa Central freight, west bound to Wright station where the trainmen put her off. She was given food and shelter at a hotel at Wright, where her masquerade was penetrated on account of her long black hair. The girl cut her hair off and boarded another train bound for Oskaloosa. The father found the girl to Wright and then rode to Oskaloosa and gave the girl into the hands of the police. The girl is thought to be demented on account of illness. She had a good home and every wish was granted. Her foster parents are almost crazed with grief over the disappearance of the child. He own mother died when the girl was three years old. The father was killed accidentally six months later, when the Hutton family adopted the waif.

Water Scandal Up Again.

Dubuque.—The waterworks scandal which stirred Dubuque three years ago and which resulted in the ousting of the first board in charge of the municipally owned institution in Dubuque and the sending to the penitentiary of the first superintendent for embezzlement, is again holding the center of the stage. The action of the city council in committee of the whole in voting, 6 to 2, to pay the bill of Martin-Strelau of $45,000 for coal, and which was contracted by the old board, has stirred up the tax payers to a stage of fever heat.

Old Merchant Retires.

Algona.—Undoubtedly one of the oldest merchants in northern Iowa in point of service in one city is L. W. Robinson, who has just disposed of his business to Leo M. Stalker of Oskaloosa. Thirty-seven years ago Mr. Robinson came to Algona and went into the hardware business and has attended promptly and capably to every detail of the business since then. He started in business just as soon as the C. M. & St. Paul had built through. That was in 1871 and for eight years it was the terminus of the road.

Cartridge Blew His Pipe Up.

Postville.—Fred Seybert while having a smoke went down into his pocket for the second pipe full and loaded up. He carries his tobacco loose. He started up and black smoke was curling up like smoke from a steam engine. All at once there was an explosion that blew the pipe in bits and filled Fred's face full of tobacco and smoke and pieces from the pipe. When all the fright was passed he found that he had accidentally put into his pipe a 22 caliber cartridge.

Verdict for $15,000 Damages.

Estherville.—The largest verdict ever awarded in Emmet county was returned by a jury in Judge Cooley's court in the case of C. W. Bradbury vs. The C., R. I. & P. Ry. Co. He was given $15,000. The plaintiff had received an injury while in the employment of the defendant as brakeman July 1, 1908, at Graettinger, Iowa, which resulted in the loss of his right arm below the elbow.

Let Clams Grow.

Clinton.—There has been an influx of clam fishermen from points on the upper Mississippi river, to the Illinois river this spring. Constant working of the clam beds on the upper Mississippi has largely depleted the beds, and the clam fishers now operate on the prolific beds of the Illinois river, giving the Mississippi clams an opportunity to increase.

Boy Killed in Ball Game.

Mount Ayr.—Baseball claimed a victim Saturday when Leonard De Long, a boy at Lamoni, met with fatal injuries while engaged in a game of baseball at that place.

MANUFACTURERS DAY IN IOWA

A General Observance to be Made Once a Month by Manufacturers and Jobbers.

Des Moines.—"Manufacturers' day," to be observed state-wide the first Tuesday in every month, for the purpose of awakening the state of Iowa to the necessity of industrial growth, will be established by the Iowa State Manufacturers' association.

It is proposed that manufacturers in every city of the state will meet together on "Manufacturers' Day" of each month, at luncheon or in the evening, to confer upon the various questions concerning Iowa's industrial expansion and to arouse general public interest.

Tuesday, May 4, will be the first "Manufacturers' Day." Waterloo and other Iowa cities have planned to make the first event a hummer, with big banquets in the evening.

MCNAMARA IS FOUND GUILTY

Seven Wanted to Free Parricide On The Theory He Was Insane at Time Deed Was Committed

Northwood, Ia., April 28.—Ed. McNamara was found guilty of murder in the second degree by the jury, which was out twenty-seven hours.

It stood seven to five in favor of acquittal up to the very last when the seven conceded to the second degree murder verdict.

June 1 has been fixed as the date for pronouncing judgment. At that time the motion for a new trial will be argued. If overruled sentence will be pronounced.

It may be either life, ten years, or anywhere between.

AT WAR OVER RIVER DAM

Suit Began at Avoca to Test Rights of Owners of Dam—Alleges Damage to Land.

Council Bluffs.—A suit filed at Avoca, Ia., complaining of the presence of a dam across the Nishnabotna river at Carson, and asking the court to issue a writ of mandamus restraining the owners from maintaining the dam, started a lively contest, the origin of which is contained in an effort of citizens of the northern part of Pottawattamie county to secure the construction of a ditch straightening the Nishnabotna river, one of the crookedest and most erratic streams in western Iowa.

Superintendent Six Times.

Anita.—At a recent meeting of the board of education Superintendent H. W. Chehock was reelected for the sixth time as superintendent of the city schools of Anita. Mr. Chehock, having decided to complete his college course next year, was not a candidate for reelection. The high school students learning this to be a fact unanimously petitioned the school board to reelect him anyway, which they did. In spite of the manifested confidence and good will he has resigned and will secure his master's degree at college next year.

Preparing State Fair Exhibits.

Onawa.—The manual training department of the Onawa High school is preparing a splendid exhibit of its work, to be placed in competition at the state fair. This work will consist of articles of furniture, drawings, examples of graded work in woodworking, sewing specimens, and other examples of industrial education.

Vinton Bankrupt.

Vinton.—The general fund of the city of Vinton is practically bankrupt. The county treasurer paid the city treasurer last Saturday the sum of $3,310.31, which is practically the only money the new city council will have to operate on during the summer, as the next semi-annual taxes are not due till September and are not generally paid in until October 1.

Paroled Boys Missing.

Mason City.—A couple of boys who are on parole from the Iowa Industrial school at Eldora and who have been farmed out to a couple of local business men, where they were employed at their trade, are missing. Supt. P. J. Harnett of the school was here in search of the runaways.

Odd Fellows to Celebrate.

Logan.—Logan lodge No. 355, I. O. O. F., will celebrate the ninetieth anniversary of the order in the United States Friday, April 30. Hon. Jerry Green will deliver the principal address.

Iowa Woman Advanced.

Charles City, Ia.—Miss Florence Greely of this city has just been appointed head surgical nurse in the Northwestern hospital at Minneapolis

A TORNADO

GREAT DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY AND LOSS OF LIFE.

A tornado of more or less severity has visited Iowa and other states so far this spring, destroying a large amount of property. There is no need of anyone in Iowa being without tornado insurance when they can get it at so small cost in the IOWA MUTUAL TORNADO INSURANCE ASSOCIATION of Des Moines. The association has been in operation twenty-five years, has paid $600,000 in losses, and only assessed its members 11½ mills in that time, and have $133,000,000 cash on hand to pay future losses. The Association has $134,000,000 in risks all on Iowa property. The average annual cost has been less than $1.00 per $1,000, insured for the twenty-five years.

Last year's business was a record breaker for business written, but the business so far this year exceeds last. The business for March amounted to $4,000,000, and the business so far in April to $175,000 per day.

The Association insures farm and city property, churches and school houses. It cooperates with the County Mutuals for farm property and the TOWN DWELLING for dwelling property. This is the Association of which N. Densmore is President and J. H. Herriman, Secretary.

NICE COMPLIMENT FOR PAPA.

Little Daughter's Pretty Way of Expressing Appreciation of Daddy's Thoughtfulness.

It was just four o'clock, and the rays of the rising sun had begun to peep over the eastern horizon. The father had gotten up to light the fires to get the house warm, and sneaked into the little daughter's bedroom to see that she was well covered up. In pulling the bed clothes up and tucking them in, he aroused the sleeper, and with half opened eyes, her face covered with curls, she asked:

"I don't have to go to school yet, do I?"

"No, no, daughter," replied the father. "It is only four o'clock. Turn over and go to sleep."

Little curly head, with half open eyes, pulled up the covers and said: "You're the bestest papa I ever had."

And who dares say that even such a little kindness as letting your little girl sleep until daylight is not appreciated?

PROOF FOR TWO CENTS.

If You Suffer with Your Kidneys and Back, Write to This Man.

G. W. Winney, Medina, N. Y., invites kidney sufferers to write to him.

To all who enclose postage he will reply, telling how Doan's Kidney Pills cured him after he had doctored and had been in two different hospitals for eighteen months, suffering intense pain in the back, lameness, twinges when stooping or lifting, languor, dizzy spells and rheumatism. "Before I used Doan's Kidney Pills," says Mr. Winney, "I weighed 143. After taking 10 or 12 boxes I weighed 162 and was completely cured."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Impending Strife.

"I want to buy a clarionet," said the man with a steely look in his eye.

"Ah," said the dealer in musical wares, "here is a perfect instrument, absolutely true in tone."

"I don't want it. I want one that'll produce nothing but blue notes. There's a man next door who is studying the trombone. I'm going to play the clarionet in self-defense."

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

To see a bridegroom out in the yard early in the morning, in his shirt sleeves looking for kindling, takes a good deal of the romance out of his case.

Look out for the imitations of WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT—if you haven't tasted them. If you have, you'll look out without being told.

A true friend is one who makes us do what we can.—Phelps.

WESTERN CANADA'S HAPPY PROSPECTS.

In no year since the development of Western Canada began has spring brought a brighter outlook than it brings this year. In no preceding spring has there been greater assurance of advancing development and prosperity. The movement of immigration has already assumed large proportions, and is as desirable in character as it is satisfactory in volume; from across the Atlantic sturdy, industrious and thrifty newcomers are arriving in large numbers, homeseekers from Ontario and the other older Provinces are coming in a steady stream, and from across the international boundary a movement is already in full flow, which, it is confidently predicted, will beat the records of all previous years; special settlers' trains are crossing the line, loaded with effects, actual material wealth being thus brought into the country at the rate of millions of dollars' worth monthly.

The movement is so unprecedentedly large that extra Dominion Immigration officials have had to be provided at both North Portal and at Emerson, and it is estimated that the total number of new settlers from the United States this year will be 70,000, at least, and may run well up toward 100,000. Last year's total of new settlers from the South was 53,723; thus the area that will be placed in wheat and other grains this year will greatly exceed that of last year. Settlers are making extraordinary efforts to get on their lands and begin seeding operations. The price of wheat now, away above the dollar mark, is incentive enough, and when one has in view the splendid results that the past few years have shown, it is not to be wondered at that the present will be the banner year for Immigration to Canada. Ask your nearest Canadian Government Agent for rates of transportation, and he will also send you illustrated pamphlets.

Putting It Gently.

The sages of the general store were discussing the veracity of old Si Perkins when Uncle Bill Abbott ambled in.

"What do you think about it, Uncle Bill?" they asked him. "Would you call Si Perkins a liar?"

"Wall," answered Uncle Bill, slowly, as he thoughtfully studied the ceiling, "I don't know as I go so far as to call him a liar exactly, but I do know this much: When feedin' times comes, in order to get any response from his hogs, he has to get somebody else to call 'em for him."—Everybody's Magazine.

Don't Cough, But Live Long.

If every cough were cured before it got a strong hold, human life would be lengthened by many years. If every coughing sufferer knew that Kemp's Balsam would stop the cough in a few minutes, he would be glad to escape the serious consequences. If any medicine will cure a cough, Kemp's Balsam will do it. At druggists' and dealers', 25c.

Dressed as Scholars.

At the wedding lately of the head master of Eastbourne college, England, the threepages in the bridal procession were garbed as scholars in black satin knee breeches, buckled shoes, scarlet silk gowns, with white shirt fronts. Each carried a mortarboard hat and a scarlet-bound prayer book.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for your feet. It cures painful, swollen, smarting, sweating feet. Makes new shoes easy. Sold by all Druggists and Shoe Stores. Don't accept any substitute. Sample FREE. Address A. S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Snubbed in Town.

"What are you doing now?"

"Striving for recognition."

"Seeking fame, eh?"

"Not exactly. I'm striving to get on speaking terms with a girl who promised to be mine at the seashore."

It's Pettit's Eye Salve,

that gives instant relief to eyes, irritated from dust, heat, sun or wind. 25c. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Subject's Nature.

"What kind of rates do they pay for balloon stories?"

"I don't know, but they ought to be space rates."

Don't drink liquor except medicinally. WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT takes the smell off your breath.

The man who is able to say: "The Lord is my strength," will never break down under his load.

Garfield Tea has brought good health to thousands! Unequalled for constipation, liver and kidney diseases. Composed of Herbs. Buy from your druggist.

Life in this world could never be so sweet or so sad if we had not been children in it.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

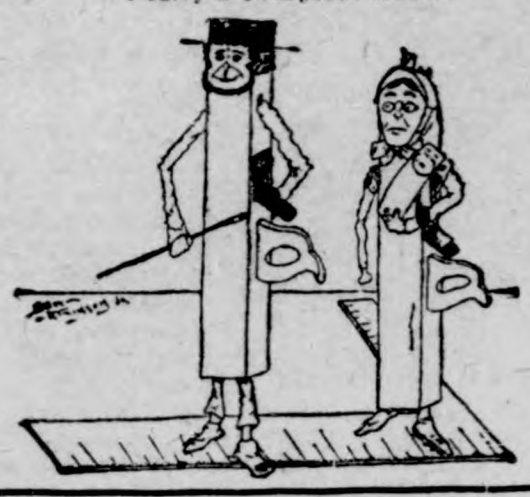
"Who cares if a duck of a girl is feather-headed?

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of



—A complete line of—

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

—A new and up-to-date—

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

HELLO THERE

Where are you going? I'm going to H. Lau & Son. They handle all kinds of farm implements, Port Huron threshers also the Aultman & Taylor machinery, the 20 Century and Appleton manure spreader, McKinnon and Clinton wagons, Anchor and Velie buggies, Ohio and Kingman cultivators, stirring and gang plows, the open mould board sulky plows the lightest draft, Towers cultivators, Imperial and Challenge wind mills, hog fencing, barb wire, smooth wire gates, pumps and piping of all kinds, feed mills and the international gas engines from 1 to 40 H. P., Milwaukee mowers, binders, Dane hay loaders and buckers, nails and fence staples, wind mills and pump repairing on short notice, the sharpless cream separator the best made today, the Crack a-jack line of samples for tailor made suits.

In the Household—As Hygeno is regularly used by thousands as a household remedy, disinfectant, germicide and insecticide the greatest cleanliness is exercised in its manufacture. For sale here.

H. Lau & Son.

STYX NO. 24964.

The imported stallion STYX is a jet black free from white and weighs over 2000 lbs. as a eight year-old.

Sired by Gerfaut 2d Reg. No. 2538 and he by Hercule No. 2522 Dam Wanne d'Ap No. 38165 and she by Marie No. 4523.

This horse was shipped from Brussels, Oct. 15, 1903 by the Livermore Horse Importing Co. of Livermore, Iowa

Will make the season at the following places:

Frank Glanville on Monday and Tuesday.
G. O. Miner on Tuesday and Wednesday.
W. S. Glanville on Thursday.
C. L. Yahnke Livery Barn Friday and Saturday.

TERMS—To insure a live colt to stand up and suck $15.

M. Palmby, J. E. Johnson,

Owners.

A. Kirkwood, Manager.

RHEUMATISM

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's liniment is all that is needed and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicines usually given internally for rhenmatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. The are worse than usual in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For sale by G A Pabst & Co.

C. H. Williams, traveling salesman for the Comstock Cigar Mfg. Co. of Clear Lake, Iowa. was in our city Tuesday introducing a very choice line of cigars. This tobacco is grown at Clear Lake and manufactured there. Mr. Comstock was formerly a tobacco grower in Wisconsin but of late years is introducing his tobacco in this part of the state which is giving the best of satisfaction. His "Washington" brand may be procured at either G. A. Pabst & Co. drug store or G. W. Kluckhohn's store. Give them a trial, they are a free and easy smoker and the quality is there.

SWEPT OVER NIAGRA

The terrible calamity often happens because a careless boatman ignores the river's warnings growing ripples and faster current. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape fatal maladies—dropsy, diabetes or brights disease. Take Electric bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. After long suffering from weak kidneys and back one $1 00 bottle wholly cured me, writes J R Blackenship of Belk, Tenn. Only 50 at G A Pabst & Co.

RENEWALS.

Following is the roll of honor of subscribers who renewed on the Times the past week:

Chris. Lau, East Elkport, Ia.
Henry Runge,	Garner
J. W. Haefner,	Garner
Ira Robbins,	Garner
H. Priebe,	Klemme
A. Kirkwood,	Klemme
A. Kelly,	Garner
Mrs. L J. Stiehl, Hay Springs Neb.
Harve Allen,	Klemme
C. W. Stiehl	"
Wm. Baack,	"
Dr. Geo. Zinn,	"
G. W. Kluckhohn,	"

WORDS TO FREEZE THE SOUL

Your son has consumption. His case is hopeless. These appaling words were spoken to Geo. E Blevens a leading merchant of Springfield. N C by two expert doctors—one a lung specialist. Then was shown the wonderful power of Dr. King's new discovery. After three weeks use, writes Mr. Blevens he was as well as ever. I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for my boy. Infallible for coughs and colds its the safest, surest cure of desperate lung diseases on earth. 50c and $1.00. Guarantee satifaction. Trial bottle free. G. A. Pabst & Co.

Able to Operate on Lungs.

A German physician, by means of a glass cabinet with a partial vacuum, has solved the problem of operating on the lungs. He probably has paved the way to successful surgery in cases of internal cancer, and possibly of consumption where the lung tissue is affected. By the use of his cabinet the patient, it is said, can breathe easily with the chest cavity open and without danger of collapse of the lungs, which has been the danger hitherto, owing to atmospheric pressure. After the surgeon and his assistants have taken their place inside this cabinet the subject is placed upon the operating table and his head allowed to project through a tight-fitting rubber collar in the wall of the cabinet. By means of a suction pump the air inside is then reduced to negative pressure.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

Whose got the

BUTTON

?

We have the BUTTON MACHINE. You need the cloth covered buttons to trim your dress or suit. Bring us the cloth or tend it, watch us do the rest—all sizes.

15c 20c 25c per doz.

NEW

- Laces
- Embroideries
- Nets for Waists
- All-over-lace
- Corset Cover
- Wash Belts

Wide Rushing in white, black and tan.

Fancy Summer Dress Goods

Ready to wear garments

Good material—good sewing
It's cheaper to buy them than to make them.

96	Shirt waists	75c to $4.50
	Kimonas	1.25
	Dressing sague	50c
	Petticoats	95c to 3.50
	Wrappers	75c to 1.50
	Aprons	50c to 75c
	Muslin Underwear

Our GOLDEN BROWN OXFORDS for Ladies are IT.

Arthur Wellemeyer.

Where your Dollar does its duty.

RESTAURANT

AND

LUNCH ROOM

WANTED BOARDERS

BY THE WEEK.

A. KIRKWOOD & SON

MILLINERY ANNOUNCEMENT

WE

Have the largest and finest display of Spring Millinery ever sho has excited more admiration and attention than any we ever had.

We have some of the most beautiful and striking effects in Pat Hats, Trimmed Hats and Childrens headwear. The latest in R Rolls also a fine line of the best ladies Corsets. We have quite assortment of the latest ladies waists, and a fine line of Collars, R hes and Belts.

Our Trimmer is an experienced one who will be sure to please.

MRS. J. JOSTE

HE KLEMME TIMES

C. H. MANN & Co.
H. MANN, Editor and Manager.

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

scription price $1.00 per year in advance.

ered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

als 5 cents per line each insertion. play advertising 10 cents per inch. play advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

ertising accounts due on the last blication day of each month. Job ork cash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

rn	50 to 54c
ts	45 to 49c
heat	90 to 100
rley	55 to60 c
y	3 00 to 6.00
gs	5.00 to 5.90
ttle	1.50 to 5.85

LOCAL NEWS

Read Wellemeyer's ad.

Read the Times ad on 1st page.

My Bank Book title of ad. for te Savings Bank.

Miss Gertrude Parker visited ends at Goodell last week re ning Saturday.

Frank Schuldt, Garner's im ement and machine dealer, ove to Klemme Tuesday.

I have just added to my stock ice line of Lace Curtains at up to $6.00 a pair at G. F. huler's. tf

The first of this week started with pleasant weather and e farmers and everybody else getting busy.

Bobbie Carr is getting to be expert on the clarionette is also developing great uscle rolling nigger heads.

Our Black Smith's are getting the front while we have got c of them in our good little wn. One is intending to get Auto while the other has got n selt a Jack. It appears that e latter can get through the d where an Auto might fail.

Permanently relieves constiion and indigestion. Regules the bowels, builds up waste sue. Makes pure blood. You ow strong, healthy and robust llister's Rocky Mountain Tea e safest, nicest Spring tonic cents. G. A. Pabst & Co.

If you think of buying a rug will pay you to look over my ock which consists of Wilton elvets. Axminsters, Saxony xminsters, Colonial Velvets d Brussels made in sizes 6 x 9, x 3, 10 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. ours for rugs G. F. Schuler.

C W. Stiehl and Chas. Velau e putting in a tile drain from eir residence leading to the st main tile drain. Louis de, Chas. Kluckhohn and the ove named gentlemen are ing the work. As Velau and iehl are of fair large avoirdupois weight, Velau can only anage to get two spades down, hile Stiehl can only venture to et one spade down. What a lamity there would be if both harlies would loose their foot old and fall into the entire pth of the ditch a block and ckle would surely be needed r their rescue.

A new ad. for the State Savings Bank.

The old maid butts in at the Union Depot, May 7th.

Misses Esther and Nellie Lau were Garner visitors Monday.

Wednesday we had a strong southeast wind with a drizzly cold rain.

P. M. Griesemer and Dr. Missman were transacting business at Garner Monday.

Forty passenger trains leave the Union Depot in the Garner Opera House. May 7th.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Our residence property in Garner.

Mrs. L. Mann.

The dutchman wants a special train for $2 00. Union Depot, Garner Opera House, May 7th.

Rev. F. H. Wellemeyer of Charles City, visited the first of this week with his son Arthur and family.

C. J. Kraus who has been afflicted with rheumatism all winter, is able to be about some these warm days.

Mrs. G. R. Waterman and children visited with Charles Behrens and family at Garner last week Saturday.

The Josten millinery store is undergoing some repairs in the front. Harve Allen and Thed Henschen are doing the work.

WANTED—Having leased the Schroeder pasture, I will be in a position to pasture your stock the coming season.

36tf Fred C. Griewe.

Builds up your whole body. Regulates the bowels. clears the blood, aids digestion, makes you well from head to feet. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do, greatest spring regulator. Tea or Tablets, 35 cents. G. A. Pabst & Co.

Mr. W. T. Georg arrived from Minneapolis last week Saturday for a visit with his mother and other relatives. He is a member of one of the Minneapolis fire companies, having served the past sixteen years. We acknowledged a pleasant call.

GRACE: Pimples, blotches rough, shiny skin are from the blood and stomach. A simple and never failing remedy—one that makes clear, healthy complexions, pure blood, perfect digestion, is Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Surprise yourself. Tea or tablets 35 cents. G. A Pabst & Co.

Friday evening May 7th, the ladies of the Recital Club of Garner will give a unique entertainment at the Garner Opera House entitled "A Day in the Union Depot." The play depicts the incidents and scenes enacted daily in the big union depots of our large cities and is extremely funny. No one who can possible go can afford to miss it.

German M. E. Church Items

Mrs. H. Brockmeyer left for her home in Colesburg Tuesday.

Geo. Gruetzmacher filled the pulpit in Klemme Sunday evening

Mrs. Louis Sampson returned Tuesday from her visit to Clayton County.

The English services in Germantown were well attended last Sunday night.

Mother Gruetzmacher and Mrs. Jno. Gruetzmacher were Garner caller last Saturday.

A number of Klemme young people attended the services in Germantown Sunday evening.

Mother Kraus was able to be in church again last Sunday after being confined to the house several weeks.

Charley Lenz returned from Mason City last Saturday. He may decide to locate in Klemme we are informed.

Rev. F. H. Wellemyer arrived in town Monday afternoon and went out ont his farm in German township the next day. returnig Thursday.

William Georg arrived from Minneapolis last Saturday to visit his aged mother. Mr. Georg has been on the fire department in the twin city for a number of years.

W. V. Schlung of Dubuque will be in Klemme the latter part of this week to tune pianos, repair organs and clean clocks. He guarantees his work and his prices are reasonable.

The writer has, in the past twenty years performed many marriage ceremonies under various kinds of circumstances, but the one he was called upon to solemnize last Saturday night was something out of the ordinary. On a bed lay the groom, seemingly at death's door. At the bed side stood the bride in tears bending over the sick form. Every one in tears moved about as quietly as possible and spoke in the room only in subdued tones. The preacher placed the sick man's hand in the hand of the bride and holding both in his own, spoke the words which made John Brehmann and Anna Hanson husband and wife. Both were deeply moved and it was, without a doubt, the most solemn marriage we ever performed. As the groom is some better at this writing, we sincerely hope that their marriage may end as bright and happy as it began gloomy and sad.

The lecture Tuesday evening was well attended and we think enjoyed by all. The speaker was well supported by his enthusiastic audience. One man alone made movements enough to enliven the drowsiest speaker. Mr. Adams is a whirlwind with nouns and adjectives. He has a well supplied vocabulary and fires them like a gatling gun. He said a great many good, true and wholesome things. It is true our thoughts have a powerful influence over us for good or evil. But one would conclude from Mr. Adams lecture that to think was all. Think bad things and you become bad, think good things and you become good. We all know this is not true. Man is all matter, man has a soul as the speaker admitted. It is not in the chamber of the brain where the change is wrought but in the heart Paul says: With the heart man believeth." There is a divine faculty in the human heart to receive these impressions from the out side world and these thoughts only develop this inner life. If there is a little devil in man he naturally inclines and craves for unclean low and degrading things which feed and develop this evil spirit. If the God-life is established in the heart it is natural to feed on clean, enabling thoughts. This Mr. Adams failed to bring out.

Reminisence.

Is the old Castle which towers far above the city like a guardian angel keeping watch. The forest on the hillside is threaded with countless paths completely sheltered from the sun, all winding up the steep incline to the castle. The banks and boulders on either side of the path look wild and romantic, frequently interlined by half running arches crowded with luxurient wild flowers and caressed by the clinging fingers of hundreds of vines. We were informed that in early spring time the scene is still more beautiful. Passing through the huge gate of the massive wall, which incloses the grounds. The first glimpse almost makes one shudder. A feeling of lonliness creeps over one passing in the deep shadow of the wooded hillside. There are plenty guides who offer us their services for a mark. They tell us we will loose ourselves without their aid, but we are Americans with a spirit of independence. If ever we did loose our selves we always found our selves again

We pass through the great court yard to the south wall which gives us a magnificent view. At our feet rolls the river like a flood of silver to the Rhine not many miles away. The great forests all about us are like a beautiful rug of deepest green. As the morning sun lights up the valley the situation is glorious. The castle is not one building, but a number of buildings joined together forming one great circle and offering a display in variety of architecture. Each portion of the building differs in style and finish from its neighbor. The reason for this is that it was not the work of one architect or of one age, but rather a series of old palaces erected by various princes through 300 years. The great round tower is unique. We climbed up the 116 steps and took a snap-shot. We can not take the space to describe each building nor speak of the underground passages or the blasted tower. Perhaps the most impressive part is the old court in which may be seen the sculptered kings and warriors which seem like living beings gathered here to speak of the old times when these grand halls were filled with valient knights, sweet voiced minstrals and great men of history We thought of the scripture passage: "And the world passeth away and the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever."

Read ad. of State Savings Bank.

PAY UP—All those owing me on book account in 1908 are requested to make settlemement by May 1, 1909. F. H. Ridder.

The relatives who attended the Mrs. Yahnke funeral at Buffalo Center from here were: M. Palmby and wife, C L. Yahnke and wife, Mrs. R. Elder, Henry Yahnke, E. G. Ell and wife, Wm. Fuller and wife.

Since the Kirkwood restaurant and bakery store have opened up here, they have realized a nice business. They are keeping a neat and tidy store. Their restaurant goods are fresh and their bakery goods are home made and unexcelled.

I'D RATHER DIE, DOCTOR

than have my feet cut off, said M L Bingham of Princeville, Ill. but you'll die from gangreen which had eaten away eight toes. If you don't said all doctors. Instead he used Bucklen's arnica salve till wholly cured. Its cures of eczema, fever sores, boils, burns and piles astound the world. 25 cts. at G A Pabst & Co.

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to night calls.

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.
Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in.

Items for Travelers

Have you read the wonderful stories of success in the Gulf Coast Country of Texas? Send for our pamphlet.

$30 to $35 will take you to principal points in the Southwest and return. Tickets sold first and third Tuesdays of each month.

When traveling to and from Colorado use the best! "The Rocky Mountain Limited."

Hundreds of people are going to California on the Golden State Limited. Why not you?

Mr. Jno G. Farmer, D. P. A., Cedar Rapids, will gladly inform you about any trip you may consider taking. Remember, I sell tickets.

Rock Island

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

WHAT COLORS SHALL I USE?

This Question Is Important in Painting a House or Other Building.

A proper color scheme is extremely important in painting a house. It makes all the difference between a really attractive home and one at which you wouldn't take a second glance. And it makes a big difference in the price the property will bring on the market.

As to the exterior, a good deal depends upon the size and architecture of the house, and upon its surroundings. For a good interior effect you must consider the size of the rooms, the light, etc.

You can avoid disappointment by studying the books of color schemes for both exterior and interior painting, which can be had free by writing National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Building, New York, and asking for Houseowner's Painting Outfit No. 49. The outfit also includes specifications, and a simple instrument for testing the purity of paint materials. Pure White Lead which will stand the test in this outfit will stand the weather test. National Lead Company's famous Dutch Boy Painter trademark on the keg is a guarantee of that kind of white lead.

ANOTHER BORING QUESTION.

"I say, pa, is a man from Poland called a Pole?"

"Yes, my son."

"Then, pa, why isn't a man from Holland called a Hole?"

CURED ITCHING HUMOR.

Big, Painful Swellings Broke and Did Not Heal—Suffered 3 Years.

Tortures Yield to Cuticura.

"Little black swellings were scattered over my face and neck and they would leave little black scars that would itch so I couldn't keep from scratching them. Larger swellings would appear and my clothes would stick to the sores. I went to a doctor, but the trouble only got worse. By this time it was all over my arms and the upper part of my body in swellings as large as a dollar. It was so painful that I could not bear to lie on my back. The second doctor stopped the swellings, but when they broke the places would not heal. I bought a set of the Cuticura Remedies and in less than a week some of the places were nearly well. I continued until I had used three sets, and now I am sound and well. The disease lasted three years. O. L. Wilson, Puryear, Tenn., Feb. 8, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

A DOUBLE EVENT.

Mrs. Highfly—And has she really got two servants?

Mrs. Flutter—Yes—one coming and one going.

DAILY AND SUNDAY FOR ONLY $1.00.

The Des Moines News, Daily and Sunday six full months for only $1.00. This trial offer should appeal to the reading public. Send in your one dollar bill to-day.

The Reverend and the Irreverent.

Bishop Doane of Albany, N. Y., who wears a shovel hat and leggings and is accused of signing himself "William of Albany," was a guest at dinner where the irreverent Dr. Hosmer was also dining.

They sat down. "I suppose," said the bishop, "that I shall ask grace."

"But why, my dear bishop," interposed Hosmer; "why talk shop at the table?"—Saturday Evening Post.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

When Love Is Young.

Mabel—Who was the best man at your wedding?

Ethel—Why, my husband, of course.

Chew WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT—promote saliva—release mint leaf juice—Fine for digestion!

In one year the escapement wheel of a watch makes 731,860 revolutions.

IS BARRED IN IOWA

Lodges and Organizations Cannot Wear Khaki

MILITARY BILL IS SWEEPING

Lodges May Wear Their Uniforms in Halls, But Not on the Streets. New State Law.

Des Moines, Ia., April 24.—No more wearing of uniforms on the streets, without being a member of a military organization.

Last winter, when Moore of Wapello introduced this bill in the house it created such a furore that it was quickly withdrawn. It had as its sponsor some of the officers at Fort Des Moines, who had become disgusted by the sale of soldier's effects to Des Moines young men.

It has developed that the same bill has been made a part of the military laws of the state in the big military bill passed. It provides a fine of from $50 to $100 for the wearing of either the real articles of soldier wear, or uniforms similar to this, unless the wearer is a member of the regular army, the state militia, or a military school.

A special provision is made that lodge members may wear similar uniforms in their hall drills, but this does not allow them to appear on the streets.

No one noticed this provision in the bill when it appeared in the large measure re-organizing the state guard, and it passed both houses of the legislature without a protest.

VACANCY STILL REMAINS OPEN

Board Considers the Abandonment of Position Held by the Late Mary Whitcomb.

It is reported at the state house that the state library board may not name a successor to the late Mary Whitcomb, who had charge of the library books in the west wing of the historical building prior to her death a few days ago. This department is known as the "genealogical department" and contains books on family trees, etc. The idea is said to be that there is enough room in the east section of the library to remove the "genealogical department" across the hall, put it under the direct supervision of Mr. Brigham and thus remove the necessity for anyone in Miss Whitcomb's place. The salary accorded Miss Whitcomb was $1,200 yearly.

The library board, which is composed of the judges of the supreme court, state superintendent and a couple of other state officials, expects to meet this week to take some definite action upon the vacancy.

Will Trace Corporations.

Approximately $4,000 in postage and clerks' hire is to be spent by Secretary of State Hayward within the next six months in finding out how many corporations are actually doing business in Iowa and what companies have gone out of business since articles of incorporation were filed at the secretary's office. The expense will be borne by the corporations themselves, which, under a law passed by the Thirty-third general assembly, are required to pay an annual $1 fee to the state. Since the office of secretary of state was established about 16,000 corporations have filed articles, and no one knows how many of these are still in existence.

Examine Doctors.

Examinations will be held by the medical examiners of state at the capitol building, June 1, 2 and 3, and for three days beginning June 22. The first examination is for Des Moines medical students, while the second will be to accommodate the students of eastern colleges who do not get out of school until after the middle of the month.

Insurance Tax Helps Treasury.

During the first three months of the year Auditor Bleakley collected the insurance taxes and fees and turned them over to the state treasury. They aggregate $361,880.02, of which $44,405. 17 were fees for certificates and examinations. This is the largest collection on record.

Must Compile Report.

Every two years on the September prior to the convening of the legislature, the executive council must compile a complete report showing all expenditures, amounts paid out for every possible expense, printing, supplies, fees, per diem, etc., which will be ready for the legislators when the assembly convenes.

NEW BOARD IS NOW DIVIDED

Resolution Adopted by New Board Invites the Old Boards to Offer Advice and Assistance

Des Moines, Ia., April 22.—After electing James H. Trewin of Cedar Rapids president and appointing a committee of three to visit and become familiar with each of the three state schools, Iowa's new board of education closed its first meeting at the state house, without electing a finance committee and adjourned until May 12, when the members will meet with the board of regents of the state university at Iowa City.

Immediately following the Iowa City joint session the new board will go to Cedar Falls and then to Ames to hold similar joint sessions with the trustees of the state normal school and the state college. A resolution was adopted to the effect that the board will welcome advice and help from the three separate boards which it will supplant.

Three members of the board of nine will visit each of the three schools and devote considerable time to becoming familiar with the details of administration. This was decided upon as the best means of preparing the board as a whole for an intelligent discharge of its duties after July 1, when it first comes into official existence. Visiting committees were named as follows:

For the state university—James H. Trewin, P. K. Holbrook, A. B. Funk.

For the state college—T. D. Foster, E. P. Schoentgen and C. R. Brenton.

For the state teachers' college—D. D. Murphy, G. T. Baker, Roger Leavitt.

Treasurer Can Collect Fees.

Under the laws of the state of Iowa the county treasurer may charge a fee of from 30 to 50 cents for receiving and answering payments of taxes through the mails. There seems to be an impression abroad that the county treasurer can not charge such fees, but this is incorrect and the law especially provides a minimum fee of 30 cents. It has been the practice in this county, and in fact in all counties in the state, to make the charge. The object of the law was to provide for the extra expense entailed in the clerical work necessary to handle the payment of taxes made by non-residents.

Buildings to Cost $100,000.

State Architect Liebbe and his assistant, B. F. Egbert, at the state house are completing plans for new state structures which will cost about $100,000.

The boy's custodial building at Glenwood, to cost $40,000, is to be commenced as soon as the contract is let on May 5.

At Oakdale, the seat of the State Tuberculosis hospital, many improvements are to be made. A new $5,000 residence for the superintendent is to be the first building erected. Then there are to be twenty cottages for the patients, to cost $1,000 each. A big building for the helpers and nurses is being designed to cost when completed $20,000. The plans contemplate a system of water works which will cost $1,000.

Affects Cigarette Smokers.

"It shall be unlawful," says the Proudfoot act, "for any person under 21 years of age to smoke or use a cigarette or cigarettes on the premises of another or on any public road, street alley or park or other land used for public purposes or in any place of business or amusement, except when in company of his parent or guardian." Under the new law boys under 21 years of age may be arrested for smoking cigarettes in almost any place except their own homes, unless accompanied by their guardians or parents. The bill was introduced by Senator Proudfoot by request, and the Iowa Anti-Saloon league intends to see it enforced.

Much Merit in New Law.

State Labor Commissioner Van Dyne says that the new child labor law, passed by the recent legislature will prove of more benefit to his department than any other enactment of the legislature. The amendment which the legislature added was backed by Representative Holmes. It forces the employer of labor to have always on hand a certificate of the proper age of any juvenile employes so that when the labor inspector comes around, he may be satisfied at once that the child labor law is not being violated.

Secretary of State Busy.

Bills which went to the secretary of state with Governor Carroll's signature are the omnibus appropriation bill, the joint resolution for expenses of state offices, the drainage bill, the Peterson-Lee amendment to the primary law and the bill permitting school bonds for East Des Moines to run for twenty years.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female ills, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."
EMMA DRAPER.

Another Operation Avoided.

Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."—Mrs. ALVENA SPERLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

FITS

If you suffer from Fits, Falling Sickness, Spasms or have children or friends that do so, my New Discovery will relieve them, and all you are asked to do is send for a FREE Bottle of

Dr. May's Epilepticide Cure.

It has cured thousands where everything else failed. Sent free with directions. Express Prepaid. Guaranteed by May Medical Laboratory, under the National Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906. Guaranty No. 18971. Please give AGE and full address.

DR. W. H. MAY,
548 Pearl Street, New York City.

A Time Mix-Up.

Author—What kind of a play has the best chance now of acceptance?

Manager—The one with a future is that of the lady with a past at present.

Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes Relieved by Murine Eye Remedy. Compounded by Experienced Physicians. Murine Doesn't Smart; Soothes Eye Pain. Write Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago, for illustrated Eye Book. At Druggists.

Vast Area for Trees.

England has 17,000,000 acres of land available for forestation.

Gleaming teeth! The more WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT you chew, the fewer dentist's bills you pay!

A brother is a mirror that never flatters.

Have you Rheumatism or any Ache or Pain? Try A-B-C LINIMENT The Best for Man or Beast.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT THE FLAVOR LASTS

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 18--1909.

Des Moines Directory

TEXAS PANHANDLE LAND. Go with us to Dalhart, Texas. Private car leaves Des Moines 1st and 3rd Tuesdays of each month. Write us for text books. ROYAL LAND CO., 261 Commercial Bldg., Des Moines, Iowa.

The Keeley Cure Des Moines Iowa
CURES LIQUOR, DRUG AND TOBACCO HABITS
706 WEST FOURTH ST. Write NOW for Our Free Illustrated Booklet

Paxtine
TOILET ANTISEPTIC

—NOTHING LIKE IT FOR—

THE TEETH Paxtine excels any dentifrice in cleansing, whitening and removing tartar from the teeth, besides destroying all germs of decay and disease which ordinary tooth preparations cannot do.

THE MOUTH Paxtine used as a mouth wash disinfects the mouth and throat, purifies the breath, and kills the germs which collect in the mouth, causing sore gums, bad teeth, bad breath, grippe, and much sickness.

THE EYES when inflamed, tired, weak and burn, may be instantly relieved and strengthened by Paxtine.

CATARRH Paxtine will destroy the germs that cause catarrh, heal the inflammation and stop the discharge. It is a positive remedy for uterine catarrh.

Paxtine is a harmless yet powerful germicide, disinfectant and deodorizer. Used in bathing it destroys odors and leaves the body antiseptically clean.

FOR SALE AT DRUG STORES, 50c. OR POSTPAID BY MAIL.

LARGE SAMPLE FREE!

THE PAXTON TOILET CO., BOSTON, MASS.

WRIGLEY'S

320 Acres of Wheat Land IN WESTERN CANADA

WILL MAKE YOU RICH

Fifty bushels of wheat per acre have been grown. General average greater than in any other part of the continent. Under new regulations it is possible to secure a homestead of 160 acres free, and additional 160 acres at $3 per acre.

"The development of the country has made marvelous strides. It is a revelation, a record of conquest by settlement that is remarkable."—Extract from correspondence of a National Editor, who visited Canada in August last.

The grain crop of 1908 will net many farmers $20.00 to $25.00 per acre. Grain raising, mixed farming and dairying are the principal industries. Climate is excellent; social conditions the best; railway advantages unequalled; schools, churches and markets close at hand. Land may also be purchased from railway and land companies.

For "Last Best West" pamphlets, maps and information as to how to secure lowest railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.
W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

WHAT'S Your Health Worth?

You start sickness by mistreating nature and it generally shows first in the bowels and liver. A 10c box (week's treatment) of CASCARETS will help nature help you. They will do more—using them regularly as you need them—than any medicine on Earth. Get a box today, take a CASCARET tonight. Better in the morning. It's the result that makes millions take them.

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment, all druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month.

FREE

THIS IS WORTH $5.00 TO YOU

To the first 100 people clipping this advertisement, we will, starting April 20th, sell to each person, one and not more than two lots in Berkely Park, Tacoma's beautiful suburb, for $15.00 each, and this coupon, payable $5 cash per lot, and $5 per month without interest. Lots are level, soil very fertile. Located close to junction of four railroads, depot on property. We give you warranty deed and abstract, pay taxes to pay until 1911. Railroads are spending millions in Tacoma. Every lot worth more. Remember a limit of two lots to each person. Clip it now. Remit to us direct or if you prefer send money to Pacific National Bank. Milwaukee Investment Co., 318 California Bldg., Tacoma, Wash.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT PEPSIN GUM

6% QUARTERLY

We pay interest every three months at the rate of six per cent. yearly. Our investments are all in mortgages on New York City real estate. Twenty years' experience in New York real estate. Principal and interest guaranteed. Communications confidential. Write:

Liberty Financial & Security Co.
CITY INVESTING BUILDING, NEW YORK CITY

Moving West?

Reduced rates on household goods in through cars to all points.

Blue Line Transfer & Storage Co.
202 Fifth St., Des Moines, Ia.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

THE GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR
Used by More Than Two Million Men
NO STROPPING NO HONING
TRADE Gillette MARK
KNOWN THE WORLD OVER

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

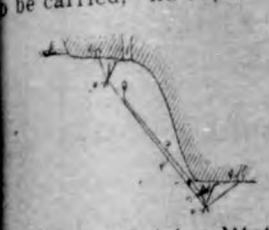
WRIGLEY WRIGLEY WRIGLEY

ROAD AND FARM IMPROVEMENT

ING WATER FROM STREAM

Plan for Getting Water from Stream to High Bluff Above with Little Work.

solution of a serious problem of g water to a bluff 120 feet above ning stream is given by Mr. J. tterson of Washington. There o springs on his farm, except e water's edge. "All the water be carried," he says.



Device for Raising Water.

ug a well, to tap one of these s near the river, g, and rigged e device for drawing water as in the cut. I set up two sets kes as shown at a.

er one I ran a wire from top of down to and over the other. The nds of the wire are fastened sts or deadmen in anchor beds The wire was stretched taut lowing the stakes to lay away permanent point of erection unchors were secured, when they raised up and against the wire d. hen rigged a windlass, e, at the f the hill, over which was run e, e, holding the bucket which astened to trolley, d, by a subal pulley. The rope passes gh a second pulley suspended trolley at c. A block is secured e trolley, d, so that when the in descending strikes the block cket will pull the rope through nder pulley and so lowers into all. In raising the bucket will to top and strike pulley before ckle starts to top."

P GATE FROM SAGGING.

dy to Prevent Gate from Getting Out of Proper Position.

t farm gates are heavy, and aflittle time they sag. When they is way it takes a strong man en and shut one. Here is a y. Get a wheel, either big or se for an Old Plow Wheel.

from an old piece of ma-, and bolt it to the front end gate in such a way that the will be held level. Now the st child can open the gate for Try it, for it is a saver—saves patience, your back, and the ot make the error of supposing ime is a manure. Lime will n acid soil and will promote the ation of organic matter in the nd will release mineral plant it. But in truck growing lime be used with caution, as some bles are injured by it. Where s a large amount of humus in ll from a long application of e it may be well to harrow in bushels of slacked lime an acre lowing the land for crops.

The Use of Lime.

A HOME MADE GREENHOUSE.

How to Grow a Cheap Small One That Will Grow Vigorous Plants.

Examine the accompanying plans carefully. Elevation shows walls and roof supports. Paint all the woodwork before erecting.

The posts are of five-inch round cedar, set below grade about three feet and tamped with concrete. These posts should be set between five and six feet apart, according to size of the house wanted and the length of lumber you intend to use for siding.

Now put on the plate; and measure down the depth of the side glass and put the glass sill on. The siding should be double with good water proof paper between.

Next put up the ridge and rafters. Be sure to allow one-eighth inch for the glass to play—in the glass groove or rebate; then put on the vent sash and headers (see cross-section showing post in concrete, siding, glass sill, plate, header, vent and sash).

Home-Made Greenhouse.

Separate hotbed sash should be on the south side of the building, if possible; they are of great assistance to the greenhouse.

The ground plan shows the benches and walk arrangement; also heater, potting and workroom.

Sectional view of bench shows posts set in ground eight inches with a 2x4 across top, and 1x6's on the sides and bottom of bench.

The heating plant should be a sectional hot water boiler; you can then increase the capacity of the boiler by additional sections at any time you may wish to enlarge the greenhouse.

With the aid of plans here given, any local carpenter, or any man handy with tools, should be able to erect a satisfactory greenhouse. Probably your local lumberman or planing-mill can furnish the desired materials, and your hardware man or plumber can furnish the boiler and piping. The necessary glass, glass points, putty or mastica, etc., are easily obtainable in almost any town.—Farm Journal.

BRACING STRAINED POSTS.

A Plan Is Given Below for Strengthening Corner Posts When Weakened.

Where a heavy strain comes upon a corner post, an arrangement such as shown in the cut will be found useful. Place two posts solidly in the ground, slanting toward each other, and fasten the tops together securely by a bolt or by winding them with wire. To these attach a wire, the other end of which may be buried in the ground. If the stone is firmly secured, these posts will resist all pressure from the wires.

A Post Braced.

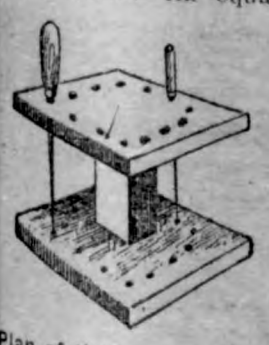
"Nothing venture nothing have" is generally true, but it doesn't apply to trouble.

ORTABLE TOOL STAND.

for Making a Convenient Tool tand That Can Be Easily Moved.

make the convenient tool stand in the accompanying illustrase two boards about 12 or 16 square. Three boards are fassecurely on each end of a square r centerpiece. An equal num-



Plan of the Small Stand.

holes are bored in each board ive the tools as indicated. handle is placed in the center top board the stand can be used nch or on the floor as desired.

Build Good Driveways.

The building of a good driveway is largely a matter of common sense. Any proficient landscape engineer can make a good driveway—a perfect one, in fact. His difficulty lies in getting the consent of an estate owner to build it as it should be built, says a writer in the Country Gentleman. Men of wealth who willingly lavish any amount of money on some temporary amusement usually balk at the expense of a perfect driveway, although such a driveway would remain a permanent source of pleasure not only to them but to several generations of posterity after them. Besides, it would prove the most economical in actual dollars and cents during the lives of the builders.

There is no great mystery about it. The rudiments of road and driveway building are well known and only need be faithfully followed to produce perfect results.

Fluctuation in Tea Imports.

The importation of tea into the United States has ranged from $9,000,000 to $18,000,000 a year.

GREAT GUNNISON TUNNEL WILL ASTOUND MR. TAFT.

Montrose, Colo., April.—One of the most noteworthy events of President Taft's trip to the west will be his probable visit to the great Gunnison tunnel, which is rapidly nearing completion at this place. This great irrigation project will furnish water for 150,000 acres of the richest land in the world, and the people of Montrose and towns around are arranging a monster celebration in honor of the event. President Taft, the secretary of the interior and many other state and national notables will be invited. This celebration will give the people of the country an opportunity to see irrigated farming and its marvelous results. Exceedingly low rates will be made by the railroads. For any further information address The Bureau of Information, Gunnison tunnel opening celebration, Montrose, Colo.

The Serpent's Inducement.

Perhaps the serpent told Eve that apples were good for the complexion.

What's that clicking sound? Millions of white teeth—chewing fragrant WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT.

Of the 147,000,000 of Russia's population, 100,000,000 are peasants.

Interesting Facts

The only effective and reliable remedy known for Gout, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Kidney and Bladder troubles, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness and all disorder of the bowels is

DR. D. JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS

For several generations they have been a household necessity for relieving and curing complaints of this kind. They are safe and sure in every instance. As a laxative, purgative and cathartic they are unexcelled.

Sold by druggists everywhere in 25c and 10c boxes

YOU WON'T GET REAL JUICE

WRIGLEY'S OF REAL MINT LEAVES

UNLESS YOU GET THIS PACKAGE

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT PEPSIN GUM — THE FLAVOR LASTS

THE FLAVOR LASTS

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

This Trade-mark Eliminates All Uncertainty

in the purchase of paint materials. It is an absolute guarantee of purity and quality. For your own protection, see that it is on the side of every keg of white lead you buy.

NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY
1902 Trinity Building, New York

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

GREAT TREAT IN STORE FOR YOU—At Seattle

Rare opportunity for a liberal education will be the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle this summer. Nothing short of a visit to the great lumber-producing fields of the Northwest will ever give appreciation of the magnitude of the industry here, both in operations and timber growth. Many of the "wonders of Alaska" will be displayed. The Government will send the Pacific fleet to Seattle during the Fair, which in itself will be a notable exhibition, and Congress has appropriated $600,000 to give practical demonstrations in forestry, irrigation, dry-land farming and improved agricultural methods, and in fisheries and everything connected with the deep sea.

Best of all, you can study the effects of the Unit System of Ownership upon the greatest fortune maker of all—Seattle CENTRAL BUSINESS PROPERTY. Send me your address now; I'll give you some facts beforehand.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Seattle, Wash.

Moving Pictures Here to Stay

Invest Your Money in Moving Picture Theatres. You Will Get Greater Returns from This Than from Any Other Investment

It pays big to amuse the public. It requires but a small investment to start and maintain a MOVING PICTURE THEATRE. It is a fact that most of these theatres pay 500% on their original investment in one year. FORTUNES are being made in this business on SMALL INVESTMENTS.

The STANDARD FILM EXCHANGE is one of the largest and most reliable companies who make a business of EQUIPPING THEATRES COMPLETELY. We handle everything that belongs to the business. We help you convert a store room or hall into a MOVING PICTURE THEATRE. We furnish CHAIRS, MACHINES, CURTAIN and SUPPLIES, and RENT YOU MOVING PICTURE FILMS and SONG SLIDES.

WRITE US FOR FULL DETAILS and ESTIMATES. We invite you to call at our offices, where every courtesy will be extended. Address us as follows:

Standard Film Exchange

Dept. 828, 79 Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois

Kindly mention this paper when writing.

HAMLINS WIZARD OIL — THE OIL THAT PENETRATES — GREAT FOR PAIN

Government Land Open to Settlement, May 22

Some of the richest and most productive farm lands in the world lies in the "Big Horn Basin" of Wyoming. THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT is spending seven million dollars in building great concrete dams and ditches in order to lead an inexhaustible supply of water to irrigate some of the best of these lands and make them independent of rainfall. A great portion of this work is completed and

The Government Now Offers the Land to You

You have the opportunity to get from the Government a wonderfully productive farm, with water whenever you want it, regardless of rainfall; in a country where a single crop can be made to pay for the land; where 50 bushels of wheat or barley, and 75 bushels of oats are commonly grown to the acre; where fruits grow luxuriantly and where the glorious air and sunshine, Summer and Winter, makes life a joyous thing. A Government representative will show you the land.

This wonderful country is developing fast. Churches and schools abound. The population is intelligent, God fearing and law abiding, and any man out there who is half a man has the opportunity to quickly make himself independent.

Land in this great country is going fast. If you have any thought for the welfare of yourself or children find out all about this offer from the United States Government.

We have government folders with maps and description of the rich lands you can have, and I will send you a copy free, and explain to you how easily and cheaply you can go out to that country and see for yourself what the government has done for you and yours.

Very low round trip rates on May 4 and 18 will give opportunity to inspect these lands before they are thrown open to settlement. $30.00 from Chicago, $32.50 from St. Louis, $27.50 from Kansas City, $27.50 from Omaha, $25.00 from Denver. Similar rates on subsequent dates.

Fill out the coupon and send it to me, or just write on a postal card and I will send you all the information. 5410

D. Clem Deaver,
68 Q Building, Omaha, Neb.

Send me Government folders and maps about Big Horn Basin farm lands.

Name _____

Address _____

State _____

Cut out this coupon and mail it today.

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery

FOR COUGHS COLDS — PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free

AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.

GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
437 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Torgasen, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York.

H. C. LAU

DEALER IN

Klemme - - Iowa

THE CHILDREN LIKE IT
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c.
Large size, 50c.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

THE ORIGINAL LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE HONEY AND TAR
Red Clover Blossom and Honey Tee on Every Bottle.

THE GIRL FROM THE COUNTRY.

Habit That Enabled Her Instantly to Be Singled Out.

Said a visitor to a teacher in a business college:

"That girl from the country seems to be the brightest student in the room."

At the request of the teacher she designated more particularly the girl she had in mind.

"Oh, yes," said the teacher, "she is very bright, but how did you know she is from the country? She doesn't look countrified."

"Her habit of washing her hands so often gave her away," said the visitor. "I have been sitting here about two hours. In that time she has washed her hands three times. No city girl would have done that; she would have sharpened pencils or turned over the dusty books, and simply have polished her hands on her pocket handkerchief and gone on working. The country girl would find it impossible to work under such conditions. She must have clean hands. All country people have a mania for washing their hands. After each task down go their hands into a basin of water. City life cures most country habits; frequent bathing of the hands is the last to go."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

Kodol for Dyspepsia
Digests what you eat.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

ENVELOPES TO SEND ABROAD

Made Now Lined with Thin Tissue Paper of Any Desired Color.

"Nice sorts of envelopes they have nowadays for foreign correspondents," said a girl who writes letters abroad. "You know the envelopes, like the letter sheets, are made of thin paper so that they won't weigh too much and increase the postage.

"With an envelope of thin, plain paper the writing on the letter might show through. So they came to make these envelopes of a paper that was printed on the inner side with close lines in a pretty plaid pattern that you couldn't see through and that served very well, but now you can buy foreign letter envelopes that are made opaque with a lining of the thinnest tissue paper of any desired color.

"Such envelopes you will find and with lining of various colors in stock, envelopes lined with blue or with red or purple or tan or violet, but if you don't find among these just what you want they will show you a book of tissues with samples of 50 or more colors or shades from which you can select first just the color you do fancy or the color you call your own and then you have the envelopes made to order."

DeWITT'S CARBOLIZED WITCH HAZEL SALVE For Piles, Burns, Sores.

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.

Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days to attend free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men. The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 40 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, MAY 6, 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

SHADOWS FADE WHEN YOU HAVE MONEY IN THE BANK.

PUT IT IN THE BANK FOR SAFETY

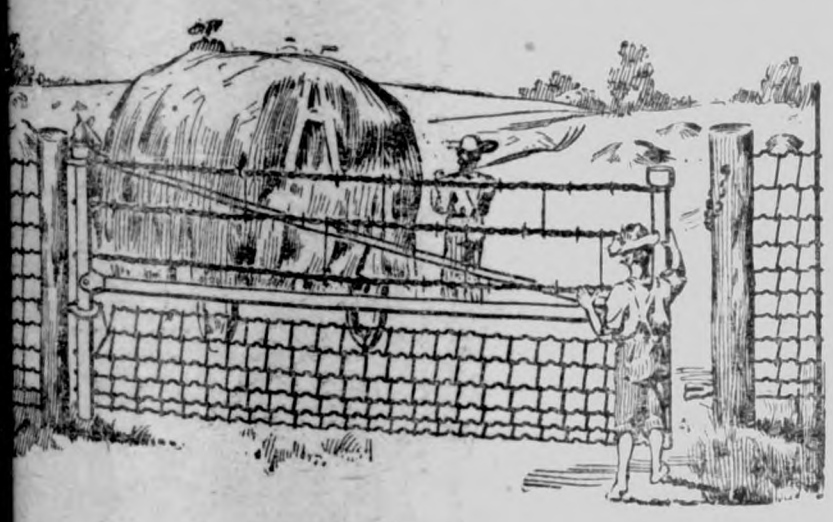
BE PREPARED

For the misfortunes that visit everyone at some time. Begin today to save some of the money you earn. In ten years you can have a little fortune. Is not this a duty you owe to yourself and to your family? ? ? ?

Remember we are here for your convenience and want you to use our facilities . . . .

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa



Iowa Gates are more than a convenience if women or children ever use them for being so simple they are very light and can easily be swung either way. The IOWA gate is made to last—no castings to break—no wearing parts—even the wires have galvanized stretchers to tighten them. Will not blow down, burn or rot out. Get prices.

C. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

How Do You Do?

After an absence of nearly seven years spent in different places of more or less importance (mostly less) the undersigned is back again at the helm and will hereafter control the destinies of the Klemme Times, having on May first purchased this paper from C. H. Mann & Co. We notice on our subscription list many familiar names, some new ones, and we are sorry to say, some of the old names are missing. Seven years is a short time we sometimes think, but still many changes are brought about in even such a short space of time. New faces are seen while some of the once familiar ones are missing, having moved on to different spheres of action or perhaps having been called to their Maker to render their final account. On the other hand, the old town looks familiar and home-like and we have had the pleasure of meeting many old friends and acquaintances, and we hope the pleasure was not one sided.

We are glad to note the many fine improvements that have been made in our little town, especially in the way of handsome residences which our people have erected in recent years. It is also good to note the fire protection which the town has provided. These things all speak well for the best little town in the state of Iowa.

We have returned to Klemme with the intention of making this town our home; of building up a business which will enable us to realize a fair remuneration for our labor, and to give the town a paper as good as lies in our power and one which may be a credit to the town. As to the policy of the paper, it is not necessary for us to make any long by explanations. Suffice it to say that we believe in a square deal for everybody and equal rights for all. We will play no favorites. Our desire is to get out a newsy paper. We want all the news that's fit to print and we hope there wont be any other kind. If you know any news items, kindly bring or send them in.

All money due on subscription is now payable to the undersigned and we will fill out all unexpired subscriptions.

C. H. Mann & Co. have published the paper for nearly five years and Henry Mann, who has had charge, has many friends here who will wish him well wherever he may conclude to locate.

We hope that we may be able to please all our readers and patrons and ask for a continuation of your valued patronage. The Times will be found boosting for Klemme in every legitimate way all the time. Klemme is a good town, but let us not lose sight of any opportunity to make it better. This paper will always try to do its share. We trust that our business relations with our townspeople may be always pleasant and mutually profitable. Now is the time to subscribe.

ALLEN C. FLINT.

Good Bye.

With last week's issue of the Klemme Times we issued our last paper, having sold our interest and good will to Allen C. Flint, formerly editor of this paper.

During our five years here we have realized a nice patronage from the business men of Klemme and have also added a nice list of new subscribers.

We also appreciate the support we received from our correspondents and especially wish to mention Rev. G. H. Wessel with his regular columm of news.

Mr. A. C. Flint who is now at the helm is a competent printer and a genial good fellow and is deserving of your support.

Just where I will locate I have not yet decided, but expect to continue in the printing business. Wherever I may locate I will hold the people of Klemme in most pleasaant remembrance.

I will close by once more saying, good bye to the people of Klemme.

Yours very truly,

H. MANN.

OUR BUSINESS IS BANKING
BANKING IS OUR BUSINESS

The sign "Bank" does not make a bank and is often misleading. It requires time, energy, close attention to business, a substantial capital and ripe experience in banking to make a bank. We claim, without blushing, all essentials necessary to make our business that of banking, and tender our patrons a service thoroughly seasoned by years of experience, backed by substantial capital.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

YOU BUY Satisfaction

When you buy

Lowe Brothers' High Standard Paint

Spreads better, wont check or blister, colors are true, Beware of the "Just as good" as Lowe Brothers.

MARTIN SENOUR'S

School House Red for Barns

Put up in 1 gal. pails or 5 gal. kits. It covers most, spreads best, looks best, wears longest, gives best results

BRIGHTEN

Your Linoleum with Vernicol

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

The Klemme Times

O. H. Mann & Co., Pubs.
H. Mann, Ed. & Mgr.

Klemme, - - Iowa

Naples has lost Roosevelt, but it still has Vesuvius.

Yes, the wages of sin is death—and nine times out of ten it is paid to the woman.

The trouble with many of those fair agitators of pure food is that they are unwilling to cook it.

The news that the south pole is on a high plateau will excite no surprise. Poles are generally found on platforms.

A Boston woman is said "to have embraced 23 different religions," but it is not known how many of them she has practiced.

The needleless compass has been invented. The next thing on the program in logical order to be announced is the northless pole.

Twenty Prussian children under the age of 15 killed themselves because disappointed in love last year. Poor little rare-ripes!

Chicago butcher gets a $1,000 fine for making sausage of bad horseflesh Something must be done to improve the breed of horses.

Crown Prince George of Servia will probably be happier as a plain citizen in some democratic country than as king of a troublesome empire.

It may seem a little lonely for Cuba to proceed as a hard-working, business-like country instead of being an object of international concern.

A girl in a New York town, whom a young man of the place jilted, lost her speech too late for the false lover to realize what he had missed in chances for a happy marriage.

It appears to be a fact that the social whirl leads to more nervous prostration, melancholia and even suicide than hard work. And in this fact lies a moral which he who runs may read

Only about 314 miles of frozen wastes remain to be covered to bring the explorers to both poles. But every mile can be a fearful distance when men are at the extreme limit of their endurance.

The new emperor of China, with all the wealth and power of oriental despotism to be his, cries day and night for the nurse from whom he has been taken. Here is an anti-climax of human greatness!

The trouble with psychotheraphy in churches, according to the Rev. Dr Leighton Parks, is that it identifies health with salvation. On the other hand, it might be remarked that the trouble with the churches where psychotherapy is anathema is that they take too little heed of the welfare and happiness of their members this side the grave. Health and salvation are not necessarily inconsistent.

A man detained in New York under sentence of deportation has been promised leniency if he saws his way out of the detention jail, and is now working on the job. It may be all very well for officials to test thus the stoutness of their bars and the integrity of their employes, which happens to be involved, but to the community at large, whose interests are also involved, it seems a queer test to apply to undesirable citizens.

Los Angeles is slow in arriving at the conclusion that it endures an unjust burden in being compelled to care for consumptives who are shipped out there without sufficient means properly to care for themselves. Denver reached this conviction some time ago. Since the fact is becoming known that it is not climate so much as fresh air and plenty of nourishing food that builds up consumptives the rush of such sufferers to the west and south has received a desirable check.

Official figures give a grim picture of conditions that have prevailed in Russia up to a recent date. The police department of the empire reports that from January 1, 1905, to January 1 1909, there were 3,319 condemnations to death and 1,435 executions. No doubt there has been a great deal of turbulence and crime in Russia, but the statement contains more than a hint that in some instances at least the authorities have worked strenuously and mercilessly to punish political offenses.

If Diogenes had attended a suit in a New York court lately, he would have gasped with amazement, fainted with delight and then doused the glim of his lantern for all time, for that suit developed an honest man, the kind for whom Diogenes looked in vain and who, Shakespeare declared, was one picked out of 10,000. He was a plumber, who testified that after giving an estimate on work he cut down the bill because he found the work less than the estimate called for.

HER INFINITE VARIETY

by BRAND WHITLOCK

ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS

COPYRIGHT 1907 BY BOBBS-MERRILL CO.

CHAPTER I.

Amelia came running eagerly down the wide stairs, and though she was smiling with the joy of Vernon's coming, she stopped on the bottom step long enough to shake out the skirt of the new spring gown she wore, with a manner that told she had it on that evening for the first time. Vernon hastened to meet her, and it was not until he had kissed her and released her from his embrace that she saw the dressing-case he had set down in the hall.

"What's that for?" she asked in alarm. Her smile faded suddenly, leaving her face wholly serious.

"I have to go back to-night," he replied, almost guiltily.

"To-night!"

"Yes; I must be in Springfield in the morning."

"But what about the dinner?"

"Well," he began, helplessly, "I guess you'll have to get somebody in my place."

Amelia stopped and looked at him in amazement.

"I thought the senate never met Mondays until five o'clock in the afternoon?" she said.

"It doesn't, usually; but I had a telegram from Porter an hour ago; there's to be a conference in the morning."

They started toward the drawing room. Amelia was pouting in her disappointment.

"I knew something would spoil it," she said, fatalistically. And then she added, presently: "I thought that Monday afternoon session never lasted longer than a minute. You never went down before until Monday night."

"I know, dear," said Vernon, apologetically, "but now that the session is nearing its close, we're busier than we have been."

"Can't you wire Mr. Porter and get him to let you off?" she asked.

Vernon laughed.

"He isn't my master," he replied.

"Well, he acts like it," she retorted, and then as if she had suddenly hit upon an unanswerable argument she went on: "If that's so why do you pay any attention to his telegram?"

"It isn't he, dear," Vernon explained, "it's the party. We are to have a very important conference to consider a situation that has just arisen. I must not miss it."

"Well, it ruins my dinner, that's all," she said, helplessly. "I wanted you here."

Vernon had come up from Springfield as usual for the week's end adjournment, and Amelia had counted on his waiting over, as he always did, for the Monday night train, before going back to his duties in the senate. More than all, she had counted on him for a dinner she had arranged for Monday evening.

"What time does your train leave?" she asked, in the voice of one who succumbs finally to a hopeless situation.

"Eleven twenty," he said. "But I brought my luggage over with me, so I could start from here at the last minute. I'll go over to the Twenty-third street station and catch it there."

Amelia had had the deep chair Vernon liked so well wheeled into the mellow circle of the light that fell from a tall lamp. The lamp gave the only light in the room, and the room appeared vast in the dimness; an effect somehow aided by the chill that was on it, as if the fires of the Ansley house had been allowed to die down in an eager pretense of spring. It was spring, but spring in Chicago. Sunday morning had been bright and the lake had sparkled blue in the warm wind that came up somewhere from the southwest, but by night the wind had wheeled around, and the lake resumed its normal cold and menacing mood. As Vernon sank into the chair he caught a narrow glimpse of the boulevard between the curtains of the large window; in the brilliant light of a street lamp he could see a cold rain slanting down on to the asphalt.

"How much longer is this legislature to last, anyway?" Amelia demanded, as she arranged herself in the low chair before him.

"Three weeks," Vernon replied.

"Three—weeks—more!" The girl drew the words out.

"Yes, only three weeks," said Vernon. "And then we adjourn sine die. The joint resolution fixes the date for June second."

Amelia said nothing. She was usually disturbed when Vernon began to speak of his joint resolutions; which was, perhaps, the reason why he spoke of them so often.

"Of course," Vernon went on, with a certain impression of relief in his words, "I have another session after this."

"When will that be?" Amelia asked.

She Stopped on the Bottom Step Long Enough to Shake Out the Skirt.

"Winter after next. The governor, though, may call a special session to deal with the revenue question. That would take us all back there again next winter."

"Next Winter!" she cried, leaning over in alarm. "Do you mean you'll have to be away all next winter, too!"

The significance of her tone was sweet to Vernon, and he raised himself to take her hands in his.

"You could be with me then, dearest," he said, softly.

"In Springfield!" she exclaimed.

"Why not?" asked Vernon. "Other members have their wives with them—some of them," he qualified, thinking how few of the members cared to have their wives with them during the session.

"What could one do in Springfield, pray?" Amelia demanded. "Go to the legislative hops, I suppose? And dance reels with farmers and West side politicians!" She almost sniffed her disgust.

"Why, dearest," Vernon pleaded, "you do them a great injustice. Some of them are really of the best people; the society in Springfield is excellent. At the governor's reception at the mansion the other night—"

"Now, Morley," Amelia said, with a smile that was intended to reproach him mildly for this attempt to impose upon her credulity.

"And, besides," Vernon hurried on, suddenly taking a different course with her, "you could be a great help to me. I never address the senate that I don't think of you, and wish you were there to hear me."

"I should like to hear you," said Amelia, softening a little. "But of course I couldn't think of appearing in the senate."

"Why not? Ladies often appear there."

"Yes, overdressed, no doubt."

"Well, you wouldn't have to be overdressed," Vernon retorted. He seemed to have the advantage, but he decided to forego it. He sank back on the cushions of his chair, folding his hands and plainly taking the rest a senator needs after his legislative labors.

"Of course," he said, "we needn't discuss it now. The governor may not call the special session. If the party —" but he paused, thinking how little interested she was in the party.

"I wish you'd let politics alone," Amelia went on relentlessly. "It seems so—so common. I don't see what there is in it to attract you. And how am I ever going to explain your absence to those people to-morrow night? Tell them that politics detained you, I suppose?" She looked at him severely, and yet triumphantly, as if she had reduced the problem to an absurdity.

"Why," said Vernoon, "you can tell them that I was called suddenly to Springfield; that an important matter in the senate—"

"The senate!" Amelia sneered.

"But, dearest," Vernon began, leaning over in an attitude for argument.

She cut him short.

"Why, Morley, do you think I'd ever let on to those Eltons that I know any one in politics?"

"Don't they have politics in New York?" he asked.

"They won't even know where Springfield is!" she went on irrelevantly.

"What'll they say when they receive our cards next fall?" he asked with a smile.

"Well, you needn't think your name will be engraved on them as senator, I can assure you!" Her dark eyes flashed.

Vernon laughed again, and Amelia went on:

"You can laugh, but I really believe you would if I'd let you!"

They were silent after that, and Amelia sat with her elbow on the arm of her chair, her chin in her hand, meditating gloomily on her ruined dinner.

"If you did any good by being in politics," she said, as if speaking to herself. "But I fail to see what good you do. What good do you do?" She lifted her head suddenly and challenged him with a high look.

"Well," he said, spreading his hands wide, "of course, if you don't care enough to look in the newspapers!"

"But how could I, Morley?" said Amelia. "How was I to know where to look?"

"Why, in the Springfield dispatches."

"I began by reading the papers," Amelia said. "But, really now, ley, you know I couldn't find any in them about you."

"The most important work in legislature isn't done in the new pers," said Vernon, with a signific that was intended to hide his in sistency. "There are committee ings, and conferences and caucu it is there that policies are ma out and legislation framed."

He spoke darkly, as of secret sions held at night on the upper f of hotels, attended only by those had received whispered invitation

"But if you must be in politics," said, "why don't you do something something great, something to a stir? Show your friends that are really accomplishing somethi

Amelia sat erect and gave a str ous gesture with one of her little clenched. Her dark eyes showed excitement of ambition. But Ver drooped and placed his hand wea to his brow. Instantly Amelia sta up from her chair.

"Does that light annoy you?" tone was altogether different from ambitious one. She was stretching a hand toward the lamp, and the w flesh glowed red between her fing held against the light.

"Never mind," said Vernon. doesn't bother me."

But Amelia rose and twisted shade of the lamp about, and then she was taking her seat again, went on:

"I suppose it'll be worse then after—after we're—married." She tered, and blushed, and began mak little plaits in her handkerchief, st ing the effect with a sidewise turn her head.

Vernon bent over and took both hands in his.

"If it were only Washingto There was a new regret in her tone there was in the inclination of head.

"It shall be Washington, dear," said.

Amelia's eyelids fell and she blus again, even in the glow the lamp s upon her face. They were silent a moment, and then suddenly looked up.

"Washington would be ever so m better, Morley," she said. "I sho feel as if that really amounted to so thing. We'd know all the diplom and I'm sure in that atmosphere would become a great man."

"I will, dear; I will," he declar "but it will be all for you."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Eve Was a Lunger.

Man still carries the original nu ber of ribs, but he is short of a l lobe. Where did he lose it? Eve it. Man's right lung to-day consi of three lobes; man's left lung to- consists of two lobes. Let us consi the missing lobe on the left. T lungs, mind you, are the life. was made out of Adam's third r lobe on the left, the lobe nearest heart. She was constructed out wind mostly. That is—she took p of Adam's breath away. Adam's p terity of the male persuasion in th latter days can count on only f lobes to both lungs; while Ev daughters can count on seven; wh accounts for woman having the l word in a controversy.—New Yo Press.

Value of Trees in Towns.

"The planting of trees in stre and public places is a sure means increasing the healthfulness of town, as well as adding to its beau But," says a writer in Building Wor "not all trees are suitable for to planting; and in order to insure s cess, a nursery in which to grow t selected trees should be establish in the neighborhood. London appe to be well provided in this respe The London county council maintai its own nurseries, and large tracts ground at Avery Hill are reserved rearing of young trees, whose u mate destinations are the vario parks and public gardens of t metropolis."

The Psychology of the Badge.

"I've always noticed," spoke Old Jim, "that us farmers, when git on a biled shirt and a derby h feel about the same as a city fell wearin' a soft shirt and a slouch h We sort o' b'lieve that it's our d to over-in-dulge. In the old days wuz one o' them kind what could even pin a badge on my coat witho a-feelin' that I had a license ter pa the town red."

"Yes," laughed Cal, "there hain no sadder sight than ter see a p fectly sober man all covered with ri bins and badges."—From "Old Ji Case of South Hollow."

Reciprocity.

There is a little shop in Park pla before the door of which is a sm box. The top is fastened by a padlock The key is kept in a hiding pla known only to the man who keeps t shop, and to the postman. When th postman has a letter for that numb he unlocks the little box, drops in th mail, finds a cigar, locks the box an proceeds on his way. This has bee going on a long time. The man wh keeps the shop lives over on Lon island. He has no clerk and comes t business whenever the spirit move him.—New York Times.

...VED POINT BY HOLY WRIT

...daughter of Gladstone Proved ...he Had Not Read Scriptures for Nothing.

...s Dorothy Drew, who was pre...d at court a few days ago, was ...vorite granddaughter of the late ... Gladstone, and among the ...es told of her childhood days is ...ollowing: One morning she re... to get up, and, all other things ...g, Mr. Gladstone was called to ... "Why, don't you get up, my ...?" he asked. "Why, grandpa, ... you tell me to do what the ... says?" replied Dorothy. "Yes, ...inly." "Well, it disapproves of ... rising—says it's a waste of ..." rejoined the child. Mr. Glad... was unable to agree, but Dor... was sure of her ground. "You lis... then," she said, in reply to his ...mation of astonishment, and, ...g up her Bible she read Psalm ..., laying great emphasis on the ...s: "It is vain for you to rise up ...."—Tit-Bits.

...ASH ALL OVER BOY'S BODY.

...ul, Crusted, Weeping Eczema on ...ttle Sufferer—A Score of Treat...ents Prove Dismal Failures.

Cure Achieved by Cuticura.

...y little boy had an awful rash all ... his body and the doctor said it ... eczema. It was terrible, and used ...ater awfully. Any place the water ... it would form another sore and it ...d become crusted. A score or ...e physicians failed utterly and dis...y in their efforts to remove the ...ble. Then I was told to use the ...icura Remedies. I got a cake of ...icura Soap, a box of Cuticura Oint...t and a bottle of Cuticura Re...vent, and before we had used half ... Resolvent I could see a change in ... In about two months he was en...y well. George F. Lambert, 139 ...t Centre St., Mahanoy City, Pa,. ...t. 26 and Nov. 4, 1907."

...r Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

COMFORTING.

...octor—Most—er—fortunate you ...sulted me. I'm just the very man ...-er—cure—you.

...atient—Ah, that's lucky! You are ...e familiar with my complaint, ...n?

...octor—Familiar? My dear sir, I've ... it myself—er—this 20 years!

A Frank Opinion.

...Once a youth thought it his solemn ...y to learn something about Henry ...mes. So, to the great admiration ...his frivolous friends, he picked up ...he Wings of the Dove" and disap...ared into its pages.

...Two weeks later he was thinner, but ...ll at it, when one of the afore-men...ned frivolous friends came into the ...om, and, for the first time showed ...erest.

..."Say," he observed, "is 'The Wings ... the Dove' a collection of short ...ries or one long story?"

...The delver into James glanced up ...m the pages.

..."One darned long story," he replied, ...rowing his whole soul into the ...rds.

Future Ideal Town.

...In the ideal town of the future, as ...tured by Sir Oliver Lodge, the ...uses will have gas for heating by ...en fires and for cooking, and elec...city for lighting. The gas, pro...ced from the coal at the mine, will ... sent long distances through pipes, ... water is now distributed. It is ...ped that the experiment will be tried ...on, the burning of crude coal in town ...ng absolutely forbidden, and at least ...o English towns are already consid...ing the plan. The purification of ...e air is one of the greatest needs in ...e improvement of the conditions of ...y life.

A Famous Health Builder.

...A medicine that will cleanse the bowels ...d put them in condition to do their ...per work unaided will do more than ...ything else to preserve health and ...rength. Such a medicine is the tonic lax...ve herb tea, Lane's Family Medicine. ...t a 25c package to-day at any druggist ... dealer. No matter what you have tried ...fore, try this famous herb tea.

Seeking to Be a Comforter.

..."You are consuming a great deal of ...luable time with your tariff argu...ent."

..."Yes," answered Senator Sorghum, ... find satisfaction in trying to demon...trate that here is one case where the ...nsumer doesn't pay the tax."

Kill the Flies Now

...fore they multiply. A DAISY FLY ...ILLER kills thousands. Lasts the sea...n. Ask your dealer, or send 20c to H ...mers, 149 De Kalb Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y

...When the thief has no opportunity ...o steal he considers himself an hon...st man.

DECLARE LAW VOID

Railroads Can Issue Passes Say Attorneys

TAKEN TO HIGH COURTS

Illinois Central Company Will Carry the Case to the Nation's Highest Court for Decision.

Des Moines, Ia., May 3.—The Illinois Central railroad has begun an attack on the Iowa anti-pass law that will not end until the statute has been passed upon by the United States supreme court.

The attack of the railroad is centered upon that portion of the law which provides that a company attorney or surgeon may not receive transportation unless his work for the company is his "main or chief occupation." This provision is held to be unconstitutional and invalid on four grounds, and incidentally the arguments of the appellant contends that this portion of the anti-pass law so influenced the passage of the entire act that the entire law must be declared void.

Mr. Schultz signed a contract with the Illinois Central road after the enactment of the anti-pass law with a stipulation that he should receive free transportation as a part of his compensation. The contract was made openly and largely for the purpose of testing the Iowa statute. The grounds on which the law would be attacked did not appear until the argument of the appellant was filed.

That the provision of the law preventing attorneys and surgeons from receiving passes unless their work for the road is their chief or main occupation is unconstitutional is argued on two grounds. The first of these is that it interferes with the right of contract between master and servant. It is contended that the railroad company has a perfect right to make a contract agreeing to pay for services partly in cash and partly in transportation.

No matter how the case is decided in the Iowa court, an appeal will be taken to Washington and the filing of the opening argument means the beginning of a long legal struggle. Attorney General Byers will file an answer within two weeks.

QUEER VAGARIES OF RIVER

River at Belle Plaine Moves Over Into Another County Leaving Bridge High and Dry.

Belle Plaine.—The supervisors of Iowa county are blasting away stumps and making a straighter channel for the Iowa river west of the Iowa county river bridge about two miles south of Belle Plaine. The river formerly had its main channel under a fine, large, iron bridge in Benton county, but gradually a slough which had water only in times of high water, became the main channel. Curiously enough, although this crosses the highway only a few yards to the south of the former main channel, it is in another county, and it is there that the work of straightening the river channel to protect the Iowa county bridge is now being done.

Mail Clerk Sues Railroad.

Iowa Falls, Ia., May 1.—Is a railroad company required to maintain heat in a United States mail car at all times when it is in service is a question that must be answered in a $10,000 damage suit filed by Mail Clerk Earl Chapman who runs on the north end of this division of the Rock Island road. That road is made the defendant in the action and Chapman in his petition claims that the car in which he was working was set out during a big blizzard at Ocheydan and that being returned to work in a car not properly heated, he contracted pneumonia, resulting in pain, anguish and heavy expense for nurse hire, medical attendance, etc.

Boost For Good Roads.

Iowa Falls, Ia., May 1.—The Des Moines Short Line is making a hit with some of the towns along its lines between Mason City and Des Moines by offering to furnish gravel at the depot for grading the main traveled street from the town to the company's depot. This is done in the interest of good roads and to facilitate the transportation of heavy freight, express, mail and passengers from the company's depot up town.

Arrested for Wife Desertion.

Sigourney.—The grand jury in session has reported a bill against Philip Warnerus of Richland for wife desertion. He was caught by Sheriff Grimes in Davenport, and is lodged in jail awaiting the fall term of court.

HELD AN ANNUAL CAMPFIRE

Over Hundred Members of the Famous Spanish-American War Regiment Meet.

Creston, Iowa, April 28.—The Fifty-first regiment of the Iowa National Guard was in session here Monday, over one hundred veterans being present. The reunion was held in the county court house and the business meeting in the afternoon was presided over by Captain Keating, commander of the Army of the Philippines. The Fifty-first was the only Iowa regiment that took part in the real fight during the Spanish-American war and many reminiscences were recalled that made the reunion a particularly gratifying one to the members.

Telegrams from absent members who could not be present were received and read, and the evening was given over to a campfire, at which a large number participated in the program and an enjoyable evening and one long to be remembered was spent. A committee was appointed to compile a roster and history of the Fifty-first organization and is composed of Adjutant General Guy E. Logan, Dr. Wilbur Conklin and Captain Brewer of Corning. Red Oak was selected for the next reunion meeting place and Major Dan Turner of Corning was elected as commander.

The other officers elected were: Vice-commander, Guy S. Brewer of Des Moines; corresponding secretary, Ed. Okey of Corning; recording secretary, Frank Grounds of Greenfield; treasurer, W. S. Conklin of Des Moines.

MANUFACTURERS DAY IN IOWA

A General Observance to be Made Once a Month by Manufacturers and Jobbers.

Des Moines.—"Manufacturers' day," to be observed state-wide the first Tuesday in every month, for the purpose of awakening the state of Iowa to the necessity of industrial growth, will be established by the Iowa State Manufacturers' association.

It is proposed that manufacturers in every city of the state will meet together on "Manufacturers' Day" of each month at luncheon or in the evening, to confer upon the various questions concerning Iowa's industrial expansion and to arouse general public interest.

Tuesday, May 4, will be the first "Manufacturers' Day." Waterloo and other Iowa cities have planned to make the first event a hummer, with big banquets in the evening.

Council Bluffs.—A suit filed at Avoca, Ia., complaining of the presence of a dam across the Nishnabotna river at Carson and asking the court to issue a writ of mandamus restraining the owners from maintaining the dam, started a lively contest, the origin of which is contained in an effort of citizens of the northern part of Pottawattamie county to secure the construction of a ditch straightening the Nishnabotna river, one of the crookedest and most erratic streams in western Iowa.

Put Off Train; Walks.

Des Moines.—Mrs. Olive Sanderson who says her home is in Clermont county, Ohio, walked from Colfax to Des Moines pushing a rickety baby cart before her, in which were two small children, but poorly protected from the cold. According to the woman's story she was put off the train at Colfax because she had no money to pay her fare farther. Determined to reach Council Bluffs, where she hopes to find relatives, Mrs. Sanderson wrapped up her children as best she could and pushed the cart before her through the mud and biting rain. Sympathetic farmers aided her, and believing that all Iowa farmers are charitable, the woman is willing to walk the remainder of the distance. She was given aid in Des Moines by the Volunteers of America.

Discovered Dead Body.

Vinton.—While building a fence on his farm Mr. Ed Burrell and his farm hands, D. L. Wilson and Douglas Lindsay, discovered the dead body of a male child. Mr. Burrel's farm is about a mile and a half northwest of Urbana.

Coming From China.

Iowa City.—Dr. Charles E. Riggs will sail soon from Peking, China, to come to Iowa City, after his retirement as a surgeon for the United States government. Dr. Riggs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Riggs of this city.

Masqueraded As a Boy.

Grinnell.—There was considerable excitement at the glove factory when one of the employes, who had been passing as a boy named "Willie Thompson," proved to be a 15-year-old girl named Marian Hutton, who comes from Rutledge, near Ottumwa.

DOLLAR WHEAT HAS COME TO STAY

IN LESS THAN FIVE YEARS CENTRAL CANADA WILL BE CALLED UPON TO SUPPLY THE UNITED STATES.

A couple of years ago, when the announcement was made in these columns that "dollar wheat" had come to stay, and that the time was not far distant when the central provinces of Canada—Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta—would be called upon to supply a large part of the wheat consumption in the United States, there were many who laughed at the predictions and ridiculed the idea of wheat reaching the dollar point and staying there. Both of these predictions have come to pass. Dollar wheat is here—and it is not only here, but is here to stay; and at the same time, whatever unpleasant sensations it may arouse in the super-sensitive American, Central Canada is already being called upon to help keep up the bread supply, and within the next five years will, as James J. Hill says, literally "become the bread-basket of our increasing millions."

There are few men in the United States better acquainted with the wheat situation than Mr. Hill, and there are few men, if any, who are inclined to be more conservative in their expressed views. Yet it was this greatest of the world's railroad men who said a few days ago that "the price of wheat will never be substantially lower than it is today"—and when it is taken into consideration that at that time wheat had soared to $1.20, well above the dollar mark, the statement is peculiarly significant, and doubly significant is the fact that in this country the population is increased at the ratio of 65 per cent., while the yield of wheat and other products is increasing at the rate of only 25 per cent. For several years past the cost of living has been steadily increasing in the United States, and this wide difference in production and consumption is the reason.

This difference must be supplied by the vast and fertile grain regions of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. There is now absolutely no doubt of this. Even the press of the country concedes the fact. Results have shown that no other country in the world can ever hope to equal those provinces as wheat producers, and that no other country can produce as hard or as good wheat. Said a great grain man recently, "If United States wheat maintains the dollar mark, Canada wheat will be well above a dollar a bushel, for in every way it is superior to our home-grown grain."

With these facts steadily impinging their truth upon our rapidly growing population, it is interesting to note just what possibilities as a "wheat grower" our Northern neighbor possesses. While the United States will never surrender her prestige in any manufacturing or commercial line, she must very soon acknowledge, and with as much grace as she can, that she is bound to be beaten as a grain producer. It must be conceded that a great deal of the actual truth about the richness of Canada's grain producing area has been "kept out of sight," as Mr. Hill says, by the strenuous efforts of our newspapers and magazines to stem the exodus of our best American farmers into those regions. It is a fact that up to the present time, although Canada has already achieved the front rank in the world's grain producers, the fertile prairies of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta have as yet scarcely been scratched. Millions of acres, free for the taking, still await our American farmers; and when these millions are gone there are other millions in regions not yet opened up to immigration. A few years ago the writer, who has been through those wheat provinces several times, laughed with others of our people at the broad statement that Canada was bound to become "John Bull's Bread Basket." Now, after a last trip (and though he is a stanch American) he frankly believes that not only will Canada become John Bull's bread-basket, but it will within the next decade at least BECOME THE BREAD-BASKET OF THE UNITED STATES. Perhaps this may be a hard truth for Aemricans to swallow, but it is a truth, nevertheless. And it is at least a partial compensation to know that hundreds of thousands of our farmers are profiting by the fact by becoming producers in this new country.

The papers of this country have naturally made the most of the brief period of depression which swept over Canada, but now there is not a sign of it left from Winnipeg to the coast. Never have the three great wheat raising provinces been more prosperous. Capital is coming into the country from all quarters, taking the form of cash for investment, industrial concerns seeking locations, and, best of all, substantial and sturdy immigrants come to help populate the prairies. Towns are booming; scores of new elevators are springing up; railroads are sending out their branch lines in all directions; thousands of prosperous farmers are leaving their prairie shelters for new and modern homes—"built by wheat:" everywhere is a growing happiness and contentment—happiness and contentment built by wheat—the "dollar wheat," which has come to stay. Notwithstanding this, the Canadian Government is still giving away its homesteads and selling pre-emptions at $3.00 an acre, and the Railway and Land Companies are disposing of their lands at what may be considered nominal figures.

THE TWO SIDES OF HISTORY.

Some Pertinent Observations Made by Writer Evidently Not Fond of Subject.

History is a running account of how King Somebody-or-other either did or did not get to a certain place, which nobody ever heard of, before King Somebody-else got there, from which we are usually supposed to conclude that it would have made quite a difference whether he did not not.

Like nearly everything else, history has two sides. The history of the Garden of Eden depends upon whether it is related by a man or a woman. The history of the American revolution reads quite different in English books from the way it reads in our own books. The history of the civil war depends upon which side of the Mason and Dixon line you happen to be sitting when you write it.

History is a bore, not only because you are unacquainted with the people who figure in it, but because it repeats itself.—Life.

Eyes Are Relieved By Murine

when Irritated by Chalk Dust and Eye Strain, incident to the average School Room. A recent Census of New York City reveals the fact that in that City alone 17,928 School Children needed Eye Care. Why not try Murine Eye Remedy for Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes, Granulation, Pink Eye and Eye Strain? Murine Doesn't Smart; Soothes Eye Pain. Is Compounded by Experienced Physicians; Contains no Injurious or Prohibited Drugs. Try Murine for Your Eye Troubles; You Will Like Murine. Try It in Baby's Eyes for Scaly Eyelids. Druggists Sell Murine at 50c. The Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago, Will Send You Interesting Eye Books Free.

The Small Brother Again.

It was the first warm night of springtime, and they sat out in the park under the stars. Suddenly there was the sound of a snapping twig in the tree near them.

"Dear me, George," she whispered. "What kind of a tree is that?"

George looked up and discovered a pair of juvenile eyes peering through the branches.

"H'm" he muttered, sheepishly. "Looks to me like a rubber tree."

A Cure For Colds and Grip.

There is inconvenience, suffering and danger in a cold, and the wonder is that people will take so few precautions against colds. One or two Lane's Pleasant Tablets (be sure of the name) taken when the first snuffly feeling appears, will stop the progress of a cold and save a great deal of unnecessary suffering. Druggists and dealers generally sell these tablets, price 25 cents. If you cannot get them send to Orator F. Woodward, Le Roy, N. Y. Sample free.

Too Wise.

"Will you take a chance on kissing a pretty girl?" asked the young lady with the raffle tickets at the church fair. The crusty and confirmed bachelor held up his hands in horror. "What, me!" he gasped. "No, indeed, I don't take any such chances as those. Chap took a chance like that one time and six months later he married the young lady."

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Omissions of History.

Romulus, having built Rome, was constructing a wall around it.

"What's the use of putting a wall on the north side?" jeered Remus. "Evanston will never try to break in."

Then ensued the first boxing contest in the new city, with the result, as all the world knows, that Remus was permanently knocked out.

Mamma's Orders.

"Mamma has given me orders that when a young man gives me anything I must give it right back."

"All right, prepare yourself."

"What for?"

"I'm going to give you a kiss."—Houston Post.

A Rare Good Thing.

"Am using ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE, and can truly say I would not have been without it so long, had I known the relief it would give my aching feet. I think it a rare good thing for anyone having sore or tired feet.—Mrs. Matilda Holtwert, Providence, R. I." Sold by all Druggists, 25c. Ask to-day.

If thy friends agree in calling thee an ass, go and get a halter around thee.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle

And they get the biggest tips who only stand and wait.

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

One Price Cash Store

We carry a complete line of

——A complete line of——

Groceries, Paints, Oils, Flour

and other articles too numerous to mention in the Grocery and Hardware line.

——A new and up-to-date——

TIN SHOP

in connection where you can get your work done promptly.

We solicit a share of your patronage.

Yours for business,

TERHUFEN BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

HELLO THERE

Where are you going? I'm going to H. Lau & Son. They handle all kinds of farm implements, Port Huron threshers also the Aultman & Taylor machinery, the 20 Century and Appleton manure spreader, McKinnon and Clinton wagons, Anchor and Velie buggies, Ohio and Kingman cultivators, stirring and gang plows, the open mould board sulky plows the lightest draft, Towers cultivators, Imperial and Challenge wind mills, hog fencing, barb wire, smooth wire gates, pumps and piping of all kinds, feed mills and the international gas engines from 1 to 40 H. P., Milwaukee mowers, binders, Dane hay loaders and buckers, nails and fence staples, wind mills and pump repairing on short notice, the sharpless cream separator the best made today, the Crack a-jack line of samples for tailor made suits.

In the Household—As Hygeno is regularly used by thousands as a household remedy, disinfectant, germicide and insecticide the greatest cleanliness is exercised in its manufacture. For sale here.

H. Lau & Son.

STYX NO. 24964.

The imported stallion STYX is a jet black free from white and weighs over 2000 lbs. as a eight year-old.

Sired by Gerfaut 2d Reg. No. 2538 and he by Hercule No. 2522 Dam Wanne d'Ap No. 38165 and she by Marie No. 4523.

This horse was shipped from Brussels, Oct. 15, 1903 by the Livermore Horse Importing Co. of Livermore, Iowa

Will make the season at the following places:

Frank Glanville on Monday and Tuesday.
G. O. Miner on Tuesday and Wednesday.
W. S. Glanville on Thursday.
C. L. Yahnke Livery Barn Friday and Saturday.

TERMS—To insure a live colt to stand up and suck $15.

M. Palmby, J. E. Johnson,

Owners.

A. Kirkwood, Manager.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

The dog poisoner is at work in Corwith.

Chas. Bracher has purchased the Robt. Elder property in Garner.

Tom Fong is no longer "washee" at Garner, he having moved to Sac City.

Great arrangements are being made for a bigger and better Hancock County Fair this year.

H. E. Baumgartner of Garner expects to run the Oaks hotel at Clear Lake again this summer.

Henry Groen's barn on his place near Meservey was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

Britt will celebrate Independence Day on July 3rd and Clear Lake on July 5th. The 4th comes on Sunday this year.

Owing to the M. W. A. annual convention in Belmond on June 17th, the Odd Fellows doings in Corwith will be held on June 9th.

Thos. Fotheringham has resigned his position as agent for the Qneal Company at Garner, and his place will be filled after June first by Jack Shaeffer of Comfrey, Minnesota. Mr. Fotheringham has made a most efficient manager for the company and is a good honest business man. He has not yet decided upon his future location or vocation.

Perry Lehman, one of the section hands of the M. & St. L. was dangerously injured in an accident which occurred about a half mile south of the depot yesterday morning. The section men have a sail which is used on the hand car on windy days and while making the trip over the south section yesterday morning the car left the track, seriously injuring all on board with the exception of Miss Lanta Prince who was riding on the car to her school southwest of town. When the car left the track young Lehman who was on the front of the car was run over, and one leg was broken in two places above the knee, his head badly bruised, but it is thot that if not mentally injured he will recover. Sander Peterson was cut about the face and hands and badly shaken up while Fred Willodson, the other section hand, had one finger broken and otherwise bruised and shaken up. Miss Prince escaped with only a severe shaking.—Britt Tribune.

Avery Center.

The town of Meservey has a great many cases of typhoid fever.

Mrs. C. Guitner called on Mrs W. L. Sherwood one day last week.

Miss Marve Chase returned home Friday, after a two months visit with her grandparents.

Anthony Shaver and his sister Hazel attended the dance given at Walt Braga's home Saturday evening.

John Bachman is getting along nicely at this writing, after suffering with typhoid fever for the past four weeks.

The seeding is about through with except some low lands which is too wet to sow now, which will be sown to buckwheat later in the season.

Mrs. T. M. Hamilton and sister, Miss Laura Meyers, Mrs. J. T. Griggs and Mrs. W. L. Sherwood called at the home of J. W. Griggs last Sunday.

Much Obleeged

A. C. Flint, late of Dickens, Iowa, has purchased the Klemme Times and will assume charge May 1. We are glad to welcome Mr. Flint back into Hancock county. He is a good newspaper man and a first class printer, so Klemme is assured of a good paper —Corwith Hustler.

CHAMBERLAIN'S LINIMENT

This is a new preparation and a good one. It is especially valuable as a cure for chronic and muscular rheumatism, and for the relief from pain which it affords in acute inflamatory rheumatism. Those who have used it have invariably spoken of it in the highest terms of praise. Lame back, lame shoulder and stiff neck are due to rheumatism of the muscles, usually brought on by exposure to cold or damp, and are quickly cured by applying this liniment freely and massaging the affected parts. Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is allayed by this liniment. For sale by G. A. Pabst & Co.

Such a Suit as this for $8.00

THINK OF IT!

A new dark brown Suit, with fancy stripe, fancy cuffs and pocket flaps, all for $8.00. Yes, this is one of our

Suits for Hard-Wear

We have a long table piled high with just such Suits. We sell them at $5.00 $6.50

$8.00 $10.00

Look these over before you buy your Spring Suit. IT WILL PAY YOU.

Arthur Wellemeyer.

Where your Dollar does its duty.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

MILLINERY ANNOUNCEMENT.

WE

Have the largest and finest display of Spring Millinery ever shown; has excited more admiration and attention than any we ever had.

We have some of the most beautiful and striking effects in Pattern Hats, Trimmed Hats and Childrens headwear. The latest in Hair Rolls also a fine line of the best ladies Corsets. We have quite an assortment of the latest ladies waists, and a fine line of Collars, Rushes and Belts.

Our Trimmer is an experienced one who will be sure to please.

MRS. J. JOSTEN.

KLEMME TIMES

LEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

lished every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

ption price $1.00 per year in advance.

d at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

cents per line each insertion. advertising 10 cents per inch. advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

sing accounts due on the last ation day of each month. Job ash on delivery.

KLEMME MARKET.

.....	60 to 63c
.....	48 to 49c
.....	80 to 100
.....	55 to60 c
.....	4 00 to 6.00
.....	6.30 to 6.70
.....	3.00 to 6.00

OCAL NEWS

Wellemeyer's ad.

Elder's little girl has ite sick.

Post visited friends at Monday.

A. Muehlmeier held ser- Thompson last Sunday.

riewe and Ralph Blank t Garner on business y.

Fuller has been busy ek building a tool house emetery.

a good plan. Read the of the State Savings n 1st page.

Aggie Blank visited at Tuesday with her sister, m. F. Lau.

Geo. Wessel, Arthur eyer and H. Griewe were visitors Monday.

e just added to my stock ine of Lace Curtains at o $6.00 a pair at G. F. s. tf

H. Busemann and chil- who have been visiting th relatives, returned to ille Monday.

TED—Having leased the der pasture, I will be in a to pasture your stock ing season.

Fred C. Griewe.

at sewing machine auc- s pulled off at Welle- store last Saturday. A. nwetter was the lucky o got the Goodrich Sew- chine.

H. Schroeder and son rrived in Klemme from Monday evening. They cking their household preparatory to moving o Chicago, where they ke their home and where roeder is employed.

the nice weather started of the week, everybody g busy, the farmers get- the balance of their crops paring their corn ground town people putting in May the good weath- nue.

think of buying a rug ay you to look over my hich consists of Wilton Axminsters, Saxony ters, Colonial Velvets ssels made in sizes 6 x 9, 0 x 6, 9 x 12 and larger. or rugs G. F. Schuler.

State Savings Bank ad.

W. R. Bloom is remodeling his hog house.

The First National Bank has a change of ad this week Read it.

Parties owing me on account are requested to pay as soon as possible. Dr. Geo. Zinn. 40 2

Arthur Wellemeyer has some interesting reading on Men's Suits in his ad this week. Look it over carefully.

Anyone wishing their lots in the cemetery graded up or taken care of make arrangements with Wm. Fuller. 2w*

We asked Dr. Zinn for some news this week and he said all he knew was that it was "distressingly healthy."

Tom Elder added his name to our subscription list this week. We cordially welcome him to our family of readers.

August Lau has his house and the addition to the house completed, and it makes him a first class, up to-date residence.

We acknowledge a pleasant call last Saturday from E. H. Schuldt, one of our valued readers and a substantial farmer.

Don't overlook the new ad of J. H. Queal & Co. on our first page this week. They have a talk about the famous "Iowa Gate for the Farm" for which they are agents.

H. C Lau shipped one car of hogs last week and one car Sunday morning. August Lau shipped a car of cattle to Chicago Sunday morning, H. C. Lau going in with the shipment.

John Farmer sold eighteen head of fat steers to August Lau, for which he received six cents per pound, or a total of $1492.80. Mr. Lau says that this was the best car of steers shipped from Klemme in the last six years. Mr. Farmer knows how to finish cattle. We call this making money.

We publish this week the financial statement of the First National Bank, one of our strong banking institutions, to which your attention is respectfully called. The report shows a good healthy business, the deposits showing up strong. Klemme is indeed to be congratulated on its splendid banking facilities.

After a most disagreeable spell of cold, wet, unseasonable weather, it cleared off last Monday and things soon began to look more cheerful. With good weather from this on, things will brighten up. We need a good warm and reasonably dry summer, and then old Hancock County will again take rank with the best countries on earth. Here's hopin'.

After this week the Times will be printed every Thursday morning. This will enable us to reach our subscribers who live on the rural routes of our neighboring towns in better season and we believe it will give better satisfaction all around. Copy for changes of ads should reach this office as early as possible in the week so that we may give the proper time to get them up in good readable shape. We are going to make an effort to gradually improve the paper and we ask your co-operation. A good newspaper is unquestionably a good thing for a town. If you are interested in the town, be also interested in helping us to get out a good paper. Tell us the news. The more the better.

A Kirkwood & Son have a new ad.

Our hot weather of yesterday took a bad chill during the night.

Read the new ad of W. R. Bloom in this issue of the Times.

Boost for Klemme, the best little town in the state of Iowa.

G. A. Pabst & Co. have a talk on paint in their new ad this week.

Wm. Schaper and Sam Fiero, of Garner, are putting down a well for August Barz.

Mrs. Catherine Mann, of Garner, visited in Klemme the first of the week at the home of her son, Henry Mann.

Miss Avis Sage came down from Britt Tuesday evening to visit with her sister, Mrs. A. C. Flint, and to assist in the Times office.

German M. E. Church Items

Willie Ridder commenced work for C. C. Schaefer last Saturday.

Chas. Lenz has rented Mrs. Lembgen's house and will move in this week sometime.

The Klemme Womans Missionary Society meets with Mrs. Wessel this afternoon (Thursday)

The executive board of the campmeeting association met in Garner Monday but came to no definite arrangement.

The typo of last week made us say some absurd things last week, all on account of the omission of a few small words.

Arthur Wellemeyer went to Charles City Monday to visit his parents and bring his family with him when he returns.

The high price of eggs has induced a great many farmers to purchase incubators. In so many homes you find the wooden hen at work.

A few warm days has helped the farmers to forget many of their despondencies and they have gone to work with a vim and new hope for a fair crop after all the snow storms.

Rev. Schlung is finding all kinds of work since he has been among us. He has cleaned and tuned pianos repaired organs, set balky sewing machines running and fixed clocks.

The Germantown Womens Foreign Missionary Society and the "Standard Bearer" Society met with Mrs Ulrich Tuesday afternoon. The attendance was good and a nice program was carried out Rev. W. U. Schlung of Dubuque preached a helpful sermon to our Germantown people last Sunday noon and in the evening he was listened to with rapt attention by a large audience in Klemme.

G. A Wolff, a student in the Charles City College, will fill the pulpit in Klemme Sunday morning and deliver an address in the evening on "Intercollegial Prohibition Movement" He will also deliver his address in Germantown.

The Epworth League of Klemme met Wednesday evening and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, E. H. Bettie; First Vice-President and Chairman of the Spiritual Department, Minnie Lenz; Second Vice President and Chairman of the Missionary Department, Bertha Bettien; Third Vice-President and Chairman of the Literary Department, Martha Lau; Fourth Vice-President and Chairman of the Social Department, Esther Gruetzmacher; Secretary, Emil Sampson; Treasurer, Anna Griewe; Librarian, Ralph Blank; Assistant Librarian, Leonard Sampson; Organist, Hulda Gruetzmacher.

Garner Gleanings

Albert Johnson has gone to Glencoe, Minn.

A. M. Deyoe has moved into the Asplin house.

Earl Keat was over from Mason City Monday.

Chas. Schmalle returned from Mason City Saturday.

Chas Behrens is having a hard fight with Mr. LaGrippe.

Earl Terwilliger and wife have returned from their honeymoon trip to Minneapolis and other points.

Sheriff Suurballe was at Cherokee the first of the week, where he went to place Claus Johnson in the insane asylum.

The Ladies' Cemetery Association is planning on building a cement sidewalk from State street out to the cemetery. This will be a noteworthy improvement.

Report of the Condition of THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

At Klemme, in the State of Iowa, at the close of business April 28, 1909

RESOURCES

Loans and discounts		$104,722 91
Overdrafts secured and unsecured		3,688 78
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation		25,000 00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		1,032 75
Banking house furniture and fixtures		2,050 87
Due from National banks		11,665 14
Due from approved reserve agents		19,443 31
Checks and other cash items		331 84
Notes of other National banks		1,060 00
Fractional paper currency nickels and cents		103 59
Lawful money reserve in bank:
Specie	$ 7,545 00
Legal tender notes	220 00	7,765 00
Redemption fund with U. S. treasurer		1,250 00
Total		178,114 19

LIABILITIES

Capital stock paid in	25,000 00
Surplus fund	901 15
Undivided profits less expenses and taxes paid	83 17
National bank notes outstanding	24,500 00
Individual deposits subject to check	32,349 29
Demand certificates of deposit	95,280 58
Total	178,114 19

STATE OF IOWA, } ss
Hancock County, }

I, F. A. Arnold, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

F. A. ARNOLD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 4th day of May, 1909.

C. H. BURKE,
Notary Public.

[SEAL]

Correct—Attest:

C H WIEGMANN
AUG. LAU
AUG. BARZ
} Directors

W. R. BLOOM
Buyer and Shipper of
Grain and Live Stock

Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.

Stock wanted 6 days in the week

RESTAURANT

—We have a complete line of—
Home Made Bakery Goods. Candies, Cigars, Tobaccos, Soft Drinks, Fruits and Canned Goods.

Try our Van Camp's Sterilized Evaporated Milk
Lunches and Meals at all Hours

A. Kirkwood & Son

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to night calls.

F. C. GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats, Canned goods and oysters in season. Highest cash price paid for hides. Home rendered pure lard a specialty.
We solicit your patronage.

COL. J. J. WILSON
Livestock Auctioneer,
Meservey, Iowa.

Dates made at either banks of Klemme.
Phone me at my expense.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
☞ Eyes Tested Free.

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
☞ Call in

Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition

This year you can make the trip you have had in mind for so long—a trip to the Pacific Coast. Go now, while rates are low and routes arranged so you can see the most at lowest cost, including the great exposition at SEATTLE, WASH.

June 1 to October 16, 1909

It covers an area of 250 acres, located on two beautiful lakes, overlooked by snow-capped mountains, and will interestingly exhibit the wonderful development and possibilities of Alaska and the countries of the Pacific. Very low fares daily during the summer. Let me tell you how comfortably and conveniently the trip is made

Thro' Scenic Colorado
AND Yellowstone Park
VIA
Rock Island-Frisco Lines
Ask for descriptive folder.

L. O. TURGASEN, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

NEW STRENGTH FOR OLD BACKS.

No Need to Suffer Every Day from Backache.

Mrs. Joannah Straw, 526 North Broadway, Canton, S. D., says: "For three years I suffered everything with rheumatism in my limbs and a dull, ceaseless aching in my back. I was weak, languid, broken with headaches and dizzy spells, and the kidney secretions were thick with solids. I was really in a critical condition when I began with Doan's Kidney Pills, and they certainly did wonders for me. Though I am 81 years old, I am as well as the average woman of 50. I work well, eat well and sleep well."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Judge Will Wait and See.

An earnest plea was made by Attorney Charles Pettijohn to Judge Pritchard of the criminal court for leniency to a client who had entered a plea of guilty to larceny. The burden of the attorney's argument was that his client was the father of twins and was tempted to theft in order to feed the mouths of the infants.

"Your honor, I will say frankly," said Mr. Pettijohn in closing, "that if I were the father of twins and needed food for my family, I would not hesitate to go out and steal it."

"Mr. Pettijohn, when you are the father of twins I will consider your proposition," said Judge Pritchard.—Indianapolis News.

And Saves Time.

"He lets his wife do just as she pleases."

"Nothing startling about that."

"No; but he does it without an argument."

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna

acts gently yet promptly on the bowels; cleanses the system effectually; assists one in overcoming habitual constipation permanently. To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY LEADING DRUGGISTS 50¢ A BOTTLE

Des Moines Directory

TEXAS PANHANDLE LAND. Go with us to Dalhart, Texas. Private car leaves Des Moines 1st and 3rd Tuesdays of each month. Write us for text books. ROYAL LAND CO., 201 Commercial Bldg., Des Moines, Iowa.

THRESHERMAN'S SUPPLIES Oils, Belting, Packing, Hose, Steam and Water Fittings, Pipe, etc., for the Factory, Farm or Home. Write, Phone or Telegraph your orders to THE GLOBE MACHINERY & SUPPLY CO., 205-207 W. Court Ave., Des Moines, Iowa.

19c Sheet Music All the popular music at 10c, 15c and 19c per copy and 1c postage. Send 2 names of music friends for free Bulletin and Catalogues. EARLY MUSIC HOUSE, Des Moines, Ia.

Machinery Machine Shop and Foundry. Largest stock of used machinery in Iowa. Engines, Boilers, Steam Pumps, Belting, Shafting, Hangers, etc., bought and sold. American Iron Works, 213-223 E. First St., Des Moines, Iowa.

KODAKS The only complete line in the state. Amateur finishing done by experts. Bromide enlarging. Send for free booklet—Kodak on the Farm. Des Moines Photo Materials Co.

"CAPITAL CITY" "BLUE SHIELD"
ROOFING
Ask your dealer. If he hasn't it write us.
CARR & ADAMS CO., Des Moines, Ia.
Manufacturers and Jobbers of the Best of Everything in Millwork.

The State Insurance Company of Des Moines, Iowa, has paid over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS for Fire, Lightning and Tornado Losses
The season is on—get a Policy now. Prompt and fair treatment is our motto.

HAIL INSURANCE
Now is the time to expect hailstorms. Protect yourself by insuring your crops. Secure the best protection by seeing our local agent, or write the Home Office for full particulars as to taking out a policy. Reliable Agents Wanted.
The Mutual Hailstorm Insurance Ass'n of Iowa
C. V. Stanley, Sec'y Des Moines, Iowa

IS BOSS FARMER

Dictates Conduct of State Agricultural Interests

HAS A VERY BUSY TIME

Every Farm Product Known in Iowa Is Raised by Inmates of State Institutions.

With more than $1,000,000 worth of farming land in their charge, the state board of control and in particular Chairman John Cownie are today the busiest farmers in Iowa. Mr. Cownie is now advising with superintendents and farm foremen at the state institutions to determine what crops shall be planted on the more than 7,000 acres belonging to the state.

Every farm product known to Iowa from potatoes and corn to tobacco, apples and sauerkraut will be produced this summer at one or the other of the fourteen institutions where farming operations are carried on. Just how many acres will be planted to potatoes and how many to corn is a question that is left largely to Mr. Cownie.

State Owns Many Farms.

A total of 7,333 acres of land is now owned by the state, including the 200 acres purchased at Fort Madison last week for the use of the state penitentiary. Mr. Cownie estimates that this land is worth considerably more than $1,000,000, or in excess of $100 per acre. The acreage is divided as follows:

Soldiers' home, Marshalltown	150
Soldiers' Orphans' home, Davenport	298
College for the blind Vinton	41
School for the deaf, Council Bluffs	157
Institution for feeble minded children, Glenwood	662
Tuberculosis sanatorium, Iowa City	274
Industrial school at Eldora	840
Industrial school at Mitchellville	175
Mount Pleasant state hospital	586
Independence state hospital	1228
Clarinda state hospital	859
Cherokee state hospital	990
Knoxville hospital for inebriates	183
Fort Madison penitentiary	229
Anamosa penitentiary	257

Since 1901 the amount of land owned and farmed by the state has more than doubled, the acreage increasing from 3,164 to 7,333. Members of the board declare that farm work in the open air is the greatest agency in the world for reforming vicious men and women and for making useful citizens of backward boys.

In addition to farming, stock raising is an important part of the work at the state institutions. More than 2,000,000 gallons of milk were produced at the institutions in 1908. The board has charge of $24,000 worth of horses, $24,000 worth of hogs and $23,000 worth of cows.

VACANCY STILL REMAINS OPEN

Board Considers the Abandonment of Position Held by the Late Mary Whitcomb.

It is reported at the state house that the state library board may not name a successor to the late Mary Whitcomb, who had charge of the library books in the west wing of the historical building prior to her death a few days ago. This department is known as the "genealogical department" and contains books on family trees, etc. The idea is said to be that there is enough room in the east section of the library to remove the "genealogical department" across the hall, put it under the direct supervision of Mr. Brigham and thus remove the necessity for anyone in Miss Whitcomb's place. The salary accorded Miss Whitcomb was $1,200 yearly.

The library board, which is composed of the judges of the supreme court, state superintendent and a couple of other state officials, expects to meet this week to take some definite action upon the vacancy.

Would Have County Roads.

That 50 per cent of the roads of Iowa should be eliminated in considering the good roads problem is the belief of State Railroad Commissioner N. S. Ketchum, who has given study to good roads and believes he has a solution for the problem which Iowa faces. Mr. Ketchum would have the supervisors in each county levy a tax for building roads toward the county seats of adjoining counties, believing that tax payers who would not profit directly from a system of roads connecting the county seats should give their approval to such a plan because it would be the most feasible of the good roads problem.

SUPERINTENDENTS WILL MEET

Three Day's Conference Will Begin Tuesday, May 11—All Counties Represented.

Des Moines, Ia., April 27.— County superintendents of Iowa will meet with State Superintendent Riggs in Des Moines on May 11, 12 and 13 for the annual three day's conference and at that time will decide whether to begin a statewide campaign looking to a radical change in the school laws.

Advocates of better rural schools, higher salaries, the county unite and a more centralized rural school system are not discouraged by the defeat of the commission bill and it is expected that the country superintendents will undertake a campaign for a modified measure containing many of its features.

All Saturday forenoon will be devoted to a discussion of the topic: "Shall there be a statewide campaign looking to radical charges in our school laws? If so, what shall be the salient features of the legislative programme"

State Superintendant Riggs is a determined and enthusiastic advocate of the county unit and other changes recommended by the commission, and his influence is expected to go for the proposed capaign. He said yesterday that he had prepared no defite legislative programme to submit to the conference and that the entire matter would be left to the county superintendents.

The conference will begin on Thursday evening, May 11, with a banquet at the First Presbyterian church. Superintendents from all the ninety-nine counties are expected to attend. There will be no outside speakers and Friday and Saturday will be devoted to informal discussions led by county superintendants.

MILITARY BILL IS SWEEPING

Lodges May Wear Their Uniforms In Halls, But Not on the Streets. New State Law.

Des Moines, Ia., April 24.—No more wearing of uniforms on the streets, without being a member of a military organization.

Last winter, when Moore of Wapello introduced this bill in the house it created such a furore that it was quickly withdrawn. It had as its sponsor some of the officers at Fort Des Moines, who had become disgusted by the sale of soldier's effects to Des Moines young men.

It has developed that the same bill has been made a part of the military laws of the state in the big military bill passed. It provides a fine of from $50 to $100 for the wearing of either the real articles of soldier wear, or uniforms similar to this, unless the wearer is a member of the regular army, the state militia, or a military school.

A special provision is made that lodge members may wear similar uniforms in their hall drills, but this does not allow them to appear.

No one noticed this provision in the bill when it appeared in the large measure re-organizing the state guard, and it passed both houses of the legislature without a protest.

Treasurer Can Collect Fees.

Under the laws of the state of Iowa the county treasurer may charge a fee of from 30 to 50 cents for receiving and answering payments of taxes through the mails. There seems to be an impression abroad that the county treasurer can not charge such fees, but this is incorrect and the law especially provides a minimum fee of 30 cents. It has been the practice in this county, and in fact in all counties in the state, to make the charge. The object of the law was to provide for the extra expense entailed in the clerical work necessary to handle the payment of taxes made by non-residents.

Much Merit in New Law.

State Labor Commissioner Van Dyne says that the new child labor law, passed by the recent legislature will prove of more benefit to his department than any other enactment of the legislature. The amendment which the legislature added was backed by Representative Holmes. It forces the employer of labor to have always on hand a certificate of the proper age of any juvenile employes so that when the labor inspector comes around, he may be satisfied at once that the child labor law is not being violated.

Buy State Farm at Ft. Madison.

The state board of control has purchased a 200-acre farm near Fort Madison for the use of the prisoners, or rather on which to work the prisoners in raising crops for the prison use. The farm is on high land but flat and a good deal of tilling will be needed. The pison labor will be used exclusively on this farm and it will go far toward adding to the comfort of the prisoners.

"A Little Cold is a Dangerous Thing"

and often leads to hasty disease and death when neglected. There are many ways to treat a cold, but there is only one right way—use the right remedy.

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

is the surest and safest remedy known, for Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Pleurisy. It cures when other remedies fail.

Do something for your cold in time, you know what delay means, you know the remedy, too—Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant.

Bottles in three sizes, $1, 50c, 25c

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 19--1909.

Bad Breath

"For months I had great trouble with my stomach and used all kinds of medicines. My tongue has been actually as green as grass, my breath having a bad odor. Two weeks ago a friend recommended Cascarets and after using them I can willingly and cheerfully say that they have entirely cured me. I therefore let you know that I shall recommend them to any one suffering from such troubles."—Chas. H. Halpern, 114 E. 7th St., New York, N. Y.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent. Taste Good, Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 923

EAT PURITY CHOCOLATES

M'f'd by Windsor-Purity Candy Co., Des Moines. For sale by all first-class dealers.

The Best Remedy for a Spring Medicine is A-B-C TEA 25 cts. at All Druggists

MAPLEINE

A flavoring that is used the same as lemon or vanilla. By dissolving granulated sugar in water and adding Mapleine, a delicious syrup is made and a syrup better than maple. Mapleine is sold by grocers. If not send 30c for 2 oz. bot. and recipe book. Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle.

ALL ROADS NOW LEAD—To Seattle

"Westward, Ho!"—Haven't YOU heard the cry?

All accounts show that all over the country, the people by thousands are getting ready to come to Seattle this summer.

YOU, too, would better make your plans to come to "the Fair that will be ready," —the ALASKA-YUKON-PACIFIC EXPOSITION, which opens on June 1st. You'll never have so good a chance again to see this wonderful country.

WE INVITE YOU TO MAKE OUR OFFICES YOUR HEADQUARTERS, where you can receive your mail, write your letters, meet your friends, and get all the information about the great Northwest, and about the one best investment of all, UNITS OF SEATTLE'S CENTRAL BUSINESS PROPERTY.

If I can be of any assistance beforehand, please write to me.

FRANK T. HUNTER, President,
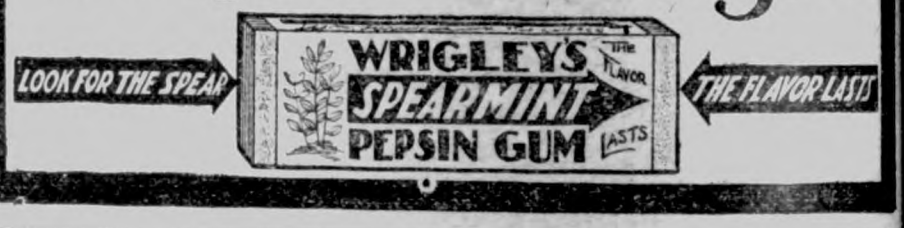
THE TRUSTEE COMPANY, Central Bldg., Seattle, Wash.

He tried to sell me imitation SPEARMINT What did you do? I tried another dealer and got real SPEARMINT with a spear on the package and real mint juice in the gum



Moving Pictures Here to Stay

Invest Your Money in Moving Picture Theatres. You Will Get Greater Returns from This Than from Any Other Investment

It pays big to amuse the public. It requires but a small investment to start and maintain a MOVING PICTURE THEATRE. It is a fact that most of these theatres pay 500% on their original investment in one year. FORTUNES are being made in this business on SMALL INVESTMENTS.

The STANDARD FILM EXCHANGE is one of the largest and most reliable companies who make a business of EQUIPPING THEATRES COMPLETELY. We handle everything that belongs to the business. We help you convert a store room or hall into a MOVING PICTURE THEATRE. We furnish CHAIRS, MACHINES, CURTAIN and SUPPLIES, and RENT YOU MOVING PICTURE FILMS and SONG SLIDES.

WRITE US FOR FULL DETAILS and ESTIMATES. We invite you to call at our offices, where every courtesy will be extended. Address us as follows:

Standard Film Exchange
Dept. 828, 79 Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois
Kindly mention this paper when writing.

Corn Planting is here—Distemper among the horses may be near also—mares are foaling—Distemper may take some of them—corn planting may be late if your horses have Distemper.

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE

is your true safeguard—a cure as well as preventive—50c and $1.00 bottle—$5.00 and $10.00 dozen, delivered. Large is more than twice the smaller size. Don't put it off. Get it. Druggists—or send to manufacturers.

Spohn Medical Co., Chemists and Bacteriologists, Goshen, Ind., U.S.A.

0 DEAD IN STORM

DDLE AND SOUTHERN STATES SWEPT BY FIERCE TORNADOES.

ENNESSEE SUFFERS WORST

ny Towns Are Totally Destroyed by Winds—Wide Area Covered and Hundreds Are Left Homeless—Partial List of Dead.

Chicago.—At least 130 persons were lled and 300 injured by the tornaes which swept the middle and uthern states Thursday. The propty losses will total several million llars. Only meager reports had en received Friday from the stricken stricts. Two were killed and half a zen hurt in this city.

The tornadoes touching here and ere carried their devastation through inois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Arnsas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kencky and Missouri.

An incomplete list of deaths folws:

icago, Ill..... 2
xas City, Ill..... 4
rn Lake, Miss.....18
yetteville, Tenn.....15
mmerville, Mo..... 3
lden, Mo.....11
heatley, Ark..... 2
est Marion, Ark..... 1
oung's Crossing, Tenn..... 5 edina, Tenn..... 4 rest City, Ark..... 2 ammoth Springs, Ark..... 3 les County, Tenn.....20
artsell, Ala..... 4
nville, Ala..... 2
oblesville, Tenn..... 1 erdeman County, Tenn..... 1
arksville, Tenn..... 1
nterville, Tenn..... 1 anklin, Tenn..... 1
llsboro, Tenn..... 4
conia, Tenn..... 2
lls, Tenn..... 2
nito, Tenn..... 8
lton, Mo..... 6

Nashville, Tenn.—Advices being reived by the Banner show that the orm was the worst ever known in is state. The indications are that e death list in this state will foot up venty or more, and the damage will n into the millions of dollars. The ires are prostrated in every direcon, and it will be several days bere the full extent of the loss of life d damage will be known.

Twenty persons were reported to ve been killed and 40 injured in the rnado which swept over the eastern ction of Giles county. Bee Springs, village in the southeast section, 16 les from Pulaski, was reported to ve been totally destroyed. The untry in this section is devastated d details are meager.

Mammoth Springs, Ark.—A tornado assed 18 miles east of here killing ght persons and injuring many hers The known dead: B. F. Sanrs, wife and daughter; George Whitorth and wife, Robert Frost and ife, Miss Holland.

South Bend, Ind. — Six hundred et of the west wall of the orthern Indiana state prison at ichigan City was blown down by a clone which passed over this secon of the state. The prisoners were l in their cells at the time of the acident, and any possible outbreak was revented by the prompt action of arden Reid, who placed patrols in e corridors with orders to use their les to put down any attempt at esape. Although the convicts were exted, no effort was made to effect a elivery. Company F, Third regient Indiana National Guard, received ders from Gov. Marshall to proceed mediately to Michigan City to preerve order and prevent any possible tbreak. No lives were lost by the lling of the walls.

Evansville, Ind.—A wind storm in uthern Indiana and western Kencky caused many thousands of dolrs' damage in the destruction of outildings and fences. The gale blew the velocity of 50 miles an hour. ats could not leave port. The damge along the river is quite heavy.

Detroit, Mich.—A tidal wave ten et high at South Haven, on the east ore of Lake Michigan, was the most usual feature of the terrific wind d rain storm which swept over wer Michigan. The wave caused out $2,000 damage to water front operty at South Haven.

Cincinnati.—A violent wind storm at swept over Kentucky hit Latonia th almost the severity of a tornado, using a damage of $10,000 to the tonia race track and from $10,000 $15,000 damage to the town of Lania and the vicinity.

At Piqua, O., a tornado 20 miles ide dived down in this section and used a property damage estimated $100,000. The path of destruction tends over several counties, and exeme damage was done by the wind the towns of Piqua, Sidney, Houston, Fletcher, St. Paris and Kirkwood. o loss of life.

ARE NEAR TURKEY

American Cruisers Are Close To Destination

PROTECT ALL AMERICANS

American War Vessels Will Reach Turkey Tomorrow and Will Protect American Interests.

Washington, D. C., May 3.—The American armored cruiser squadron, composed of the North Carolina and Montana, which left Guantanamo Cuba, on April 23, under orders from the navy department to hurry to Alexandretta, Turkish Asia, to protect Americans there during the present disorders, passed Gibraltar today, according to a cablegram received at the department.

A wireless dispatch from the North-Carolina was received aboard the Chester, which with the Birmingham, is coaling at St. Vincent en route to Monrovia, Liberia, from New York, with the members of the United States Liberian commission. The vessels are traveling at the rate of 15.5 to 16 knots an hour, and at that speed, officials of the bureau of navigation say, the squadron should reach Gibrauseder on Tuesday or Wednesday next. They received orders to communicate with stations in the Mediterranean waters.

Marines Mutiny.

Constantinople, May 3.—The marines in the Kassim barracks, which are situated behind the American embassy, mutined. They refused to embark for distribution to the various ports.

The marines belong to the old disaffected garrison and although they had nominally surrendered were in an ugly mood. They wer easily persuaded by agitators to make an armed protest against exile from the capital.

When the American ambassador, Mr. Leishman, looked out of his bedroom window yesterday morning he observed a battery of mountain howitzers occupying a commanding position near the embassy.

General Schefket, commander of the forces, lost no time in bringing the mutineers to terms.

ROOSEVELT BAGS 3 LIONS

Kermit Bags One Mighty King of Beasts—Exciting Hunt Is Successful.

Nairobi, British East Africa, May 3.—Four lion are trophies of ex-President Roosevelt's camp in the Mau hills and the two hundred or more native followers are joining with the American party in the celebration of the unusually good luck.

The lions were bagged Saturday and Colonel Roosevelt's mighty gun brought three of them to earth, each on the first shot. Thus one of the president's fondest ambitions has been realized, and he is proud, too, that the fourth of the jungle kings fell before the rifle of his son, Kermit, who, however, took three shots to kill his quarry. Both father and son are jubilant. It was their first lion hunt and so magnificent a kill was far beyond their expectations, but it had been predicted by native hunters that the hunting was good.

Castro to Bring Suit.

Paris, May 3.—Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, is reported to be consulting with lawyers here with a view to bringing a damage suit against the French government for his recent expulsion from Martinique. As the government has the power to expel foreigners at its discretion, Senor Castro, it is said, purposes basing his action on the fact that he was forcibly placed aboard a ship at Martinique and compelled to return to France without being given the option of choosing his destination.

Liquor Dealers to Meet at Clinton.

Clinton, Ia., May 3.—The annual convention of the Iowa Liquor Dealers' association will be held in Clinton, June 8 and 9, and the local committees are making preparations to give the liquor men a royal reception. and entertainment in Clinton. The program will include an excursion on the Mississippi, trolley rides and a banquet.

Tariff Bill Finished by June 1.

Washington, D. C., May 3.—Chairman Aldrich of the senate committee on finance and other members of both houses who call at the White House almost daily to talk tariff with President Taft, adhere to the opinion that a bill will be ready for the president's signature by June 1. The president is much pleased with the prospect.

PAINT EVERY YEAR.

No One Wants to Do It, But Some Paint Will Wear No Longer.

When you have a job of painting done you don't expect to have it done over again very soon. But to make a lasting job, several things must be taken into consideration—the proper time to paint—the condition of the surface—the kind of materials to use, etc. All these matters are fully covered in the specifications which can be had free by writing National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Building, New York, and asking for Houseowner's Painting Outfit No. 49. The outfit also includes a book of color schemes for both interior and exterior painting, and a simple instrument for detecting adulteration in the paint materials. The outfit will solve many painting problems for every houseowner.

Meantime while buying paint see that every white lead keg bears the famous Dutch Boy Painter trademark, which is an absolute guarantee of purity and quality. If your paint dealer cannot supply you National Lead Company will see that some one else will.

The American eats more than his own weight in sugar every two years.

If you wash beautiful, clear white clothes use the new RUSS BLUE. All grocers sell it.

What Did He Mean?

Miss Bore—Do you ever think of me when you are driving your car?

Auto Enthusiast—Why, certaintly—especially when I run over somebody.—Harvard Lampoon.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Early Experiences.

Some time ago an office boy, answering the telephone for the first time in his life, and not knowing how to use it, was told that when the bell rang he was to answer it.

When, therefore, he heard it ring, he picked up the receiver and shouted:

"Hello, who's there?"

The answer came back: "I'm 105."

"Go on," said the boy. "It's time you were dead."

A Little Slip.

Rev. Mr. Spicer had for three days enjoyed the telephone which had been his last gift from an admiring parishioner. He had been using it immediately before going to church.

When the time came for him to announce the first hymn, he rose, and with his usual impressive manner, read the words. Then in a crisp, firm tone, he said: "Let us all unite in hymn six double o, sing three."—Youth's Companion.

By Elimination.

"All the latest popular novels," sang out the train boy. Then, holding out a copy of the "The Guest of Quesnay" to a prosperous-looking passenger, he urged: "Buy Booth Tarkington's latest work, sir?"

The man looked annoyed.

"No! I am Booth Tarkington himself."

"Then buy a copy of 'Three Weeks,'" persisted the boy. "You ain't Elinor Glyn, too, are you?"—Everybody's Magazine.

OLD SOAKERS

Get Saturated with Caffeine.

When a person has used coffee for a number of years and gradually declined in health, it is time the coffee should be left off in order to see whether or not that has been the cause of the trouble.

A lady in Huntsville, Ala., says she used coffee for about 40 years, and for the past 20 years was troubled with stomach trouble.

"I have been treated by many physicians but all in vain. Everything failed to perfect a cure. I was prostrated for some time, and came near dying. When I recovered sufficiently to partake of food and drink I tried coffee again and it soured my stomach.

"I finally concluded coffee was the cause of my troubles and stopped using it. I tried tea and milk in its place, but neither agreed with me, then I commenced using Postum. I had it properly made and it was very pleasing to the taste.

"I have now used it four months, and my health is so greatly improved that I can eat almost anything I want and can sleep well, whereas, before, I suffered for years with insomnia.

"I have found the cause of my troubles and a way to get rid of them. You can depend upon it I appreciate Postum."

"There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine true, and full of human interest.

"A RUSHING MIGHTY WIND."

Iowa State Register and Farmer, May 29, 1908.

On May 12th, at about six o'clock p. m., a terrible cyclone passed over the southwestern portion of Page county, destroying buildings, trees and fences in its path. In this storm the undersigned,

Thos. A. Anderson lost a dwelling, barn, household goods, and two head of cattle, a total damage of $1,745.00, which was satisfactorily settled and promptly paid by the MERCHANTS AND BANKERS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY on May 18, 1908;

Cliff Carpenter, dwelling, household goods and barn damaged to the amount of $884.00, fully paid by the MERCHANTS AND BANKERS on May 18, 1908;

Claus Meyer, household goods amounting to $594.00, paid promptly by the MERCHANTS AND BANKERS; also $1,600.00 on dwelling insured in the CAPITAL INSURANCE COMPANY, which was also promptly paid;

G. H. Barton, dwelling, barn and household goods damaged to the amount of $1,155.00, fully settled and paid by the MERCHANTS AND BANKERS on May 21, 1908;

Bert Higgens, household goods, farm implements, horses, wagons and harness amounting to $644.00, fully paid by the MERCHANTS AND BANKERS May 21, 1908;

Also smaller losses for W. A. Sherman, Clyde Culbertson, Rebecca McIntire and others.

The kindly manner and promptness and fairness with which our claims were disposed of was characteristic of the way in which the MERCHANTS AND BANKERS have settled all their losses of which we have had knowledge, and we take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of the treatment received. The MERCHANTS AND BANKERS gave us a square deal.

(Signed)

Cliff Carpenter, Claus Meyer, Thos. A. Anderson, G. H. Barton, Clyde Culbertson, W. A. Sherman, Bert Higgens.

A woman nearly always shows up best in an argument when she doesn't know anything about the subject on tap.

Pain and swelling seldom indicate internal organic trouble. They are usually the result of local cold or inflammation which can be quickly removed by a little Hamlins Wizard Oil. Try and see.

He that hires one garden will eat birds; he that hires many gardens, the birds will eat him.

Take Garfield Tea! Made of Herbs, it is pure, potent, health-giving—the most rational remedy for constipation, liver and kidney diseases. At all drug stores.

The population of Russia is increasing at the rate of 2,500,000 per year.

Nothing so good as the new RUSS BLUE. Delights the laundress. Refuse Imitations.

As soon as a man marries, his sins decrease.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

DON'T Wear Other Overalls When You Can Buy

OAK BRAND

just as cheap. Made in Omaha, made with greatest care, made of best quality materials. Sold by leading dealers everywhere.

If these goods are not carried by your dealer, write

Byrne & Hammer Dry Goods Co., Manufacturers, Omaha

MADE WELL AND STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bardstown, Ky.—"I suffered from ulceration and other female troubles for a long time. Doctors had failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and I decided to try it. It cured my trouble and made me well and strong, so that I can do all my own work." Mrs. JOSEPH HALL, Bardstown, Ky.

Another Woman Cured.

Christiana, Tenn.—"I suffered from the worst form of female trouble so that at times I thought I could not live, and my nerves were in a dreadful condition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me, and made me feel like a different woman. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold to suffering women."—MRS. MARY WOOD, R.F.D. 3.

If you belong to that countless army of women who suffer from some form of female ills, don't hesitate to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

For thirty years this famous remedy has been the standard for all forms of female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, fibroid tumors, ulceration, inflammation, irregularities, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

45 to 50 Bu. of Wheat Per Acre

have been grown on farm lands in

WESTERN CANADA

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

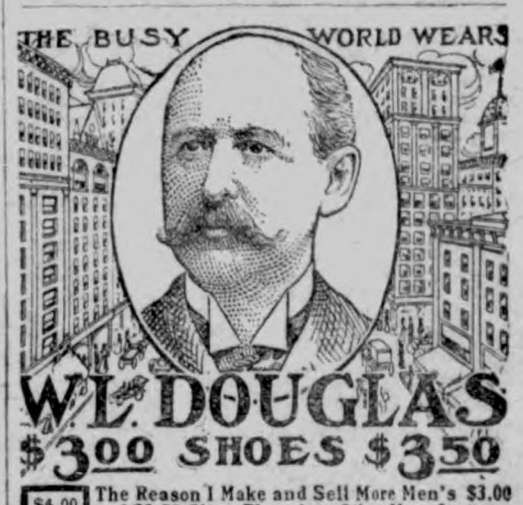
Much less would be satisfactory. The general average is above twenty bushels.

"All are loud in their praises of the great crops and that wonderful country."—Extract from correspondence National Editorial Association of August, 1908.

It is now possible to secure a homestead of 160 acres free and another 160 acres at $3.00 per acre. Hundreds have paid the cost of their farms (if purchased) and then had a balance of from $10.00 to $12.00 per acre from one crop. Wheat, barley, oats, flax—all do well. Mixed farming is a great success and dairying is highly profitable. Excellent climate, splendid schools and churches, railways bring most every district within easy reach of market. Railway and land companies have lands for sale at low prices and on easy terms.

"Last Best West" pamphlets and maps sent free. For these and information as to how to secure lowest railway rates, apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the authorized Canadian Government Agent:

E. T. HOLMES, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; or W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.



$4.00 and $5.00 Shoes. $2.00 and $2.50 Shoes. Boys' Shoes $1.00 to $3.00

The Reason I Make and Sell More Men's $3.00 and $3.50 Shoes Than Any Other Manufacturer is because I give the wearer the benefit of the most complete organization of trained experts and skilled shoemakers in the country. The selection of the leathers for each part of the shoe, and every detail of the making in every department, is looked after by the best shoemakers in the shoe industry. If I could show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make.

My Method of Tanning the Soles makes them More Flexible and Longer Wearing than any others.

Shoes for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys Women, Misses and Children.

For sale by shoe dealers everywhere.

CAUTION! None genuine without W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom. Fast Color Eyelets used exclusively. Catalogue Mailed Free. W. L. DOUGLAS, 167 SPARK STREET, BROCKTON, MASS.

This Trade-mark Eliminates All Uncertainty

in the purchase of paint materials. It is an absolute guarantee of purity and quality. For your own protection, see that it is on the side of every keg of white lead you buy.

NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY
1902 Trinity Building, New York

CANCER CURED WITHOUT KNIFE OR BURNING PLASTERS
CURES GUARANTEED
REFERENCE AND CONSULTATION FREE
DR. H. NEVINS PEORIA ILL.

Just Dust it on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.
A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney troubles, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Sluggish Bowels, Headache and Backache. Its Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER DRUG COMPANY, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

KILL THE COUGH
AND CURE THE LUNGS
WITH Dr. King's New Discovery
FOR COUGHS COLDS
PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:40 p. m.
82 ..... 2:50 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:35 a. m.
433 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

L. O. Turgason, Agent

There are more McCall Patterns sold in the United States than of any other make of patterns. This is on account of their style, accuracy and simplicity.

McCall's Magazine (The Queen of Fashion) has more subscribers than any other Ladies' Magazine. One year's subscription (12 numbers) costs 50 cents. Latest number, 5 cents. Every subscriber gets a McCall Pattern Free. Subscribe today.

Lady Agents Wanted. Handsome premiums or liberal cash commission. Pattern Catalogue (of 600 designs) and Premium Catalogue (showing 400 premiums) sent free. Address THE McCALL CO., New York

H. C. LAU

DEALER IN

Klemme - Iowa

THE CHILDREN LIKE IT
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE
COUGH SYRUP

ORIGINS OF NAMES

INTERESTING TO TRACE PATRONYMICS TO SOURCE.

Many Derived from Trades or Occupations—Towns and Sections of Countries Have Been Responsible for Some Others.

There was appropriateness in the Lincoln celebration in Lincoln, England; for undoubtedly "Father Abraham" was derived from some long-forgotten man who left that city bearing some such name as George or Wat o' Lincoln.

London, York, Boston and Berlin or Berliner appear as family names in the same way. Redfield and Oldfield are farm patronymics once used as the names of Scottish farms are now for their proprietors. Titles of nobility similarly come from a county like Cumberland, a battle like Magdala or a town like Ragusa.

Occupation names like Smith (spelled in more than forty ways), Webster and Fletcher are the most common; they include some arts not now practiced, as Lorimer, Balestier, Archer. Others in this class had once a humbler sound, as Howard (hogward) and Gilpatrick (Padruig's servant). And many are derived from trade names in other languages than English.

Gen. Baden Powell explained in a Latin verse after Mafeking that his name meant Ap-Joel; so Pughe is Ap-Hugh. Family names made by an added "s" are often Welsh. The Welsh names Hughes (or Huws), Williams, Johns and Edwards mean Hughson, Williamson, Johnson and Edwardson, the English termination being "son," the German "sohn" and the Norse "sen."

Emigration has supplied many names. Hollander, Fleming, French and Frank speak of national origin, though the last may mean simply a freeman. Other names of characterization are Shakespeare, Breakspear, Armstrong, Crook, Leonard (lion heart) and some few names of color, as Black, when applied to a man of dark complexion, like Roderigh Dhu or "Black Jack" Logan; but most of the early Greens, Whites and Browns must have been so named for varying reasons.

Names of animals were too obvious to be ommitted: Bernard, Fox, Palfrey. Elephant is turned into a proper name in Italy; why not in England? Coon is hardly ever if ever an animal name; it may be cut down from Colquhoon or some other longer spelling as d'Uberville in Hardy's "Tess" was changed into "Darbyfield." Along our northern border French Canadian names are spelled by sound, with queer results, like "Lavake" for l'Eveque and "Fobare" for Faubert. Napoleon guessed that his name Buonaparte came from the Greek Kalomeros, with the same meaning of "good part."

The Fishes, Birds, Becks, Brooks and Hollys show how names were early given by observation. Traced to their source, indeed, few names have a less prosaic or fanciful origin than the Indian Thunder-Cloud or Young-Man-with-a-Wart.

Horse Had Earned His Ease.

Old Putnam, the 18-year-old pet horse of battery C, Fifth United States artillery, died at Fort William McKinley, near Manila, December 12. Old Putnam, who had been enjoying well-earned ease on the retired list, after his useful life, first went to the Philippine islands in 1898 with the Astor battery. He was later assigned to Capt. Reilly's battery F, Fifth field artillery, with that battery in China. When the allied armies arrived at Peking, Putnam and another horse by the name of Corregidor were pulling the first of the American light field guns. Just as they had started up a hill to gain one of the positions overlooking the city, Corregidor's traces broke, and a moment later, after that horse had been cut away from the gun, Putnam, straining every muscle, started up the hill, arriving there in time for the American gun to open the first fire in the storming of Peking.

SAD STORY OF A WASTED LIFE.

Man a Lifelong Hermit Because He Forgot to Mail Letter.

Here's a life-story in a few lines, told in Answers:

"Half a century ago a young Englishman, while traveling, met a beautiful girl and promptly fell in love with her. A few days later he returned home and his first act was to write her a love letter. In it he told her, that if she regarded his proposal favorably he would expect a reply by the next mail. To this letter he received no answer, and so disappointed was he that, from that time until his death, which occurred recently, he shut himself up in his home and lived like a hermit. Most of his time was spent in reading, and the day after his funeral the heirs began to search the books of his library, for they thought it quite possible that the eccentric old man might have hidden some bank notes in them. They found none, but in a tattered old pamphlet they found another kind of note—the love letter which was written 50 years ago, and which the writer had forgotten to mail."

Bride of the Young Officer.

Consider, my daughter, ere thou hast said yea to the cadet of the slim waist and haughty air. For verily I say unto you, sad is the fate of the bride of the regimental goat. For her lord is haughty no more, but even the sergeants speak of him as a shavetail. Thou shalt have many nuptial gifts, yea, many of silver and glass, so that the packing of them is a weariness to the flesh, and thou shalt have no cupboards to stow them therein. And as soon as thy curtains hang fair at thy windows, then shalt thou be ranked out, till no spot on the post shall deem to be thine own. And at last it may be that rooms in the bachelors' building shall be assigned thy spouse; then shall bursts of music trouble thy dreams, and in weariness of spirit thou shalt say: "Why did I wed me to a shavetail? for only those of rank have spacious dwellings. Had I but wed the son of a banker my wedding gifts had not been fractured with many movings."—Army and Navy Life.

As to Cats.

The cat is the most active of all animals. As an acrobat it has no equal. I know that every friend of the column likes to read about animals; therefore I venture once in awhile to say something about cats and dogs. Every now and then I receive letters from people who insist upon "more cat and dog stories." Last night a fine specimen of a man called on me. After some refreshment, and as he was about to depart, I asked if he was married. "Sure," he replied; "many years." "Got any children?" "No, we had two and lost both; all we have in the house now is a cat and a canary bird. They in a measure keep my wife from being lonesome when I'm down town at business."—New York Press.

Their Fallen Idol.

Two little newsboys, ragged and soiled, recognized Napoleon Lajoie as he stood on a downtown corner, talking to an acquaintance.

"Lookee!" exclaimed the first boy in a hoarse whisper, "there's Larry!"

"He's nothin' but a hen an' goose farmer now," returned the other lad, without any show of hero worship.

"But he's the greatest ball player on earth," retorted the young admirer of the second baseman.

"Mebby he is," admitted the other one, "mebby he is in the summer time, but—" disgustedly—"think of a feller raisin' chickens all winter! Poiper, mister?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Diplomatic Clerk.

"It is quite a coincidence," observed the celebrated pugilist, coldly, "that every time I apply for accommodations at this hotel the house is full."

"It is a bit singular," agreed the clerk, edging as far away from the register as possible, "but we trust that you will continue to let us have the refusal of your patronage."

Rheumatism

Nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness.

Lame Shoulder.

This is a common form of muscular rheumatism. Apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely four times a day and a quick cure is certain.

Lumbago.

When muscular rheumatism attacks the muscles in the small of the back it is called lumbago. It is usually quite severe and every movement adds to the pain, and especially when one attempts to straighten up. No internal treatment is required. Keep quiet, as every movement aggravates the disease, and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely, and you will soon be well again.

Sprains and Bruises are cured by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment.

Attention

PEOPLE!

Don't forget that the Gruetzmacher Bros. handle all kinds of stoves such as heaters, cook stoves and steel ranges.

Also a full line of hardware, groceries, flour and feed.

A complete line of implements also paints, oils and varnishes.

Rock and barrel salt. Barb wire and field fence.

Yours to please at the old stand,

Gruetzmacher Bros.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.
Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days' treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, fearfulness, sleeplessness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE—Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON—That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

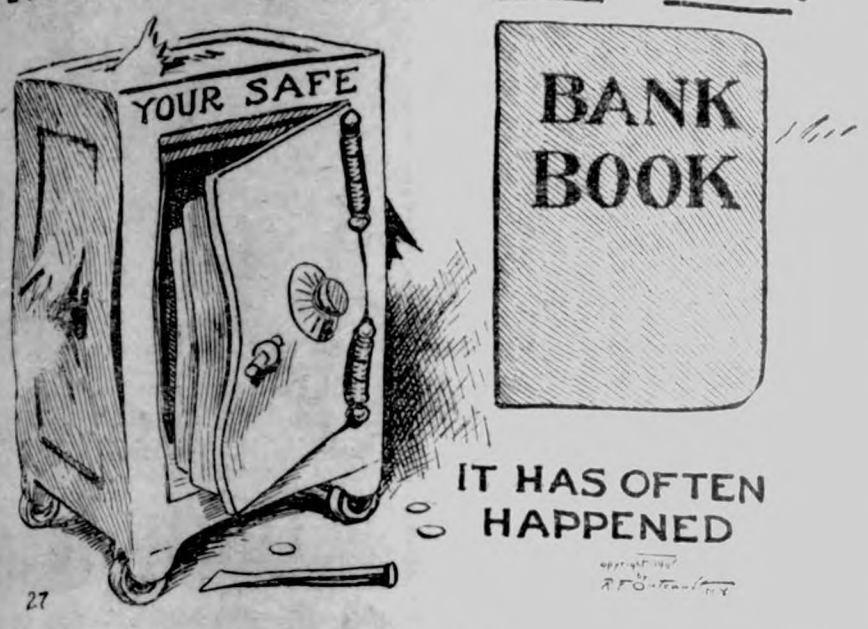
THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME XII. NUMBER 41 — KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, MAY 13, 1909. — $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

THE SAFEST PLACE TO KEEP YOUR MONEY IS IN THE BANK. THE BANK HAS IT SAFE FOR YOU.



27

IF SOME ONE

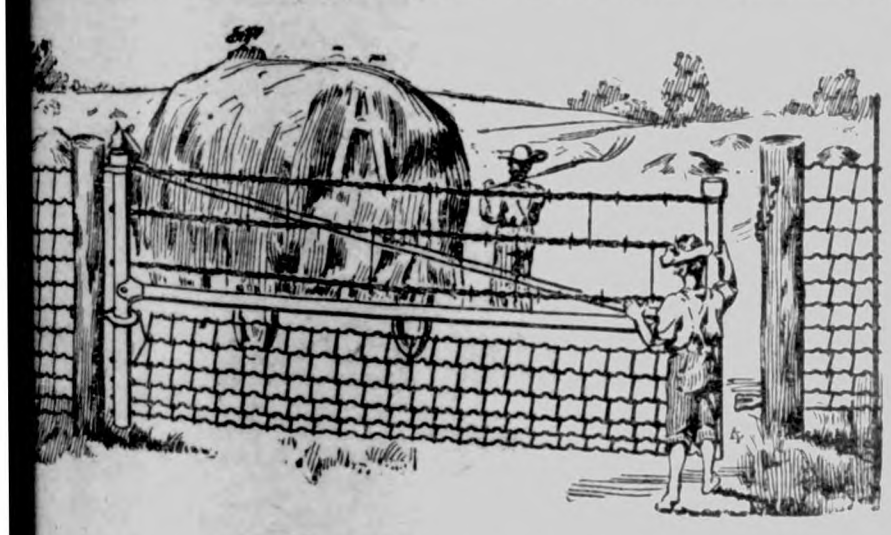
had banked Ten Dollars at five per cent compound interest 200 years ago and you today had the ten dollars and the interest on it you would have over FIVE TONS of silver dollars.....

We will pay you a liberal rate of interest on the money you deposit in our bank.

START TODAY — to-morrow may be too late.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa



IOWA Gates are more than a convenience if women or children ever use them for being so simple they are very light and can easily be swung either way. The IOWA gate is made to last—no castings to break—no wearing parts—even the wires have galvanized stretchers to tighten them. Will not blow down, burn or rot out. Get prices.

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

F. M. Hanson of Garner, is taking a trip through Idaho.

Roy Jones has purchased the A. B. Thompson barber shop at Belmond.

J. L. McGuire and family have moved from Goodell to Washta, Iowa.

A Union depot at Corwith is the latest report, according to the Hustler.

The Goodell Globe reports that A. Christie lost two valuable farm horses last week.

The Corwith band has been engaged to furnish music at Britt's celebration on July 3rd.

Some of our exchanges report the mercury at 90 above in the shade last week Wednesday.

Charley Howlett and wife, of Britt, expect to leave on May 14th for a visit at their old home in England.

Rev. W. U. Parks of Belmond has accepted a call to take the pastorate of the Congregational church at Allison, Iowa.

John Rein, agent for the Queal Lumber Co. at Leland, Iowa, is dead from the results of an operation for appendicitis.

F. L. Applegate, of Corwith, has accepted a position as agent for the Independent Grain and Lumber Co. at Cartersville.

C. E. Edwards, of Britt, has been elected principal of the Crystal Lake schools for next year. Miss Verona Reed will teach the primary room.

The farmers in the vicinity of Belmond have purchased one of the elevators there and took possession last week. W. E. Werts will be the manager.

Floyd Williams, who lived at Goodell a short time and is quite well known through his connection with traveling medicine shows, died a short time ago at Phoenix, Arizona. He had gone there for his health, being afflicted with tuberculosis.—Kanawha Record.

